

50th Birthday Celebrated By Newspaper

The distinction of editing the Holcad on its 50th anniversary goes to Harold Polonus, Sharon, a senior, was a reporter, and then sports editor before assuming the duties of editor last spring.

By training and experience, Polonus is equipped to handle the position. For three years before entering Westminster he was engaged in printing, newspaper, and publicity work. He worked for the Sharon Herald, Youngstown, O. Vindicator, and aided Rell Hoskins in handling publicity at Conneaut Lake Park.

Since entering Westminster, Polonus has taken courses in journalism and has been on the staff of the Holcad every year. His knowledge of the mechanical end of makeup is especially good, his experience in printing being of value in this respect. Aided by one of the outstanding staffs in the history of the paper, he has made definite improvements in the Holcad.

Ebba Sizer, managing editor; Helen Louise Taylor and Theresa Burgoon, assistant managing editors; Maurice Michmerhuizen and Alan Van Harper, sports editors; and Robert Jones, business manager. Are all trained and experienced student journalists constituting about the strongest editorial and business lineup which the Holcad has ever had.

The present freshman and sophomore classes have many students who are good workers on the staff, so that the future of the publication is assured. Increased interest among this year's freshmen has necessitated doubling up of assignments so that there be enough stories for all to cover.

Distinct improvement in makeup, more human interest to writeups, and improved size and typographical arrangement have marked the Holcad since Polonus became editor last spring. With these improvements has resulted increased reader interest on the part of the students. The addition of Collegiate Digest, rotogravure section, has also added considerable interest.

If the next 50 years see as many improvements in the publication as the last two or three years have seen, the Holcad will certainly be in line with the very latest developments in journalism and the most advanced methods of newspaper presentation of reading matter.—R.X.G.

Non Fraternity Groups Win Scholarship Awards

This year both the non-sorority and non-fraternity groups on the campus were awarded the silver loving cups which are presented each year by the college to the men and women's groups having the highest scholastic standing on the campus.

The average of the non-sorority group was 1.651 while the sorority group averaged 1.645. Three sororities had a higher average than that of the non-sorority group. The sororities ranked as follows: Alpha Gamma Delta, 1.765; Chi Omega, 1.726; Kappa Delta, 1.683; Kappa Alpha Alpha, 1.591; Sigma Kappa, 1.493; and Theta Upsilon, 1.477.

The average of the non-fraternity men was 1.495 while the fraternity group had an average of 1.267. Three fraternities also had higher averages than that of the non-fraternity men. The averages of the fraternities were as follows: Epsilon Theta Pi, 1.550; Phi Pi Phi, 1.460; Theta Upsilon, 1.213; Delta Phi Sigma, 1.142; Kappa Phi Lambda, 1.093.

The average of all the women on the campus was 1.645 while the men's average was 1.336.

Improving

Westminster friends of Attorney Robert G. Ferguson, son of Rev. and Mrs. James M. Ferguson of Bellevue and grandson of Robert Gracey Ferguson, deceased president of Westminster, will be pleased to learn that he is able to be back at his Pittsburgh office after being laid up for sometime following an accident in December.

Managing Editor

EBBA SIZER

Ebba Sizer, senior, is managing editor in charge of general news, is a member of Psi Nu, women's journalistic fraternity and of Kappa Delta sorority.

Senior Women Organize Honor Group On Campus

A new fraternity which recognizes activities of women on the Westminster campus and which will apply for a charter in the national Mortar Board fraternity has been recently organized. The organization will be composed of senior women chosen in their junior year on the basis of leadership and scholarship on the campus. Though discussed before, this is the first time any action has been taken to organize such a group.

The girls who are responsible for this activities fraternity represent the outstanding girls in each of the campus organizations and have been selected by representatives of these organizations. Those who have been chosen are: Ruth Russell, Evelyn Judson, Esther Caughey, Jean Miller, Jane Baker, Jane Black, Ebba Sizer, Betty Newell, Emily Parker, and Helen Whieldon.

Dean Mary E. Turner entertained the organization at a tea in her home on Friday, January 5, at which time officers were elected and committees appointed. Those elected officers are Ruth Russell, president; Betty Newell, vice-president; Evelyn Judson, secretary, and Esther Caughey, treasurer. Miss Elizabeth Stewart and Miss Dorothy Kirkbride have been selected as faculty advisers.

The officers have been invited to a luncheon in Pittsburgh on January 20 as the guests of the Carnegie Tech chapter of Mortar Board.

Alumnus Honored By Warren Bust Unveiling

Recently a bust of Dr. William M. Robertson, a retired Warren, Pa. physician and surgeon, was made by an artist friend of the family. The bust of Doctor Robertson who is a graduate of Westminster in the class of 1888, was placed on display for a time at the Warren Public Library, of which association the prominent physician was a director. For many years, Dr. Robertson was treasurer of the Warren Board of Education.

A talented singer, he, with his brother and two Barr brothers composed a famous quartette at Westminster in the 80's. Dr. Robertson's father was a United Presbyterian minister and his brother who was a member of the quartette.

The Rev. James M. Robertson, also of the class of 1888, a one-time Presbyterian clergyman is now rector of a Protestant Episcopal Church at Emporium, Pa.

Grand President Doyle To Install Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon Here

Crill Named Chairman Of Junior Prom

Committees were appointed this afternoon by Dave Harris, president of the junior class, to make arrangements for their annual Junior Prom to be held the first of May.

Leland Crill is general chairman with Charlotte Bartlett and Harold Griffith assisting. The other committees are: Ticket, Byron Elder, chairman, Kathryn Lynch and Patricia Jones; Orchestra, Walter Shaw, chairman, Robert Faber, and Louis Fink; Advertising, John Hine, chairman, Charles Trevaskis, and Virgil Wettich; Program, Ruth Martin, chairman, Wilbert Needham, and Charles Ferney; Decorations, Charlotte Melhorn and Betty McCrory; and Chaperones, Mary Morrow, chairman, Nellie Young, and Helen Snyder.

College Dorm To Be Open During Semester Recess

Provisions are being made through Dean Turner's office for adequate living arrangements for those girls who live at too great a distance from home during the semester recess, according to a statement made by Carl E. Rankin, dean, and affirmed by H. R. Patton, business manager. Students who expect to remain on the campus should notify Miss Turner of their intention not later than Saturday, January 20.

This provision will enable all women residents who desire to remain on the campus to see the Westminster-Duquesne basketball game in Sharon on February 3.

Debaters Win Over Waynesburg Team

Fred Luderer and Harold Griffith upheld the negative of the season question, "Resolved: That The Essential Features Of The N. I. R. A. Should Be Adopted As A Permanent Feature Of The U. S. Government."

The affirmative team, from Waynesburg, included Jesse Hutson and Ellwood Phillips, both of whom attended the Westminster tournament several weeks ago.

Editor-in-Chief

HAROLD POLONUS

With practically seven years of active work on daily papers in the district, Harold Polonus, Sharon, has the distinction of editing The Holcad in its fiftieth year of existence.

Three One Act Plays To Be Given Under Student Directors

An unusual group of one-act plays will be offered by the college Little Theatre group next Friday and Saturday evenings. The "Theatre of the Soul" by Evreinov, the player's first attempt in expressionistic drama, is being directed by Helen Weingartner. Charles Brown, Professor; Don Mechling, Intellect; Avalon Le Monte, Emotions; Robert Douglass, Spirit; Julia Gordon, Concept of the wife; and Virginia McCown, Concept of the singer; make up the cast. Following the first play, an interlude, "Stone Deaf", which is directed by Sara Haney, will be presented. Perry Klump will play the role of the old gentleman while Eric Thompson will take the part of the young gentleman.

"The Marriage Proposal," a Russian farce-comedy by Tchekov, has been under the direction of Helen Baerman. McCrea Hazlett, the father; Marlin Memphill, the suitor; and Charlotte Bartlett, the daughter; are the characters in the story. Two performances, at 7:30 o'clock and 9:15 will be given on Friday evening, January 19. On Saturday January 20, the plays will be repeated at 8:15.

January 27th Set As Date For Events

Plans are underway for the installation of the Westminster chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, on Saturday January 27, according to a telegram received from Dr. Henry Gratton Doyle, grand president of the fraternity and dean of George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Tau Gamma Delta was accepted into the national group at the annual national convocation held at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh by a unanimous vote of the delegates present on Friday, December 12.

Pi Delta Epsilon was organized at Syracuse University, in 1909 by Sydney H. Coleman, and nine associates of the "Syracuse Daily Orange". The purpose of the society is to stimulate an interest in college journalism and to elevate the standard of the same. Approximately 75 colleges and universities hold charters in the fraternity.

Eligibility for election to active membership is confined to undergraduates who have served at least two years or the equivalent on a campus publication. The official organ of the fraternity "The Epsilon" is a quarterly magazine and is issued to all members of the organization. Members of Tau Gamma Delta, local fraternity, who are to be inducted into the national group are busy making the local arrangements and expect to be able to provide some entertainment after the ceremonies for the entire student body.

Professor R. X. Graham, faculty adviser of "The Holcad" and director of the news bureau, who is a member of the Colgate University chapter of the fraternity will assist in the installation ceremonies. The initiation will be followed by a formal dinner for all members and visiting journalism dignitaries in the Hillside dining rooms.

First Of Movies To Be Shown In Little Theatre February 7

The first of the series of silent moving pictures will be shown Wednesday, February 7 in the Little Theatre, Helen Whieldon, chairman of the Student Council committee on movies announced to-day.

A six-reel picture of the Olympic games and a Charlie Chaplin comedy will be shown at this time with Don Kellett furnishing piano accompaniment for the pictures.

Other members of the committee who have arranged this program are Fred Luderer, Helen Baerman, Charlotte Melhorn, and George Hollander.

Informal Tea

Members of the Campus Club will be entertained at an informal tea this afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Edward H. Freeman, Market street.

The committee in charge includes: Misses Mary E. Turner, Nandeen Love, and Ruth McConnell, Mrs. Charles Ritchie, Mrs. Ivan Yahn and Mrs. John Lawther. Mrs. Charles Freeman and Mrs. A. T. Cordray will pour.

OFFICE OF REGISTRAR

Journalistic Jasons Make "Holcad" Appropriate Name

Back into Greek mythology, went that brave band of Westminster students in 1884 when they were searching for a name for the student newspaper. To the time of Jason and the search for the Golden Fleece their minds traveled, their memories still fresh with thoughts of the centaur, the harpies, Poseidon's horse, Perseus, King Creon, Orpheus and his lute, Cerberus, and many other name and fancy which the classical education of the day made common knowledge.

And so they named the new publication the Holcad, suggested by the Greek Holcades. Later on, in 1904, when the senior class founded the yearbook, the name Argo was adopted, in keeping with the newspaper name. This name also came from Greek mythology, based on the argosies, or adventures, via ship, in search for the golden fleece.

Dr. Robert J. Love, head of the Bible department at Westminster from 1921 until he resigned in 1932, was one of the founders and editors for the first Holcad in 1884. The Westminster catalog for the 1884-1885 year tells us that Dr. Love won the first prize in the study of classics for the year. This throws further light on the selection of the name. Dr. Love was graduated with the class of 1885.

Unique as the name may sound as that of a weekly paper, Holcad is indeed appropriate. It suggests launching out in search of high ideals, carrying the culture of the enlightened to those in slavery to monsters of lack of news, adventuring on the sea of expression.

College Furnishes Offices As Holcad Birthday Present

"Happy Birthday" was the greeting extended to members of The Holcad staff when they learned that the paper, for the first time in the memory of this generation, had been assigned an office in which to work. Room 212, formerly occupied by the News Bureau, was turned over to the exclusive use of the newspaper. The News Bureau, Professor R. X. Graham's office, was moved to Room 304, in order that The Holcad could have an office in the most central part of the college plant.

And so, the Holcad staff offers its "thank yuh" to H. R. Patton, business manager, and Carl E. Rankin, dean, for their interest in the advancement of Westminster journalism.

Science Club Meets

Sports Editor

ALAN HARPER

Alan Harper, senior, associate sports editor, in charge of all intra-mural sports. Mr. Harper is a member of Tau Gamma Delta and of Delta Phi Sigma.

Faculty Advisor

PROF. R. X. GRAHAM

Serving as faculty advisor of The Holcad for the past nine years, R. X. Graham, characterized by McNitts, Inc., of Cleveland, as the best college publicity man in the entire nation, has seen the student publication develop into a modern newspaper of high rating in collegiate circles.

Ogla Ogles

Editor's Note: We thought our old friend Ogla had forgotten us, but she handed in this copy for the Anniversary Holcad.

To the reconstruction slogan, "It's smart to be thrifty," the Holcad counters, "It's smart to be fifty."

Which shows that old man Holcad is still feeling rather young despite his fifty years.

In fact, he is so youngish feeling right now that he flaps around as if on wings. Or, as Professor Euwema would pun, "Holcad's chil'un got wings."

He's even young enough not to resent young Robert Noel Euwema's nasty digs at Holcad editorial dignity.

And young enough to clench his fists at Doc Dawson, the world's worst punster, and anyone else who says, "Did you ever drink dog liquor?" "No?" "College Inn." (Three Minutes for that one.)

Some day the Holcad chapel reporter hopes to have another unconsciously humorous chapel program something like this:

Dean: We now turn the chapel over to the President who will present blankets to members of the football team.

President: We made a slight mistake, and we are to present a scholarship cup to the leading fraternity on the campus, if we can find the cup.

(Hands certificate of honor to Holcad for rating second in I. N. A. editorial contest.)

Dean: The next part of the program will be directed by Miss Stewart.

Miss Stewart: We will now hear the French Club quartet sing a few numbers.

(Six students stand up and recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.)

Dean: Professor Biberick will now direct German students in singing Christmas carols.

Dean: Chapel is dismissed. (Students on steps file into chapel and take their seats.)

"The time has come," the Holcad said, "To speak of many things; Of cuts and cribs and chapel talks, And why the classbell rings; And why the trio Omicron No more in chapel sings."

And any jury verdict for this column should be FIFTY YEARS.

Well, many happy returns of the years, Holcad, old pal.

—Ogla

Dr. Moorehead Honored

Dr. J. G. Moorehead, professor in the department of physics, has been recently honored with the publication in the "American Physics Teacher", a monthly magazine for physicists, of his article entitled "An Improved Apparatus for the Study of the Concave Mirror."

Graham Able Advisor For Holcad Staff

Nine years as advisor to the Holcad has given Professor R. X. Graham an optimistic and pleasurable picture of Westminster journalism. Coming here as instructor in English in 1925, after having been graduated from Colgate University, Mr. Graham was immediately made faculty advisor to student publication staffs with instructions from President W. Charles Wallace to "make every effort, through cooperation with the students, to improve the character and appearance of the yearbook and newspaper."

This was part of the work for which Professor Graham was hired, and, according to him, the job was an easy one because of the cooperation of students and faculty members. After a number of conferences with the Holcad staff, it was agreed that regular newspaper headlines would be written, replacing the old "label" heads which had characterized the paper for a number of years. The staff also agreed to pay more attention to writing style, to attempt to cover all campus activities rather than only those few easy to get, and to improve the makeup.

In the nine years that he has been advisor to publications, Professor Graham has seen the Holcad improve steadily. "Each new staff of editors has seemed to profit by the experiences of their predecessors," he says. In the last three years the newspaper has ranked among the best college publications among eastern colleges and universities.

Professor Graham was editor of the literary magazine and of the handbook at Colgate, and was associate editor of the newspaper, of the humorous magazine, and of the yearbook. In the newspaper staff he was reporter, associate editor, columnist, and feature writer. He had been a reporter on the staff of the Scranton Republican before entering college, and corresponded for New York state newspapers while in college.

Professor Graham holds the master of arts degree from the University of Wisconsin, where he took work in the Wisconsin school of journalism and was columnist and chief editorial writer on the Daily Cardinal staff. As publicity director for Westminster he writes college news for all district newspapers, and has planned and designed nearly all the printed pieces used in advertising and student canvass.

Alumnus Appointed To Important Post

Dr. Russell Forbes, a graduate of Westminster in the class of 1918, a native of West Middlesex, and now head of the department of governmental research at New York University, has been recently appointed Commissioner of Purchase by Major-elect Fiorello La Guardia of New York City.

This post, a result of a law passed by the New York state legislature last August is expected to be an important one in the new administration. This law, of which Dr. Forbes was the author, provides for a centralized purchasing system which will strip all the department heads except the head of the Department of Education and all the borough presidents of their buying powers.

Dr. Forbes was a member of the research staff and a collaborator in writing "Finances and Financial Administration of New York City", he is a member and officer in several purchasing and civic organizations, he has written widely in his field and a book "Government Purchasing" is one of his works.

"Y" Members To Attend Pitt Meet

Students of more than 20 colleges in the tri-state area will meet Saturday at the University of Pittsburgh for a political conference on "Which Way America?" sponsored by campus Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. groups. Evelyn Judson, Martha Hazlett, Eva Reed, Dale Galbreath, and Robert Maxwell will represent Westminster at the meeting.

Six Contests Scheduled By Debate Teams For January

Six debates with rival colleges are scheduled for Westminster College men's and women's teams this month, Professor Albert Tener, director of debates, announces.

Contests for men's teams are with Allegheny at home, and Allegheny at Meadville. Debates for coed teams are with Allegheny at home, Allegheny at Meadville, and Seton Hill at home.

On Monday night the Westminster team composed of Fred Luderer and Harold Griffith argued the negative of the proposition Resolved: That the essential features of the National Industrial Recovery Act should be adopted as the permanent policy of the United States' government. Waynesburg upheld the affirmative. Dr. Don Wolfe, Geneva College professor, was judge.

On Friday night of this week coed teams will oppose Allegheny in two debates. An affirmative team, debating the N.I.R.A. question, will oppose a team of Allegheny coeds at New Wilmington. This Westminster team will include Doris Hill, Pearl McConnell, and Ann Kendlehardt. At Meadville this same night the Westminster negative team, composed of Gretchen Smith, Myra Cohn, and Anne Boyer, will oppose a team of Allegheny coeds.

Next Monday, Jan. 15, a coed team will debate the negative of the N. I. R. A. question against an affirmative team from Seton Hill college. This contest will be held in the Westminster Little Theatre, and the Westminster team will include: Helen Dornhoefer, Marjorie Scott, and Virginia Booth.

Next Wednesday, Jan. 17, a men's team composed of Bruce Bower, Wayne Rush, and Kenneth McCormack will uphold the affirmative of the N. I. R. A. question in a contest

Alden G. Alley Gives Entertaining Talk

Stressing the idea that the League of Nations is an essential item in the maintaining of world peace, Alden G. Alley, professor of history at Dana College, delivered a brilliant lecture on "What Is Happening In Europe and What It Means To America" in the College Chapel on Monday evening, January 8.

Professor Alley dwelt particularly with the critical situation in Germany, stating that he believed Hitler's aspirations to be the longings of a thwarted nature for a big life. He believed that Hitler's future policies would be altered with the changes in life, since the spectacular emergence from the radicalism of his proletarian associations to his present position of supreme authority among the German people.

The speaker denounced America's superiority attitude towards other peoples and commended education, the increase of our mental and moral stature, and asked for a sympathetic understanding of other nations as a means to the achievement of international peace.

The lecture was the first of this type offered on the lecture course and was sponsored by the local chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Attends Convention

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath spoke before a convention of the Young Peoples' Societies of the Erie Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, which was held in the First Presbyterian church of Warren, Pa., on Friday evening, January 5.

Dukes Eke Out Win Over Titans 35-31

Three Games Open Frat Cage League

By Alan Van Harper
There has been much conjecture in the various fraternity houses on the campus as to the probable outcome of the intramural basketball tournament, opening Saturday afternoon at the college gymnasium. With six teams entered in the "A" contest, opinion is pretty well divided as to the more likely winner of the mythical championship.

Undoubtedly the Dels are conceded a slight edge over the other five groups. Their record during the past two years has given them a respected position in the basketball realm, and with three members of last years' championship team available they will be a serious contender at all times.

In "Pat" Patterson they have one of the best floorman in the loop. His stellar playing during the past season will make him a marked man. Harrison Kennedy, lanky center, will see plenty of action again this year, as will Edwin Austen who played on the last year team.

T.U.O., with Paris, McCall, Rose, Lubuono, and Elliott, will be no set up at any time. "Hughie" McCall and Lubuono will be hanging up plenty of points during the season and Rose, Paris, and Elliott are going to give the Dels a run for their money. With the exception of Elliott and Rose this same team placed second last year and with a year's experience they ought to show even better form this season.

The Kaps may throw a few upsets into the championship race. Coach Wilhelm's quintet isn't a 'breather' by a long shot. In Jim Bloker they have one of the best guards in the loop, and it is going to be highly entertaining when Bloker and Patterson tangle horns. Both men will be playing their last year of inter-fraternity ball and are equally good in all phases of the game. Needham, Manor, and Offutt saw action last year and with a few lucky breaks the Kaps may up-set the dope wagon.

We wouldn't want to place too much money on the Phi Pi team, but if last year's record can be considered they will pull a few surprises during the season. Tom McClure, coach-player, has been their outstanding player during the last two seasons and will be directing the course of the Waugh avenue team this year.

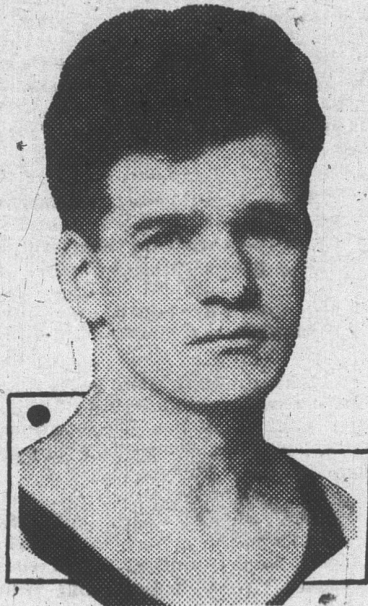

Siefert and McCormack will be playing for the Eps. Both men are plenty fast and clever and, if the new men in the line-up give them any support, they are going to have a real basketball team.

The Non-frats are, at the present time, rather a "dark house" in the tournament. What their team will be like in action remains to be seen. Perhaps they may have an outstanding team, but until the season gets into full swing we wouldn't want to bet on them one way or another.

Lawthermen Trounce Grove City Cagers 50-15; Other Cage Scores

League Director

JACK HULME

Jack Hulme starts his intramural cage league off to another pennant race Saturday afternoon when three games are scheduled.

Slippery Rock Faces Titans Here Saturday

Slippery Rock will come to Westminster tonight to meet in the first game of their series for this season. Slippery Rock is new to the Titan basketball schedule although the two schools have met on the football field for a number of years.

The Titans have the advantage over the Teachers through their 54-26 win over Glenville. Glenville defeated the Slippery Rock team by a 35-31 score previous to the Westminster encounter.

Tatala, star quarterback on the Teachers football team, is one of their best court players. Ortmann and Stonis are also members of the football team who play with the basketball team. Slippery Rock's line-up will probably include: Westlake and Tatala at forwards, Stonis at center, and Ziminski and Ortmann at guards. Coach Lawther will probably start his first five composed of: Douglass and Leyshock at forwards, Bennett at center, and Wilhelm and Hunneke at guards.

New Togs for Main Cogs Of Delt and Ep Basket Ballers Feature Openers

Inter-mural basketball fans are due to receive a pleasant Saturday afternoon when the Delt and Ep fives take their places on the floor in their respective games. In past years these two teams have concentrated their efforts on playing good ball, leaving the boys from the other fraternities to decorate the gym with bright and snappy suits. However, as a result of a New Years' resolution made simultaneously by the members of the two teams, all this will be changed. "We're through," say the Dels, "playing championship basketball in our underwear." "We will continue to exhibit our fine brand of ball, but this year we will do it arrayed in brand new blue suits."

"Them's our sentiments too," echo the Eps, "but we can't wear the same color as the Dels, so we will make our appearance Saturday in maroon togs." So there we have the facts. The two former tramp outfits of the inter-mural league, will now set the styles for the other teams, which should cause the interest in the sport to be even greater than it has been in the past for all teams will have uniforms.

Games with Adrian, Wheaton, Grove City, and Glenville have been played by the Titans since their return from the Eastern trip.

In the first Conference game played with Grove City on the Grover's floor the Blue and White showed their conference caliber by defeating the Thorn-men by a 50-15 score. Coach Lawther's men held the Grovers to four field goals only one of which was thrown in during the second half. Leyshock for the Titans and Soich for the Grovers were sent out on fouls. From a 12-point margin at the half Westminster raised the ante to 35 at the finish.

The Titans defeated Adrian by a 49-19 score in their last game of 1933. Coach Lawther's men took the lead at 2-0 at the outset and were never headed, holding a 28-9 advantage at half time. Wes Bennett was the leading scorer for the Titans with 17 points. Woerner, Adrian center, led the visitors with eight points.

For the first game of 1934, Wheaton came to Westminster and the Titans won by a 56-30 score. Ten men saw action for the Titans while nine of the Wheaton men played in the contest. Bennett again ran away with scoring honors for a total of 21 points made up of seven field goals and seven fouls. Due to the fact that two of the Wheaton players, Lawrence, forward, and Gray, center, were sent to the showers on personal fouls, the Titans ran up a 26-point margin during the second half.

Glenville State Teachers College came to New Wilmington last Saturday and went down to defeat at the hands of the Titans by a 54-26 score. Although the Teachers led for the first five minutes, the Lawthermen were not long in taking the lead at half time the score was 21-9 in favor of Westminster. Sweeney played a nice game running up a total of 10 points for the time he played.

Top Scorer

BENNETT

Wes Bennett, center, has been playing stellar ball for the Titans and at present heads the scoring list. Bennett was high scorer against Duquesne.

Wesley Bennett, high scoring center of the Titan team, was the big star of Westminster-Duquesne game last Tuesday night. The game was played in the Pitt pavilion before a crowd of approximately 2,500 spectators with the Dukes winning by the close score 35-31.

With 14 points Bennett led the field in scoring. Playing under a terrific mental handicap due to the serious illness of his father, the lanky center hit the hoop six times and made two out of five free throws.

Mediocre work at the foul line cost the Titans the decision. Deadlocking the Dukes from the field the Titans failed miserably at the foul line, gaining only seven out of 17 free throws. The Dukes hit the hoop 11 times out of 16 chances.

At the half the Bluffmen were ahead 18-11 and managed to maintain a narrow lead throughout the game. Feldman, acting captain for the Hilltoppers, led the Dukes in scoring. With 10 points he was second to Bennett; Birch and Brennan played well for the Dukes and turned in nine points each.

Ray Sweeney, miniature Titan star, played an excellent game for the Blue and White. With five points he was second high scorer for the Lawther men. Hunneke had an off night at the foul line and missed five out of six attempts.

The game on Tuesday made it two straight for the Dukes. Last year the Titans defeated them in their first contest, but lost the return game at Beaver Falls.

District Rivals Plan Revenge For Last Year Defeats

Waynesburg and Allegheny are on the Titan schedule for next week. Waynesburg will come to New Wilmington next Tuesday and the Westminster team will travel to Meadville and meet Allegheny next Friday night.

Although the Lawthermen are favored to win these games by comparison of scores, an upset in the middle of the season would not be uncommon. Both schools have practically the same men on the teams as last year.

Last season the Titans defeated the Jackets by a 27-26 score in both games. Rab Currie, star of last year's Waynesburg outfit, will be with the Jackets again this year. Other members of the Waynesburg team are: Janosik, forward; Donlin, center; Mancuso, guard; and Dzvonik, guard.

The Titans defeated Allegheny, 39-28 and 47-13 last year. McNutt, Serene, Hibbs, Berger, Massing, Leadbeater, and Lubie are some of the members of the Allegheny squad.

FIFTY YEARS

Charles A. Dana, eminent editor of the New York Sun, had opposed General Garfield, Republican nominee, in the presidential election of 1880. Four years later, the Sun refused to support Glover Cleveland for the presidency, thereby losing prestige and circulation. The New York World, purchased by Pulitzer in 1883, became the chief rival of the Sun, and supporting Cleveland gained many followers.

This was the journalistic setup as well as the political situation in 1884 when the Holcad was founded. Various governmental scandals and irregularities that marked the Republican administrations following the Civil War had given the Democrats large following. Reconstruction much like that in our present era, was still occupying the country.

Westminster had once before started a newspaper, the Students' Journal having been founded in 1859, but the Civil War caused this journalistic venture to be dropped. The Holcad, then, founded in 1884, was the first successful Westminster publication.

For 50 years the Holcad has continued through various fortunes. It has been printed in Pittsburgh, in Mercer, in New Castle, and in New Wilmington. Started as a semi-monthly paper, issued in magazine format and style, it has changed in size and frequency of publication a number of times. It has been a five-column paper, a six-column paper; it has been printed on book paper and on news print; it has appeared semi-monthly, monthly, and more recently, weekly during the college year.

What is more important than its physical appearance, its makeup and size and publication dates is the fact that it has progressed with the college; has improved with each new stride of the succeeding generations of students. The enrollment at Westminster in 1884 was 229, including 70 in the preparatory department. Dr. Robert Gracey Ferguson was president. The faculty then numbered 12 men and women.

Contrast the situation today. The enrollment this year will probably reach a net total of 675. The Holcad now appears weekly during the year. It is published in newspaper style and has halftone illustrations, something unheard of in 1884 publications when steel etchings were rare, and "ginger-bread" typography made even the most conservative piece of printing appear bizzare.

The 1887 catalog is the first to mention the Holcad. In it we read, "The Holcad. A periodical is published semi-monthly by the students, called by this name. It is devoted to the interests of the College, and deserves the support of the alumni and friends of the college." In the 1888 catalog we learn that the Holcad was published monthly and that the subscription price was $1 per year.

Changes in paper stock, typography, layout, style of writing, and even spelling and grammar mark the fifty years of the Holcad. Items which now appear naive and semi-humorous to us were perhaps read with as much interest by students of an earlier day as the best news and feature stories are today. Fifty years from now there will be a faint smile on the lips of those who read the issues of 1934.

If one allows himself to imagine the number of editors, reporters, contributors, advertisers, readers, typesetters, printers, paper makers, ink makers, and printing machine builders who have been a part of the long retinue to make the Hol-cad, he is confronted with a picture of thousands.
Old names appear in the pageant: "Courant Printery, New Castle"; "Dispatch Print, Mercer"; "Miller and VanGordon, Printers, New Castle"; "Shaw Brothers, Pittsburgh"; "Chandlee and Ferguson, Printers, New Wilmington";
"Vincent, Ferguson Co., New Wilmington";
"Globe Printing Co., New Wilmington."

With the introduction of journalism as an academic subject in the college, student editors and staff members have within the last six or seven years been better prepared for the mechanical side of newspaper publication. This has had but a small part, however, in the rapid strides made by the publication recently. Most of the credit must go to an increased interest in journalism on the part of students, and an appeal to the most intelligent members of the student body for staff positions.

Competing with the best college newspapers, published in both small colleges and large universities, the Holcad has for the last three years been among the best. This year second place for editorial policy was given the Westminster newspaper in the contest sponsored by the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States. A certificate denoting "distinguished recognition" has been awarded. News coverage, advertising, circulation, style of writing, every phase of the Holcad's publication have been excellent and have received favorable comment both from students and faculty and alumni and from professional journalists and student journalists from other colleges.

What influence the Holcad has had on all other college activities can never be measured.
No other campus organization would have succeeded half so well without the publication. The publicity given debates, dramatics, athletics, music, religious organizations, social groups down to the smallest tea or party has made these events more important and better known.

Long hours are spent in the writing and editing of the Holcad by the student staff. More time is spent on this project than on most other campus activities. It is done for three major purposes, it seems to me: (1) the publicizing of the activities of the college, (2) the permanent record of what the college does from week to week, (3)
the excellent editorial and managerial experience of the staff members.

The present staff and all that long line of editors, reporters, copy readers, proof readers, circulation managers, advertising managers, and business managers back through the years should have, in addition to the joy of creative activity which Holcad work has afforded, the congratulations and plaudits of Westminster.

PI DELTA EPSILON

Installation of Tau Gamma Delta, local honorary journalistic fraternity since 1923, as chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, largest national journalistic fraternity, is indeed fitting at a time when the fiftieth anniversary of Westminster journalism is being celebrated. It is also a commentary on the high grade of journalism at Westminster, for Pi Delta Epsilon grants chapters only to those colleges where publications are of the highest type.

Pi Delta Epsilon will be the highest honor for campus journalists to attain. It will continue, as Tau Gamma Delta has in the past, to spur college newspaper and yearbook workers on. It will work for the best interests not only of the student publications but also of the college.

The national fraternity has as its ideal good journalism, clean journalism, intelligent journalism, three qualities which have marked and continue to mark Westminster publications. Due credit must be given Harold Polonus, editor, who made contacts at the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association convention which led to the negotiations resulting in the granting of the chapter.

Congratulations, Tau Gamma Delta, on being accepted. Congratulations, Pi Delta Epsilon, on getting a chapter of which you may be proud.

Are George Hollander and Pat Cosgrove preparing for a long cold winter? Both of them are raising little fuzzy things on their upper lips. Hollanders in particular is es-the other.

One of our poor, misinformed freshmen had the idea up until recently that the Campus Committee's duties were to keep the campus looking nice.
By the way—what are their duties?

We have noted with particular interest that every meeting of the History Club that has been announced in chapel has been "An important meeting."

An ardent, sign collecting student saw a sign in a barbecue stand the other night which read, "Take Notice! But Don't Take Anything Else!"—so he took the sign.

Kenneth Smith slept at the Kap House one night this week. There was a perfectly good bed waiting for him to sleep in but he persisted in sleeping on an old day bed, which had a mattress but no covers. As it was quite cold he adopted a novel way of keeping warm. He spread his overcoat out on the springs and laid down with the mattress over him.

We see that red noses are

The Eps have taken up the two handed card game, "Russian Bank" in a big way.

Donald Walters is thinking seriously of taking up the study of animal training. At the present he has quite a collection of small pets. His zoo may be seen upon request.

Humes Lasher was able to pilot the freshmen football team to victory with eleven sophomores bothering him, but when he was home over Christmas vacation the presence of one girl, sitting beside him in an automobile, rattled him so that he tried to drive his car three directions at once and ended up by tangling fen-
side of the street. We reserve our comments.

Did you hear "Doc" Dawson's lat-test? He saw a little fellow walking down the street, whistling and singing loudly, and carrying a roll of screen wire resting on his shoulders and encircling his head and face.
Dawson stopped him and in his most paternal voice said, "You had better be careful, little boy, or you'll strain your voice."

Chuck Trevaskis is quite a singer. If you don't believe us ask him.

Merril Straw took his car, the fender of which was badly crumpled, into an auto laundry and said,
"Wash the car, please, and put a lit-

"2 In 1" May Be Polish; But To Us Its Relish

"2 In 1" may be the trade name of a shoe polish, but it had a double significance to Westminster students after the drubbing handed the Grove City cagers by the Westminster basketball men.

Last November 3, the night before the annual Grove City-Westminster football game which ended in a 12-0 victory for the Crimson, several Grove City students managed to make their way through a band of Westminster freshmen who were guarding the town against a possible Crimson visit. The Grove City boys then proceeded to daub the sidewalks of the campus with gaudy red paint, hailing the spirit of their school.

The paint was not removed, remaining there probably, to make revenge all the sweeter when it did come. After Westminster "mopped up" things in fine style with a 50-15 score on the Grover basketball court, the caretakers of the campus removed the paint and the stigma it carried to the relish of the Westminster student body.

Through The Years With The Holcad

Long years ago the Holcad was a literary magazine, put out in pamphlet form. It contained themes, essays, articles, jokes and so forth. Some of the old issues are quite remarkable in their form and style. The advertisements in particular are an education in themselves. Take for example the advertisement of a tailor, printed in an 1885 issue.

"We specialize in Suitings, Pantaloonings, Overcoatings, and Gents' furnished goods in general." Just what were "Pantaloonings?" Another tailor calls attention to his "Graduation Rigs," and his Business suits. Evidently they had some hope of finding a job when they got out of college in those days.

Another funny one is a meat market's advertisement. "We handle all kinds of fresh and salt meats.—Give special attention to students." Just how was that to be taken? "Call and see me at the old stand," was the merchants' plea to the students. Bicycles were advertised, with stirring pictures of beautiful machines. Hotels with "Stablings Attached" were announced.

At that time each class had their own motto and yell, and these were published under the heading "Class Organizations."

For instance. "Senior Class—Motto 'Without haste, but without rest.' Yell—

"Rip, Rah! Rip, Rah!
Wee Wah Wive,
Wah-Hoo, Wah-Hoo, '95"

Junior Class—Motto, "Character is Destiny." Yell—

"Hellabaloo, Rix, Rix!
Hellabaloo, Rix, Rix!
Lucky Boom! Rah, Rah,

"Whoopla! Whoopla!
Sis Boom Wah!

'97, '97, Rah, Whoop, Rah!" According to an exchange printed in an 1895 issue, "Ann Arbor students thought they were heavily restricted when the two following rules were imposed on them: 'Students must neither burn the college buildings nor kill any of the professors.'"

"Salted taffy and ice cream are the proper refreshments at social gatherings in Wilmington." Grove City has decided that it would not be wise to contest in track athletics this year with Westminster. The students were much disappointed in not having a chapel speech from the last lecturer. We are sorry he did not appreciate the situation, as lessons were not prepared in anticipation of the same, a column in one of the old issues reads.

And this one—"On application to the president any one who can satisfactorily perform the duties of a chaperon will be given instructions in the art free of charge." So it's an art, is it?

A 1902 Holcad tells us that ladies furnishings could be bought in New Castle. "Everything in corsets, hosiery and underwear. Latest things in ribbons. Tailor made walking and dress skirts, and silk and flannel shirt waists." "The turnouts from our stable are finest in every particular. Stylish rigs, Good horses. Hack to the junction," says another advertisement. Even the barber had an ad: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever. Then why not call at the shaving parlor of the old reliable tonsorialist. Hair cutting, shaving and shampooing in artistic and up to date styles." "No anonymous communications will be noticed," read the publisher's notice in the front of each issue.

"New Wilmington, the home of Westminster, is beautiful for situation," claims an article. "Electric lights, telegraph, telephone, bank and numerous places of business give most of the conveniences of the city; while churches and schools, with the entire absence of the saloon, the Sunday newspaper and other allurements to vice, give good society and pure moral atmosphere."

In a story, printed in a 1902 issue we read, "Essays, printed in the paper, need be not profound, but readable, as the two terms are not synonymous in describing a Holcad article." So that's what they thought of it?

When it came to sport stories—read this about a basketball game in 1902: "The game was rather roughly played. One of the weak points in the team is in locating the basket. 'The game was a very rough exhibition of basketball, both sides forgetting the fine points of the game. This often resulted in fouls, and these were not always called and culminated in utter disregard by the players of some of the important rules of the game.' Evidently a nice time was had by all.

From the way these old issues read, the most important thing in

R. J. Love, Holcad

Founder Now Lives In Lockhart, Florida

Living in retirement on his estate in Lockhart, Florida, is the founder and first editor of The Holcad. Dr. R. J. Love, for many years a member of the Westminster faculty as head of the Bible department, conceived the idea of a Westminster publication. With the efforts of his class mates, he was able to publish the first issue of the Holcad.

Dr. Love is a graduate of Westminster with the class of '85 and holds his Ph. D. and D.D. degrees. In 1931 he retired from active service as a faculty member and has visited the campus several times since he went to Florida to reside.

Of special interest is the fact that Harold Polous, editor during the fiftieth year of The Holcad, was a member of the last class of Freshman Bible that the Holcad founder conducted at Westminster college.

would hardly advise you to go before supper."

We found the following joke printed in a 1905 Holcad:

"Notice, open for all engagements as chaperon. Can bring either green goggles or spyglass. Naturally hard of hearing and of a meditative character. Can sleep on request or (have even been known to go to sleep while walking.) Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Charges reasonable. Apply to X.Y.Z."

And finally this bit of doggeral taken from a 1906 Holcad, which is quite up to date:

"When all my thinks in vain are thunk. When all my winks in vain are wunk, what saves me from an awful flunk?—My pony."

Westminster Wins Three On Eastern Trip

Winning three out of five starts on their annual Eastern trip, Coach Lawther's Titans made a good showing in preparation for the current cage season.

In their first game of the trip with St. Thomas, the Titans were defeated by a 29-26 score. The Tommies took the lead at the start and held it throughout the game. Threatening in the closing minutes of play, the Blue and White came within three points of tying the score. Leyshock was high scorer for the Lawther team with eight points.

Westminster was again defeated in their second game with New York City College, the score at the finish being 25 to 13. Pete Leyshock again showed up best for the Titans. Although the Blue and White led at 3 to 1 in the first few minutes of play, by half time City College had a 9 to 3 advantage which they kept throughout the game.

Going to Union City for their third game of the series the Titans defeated John Marshall to the tune of 30 to 18. Bennett was high point man for Westminster with 11 points through three field goals and five fouls. Douglass scored seven points and Leyshock and Wilhelm each had four points. At half time the score was 13-9 in favor of Westminster.

Using all ten men taken on the trip Coach Lawther put the Blue and White team through their paces to defeat Upsala, 47-18. Bennett ran up a total of 16 points through six field goals and four fouls. Douglass and Leyshock each had 10 points to their credit.

In their last game of the series played against the Nassua Collegians, the Titans again came out on top of a 38-20 score. "Babe" O'Donovan, former Titan player, was among the Collegians who were all ex-college stars. Bennett was again high point man with 13 points, while Douglass had eight and Sweeney had seven.

W. A. A.

By Libby Cone

For the first time since its organization on Westminster's campus, the local W. A. A. received two favorable write-ups in the National Woman's Athletic Association magazine. This magazine is published in Madison, Wisconsin, four times a year and contains activity reports of W. A. A. chapters all over the United States. Westminster's program which welcomed the freshmen women at the beginning of the year, and the Hallowsen treasure hunt were favorably commented upon.

W. A. A. will sponsor horse-back riding at the Sharon Riding Academy, Saturday of this week. All girls of the school are invited, and transportation will be provided.

With the volleyball tournament over, and the Freshman Blue team the winner without the loss of a game, feminine interest now turns to a sport of a different nature. Sessions of "intensive tumbling" are being conducted on alternate days each week, for the next three weeks, by Miss Love. Everything from "simple tumbles" to the more difficult gymnastic feats are on the program, and the number of girls who are taking part is unusually large. Virginia Booth, Helen Simison, and Josephine Rymer head the list of star performers in this activity.

Intra-mural basketball will begin in earnest with the arrival of next semester. Although somewhat late in getting under way, interest is keen and a large turn-out is expected. A suggested "natural" to start the season off with added interest is the proposed game between a W. A. A. team and the younger lady faculty members. The formal acceptance from the latter has not appeared as yet.

Discussed at the Tuesday meeting of the W. A. A. were plans for a basketball tournament, to be held in place of the postponed fall play day. Teams from the neighboring colleges would be invited, and as guests of the W. A. A. would take part in a program of basketball and swimming. Plans for such an affair are being made by members of the committee appointed by Lola Sewall, club president. Committee members are: Virginia Booth, Pat Jones, Isabel McKnight, Betty McCrory, and Elizabeth Cone.

All girls are invited to use the ping-pong table which is in the W. A. A. room in the Hillside. The key may be obtained from Mrs. Coventry, for use during any recreational hours.

Postpone Pi Delta Epsilon Installation

Due to the illness of Henry Gratton Doyle, grand president of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, the Westminster chapter of the organization will be installed late in February, according to a telegram received by the Holcad late Thursday afternoon.

The installation was regularly scheduled for Saturday, January 27, but physicians ordered Doctor Doyle to postpone the trip north because of his physical condition.

The Westminster fraternity, Tau Gamma Delta, was accepted as a member of the national organization by a unanimous vote of the delegates to the national convention of Pi Delta Epsilon, held at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, on December 12, 1933.

Plans are going forward for the installation by the committee in charge and the postponement of the ceremonies will enable the local group to enlarge upon the program for the day. Newspaper dignitaries and Pi Delta Epsilon members of other schools will be extended an invitation to attend. At present, several requests have been made by district newspapermen for information concerning ceremonies.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the installation includes: Charles Branfield, Maurice Michmerhuizen, and Harold Polonus.

Second Semester

Registration Is Nearing Completion

Registration for second semester started Tuesday of this week with seniors registering Tuesday and Wednesday and juniors, Thursday and Friday. Sophomores and freshmen will register next week, sophomores on Monday and Tuesday and freshmen on Wednesday and Thursday.

This plan will do away with the usual confusion at the beginning of the second semester and will give students a longer recess between semesters. Classes will begin again on Wednesday, February 7.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Plans Dance For Mar. 10

Plans are being made by members of the Pan-Hellenic council to hold a dance in the college gymnasium, Saturday, March 10. This dance is an annual affair and is one of the few occasions of the year when the girls ask their escorts.

Combined Meeting

A combined meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. was held Wednesday night in the United Presbyterian church basement. Professor R. X. Graham spoke on "Religion in Literature." Al Smith, a member of the freshman class, presided at the meeting.

Reportorial Staff Edits

Current Issue Of Holcad

This issue of the Holcad was edited by Virginia Booth, Anne Thomas, and Mildred Renshaw, members of the reportorial staff. Reporters and competitors to the staff will have the opportunity to edit the paper before the appointments are made for next year. In this way, by comparing the results of the various groups, efficient and capable students can be given the editorial positions to be vacated by Seniors in March.

The next issue of the Holcad will be edited by Herman Myer. His assistants will be Isabel Scheetz, Anna Mary Kendeheart, and Avalon Le Monte.

In the interim, the editors will "take a rest".

"Natalia"

CHARLOTTE BARTLETT

Charlotte Bartlett will take the part of "Natalia", in the "Marriage Proposal," one of the three one-act plays to be given in the Little Theatre tonight and tomorrow night.

One Act Plays To Be Presented This Evening

Two Russian dramas will be featured at the performances to be presented tonight and Saturday night in the Little Theatre.

The first play, "Theatre of the Soul", by Evreinov is an expressionistic drama, in which the scene is laid in the interior of a man's chest. The play dealing with emotions, exposes the internal reactions which accompany human experience. In the cast are Don Mechling portraying the Intellect; Avalon LeMonte, the Emotions; Bob Douglass, the Spirit; Julia Gordon, the Concept of the Wife; and Virginia McCown, the Concept of the Singer. The professor introduced in the prologue of the play is portrayed by Charles Brown.

Much effort has been spent in the staging of this play with the result that the scenery and lighting effects are excellent.

The other play prominent on the program is Chekov's comedy, "A Marriage Proposal". This play portrays a phase of Russian country life and gives a picture of marriage and family customs. McCrea Hazlett is the wealthy farmer in the play, Charlotte Bartlett is his daughter, Natalia, and Merlin Hemphill, is the suitor.

The third number on the program which will be presented as a short interlude between the two Russian plays; is "Stone Deaf". The role of the Old Gentleman is played by Perry Klumph and Eric Thompson takes the part of the Young Gentleman.

Mansell and Sowersby To Offer New Courses

Three new courses are on the schedule for second semester according to Miss Isabel Ramsey, assistant registrar. "Introduction to Law" which is taught by Attorney Robert E. White of New Castle is being offered on Monday and Friday afternoon's at 1:15 p. m.

Mr. F. S. Sowersby will teach a three hour class in Advanced Accounting (Economics 9a) on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 8:55 a. m.

Mr. Thomas Mansell will offer a course in "Commercial Law" at 9:50 a. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

To Speak

Miss Jennie Lee, youngest member of the 1929 British Parliament, will speak in chapel Wednesday, February 7. "Dictatorship and Revolution in Europe" will be the subject of her address.

College Mourns Death Of Former President

Forensic Teams Will Engage In Nine Contests

Westminster debaters will meet nine rival colleges during the month of February.

The men will debate Western Maryland, here, in a decision affair, Oregon Plan, February 9. February 16, coed teams will debate Slippery Rock, here and there.

The men will take a trip to Bethany, California, and Waynesburg, February 19 and 20. All will be decision contests except the one at California.

There will be two co-ed debates, February 21; one with Geneva, there; and one, here, with Grove City. The Grove City affair will be on the Oregon plan.

Another Oregon Plan debate is scheduled for the men with Juniata, for February 24, here. Co-eds will meet Pitt, February 27, here, in a decision meet. The last one scheduled is for the men, February 28. It is a decision debate, here, with Allegheny.

Speakers, as yet, have not been chosen, nor is the program quite complete. The two propositions being used are, Resolved: That the essential features of the N. I. R. A. should be adopted as a permanent policy of the U. S. government; and, Resolved: That the powers of the president should be substantially increased.

Mortar Board

Meets Today

The second meeting of the new honorary activities fraternity for women was held this afternoon at the home of Dean Mary E. Turner, one of the faculty advisers for the organization.

Miss Dorothy Kirkbride was a guest at the meeting after which tea was served by Dean Turner.

Officers of the fraternity will attend a luncheon to-morrow as the guests of the Carnegie Tech Chapter of Mortar Board in Pittsburgh.

Eight Seniors Will Complete College Career Next Week

Eight seniors plan to finish their work at Westminster next week and will receive their diplomas at the annual Commencement exercises in June.

Those who will finish with a Bachelor of Arts degree majoring in English are Helen Baerman and Helen Weingartner; those majoring in social sciences are Louise Johnston, Mauno Siljander, and William Williams, while Grace Kelly and Jane Kerr are majoring in Modern Languages. Grace Jones will receive her degree in Public School music.

Grace Kelly and Jane Kerr plan to go to Edinboro State Teachers college next semester to get certification in elementary school teaching.

Study Teacher Training

Dean Carl E. Rankin, Professor J. D. Lawther, and Professor Ross Ellis spent Wednesday of this week at Indiana State Teachers College where they were studying the organization of curriculum with reference to teacher training and business.

NO SUPPLEMENT

This week's issue of "College Digest", rotogravure section failed to arrive at press time. The issue will be distributed upon its receipt at the Holcad office.

Passes Away

W. CHARLES WALLACE

Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster college from 1916 to 1931, passed away Wednesday morning in the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, after a lingering illness.

Co-ed Debate Team Defeats Seton Hill In Decision Meet

The first women's decision debate of the season was won by Helen Dornhofer, Marjorie Scott, and Virginia Booth, when they met Seton Hill, here, January 16. Westminster upheld the negative side of the question, Resolved: That the essential features of the N. I. R. A. should be adopted as a permanent policy of the U. S. government. Katherine Keenan, Rosanna Bininger, and Elizabeth White, of Seton Hill supported the affirmative. Professor H. M. Burrowes of Grove City acted as critic judge.

Two other teams met Allegheny, January 12, in non-decision debate. Doris Mill, Pearl McCormell, and Anne Kendeheart debated the affirmative in the Little Theatre Friday night. Their opponents were: Harriet Gray, Eleanor Bowman, and Helen Edmundson.

Gretchen Smith, Myra Cohn, and Ann Boyer upheld the negative at Allegheny, Friday afternoon. Elizabeth Mailharder, Elizabeth Douglas, and Elizabeth Bright furnished the competition.

Sabbath School Weekly Has Article On Journalism

Young People's Weekly, a Sabbath School publication of the David C. Cook Publishing Co., Elgin, Ill., carries an article about Westminster in the issue of January 6. The article deals especially with journalism courses and the student publications. Illustrations used include pictures of the Argo and Holcad, student staffs at work, and the tower of Old Main Memorial.

Memorial Bulletin

A Memorial Service Bulletin has been received here, published by the Courts of Washington County in memory of the late Erwin Cummins. Judge Cummins, before his death November 2, 1933, was Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Washington county, and a member of the Washington County Bar association.

One of the leading citizens of western Pennsylvania, he was graduated from Westminster in 1901, Magna Cum Laude. In addition to the scholastic honors he received at Westminster, Judge Cummins was a member of the 1898, 1899, and 1900 football teams and won a number of district track championships.

Dr. W. Charles Wallace Dies After Long Illness

Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of Westminster from 1916 to 1930, died in the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, on Wednesday morning. Following his resignation in 1930, Dr. Wallace put up a gallant fight for life, finally losing after being rushed to the Mercy Hospital on January 10 for an emergency operation for malignant tumor.

Born in Jamestown, Pa., on April 20, 1875, Dr. Wallace was educated at Jamestown academy, Geneva College, and Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. He was graduated from Geneva in 1899, spent a few years in commercial work in Pittsburgh, and was graduated from Pittsburgh Seminary in 1904.

Following his graduation from seminary, Dr. Wallace became stated supply in the Nobelsburg church. He was pastor of the Colorado Springs, Colo., United Presbyterian church from 1904 to 1907; pastor of the Sheradan U. P. church, Pittsburgh, from 1907 to 1912; and pastor of the First U. P. church, Braddock, from 1912 until 1916 when he was called to the presidency of Westminster.

He held the doctor of divinity degree from Geneva College, 1916; Miskinung College, 1916; and Sterling College, 1916. He was district governor of the 33rd district, Rotary International; president of the Pennsylvania College Presidents' Association.

Y. W. C. A. To Hold Afternoon Tea In Browne Hall Tuesday

Y. W. C. A. will have charge of the third tea to be held Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 p. m. in the lounge at Browne Hall.

This series which will number four teas was opened with a tea sponsored by the Student Council. The Girls' Glee Club were hostesses at the second of the series, at which a hundred people were present. The Y. W. C. A. will sponsor the third and the W. A. A. the fourth, which will be an event of the first week in the second semester.

Course In Soap Sculpture In Charge Of Mary Forbes

Ivory soap and Tuesday afternoon? That's all you need to enter the class in soap sculpture, beginning next semester and supervised by Mary Forbes, senior.

No credits will be offered, but the members will enter their accomplishments in the Proctor and Gamble national contest, to compete for valuable money awards. Prizes as high as $300 are being distributed in the competition, which will close mid-night of May 1.

A special invitation is extended to those students not in art classes.

Glee Club Presents Chapel Program Today

Music by the Women's Glee Club of the College was featured in the chapel program of Friday, January 19. The four numbers given were: "Music With Soft Voices Die" by Kramer, words by Shelley; "The Evening Star", a Czechoslovakian folk song with words by Fay; "The Ghost of the Garden" by Vandevere; and "From A Railway Carriage", a poem of Stevenson's set to music by Hadley.

The club is composed of girls from all four classes of the college and is under the direction of Miss Ada Peabody.

W. CHARLES WALLACE AND THE MODERN WESTMINSTER

"Institutions are the lengthening shadows of great men", and Westminster College is no exception. Back through the years the list of names of giants who have builded Westminster shows none greater than that of Dr. W. Charles Wallace, the builder of the modern Westminster.

Coming to Westminster in 1916, in those hectic days immediately before the war; laboring through 1918 and 1919, those bewildering days of the world conflict; persevering through 1927, those discouraging days, following the destruction of Old Main by fire; he set his mark on Old Westminster, and the Westminster as it is today is a monument to his memory.

President Wallace built up the enrollment,
the academic standing, the physical equipment, and the prestige of the College. An able preacher and a tireless worker, he also had that vision which made for wise planning for the future.
The Gymnasium, Browne Hall, and Old Main Memorial were all constructed during his administration, from 1916 to 1930. Grade "A" rating by the Association of American Universities was achieved. The training required of faculty members was improved. Enrollment increased from about 200 to 550.

A grateful Westminster, faculty, student body, and alumni group, mourn the passing of the modern Westminster.

SCHOLARSHIP CUPS

Again this year the non-fraternity and non-sorority organizations were awarded the silver loving cups given by the college to the men and women's groups attaining the highest scholastic rating on the campus.

Such an award seems unfair to the Greek organizations since three sororities and three fraternities attained higher scholastic averages than the non-social groups. The fraternities and sororities maintaining the high averages were compelled to see their work go to nought because of poor work by other organizations.

Believing that such a system is unfair to the high rating clubs, the Holcad makes this suggestion:

That the non-fraternity men and the non-sorority women be considered as organizations competing against each fraternity or sorority, rather than against the social organizations taken as a whole.

If such a plan had been followed this year, silver loving cups would have been awarded to some fraternity and sorority rather than to the non-social clans. If a sorority or fraternity can make a higher average than the people who do not enjoy the privileges of the Greek societies, then why shouldn't the scholarship cups go to those societies?

DYING TRADITIONS

Are the traditions of Westminster slowly dying? Have the students of this institution forgotten the customs of the past, thereby killing off a part of the glorious Westminster which so many alumni and former students cherish in their hearts?

Such seems to be the case at the present time. Rules and regulations for Freshman were set down, but the spirit of the upperclasses in seeing that the rules were observed has been sadly lacking. Very few members of the first year class paid any attention to the edict of cotton stockings and the Blue and White headress.

Little was said, for it was the duty of the Student Board, newly organized, to handle all infractions of the rules. To be sure, one court-martial was held at which members of the Freshman class were able to hold their own in "wit matching" with the prosecutors. The Freshmen were able to get away with murder. Yes, traditions are dying.

A rule set down in the Westminster traditions is that every member of the Freshman class should speak to every person they met, whether he be fellow student or faculty member. All this is ancient history, but it does prove that traditions mean nothing.

Our athletes and residents of the Co-op lodges on Maple street have forgotten that there are walks to follow on the campus. Signs have been posted to stop the practice of cutting across the lawn. Yet, these students persist in making a path from the east entrance of Old Main Memorial to the edge of the campus, thus ruining the work of the caretaker in his attempt to beautify the east campus. Traditions are dying! Traditions are dead. It is up to the student body to resurrect some of them!

Intercollegiate Notes

If a person wished to take every course offered by the University of Wisconsin, it would take him ninety-nine years to complete his education.

A pamphlet on college etiquette, sponsored by Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary home economics society, is to go on sale soon at Marshall College.

A professor of German at the University of Colorado has been taken ill with diphtheria and fifty-five students in her classes have been given a three-day quarantine.

A Ping-Pong tournament has been in progress at the T.U.O. House, and we are pleased to announce Ray Sweeney as the winner! Come on, you Ping Pong champs, file your challenges early.

History I students are competing with the art department for honors.
If you don't believe us take a look at the drawings of Medieval cathedrals and stained glass windows that line the walls of room 307.

Things We Like To See:

John Wilhelm and Ray Sweeney going into action on our home floor.
Readers enjoying this column. We are funny that way.

Shouts and laughter emanated from the little theater the other night, previous to a dress rehearsal of the play, "The Theater Of the Soul."

One of the actors in the play had received her costume but a few minutes before the rehearsal began.
"Hurry and change," said the director, noticing that she hesitated, "this is dress rehearsal, you know." "That lets me out," was the young lady's reply, holding up a transparent, mosquito-netting affair, with a few spangles on it, "this would do for nothing but an undress rehearsal." It seems the donor of the costume had neglected to include certain necessary underparts.

We can hardly believe it, but the other day a freshman girl applied to Miss Ailman, the librarian, for a book on psychology. She wanted to crash for the psychological test that was given this afternoon. What next!

They send their pledges to the Tuesday afternoon teas. Good for you, sometimes. It's something we all need... not the tea, but the experience.

Chapel Notes:

By the many letters that Betty Washabaugh receives at chapel time, she must keep the "boy back home" busy buying stamps.

From the expression that Helen Dornhoefer wears when she reads the news from home, she must expect to read that the cat has ran off with the canary, and the cook has ate the ice man.

One girl in the freshmen class could give the stoics pointers. She receives her letters in chapel, but never opens them until the service is over.

We wish we could get our letters at chapel time... in fact we wish we could get letters any time.

Court Team Defeats State Teachers and Waynesburg

Bennet High Scorer

Displaying two different brands of basketball, the Titans won the last two home games, by large scores. Saturday night, the Slippery Rock Teachers were defeated by a 45 to 20 score. The visitors started out with a spurt which put them ahead of the Westminster boys in the first few minutes of play. After the Titans got the range on the bucket, the Teachers didn't have much of a chance to do anything.

Bennett was high point man for the home team with 13 points, while Uram and Truman led the visitors with four points each. Most of Slippery Rock's scoring was made on foul shots, only three field goals being scored by them, all of which came in the first half.

Waynesburg was defeated Tuesday night in a Tri-State Conference tilt, 42-27. The Titans displayed much better form than in their previous home games, and as a result, the Jackies were held to one field goal during the first half. In the second half, the game became wild and rough with the result that Janosik, Waynesburg center, left the game with four personals.

Coach Wolf used nine players, six of whom scored, and Coach Lawther used six players, four of whom scored. Currie led the visitors' attack with seven points. Wes Bennett accounted for eight field goals and made four free shots good, for a total of 20 points, to head the scoring for the Lawthermen. Captain Douglass was second with 12 points. Wilhelm and Sweeney were also outstanding for the Titans.

The Titans play their next Conference game January 31, when they meet Thiel at Greenville.

Hulme To Call Fouls When Teachers Meet Coeds On Gym Floor

Score one for the lady faculty members! This body of learned dignitaries have just released a formal statement of their willingness to meet the W. A. A. basketball team in what should be an interesting little ball game. Under the direction of Miss Nandeen Love, player-coach, the ladies have organized and have selected their line-up, which same they refuse to release for publication at this early date. However it is definitely known that "las profesoras" have gone in training at this time, and are faithfully carrying out their coach's rules. Impartial water boys and time keepers have been engaged, and Jack Hulme has been petitioned to call fouls, in case either side should indulge in personalities.

Women students and faculty members will be admitted to this classic court struggle for the small sum of ten cents. Proceeds will go to pay for faculty injuries and in the event of any net proceeds, the W. A. A. will benefit.

The date—February 8. Time—9 P. M. Keep it in mind!

Six Frat Teams See Action In Loop

Before a large audience of cheering fans, Jack Hulme's program of intra-mural basketball got under way Saturday, January 13. The Phi Pi's took the opening game of the season from the Non-Frats by a 20-11 decision. McClure and Deabler were high scorers for the winners, while Jacobsen, tall Non-Frat center, led his team with eight points.

The Eps came out on the heavy side of a 21-14 score, in their game with the Kaps on the same day. Seifert, Ep forward, led his teammates in scoring honors, and Red Needham garnered the most points for the Kaps.

Delts, winners for the last two years, and favored to take the top position in this year's tournament, won their opening game against the T. U. O's, 27-20. "Coe" Kennedy was high scorer for the defending champs. Rose was closely followed by Elliott and McCall for T. U. O. scoring honors.

Phi Pis won their second game Monday, this time from the Kaps, 14-10. McClure and Offutt were high-point men. The Delts took their second one Thursday, with an easy 32-12 victory over the Eps. Headly, Seifert, Miller, and Cypher had a field goal and four apiece. "Coe" Kennedy and "Skipper" Simpson thrilled the fans and worried the Eps with their clever shooting.

Somewhat rougher than varsity play, these games are always popular, and draw large crowds, including that ever-present feminine cheering section.

Titans Meet Allegheny In District Game Tonight

Teacher

GERALD NEWTON

Gerald Newton, former Titan athlete and campus leader, recently was appointed to the Pittsford, Pa. high school faculty as instructor in Mathematics. Newton graduated in the class of '33 and was a star forward on the varsity floor team.

W. A. A.

Westminster College W. A. A. will sponsor a basketball play day February 24, for girls from the district colleges. In addition to basketball, swimming and ping-pong will be on the program. Following the activities in the gym, the visiting girls will be guests of the W. A. A. at a buffet dinner, to be served at Browne Hall.

Invitations have been sent to Allegheny, Thiel, Grove City, Muskingum and Geneva colleges.

On February 3, six upperclass members of W. A. A. will go to Thiel to represent Westminster in a district college play day. The names of those girls who have been chosen to go, will be announced at the W. A. A. meeting Tuesday.

Return Tilt With Dukes

Tonight the Titans journey to Meadville to play the Allegheny College quintet and, if figures mean anything, they should come home with another game in the win column. Last year the 'Gators dropped the two scheduled games to Westminster, 39-13 and 47-28. Both teams have defeated Grove City this season. The Methodists, playing on their home floor, came out on the long end of the scoring in that game with only three points to spare, while John Lawther's men trounced the Grovers at Grove City 50-15. According to these figures the Titans are heavy favorites to win.

Coach Tippen, of Allegheny, will probably start Lubic and McNutt at the forward posts, Hibbs at center, and Berger and Vanaman in the guard positions. Lawther will no doubt present his regular line-up with Pete Leyshock and Bill Douglass, forwards, Wes Bennett, center, Swede Hunneke and Johnnie Wilhelm at guard. Diminutive Ray Sweeney will probably see plenty of action during the fray.

On Tuesday night, January 23, the Edinboro State Teachers will invade the local court and try their luck against the Westminster five. Coach "Sox" Harrison's team defeated the Titans at Edinboro last year 32-28 after being licked here by a 31-17 score. This year the up-state Teachers have practically the same team and this game should prove interesting.

The following night, Wednesday, January 24, the Titans go over to Slippery Rock and meet the State Teachers of that place. Lawther's team has already turned in one very decisive win over Slippery Rock this season, 45-20, and unless something unexpected crops up this fray should result in another victory.

The next game on the schedule is Friday, January 31, when the Titans meet the Thiel Lutherans at Greenville. Coach Stoerber has turned out a fairly good outfit, eking out a victory over Allegheny Tuesday night by a narrow margin. Westminster took two games from them last season and should repeat.

On Saturday night, February 3, over on the Sharon High School hardwood the Titans face the powerful Duquesne five. Down in the Pitt Stadium in Pittsburgh Chick Davies' boys defeated the Lawther-men by the small of four points. The Dukes split with Westminster last season and Coach Lawther is priming his men for this game in a mighty effort to equal last year's feat. It is decidedly a toss-up.

Little Known Campus Corners By Avalon Le Monte

OLD MAIN MEMORIAL TOWER
From the tiled roofs of Old Main Memorial the Bell Tower springs upward. Clothed in Indiana sandstone, pieced by graceful Gothic windows, it towers triumphantly to the skies, a symbol of strength, courage, and greatness.

All of us see it daily from the ground, but only a few have had the opportunity of ascending to the top from the inside. A flight of steel steps from the third floor leads to the roof of Old Main and walking across the roof you pass through a door into an immense bare room which is the base of the tower. Rough, brown tiles form the walls of the chamber, which is lit by four narrow slits of windows. Thirty feet above the floor is the ceiling—bare concrete, with reinforcing steel bars protruding from it.

In a far corner a circular steel stairway leads upwards in a dizzy spiral. Mounting it, you count forty-one steps before you reach the next landing—the bell room. This is a smaller room than the one below, and instead of narrow slits, four Gothic windows pierce the walls. Steel girders, high above your head, support a massive, smoke blackened bell, which is inscribed with the following words: "Cast by C. Fulton's Son and Co., Pittsburgh, P. A. D. 1879. Westminster College, Established 1852." This is the bell that hung in the tower of the original Old Main. When the building burnt a few years ago the bell crashed to the ground, only to rise again, months later, to an even greater height, in an even greater New Old Main.

Leaving the bell room by means of the circular stairway, you climb thirty-six stairs this time and come to the top of the tower. A biting wind whistles past. Snow covers the roof. Looking over the top of the five foot coping you see the snow clad campus below you. Science Hall, the gym, the conservatory, and the women's dormitories have a squatty appearance. The topmost branches of the tallest trees are far below you. Walks form queer patterns, and tiny people crawl from building to building. For the first time you realize how small the town of New Westminster is, when you see it spread out before you. Low, rolling, white tufted hills fade into the distance. A truck leaves town—creeps slowly along the road and disappears beyond the farthest hill. You are in a world apart.

Will Entertain At Dinner

tion; president of the New Castle Rotary Club; and president of the Lawrence county Boy Scout council.

During his administration the enrollment increased from 200 to 550. Three new buildings: the Gymnasium, Browne hall, and Old Main Memorial. During his administration the American Association of Universities granted the college "A" rating. The training of faculty members was improved by the hiring of those with higher degrees and the encouragement of graduate work.

Dr. Wallace had been ill the greater part of the time since 1930, but had seemed to recover fairly well some few months ago until the serious illness which caused him to be rushed to the hospital a week ago. He is survived by his widow, one son, Attorney Charles A. Wallace of New York; and two daughters, Wilhelmina and Rebecca of Beaver Falls. Funeral services took place today in the Corapolis United Presbyterian Church, with memorial services planned for Saturday.

Passes Away

Mrs. Louise Barr Roberson, 88, former matron of Hillside, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James M. Ferguson of Bellevue.

Funeral services were held at Mrs. Ferguson's home on the 16th, with burial at Uniondale Cemetery, North Side, Pittsburgh.

Elaborate Program For Mother's Day

A special chapel service, a Mother's prayer service, noon luncheons by the various sororities and fraternities, an exhibition in the gymnasium and a tea at Browne Hall are included in the activities for Saturday, March 3 when students of the college will entertain their mothers here.

The special service for Mothers and students in the college chapel will begin at 11 o'clock and will be followed by a prayer service in the Little Theatre for the mothers only.

At noon the various sororities and fraternities will entertain their mothers at luncheons. Alpha Gamma Delta will hold theirs at the Castleton Ballroom, Chi Omega at the Gables in New Castle, and Kappa Delta at the Tavern.

Sigma Kappa will entertain their mothers at the Castleton as will also the members of Theta Upsilon. Kappa Alpha Alpha have not yet decided on the place for their luncheon.

The fraternities will all entertain their mothers at dinner in their fraternity houses at noon.

Plans are being made by Jack Hulme, intramural director, for a sport program to be held on Mother's Day.

Student Council Movie Monday

The second movie of the season will be shown Monday night in the Little Theatre, according to Helen Whieldon, chairman of the Student Council committee. "The Pony Express" starring Ricardo Cortez, Ernest Torrence, and Betty Compson will be the feature attraction with a Harry Langdon comedy as an added feature.

Two shows will be given. The first performance will start at 7:15 and the last at 9 o'clock. Don Kellett will be at the piano.

Cast Announced For Comedy, "The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife"

The cast for the "Man Who Married The Dumb Wife", a two-act comedy by Anatole France, has been selected by Charlotte Bartlett, student director. Rehearsals begin this week for the play which will be produced in April.

Important roles in the play are: Catherine; Mary Catherine Jackson; Leonard Botal, McCrea Hazlett; Adam Fumee, Curtis Artman; Simon Colline, Charles Brown; Dulaurier, Hans Holm; Chick-aweed Seller, Olive Pope; Blind Man, Ellwood Rushworth; Allison, Sally Smith; Giles, Bruce Bower, Jean, Maugier, Bill Turner.

Holcad Leases Wire For Account Of Pitt Game

Students of Westminster College were treated to a unique feature last Wednesday evening when the Holcad gave a play-by-play account of the Pitt-Westminster game as it was played on the Pitt stadium floor in Pittsburgh.

The Holcad, through the co-operation of Prof. Ben Euwema, schedule manager of the Lecture Course, leased a wire from the Bell Telephone direct from the Pitt gymnasium to the Westminster basketball court.

Harold Polonus, editor of the Holcad, handled the broadcast in fine style describing the plays vividly as they were executed in Pittsburgh. He was assisted by Prof. R. X. Graham and Hyman Cohen of the Pitt News in checking the running play of the game. Heiges Brothers of Sharon amplified the account for the people in the local gym.

Directs Play

PROF. A. T. CORDRAY

Professor A. T. Cordray, director of dramatics, is producing "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" which will be presented in the Community Hall, March 16 and 17.

Men's Honorary Society Formed

Prof. Harold Brennan appeared before the Student Council Thursday afternoon with the plan of a senior men's honorary society which was organized earlier in the week. The Student Council went over the organization plans of the group with Brennan and approved the move as one of worth-while merit.

The purpose of the organization is to give recognition to senior men who have been active on the campus during their four year stay at Westminster. The membership of the society includes: Harold Polonus, president; Elmer Meider, Paul McMinn, Alan Van Harper, and William Douglass.

Men of the Junior class will be pledged late in the semester to carry on the work of the organization under the direction of Prof. Brennan, who has been named faculty advisor.

Debate Team Returns From Two Day Trip

Five members of the Westminster debate squad debated with Bethany college, California State Teacher's college and Waynesburg college last Monday and Tuesday.

McCrea Hazlett and Avalon Le Monte debated with Bethany at Warwood high school, Wheeling, West Virginia, upholding the negative of the question, "Resolved: that the essential features of the NRA be made a permanent part of our government." The decision was awarded to Bethany.

A three man team, composed of McCrea Hazlett, Avalon Le Monte and Melvin Morehouse upheld the affirmative against California State Teacher's, in a non-decision affair, debating the question, "Resolved: that the powers of the President of the United States be substantially increased as a settled policy."

James Ewalt, and Robert Ralston debated with Waynesburg at Mt. Morris, Pa. They upheld the negative of the NRA question.

The team, which was accompanied by debate coach, Albert J. Tener, returned to Westminster Wednesday night.

Committees Named For Annual Junior Prom

Members of the junior class will hold their annual formal dance in the college gymnasium on Friday evening, April 20.

John Kelso has been named as general chairman of the Junior Prom committee to replace Lew Crill who did not return to school the second semester. Charlotte Bartlett and Harold Griffith will assist him on the general committee.

The chairmen of the various sub-committees are: Walter Shaw, orchestra; John Hine, advertising; Mary Morrow, chaperones; Ruth Martin, program; Byron Elder, tickets; and Betty McCrory, decoration.

Name Cast For Little Theatre Play

All roles have been cast for the Little Theatre's three act play "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" by Jerome K. Jerome, on Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17, at the Community Hall. The action takes place in a boarding house in Bloomsbury, London, and portrays the influence of a passer-by, who takes the cheapest room in the house, the "Third Floor Back". The Stranger, as he is called, comes into contact with each member of the house and by his appeal to the "better self" or conscience of each one, causes them to regret their greedy and selfish ways and brings about a general reform. Those of the cast are: Mrs. Sharpe, Helen McLaughry; Stasia, Jane Chester; Miss Kite, Isabel Mackey; Mrs. Tompkins, Margaret Shaw; Mrs. DeHooley, Olive Pope; Major Tompkins, William Neeley; Vivian Tompkins, Helen Towner; Joey Wright, Don Mechling; Christopher Penny, Ivan Yahn; Jape Samuels, Avalon LeMonte; Harry Larkcom, Richard Morris; and Stranger, James Jacobson.

The Little Theater will present an entertainment before the Guild of the New Castle Methodist Episcopal Church on Wednesday, February 28. A reading by Isabel Kildoo and a short play, "Three Wishes" will compose the program. Jane Holland, Dorothy Johnston, McClees Murray, Doris Updegraff, and Dorothy Bieber are the cast.

Target Adopts Point System As Basis For Choosing New Members

Organization of Target, women's honorary activities fraternity was completed at a dinner-meeting, in Browne Hall on Monday, February 19, when a constitution was submitted by Esther Caughey, and adopted by the members.

A definite point system for the membership in the fraternity was present and adopted. According to this system, girls who, at the end of their junior year, have earned at least 400 points, and have a scholastic average of three points above the campus average of the preceding year, are eligible to membership. Starting next year, girls will be expected to earn 50 points their freshman year, 150 points their sophomore year, and 200 points their junior year. This year, however, girls may make up the necessary points before the end of this second semester. Points may be counted only for those organizations in which the individual has been active during that particular year.

According to this point system, the campus activities recognized will be divided into three classes; A, B, and C. The points awarded will be respectively, A-100 points, B-50 pts., and C-25 pts.

Class A includes membership in Y.W.C.A. cabinet, W.A.A., Delta Nappa, Psi Nu, Tau Kappa Alpha, Masquers and Campus Committee. Class B includes Inter-class debate, varsity debate, Holcad staff, Argo staff (positions as editor, associate editors or business manager of either Holcad or Argo will get ten extra points), Little Theatre plays, Freshmen Commission, Glee club, Orchestra, band and May Queen. Class C includes dormitory president, May Day attendants, intra-mural sports, Mermaid club, and chapel choir. Offices in any of the organizations are awarded five extra points.

A Style Show will be sponsored by Target in the Little Theatre on Wednesday evening March 14. Clothes will be furnished by the Anne McKee Apparel Shoppe of New Castle with Josephine McGoun in charge of the mannequins for the modeling who will be selected from among the college women.

Two showings will be put on during the evening with an admission charge of ten cents. Tickets will be on sale March 1.

President

CHARLES BRANFIELD

Charles Branfield is president of Tau Gamma Delta which will be installed as a chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon tomorrow afternoon.

To Install Pi Delta Epsilon Saturday

Plans are complete for the installation of Pi Delta Epsilon on the Westminster campus on Saturday afternoon and evening. Edward E. McDonald, president of the Carnegie Tech chapter of the order will come here to install and initiate.

Following the installation ceremonies, which will be held in Room 212, the group will go to the Hillside for an informal dinner at 8:30.

Newspaper men and Pi Delta Epsilon members who will attend are: Pete Botstord, Pittsburgh Press; "Bud" Mansell, Youngstown Vindicator; Pete Smaltz and Herbert Eymann, Sharon Herald; Gerald Harshman, Sharon News-Telegraph; and Bart Richards and Fred Rentz, New Castle News. Dr. R. F. Galbreath and Mr. W. A. Johns will represent the college as guests of the fraternity.

Tau Gamma Delta members who will be initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon are: Paul McMinn, Charles Branfield, Maurice Michmerhuizen, Robert N. Jones, Robert V. Jones, James McGeorge, Kenneth Mehl, Alan Van Harper, and Harold Polonus. Prof. R. X. Graham, faculty advisor of Tau Gamma Delta, a member of the Colgate University chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, will assist in the installation ceremonies.

"Quadrangle" Completes Organization And Elects Officers For The Year

"Quadrangle", the newly organized non-sorority group of the college, was entertained at tea in Browne Hall by Mrs. E. H. Freeman, last Friday afternoon, February 16. During the business meeting which preceded the social hour, the name of the organization was chosen, and the following officers elected: President, Nellie Kudelko; Vice President, Rosanne Boor; Secretary, Eva Reid; Treasurer, Alice Freeman; Publicity Director, Ann Kendlehart.

Plans for the Mothers' Day luncheon to be held at the Tavern are under the direction of Nellie Kudelko, Ann Kendlehart, Mary Louise Jenkins, and Altha McCartney. These arrangements will be discussed more fully at the business meeting to be held in connection with a tea which Mrs. W. W. Campbell is giving for the organization at her home on West Neshannock Avenue this afternoon.

To Present Play

On March 9 the play, "For Distinguished Service" will be presented at Canton, Ohio before the representatives of several United Presbyterian colleges. Jane Chester, Katherine Lynch, and Dorothy Johnston forming the cast.

Journalism Day Planned For College

Plans are underway for a "Journalism Day" to be held sometime in April, when newspapermen and printers of the district will be invited to the campus to listen to some prominent man in the journalistic world.

The program will be sponsored by Phi Delta Epsilon and The Holcad, and will be presented as a number on the Lecture Course, Prof. Ben Euwema announces.

Newspapermen from New Castle, Sharon, Middleville, Greenville, Mercer, Beaver Falls, Beaver, Monaca, Rochester, Ellwood City, Franklin, Oil City, Bradford, Warren, Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Cleveland, and other cities in the district will be invited to attend.

Following a program in the afternoon the visitors will be tendered a dinner in the Hillside dining rooms.

Prof. Ben Euwema, Prof. R. X. Graham, and Harold Polonus are in charge of arrangements.

Student Council Plans For Dance

The members of the Student Council will hold a dance on Mother's Day March 3, in the college gym. Admission will be seventy-five cents a couple. Arrangements for the dance are being made by the committee in charge—Don Kellett, Lillian Baird and Isabel Reed.

This is the first dance given by the Student Council and promises to be one of the many outstanding dances of the year. The proceeds will go for the library fund.

Women's Debate Teams Successful In Meet With Slippery Rock

Two victories were gained by the Women's debate teams last Friday evening when they defeated the Slippery Rock Women's teams in a dual meet. The question used was, "Resolved, that the Powers of the President Should Be Substantially Increased as a Settled Policy." Speakers for Westminster were: at Westminster, Myra Cone, Helen Dornhoefer, and Ann Boyer; at Slippery Rock, Virginia Booth, Marjorie Scott, and Ann Kendlehart. The negative teams travelled.

Y. W. C. A. To Elect Officers Wednesday

Officers of the Young Women's Christian Association for the coming year will be elected next Wednesday evening, February 28, at the regular meeting of the association in the Hillside parlors.

Those who have been nominated for the various offices are: president, Martha Hazlett and Mildred Ralston (second highest will be the vice-president); secretary, Betty McCrory and McClees Murray; and treasurer, Martha Byers and Evelyn Wilson.

A beautiful program of musical selections was presented Wednesday evening in the Hillside parlors as a part of the weekly meeting of the Y. charge.

The program included an Indian vocal selection "Land of Sky Blue Waters", Cadman by Martha Goodwin; a group of negro selections "Juba Dance", Nathaniel Dett a piano number by Josephine Rymer and two vocal numbers, "Water Boy", Robinson, by Florence Merritt and "Old Man River," Jerome Kern, by McClees Murray.

The group of American selections included vocal selection by Bernice Turner and Emerlec Woodside and a piano selection by Katherine Achert. Miss Turner sang E. Nevin's "Rosary" and Miss Woodside, McDowell's "To A Water Lily." Miss Achert played "Melody in G flat" by Cadman.

The program was completed with two selections by the trio, Charlotte Melhorn, Dorothy Patch and Margaret Weber. They sang "Carry Me Long" by Foster and "Old King Cole" by Nevin.

EDUCATION'S NEW DEAL

Publication last week of a faculty committee proposal for revision of the college curriculum brings a number of reactions.

First: Whether this plan or any other similar plan is best does not matter. Certainly, something should be done.

Second: After many colleges have adopted new plans, it is not advisable to argue that Westminster should follow the others merely for the sake of following.

Third: No program is good merely because it is old, nor bad merely because it is new. Neither are new things to be adopted merely for the sake of claiming novelty.

Fourth: With new deals marking government, business, social life, and every phase of human activity, it is a good time to have new deals in education.

The suggestions of the committee are in accord with Holcad editorial policy in many respects. Earlier editorials during the year, some of which brought forth criticism of alumni and faculty members, seemed to suggest that the failure of students to pass work in college was the fault of the faculty. This, it appears, was a wrong conception. The mailing of "white cards" to so large a number of students indicates clearly that some should attend college and some should not.

The faculty committee memorandum points out that entrance requirements would be made more difficult. This would help to solve the problem of poor scholarship on the part of many students. With this solution would naturally follow better scholarship on the part of students, because the poorer students would not be present to handicap either instructors or good students.

A study of the suggested reorganization of the curriculum and policy of Westminster indicates further that the proposed plan is not a duplicate of any other yet adopted elsewhere. It follows in certain respects the newer tendencies of higher education, but does not imitate any one. It seems, at least in the main, to be adapted to Westminster.

It does not discard traditional studies merely because they are old, nor does it introduce fads and fancies. The old studies are given new emphasis and new content, hence, possibly, new interest to students. Departmental separation, a recent tendency in many small colleges, is eliminated, and natural divisions of fields of study are in place of artificial divisions. Knowledge is a seamless garment. Merely cutting the cloth into separate pieces does not improve the garment, even when these pieces are sewed together with institutional thread.

College has always been, theoretically, a place of experiment. Science is not the only study that would arrive nowhere without experimentation. It is a rather humorous commentary on college organization that very little experimentation has been done in institutions with reference to curricula. Perhaps it is partly due to inertia, partly due to laziness on the part of instructors, and partly due to a conviction that what is and what has been is best.

The Holcad, together with the Student Council and the general student body, is young enough to admire the progressive sweep of the new plan. Every minute detail of the suggested program may not be acceptable. The main idea of the proposal, however, is good.

Intercollegiate Notes

Driven from Manchuria, students and faculty of the old Northwestern University of Mukden have started classes in the vicinity of Peiping. According to Japan their agitation "does not promote friendship."

The University of Rangoon crew in Burma has a shell shipped from England. Although they average only 140 pounds per man, the Burmese "varsity" speeds it through the water with expert precision. Their only difficulty is in finding another crew to race.

"There is nothing like a strike to dodge examinations," say Chinese students. They have used it so often that administrations now take special care to see that there are no grounds for friction between faculty and students immediately preceding the examinations.

Professors at Mills College, California, defend the slang of undergraduates as a technical college language.

J. H. Dennis, 70, city claim agent, is giving up his job in order to enter the University of Manitoba, Canada, as a freshman next week.

Students in an English class at Oklahoma A. & M. College are fined one cent every time they misspell a word. The fund derived from this source is used to pay for an annual banquet of the class.

The University of Hawaii offers honor students at many coast colleges free tuition and transportation on a basis of reciprocity.

American authors, states Dr. John Ransom, professor of English at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, have the brains and ability to become great writers, but they work too fast and are too slipshod.

Universities in Russia are enmeshed in the whole system of adult education and include in addition to theory, practical work in the fields and factories during vacations.

HOLCAD CRITICISM COUPON

Because the Holcad has launched forth upon what it has considered a constructive policy for Westminster College, which has brought forth several indirect criticisms to the editorial board, members of the student body, faculty, and alumni are asked to fill in the questions asked below and to mail or leave the slips in the Holcad office, Room 212, Old Main Memorial.

In what page order do you read the Holcad?

Do you read the editorials?

Are you in favor of the present policy of the editorial writers?

Should the writers keep their editorials savored with the idea that Westminster has a fine band or is a fine college or should they follow the utterance of Charles A. Dana which appears at the top of the editorial page?

Do you read the advertisements?

What is your opinion of Holcadabra?

Do you think the paper shows any improvement over papers of preceding years?

Do you like the appearance of the Holcad?

What percentage of the news appearing in the Holcad is old before the paper reaches you?

What criticisms do you have of the paper in general?

Told to the Managing Editor of the Holcad, concerning the one year old Robert Noel Euwema, it goes something like this: Upon the sight of the Holcad, Baby Euwema takes it in his little hands and, crushing it, drops it in the wastebasket. The Sears Roebuck catalogue rates the same treatment, and is deposited along side of this publication. (Thanks, Euwema!) He thoughtfully leafs through the New York Times, and peruses it with utmost concern. ## U. S. Membership In League Is Holcad Urge

Would it be an aid to international peace in these troublous times were the world informed upon what terms the United States would join the League of Nations?

Should there be an official American representative at Geneva to participate in League deliberations while the United States is not a League member?

Students in some 750 colleges are being called on to answer these questions in the affirmative. That is, a petition asking for these two actions as important to the cause of peace is being circulated in 750 colleges under sponsorship of the Intercollegiate Council on International Cooperation.

James F. Green, now a student at Yale, and well-known for the speech he made before the World Disarmament Conference at Geneva, is Chairman of the Council.

The Council urges "that the United States reinforce the League's efforts to peace by stating the terms under which full membership would be possible; and by appointing a representative to the League of Nations to participate in its deliberations."

Those who are promoting the petition declare it to be "realistic." It is, they insist, one of those movements that ask much in hope of getting a little; but rather than what is conditioned for can and should be done at once. They believe these steps would be peculiarly in harmony with President Roosevelt's policy as set forth in his Woodrow Wilson Anniversary Dinner last December. President Roosevelt's declaration was: "We are giving co-operation to the League in every matter which is not primarily political and every matter which obviously represents the views and the good of the peoples of the world, as distinguished from the views and the good of political leaders, or privileged classes or of imperialistic aims."

Such co-operation could be carried on far more effectively, friends of the petition believe, if American representation at Geneva were "regularized." A vast number of peace advocates are convinced that if world disaster is to be averted the United States and Russia must come into the League. Much is being said both in this country and abroad about revising the League Covenant to make it acceptable to these two important world powers. It would go a long way toward clarifying a dangerously confused situation, say the peace advocates, if the United States would state under what terms she would join the League.

The petition which was initiated by the League of Nations Association, with headquarters at 6 East 39th Street, New York, has the active support of a large number of national organizations. It is expected that at least one million Americans will sign. The preamble declares:

"We, citizens of the United States, Anxious to avoid war and organize peace in which prosperity can thrive, Believing that the collective system of the world community which includes the Kellogg-Brand Pact (Pact of Paris) to which the United States is a party, and the League of Nations, can best prevent war, Mindful of the fact that the United States is participating in many activities of the League of Nations, Aware that without the privilege of membership in League the United States is placed at a disadvantage, and the moral integrity of the world community is weakened, * * *

OMICRON MU GAMMA

Omicron Mu Gamma will hold a luncheon on Mothers' Day at the Gables in New Castle.

Omicron Mu Gamma was in charge of the Y.W.C.A. services at Hillside, Wednesday evening. Those participating in the program which was the history of the development of American music were Martha Goodwin, Florence Marriott, McClees Murray, Bernice Turner, Kathryn Achert, Josephine Rymer, Elmerle Woodside, Ethel Denniston, Dorothy Patch, Margaret Weber, and Edith Carson.

Omicron Mu Gamma announces the pledging of Ruth Stewart, a voice major.

Mary Jane Stunkard, '33, has recently been put in charge of Public School Music in the Washington County schools.

Mrs. J. A. Swindler and Mrs. Mary Coventry attended as guests of the sorority.

Target To Distribute Mother's Day Invitations

Target, women's honorary activities fraternity, will be in charge of the sale of Mother's Day invitations for March 3. They will distribute the cards to the various sororities and fraternities that desire them.

Post-Mortems

Thanks goes to Hy Cohen and Frank Carver of Pitt for their assistance in checking the Pitt players at the start of the fray. Prof. Graham came in handy at the half when he took the wire while Polonus hit for the water pail.

Two Westminster co-eds certainly are grateful to Dr. Carlson for the fine attention he paid them. The girls, Mary Stanier and Lucille Amendola, missed their ride back to New Wilmington and were marooned at the Pitt Stadium. Carlson saw them, learned of their difficulty and promptly became a good Samaritan.

He took them to the Pitt victory banquet at Webster Hall hotel after the game and then drove them to Springdale, Pa., Miss Stanier's home. The two Westminster co-eds and Mrs. Carlson were the only ladies present at the celebration.

And so, our hats go off to Dr. Carlson, fine coach and a gentleman through and through.

Pitt was not the only team to have a banquet after the game. The Westminster boys were the guests of the Harmony Short Line at a spread at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Before the game, the team received a surprise when "Wimpy" Criner, the Titan's favorite chauffeur of the Harmony Line pulled into the Webster Hall to drive the boys to the stadium. Criner came off his run from Oil City and drove directly to the hotel in order to be with "his boys". The bus driver who drove the boys to Pittsburgh was sent back to New Wilmington to haul a load of students.

And may the Pitt-Westminster rivalry continue!

And, as a prof, fresh from a faculty meeting, once said, "I'm a fugitive from the chin gang."

Day, March 3, in the college gymnasium at two o'clock.

Tentative plans include two basketball games, comedy boxing, wrestling, tumbling, water polo, and an aquatic exhibition. Students have been working out daily in preparation for the program which will hold the spotlights during the afternoon.

Swimming stunts will consist of novelty diving, fancy diving, exhibition swimming, comedy diving, and a water polo game between the freshman and sophomores. Last year this feature proved to be one of the most attractive activities of the afternoon and it is certain to draw a large crowd this year.

Hulme will have members of the intramural department and students interested in athletics assisting him in preparing this entertaining feature of Mother's Day. As yet no definite selections have been announced, but within the next few days the full program will be completed.

Titans Travel To Edinboro and Beaver Falls

Geneva Game Deciding In Conference Race

By Don Kellett

Smarting under the clawing received at the hands of the Pitt Panthers, John Lawther's Titans take the road for the next two games meeting Edinboro tomorrow night and the Geneva Covenanters next Thursday. With the confidence of the Blue and White considerably shaken by the setback at the Pitt Pavilion, these two games loom uncertainly on the horizon. While neither of these fives seriously bothered the Titans at New Wilmington, both aggregations are to be regarded as dangerous opponents on their home courts.

Upset Dope Last Year

It will be remembered that Edinboro pulled a surprise last season when they took the Titans into camp at the first meeting of the two teams. Although this defeat was accomplished when the guiding hand of Coach Lawther was absent, the teachers will undoubtedly have plenty of spirit when they try to prove that history repeats itself. "Socks" Harrison's Crimson five was by no means a setup this season, it will also be recalled. With Cohen and Palmquist leading the way, the Edinboro quint made the 41-31 victory for the Presbyterians none too impressive.

Geneva Vows Vengeance

The Beaver Falls encounter is still more doubtful. Although Westminster thoroughly trounced Geneva at their last meeting by the tremendous margin of 37 points, Coach Penny Loeffler emphatically states that there shall be no such exhibition at the High School Gym in Beaver Falls. However decisively the score of the previous encounter seems to favor the Titans with overwhelming odds, the fact remains that Geneva has recovered sufficiently to thoroughly outplay Bethany and Carnegie Tech by wide margins.

Newcomers Seasoned

The Loeffler combination, utilizing several green men, has been clicking along with considerable precision in recent games. Both Pennybaker and Pittell, the two most recent additions to the Covenanter fold, have received valuable experience at the hands of Westminster, and the veteran Art Grahame and Ginsberg have long been thorns in the side of the Titans. At the last meeting of the two quintets, Geneva sprang a defense designed to check Wes Bennett almost exclusively. To accomplish this, they deserted their very efficient man-for-man defense and with but a single man to guard the front line, the white-clad guards demoralized the visiting five with accurate long throws. This discouragement at the beginning of the game was an important factor in the ragged play of Geneva for the remainder of the contest. Next Thursday night will probably see an entirely different performance by the Covenanters. Always formidable on their home court, the buff and gray team will extend the Titans considerably with a desperate bid for a share in conference honors.

Victories Over Bethany, Waynesburg Marked Up

Winning victories over Waynesburg and Bethany on the trip taken last week, the Titans have held their place at the top of the Tri-State conference.

The Westminster team defeated Waynesburg last Friday night on the Jacket floor by a 45-31 count. Leyshock led the scoring for the Titans with five field goals and two free throws for a total of 12 points. Janosik, Jacket forward, accounted for 15 points, making seven field goals and one foul shot.

Pitt Post-Mortems

Pitt had the better team last Wednesday night and they won. Our hats are off to those fighting players of Dr. Carlson.

We were especially interested in the relative work of Cribbs and Bennett, opposing centers. The tip-off situation seemed to about even as each team was in possession of the ball about the same number of times following the toss-ups.

Cribbs is some ball player. In fact, Pitt can be proud of its entire squad.

Sweeney seemed to be all over the floor at the same time. After going down once in a scramble for the ball, he lifted himself up with one of the Pitt players draped gracefully around his neck.

Post-mortems always bring out the "ifs" of a basketball game. So we state that if the officials had watched both teams more closely, the tally would have been different.

The game was fast and rough. Both teams committed fouls by the dozen, but Pitt was by far the worst offender. Several times there were so many Pitt boys riding a Westminster man to the floor that it looked like a football game.

Pitt students are given the most undesirable seats in the house. Wouldn't such a system at Westminster raise a howl from the student body? Here, we are given the choicest in the gymnasium.

Polonus kept the leased wire hot between Pittsburgh and New Wilmington with his vivid play-by-play account of the game. People who heard the account of the game at the New Wilmington gym ranked Polonus along with the professionals in broadcasting.

It was amusing to watch him make his hookup at Pitt. He had to take an outfit down from New Wilmington and hook up to the wire after his arrival at the Stadium.

Pitt Defeats Titans Breaking Victory String

Breaking a string of 12 victories and taking away hopes of a district championship for the Westminster Titans, "Doc" Carlson put his Panther five on top of the world Wednesday by his 32-26 victory over the Douglass clan.

Lawther's team was ahead at the half with the score at 16-11, but fourteen minutes of the second half passed while the Titans only counted for one point. The fast breaking offense of the Panthers began to click and brought them on top of a 28-17 score in short order. The next eight points belonged to the Titans, however, bringing the game back on an interesting footing and the score 28-25. But the game was nearly over and free throws by Cribbs and McCannant and a bucket by Ochsenhirt brought the Pitt ante up to 32 while a foul shot for Westminster gave the Titans a score of 26.

Sweeney was outstanding for the Titans sharing team scoring honors with Bennett each having eight points. Ochsenhirt scored 12 points for Pitt and Cribbs accounted for 11 playing a nice defensive game as well.

Experienced Team Presented By Delts In League Games

By Dick Nelson

With the intra-mural basketball season more than half over the Delts are leading the A league by a good margin, and unless something unexpected arises they will probably be crowned champions of the circuit once again.

This fraternity team is composed of experienced players; they are fast, consistent and their passwork is hard to beat.

In "Coe" Kennedy this team possesses probably the best center in the loop. "Coe" played high school basketball and for a year and a half was with Girard College in Philadelphia. This is his fourth year of inter-fraternity play and is leading the individual scoring of Jack Hultme's league.

"Bunny" Austen, a guard, played varsity basketball at Etna High School for two years and is in his second year of intra-mural play.

"Ace" Kennedy, who plays either at the forward post or guard, hails from Wheaton, Illinois, where he was captain of his high school team. He played varsity for two years. This is his second season as a member of the Delt team.

"Skip" Simpson, the Delt's flashy forward, played varsity ball at Saltsburgh, Pa., for three years and is in his third year of inter-fraternity play. At the present time he is the second highest scorer in the league.

"Art" Brownell, a Freshman, plays regularly at forward. He played three years of basketball at Shaker Heights High School in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Wib" Paterson is undoubtedly the best guard in the loop and is in his fourth year of inter-fraternity competition. He played a year on the varsity of Chaney High School in Youngstown, Ohio.

"Bob" Scarbrough, who capably fills a guard post, is in his second season of inter-fraternity ball. "Bob" was for three years on the varsity of the high school team at McDonald, Pa.

The Delt outfit is coached by Ray Southard, who played for a year in Freeport, L. I. and was on the varsity squad here for two years.

Titans Defeat Allegheny In Return Game, 45-10

Allegheny came to Westminster Monday night for the return game with the Titans and were defeated 45-10. The entire Westminster squad was seen in action for the first time this season. Out of the 16 men used nine scored points. Douglass was high point man with 11 points and Willis rang up four field goals and a foul shot for nine points.

The Woman's Athletic Association of the college will sponsor a college Play Day to be held on the campus February 24. Miss Love, of the physical education department, announces that Geneva, Grove City, and Thiel colleges will each send six girls, outstanding in athletics in their respective schools, to take part in the scheduled events.

Lola Sewall, president of the W. A. A. at Westminster, is chairman of the general committee. Assisting her are: Virginia Booth, Pat Jones, Emma Belle McKnight, and Elizabeth St-basket.

A basketball tournament is the main event of the day, will be deposited two and continue until four o'clock. Isabelle McKnight is in charge of all activities in the gym and will act as referee. Girls from Westminster who have been chosen to play are: Virgil Wettich, Jane Holland, Haays, rielt Jackson, Dorothy Young, Virginia Luckhardt, and Elizabeth Co. Martha Byers and Aileen Somers will keep time and score in the two games, and be replaced by Miller and Evelyn Judson, who officiate in the last two contests.

Members of W. A. A. and the M. maid Club who will lead the program in the swimming pool are Elizabeth McCrory, Mildred Ralston, Comfort Spelman, Elizabeth Morrow, Mary Morrow, and Altha McCartney.

The reception committee will consist of Jean Semple, Jean Jaxthe, Florence Heintz, and Sarah B. Jane Smiley, Marie Nevin, Boalles, and Nancy Litman will be in the check room and assist in registration.

Following the activities in the gym, a buffet supper will be served to W. A. A. members and visiting guests. Virginia Booth, with Marjorie Scott, Virginia Rumbaugh, Evelyn Means, and Mary Jane Dickson will have charge of the buffet supper.

The schedule, as now planned, is as follows:

Saturday, February 24

2:00	Basketball I Red vs. Green
2:30	II Blue vs. Orange
3:00	Losers of I and II
3:30	Winners of I and II
4:00	Swimming
5:00	Buffet Supper at Browne Hall

Ping Pong will be in play during all of the afternoon.

Seventy-Seven On Honor Roll First Semester

Students on the honor roll for the first semester ending in February, number seventy-seven, according to figures received from Miss Isabel Ramsey, college registrar. Of these, 35 were freshmen, 17 were sophomores, 18 were juniors, and seven were seniors.

Four students made straight "A" averages for the semester. They were: Wilbur Christy, senior; Emily Parker, senior; Theresa Burgoon, junior; and Virginia Booth, freshman.

Other seniors on the honor roll were: Josephine Rymer; Helen Whieldon, Robert N. Jones, Jean Miller, and Alton Kloss.

Juniors who won places in the honor group were: Julius Bloom, Lola Sewall, Paul McKnight, James Brenner, Frank Baldwin, Jacob Cambotti, Lillian Baird.

Melvin Moorhouse, Patricia Jones, Alfred Barnes, Charles Hayden, Martha Holliday, Mabel Masters, Mary Carlton Wright, Edgar Allshouse, William Braden, and Henry Lawton.

Sophomores on the honor roll include John Gerstner, Comfort Spellman, Anna Kendlehart, Virginia Luckhardt, Annette Bach, Mary E. Morrow, Mary Frances Fleming, Chauncey McGeorge, Elsie Gage.

Albert Koper, Ruth Clark, Robert Lowndes, Jane Holland, Jane Veazey, Richard Reniers, Marjorie Scott, and Lucille Nevins.

Freshmen on the honor roll are: Lois McGill, John Leisher, William Shira, Marie White, Cecil Bowles, Graham Carter, Mary Jane Dickson, Ruth Fulton, Robert Grier.

Laura Elizabeth Stranahan, Martha Brookhauser, Rose Ann Boor, Earl Johnson, Margaret Eversole, Virginia Mack, Robert Ralston, Mildred Thomas.

Elmerle Woodside, Albert B. Smith, Doris Bandlow, Helen Barch, Mary Louise Jenkins, Ruth Schenbly, James Ewalt, Mary Jane Metzler.

Paul Oberster, Miles Anderson, Elizabeth Charles, Douglas Smiley, Ethel Anderson, Maxine Jacobs, Ruth Johnson, George Herchenroether, and Marguerite Yates.

Associate In Beebe Research To Give Illustrated Lecture

Gloria Hollister, naturalist and zoologist, will appear as the next lecture course number in the college chapel, Thursday, March 15, when she will present an illustrated lecture, "With Beebe in Bermuda".

Miss Hollister is technical associate to Dr. William Beebe and has made many valuable contributions to the success of his Bermuda expedition. Her lecture will deal with her experiences on this trip and will be supplemented with undersea motion pictures.

One of the experiences which she will describe is her undersea diving, for which she holds the women's record.

Quadrangle Entertains Mothers At Luncheon

Fifty-four members, mothers, and friends were entertained at the Quadrangle Mother's Day luncheon at the Tavern last Saturday. Favors for the mothers were corsages of roses and heather. The luncheon was planned by Nellie Kudelko, Ann Kendlehart, Mary Louise Jenkins, and Altha McCartney.

Arrangements for a dinner-dance to be held later in the spring were partially completed at a meeting held Friday, March 2. All women who are not members of sororities are invited to participate in the activities of the group. The next meeting will be held this afternoon, March 9, at the home of Jane Downie on Market street.

Honor Student

EMILY PARKER

Emily Parker proved herself worthy of membership in Target, honorary scholastic sorority, when she attained a perfect average of "A" for first semester work.

Little Theatre Group To Stage Second Long Play

Preparations for final rehearsals are being made for Jerome K. Jerome's "Passing of the Third Floor Back", the second long play of the year, which will be staged in the Community hall Friday and Saturday evenings, March 16 and 17.

The action of the play centers about life in a rooming house, and the changes in the varied characters brought about by the influence of the Stranger. Much of the effectiveness of the drama is made by the contrast shown in the characters as they appear in the first act and the final scene of the play.

Several important changes have been made in the cast. Don Mechling who was originally cast in the role of Joey Wright, has been given the leading role of the Stranger. David Purnell will replace him in the part of Joey Wright. The revised cast is as follows:

Mrs. Sharpe, Helen McLaughry; Stasia, Jane Chester; Miss Kite, Isabel Mackey; Mrs. Tompkins, Margaret Shaw; Mrs. Percival de Hooley, Olive Pope; Major Tompkins, William Neeley; Vivian Tompkins, Helen Towner; Joey Wright, David Purnell; Christopher Penny, Ivan Yahn; Jape Samuels, Avalon Le Monte; Harry Larkcom, Richard Morris; the Stranger, Don Mechling.

F.E.R.A. Jobs Assigned To Twenty Students

Plans for employing the students of Westminster college under the part-time job program of the Federal Emergency Relief Board are moving forward rapidly.

Approximately twenty students have already been assigned jobs, and additional students are being employed daily.

There has been some delay in organizing the employment of women students, in connection with the library program. This is due partly to the lack of librarians for supervising the work.

Men students, under this same program, are employed in weather-stripping the windows of Hillside, and in performing jobs about the campus.

Faculty Dinner

The faculty is having a dinner at Hillside Monday evening, March 12 at seven o'clock. Mrs. E. B. Russell, chairman of the social committee for the occasion, announces that it will be a tureen dinner.

Nine Objectives In New Self- Governing Plan

Aware of the limitations of the present system of regulations governing women students, the Campus Committee is endeavoring, through cooperation of all women students on the campus, to effect a new self-governing plan.

Activities in this direction, started this week, include nine aims of such self-government, group discussions of such organization in the various dormitories and dormitory houses, and conferences with college officials concerning such possibility.

Rather than have one or two leaders in the project, the campus Committee has deemed it wise to consult every woman student, to pool ideas, and to emphasize the general rather than the individual need of self-government.

The nine aims of the new movement, approved by Dean Mary E. Turner, are:

1. To abide by the ideals and standards of Westminster College.
2. To set up a new book of rules suggested by and satisfactory to the women students and officially passed by the administration.
3. To inspire wholesome, cultural living in dormitory life.
4. To create a responsibility within each girl to foster Westminster standards and ideals, and to assist others in doing so by reporting all violations of the same to the women's governing body.
5. To shift the problems and responsibilities of women's government from the hands of the administration to those of the women students.
6. To promote higher ideals in college life.
7. To develop individuality, originality, and leadership in each woman student.
8. To correct all forms of misconduct in dormitory life, and to deal out penalties justly through "trial by jury."
9. To establish on the campus a feeling of cooperation and enthusiasm.

Manager Chosen For Style Review

Plans for the style show to be sponsored by Target, women's honorary fraternity, on Wednesday, March 14, are nearing completion. Two showings have been scheduled for the evening, the first to be at 7:30, the second at 9:00, in the Little Theatre.

Mannequins for the modeling have been selected and include: Anne Thomas, Mildred Renshaw, Grace Bell, Kay Hitler, Mae Smyth, Ruth Forsman, and Josephine McGoun. The styles will include outfits for sports, daytime, and for evening.

Tickets, which will be ten cents each, are now on sale and may be purchased from Lillian Baird, Ruth Martin, Ruth Russell, Dorothy Young, Lucille Litman, or Josephine McGoun.

The proceeds from the event will go to the library fund.

Growing Fund For Library Project

After a period of two weeks, the Student Council library fund has reached a total of $139.

Of this amount, $25 was given as the initial gift by the Women's Club of Aliquippa; the student council added $69, proceeds from dances sponsored during the year; $40 cleared at the N. R. A. party was contributed to the fund; and a personal gift of five dollars was donated by Miss Laura Turner.

Professor C. R. Rankin, secretary-treasurer of the fund has requested that all contributions be turned over to Elmer Meider, president of the Student Council, to facilitate a more accurate check on the total sum.

"Stasia"

JANE CHESTER

Jane Chester, a member of Masquers, honorary dramatic fraternity, has earned through her exceptional acting a role in another of the Little Theatre plays.

Debate Squads Will Meet Six Colleges During Week's Tour

Eight members of the debate squad will leave Wednesday, March 14 for a week's trip through Pennsylvania, Maryland, and the District of Columbia, during which time they will meet six colleges in debate.

The women's team will take part in four debates, all of which will be decision meets; while the men will debate six times, with no decision rendered in two of the meets.

Those who will make the trip are Wilbur Christy, Charles Brown, Melvin Moorhouse, Fred Luderer, Marjorie Scott, Helen Dornhoeffer, Myra Cohn, and Virginia Booth.

They will be accompanied by the debate coach, Mr. A. J. Tener and Mrs. A. T. Cordray, who will chaperon the group.

The colleges which will be visited are: Pennsylvania State college, Lebanon Valley, Temple university, Western Maryland college, Gettysburg, and St. Francis.

N.R.A. Party Attracts Students and Faculty

About 175 people were present at the N. R. A. Fair held at the Neshannock Lodge, Tuesday evening, March 6. The undertaking was a very successful one and netted $40 for the Student Council Library Fund.

Of the numerous diversions offered for the evening, "Bingo" proved to be the most popular. Harold Polonus won first prize in this competition, and proved his abilities as the "champion bingo player of the school". Russell Sewall, being second best, walked away with the next prize.

The movies and fortune telling booths were next in popularity, and it took considerable ingenuity on the part of the young lady in charge of the latter booth, to keep her professional line moving.

A cake was auctioned off at the close of the evening. This grand prize brought 61 cents and went to Chester Miller, the highest bidder.

Funeral Services Held For College Trustee

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, March 5, for Thomas J. Gillespie, 86, who died at his home in Pittsburgh, Friday March 2, after a long illness.

Mr. Gillespie served for many years as a trustee of the college and was an outstanding member of the United Presbyterian Church, engaging in many religious activities.

Cadet Teachers To Spend Month In High Schools

Professor John D. Lawther, head of the department of psychology and education, announces that forty-six members of the senior class are spending this month as cadet teachers in high schools of this section, and that nine others have already completed their practice teaching. Of this number, 25 are in New Castle schools, 10 in Sharon, three in Farrell, one in Brookfield, five in New Wilmington, one in Sharpsville, and one in Ellwood City.

Julia Jordan, Ben Franklin, English; Alvin Van Harper, Ben Franklin, English; James Jacobsen, Ben Franklin, social studies; Evelyn Judson, Geo. Washington, biology; Cromwell Ketterer, Ben Franklin, social studies; Isabelle Kildoo, Senior high, German; Joseph Lockley, Senior high, English; Thomas McClure, Ben Franklin, social studies.

Proceeds Of Pan- Hellenic Dance To Go To Library Fund

Members of the college will be guests of the women at the annual Pan-Hellenic dance to be held tomorrow from 8:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. in the college gymnasium.

The "Allegheanians" have been engaged to furnish music and it has been announced that proceeds will be donated to the library fund.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are: Dorothy Isaho, general chairman; Ethel Deniston, advertising; Lillian Baird, decorations; Lola Sewall, tickets; and Helen Snyder, chaperons.

Deaf Mary E. Turner, Miss Ada Peabody, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, and patrons of fraternities and societies, on the campus, have been invited to act as chaperons.

Chapel Hour To Feature Glee Club and Octet

A program by the Glee Club and the women's octet will be featured at the college chapel on Sabbath evening, March 18. The Glee Club of fifty-five voices will sing "Fairest Lord Jesus", a Silesian Folk song arranged by H. W. Loomis; "Ave Maria" by Jacob Arcadelt, and "Legend" by Tschaiakowsky. "O Bread of Life" by Cesar Franck, and "A Vesper Hymn" by Protherol will be offered by the octet.

Members of the octet are Marion Werner and Dorothy Patch, first sopranos; Esther Dinsmore and Sadie Mae Foltz, second sopranos; Rose Ann Boor and Jane Gilmore, first altos; and Comfort Spellman and Ruth Stewart, second altos.

WOMEN'S SELF-GOVERNMENT

Laudable and extremely timely is the effort of the women of the campus to effect a self-governing association. The Holcad views with favor this latest movement to place responsibility upon the shoulders of students. Some few bits of advice, however, should be given.

The women should not allow themselves to be fooled. College officials often make Indian gifts, feeling at liberty to withdraw them on the least provocation. This is not any more true at Westminster than elsewhere, but is never the-less true.

Westminster women should not try to reach the ideal self-government overnight. Time is needed to plan and complete such an organization.
But once organized there should be no hesitancy in changing any features of the organization which do not seem effective and suitable. Often an organization believes it to be an evidence of increasing wisdom to make changes as circumstances require.

Rules and regulations governing women students should, of course, be codified by the women themselves. The very fact that such regulations are made by the students should mean that they be observed more readily than if handed down by the faculty. But even rules and regulations need to be changed from year to year, so no longtime agreement on such should be planned. Suit the rules to the times and the conditions.

Self-government, as the words imply, mean that first of all each student will govern herself.
If this is done, there will be little need for enforcement officers. The only self-government, as someone has observed, is that which teaches people to govern themselves. Hence the women's self-government plan should be human, liberal, sensible, and in keeping with the age.

Congratulations, women students, on your efforts to organize for the happiness, contentment, and welfare of yourselves. Congratulations, also, in recognizing obligations to the college as well as to one another. And congratulations to officials far-sighted enough to agree with your plans.

THE LIBRARY DRIVE

Labor, in any laudable endeavor, is, we learn, first rewarded by hope, and then by con-sumation. This should encourage every Westminster organization which, under the sponsoriship of the Student Council, has so far aided in the drive for a new library.

To the unimaginative, the accumulation of small sums of money for an enterprise which will cost thousands may seem somewhat foolish. To the creative dreamers such an accumulation will mean the constantly increasing speed achieved along a long road.

Another excellent feature about the interest of many student organizations in a new library is that alumni and friends of the college, seeing this activity, will themselves become more interested in the project. It is even possible that some people with means will see fit to add substantial sums to the total.

If every campus organization, including sororities, fraternities, dormitories, societies, and governing bodies could raise only $25 toward the library fund, the total amount thus realized would be $750 for this semester. This is not a large percentage of the total money needed, but such an amount would serve as an inspiration to alumni, board members, and friends. It would indicate clearly that the students of Westminster are planning to do everything in their power to get a new library building.

The drive started by the Student Council also suggests one more thing: Regardless of claims and counter-claims, a library building is the first and paramount need of the college. No other structure is needed half so much. Let's all get together and put this idea across to the world.

ANOTHER CHAMPIONSHIP

Winning all games played in the Tri-State Conference basketball race this year, Coach John Lawther's Westminster team not only set up a league record, but also achieved the distinction of winning six championships and two second places in eight seasons.

This continued success of the Titans, regardless of noise heard from the district soreheads, is due to good coaching, clean playing, teamwork.
There have been few if any all-scholastic stars on Westminster squads. No state championship high school players have graced the Titans squads. Few if any large city and much-heralded players have been on the teams.

We are proud of the clean playing of the team which has brought flattering letters from large colleges and small, from alumni, and from the general public and the press. We are, of course, glad that the players have been out to win. We should not care to see them play a game if they were not trying to win. We are glad, though, that in winning they have been gentlemen. And, on the few occasions when they have lost, we have been glad that they have had no alibis and that they have still been good sports.

Congratulations, Titans, A great team and a great coach.

Coe College sophomores do not believe that a co-ed's appearance is enhanced by use of lipstick and nail polish, they admitted in a recent survey.

"Enarch" is the name of the new society founded by University of Minnesota engineers, architects, and chemists.

HOLCAD

CRITICISM COUPON

Because the Holcad has launched forth upon what it has considered a constructive policy for Westminster College, which has brought several indirect criticisms to the editorial board, members of the student body, faculty, and alumni are asked to fill in the questions asked below and to mail or leave the slips in the Holcad office, Room 212, Old Main Memorial.

In what page order do you read the Holcad?

Do you read the editorials?

Are you in favor of the present policy of the editorial writers?

Should the writers keep their editorials savored with the idea that Westminster has a fine band or is a fine college or should they follow the utterance of Charles A. Dana which appears at the top of the editorial page?

Do you read the advertisements?

What is your opinion of Holcadabra?

Do you think the paper shows any improvement over papers of preceding years?

Do you like the appearance of the Holcad?

NRA FAIR NOTES

Westminster society attended the gala Neshannock Lodge Fair Tuesday night, given in behalf of the Library fund. A considerable amount was netted for the fund and the girls in charge of the affair must be commended for their cleverness and school spirit.

We particularly liked the rogues gallery, also the movies... wasn't the "Kiss in the Dark" popular, though?... No one who entered would tell what happened behind the mystic portal, which only goes to prove the truth of the old adage that one "sucker" likes to see another
... oh, yes, we tried it too... reports from the infirmary say that the participants in the swimming match are nearly recovered from their gruelling grind... Someone said that he thought the idea was all wet
... we tried to push him over the banister but he got away... the cake auction was unlike any ever witnessed before... some one in the next room was calling out numbers for a bingo game and the auctioneer thought they were bids for the cake
... one of the two most spirited bidders bid without a cent to pay for the cake if he had won, and the ultimate winner had to borrow a quarter to make up a deficit in cash
... is there anything Mary Carlton Wright can't do with her voice?... yes, we know that one answer is that she can't keep it quiet but that's not what we mean... wasn't that red lemonade lurid looking stuff?... since when, Miss Amendola, have peanut butter sandwiches been filled with whole peanuts?... who won the grand prize at Bingo?

An essay contest on the subject, "The Effects of Alcohol on Mental Efficiency" has been announced. All freshmen are eligible to compete, but this does not mean, freshmen, that you are to write the essay from personal experiences.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast," someone once said. We wonder if the writer was one of those college students who hopes until the last second that the prof will cut classes for the day?

Myra Cohn's pet fox terrier set the style for future audiences by biting umpire Bloker on the leg, when he became disgusted with the latter's decisions during the "C" league game Mother's day.
We would hardly recommend this as a regular practice, but it has its possibilities.

Talk about the age of miracles—
to the casual observer, at the Tea, Mother's Day, it seemed as if all the tea was coming out of one tea pot.

Now listen, Mr. Weather man,
We're tired of snow and ice.
If we're going to have winter,
For gosh sakes, let's have winter

And get it over with.
Stop fooling us with hints of spring.

Why not act nice?
If you like snow,
Why don't you go
To about the middle of the Sahara

And play around to your hearts content.

As for us, we're werra, werra
Sick and tired of the whole Bloomin' blankin' business!

To thee we sing,
You nasty man,
Please give us spring!

Closing Coed Thought:
If I take him to the Pan-Hell dance will he take me to his Fraternity dinner dance?

Titans Maintain Eight-Year Record

Win Tri-State Crown With No Defeats

Winning 22 out of 26 games this season, Coach John Lawther's Westminster basketball team maintains the great record of the last seven seasons. For eight years the Titans have been outstanding in western Pennsylvania on the court.

The Titan record for eight years shows 126 victories out of 151 games played, or an average of 15.75 victories a year to 3.12 defeats. This gives Westminster a percentage of .839.

This year's team won the Tri-State Conference championship with eight victories and no defeats, makes the sixth league championship in eight seasons for the team, who have also won the Pittsburgh district titles in this time.

In eight seasons the Titans have won teams from New York, New West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, as well as leading teams from various sections of Pennsylvania, Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Washington and Jefferson, Duquesne, City College of New York, St. Johns University of Brooklyn, and in many other leading college fives have been met at least once in recent years.

This year the Titans tallied the impressive total of 1,117 points to 660 by opponents in 26 contests, averaging 42.9 points per game to 25.3 points by opponents. In six games this season the Titans scored 50 or more points. In 11 other games Westminster tallied 40 or more points. In six other contests the Titans scored 30 or more points. This means that in 23 of the 26 games played Westminster scored 30 or more points.

Opponents were held to 15 points or less on two occasions; to 20 points or less, four times; and to 25 points or less, six times. The highest score made against Westminster was by Duquesne who scored 35 points. The lowest tally made was by Allegheny with 10 points.

Westminster's greatest margins of victory came in the Geneva, Grove City, and Allegheny games. Geneva was defeated 58-21 at New Wilmington, a margin of 37 points. Allegheny was defeated 45-10 at New Wilmington, a margin of 35 points. Grove City was defeated 50-15 at Grove City, a margin of 35.

Fraternity Games End Next Week

With the basketball season nearly at an end, Jack Hulme's intra-mural league is nearing the close of another successful round. The race in the A league this year has not been exceptionally close, but all teams have displayed a good brand of basketball and sportsmanship. Only one more week, in which six games will be played, remains on the inter-fraternity schedule.

For the past few weeks Hulme has been attempting to organize a D league but this plan folded up the other day when neither the Kaps nor the T. U. O's appeared with enough men to round out their teams.

The C league teams ceased play the same day when the teams failed to show up at game time. The Delts took this circuit.

The last game of the intra-mural season will be played Saturday, March 17, at 4:15 o'clock when the Delts, winners of the A loop, will meet the team from the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity, runners-up in the same loop.

Bennett Leads Scoring Record; Douglas Second

Wesley Bennett, center on the Titan basketball team, leads his team in scoring with 359 points garnered in 25 games. Captain Bill Douglass was second, with 219 points tallied in 26 contests.

Player	Pos.	Games	Pts.
Bennett	C.	25	359
Douglass	F.	26	219
Sweeney	F.	23	170

Wilhelm	G.	26	66
Willits	F.	19	47
Franklin	C.	11	8
Meider	G.	17	8
Williams	C.	15	4

Wesley Bennett averaged 14.36 points per game; Douglass averaged 8.42. In 10 Tri-State Conference games, Bennett scored 167 points to average 16.7 per game.

Forward

JOHN WILLITS

John Willits, forward on the Westminster basketball team shows promise of holding down a varsity position on the team next year. Willits scored 47 points in 19 games this year.

Titans Lose Three Men By Graduation

Three Westminster basketball players will be lost by graduation this year. They are: Captain Bill Douglass, Elmer Meider, and Bill Williams.

Douglass has been a member of Westminster's basketball team for four seasons, and a member of three Tri-State Conference championship teams. He played center in all of Westminster's conference games last year and was the leading scorer on the team. This year at forward he accounted for 219 points.

Meider, a guard, played intra-mural basketball at Westminster until this season. He has played in 17 of the 26 games this year. Williams, who plays either center or forward, has played in 16 of the 26 contests this year. Neither Meider nor Williams has won a varsity letter before, but may qualify for an award this year.

Colorful Water Performance Staged By Mermaid Club

As a successful climax to its first year on the campus, the Mermaid Club presented an exhibition of swimming, diving, and stunts on Thursday night, March 8. The exhibit was built around the theme "A Night in Arabia", wherein groups of performers competed for the prize, a string of pearls.

The Sultan, for whose approval the performances were given, was seated with his attendants in an oriental setting at one end of the pool, while the contestants, attractive in their white rubber bathing uniforms, took their places along the side.

Two pages announced the acts in verse, and though each group performed admirably, they failed to please the Sultan sufficiently to warrant receiving the prize.

Form swimming was first on the program. Eight girls exhibited good form in the four strokes: crawl, side, breast, and back.

Three life savers had a rushing business, and successfully rescued their victims.

Stunts were next on the bill-of-fare, and attracted considerable attention. These included tandem swimming, log-rolling, a pinwheel, and formation surface diving.

The freshman team won the relay race with the sophomores. Each lap of the race was a different type; the racers contested in speed. Swimming

Titans Win From Grovers In Last Game

Winning their tenth conference game to make a perfect conference record, Coach Lawther's Titans defeated Grove City in the last game of the season, Wednesday night by a 56-31 score. The score was tied four times in the first 10 minutes of play and Grove City led Westminster three times by a one-field goal margin. By half time the Titans had gotten under way and were leading the Grovers 25-15.

During the second half the Titans rang in 19 buckets and the score was more than doubled before the Crimson lads scored again. Willits, Meider, Williams, and Franklin sawed "The Sphinx" as it was in the Membership in The Sphinx is based primarily upon leadership, accomplishment in college activities, rather than on high scholastic attainment, although it is required that its members be good scholars.

Unique black dinks embroidered with gold disks have been selected as a distinguishing feature to be worn only by members of the group. As an initial project, the fraternity

Intra-mural Leagues Closely Contested

With the playing of this week's games, the Delts were able to annex the lead position in all three leagues. To date, but one victory has been registered against them, that in the B League, by the T. U. O. outfit, early in February.

T. U. O's are hot on their heels, holding down second place in all three divisions, with one defeat in the A and B Leagues, and three losses in the Class C group. Coach Allhouse's men seem to be clicking nicely lately and present the Delts with their stiffest opposition.

Court Team Given Dinner By Stranahan

Members of the Titan basketball team were honored at a dinner given by Attorney J. A. Stranahan, Mercer, last Saturday evening. Attorney Stranahan, president of the Titan athletic council, has accorded this honor to the court team for a number of years.

Present at the dinner were: Judge J. A. McLaughry, Attorney Thomas Sampson, Dr. Vogan, Dr. Yeager, President R. F. Galbreath, Jack Hulme, Coach John Lawther, R. X. Graham, and the following members of the team: Bill Douglass, Ray Sweeney, Peter Leyshock, Wesley Bennett, John Wilhelm, Henry Hunneke, Elmer Meider, John Willits, and Bill Williams. Student manager Charles Pharmer was also present.

T. U. O. Team Played High School Ball

By Dick Nelson

The team which is giving the Delts a hard run for intra-mural honors is that of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity from up on Furnace Hill. They are in second place in Hulme's league, losing only two games up to date, one to the Delts and an upset to the Kaps.

Led by McCall, a veteran of four intra-mural basketball seasons, this team is fast, shifty and full of fight. Their passwork is good and they can bombard the bucket in deadly fashion.

The following are a few facts concerning the six men on the "A" squad of this fraternity basketball team:

"Banjo" McCall, one of the fastest men in inter-fraternity play, holds down a guard post. His position, however, doesn't stop him from scoring for he stands third in individual rating. McCall played three years of high school ball at Boardman, O., before coming to Westminster. In addition to being the bulwark of the team he coaches the outfit.

Roger Paris, who guards with McCall, also comes from Boardman, O. and is in his second year of inter-fraternity play. He played three years of high school ball.

Ray Elliott hails from Johnstown, Pa. where, for two years, he played varsity ball in high school. Ray plays forward for the T. U. O's and this is his first year in Jack Hulme's circuit.

"Dick" Watt, forward, lives in Struthers, O. and is in his second season of intra-mural basketball.

At center the Furnace Hill boys have one of the finest players in the loop. "Dick" Lubuno comes from Butler where he played varsity ball for four years. This is Dick's second year of fraternity ball.

"Bill" Mankedick, freshman, played three years at his high school in Oakdale, Pa. and is sixth man on the T. U. O. squad.

Delta Phi Sigma

Officers of Delta Phi Sigma for the coming year were elected at a meeting held Thursday night, March 8, at the fraternity house. Results were as follows: Robert Faber, president; David Kennedy, vice president; Gerald Auld, treasurer; and Edward Austin, secretary.

Delta Phi Sigma announces that Billy Blank's orchestra has been engaged to furnish music for the fraternity dinner-dance to be held Friday, March 23, at the Hotel Broadhead.

Sigma Kappa

Pledges of Sigma Kappa will hold a tea in the Hillside parlors Friday afternoon, March 9.

Doris Bandlow is in charge of arrangements and Miss Margaret Reed and Miss Dorothy Kirkbride will pour.

Phi Pi Phi

Herbert Smith '33, Willis McGill '33, and Robert Gibson '31, were week end guests of Phi Pi Phi at the fraternity house.

Delta Nabla

Delta Nabla had charge of the tea served at Browne Hall Tuesday afternoon from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Mrs. J. G. Moorehead and Mrs. H. L. Black poured and Emily Parker, Patricia Jones, Lola Sewall, Jane Veazey, and Helen Louise Taylor acted as aides.

Masquers

Masquers fraternity will be at home Tuesday afternoon, March 13, from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. in Browne Hall. This tea will be the last of a series sponsored by campus organizations under the direction of Dean Mary E. Turner.

College Applies For C.W.A. Funds To Aid In Library Classification

Westminster college has made an application through the Civil Works Administration for assistance in the work of classifying and cataloging library books.

The application for funds to carry out this work was made through Lawrence county C. W. A. officials.

However, indications at the present time point to the rejection of the project for the reason that Westminster college is not a state-endowed institution. An effort is still being made to have the project approved.

Addition To Library

Miss Mildred Ailman, college librarian announces that a new book, "The Day", by R. H. Martin, has been presented to the library by the local W. C. T. U. The book deals with Sabbath observance.

Author Of Book

Among the books announced by the William B. Erdmans Publishing Company in their spring catalogue is "English Deism: Its Roots and Fruits", written by a member of the college faculty Dr. John Orr, head of the Bible department. The book endeavors to show the influence of Deism down to the present time.

Cadet Teachers To Spend Month In High School

At Farrell high school the following students are acting as cadet teachers: Leonard Baird, social studies; Louise Johnston, social studies; Ruth Breene, English; Charles Branfield is a cadet teacher in mathematics at Brookfield high and Walter MacDonald is teaching social studies at Sharpsville high.

Student teachers at New Wilmington high school are: Alton Kloss, commercial subjects; Wilbur Patterson, biology and social science; George Hollander, social studies; William Douglass, English; and Sadie Weissberger, mathematics. Isabelle McKnight is in Ellwood City high school teaching commercial subjects.

Music students doing cadet teaching at New Wilmington high are: Martha Goodwin, Ethel Denniston, and Dorothy Watkins.

Chapel Speaker

On Sabbath evening March 4, Rev. James A. C. McQuiston, D.D. of Newark, N. J., preached at Westminster. He is a retired Presbyterian clergyman, a member of the college board of trustees and former business manager of Westminster. He preached at the regular seven-thirty chapel hour, on the theme, "Conscience." Dr. John Orr presided.

Rev. Samuel Dodds Leads Chapel Services

On Thursday, March 1, the Reverend Samuel Dodds, D.D. Ph. D., of Butler, Pa., led the devotionals and addressed the morning chapel service. Dr. Dodds, a retired United Presbyterian pastor, Bible teacher, former professor in Wooster and Grove City colleges, is the father of three distinguished sons, foremost of whom is Dr. Harold Willis Dodds, the newly inducted president of Princeton University. The others are Rev. Dr. J. Leroy Dodds, prominent Presbyterian missionary in India, and Dr. John Dodds, a professor in the University of Pittsburgh.

Doctor Dodds, while in New Wilmington was the house guest of Rev. and Mrs. William F. Byers, of the Neshannock Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Mr. Byers was also a guest in the pulpit and offered the invocation.

The Y. M. C. A. met on Wednesday evening in the United Presbyterian Church.

Prof. Alan B. Davis of the Conservatory of Music was the special speaker and delivered a fine spiritual address, preparatory to a series of vocational guidance talks, which are planned.

Tom Rogers conducted the devotional service.

The Rev. Dr. William I. Taylor, father of Prof. Gilbert H. Taylor, has been ill for the past few weeks in the Jameson Hospital, New Castle. His many friends in the college will regret to learn.

Dr. Taylor has long been a beloved figure about the campus and in the community. His Westminster friends will wish for him a speedy restoration to health.

Express Gratitude

Neshannock Lodge girls express their thanks and appreciation to the merchants, faculty, and student body, whose whole-hearted co-operation made their N. R. A. Fair a successful one.

Condition Of Wesley Anderson Improved

For the last few days the condition of Wesley Anderson has greatly improved and there is a definite reason for believing he will recover.

He is the son of Mr. George Anderson, who is in charge of athletic equipment of the college. One of several persons seriously injured in the train wreck in Pittsburgh, Feb. 26, he has been in First Presbyterian Hospital since that time, suffering head injuries, two fractured vertebrae, abdominal injury, and injury to the arms and legs.

Dr. Weidler To Conduct European Study Tour

Dr. Albert Greer Weidler, a graduate of Westminster in 1902, and now dean of Berea college, Kentucky will direct a study-tour in European social and cultural development this summer, under the auspices of the American Peoples college in Europe. Countries visited on the tour will be England, Russia, Austria, Germany, France, Switzerland, and Finland. Dr. Weidler not only set up a team which also achieved the distinction of championships and two second places.

Success of the Titans, regarded from the district soreheads, teaching, clean playing, teamwork, few-if any all-scholastic stars squads. No state championship has graced the Titans.

Little Theater Group Presents Play

"Passing Of The Third Floor Back" Enacted Tonight and Tomorrow In The Community House

Jerome K. Jerome's "Passing of the Third Floor Back" is being produced tonight and tomorrow night at the Community hall by the little theater group. The many personalities of a London, rooming house enables the student players to present a wide range of character studies.

A hard-driving landlady, a dejected slave, quarreling husband and wife, their daughter who would marry an old man for wealth, a grasping Jew, a snobbish lady, a flighty maiden lady, and a poor young artist are living in a cheap boarding house in Bloomsbury, London. Into their midst comes a stranger whose quiet influence brings about a change in the lives of each of these characters.

In the final act all of the boarders meet at a tea and each present a new personality to his fellow lodgers. This is the most serious play which the group will produce this year.

The cast is as follows: Mrs. Sharpe, Hefeh McLaughry; Stasia, Jane Chester; Miss Kite, Isabel Mackey; Mrs. Tompkins, Margaret Shaw; Mrs. Percival de Hooley, Olive Pope; Major Tompkins, William Neeley; Vivian Tompkins, Helen Towner; Joe Wright, David Purnell; Christopher Penn, Ivan Yahn; Jape Samuels, Avalon Le Monte; Harry Larkcom, Richard Morris; and the Stranger, Don Mechling.

The college orchestra, under the direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron, will play for the overture and between acts of the play.

Pomp and Circumstance No. 1, by Elgar has been chosen for the overture. The other numbers which will be presented are four Indian love lyrics, by Woodford-Finden, which include the "Kashmiri Song", "Less Than The Dust", "Temple Bells", and "I Love Thee".

New Plan Arouses Interest Among Freshmen Women

Enthusiasm for the proposed reorganization of women's government on the campus marks the reception which freshman women gave to presentation of the plan in group meetings last week. First-year women at the Neshannock lodges, Browne hall, and Hillside agreed to support such a movement when a committee representing the Campus Committee called on them last week.

Virginia Booth, representing the Campus Committee, explained the aims and ambitions of the proposed self-governing organization at these group meetings. Other meetings will be held in campus lodges this week.

Suggestions received from women students with reference to the new organization will be studied by the Campus Committee in a meeting to be held Monday. It is hoped that the new regulations, to be submitted to the administration, will be drawn up before the start of the spring recess.

Permission being provided, a group meeting of all women students will be held early next week at which time final plans for effecting the new organization will be considered.

The committee of the Campus Committee which is working on the new project includes: Charlotte Melhorn, Lillian Baird, Lucille Nevin, and Ruth Russell.

Quadrangle Formal To Be Held This Spring

Quadrangle was entertained on Friday March 9, at the home of Jane Downie on Market Street. Plans were made for a formal dance to be held at the Castleton the second or third week of May; the dance will be followed by a buffet supper. All non-sorority women of the college will be eligible to attend.

A social hour followed the business meeting.

Little Theater Player

HELEN McLAUGHRY

Helen McLaughry, member of the junior class, is taking the part of Mrs. Sharpe in the Little Theatre plays tonight in the Community House.

Scholarship Rules Undergo Changes

Revision of regulations governing the granting of scholarships was made by the faculty this week and announced by Dr. J. A. Swindler yesterday. The revised rules follow somewhat those obtaining last year, except that the method of application, responsibility of scholarship students to the college, and date of awarding scholarships are all mentioned specifically.

All applications for scholarships must be in writing on a form submitted by the college. These must be filed with the chairman of the committee on admissions on or before one of the following dates: June 10, July 10, August 10, and September 10.

Successful applicants will be notified in writing, and acceptance of a scholarship must be in writing and must include a fee of $25, which amount includes the regular $10 reservation deposit required of all freshmen. Such deposits will not be refunded after August 1.

Those who accept scholarships and later transfer to another institution agree to repay the college that fractional portion of the scholarship represented by the same fraction of the four-year course not completed.

Applications for scholarships, of which there are only a limited number, should be made by letter to President R. F. Gabbreath, the faculty regulations state.

Campus Club Holds Tea This Afternoon

Members of the Campus Club held a tea in the Hillside parlors this afternoon from 3:30 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Mary K. Coventry, Mrs. Kate Fulton, Mrs. C. R. Rankin, Mrs. Norman Taylor, Mrs. Alfred O. Shaffer, Miss Corrine Mercer, and Miss Pearl Hoagland.

Pouring were Dean Mary E. Turner, Mrs. Charles Freeman, Mrs. E. B. Russell, and Mrs. E. H. Freeman.

Goes To Press

Professor Ben Euwema, chairman of the college catalog committee, announces that the annual issue for 1934-35 will be given to the printer next week.

Membership In Sphinx Based On Leadership

At a meeting held Wednesday night March 14, the newly-organized senior men's honorary society drew up objectives and by-laws, and adopted "The Sphinx" as its official name.

Membership in The Sphinx is to be based primarily upon leadership and accomplishment in college activities rather than on high scholastic attainment, although it is required that its members be good scholars.

Unique black dinks embroidered with gold disks have been selected as a distinguishing feature to be worn only by members of the group.

As an initial project, the fraternity is planning to inaugurate and sponsor an interfraternity-intersorority sing to be held on the South terrace each May.

Charter members of the organization include: Harold Polonus, president, Paul McMinn, Alan Van Harper, William Douglass, and Elmer Meider. Professor H. J. Brennan is faculty advisor.

Chemistry Laboratory Devoted To Research

Students in Dr. H. L. Davis' Chemistry 2a classes are making plans to carry out a series of testing projects for laboratory work during the second semester.

The lab sections have been divided into groups of four or five, under the direction of one of their number as a leader, who will select some commodity to be studied by the group. Data will be organized, and tests outlined, during the intervening time, and after Spring vacation two or three lab periods will be devoted to applying the material.

Little Known Campus Corners

[By Avalon Le Monte]

Scarcely a day passes but what we hear the music from the organ in the chapel of Old Main. It is played during all devotional services, its notes sounds through the school at other times when students are practicing on it, and often during the year Professor Gordon Balch Nevin presents one of his delightful programs. Few people can listen to organ music, properly played, and not thrill to the grandeur of it. Have you ever quietly entered the chapel late in the afternoon when some one was practicing on the instrument? There is the bright patch of yellow light at the front of the chapel, the dark silhouette of the player, the half darkened chapel with the last afternoon glow lighting up the window, and above all, the clear, soft notes of the organ—singing of that which is beautiful and great—singing the songs that once could be heard nowhere except in the souls of the men who wrote them.

Our organ cannot compare in size with the famous organs of the world, of course, but it is no small affair, by any means, as a close inspection soon proves.

The console has four keyboards, or manuals. Each keyboard controls a series of pipes which are located in four separate rooms, three of which are above the console and the fourth, the echo organ, is placed at the rear of the chapel. The keys on the manuals are nothing more than electric switches. Wires lead from them to a relay room above the chapel where the current is sent to the individual pipes.

The organ rooms, where the pipes are, contain many more pipes than the manual controlling them has keys. A series of stops above the keyboard controls the tone or set of pipes that the manual will operate. All in all, what with the four manuals and the stops about 2200 separate (Continued on Page 4)

F.E.R.A. Workers Bring 'New Deal' To Campus; Windows, Floors Shine

In the past few months it seems that the papers have been publishing little other than news concerning the C.W.A., the N.R.A. and various other "A's". But the latest of these various "A's" is the F.E.R.A. which is rapidly mobilizing the gentlemen co-eds of Westminster into a new army which might be called the "Sanitation Army" of the Campus.

In fact, the ordinary on-looker needs merely to walk into one of the class rooms after the class has vacated, and there he might see one or perhaps two of these gentlemen, industriously massaging a window or polishing the floor. If the same on-looker were to appear at the same room later in the day, he might find two more cleaning up the mess that the first pair left, but that is neither here nor there.

The whole idea rotates around the point that the Federal Government has struck a plan that includes Westminster in its scope. It has granted financial aid to pay for the work that will be done by students. So, if the next time that you attend class, the windows seem to have an unusual luster or if the floor glimmers more than usual, just say, President Roosevelt polished these windows or Johnson polished these floors.

Of course, you realize that it is not actually Roosevelt or Johnson but that they have started the plan which will give aid to our boys and give them a chance to finance their education. We say, "May the good work continue."

Charlotte Bartlett Produces French Play

To add to the variety of plays which the Little Theatre has produced this year, a French farce done in medieval costumes, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" will be presented the second week of April. The play which has been translated from the works of Anatole France is being directed by Charlotte Bartlett who has appeared in several productions this year.

A French judge is married to a wealthy and beautiful young lady, but he longs for a companion because his wife is dumb. A prominent doctor of Paris performs an operation, causing the judge's wife to speak, but unfortunately the result is that the young woman chatters incessantly until the judge, almost driven to distraction, has the doctor make him totally deaf. Giles, the lawyer's secretary, and Allison, a servant, add more humor to the situation. The cast is as follows:

Catherine, Mary Catherine Jackson; Leonard Botal, McCrea Hazlett; Adam Fumez, Curtis Artman; Simon Colline, Charles Brown; Dulaurier, Hans Holm; Blind Man, Ellwood Rushworth; Allison, Sally Smyth; Giles, Bruce Barton; and Jean Maugier, BHL Turner.

Librarian And Co-eds Uninjured In Mishap

Miss Mildred Ailman, Mary Forbes, Natalie Taylor, and Isabel Scheetz had a narrow escape at 1:30 p. m., Saturday, March 10, when the machine in which they were riding from New Wilmington to Sharon skidded into an embankment and overturned a mile south of West Middlesex, during a heavy snow storm.

All escaped with minor cuts and bruises, but the car was badly damaged.

Chapel Speaker

Dr. R. F. Gabbreath announces that the Rev. James M. Guthrie, pastor of the United Presbyterian church at East Brook, Pa., will be the speaker at the Sabbath evening service, March 18.

Fraternities Make Plans For Formals

According to reports from committees in charge, four of the fraternities on the campus have been working diligently to make their annual spring formals, which are scheduled for Friday, March 23, the biggest and most successful in their various histories. Plans are well under way, and those already completed prove anticipation will have a hard time exceeding realization.

Kappa Phi Lambda has chosen to hold their formal at the Tippecanoe Country Club, Youngstown, and have engaged Bill Semple's orchestra to furnish the music. Paul McMinn, James McGeorge, and William Offutt are in charge of arrangements and Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cordray will chaperon the thirty couples that are planning to attend.

Plans for the Theta Upsilon Omega formal dinner dance, to be held at the New Castle Field Club, are under the direction of Cromwell Ketterer, Walter Shaw, and Everett Campbell. Miss Pearl Hoagland, Mr. Harold Tener, and Professor and Mrs. H. J. Brennan have been invited to act as chaperons. About forty couples will be present and will dance to the music of "Ph" Hunter's orchestra.

The ballroom of the Gen Broadhead hotel, Beaver Falls, form an attractive background for the forty-five couples who are planning to attend the Delta Phi Sigma formal. Harrison Kennedy and Dave Kennedy, chairmen of the committee in charge, announce that chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Freeman and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johns. Music will be furnished by Dan Burtott's orchestra.

About eighteen couples will be present at the Epsilon Theta Pi formal to be held at the Penn-Lincoln hotel, Wilkesburg, with Robert Presby's Intercollegiate orchestra playing for dinner and dancing.

Chaperons for the evening will be Mrs. W. H. Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. George S. Monks. Charles Furney, Frank Rhoads, Russell Anderson, and George Monks compose the committee in charge of arrangements.

Phi Pi Phi have no plans to announce regarding their spring formal.

Mannequins Model Gowns At Target Style Show

Two enthusiastic audiences witnessed one of the most interesting entertainments of the year, in the style show sponsored by Target fraternity, Wednesday evening, March 14, in the Little Theatre. Both the 7:30 and 9:00 o'clock showings were presented to a full house. The gowns were furnished by the Anne McKee Apparel Shoppe, of New Castle, and were gracefully modeled by the following mannequins: May Smyth, Ruth Forsman, Grace Bell, Anne Thomas, Mildred Renshaw, Catherine Hittner, and Josephine McGoun.

Among the striking outfits of the review were early spring and summer ensembles, such as furled wool suits, printed crepe dresses, and summer wash silks. The pastel Bradley crocheted suits, as well as afternoon and street styles were especially attractive. Of special interest to the women of the campus, in view of the spring parties next week, were the new formals, for evening wear, of silk, net, and organdy.

Throughout the evening, Virginia McCown and Dorothy Stewart offered bits of clever harmonizing. They were assisted by Donald Kellett at the piano.

Credit is duly given to the mannequins, to the vocalists and their accompanist, as well as to Target fraternity, for offering such an entertaining evening.

TEACHING AS LIFE WORK

When 80 per cent of the students in the senior class became cadet teachers preparatory to seeking positions as school teachers, one is forced to pause a moment and reflect.

This large proportion of seniors seeking such work indicates that preparation at Westminster is good. It indicates, also, that most seniors, not, unless they have been duped, plan to spend their lives accumulating money.

Figures would indicate, however, that not more than 10 per cent of the prepared and certificated teachers can be absorbed in the school system next year. This should not discourage those who really want to teach as a life work and who do not plan to "teach a year or so until something better is found." If their niche is teaching, they will find a place.

For the others, who select teaching as a stepping stone, the best advice is that business, office work, journalism, farming, the professions, social work, religious work, and many other fields need workers. Why not seek a career in a field not already crowded?

SPORTS FOR ALL

Extensive activity in intra-mural basketball, which this year has attracted more than 150 men students, suggests again the fact that Westminster's nine-year old intra-mural program is one of the veterans of the district.

Long before other district schools had such extensive programs, Jack Hulme organized basketball, swimming, mushball, tennis, and other games at Westminster. This year's program, perhaps the most complete of any, is additional proof of the popularity of sports within the college.

Girls sports, organized by Nandeen Love and advanced by her and the Women's Athletic Association, have also attracted large groups. Field hockey, soccer, swimming, basketball, and many other types of games have been provided for women students.

The gym exhibit given under the direction of Mr. Hulme on Mothers' Day, and the Mermaid pageant and the faculty-student basketball game sponsored by W.A.A. gave further proof that these campus activities are interesting and of high order.

That such sports, healthy and interesting as they are, cannot compete with intercollegiate sports in interest and enthusiasm is obvious. But they have an important place in the general scheme of the college is also obvious.

ATTENTION: MEN'S HONORARY SOCIETY

We have had a style show, an N.R.A. party, a dance or two, and several voluntary donations. For all of which, many thanks. But—we still have no library. At this juncture, when all students ideas are seemingly exhausted, the Holcad—good old rag!—comes to the rescue. Let's have a vaudeville show.

Why not? Let the acts be written by the students, enacted by the students, and directed by the students. Let us make each fraternity and sorority responsible for one act; let a prize be awarded to the act which gets the greatest amount of applause (that will bring out the loyal members); and let the proceeds go to the library fund.

Can you play a musical broom? How's your adagio dancing? Where are all the crooners? Do you know any card tricks? No longer need you waste your "sweetness on the desert air". Let's help the library fund.

Ninety students received degrees and certificates at the mid-year graduation exercises at the University of Iowa.

From the Quincy College catalog of 1900: "Boxes of eatables and candies should not be sent to students. They are fruitful sources of gluttony, sickness, and dissatisfaction."

The college of education at Ohio State University has just released an honor list of upper-classmen which includes 352 students who have made three points out of a possible four.

A special course in government finance and taxation under the New Deal has been organized by economics department experts at Northwestern University.

The demand for trained men in the textile industry now exceeds the supply, according to a survey conducted by the Georgia School of Technology.

That the University of Chicago is not in financial distress was affirmed by Pres. Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern University, in denying that this was the reason for the merging of the two institutions.

Indiana University alumni of Hammond, Indiana, recently voted in favor of revision of their alma mater's athletic policy. No reasons were given for their decision.

In a recent word-test, high business executives rated higher scores than did college professors.

A lake is being constructed on the Iowa State College campus by CCC workers. It will have a surface area of approximately three acres.

Lack of interest in elective physical education courses will bring the abolition of all such courses for Arts students at the University of Minnesota, the director of the courses predicts.

CRITICISM COUPON

Because the Holcad has launched forth upon what it has considered a constructive policy for Westminster College, which has brought several indirect criticisms to the editorial board, members of the student body, faculty, and alumni are asked to fill in the questions asked below and to mail or leave the slips in the Holcad office, Room 212, Old Main Memorial.

In what page order do you read the Holcad?

Do you read the editorials?

Are you in favor of the present policy of the editorial writers?

Should the writers keep their editorials savored with the idea that Westminster has a fine band or is a fine college or should they follow the utterance of Charles A. Dana which appears at the top of the editorial page?

Do you read the advertisements?

What is your opinion of Holcadabra?

Do you think the paper shows any improvement over papers of preceding years?

Do you like the appearance of the Holcad?

What percentage of the news appearing in the Holcad is old before the paper reaches you?

What criticisms do you have of the paper in general?

Holcadabra

Attention Faculty Members!

How To Become Popular in Ten Lessons:

Secret: Cut ten times in succession.

We would recommend the following for Ping Pong players.

1—Tables with nets surrounding them so the ball couldn't escape and roll off into the darkest corner of the room.

2—Why not make ping pong balls cube shaped instead of round? Then the pesky things wouldn't roll around so.

3—We would particularly enjoy seeing a paddle placed on the market, the face of which would be covered with glue. In returning a serve you could strike the ball lightly—it would stick to the paddle and then you could throw paddle and ball together over the net and defy your opponent to return them.

We wish to praise the gentlemen who had the nerve to attend the style show Wednesday night and sit down stairs. As for the weak sisters who lurked in the balcony we have nought but scorn.

According to the latest reports from the freshmen committee, all freshmen will be required to wear their green neckties on St. Patrick's Day. Freshmen women must wear green rouge and lipstick instead of red.

Monday night was field day for faculty members. At least some of our professors thought so at the Tureen dinner held at Hillside. Professors Cameron and Graham and Mr. Patton were playing leap frog in the parlor.

Some of the faculty members left early and they were surprised to have professors Lawther, Biberick and Baker escort them to the door, wish them a hearty good night and invite them to come over any time and see them.

Attention, steady daters!

Have you ever considered what a delightfully private place that seat back of the organ is?

"Throw another log on the fire," sing the FERA workers, as they chop down the tree in front of Browne Hall.

According to our statistics department, if the strips of crepe paper, used to decorate the Pan-Hell dance, were placed end to end they would make a line almost as long as some class room periods.

Closing Thought:
Did you ever see a dinner dance dancing?

Editor's Mail Bag

The Editor of the Holcad:

Quadrangle wishes to express its hearty approval of the proposed women's self-government plan and to pledge its sincerest co-operation in furthering the project. The most pressing need on the Westminster campus today is for greater student initiative, and Quadrangle welcomes the activity of the past few months as distinct progress in that direction. The women, in particular, have been negligent in matters of student management and it is hoped that the self-government organization will be only the first of many such actions.

Not only does actual student leadership need to be encouraged, but Quadrangle believes that this leadership must come hereafter from an increasingly large number of students. It is obviously impossible for any one student to give the best of his time and efforts to three or four organizations, yet there are numerous instances on the campus today in which this is expected. By their own admission, such students neglect one activity to concentrate on another. We are not blaming those presidents and leaders; their choices have been wise and their successes outstanding. The blame rests upon those student, who capable of leading, have not the interest in student organizations to demonstrate their ability.

To stimulate this latent leadership, and to arouse greater interest in campus activities, Quadrangle proposes the adoption of a plan such as this: That student offices be evaluated so that the presidency, of a recognized campus group counts ten, any other office five, chairmanship of a committee three, and membership of a committee two; and that a maximum of, say, eighteen points be allowed a student each semester. This would obviously avoid the duplication of presidencies and other offices now prevalent and would provide training for a larger number of students for positions of leadership and responsibility.

NELLIE KUDELKO, President.

Intra-mural Fives End Season Tomorrow

Finals Include Games With Kaps, Eps, Delts, T.U.O.'S. Phi Pi's, And Non Frats

BULLETIN

In view of the fact that many of the players on the Delt and T.U.O. A teams are playing in the East Liverpool tournament tomorrow, several B team players will be used in the final game tomorrow.

The intra-mural basketball league will be brought to a close Saturday afternoon, when all teams in the Class A group will play their final games. All Class B and Class C games were completed last week, leaving the major teams the only ones to finish.

The afternoon's card will begin at 2:15 o'clock with the Phi Pi's meeting the Non-Frats. Although the Fives are favored to take this contest, the fact that the Non-Frats have showed a great improvement over their showing at the first of the season, may mean that they will pull another surprise show and give the Phi Pi outfit something to worry about.

The second game will find the Kap five meeting the Eps. To date the Eps have made a good showing for themselves while the Kaps have run into some hard luck during the past few weeks. The outcome of the game is hard to guess, but it is thought that the New Castle street boys have a slight edge on their opponents.

The final contest of the league will be between the leading Delts and the T.U.O.'s runners-up. Although the Delts have a perfect record so far, the Furnace Hill boys are the only ones who have given them any real trouble. There has always been great rivalry between these two teams and the game promises to be closely contested. If the Delts are to be tripped this year, it is up to the T.U.O.'s to do it and that is the team which seems best able to make the Southardmen tumble.

Although Saturday's games will make no difference in the present standings of the first two teams, the other places will be decided. The Delt outfit has finished first for the third consecutive year, but have always been forced to put up a good fight against the T.U.O. five.

Champion Delt Quintet To Oppose All-Stars

Jack Hulme has announced the selection of the all-star team which will play the Delts, champions of the intra-mural A league, next Tuesday afternoon. The members of the all-star squad were picked by virtue of their performance on the court this season.

Those who were awarded berths on the team are as follows: Bloker, Manor, Kap; McClure, Deabler, Phi Pi; Seifert, Miller, Eps; McCall, Paris, LoBuono, T.U.O.; and Walker, Non-frat.

Members of the championship Delt team are: "Coe" Kennedy, "Ace" Kennedy, "Skip" Simpson, "Bob" Scarbrough, "Bunny" Austin, "Alex" Brinko, and "Art" Brownell. George Hollander will referee the tilt, and Ed Brown will do the umpiring.

Other officials will be Straw, Greer, Kellett, and McCormick. The game will be called at 4:15 o'clock.

College Enters Debate Teams In Tournament

About fifteen colleges from western Pennsylvania are expected to compete in the debate tournament to be sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh, in Pittsburgh, Saturday, April 28.

Westminster has entered four teams, two affirmative and two negative, in the event. These teams will debate with opposing teams on the question, "Resolved: that the essential features of the NIRA should be adopted as a permanent policy of our federal government."

Helen Dornhoefer and Virginia Booth will uphold the affirmative on the women's team, while Marjorie Scott and Myra Cohn will take the negative of the question.

On the men's team, Charles Brown and Fred Luderer will represent the affirmative, and Wilbur Christy and Melvin Moorehouse, the negative.

Intra-mural Players Will Enter Tournament

Outstanding players of the Westminster intra-mural basketball league will enter the junior tournament at East Liverpool, O., tomorrow. The team will represent the New Westminster Merchants. The South Hills Scholastics will be played in the first game Saturday morning.

Included in the squad roster of the team will be: James Bloker, Kaps; Leslie Simpson, Delts; Robert Scarbrough, Delts; Dave Kennedy, Delts; Harrison Kennedy, Delts; Tim McClure, Phi Pi's; Ron Paris, T. U. O., and Hugh McCall, T. U. O.

Merchants who are sponsoring the team are: Les Campbell, Claire Wagner, Milt Kline, Howard Temple, James Pitzer, C. C. McCrumb, Mounts Bakery, Ralph Shawkey, A. E. Lee, George Brown, A. & P. Store, Stewart Price, Raymond Meek, J. T. Dilley, Louie Fusco, Andrew Thompson, Albert Skillen, Minner & Lamb, W. W. Campbell, Fred Williamson, Ab Skillen, and Stan Whieldon.

Girl's Color Teams Play Court Games

From the color basketball teams which have been playing a tournament schedule for the past few weeks, Miss Love has chosen class teams which are playing this week and next to decide the final group of winners. Due to the number of senior girls who are practice teaching, no senior team has been named.

In the first game which was played Thursday afternoon the sophomores defeated the freshman 28-22, with Helen Simison running away with scoring honors. Members of the freshman team are: Elizabeth Charles, Elizabeth Cone, Roberta Ross, Marie Nevin, Mary Lou Held, "Billie" Lorimer, Mary Jane Dickson, Betty Crawford, and Mary Jane Patton. Sophomores who played were: Lucille Nevin, Helen Simison, Jane Holland, Virginia Luckhardt, Harriet Jackson, Isabelle Reed, Dorothy Young, and Aileen Somerlade.

Monday, March 19, at three o'clock the freshman will play the junior team, for which the following players have been chosen: Martha Byers, Fern Fox, Lola Sewall, Pat Jones, Olive Pope, Virgil Wettich, Betty Cesten, Martha Morrow. At 4:30 p. m. the sophomores will meet the juniors in the final game of the series.

Carver Rates Titans Fourth Best In Country

Rated by Jess Carver, sports writer for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, as one of the five best college-basketball teams in the country, Coach John Lawther's Titans added new laurels to their highly successful record for this season.

After looking over teams in the east, west, north, and south Carver rated the outstanding teams as follows:

1. Pitt and Duquesne.
2. City College of New York.
3. New York University.
4. Westminster.
5. Notre Dame.
6. Penn and Purdue.

The Titans played C.C.N.Y., Pitt, and Duquesne, losing to City College in the second game of the season, on the second night of a hard trip, defeated Duquesne once and lost to the Dukes, and lost to the Panthers, after leading them 16-11 at the half.

Collegians Play Monday

The Westminster Collegians, who are barnstorming around the country, will play the Tin City Rovers in New Castle, Monday night. Last Thursday night they defeated the Oil City Phalanx by a 53-18 score.

Who's Who On Ep, Kap, And Phi Pi Intra-mural Teams.

By Dick Nelson

Third in Jack Hulme's intra-mural A league race stands the team from the Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity. This team is composed of players lacking somewhat in experience, but their lack of experience is offset by their fight and spirit.

The players: "Kenny" Seifert hails from Erie and has played two years of intra-mural ball.

"Ray" Campbell also comes from Erie and this is his first year in Hulme's loop.

"Ken" McCormick, who has been out of play for some time because of a bad knee, was for three years on the varsity of the Rimersberg High School team. This is Ken's third year of inter-fraternity ball.

Martin Cypher played for three years at Winfield, Pa., and graduated from Butler High School. This is his first season of intra-mural basketball.

"Doc" Lapsley comes from Erie and is in his second year of intra-mural basketball.

"Doc" Lapsley comes from Erie and is in his second year of intra-mural play.

Harwood Baldinger played two years of varsity ball in Hobart, N. Y. and two years of intra-mural.

Harry Headlee comes from Sharon and this is his first year in Hulme's league.

THE PHI PI TEAM

"Tim" McClure, one of the best players in the loop, comes from Blairsville where he played varsity ball and this season completes four years of inter-fraternity ball here.

"Chuck" Deabler was on the varsity team at Coropolis for two years and has played three years of inter-fraternity ball.

"Bob" Lake, who has played two years of ball with his fraternity, comes from Oakmont.

Harvey Snyder hails from Bellevue and has played intra-mural basketball for two years.

"Bob" Maxwell is in his first season of basketball here and comes from Wilkinsburg.

"Bill" Neely went to Ben Avon Hi and has played two years of ball here.

KAPS

"Bill" Offutt has played two years of intra-mural ball and comes from New Castle.

Clarence Manor hails from Pittsburgh and has played ball for the Kaps three years.

"Don" Walters played varsity ball at Rimersburg and this is his first season at Westminster.

"Chink" McGeorge played last year at Muskingum and this is his first year with the Kaps.

"Bob" Emory is in his second season of intra-mural play. "Bob" commutes from New Castle.

"Dave" Rowlands graduated from Wilkinsburg and this is his first year at Westminster.

Suicide Basketball

On next Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock one of the biggest features of the intra-mural season will come off, the "suicide" basketball game. Four fraternities will send teams into this fray, which will undoubtedly be rough, tough and nasty.

The procedure in this game is somewhat as follows: All teams are on the floor at the same time with two balls in play.

All-Conference Forward

WILHELM

John Wilhelm, who has held down a guard post with the Titans for three years, has been named on the Pittsburgh Press All-Conference team.

Bennett And Wilhelm On Press Conference Team

Four Westminster basketball stars were selected out of ten placed by Lester Biederman, sports writer for the Pittsburgh Press, on the All Tri-State Conference first and second teams.

Bennett was picked at center on the first team while Wilhelm was chosen for a guard position. On the second team Douglass, Titan captain, was given a forward post and Hunneke was selected for a guard.

Bennett was also placed at center on the second All-District team by the Pittsburgh Press.

The Teams:

All Tri-State Conference

First Team

- F. Janosik, Waynesburg
- F. Ginsberg, Geneva
- C. Bennett, Westminster
- G. Wilhelm, Westminster
- G. Littell, Geneva

Second Team

- F. Douglass, Westminster
- F. Currie, Waynesburg
- C. Doeppen, Bethany
- G. Hunneke, Westminster
- G. Grahame, Geneva

W. A. A. NOTE

On Monday and Thursday of next week 38 girls will take the final senior life saving test from Jack Hulme.

New members will be initiated into W. A. A. at a ceremony to be held Wednesday, March 21, at 8:30 p. m. in the W. A. A. room, Hillside. Virginia Luckhardt is in charge of plans.

Lawther Selects All-District Stars

After looking over all-star team selections, records of players, and team accomplishments, and watching the teams of the district play, Coach John Lawther has been urged to make his own Pittsburgh district all-star team.

Lawther believes that an almost unbeatable outfit and one which would be a high-scoring outfit would include:

Bennett, Westminster, Forward
Janosik, Waynesburg, Forward
Stydahar, West Virginia, Center
Cribbs, Pitt, Guard
Birch, Duquesne, Guard

Such an outfit, Lawther points out, would have size, weight, scoring ability, and speed. "It would be a great road team," Lawther says. "Cribbs is one of the greatest defensive players in the country, and he would dig the ball out what few times this rugged crew would lose it."

"Birch is the best shot in college basketball, and his percentage of field goals would be almost as high as the number of shots he took. Stydahar, a big rugged fellow, would be a great pivot man. Janosik and Bennett, almost on a par with Birch in scoring ability, are also great defensive stars," Lawther argues.

Lawther points out that Stydahar has averaged 10 points per game in Intercollegiate Conference contests, and slightly more than this in all games on the schedule. Janosik, Waynesburg star, averaged 14.4 points per game in Tri-State Conference contests. Wes Bennett averaged 16.7 in 10 Tri-State league games. Birch, Duquesne, averaged about 12 points per game. Cribbs averaged 8.2.

"Such an outfit," Lawther points out, "would have potential strength of about 62 points per game. This team would get the ball at center, take care of it, and score easily. How could anyone get the ball off the backboard with these five men reaching for it?"

W. A. A. Will Present Exhibition March 22

W.A.A., in co-operation with the physical education department, will present a varied program for "W.A. A. Nite" to be held in the gym. Thursday, Mar. 22. The program will feature a basketball game between two W.A.A. teams, a dancing exhibition by girls chosen from Miss Love's gym classes, tumbling, and novel group presentations.

A nominal admission charge will be made and light refreshments will be sold at the close of the evening. Proceeds will go to the Library Fund.

arate tones can be produced. There is a separate pipe for each sound and these pipes vary in length from huge wooden ones 16 feet long to tiny metal one about three-eighths of an inch long.

It takes about 9000 feet of wire to connect and interconnect this vast array of keys, magnets and pipes. There is also a set of chimes in the echo organ composed of 25 tubular bells and the harp is composed of 61 metal bars with tuned resonators, struck by piano type action hammers. A seven and one-half horse power motor supplies the wind for the organ and this is conveyed by many feet of metal tubing.

One of the things about an organ that impresses the layman is that unlike the piano, which has a sustaining pedal, as soon as you release an organ key the sound stops. Each key must be held down the required number of beats and then released. When you consider that while one finger is holding down a key during the necessary count, the other fingers of that hand must be reaching for other keys, it is evident that finger gymnastics are indulged in to the nth degree. As if that alone wasn't enough for the organist, there is also a series of pedals beneath his feet, resembling piano keys except that they are much larger. The player performs on these pedals with his feet, producing some of the bass notes. In addition to this there are five pedals, looking not unlike, and in the same position as the pumping pedals on a player piano. Four of these are called swell pedals, used to obtain the proper shading of tones, and the fifth is called the grand crescendo pedal. There are 35 stops, mentioned before, called speaking stops which regulate the tone or pitch of each manual. There are 33 coupling stops, used to couple two or more manuals together. And then there are 33 combination pistons—buttons that when pushed control a certain series of stops.

The organ loft, where the organ rooms are, is reached by a ladder leading up through a trap door at the rear of a chapel. You mount a platform surrounded by a maze of pipes, tubes and girders. After scrambling over various obstacles you come to a door no larger than the door found in the average kitchen cupboard. Entering this you find yourself in a small room filled with rows of pipes of various sizes. It is necessary to stoop beneath these pipes to enter. Another door opens into the relay room where there are four large panels controlled by the four manuals on the console. From this room you come out upon a narrow catwalk between the ceiling of the chapel and the outer roof. It is dark and dusty in here. Far ahead of you a narrow slit lets in a beam of light. At the end of the walk is the echo organ, directly above the junior section of the chapel.

The three organ rooms with their connecting air pipes and cables present quite a contrast to the polished beauty of the console in the room below. There is no paint, no polish up here, nothing but bare metal and wood, hissing air lines, and hundreds and hundreds of pipes—but when controlled by the musician from below, this vast equipment gives forth music, which soothes or excites, saddens or gladdens its listeners, at the will of the artist at the keyboard.

Michmerhuizen Named Editor By Staff Heads

Maurice Michmerhuizen, sports editor of the Holcad for the last year, was elected editor-in-chief of the Holcad for the coming year by staff heads, Harold Polonus, retiring editor announces. Michmerhuizen is a member of Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity and is an assistant in the News Bureau.

Theresa Burgoon was appointed managing editor, and Helen Louise Taylor was elected to the position of news editor. The sports editor for the coming year will be Donald Kellett, while Charles Trevaskis will be the assistant sports editor. Two associated editors appointed were Virginia Booth and Isabel Scheetz. William Glaser was chosen for business manager, and George McGeoch was reappointed circulation manager. Bessie Struck will be the new advertising manager and Evelyn Wilson will be the assistant advertising manager.

Reporters appointed or reappointed were: Hall Todd, Herman Myer, Avalon LeMonte, Richard Nelson, Elizabeth Cone, Lucille Amendola, Joan Bolles, Josephine McGoun, Helen Lay, Mildred Renshaw, Ann Thomas, and Anna Mary Kendelehr. Retiring members of the staff who will graduate in June are: Harold Polonus, editor-in-chief; Ebba Sizer, managing editor; and Robert Jones, business manager.

Holcad Delegates At INA Convention

Five members of the Holcad staff attended the spring convention of the Intercollegiate News Association, held at Temple University, Philadelphia, Friday and Saturday, March 23 and 24.

Addresses by well-known newspaper writers and editors were included on the convention program.

Westminster delegates attained some prominence during the meeting. Maurice Michmerhuizen, newly-appointed editor-in-chief of the Holcad, was named to the nominating committee and Theresa Burgoon, Holcad's new managing editor, was nominated for the position of secretary of I.N.A., losing by a very small margin.

Those representing the Westminster publication at the convention were: Ebba Sizer, Theresa Burgoon, Helen Louise Taylor, Robert Jones, and Maurice Michmerhuizen.

Nominations Made For Head Offices In Y M C A

At a meeting following the regular meeting of the Y.M.C.A., Wednesday evening, April 4, the cabinet nominated the following people for offices for the coming year. The election will take place next week.

Those nominated are: John Gerstner and Hall Todd for president, Albert Smith and John Gehr for secretary, Wayne Gish, George Herchenroether, Robert Ralston, James Regester, and Thomas Rogers, for treasurer. The office of vice president is filled by the candidate receiving the minority vote in the election for president.

Tony's Compatriots' Favorite Dish Will Be Served By Y W C A

Tony Moretti he lika spaghetti, He lika da meatball too; He lika da sauce and grated cheese,

For Tony no lika to chew!

—Rejected Poems

But Tony and his compatriots are not the only ones who like spaghetti. This favorite Italian dish is the favorite also of peoples of many lands, and particularly of American college students, as the Y.W.C.A. cabinet well knows.

As a result, the Y.W. cabinet has planned a spaghetti dinner in Browne hall on Tuesday, April 10, proceeds to go to the library fund. Serving will begin at 6 o'clock, and the committee announces that real, genuine spaghetti, done in true Italian style, will be served.

While no suggestions have been given by the committee in charge, it is generally agreed that those who do not know how to wrestle successfully with this type of food need feel no hesitancy in attending the dinner. These may resort to four highly approved dining room stunts:

(1) Tie the spaghetti to the top of a small step-ladder, and then walk up the ladder, eating as you go.

(2) Hang the spaghetti on the chandeliers and slowly straighten up from a crouched position to tip-toes, swallowing as you straighten.

(3) Wind the spaghetti around your fork, with the assistance of course of two or three classmates, and then swallow, paying particular attention to hold on to the fork.

(4) Take along a potato dicer, and run the spaghetti through this machine, thus getting a concoction that looks all the world like rice, except in color, and tastes like spaghetti, except in length.

The committee in charge of the dinner includes Dorothy Young, Martha Byers, and Lola Sewall. The nominal price of 35 cents will, they hope, attract many students, faculty members, and townspeople to this novel dinner.

Little Theatre Program Features Two Comedies

"The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife", a two-act farce by Anatole France and "Sparkin'", a one-act comedy, will be produced by the Little Theatre players on Thursday evening, April 12.

"Sparkin'" is a comedy about country people, the action takes place in a farmhouse. The characters are Granny, McClell Murray; Lessie, Mae Smith; Orry Sparks; Dale Galbreath; and Susan, Olive Pope.

Editor's note: Alumni or friends of the College who have additional information concerning the Franklin press mentioned above; who have copies of the Herald, or early copies of the United Presbyterian, are asked to communicate with The Holcad.

Westminster's first publication, which appeared early in 1855 as the Westminster Herald, was printed for a time on Benjamin Franklin's old press which college authorities had brought from Philadelphia to New Wilmington.

This is revealed in an account of the early days of the college as written by Ellen Dickey Gamble, daughter of William Dickey, one of the founders of the college, and appearing in the New Wilmington Globe in July, 1908.

Shortly after the Rev. Dr. James Patterson was inaugurated president at the start of the fall term in 1855, and just before the first Old Main building was completed, the Westminster Herald was started as a weekly newspaper, according to early historical notes. The Rev. George C. Vincent, and the Rev. D.H.A. McLean were the first editors, both being members of the faculty.

Happy Felton To Play For Junior Prom

This year's junior class, following the precedent established two years ago by the class of '32, will hold the junior prom Friday evening, April 27 in the college gymnasium.

Plans are rapidly nearing completion and John Kelso, chairman of the committee in charge, announces that Happy Felton and his NBC band have been engaged to play for the evening.

Tickets will be distributed among the members of the junior class and can be purchased from them at $2.50 per couple.

According to Mary Marrow, chairman of the guest list, the following have been invited to attend as guests of honor: Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Swindler, and Dean Mary E. Turner.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Black, Dr. and Mrs. C. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Euwema, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rankin have been invited to act as chaperons for the evening.

The committee in charge of arrangements include: John Kelso, general chairman; Charlotte Bartlett and Harold Griffith, assistant chairmen; Walter Shaw, assistant John Hine, advertising; Mary Marrow, chaperons; Ruth Martin, program; Byron Elder, tickets; and Betty McCrory, decorations.

Deck Party To Be Held By Browne Hall Girls

Among the innovations in parties contrived since the advent of the Library Fund, the latest is a "deck party", which is the brain-child of the freshman women, who plan to entertain the college tomorrow evening at Browne Hall.

A varied program has been planned for the evening, with dancing to the music of the "ship's" orchestra heading the list. A floor show and various other games and stunts will also be given. Refreshments including pop, candy, gum, and thirst-quenchers will be available on board.

Tickets for the trip will be 15 cents, per person or 29 cents per couple. Refreshments are not included in this admission fee.

Chairman

CHARLOTTE MELHORN

Charlotte Melhorn, a member of the old Campus Committee, is chairman of the advisory board to the Senate, new Women's government organization.

AAUW Plans Movie For Library Fund

New Wilmington chapter of the American Association of University Women will present a movie at the Community house Saturday, April 14.

There will be both a matinee and an evening performance. The bill will include a feature picture, starring Will Rogers in "The Headless Horseman"; a travelogue, "Wild Life in Africa"; and an "Our Gang" comedy.

Prices for the matinee performance will be 10 cents for children and 20 cents for adults; while for the evening, children will be admitted for 15 cents and adults for 25 cents. Proceeds will go to the Library Fund.

There will be no advance sale of tickets. All tickets must be procured at the door.

Mary Marrow Elected President of New Group

BULLETIN

At a meeting of the Senate held yesterday, Mary R. Marrow was elected president of the Women's government organization, and Helen Snyder was elected secretary.

Student government for women has been completely reorganized as the result of a campaign started by the Campus Committee. The Campus Committee, made up of representatives of the various classes, held its last meeting this week, and dissolved in favor of the Senate, new governing body.

The Senate will be composed of the house presidents of the Hillside, of Browne hall, of the Neshannock lodges, of the campus lodges, two Hillside representatives, and one from Browne hall. The entire governing board will include 23 women students: seven from Hillside, seven from Browne hall, four from Neshannock lodges, and five from Campus lodges.

The members of the Campus Committee will act as an advisory body to the new Senate, since five members of this committee were elected to serve until 1935. The advisory board includes: Charlotte Melhorn, general chairman, Betty McCrory, Virginia Luckhardt, Louise Hess, and Mary Jane Metzler.

Other members of the general governing body are: Hillside—Martha Hallett, Lucille Litman, Ruth Clark, and Ruth Johnson. Browne hall—Helen Dornhoefer, Betty MacNab, Sally Brindle, Elizabeth Cone, and Helena Ruth. Neshannock lodges—Lillian Gaines, Virginia Booth, and Jane Gilmore. Campus lodges—Betty Washabaugh, Alene Pleister, and Mafie Nevin.

New rules and regulations have been drawn up for the government of the women students, and have been adopted by the residents in the various dormitories. Each dormitory group has a house council, and each house council has representatives on the Senate. The new organization will be both legislative and judicial in power.

Famous Detective To Be Presented On Lecture Course

Michael Flascchetti, internationally-known detective, will appear for the Lecture Course number to be presented Monday evening April 9 in the College Chapel.

Mr. Flascchetti, one of the outstanding detectives in the country, has made in his career more than a thousand arrests, and is given the credit for breaking up the "Black Hand". He is often called "the terror of New York's gangland" or "the man they couldn't escape."

He believes that the "stool-pigeon" plays a large part in the solving of modern crime, and he will tell Monday evening, how he has built up the biggest "stool-pigeon" organizations on record.

Among the colorful experiences which he will describe, are his dealings with bombers, bootleggers, thieves, thugs, and Black Handers whom he has contacted in his wide career.

First Westminster Publication Printed On Benjamin Franklin's Press

Used Franklin Press

Speaking of this first Westminster publication, which was also one of the early publications of the church, Mrs. Gamble relates: "It was published in the first college building, which was known as the printing office for years after. The publishers brought Benjamin Franklin's old press from Philadelphia, and for a time the Herald was printed on it until a new cylinder press was purchased."

The first college building of which Mrs. Gamble spoke was located near the present United Presbyterian church Sabbath school wing. It was a two-story structure, with two rooms in the second story and a large room on the first floor. Dr. Robert Gracey Ferguson, president from 1884 to 1906, once wrote that this structure was a temporary one, first occupied in 1853, and was merely used until the first Old Main was completed late in 1855.

Start Of United Presbyterian
The present United Presbyterian, official organ of the United Presbyterian church, owes its start to the ambition and hard work of the Rev. Mr. Vincent and the Rev. Mr. McLean. Mrs. Gamble's article goes on to say:

"After the union of the churches

(Associate church and Associate Reformed church) in 1858, the Herald was united with the other leading organs of the church, 'The Preacher' and 'Presbyterian Witness', and took the name of 'The United Presbyterian'."

The Herald first appeared as a weekly newspaper in which form, also, the United Presbyterian was printed, for many years. A copy of the United Presbyterian dated Pittsburgh, January 7, 1863, carries under the front-page flag: "Continuation of The Preacher and Westminster Herald." The United Presbyterian was then published at 74 Third street, Pittsburgh, in the old Singler building.

So the Westminster Herald, first started as both the official organ of Westminster and of the church, became in the course of years The United Presbyterian, official organ of the combined churches. For a number of years after the printing of the publications was transferred to Pittsburgh, Westminster had no newspaper. It was not until Dr. R. J. Love, professor of Bible at Westminster from 1921 until recently, joined with fellow students in 1884 that another publication was started. This was the Holcad, student weekly newspaper, which is this year celebrating its fiftieth anniversary.

HAIL! AND FAREWELL!

There is a bit of sadness connected with coming to the end of a journey, a job, a project, or any endeavor, and the Holcad staff which, with this issue relinquishes its authority, feels this sadness.

The year in which it has been our privilege to work has been one of change, of some confusion, of a few surprises, of considerable achievement, of some lost opportunities, of some forward steps on the part of the college and the student body alike.

Considered by some to be radical, revolutionary, a bit outspoken, the Holcad staff this year has, none-the-less, been the mouthpiece of the student body. Through close contact with the Student Council and through the advice of the editorial council, representative of the students, the Holcad has taken its stand. It has not sought the name of radical. It has not tried to be clever. It has not even aimed at interest through being different, although it has tried to be more interesting.

Back of every editorial, every news campaign has been one thought in mind: Make Westminster the very best, college possible. A student body can do much toward this end despite alumni, despite boards of trustees, despite faculties. After all, without a student body there is no college. The student body therefore, must have the right to speak its mind, the liberty to disagree, the privilege of indicating what is wrong.

This has been a great year: one of flux, chaos, shifting view points in economics and government. We would not have the Holcad stand still in such times, except long enough to get its bearings and then to start out on some path however rough the older generation described it. The Holcad editorial policy this year has, in short, been the new deal on the campus. It has caused more comment both on the campus and off than ever before.

Many alumni have written to the editorial staff. Most have agreed with the editorial policy. A few have taken exception. Some few have feared the negative advertising value of some stands the Holcad has taken.

The Holcad is not an advertising medium. It is paid for by the student body almost entirely. It is circulated among the students almost entirely. It is written, not for alumni nor for prospective students. What is more, Westminster could hardly cherish prospective students who do not wish to face facts. Worth-while students will today be attracted by frankness rather than applesauce.

The makeup, both in size and headline schedule, has been changed considerably during the year. The new tabloid size has won favor. The addition of the Collegiate Digest has added interest. Special editions, when the occasion warranted, have shown that the staff has been working and awake to what is wanted.

To the incoming staff the retiring board says

hail and farewell. The comradeships, congenial associations, and pleasant work in the editorial room and printing shop will long be remembered. The realization that the new board has the ability, ambition, and vision to carry on to greater journalistic achievements is a great consolation.

The outgoing staff leaves behind these bits of advice:

1. Get the news, but first get it right.
2. Strive for more feature stories.
3. Maintain a vigorous but fair editorial policy.
4. Do not allow the Holcad to degenerate into a faculty, alumni, or trustee bulletin board. Keep it a student publication.
5. Always remember that the college is greater than any one individual or group of individuals.
6. Continue to make good taste and dignity prevail. Do not allow the Holcad to become a humorous magazine.
7. Strive to maintain a large staff of copy-readers, and to eliminate the many typographical errors which have often marred otherwise excellent issues.
8. Do not allow others to dictate what shall be published or how it shall be set up or where placed in the publication.
9. Keep editorial comment out of the news columns.
10. Insist that copy come in on time, and penalize organizations and college departments by omission of material which comes in late.

WHERE DO YOU SCRATCH MATCHES?

Do you smoke in your home? If so, do you scratch matches on the piano? What do you do with your cigarette butts—throw them on the floor?

Westminster men smoke daily on the chapel steps; undoubtedly it is a pleasant place to have a smoke between classes, but why abuse the privilege? The white stone that forms the doorway is covered with hundred of black lines where inconsiderate smokers have scratched matches. The flagstones in front of the steps become littered each day with spit and cigarette stubs.

Is there no place to scratch matches except on the building itself? You wouldn't use a page from the Bible for a pipe cleaner, so why deliberately deface one of the most beautiful college chapels in the country? Would it take too much exertion to throw a cigarette butt four feet farther so that it would light in the roadway?

Our country has in it too many people who have no respect or consideration for anything that is fine or beautiful or worthwhile. Their only excuse is their colossal ignorance. The next time you see someone scratch a match on the front of the chapel, or any other part of the building, for that matter, place him in the class of the ignorant—for he belongs there.

If you are not of this group, don't imitate it. It's nothing to be proud of. If you are one of them, your actions will betray you eventually; and the sooner your associates discover who and what you are the better for all concerned.

SOBERED YOUTH

The generation that came before us received a war; we reap the harvest of that conflict and of the ethical collapse that followed it. The generation that came before us, having lost its ideals in battle, cynically took the pleasures of a day and let the future go; we must grope until we build a new morality on which to live, for, no matter what your hedonists say, no man is civilized unless he has a moral standard. The generation that came before us gambled with economic safety for a false prosperity, and lost, we must, if we can, find another basis on which to reject society and struggle to regain our old position....

What justice is there in a world like that, where the children pay the penalty and the parents get the fun?

We are not ready, of course. Who ever is? For us there is the dirty work of two generations piled beyond our desks, and some day soon we shall have to clear it out.—The Easterner.

"Activities at DePauw University are creating complexes and destroying more personalities than they develop", says a recent report of a DePauw sociology student.

A new addition is being built on the engineering building at North Dakota State College under grants from the C. W. A. Administration.

Every commercial newspaper should recruit its staff from the schools of journalism of the nation, it was recently advocated at the meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism.

The inefficiency of the majority of commercial correspondence courses and the exaggeration in their advertising was revealed in a recent study conducted by University of Minnesota research workers.

Spaghetti Lines Or Stringing Along With The Y.W.C.A.

OR
This might be entitled:

Little Known Dictionary Rambles,
or

What Words Are Worth

Spaghetti, according to the dictionary, is a cord-like paste, in size between macaroni and vermicelli.

Cord-like, eh? You're not stringing us, Y. W.?

Paste, eh? Not real—just paste!

How would you like to be "between macaroni and vermicelli"? Or between macaque (a type of monkey) and vermiform appendix?

Vermiform!—Worm-like. Well, be early, children, for the early bird catches the worm, in case you like worms.

A macaque (monkey to you) has a pronounced muzzle, so it could hardly eat spaghetti, much less pronounce it.

And, following the dinner Tuesday, we suggest an all-college meat ball!

—O—
Why not stage a wrestling match between the cooks at Browne Hall and Hillside? The proceeds to go to the library fund, of course.

—O—
King For A Moment

A tale of a Westminster boy who almost made good.

He was only an innocent and well meaning pledge, seated in the rear of a bus. Two pretty coeds from another college were seated on each side of him. As the bus came into New Wilmington early last Monday evening it passed a collection of students who cheered madly as he passed them and called his name after him. To his lovely companions he appeared as a conquering hero returning home. But alas—there was a fraternity brother on the same bus.

Our hero was taking a very dignified and formal farewell of his companions when a raucous voice behind him said, "Hey, pledge, grab my luggage and take it up to the house. Step on it, I'm in a hurry!"

Let us quietly steal away and leave him alone.

—O—
We would recommend a raised platform placed in the middle of the center aisle in the chapel so that the "unaccustomed-as-I-am etc" type of speaker could mount this and be heard in all parts of the room.

—O—
People We Can Do Without.

The so-and-so who adopts a condescending attitude when ever mention is made of schedules and nonchalantly murmurs, "Yes, I had to cut my schedule down to twenty hours this semester."

The Gazabo who phones us at two-thirty in the morning and asks if we were asleep.

The Zany who corners us and proceeds to tell a joke that we told him two days ago.

The fiend who met us on the street last Tuesday and had the gall to stand there in the sunshine, midst the buzzing of the bees and the chooping of the birds, and cackle, "Oh, you have a laaaab this afternoon, haven't you?"

Spring Notes

Isn't it remarkable how quickly white sport shoes bud into view with a few days of warm weather?

Walk around to the corner of Vine and New Castle streets some day and see the yellow Crocuses that are in bloom there.

Put on your blinders and take a look at Don Depuey's gold sport shoes. They are undoubtedly the only ones of their kind in existence—thankfully.

Let us sing a spring song—In the spring a young man's fancy—The Big Parade has started—Two by Two They Go Marching By—Tip Toe Through the Tulips—Down the Old Ox Road—Oh What a Night for Love—I'm Singin' in the Rain.

—O—
Closing Thought?...can't you guess?...what?...that's right... "It's for the library fund."

Gilbane Appointed Titan Grid Coach

Lawther Reappointed Basketball Coach

Bill Gilbane, Brown University football star during the 1930, 1931, and 1932 seasons, has been appointed head football coach at Westminster for the coming year. He will succeed John D. Lawther, who has been head grid coach as well as athletic director and basketball coach.

Gilbane was captain and fullback on Tuss McLaughry's 1932 team at Brown, and played on the All-North team which Dr. John B. Sutherland of Pitt took to Baltimore following the 1932 season. His brother, Tom, played center on the Brown team, and also played for Andy Kerr on the All-East team in California. Tom intimates that he may visit his brother at Westminster next fall to assist his brother with the Westminster team.

The athletic council announced that Lawther has been re-elected basketball coach for a three-year term, and that he has been relieved of the football coaching duties at his own request. Lawther has also been appointed head of the department of psychology and education for next year. He has been acting head of this department since the death of Dr. J. A. Shott on September 21. The added duties as departmental head made it seem advisable to drop football.

The committee to select the new grid coach included Lawther as a member in appreciation of his services to Westminster athletics. Others on the committee were President R. F. Galbreath and Attorney James A. Stranahan.

Lawther has been head grid coach since 1931. For four seasons, 1926 through 1929, Lawther was assistant football coach under Dike Beede, new Geneva mentor. Lawther has been basketball coach since 1926, having taken over the court squad toward the end of the 1926 campaign, and running the team for the first full season in 1927. Since that time Westminster has won 126 basketball games and lost only 25.

Mushball

Jack Hulme announces that plans are being made for intra-mural mushball. The Holcad will publish details next week.

Bill Gilbane Won Many Honors at Brown; Tom Gilbane Also Has Outstanding Record

Bill Gilbane, new Titan grid coach, has a great athletic record in various lines of sport. The Brown University captain and fullback of the 1932 campaign, when Brown lost only the last game of the season to Colgate, excelled in track, wrestling, boxing, and baseball, as well as in football.

Gilbane started his athletic career at the Moses Brown school in Providence, R. I. where he was a member of the football team for four years and was captain in his last year; member of the track team for four years; and member of the baseball team.

Led Three Teams

At Brown he was captain of freshman football, captain of freshman wrestling, and captain of freshman baseball. As a freshman, he was intercollegiate frosh wrestling champion in the 175-pound class. He was a member of the varsity football team for three years; being captain in his senior year; a member of the varsity wrestling team for three years, and intercollegiate champion in the 175-pound class; and a member of the varsity baseball team for three years. He was Brown University boxing champion in the 175-pound and heavyweight classes.

Gilbane was captain of the All-North team which Jack Sutherland of Pitt took to Baltimore in 1932; and was a member of the sophomore, junior, and senior honorary societies, and a member of the debating team.

All-American Team

Bill was also chosen as fullback on the Associated Press All-Eastern team; and the New York Evening Post, New York World-Telegram, New York Sun, and Boston Record

Titans Pick All-Opponents

Having played three of the outstanding basketball teams in the country during the past season, Coach John Lawther's Westminster players feel that in selecting their all-opponent teams they have chosen an outfit that ranks as a good All-American group.

Pitt, City College of New York, and Duquesne get the most places on the first and second teams as chosen by the Titan players, with Claire Cribbs, Pitt; Polly Birch, Duquesne; and Moe Goldman, City College, getting the most votes. Ochsenhirt, Pitt, and Janosik, Waynesburg, were not far behind in the balloting.

Teams as designated by the Titans are:

All-Opponents

First Team

Birch, Duquesne, Forward
Janosik, Waynesburg, Forward
Goldman, City College, Center
Cribbs, Pitt, Guard
Ochsenhirt, Pitt, Guard

Second Team

Brenner, Duquesne, Forward
Feldman, Duquesne, Forward
Deitch, St. Thomas, Center
Berenson, City College, Guard
Reiter, Duquesne, Guard

All-Conference Opponents

First Team

Currie, Waynesburg, Forward
Ginsberg, Geneva, Forward
Janosik, Waynesburg, Center
Grahame, Geneva, Guard
Littell, Geneva, Guard

Second Team

Pennebaker, Geneva, Forward
Solch, Grove City, Forward
Doepken, Bethany, Center
Deems, Grove City, Guard
Cox, Thiel, Guard

Moe Goldman was chosen as the best opponent the Titans faced all season, with Claire Cribbs and Polly Birch a close second. Frank Janosik, Waynesburg, was designated as the best conference opponent.

Track Practice

Coach R. X. Graham announces that practice for intra-mural track will begin within the next week or so.

It has not as yet been decided whether or not there will be varsity track this year. The decision lies with the Athletic Council which will meet in the near future.

Cross Country Team Given Chinese Medals By Former Track Star

Medals from China, the gift of the Rev. Orvil Mirtz, class of 1928, have been awarded to members of the varsity cross country team.

Rev. Mr. Mirtz, a member of the varsity track and cross country team while he was at Westminster, holder of the Westminster and Tri-State conference mile record, and winner of the conference gold medal for scholarship and athletics, read about the cross country team in a copy of the college paper sent him some time ago, decided to contribute the novel medals, and sent them to President R. F. Galbreath to be awarded.

The medals are of silver finish, and have Chinese inscriptions on them as well as a picture of a runner. The men who received the medals are: Captain Perry Klumph, Harrison Kennedy, Jack Gerstner, Harvey Snyder, Clarence Manor, Spencer Davis, and Arthur Deichmiller. Professor R. X. Graham, coach of the team, was given a gold finished medal.

Rev. Mr. Mirtz, following his graduation from Westminster, was graduated from Princeton Seminary. He is now located at Lignan University, Hainan Island, China. Here he teaches and directs athletic sports for the Chinese students.

Eight Titan Court Players Earn Awards

Eight Titan basketball players have earned varsity awards for playing the court game this year.

Those who qualified were: Captain Bill Douglass, Wes Bennett, Swede Hunneke, Pete Leyshock, Elmer Meider, Ray Sweeney, John Wilhelm, and Jack Willits. Charles Pharmer, student manager, also earned his letter.

Honored Guests

Cadet teachers at Benjamin Franklin junior high school, New Castle will be the honored guests of the faculty members at a tea to be held Tuesday afternoon, April 10.

The tea will be served in the school building following classes. There are eleven practice teachers from Westminster at Benjamin Franklin junior high this term.

Lawther Views New Court Rules

By Charles Trevaskis

The proposed changes in basketball rules made by the Association of coaches have both good and bad points according to John D. Lawther, Titan floor mentor.

With regard to the higher basket, Lawther said "I can see no good reason for raising the basket two feet. Instead of eliminating roughness under the basket, as it is claimed the change will do, I believe that it will heighten the danger. Giving the ball two feet further to fall after a shot at the basket will enable more men to get in position to receive it, thus causing a collision at this point." Another reason why Lawther is not in favor of the raised basket is that it will mean less scoring and consequently a duller game.

Because he is more in favor of a game which is interesting to watch than one which is simply difficult, Coach Lawther believes that the new ball, one inch smaller, would be an improvement. His idea is that it would increase the scoring possibilities and at the same time enable players to display more skillful handling of the ball.

Lawther believes that the regulation floor, 94 by 55 feet, proposed by the Association, would spread the play out more and make the game more interesting to watch.

When questioned as to his reaction to the proposed banning of the zone defense, Lawther smiled. "It won't bother us at all," he said. "Although most people don't know it, we do not use a zone defense; we use a cross-check defense."

He explained that the zone defense makes each player responsible for his zone, and that alone. Lawther's system shifts players from one part of the floor to another part as they are needed. "Very few smart basketball teams," the coach said, "use a strict man-for-man defense. To do so causes much confusion at certain stages of the game. What most of them use, is a modified cross-check system."

The proposed changes in the rules, which were decided upon by the officials of the National Coaches' Association at their annual meeting last week in Atlanta, Georgia, will be accepted if voted on favorably by the coaches.

Sports Exhibition Presented By W.A.A.

Forty Westminster women students presented a physical education and sports exhibition in the college gymnasium Thursday night, March 22. The exhibition was sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association and the department of physical education, directed by Miss Nandeen Love.

Two W.A.A. "color teams" played a basketball game as the first feature on the program. Those who took part included: Mary Jane Dickson, Virgil Wettich, Jane Holland, Fern Fox, Virginia Luckhardt, Lucille Nevin, Helen Simison, Isabel Reed, Roberta Ross, Wilanna Lorimer, Lola Sewall, and Martha Byers.

Tumbling exhibitions were given by Mary E. Morrow, Fern Fox, Comfort Spelman, Virginia Booth, Elizabeth Charles, Mildred Ralston, Virginia Rumbaugh, Olive Pope, Lucille Nevin, Marie Nevin, Helen Simison, and Isabel Reed.

The W.A.A. special feature was an Indian club drill directed by Virgil Wettich. Proceeds of the exhibition were for the library fund.

W. A. A. NOTES

By "Libby" Cone

Outdoor baseball practices are being held Monday and Thursday afternoons, when the weather is favorable. Girls may report at three or four o'clock.

Five new members were formally initiated into W.A.A. at the sport spread which marked the close of volleyball and basketball seasons. New members are: Elizabeth Charles, Roberta Ross, Lucille Nevin, Wilanna Lorimer, and Esther Byron. Miss Love presented them with letters and announced the points earned by other W.A.A. members for the last two sports sponsored. Refreshments and a social hour followed.

The exhibition which was sponsored by W.A.A. on March 22, netted twenty-five dollars which was presented to the Library Fund.

Catalogue Ready

According to Professor Ben Euwema, the college catalogue will be off the press this week. Copies will be available to the student body, Monday, April 9.

Following Foster's Footsteps Is Dramusical By Nevin-Schauffler

What is "Following Foster's Footsteps"? Well, if you listened in chapel the other day you should know that it is a "dramusical", the score of which was written by Gordon Balch Nevin and the libretto by Henry A. Schauffler, our recent chapel speaker.

A "dramusical"? Yes, we wondered about that too, but since in Nevin's own words "An operetta no longer means fish, tripe, or herding, a new term was coined for his latest work "Following Foster's Footsteps", and that term is "dramusical".

The work was begun by Mr. Nevin in the fall of 1932 and was completed in about three weeks. The libretto was then written by Mr. Schauffler and the "dramusical" was published in February, 1933.

Both Mr. Nevin and Mr. Schauffler felt that there was a definite place for a work in the musical field which would lay the emphasis particularly on the music rather than the acting. Thus we have the inspiration for "Following Foster's Footsteps".

The theme itself visualizes a woman's club interested as usual in delving into the various "knowns" and "unknowns"—this time in the musical field.

The choral unit made up of feminine voices functions as the major part of the woman's club, listening to the report of the study group. Songs of the South are introduced here, featured by three of Stephen Foster's melodies, arranged in modern concert style by Mr. Nevin. These melodies, which comprise about 20 per cent of the whole work, are the only part of the composition which are not entirely original with Mr. Nevin.

Various solo voices, a solo quartette, and a dramatic reader, in addition to the chorus, are used in the musical.

"Following Foster's Footsteps" has already been produced in the Indianapolis high school where three successful performances were given. It was also produced at Rochester, N. Y. by the choral group of the Y. W. C. A. under the direction of R. Nathaniel Dett, a famous composer in his own right. He says, "that it is the biggest hit that chorus ever put on."

So it would seem that Mr. Nevin's supposition was correct. There certainly is a place for a "dramusical" like "Following Foster's Footsteps".

County Schools Meet Here For Forensic And Music League Contests

Students of all Lawrence county high schools gathered at Westminster on Saturday March 24 for the music and forensic league eliminations being held among the high schools.

Six separate group gatherings were held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning; one at 1:30 in the afternoon; one at 3 in the afternoon; and the final gathering was in the college chapel at 7:30 Saturday night.

Westminster faculty members who acted as judges in the various literary and musical contests were: Professor Alan B. Davis, Dr. Harold Black, Professor Gordon Balch Nevin, Miss Ada Peabody, Professor A. T. Cordray.

Art Work Of Professor Brennan On Exhibition In Carnegie Galleries

Hand-wrought jewelry, metal-work, and ceramics, the work of Harold J. Brennan, professor of art at Westminster, was exhibited at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh during the first week of April.

Some of the work Professor Brennan showed included pieces which he exhibited at the American-Anderson galleries in New York City last year, such as: rings and brooches; an inlaid box in gold and silver, which was made while Professor Brennan held a fellowship at the Tiffany Foundation; and several matched sets of wedding and engagement rings, set with diamonds, sapphires, and pearls.

Men Place Four In Highest Five Of Honor Group

Men students feature the senior class honor roll this year, announces Dr. James A. Swindler, registrar. Four of the first five ranking students are men; and for the first time in a decade both valedictorian and salutatorian are men students.

Valedictory honors have been received by Eric Thompson, who maintained an average of 3.076. He has been a member of the editorial council of the weekly newspaper and took a leading role in one of the dramatic productions this year.

Wilbur Christy president of the Y. M. C. A. has been named salutatorian. Christy has been on the editorial board of the Holcad, editor of the Handbook; a member of the varsity debate teams, a member of the choir, and a member of honorary debating and journalistic fraternities. Both Thompson and Christy are candidates for the bachelor of arts degree.

Others on the honor roll include: Emily Parker, third, average 2.896, candidate for the B.B.A. degree; Robert N. Jones, fourth, average 2.827, candidate for the B.S. degree; Alton Kloss, fifth, average 2.726, candidate for the B.B.A. degree; Josephine Rymer, sixth, average 2.684, candidate for the Mus. B. degree; Ruth Archibald, seventh, average 2.508, candidate for the A.B. degree; and Jean Miller, ninth, average 2.495, candidate for the A.B. degree.

Julia Richardson, Helen Whieldon and Jane Chester maintained high enough averages to be included on the honor roll, but are ineligible because of transfer from other institutions.

Thompson and Christy will deliver addresses at the commencement exercises to be held Monday, June 11. Eighty-four seniors will be candidates for degrees at the commencement.

Educational Conference For Colleges And High Schools To Meet Here

Problems relating to the high school and college will be discussed at the educational conference to be held here Saturday, April 28.

Approximately 30 colleges and 200 high schools will be represented at the morning and afternoon sessions.

At the morning session, Dr. Ben G. Graham, superintendent of Pittsburgh schools, will speak on "Expansion of the Social Science Curriculum". Dr. C. C. Green, of New Castle schools will be in charge of the afternoon session, with Dr. Frederick G. Henke of Allegheny college making the principle address. Discussion periods will follow both addresses.

Both sessions of the conference will be held in the College chapel.

Mr. John D. Lawther is General Chairman of this educational conference.

John Gerstner Elected New President Of Y M C A

New officers for the coming year, elected by Y. M. C. A. at a meeting held Wednesday evening, April 11, are as follows: John Gerstner, president; Hall Todd, vice president; Albert Smith, secretary; and George Herchenroether, treasurer.

Dr. John Orr gave an address and presided at the installation of the new officers.

Argo Nears Completion

Red and Black will be the color combination used on the cover of this year's Argo according to an announcement today from Clarence Manor, editor.

Manor stated that the fourth dummy has been sent to press, and according to present plans the year book will be ready for distribution about the third week in May.

Valedictorian

ERIC THOMPSON

Eric Thompson, who won the valedictory honors with an average of 3.076, will deliver the commencement address for the Senior class.

Senate Issues New Rules For College Women

Changes in regulations as announced by the Senate in re-organizing government of Women students make the rules more lenient. The new rules follow:

Eighty-three Papers Invited To College For Journalism Day

Westminster college is planning a Journalism Day to be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, April 21. Representatives of eighty-three newspapers from Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania have been invited.

John E. Allen, editor of Linotype News, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Allen will address the assembly on the subject, "Newspaper Makeup and Typography". This address, illustrated with charts and diagrams, will be given in the college chapel at 3:30 in the afternoon, Saturday, April 21.

In the evening, a banquet will be served in the Hillside dormitory. The program which has been temporarily planned includes Fred Rentz, publisher of the New Castle News, as toastmaster, and two speakers, Chester Smith, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Press, and Larry Flint, feature writer for the Youngstown Vindicator.

Members of Pi Delta Epsilon will act as hosts on Journalism Day and the program committee consists of Professor Ben Euwema, Professor R. X. Graham, and Harold Polonus.

Target And Sphinx Plan Call Day On May

"Tap Day" ceremonies, at which pledges of honorary societies will be announced, has been scheduled for a chapel program on May 1 by Sphinx, senior men's honorary.

Pledges of Tau Kappa Alpha, Pi Delta Epsilon, Psi Nu, Masquers, and Sphinx will be given their pledge insignia by the various organizations.

Target, senior women's honorary will announce their pledges at a special ceremony in the evening.

Gordon Balch Nevin To Present Third Recital

Seven number will be included on the varied program to be offered by Professor Gordon Balch Nevin for his organ recital to be held in the College chapel, Tuesday evening, April 17.

This is the third of the series of organ recitals to be given this year. The concluding number of the series will be presented Tuesday, May 15.

Little Theatre Group Concludes Season With Series Of Three Plays

Concluding the productions on this year's play course, three types of comedy, a fantasy, a rural comedy, and a French farce were presented to a large audience by the Little Theatre group last night at the community house.

"Three Wishes", a fantasy directed by Jane Holland, was first on the evening's program. The cast included: Gretchen Smith, Dorothy Belber, and Dorothy Johnstone, sisters; and Helen Towner, the maid.

The scene of "Sparkin'", a typical southern comedy by P. C. Conkle, was laid in a country farm house. Virginia McCown was the student director of "Sparkin'".

Clever costumes designed by Isabel Scheetz and supervision of Charlotte Bartlett, student director, combined to produce the effective staging of Anatole France's two-act farce, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife."

Inter-Fraternity, Sorority Sing Will Be Sponsored By Sphinx And Target, June 2

Successful Debate Season To Close With Tournament

Westminster debaters will formally close a very successful season when they meet other district colleges at the tournament, being sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, to be held Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21.

The affirmative team on the NRA question, who will take part are: Charles Brown, Fred Luderer, Helen Dornhoeffer, and Virginia Booth. Wilbur Christy, Melvin Moorhouse, Marjorie Scott, and Myra Cohn will uphold the negative.

Charles Brown, Wilbur Christy, and Virginia Booth will also represent Westminster in a form of extemporaneous speech contest, known as a public discussion. Their subject is "What Should Be The College Student's Attitude Toward Peace and War?"

After the formal banquet, Saturday evening, Melvin Moorhouse will participate in the after-dinner speaking contest.

The tournament will be attended by approximately 25 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia. All debates will be critically judged by the coaches of competing schools.

There are, however, four more debates scheduled before the tournament. Both men's and women's teams will meet Grove City college at Grove City, tonight in critic-decision competition. Dean Gorge, Kenneth McCormack, Theodore Robbins, Bruce Bower and Melvin Moorhouse will defend the affirmative in a direct clash debate. Anna Mary Kendlehart, Gretchen Smith, Ann Boyer, Pearl McConnell, and Virginia Booth will support the negative in a parliamentary style debate. "Increased Presidential Powers" is the subject for discussion.

Charles Brown and Virginia Booth will contest with Wilbur Christy and Marjorie Scott in an exhibition debate before the New Castle Women's club, Monday, April 16. The proposition reads: Resolved: "That Preparedness of the United States is Necessary to International Peace".

The same evening, Melvin Moorhouse and Charles Brown will debate the negative of the NRA question at Geneva. There will be no decision.

Senior Dance Committee Announced By Meider

Elmer Meider, president of this year's senior class announces the appointment of the following committees for the annual senior dance, sponsored by the class in conjunction with Target and Sphinx, on the evening of June 2. General chairman, William Neely; orchestra committee, Ruth Russell, Everett Campbell, William Douglass, Alton Kloss; program committee, Jean Miller, Jane Baker; ticket committee, James Jacobsen, Esther Caughey, Theodore Robbins; decorations, Miriam Davidson, Leonard Baird, Hugh McCall, Elizabeth Newell, and James McGeorge; advertising, Alan Harper, Ebba Sizer, and Charles Branfield.

Fiaschetti Favors Training In Police Schools; Believes Kidnapping Racket Most Fruitful

By Theresa Burgoon

Captain Michael Fiaschetti, colorful Lecture Course speaker of last Monday night, when interviewed had some very interesting personal observations to make on methods of dealing with crime in this country.

Captain Fiaschetti, in commenting on police inefficiency, pointed out that we can never expect to gain the highest degree of efficiency in our police departments until we require adequate training in Police schools for prospective policemen. He says, "Policemen are not made by giving them a stick, a gun, and a uniform. In New York a man must train for six months before he is eligible for the force, and he is not through studying then."

In addition to such a provision, Captain Fiaschetti says that cities must remove politics, the present stumbling-block to efficient methods, from the police department. "As long as a politician is able to appoint a friend to a police job, just so long will police departments remain inefficient."

Carrying over into crime, he stated that of all the rackets being carried on at the present time, the most fruitful is the kidnapping racket, which has furnished efficient police opportunity for many bumbling. According to Fiaschetti, "There is much more kidnapping going on today than is ever reported to the police or the press, because people are afraid to trust police departments to solve the crime."

In closing, the captain cited the Lindbergh case as a glaring example of police inefficiency. In his opinion the kidnapping was an inside job and not the work of professionals. "If properly handled the Lindbergh case might have been solved and the life of the child spared", is his belief.

Initial plans were drafted this week by Sphinx, Senior men's honorary society for the first inter-fraternity and inter-sorority sing, to be held on the South Terrace on Saturday evening, June 2. It will be followed by the annual Senior dance, sponsored jointly by Phinx and Target, at which the winners will be announced.

The sing, undertaken as one of the Sphinx's major projects for the year, and should prove of great interest to members of the various Greek organizations on the campus.

Efforts are being made to secure loving cups for the winners of both the men and women's contests. Fraternity and sorority heads have been asked to co-operate with Sphinx to make the event one which will prove to be a major Westminster function.

Outside judges will be asked to decide the winners of the cups. The cups will remain in the possession of the winning groups for one year. They will then be returned at the end of the year and the next year's winners will be given possession of them.

Two fraternity and sorority songs will be rendered by each group on the night of the contest. The judges will announce their decisions at the Senior dance in the gym.

Arrangements are being made to have Pittsburgh, Sharon, New Castle, and Youngstown newspaper reporters and photographers here for the event, and if contacts now considered can be arranged for, a portion of the program will be broadcast over a nearby radio station. Efforts will be made to have a wire placed from WKBN, Youngstown, for the broadcast of the program on the Tuesday and then again in the evening. The dance music to be furnished by some nationally known orchestra which has not yet been named.

College Y M C A Cabinets To Convene Here During latter Part Of April 1

Delegates from 11 colleges and universities of the western Pennsylvania area will spend April 27, 28, and 29 in conference here Wilbur Christy, president of the local cabinet announces. The delegates will be from Y.M.C.A. cabinets meeting for the purpose of training officers of the various campus groups.

Approximately 100 delegates, representing Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Waynesburg, Grove City, Thiel, Bethany, Geneva, Allegheny, Washington and Jefferson, California, Slippery Rock, and Edinboro, are expected, Mr. Christy states.

The Westminster committee in charge of planning the conference includes: Wilbur Christy, chairman, John Gerstner, G. Hall Todd, James Jacobsen, and Robert Douglass.

Women Residents Honor Faculty With Dinners

All women's lodges and dormitories on the campus held semi-formal dinners with faculty members and their wives as guests of honor, Thursday evening, April 12.

Hillside entertained Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, and Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Taylor. Browne Hall had Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Black and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman as special guests. Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Swindler were guests at the Campus Lodge, and girls at Neshannock Lodge were hosts to Dean Mary E. Turner and Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell.

According to present plans, these dinners will be held every other Thursday until the end of the semester.

A A U W To Entertain

American Association of University Women will entertain the Senior women at Browne Hall, April 19, at eight o'clock. A program has been planned and a social hour will follow. Mrs. Carl E. Rankin will be the hostess.

OUR PROGRAM

In the first issue of the Holcad this year, this Holcad platform for Westminster was printed:

1. New library building and endowment for needed books.
2. Endowment to provide scholarships for worthy upper class students.
3. Student government organizations.
4. Landscaping and clearing of the lower campus.
5. Honorary society for the recognition of student activity, leadership, and achievement.

During this school year much has already been done toward attaining these objectives. A library fund has been started and already totals $443. The interest students have aroused in faculty, alumni, and friends of the college will undoubtedly go far toward getting a new library building soon.

The student council has been organized and is active in governing the student body. The Senate has been organized and will assist the women of the college in governing themselves.

The campus is being improved and with the coming of spring will be graded. The athletic fields will be repaired.

Sphinx has been organized as a Senior honorary fraternity for men and Target has been organized for Senior women. With this issue of the Holcad they announce their sponsorship of an inter-fraternity and inter-sorority sing and a Senior dance.

The new staff of the Holcad believes this platform for Westminster a good one. We can do no better here than to restate these ideals.

WE POINT WITH PRIDE

A few months ago the Holcad published in its editorial columns some rather pointed criticisms of honorary fraternities. It was charged that these organizations contented themselves with the election of officers and for the rest became inactive. We are very glad to announce that we have been forced to revise our opinion.

The Holcad wishes to commend the honorary organizations of the college for the notable work they have been doing in the last couple of months. We are proud to list here some of the more outstanding of their achievements.

1. Tau Kappa Alpha—Sponsored debate tournament.

2. Pi Delta Epsilon—Became national. Are sponsoring Journalism day.

3. Masquers—Produced play. Assisted in Little Theatre productions.

4. Sphinx—Organized as a Senior men's honorary fraternity. Will co-operate with Target in sponsoring inter-fraternity and inter-sorority sing and Senior dance.

5. Target—Organized as a Senior women's honorary fraternity. Will co-operate with Sphinx in sponsoring inter-fraternity and inter-sorority sing and Senior dance.

PREACHING OR PROPAGANDA

Apropos of a sermon in the college chapel by Dean Wicks of Princeton, in which he touched vigorously certain aspects of the present social situation. He was accused of propaganda.

What is the word of God? Is it to consist of pious platitudes? Does it lie merely in principles of right conduct that are generally considered to form excellent topics of "spiritual" sermons? Is it to be limited to the enunciation of moral precepts that have been known to humanity since the day of Greece and yet have been looked upon as workable only by superior beings, or, at best, only for the first few minutes after leaving church?

It is an outworn idea that topics of sermons—and especially sermons before the student body of a progressive university—should not deal with the problems of the day, with the unpleasant fact that social changes are as unavoidable as economic developments. Educated and intelligent college undergraduates lose patience when they are presented with nothing but vague theorizing on general ethical principles of which they are fully aware in the first place. It is most definitely a part (though not all) of one's spiritual education to learn the injustices, absurdities, and cruelties of present-day civilization, whether as displayed on the Princeton campus or in national life. A man's moral principles can hardly be divorced with reason from his material activities, for which they invariably form the driving motive.

Inasmuch as Dean Wicks recognizes this fact and with keen appreciation of undergraduate needs sometimes injects the ideal of social justice into his sermons, he is not destroying religion; he is offering it in a form in which it can hope to serve.—The Daily Princetonian.

Intercollegiate Notes

The aeronautics bureau of the U. S. Department of Commerce has invited students of Morningside College (Sioux City, Iowa) to aid in finding a means of perfecting radio range beacons.

Daily baseball practice for the Dartmouth College nine started recently.

The present college girl is a well balanced picture of courtesy, enthusiasm, cheerfulness and courage, according to Dean V. C. Gildersleeve, of Barnard College.

The average class at Santa Barbara, Calif., State Teachers College is composed of 20 students.

The University of Minnesota will spend $7,000 next summer in improvements on its business building.

A University of Wisconsin student is advertising for college students to join him in a summer cruise down the Atlantic seaboard. If you're interested, write the Associated Collegiate Press.

Dr. H. B. Schaeffer, president of Lenoir-Rhyne College, resigned recently because the board of trustees refused to eliminate college football as an inter-collegiate sport at that institution.

The Campus, student newspaper at the College of the City of New York, is making arrangements with a fish dealer to sell back issues of its paper to the merchant for wrapping for herrings.

Dr. Robert H. Wright, of East Carolina Teachers College, has been appointed a member of the advisory committee of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

The University of Southern California has a department of cinematography to train future movie studio workers.

"Resolved: We are becoming a race of lunatics," was the subject of a recent freshman sophomore debate at Albany (N.Y.) State College for Teachers.

A chapter of Sigma Chi, national social fraternity, has recently been installed on the North Dakota State College Campus. It is the sixth national fraternity to organize a chapter there.

The Erasmians, a Brown University organization, failed to pass a resolution which branded mass education as harmful to the State.

Approximately 300 Columbia University students are employed on 98 projects sponsored by the FERA on the campus of the New York institution.

It has been reported in the East that Grunter Jim Londos is intending to enroll in John Hopkins University.

Holcadabra

Boston University professors have defined the seven great sins of students.

They are:

Handshaking, blackslapping, or "throwing the oil."

Irreverence, not only to professors, but to everything conventional.

Cribbing, plain, or simple.

Maldistribution of studies and activities.

Thoughtlessness.

Laziness.

Lack of initiative.

These sins are not deadly, say the Boston professors, but some of them can get one into trouble. Yes—that's right.

What A Man!

Did you see Earl Johnson at the Community House, Thursday night, with his three dates? Should we call it, Mass distribution of good company?

Did you ever go snipe hunting? Four TUO's did the other night, taking with them a supposedly innocent second semester man. (If you don't know how to hunt snipes, come around some night and we'll show you how it's done). The party of five drove out into the country and left their car. They walked about a quarter of a mile into the woods and left the intended victim, guarding a propped open sack, and two lighted tallow candles. The four jokers went off into the woods to round up the snipes. After walking quite a ways they made a great circle and came back to their car only to find the double-crossing victim-to-be safely encircled therein. "You fellows call it snipe hunting," he explained to his flabbergasted companions, but I always knew it as, "Bull Moose hunting in Africa."

Chapel Thoughts

Coleman... world peace doves... Doctor Orr... seven verses in the hymnal... Senator Reed... rugged individualism... Judge Chambers... reelect Reed dot dot dot Boswell... president of Wheaton College... Westminster 36, Wheaton 21... see back issues of Holcad... Michael Flaschetti bang bang bang Nevins says... shots fired... jarred dirt loose in organ screens... organ therefore louder... blame dirt covered collars on Lecture course.

We note with pleasure that the walk in front of the chapel was littered with only 57 cigarette stubs as compared to the 59 stubs that littered it a week ago. Evidently the editorial in last week's Holcad had some effect.

Last Sunday when everybody was wearing white sport shoes—remember?—we noticed one of the well dressed Delts walking up Market street, wearing a pair of white shoes on his feet and carrying a pair of white shoes in each hand—What were they—spares?

Attention, Mr. Webster!

"Extradition?" said R. X. Graham, when asked to define the term, "well, it's like this, when anything of major importance happens, newspapers always put out an extra-dition."

How's this for a novel way of obtaining a long automobile ride on Sunday afternoons? Get in touch with people who have bought new cars and inform them that if they would take you—and of course, your girl friend—riding every Sunday they would soon have their car "Broken in."

Closing Thought:
Oh dear, Oh dear, Oh dear.

Organizations Raise $155 For Library Fund

Reports show that the library fund has grown to a total of $443.45 since the last figures were published. New donations, in the amount of $155.00 were contributed as follows:

Browne Hall	$30.00
Y. W. C. A.	50.00
Faculty	25.00
Pittsburgh Alumni	50.00

Donations from student sources have totaled $271.50, all from women's campus organization; the remaining $171.85 has been given by persons or organizations outside the student body.

Titans Top Penn-Ohio Tournament

Bill Douglass Wins High Point Trophy

Displaying the form and ability which characterized them throughout the past court season, the first seven members of the varsity basketball team thrilled capacity crowds in the Penn Ohio basketball tournament at Youngstown last week and garnered considerable glory and more numerous awards. Sponsored by the Youngstown Merchants, Capt. Bill Douglass led a team composed of Leyshock, Sweeney, Willetts, Hunneke and Wilhelm to the Tournament championship, defeating some of the classiest independent teams of the Buckeye State along the way.

Bennett Opposes Team-mates

Wes Bennett, playing with the Akron Celtics, led his team to the finals where they were soundly beaten by a 60-39 score. Wes scored nineteen points against his team-mates in this encounter. Capt. William Douglass, displaying remarkable accuracy in both passing and shooting from the pivot, achieved the high point trophy for the tournament, outscoring Wes Bennett. In addition to this, Bill received the judges nomination for all-tournament center, Bennett receiving a berth at forward. Swede Hunneke, playing a fine defensive game throughout was awarded a post at guard on the all-tournament aggregation.

W. A. A. NOTES

Two delegates from W.A.A. will be sent to the bi-annual meeting of the American Athletic Association of College Women to be held Thursday through Saturday of next week, at Dennison College, Granville, Ohio. At a special meeting of the club held Thursday, Fern Fox and Patricia Jones were elected to represent the local chapter.

Mushball Practices

Due to the unfavorable weather, girl's mushball practices are being held in the gym, Monday and Thursday afternoons, at three and four o'clock. As soon as weather permits the practices will move outdoors and a schedule of intra-class games will be run off under the direction of Miss Love.

Lawther Takes Team To Farrell Booster Banquet

The Westminster cagers were entertained Wednesday evening at the annual athletic dinner sponsored by the Farrell Boosters Club. The affair was held at the Farrell high school gymnasium and included such celebrities as Hank Day of W. and J. and "Fats" Henry, the former All-American tackle at that institution. Coach Johnny Lawther made an address in his typical manner, which was followed by further speeches by other coaches of the Tri-State area. The high spot in the evening occurred when the Kelly Sisters, of Grove City, harmony trio, were discovered by the varsity visitors, who are noted for their musical appreciative qualities.

COACH TO SEE GRIDDERS IN MAY

The new Titan Grid coach, "Bill" Gibbons has announced that he will arrive the first week of May to inspect the football equipment, meet the athletic material, and generally make himself acquainted with Westminster. Bill further states that there will be no spring training this year.

Wes Bennett Honored On All American Team

Collaborating with a group of college coaches exceeding forty-five in number, the Literary Digest awarded Wes Bennett, high scoring center of the country, an honorable mention post among the centers of the past season. Although the western Pennsylvania district contained some of the finest basketesters in the country this season, the only two colleges represented on the mythical selection were Westminster and Pitt. In spite of the impressive array of court talent presented by Duquesne and the fine work of Polly Birch, the Bluffites failed to gain recognition.

Douglass-Sweeney Form Sandlot Team

With the anxious eyes of Bill Terry and Joe Cronin fastened upon them, Bill Douglass and Ray Sweeney have begun the organization of what they believe to be a super baseball team. Whether to join the American or the National league seems to be the major problem confronting them.

They believe that they have one of the most powerful pitching staffs in the district with "Blind Lloyd" Garrett and "Granpa" George Hollander to perform upon the mound. The outfield which will be the envy of the Pirates and Cubs will be composed of Meider, Kennedy, and necessarily Douglass himself. The infield, which is planning to use and elaborate cross-checking defense, will be composed of Ray Southard, the mad chemist on first, "Skipper" Simpson on second, and Ray Sweeney and "Bob" Scarbrough, the Ohio Marvels at short and third respectively. The backstopping will be performed very likely by "Gabby" Staples. As a utility infielder, "Handsome" Henry Hunneke will doubtless be employed providing a successful operation can be performed on the legs, which will close those gaping gates into the outfield.

Douglass and Sweeney plan to make a huge turnover at the end of the season by selling players to the major leagues; Hollander being an almost sure thing with Cincinnati to replace Eppa Rixey. The team which is still nameless to date will open its season in the near future with the New Bedford Farmers.

Greek Quints Fail During Local Tilts

Attracting an exceedingly fine array of amateur court talent, the New Wilmington basketball tournament, sponsored by the New Wilmington Athletic Association, was held at the High School floor from Tuesday to Thursday of last week. Although two of the best intra-mural aggregations entered the contest, neither of them were able to rise above the semi-final class. The tournament winners were the Gerson quintet, of New Castle, composed of nearly all the New Castle High School players of the past season, led by Captain "Bus" Reiber.

In the opening bracket, the Dels defeated their old rivals, the T.U.O. five, by a 24-15 count. The Furnace Hill boys, reinforced by "Timmy" McClure of the Phi Pi's and "Bob" Arrowsmith, outscored the Dels by an 8-4 tally at the half led by clever shooting by McColl and Elliot, but were overcome in the second half by a rally led by Coe Kennedy and "Skipper" Simpson. The Dels defeated the Polis Falcons of New Castle in the second round by a 21-20 score, but were beaten badly in the semi-final round by the Gerson five, the score being a lop-sided 24-10.

Awards were made at the close of the tournament by the debonair master of ceremonies, William Douglass, to the accompaniment of loud cheering from the galleries. The New Wilmington Merchants were the runners-up in the tournament. "Swede" Hunneke acted as coach for the Dels with Ray Sweeney doing the masterminding for the T.U.O. club.

Cubs, Senators Choice In Campus Poll

By Jerry Auld

Secluded on the campus of Westminster are numerous baseballers who have been interviewed concerning the fast approaching major league race which begins April 16. Although "Bill" Douglass is better known to college sport fans for his ability on the hardwood, he has been performing during recent summers as an outfielder and first baseman for Iselin in the Rochester-Pittsburgh Industrial League. "Doug" does not hesitate an instant in picking the New York Giants in the National League because of superior pitching. He backs his statement by saying the "Big Four" consisting of Hubbell, Parmales, Schumacher, and Fitzsimmons will get considerable aid from Luque and Clark. In the American League race he picks the Washington Senators because of Joe Cronin manages a pitching staff which has to bow only to that of the Giants of the other circuit.

Elmer Meider who is turning "pro" following commencement will be found roaming the outfield for Crookston in the Northern Association. Meider has performed during the summer months of his college career for the Iroquois club of the Greater Pittsburgh League, but has finally consented after several offers to try the great national pastime as a profession. "Elm" views the situation in the National as quite a race between the Cubs, Pirates, and Giants, but figures the Cubs will cop the flag because of hitting, and pitching. In the younger major league circuit he picks the Senators because they possess all the necessary qualities of a pennant winner namely—speed, hitting, and pitching.

George Hollander, another athlete who will be lost by graduation, finds sufficient time during the season to pitch for the Freeport Elks back on the island. Big George states that the Giants are in because of their superior hurling. Over in the American League George thinks it will be all Washington because of a great infield and hitting power. From another member of the Long Island Brigade, Chubby Southard, we are told that the Cubs and Senators are favorable choices because of hitting power. Southard, remembered as the star first baseman on the championship Freeport High team, thinks that superior batters will have an advantage in the new lively ball.

"Bob" Scarbrough, a graduate of the Polish National Association of Youngstown, will try to become the Pie Traynor of the Double A League in Youngstown this season. Bob thinks the New York Yankees will win in the American. He says Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig should win a lot of games by their ability to drive in mates who occupy the basepaths. In the National he says the addition of Chuck Klein to the Cubs outfield patrol made a well balanced ball club. From over the border Ray Sweeney pauses from sports activity long enough to say that although Washington looks plenty good he will support Cleveland. "Dutch" thinks the Cubs, headed by Klein in batting, will cop the title in the National circuit. Sweeney has been playing ball in Youngstown for several seasons and his good all around playing has obtained him a tryout with the Double A League of that city.

Paris, also an Ohio boy, who roams the outfield for the Boardman team picks the Giants and Senators in their respective leagues. Mac McCormack, a Rimersburg product, picks Pittsburgh in the National because of their speed and Washington in the other league because of great teamwork. "Tim" McClure chooses Washington and New York in their respective leagues because they have the spirit which makes a great ball club. John Wilhelm, Kittanning's gift to the hardwood and diamond sports, thinks the Senators will come out on top in the American loop while the Giants will succeed in the other. "Banjo" McCall, known for his intra-mural sports activity, played ball last season for a team known as the Isles from Butler. McCall picks the Cubs because of their batting punch and Washington because of a good hurling staff. "Swede" Hunneke, the erstwhile Baldwin L. I. High first baseman, voices his opinion in favor of the Giants and Washington. Prejudices cause Dave Kennedy to say that the next World Series will be played exclusively in Chicago.

Although some of these opinions vary greatly from those of the majority of sports scribes in the nation, only time will tell who has picked the respective winners. These men can't be so far wrong when you observe that sixteen major league managers predict a pennant for his team.

Little Known Campus Corners

By Avalon Le Monte

Distinctive Rooms

Although all of the five fraternity houses on our campus resemble each other in some respects there are rooms in each house that are distinctive, that is, they cannot be duplicated elsewhere on the campus.

For instance, at the Kap house there is the third floor apartment composed of a sleeping room, a study, and a massive clothes closet. The study is of particular interest, and is probably one of the most typical "college" rooms on the campus. Its ceiling follows the contours of the roof, and is exceedingly angular. Two dormer windows furnish light and air; a massive chimney passes through the room dividing it into two sections. There are three desks in the room, one of them privately placed in the nook behind the chimney.

Artistic and interesting decorations adorn the walls, a low couch and a lamp occupy one of the many corners, and a comfortable overstuffed chair sets against the wall. Other furnishings include chairs, tables, and of course, ash trays. It is a room, highly conducive to study or loafing according to the desires of its occupants.

At the Ep house we found the "pent house", as they call it. It is a bedroom but it is distinctive in that though it is the highest room in the house, yet the low ceiling and low furnishings give it an appearance of shallowness.

There are four tiny windows, covered with artistic draw curtains, made by the occupant of the room. A book case, filled with interesting reading material, rests against the wall, there is a desk in a corner, and another table holds a pewter tea set. Three very small, light chairs, a low bed, and a radio placed on a very low stand complete the rest of the furnishings of the most distinctive room in the Ep-house.

The Delt house's claim to being different lies in its dining room. This room is not unlike a sun-parlor with its many neatly curtained windows. Six small tables, seating four at a table, furnish the room, together with the necessary chairs.

The T.U.O.'s cited their third floor dormitory, known as the "roof garden", as their most novel room. It is a large room, devoid of decoration, containing beds to accommodate at least twenty persons. Nightly perambulations must be extremely perilous as there are no lights in the room. Four windows furnish cross ventilation and as they remain open winter and summer the T.U.O.'s can claim the distinction of using more blankets per man than any other house on the campus.

At the Phi Pi Phi house the living room is different from others in that, the walls are decorated with Italian plaster, and rough beams. However as this was not exactly what we were hunting for we mounted to the third floor where our quest for the unusual was rewarded. Through a partly opened door we caught a flash of brilliant color. We entered and found ourselves in a room that owing to the color of its walls is distinctive to the nth degree. The color, an orangish-redish-brownish hue, was not unpleasant, but it was rather disturbing when encountered without previous warning. The walls were covered with a smooth, flat paint, over which daubs of heavier paint, of the same color, had been applied with a sponge or some similar apparatus, following the method used by the best interior decorators.

The room was furnished with two desks, a built-in book case, a fireplace, two overstuffed sofas, and of course several chairs. Needless to say, this is not a sleeping room. In fact the color of the walls is peculiarly appropriate for study rooms as it would be impossible to fall asleep in the face of it.

Attends Conference

Miss Ada Peabody left Wednesday for Chicago to attend the bi-annual Music Supervisor's national conference. She will remain in Chicago until Friday and attend lectures given by eminent music teachers and composers, demonstrations in music, and chorus recitals.

Decorations To Be Modernistic For Junior Prom

Delightful rhythm and modernistic decorations carried out in a color scheme of apple green and canary yellow, will form a delightful background for the formal junior prom to be held Friday evening, April 27 in the gymnasium, from 9 to 1 p. m.

Lights will be used effectively to accentuate the silhouettes which will adorn the walls, and the corners will be banked with ferns and palms. A large dome, of the prevailing colors will be suspended from the rafters. Constructive work on the decorations will begin next week under the direction of Charlotte Melhorne, chairman of the committee.

Happy Felton's orchestra, well-known as featured artist over KD KA where he broadcasted daily from the dining room of the William Penn Hotel, will furnish music for the dancers.

During the course of the evening, a grand march will be held, led by David Harris, president of the junior class, and his guest, followed by the May Queen-elect, Virgil Wettich, and her escort. Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath will take the next place, preceding chaperons and special guests, with the others attending, winding up the procession.

Members of the faculty who will attend as guests of honor are: Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Swindler, Dean Mary E. Turner, and Professor and Mrs. Harold Brennan.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Black, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, Professor and Mrs. Ben Euvema, and Professor and Mrs. C. E. Rankin will act as chaperons for the evening.

Tickets may be procured from Byron Elder, chairman of the ticket committee, or from any member of the junior class.

Sweater Dance Latest Wrinkle For Raising Total Of Library Fund

Members of the Campus Lodges, freshman women's co-operative houses combined their efforts with those of the members of Ritz-Carlton, men's rooming house and made a success of the sweater hop held at the gymnasium last night.

Music was furnished by Ted Marlin's orchestra of New Castle. Lemonade and peanuts were served as refreshments during the dance. Miss Nandeen Love, Mr. Jack Hulme, and Mr. Ross Ellis acted as chaperons. Lucille Williams was in charge of arrangements. Proceeds were for the library fund.

Vergil Wettich Names May Day Attendants

Vergil Wettich, May Queen-elect has named the junior girls who will be her attendants at the coronation ceremony to be held on the South Terrace Saturday, June 9. Those selected are: Helen McLaughry, Mary Rebecca Morrow, Dorothy Isaho, Mary Carlton Wright, Charlotte Melhorne, and Martha Hazlett. Gowns for the ceremonies are being designed by Ann McKee, New Castle. They will be fashioned in organdy and will follow a color motif of blue, pink, and yellow. Large garden hats in matching shades will add to the charm of the costumes.

Students Invited

All members of the student body are invited to attend the lecture given by John E. Allen this afternoon in the chapel. Student guests will also be welcome at the banquet tonight at Hillside. Tickets are 75 cents and may be procured at the registration desk in the chapel vestibule this afternoon or at Hillside this evening.

Conference For YMCA Members Will Open Friday

Plans are progressing rapidly for the Y.M.C.A. conference which will bring representatives from colleges in western Pennsylvania to the campus, Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28.

Wilbur C. Christy, general chairman of the executive committee, is in charge of arrangements here, and Edward L. Sitter, Uniontown, regional secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in western Pennsylvania, is supervising other plans.

Speakers who have already been selected for the program are: Dr. R. F. Galbreath, who is expected to give the keynote address on Friday night, Philo C. Dix, Harrisburg, state secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and Rev. Richard Aspinwall, Morgantown, head of the extension department of the University of West Virginia. Other speakers will be announced later.

The conference sessions will be held in the assembly hall of the United Presbyterian church.

Westminster students on the executive committee are: Wilbur Christy, James Jacobsen, Robert Douglass, John Gerstner, and Hall Todd.

Sophomores To Take General Culture Exams

Professor John D. Lawther has announced that tests will be given to 162 sophomores in the gymnasium, Thursday and Friday, May 3 and 4.

Tests will be given in: English, Contemporary affairs, General science, General mathematics, and General culture on these days.

On April 30, May 1, or May 2 tests will be given in modern languages, chemistry, and biology departments supervised by the heads of each department.

These tests have been received from the Cooperative Test service. These are the third such tests sent out by the department. In September results from all colleges will be reported. By June 1, a provisional percentile will be ready.

The following reasons have been given for the tests:

1. A requirement of all sophomores for junior classification.
2. To compare sophomores of our school with those of other colleges.
3. An opportunity to compare one's self with others of his class.
4. A new idea to find out what the student knows of contemporary affairs regardless of college credits.
5. Used for data for eliminations.
6. Data for selecting degree candidates.
7. Data for selecting prospective teachers.

Judge Contest

Professors Gordon Balch Nevin, Donald O. Cameron and Alan B. Davis were the official judges at the Mercer county music contest, held in the high school at Sharon, Pa., Friday evening, April 13.

Economics Dept. Conducts Survey of New Wilmington

By Avalon LeMonte

Four students will conduct a real estate survey of the 288 houses in New Wilmington as a project by the department of economics and business administration under the student direction of Edwin Austen, Professor Ross Ellis announces.

A house to house canvass will be made, and information obtained about every house within the borough limits. Data sheets have been prepared listing the questions to be asked. Some of these questions pertain to the type of house, the construction material used, the value, the age, the number of rooms, and the condition of the building and grounds.

Other questions are about the type of flooring, the heating and plumbing

Heads Committee

Professor John D. Lawther, head of the department of education, is chairman of the educational conference to be held here next Saturday.

Kappa Alpha Alpha To Become Chapter Of Beta Phi Alpha Early In May

Kappa Alpha Alpha, whose petition to Beta Phi Alpha, national sorority, was accepted last fall, is to be installed as the Alpha Epsilon or twenty-ninth chapter of that group on Wednesday, May 9.

Installation of the chapter which will begin on May 9 and continue until May 12, will be held in the music recital hall of the conservatory.

National officers who will be here for the event are: Della Winters Theda, grand secretary; Louise White, president of Epsilon province; and Lee Goff, president of Sigma province.

Active members, pledges, and alumnae who will be installed are: Nellie Young, Dorothy Schiffer, Gladys Blaine, Marguerite Averill, Mabel Masters, Margaret Behm, Wathena Ornduff, Martha Morrow, Mary E. Morrow, Dorothy Thompson, Mildred Thomas, Betty Miller, Nancy Johnston, and Grace Kriess.

Karux Elects Officers

Annual election of officers, took place at the last meeting of Karux, held in the Bible lecture room, Tuesday evening, April 17.

Officers for the coming year are: Hall Todd, president; Joseph Brownlee, vice president; and James Ewalt, secretary. This will be Mr. Todd's second term as president of the organization.

Representatives from approximately 30 colleges and 200 high schools are planning to attend the spring conference on high school and college problems which will be held here, Saturday, April 28. Both the morning and afternoon sessions of the conference will be held in the College chapel.

The morning session will begin at ten o'clock and the subject is social science. Dr. W. D. Gamble, superintendent of Sharon schools, is the chairman. Dr. Ben G. Graham, superintendent of Pittsburgh schools, will speak on "Expansion of the Social Science curriculum", after which a discussion period will follow. Some suggested questions to be discussed are:

1. Should any subjects in the curriculum be dropped to make room for more Social Science? If so, what?
2. With lowered finances, what courses should be dropped?
3. To what extent is the school responsible for crime and juvenile delinquency?
4. What activities shall the school add to its present curriculum to take care of the increasing leisure time of the general populace?
5. What criteria should the State use in limiting the number of teachers certified?
6. Should instruction in sex and mental hygiene be added to our present health program?
7. To what extent are the five (Continued on Page 4)

Famous Pianist To Feature Program For Music Week

Music Week will be observed on the campus from May 6 to May 11, according to Professor Alan B. Davis, director of the conservatory. Featuring the program planned for this week, will be the appearance of Harold Bauer, internationally famous pianist of the Columbia concert corporation, on Friday evening, May 11.

Five student recitals are included on the week's schedule. The first of these will be a cantata, "Behold the Christ", to be presented by the a cappella choir, Sabbath evening, May 6. The cantata story is the work of Mrs. Lillias C. Nevin, mother of Professor Gordon Balch Nevin of the conservatory faculty. The musical score of the cantata was begun by the late Dr. George B. Nevin, but owing to his illness the work was left unfinished. After the death of his father, Professor Nevin completed the music for the work.

A student recital, featuring vocal, piano, and pipe organ numbers will be given Monday evening, May 7.

On Tuesday evening, May 8, the college orchestra under the direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron will present a concert of orchestral and instrumental solo numbers.

The women's glee club will perform under the direction of Miss Ada Feabody, on Wednesday evening, May 9. Soloists and the women's octette will also be heard on this program.

The a cappella choir, will make its second appearance of the week under the direction of Professor Alan B. Davis, Thursday evening May 10. Choral and solo numbers will be included in this concert.

On Friday evening, May 11, Harold Bauer will be the recitalist. His program will mark the close of the artist course for this year, and will come as a fitting climax to music week activities.

All concerts during music week will be given in the college chapel at 8:15; the Sabbath evening cantata will be sung at the regular chapel hour.

On Chapel Program

Titusville high school's mixed glee club, will present a varied program during the regular chapel hour, Thursday morning, April 26. This will be the second appearance of the group at Westminster.

100 Delegates From Local Papers Will Attend Program

One hundred editors, reporters, and mechanical workers from daily and weekly papers of the district are here today for the Journalism Day program which is being sponsored by the Westminster chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon.

The day's program will start at 3:30 this afternoon, when John E. Allen, editor of Linotype News, will address the gathering in the college chapel. Allen will speak on newspaper typography and makeup, and will illustrate his talk with charts and graphs.

Following Allen's talk, the delegates will be given a tour of the campus, and at 6:30 the banquet will be held in the Hillside dining room. Professor R. X. Graham will act as toastmaster at the banquet, and will call upon a number of district newspaper men to talk briefly on newspaper problems.

Speakers will be: John E. Allen; Larry Flint, Youngstown Vindicator; Joe Shatto, managing editor of the Sharon Herald; Bart Richards, reporter on the New Castle News; Chester Smith, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Press; and William Aiken, managing editor of the Sharon News-Telegraph.

Westminster's chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, is sponsoring the program. The members of the Westminster chapter will serve on various committees, Charles Branfield, president, announces.

A number of souvenirs of printing, typesetting, and journalistic pamphlets and booklets will be given to each delegate, and a special issue of the Holcad, student weekly newspaper, will also be given out.

The general committee in charge of the program includes Professor Ben Euvema, director of the lecture course; Professor R. X. Graham, director of the journalism course; Harold Polonus, former editor of the Holcad; and all members of the Pi Delta Epsilon chapter. (Continued on Last Page)

Speakers Representing Three Religions Will Talk On Recent Trends

Representatives of three different religions, a Catholic priest, a Jewish rabbi, and a minister will speak before classes in recent social trends this month. The classes, taught by Professors Ronald Jones and Ross Ellis of the department of economics and business, are now studying changes in religious organizations brought about in recent years.

The Rev. Father M. L. Moriarty, director of charities of the Cleveland diocese of the Catholic church, will speak on Monday afternoon, April 23, at 1:30. Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield of Temple Israel, New Castle, will address the classes on Thursday, April 26, at 1:30 p. m. and on Monday, April 30, at 1:30 p. m. The Rev. Dr. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of New Wilmington, will speak on Friday morning, April 27 at 9:50; Tuesday morning, May 1, at 8 o'clock; Wednesday morning, May 2, at 9:50; and Thursday morning, May 3, at 8 o'clock.

Music Course Program Features KDKA Artists

Outstanding among the excellent talent which has been secured for the Artist Course this year, are the "Fireflies", a quartette of women which includes a trio of singers and an accompanist, who will present a program in the chapel on Monday evening, April 23.

These artists are coached by Harvey B. Gaul of Pittsburgh and are heard regularly over station KDKA. The quartet is made up of Metha Rankin, soprano, Jean Newman, contralto, Viola Byrgerson, contralto, and Marian Bollinger, pianist. The ladies will be guests of Hillside for dinner Monday evening.

THE FOURTH ESTATE

Carlyle called the newspaper press the fourth estate. From that time on, journalism has taken on the dignity of a profession. So today the Holcad, the campus representative of this great profession, welcomes to Westminster the editors, reporters, and mechanical workers who have been invited to Journalism Day by Pi Delta Epsilon.

We are, of course, proud of the Holcad in that it has recently placed high among the best college newspapers of the country. We are proud of journalism itself, professional and collegiate, for what it has contributed to the civilization and culture of the race. We know its few faults, but we glory in its many virtues.

Just as printing is the art preservative of all arts, so is modern journalism a daily picture of history in the making, a record of substantial events the world over, a veritable university of information and knowledge.

Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, claims that intelligent reading of a daily paper, with an understanding of the backgrounds, meaning, and implications of all stories would make an ideal education.

What is needed, then, is not so much improvement in newspapers as education and improvement of newspaper readers. This phase of the subject is one, which is emphasized in Westminster journalism classes, and one which needs emphasis in any study of the question.

It is the hope of the Holcad, of Pi Delta Epsilon, and of the journalism course at Westminster that today's conference will be profitable to the newspaper men and women who are our guests. It is also to be desired that the fellowship of the day will be one to make it long remembered. And, finally, it is the hope of Westminster that this event might be made an annual affair at which problems in editing, writing, printing, and circulating the daily paper may be discussed.

Welcome, Fourth Estate, Journalists, Newspaper Men and Women, or whatever title you like.

BY WAY OF CAUTION

You are called on to choose between America as it has been and something different. Proponents of the change tell you that the America we have known is an unlovely thing, and they urge you to abandon it. But...when you judge America by the past, do not judge it by its too recent past. Those who invite you to disapprove of America commonly manage to picture to you only the America of the last four years. With your minds focused on that period, I can understand why you should be willing to listen to those who tell you America is a good place to depart from. But I assure you there was an America in existence before the stock market crash of 1929. That there has been an America since 1890 I can testify from personal experience....And I give complete credibility to the historians who say there has been an America since 1776. That America, the whole of America, is what I ask you to keep in mind when you are invited to get rid of it.—Dr. Mark Sullivan, in The Lehigh Alumni Bulletin.

WHO LIVES WHERE AND HOW

Womens Co-op Lodges on Maple Street

Three houses... McKelvey, Robertson, and Minter houses are the homes of 33 students... all one big happy family... However, each young lady is unique in some respects, for instance... Betty Washabaugh goes for walks and collects plant specimens... Virginia Rogers has the most clothes... Ailene Pleister goes in for sport shoes... while Sally Enos collects jewelry and trinkets of all kinds... Anne McEwen has a date every day at 8:55... Lois Taylor diets one day and eats twice as much the next... Elizabeth Charles is always giggling... Betty Brown doesn't like lettuce... while Mary Eleanor Patton drinks a lot of milk... Roberta Ross, Jane Wagner, and Helen Barch cut up during study hours and play bridge in bed... Lucille Williams dashes madly for the phone whenever it rings... all of them convene at the Minter house each night at nine thirty to eat peanut butter sandwiches and discuss the latest boy friends.

Why haven't the men students given some affair for the library fund?—is the cry that rings through the school. The answer is that they are too busy patronizing the affairs sponsored by the women of the college.

"If you haven't anything to do go out and count the flagstones that compose the south terrace," someone told us—we did... there are 736 of them.

We would recommend...

Offering the library fund as an excuse for cutting chapel.

Taking a census of the campus squirrels.

Building a new library.

Doing away with something.

More courses like Professor Baker's.

Closing Thought:

Spring, spring, beautiful spring—bah!

Law-Subject of Last Lecture Course Number

Of interest to pre-law students and others interested in the law, will be the lecture by Harry Hirschman, Doctor of Laws, to be presented Monday evening, April 30 in the college chapel. This number will conclude the Lecture Course program for the year.

Dr. Hirschman, a leading authority on the absurdities and humorous curiosities of the law, has titled his address "What's Wrong With the Law".

He has spent much time in uncovering the law's shortcomings and failures, and has contributed his findings to many of the professional law journals and standard reviews. At present he is syndicating a newspaper feature called "Legal Pollies" which appears in daily papers all over the country.

Presents Recital

Professor Gordon Balch, Nevin presented the third of a series of organ recitals in the College chapel, Tuesday evening, April 17.

The entire program was well chosen, Professor Nevin's own arrangement of "Ave Maria" drawing especial praise. An added feature was the selection "Roses of Picardy", played as an encore.

Editor's Mail Bag

To the Editor of the Holcad:
A word of appreciation should be given to the two honorary societies SPHINX and TARGET for their novel plan in sponsoring an inter-fraternity and inter-sorority sing to be held June 2. This should not only prove an interesting song contest and campus event, but will give impetus to the writing of Westminster Students Songs. Respectfully,
ALAN B. DAVIS

Captain Again

"GLENN O'DONOVAN"

Former Titan Pilots Island Frat Quint

Completing a season of sixteen victories and but one defeat, the Omega Tau Delta fraternity team of Freeport, N. Y., defeated the Minerva A.A. in a three game play-off last week. The fraternity quintet, led by Glenn "Babe" O'Donovan, former Westminster star and present head coach at Freeport High School, dropped the initial contest of the play-off but came back strong to clinch the Long Island championship in the last two games.

O'Donovan, it will be remembered by the old timers, was considered one of the finest forwards ever produced in local circles. Noted for his aggressiveness and remarkable speed and ability to handle the ball, "Babe" captained the Titan team in his final year, and was selected by "Doc" Carlson, Pitt mentor, as an all-time all-American, the running mate of the famed Charley Hyatt. O'Donovan, who has displayed remarkable skill as a coach in high school circles, has adequately followed the footsteps of his predecessor and teacher, Johnny Lawther, in turning out championship football and basketball teams for Freeport high school. While a student at Westminster, "Babe" was master of the T.U.O. fraternity.

The Omegas, composed of former college luminaries of Ohio University and St. Johns, lost the only game of their regular season to the Westminster team during the invasion of the East last December. Other former Westminster students included upon their reserve roster are "Ghint" Andrews and Bob Rose.

W. A. A. NOTES

An interesting program has been announced for the meeting of the American Athletic Association of College Women, being held at Denison college this week-end. Patricia Jones and Fern Fox, representing W.A.A. of Westminster will have the opportunity of hearing a number of nationally known speakers.

Mary K. Browne, national tennis champion of a decade ago will address the group on "Tennis". Other speakers will include Miss Mary Ashly Cheek of Mt. Holyoke college, and Miss Barbara Ellen Joy, founder of the Joy Camps.

An interesting week end of sports, dances, lectures and conferences have been planned for the delegates.

New Tennis Courts Under Construction By Student Workers

In preparation for the coming varsity tennis season, and intra-mural matches, work has begun Thursday on two new tennis courts.

The two new regulation size courts will lie next to the present ones on the athletic field. The project is being completed by student labor under the Student Aid plan, and is under the direction of Jack Hulme.

An increased interest in the sport during the past few years has made the preparation of more courts necessary. The courts will be ready for use in the near future.

District Rivals Dropped From 1935 Schedule

Twenty-two games for the Westminster college basketball team during the 1935 season were approved by the Athletic Council at its spring meeting. There is a possibility that one or two more contests will be added.

The Titan card gives Coach John Lawther's men nine home contests and 13 games away from home. Teams from Ohio, West Virginia, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania are included.

Features of the schedule are an early opening game, on December 19, with Wittenberg at New Wilmington; the addition of three West Virginia teams for a trip in West Virginia; the appearance again of Carnegie Tech, St. Johns of Brooklyn; and games with City College of New York and Pitt.

Teams on the 1934 card who are not on next year's schedule are: Grove City, Thiel, Allegheny, Duquesne, Upsala, Wheaton, and Adrian. New teams on the card are Carnegie Tech, Salem, West Virginia Wesleyan, Rider, Wittenberg, and St. Johns.

The schedule: Dec. 19, Wittenberg, home; Dec. 28, John Marshall, Jersey City, N. J.; Dec. 29, St. Johns, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dec. 31, City College, New York City; Jan. 3, Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh; Jan. 5, Glenville, home; Jan. 7, Slippery Rock, home; Jan. 12, Waynesburg, home; Jan. 16, Salem, home.

Jan. 23, Pitt, Pittsburgh; Feb. 4, Bethany, home; Feb. 6, Geneva, home; Feb. 11, Bethany, Bethany, W. Va.; Feb. 13, Edinboro, Erie; Feb. 15, Rider, home; Feb. 20, Waynesburg, Waynesburg; Feb. 21, Salem, Salem, W. Va.; Feb. 22, Glenville, Glenville, W. Va.; Feb. 23, West Virginia Wesleyan, Buckhannon, W. Va.; Feb. 27, Edinboro, home; March 2, Slippery Rock, Slippery Rock; March 4, Geneva, Beaver Falls.

Amazons Organize Mushball League

By "Libby" Cone

Not to be outdone by the fraternity mushball schedule already under way, Miss Love announces that the girl's soft ball teams will open a big league pennant race as soon as the weather permits. In consideration of the grass on the hockey field (and in order to strike their stride before exhibiting it) they have remained indoors to date, scheduling hitting practice for the fielders and pitching training for the veteran hurling staff of Ralston, Sewall, McKnight, and Fox.

To Lola Sewall goes credit for the first broken window in the gym, the result of a powerful four base hit during practice.

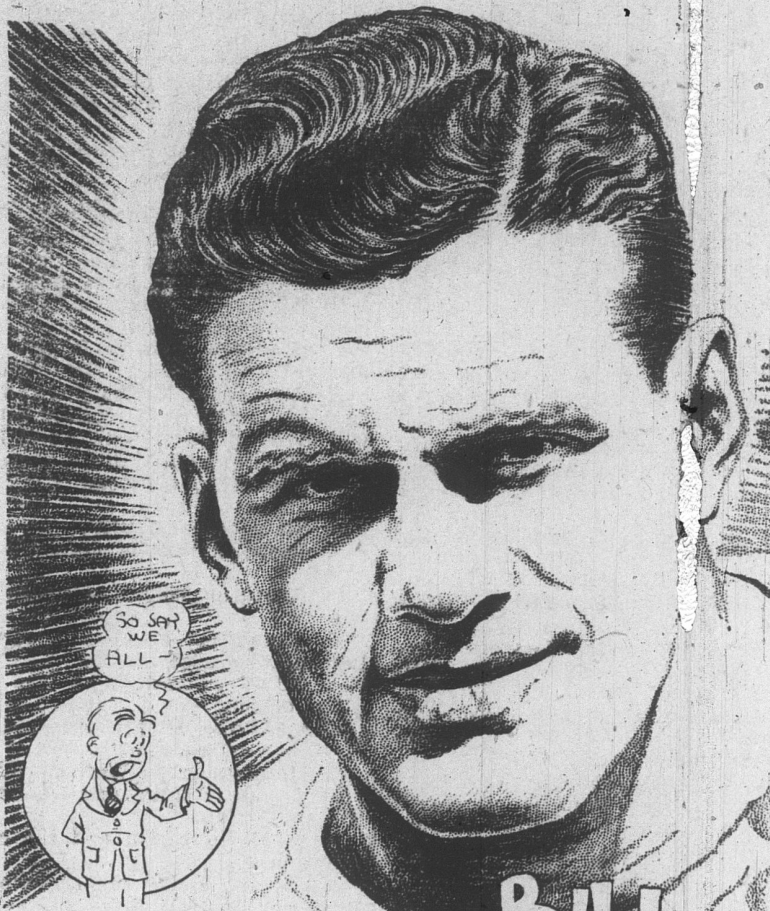

Pat Jone's batting average is rising rapidly, and with signs of spring activity on the campus, and the "grass getting greener all the time" it won't be long until the "Westminster Collegianettes" will leave their training camp and storm the hockey field for a thrilling opener.

Cribbs And Hughes To Pilot 1935 Panthers

At a recent meeting of the athletic board of the University of Pittsburgh, it was decided and announced by "Doc" Carlson, director of the Panther court destinies, that Claire Cribbs, all-American center and Willie Hughes, veteran forward, will act as co-captains during the 1935 season. Both of these stars will be well remembered by Westminster fans who saw the Titans attempt the taming of the Pitt Panther at the stadium last February.

Kaps Have Green Team In College Mushball League

By Dick Nelson

From upon New Castle street the Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity sends a team into intra-mural competition which will bear close watching by the other members of the loop. In last year's campaign they ran second and their team is equally as good this season. There are few veterans left but the pledges are showing up well. Here's a little dope on the Kaps:

Clarence Manor, regular pitcher, has had two years experience in mush-ball here and should be in top form this year.

"Bill" Offutt, also a veteran of two seasons here, holds down the roving short-stop position.

"Walt" Whiteside, who hails from Bakerstown, is new to this intra-mural mushball league. He plays at the first sack and shows promise of being one of the best initial sackers in the league.

"Red" Carter, a Pittsburgh boy, manages the second station of the diamond for the first time this year.

"Doc" Dawson is in his third year of inter-fraternity ball here. The punster's stronghold is at short.

"Johnny" Wilhelm ties up the hot corner of the diamond, third base. "Knowy" is also a veteran, being in his third year of intra-mural play.

"Walt" Ritter, who came to Westminster from Gettysburg college at the beginning of the semester, plays the right field position for the Kaps.

"Dave" Rowlands, also a new man in Jack Hulme's loop, covers the center garden.

"Bill" Whiteside inhabits left field for the New Castle street boys for the first time this year.

"Kenny" Smith, another newcomer, is the backstop for the Kaps. In addition to these mentioned are numerous subs who are capable of holding down the various positions. They are Leiby, Walters, Davis, Morris, McGeorge, Regester, Ewalt, and Nelson.

"Fitch" McMinn manages this fraternity team.

Six Teams Entered In Intra-Mural Mush Ball League

With six games being played during the first week, the 1934 intra-mural mushball league has begun action under the direction of Jack Hulme. The league consists of six teams, each of the five fraternities and the Non-frat group having out-fits on the field.

Hulme announces that two rounds of 15 games each will be played this spring. This will enable practically all men students to take part, either in the capacity of players or as officials. To date, the sport has received the attention of 75 players and 12 officials making a total of 87 participants.

In order to make a more interesting game, one that will attract more spectators, certain changes have been made in the system formerly followed. The mushball field has been moved from the rough grounds on which the games were played in previous years, to the far end of the football field. The base line has been changed from 45 ft. to 60 ft., and the pitcher's box has been moved back two feet, placing it 37 ft. from home plate.

All these changes will make for a faster game, and are in accordance with the changes made in all Class A mushball circuits.

It is the aim of the Athletic Department to have all men students take an active part in intra-mural athletics, and it is hoped that the majority of them will do so this spring.

YMCA District Conference Now In Session Here

College Y. M. C. A.'s of western Pennsylvania are meeting here today and tomorrow for their annual cabinet training conference, which is under the auspices of the western Pennsylvania Student Council of the organization.

Registration will take place in the Commuter's room in the main building this evening from five to seven o'clock. The conference will open officially at 7:30 p. m. in the United Presbyterian church.

Edward L. Sittler, Uniontown, acting secretary of the western Pennsylvania area, will call the meeting to order. The welcoming message will be given by Wilbur Christy, on behalf of the Westminster Y. M. C. A., and will be followed by a response from Donald Gibboney, Slippery Rock, president of western Pennsylvania Student Council.

A short worship service will be led by James Jacobsen, after which Dr. R. F. Galbreath will deliver the keynote address. Rev. Dr. Richard Aspinwall, Morgantown, W. Va., director of extension work at West Virginia university, will then speak on "The Vicious Circle".

At 9:30 the state Student Council will hold its semi-annual meeting for the election of officers, and the first session will be closed.

At 8 o'clock tomorrow morning the delegates will observe a morning watch, after which they will assemble in the United Presbyterian church for the worship service to be led by Rev. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the local United Presbyterian church.

Senior Committees Completing Plans For Commencement

Plans for the eightieth annual commencement, when 34 seniors will be graduated, are being completed by various committees of the class. Elmer Meider, president, announces.

As the program now shapes up, the first event of the commencement season will be on Saturday, June 2, when the inter-fraternity and inter-sports "sing", sponsored by Target and Sphinx, will be held on the south terrace at 6:30 p. m. That same evening, the senior prom will be held in the gymnasium.

Commencement activities proper begin on the following Saturday afternoon with class reunions, following which, the coronation of the May queen will be held on the south terrace, at 6 p. m.

The Christian Association sermon, sponsored by Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., will be delivered in the United Presbyterian church Sunday morning, June 10, at 11 a. m. Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will present a vespers organ recital at 4 p. m. in the college chapel, and the baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by President R. F. Galbreath at 8 p. m. in the college chapel will conclude the Sabbath program.

Monday morning, June 11, as usual will find the athletic council meeting in the gym at 9:15 a. m., and the board of trustees meeting in the Little Theatre at 10:15 a. m.

Commencement exercises, which will probably be held on the South terrace, will start at 2 p. m., June 11. Dr. Samuel Gamble, minister of the second United Presbyterian church, Butler, will deliver the commencement address.

New Attendants Named By Louise Johnston

Louise Johnston, last year's May Queen, announces that Martha Goodwin will take the place of Marjorie Glass, who did not return to school this year, in her court during the coronation ceremony to be held Saturday, June 9 on the South Terrace. The other senior girls who will serve as Miss Johnston's attendants are: Betty Newell, Jean Mankedick, Jane Baker, Grace Kelly, and Esther Caughey. These girls also took part in last year's ceremony as members of the queen's court.

Titusville Choir Sings 'Gloria Train', 'Finlandia'

The Titusville high school, a capella group, which sang in the college chapel Thursday morning, April 26, is in the course of a trip to Pittsburgh and near vicinity. The 43 student performers accompanied by their director, Mr. Hugh Olmes and violin accompanist, Major Olmes, are planning to visit Grove City, Zelenople, and Wilkinsburg, as well as other suburbs of Pittsburgh. In a recent district contest in Oil City, this group was awarded second place.

Among the most popular selections presented Thursday morning were: "Gloria Train", a negro spiritual; and "Finlandia", a folk song portraying the growing discontent of the oppressed peasants. The encore, which showed considerable skill and mastery of technique, was "Hos-podi-po-milui", the mystic and unusual response used in the Greek Catholic service.

The director, Mr. Olmes, has served in that capacity for four years. It is his brother, Major Olmes, who plays the violin accompaniment in the two unusual arrangements of "The Swan" and "The Old Refrain". This idea is a new one to Titusville high school, and according to the high school singers, very difficult.

Six Honoraries To Pledge On Tap Day

Six honorary fraternities will announce their pledges at a Tap Day program, sponsored by Sphinx, to be held in the college chapel Tuesday, May 1.

Wilbur Christy and Robert Douglass will open the chapel hour with devotionals, following which the program will be turned over to Elmer Meider, president of Student Council, who will introduce the honorary groups to the student body.

Presidents of the various organizations will announce their pledges and will present them with pledge symbols. Leaders of the honorary fraternities who will take part in the program are: Harold Polonus, Sphinx, senior men's honorary; Charles Branfield, Pi Delta Epsilon, men's journalistic fraternity; Wilbur Christy, Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debate group; Geoffrey Sowash, Masquers, dramatic fraternity; Hershel Richard, Delta Nabla, mathematics honorary; and Ruth Russell, Psi Nu, women's journalistic fraternity.

Arrangements for the Tap Day program are under the direction of Alan Van Harper, William Douglas, and Robert Douglass.

Sponsors Style Show

Gretchen Smith, representative of the New Castle Dry Goods, New Castle, announces that a style review sponsored by the New Castle store will be presented in the Little Theatre, Wednesday, May 2, at 8 p. m. Students and faculty members are cordially invited.

Extensive Debate Season Includes Fifty-one Contests

More varsity debates were scheduled for this year than for any previous year of Westminster's existence, amounting to a grand total of 51, this does not include certain exhibition affairs held in the college chapel, or New Castle, where Marjorie Scott, Wilbur Christy, Virginia Booth, and Charles Brown debated before the Woman's club. Neither does it take into account a college symposium held at Allegheny and attended by Virginia Booth.

The fact that 26 actively participated in intercollegiate debates is evidence enough that a keen interest in this activity has been aroused on the campus. Of the 26 debaters, 16 were men students and 10, co-eds. There were five seniors, three juniors, nine sophomores, and nine freshmen.

It has been the policy of the speech department to allow as many squad members as possible to participate. This is directly opposed to the idea of concentrating all attention on three or four good speakers, a plan employed by many colleges. Therefore, the fact that 50 per cent of the debates were lost is no more than a natural and expected result of such a broad-minded system.

Teachers Meet Tomorrow In College Chapel

Westminster's department of education is the sponsor of the annual educational conference to be held here tomorrow, and according to present figures, 30 colleges and 200 high schools will be represented, making one of the largest groups ever to assemble in this district in the interests of education.

A full program has been planned, under the direction of Professor J. D. Lawther, head of the committee in charge of arrangements. The conference will be divided into two separate sessions, both to be held in the college chapel, the one in the morning dealing with social science, while the afternoon discussion will be devoted to adult education.

Dr. W. D. Gamble, superintendent of the Sharon schools will preside during the morning session which will begin at 10 a. m. Dr. Ben G. Graham, superintendent of Pittsburgh schools, will give the main address on "The Expansion of the Social Science Curriculum." After this, there will be a general discussion period dealing with pertinent questions on the present educational setup.

At 12:30 p. m., the college will entertain the delegates at a luncheon to be served at Hillside.

The afternoon session will begin at 2 p. m. with Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools, acting as chairman. Dr. F. G. Henke of Allegheny college will present a talk on the theme of the afternoon assembly, "Adult Education." His talk will be followed by a group discussion, after which the conference will be concluded.

Geneva and Allegheny Meet In Chapel Debate

The longest chapel service of the entire year was held this morning, when 55 minutes were devoted to a debate between Allegheny and Geneva colleges on the subject: Resolved: That in schools of the Tri-State conference should be permitted to grant 10 athletic scholarships.

Geneva debaters were Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Griffith. The men representing Allegheny were Mr. Dennis and Mr. Crawford.

These men have debated the same proposition before in their own schools, and came here seeking a neutral audience. But the fact that all members of the conference have already voted in favor of abolishing athletic scholarships does not seem to have weakened affirmative arguments in the minds of many Westminster students.

Will Lead Grand March

DAVID HARRIS

Dave Harris, president of the junior class will lead the Grand March at the junior prom tonight.

'Dramusical' Will Be Produced By Girls' Glee Club

Something new in the line of musical entertainment will be presented by the Glee Club, Tuesday evening, May 1, at the Community house in the form of a dramusical entitled "Following Foster's Footstep."

The libretto for the dramusical was written by Henry A. Schauffer, a recent chapel speaker here, and the musical score was composed by Gordon Balch Nevin. The composition is original with Mr. Nevin, except for his arrangement of three of Stephen Foster's melodies in modern concert style. The plan and construction of this work are so unique that it was necessary to coin a new term, "dramusical", to properly designate the result. The dramusical emphasizes the musical content and eliminates the usual amateur histrionics.

The theme depicts a woman's club which has gathered for an afternoon tea. A program, planned for the meeting, celebrates Stephen Foster. There are six solo voices, two quartets, a trio, a dramatic reader, and a choral unit.

The cast is as follows: Mrs. Montague, chairman of the club; Betty Osterloh; Mrs. B. Z. Sawyer, a woman with an unquenchable tongue; McClees Murray; Mrs. Swinburn; Rose Anne Boor; Mrs. Althouse; Jean Allen; and Mrs. Merrymont, Bernice Turner. The committee chairman, Esther Qinsmore, Comfort Spelman, Jane Gilmore, and Dorothy Patch, make up one quartet, and the lyric quartette consists of Marion Werner, Sadie Mae Foltz, Lois Greer, and Rose Anne Boor. The trio members are Florence Marriott, Ruth Johnson, and Margaret Weber. Lee Woodside is Mrs. LeCler, the accompanist, and Miss Hall, the reader, is Maxine Jacobs.

Committees Appointed For Sophomore Dance

Robert Willison, president of the sophomore class, has appointed committees for the sophomore dance to be held in the gymnasium, Friday, May 25.

The committees named are: general, Donald Wood, chairman, Josephine McGoun, David Kennedy; orchestra, Bruce Bower, chairman, Edith Carson, Mary Fleming; decorations, Jeanne Rolfe, chairman, Jane Holland, Lucille Nevin; tickets, Harvey Snyder, chairman, George McGeoch, Gerald Kloss; advertising, Kenneth McCormack, chairman, Walter Donaldson, Jerry Auld; and chaperons, Evelyn Wilson, chairman, Susan Barnes, and McClees Murray.

Contributes To Fund

Among the donations to the library fund during the past week bringing the total way above $400, was the gift of $50 by Mr. H. C. Judson, father of Evelyn Judson, a member of the senior class.

Curly Smith To Play At Junior Prom Tonight

Grand march, gala decorations, gay music, and glorious fun will be the theme of this year's junior prom to be held tonight in the college gym from 9 to 1 p. m.

Students, faculty, and alumni will enjoy the syncopated harmony of Curly Smith's ten-piece orchestra, who have been imported direct from Cincinnati, where they entertained audiences in the Florentine room of Hotel Gibson. They are also a daily feature over station WLW and are making their initial appearance in this section, tonight.

The gym will be transformed into a ballroom by means of modernistic decorations which will be carried out in a color scheme of green and yellow. Indirect lighting will be effected by placing vari-colored lights behind silhouetted draperies. A large dome, lined with yellow, will be suspended from the ceiling. The orchestra platform and the corners of the gymnasium will be backed with palms and ferns.

With this delightful setting as a background, the grand march will be formed with the opening strains of the orchestra. David Harris and his guest, Virginia Harris, New Castle, will lead the procession, followed by Virgil Wettich, May Queen-elect and her escort, Robert Lake, New Castle.

The committees in charge of arrangements are: John Kelso, general chairman, and Charlotte Bartlett, Harold Griffith, assistant chairmen; Walter Shaw, chairman of orchestra committee, assisted by Robert Faber and Louise Fink; John Hine, advertising committee chairman, aided by Charles Trevasis and Virgil Wettich; Mary Rebecca Morrow, chairman of chaperone committee, with Nellie Young and Helen Snyder as assistants; Ruth Martin, chairman of program committee, and Charles Ferney, assistant; Byron Elder, chairman of ticket committee, aided by Katherine Lynch and Patricia Jones; and Charlotte Melhorn, chairman of decoration committee, with Betty McCrory and Lucille Litman as assistants.

Members of the faculty who will attend as guests of honor are: Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Swindler, Dean Mary E. Turner, and Professor and Mrs. Harold Brennan.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Black, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, Professor and Mrs. Ben Ewema, and Professor and Mrs. C. E. Rankin will act as chaperons for the evening.

Large Crowd Here For Journalism Day

Westminster was the scene for reunions of many district newspapermen when they met here for Journalism Day, sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, last Saturday.

The main address of the day was made by John E. Allen, editor of the Lynotype News, who spoke to 129 delegates at the afternoon session. His talk was an interesting and highly informational one, dealing with "Newspaper Make-up and Typography."

At the evening session held after a banquet at Hillside, with Professor R. X. Graham acting as toastmaster, four local newspapermen were included on the program. Those who spoke were Larry Flint, Youngstown Vindicator, who dealt with "Brightening up the Editorial Page"; Bart Richards, New Castle News, who dwelt on "City Editors: Their Virtues and Vices"; William Aiken, Sharon News-Telegraph, who recalled "Reminiscences of Early Newspaper Work"; and Joe Shatto, Sharon Herald.

Senior Reception

The annual formal senior reception will be held in the Hillside parlors at 8:30 o'clock, Thursday evening, May 17. Members of the graduating class and a group of faculty members will compose the receiving line.

Refreshments will be served, and music for those who care to dance will be furnished by the college orchestra.

COUNTING EDUCATION'S COST

Education is something of a commodity. The idealists, of course, will resent such a statement. The practical mind will accept the saying and make its application.

If education is a commodity, it must be the type of commodity which is in demand; the type which is needed. Just as it would be foolish to manufacture oil lamps in large quantities for sale today, so it will appear foolish to cling to old educational methods, old curricula, old attitudes in a new age.

Studied as a commodity, education costs as much as many other necessities in life. More than this, higher education for an equal number of students costs less to the public in church colleges than in tax-supported institutions.

Of the four hundred and fifty thousand students in institutions of higher learning, one-half are enrolled in colleges founded by the church. This in itself is not startling. What is remarkable, and somewhat typical of the enthusiasms and energies of liberal arts colleges, is that all church colleges in the country work on one-sixth the budget of the tax-supported and land-grant institutions.

If we compare, for instance, one of the largest state universities, with an annual income of almost four million dollars, with 50 representative denominational colleges, whose combined income each year is three million dollars, we see something of the picture. Fifty different institutions, just imagine, do not total as much income per year as this one tax-supported university!

And yet that is not the complete picture. The total attendance at the fifty church colleges is fourteen thousand; while the attendance at the large university is six thousand! In other words, these fifty church colleges receive two-thirds as much money as the state university in order to educate more than twice as many students!

Who pays the bill? In the case of the tax-supported institution, the public pays. The public which attends the institution? No—thousands who have never seen it. In the case of the church college, the endowment, the student, and, ideally, the church pay. Approximately 39 per cent comes from tuition and fees, 31 per cent from annual gifts, and 30 per cent from endowment.

Is not this a good investment? Comparatively speaking, is there not less waste even in running separate church colleges than in handling a large university? The figures prove that church colleges, perhaps due to the never-tiring energies of some guardian angel, seem to survive depressions, educate more young people with less money, cost the people of the state less, and certainly produce highest grade graduates.

When the church, and the members of the church have questions as to the value of their own colleges, they should keep these facts in mind. When the general public, over-burdened with taxes and threatened with new taxes, realize these facts, the church college will take on added significance and importance. And when we study history and find that American education, elementary, secondary, and higher was all organized by churches, we must agree that the continuance of the church college is something to be fought for.

A NEW TRADITION

Tap day, giving all honorary fraternities a chance to announce their pledges at the same time, is being initiated by Sphinx this year.

Tuesday's chapel service will be in charge of the student council. Presidents of honorary fraternities will be introduced and will pledge their new members at this time.

Traditions such as stunt day, May day, the Junior prom and many others are what make college life both interesting and long to be remembered. No doubt Tap day will be foremost among these, as it gives a chance to honor leaders of the campus who by their activities have become eligible for membership in one of the honorary groups.

All fraternities have co-operated with Sphinx in endeavoring to honor their new members on Tap day, but Target, women's senior honorary fraternity. Perhaps this organization thought it would be more exclusive to have a special ceremony of their own, although this failure to co-operate indicates poor sportsmanship on the part of the women's group.

Intercollegiate Notes

Catholic students of College Newman Clubs from Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan met recently at Purdue University for a three-day conference.

Predicting the end of the "skyscraper age", Frank Lloyd Wright, prominent American architect, told a Northwestern University audience recently that "the architecture of the future will grow out of the inward nature of the American people."

The speaker at the 109th commencement exercises of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute will be the Honorable R. B. Bennett, prime minister and minister of affairs and finance of Canada.

Seven hundred student musicians representing 27 schools assembled at South Dakota State College recently to participate in the annual music contest.

Two Ripon (Wisconsin) College faculty men recently campaigned for municipal offices in that city.

The geology department of Indiana University has presented a collection of fossils which compose Indian limestone to Rockefeller Center in New York City.

Ten University of Iowa students and graduates have been nominated for appointment as Lydia Roberts fellows at Columbia University.

Nine members of the University of Michigan national championship football team will forsake their customary, moleskins for silk stockings and high heels when they appear in the student Union Opera.

Complete modernization of all elevators in residence halls at Columbia University will be undertaken soon at a cost of $23,500.

Two hundred and fifty students of Seth Low College of Columbia University marched in the parade to celebrate the 100th Centennial of the borough of Brooklyn, N. Y. Other college units participating included Long Island University, Brooklyn College, and St. John's University.

Frank C. Walker, secretary of President Roosevelt's national emergency council, has been named honorary president of the Notre Dame University Alumni Association. He graduated in the class of '09.

Dr. Paul H. Douglas, University of Chicago economics professor, has been awarded the $5,000 prize for the best original work on "The Theory of Wages" offered Hart, Schaffner & Marx.

Drew University in Madison, N. J., has been willed more than $4,548,000 by the late Ella V. von E. Wendel.

Eleven visiting professors from five nations in all sections of the world will be members of the University of Hawaii summer session faculty.

A new approach to drama as one of the revealing arts of the age in which it was produced will be introduced at the Pennsylvania State College as part of the coming summer session curriculum.

Browne Hall

Browne Hall, the home of 84 girls—where the residents claim that they have too many gelatine desserts and sugar cookies—where the proctors giggle during meals—and charming co-eds entertain dates in the luxurious lounge—We learned today that: Anne Boyer receives more phone calls than any other girl on the first floor—Jane Hanna and "Sunny" Porter dance perfectly together—syncopation sisters, eh what?—Peg Sands is called "Wooden Shoes"—can you guess why?...and speaking of shoes...Helen Byers rarely wears shoes while in the dorm...fancy bedroom slippers are her weakness...Beverly Blythe holds the unofficial W.A.A. record for dessert eating...Helen Dornbeyer, the debater...goes around "shushing" people when they talk too loud...Peg Eversole spends most of her spare time napping...Mary Louise Held is so seldom at the dorm that we couldn't obtain any information about her...Ruth Roess, pronounced, "race" is almost "pokey" at times...Mary Shannon and Peg Elder's chief worries are obtaining transportation between here and Butler on week-ends...Martha Blackwood claims that everyone should "strive for a well rounded life while in college"...Jeanne Allen and Peg Thorne are cross-word puzzle fiends...Gretchen Smith and May Smyth (both names pronounced alike, thank you) are the dormitory dramatists...Jane Carlisle is competing for the title of Dormitory clown...Doris Bandlow receives the most mail...Helen Swartz is generally conceded to be about the sweetest and most popular Browne hall resident...and in our own opinion "Peg" seems to be about the most popular nickname.

Swede Hunneke caused quite a stir at the gym when he was discovered, hiding beneath a huge pile of inflated balloons, which were to be used for the Junior prom. Second childhood, Swede?

In Mrs. Mary C. McConagha's class room there is a framed motto which says, "You may have brains, but can you prove it?" Recently some wag wrote under this, "I do not have brains, and alas, someone proved it to me."

Closing Stock Comments.

Editor's Mail Bag

To the Editor of the Holcad:

Our unhonored prophets are already insisting that the past week has been one of vast significance to Westminster.

Very quietly but very thoroughly that Machiavelli of the faculty, John Lawther, has destroyed the last vestige of independence and individuality the college possessed. "General Standard Sophomore Tests" have been instituted, and at that single blow Westminster has been driven into the ranks of those mad seekers after high "provisional percentile", super-"I.Q." men, and "Standard Educational Rating." Apparently, the faculty has lost faith in itself. "Whirl" is king, having thrown out Zeus!

Amused and disdainful after the immediate shock of disclosure, sophomores bow politely to a Power higher than their own. As far as they are concerned, the "General Test" means but an unexpected vacation. If these tests are required for junior classification or a teacher's certificate, they won't be very hard.

It may take years, the prophets say, but the "General Test", I.Q's, etc., will some day teach our pusillanimous pedants and ebullient educators the simple fact that statistics prove nothing and, as T. E. Lawrence says, "what rot all systems are!"

An Unsystematic Sophomore Signed,

Dear Unsystematic Sophomore:

Flattered as I am by the honor you do me, I cannot claim the entire credit. The tests were instituted by faculty action, and by a faculty whose combined intelligence and judgment is susceptible neither to the subtle innuendoes of Machiavellian propaganda, nor to the defense mechanisms of the intellectual neophyte. If the sophomore tests did really mean only "an unexpected vacation" to you, you would not be so emotionally wrought up over them.

That statistics prove nothing is very well known. Statistical data are based on the theory of probabilities. Equally well known is the fact that the world without system would be but disorder and chaos. And I agree with you that the tests will be a vacation from co-education, and trout fishing.

Titan-Duquesne Court Relations Still Hang Fire

By Jerry Auld

From all available reports Westminster will not meet the Dukes on the basketball court next winter. As the season ended relations were definitely announced as severed but when Christy Flanagan assumed the role as athletic director at the "Bluff" school, negotiations were again taken up. Flanagan offered the Titans two games, both of which were to be played in January. These dates were not suitable to the Westminster officials so Flanagan proposed one game to be played in Pittsburgh. Westminster refused this offer and relations stand as severed.

Duquesne and Westminster have split even in their last twelve games during the Lawther regime. From the Duke standpoint this isn't a favorable record, and if there is one team they like to beat, it's Westminster. In offering one game the Dukes had a chance to beat the Titans without having to face them again. According to reports, Duquesne feels that they are on a par with Pitt. The latter has a one game contract with Westminster for the next season, but relations in this case are different.

The Sharon game, a much talked about affair, seemed to climax the two year relationship between the two schools. Duquesne hated to lose that game, and ever since more and more alibis have been creeping out. Titan fans can rest assured that the Duke quint of next year will never reach the standard set by Reiter, Moore, Brenner, Feldman, Birch & Co. Chick Davies will probably discover many gray hairs when he tries to build his "perfect team" around Polly Birch. When Duquesne can show Westminster how they can go to Pittsburgh to play for a sum which doesn't reach three figures, suggestions would be very welcome.

Although Duquesne's "Fiery Dukes" are absent from the schedule, color will be supplied par excellence by Pitt and Tech, both of which will present strong teams next winter.

Beginning Monday April 30, the fraternity tennis stars will have an opportunity to practice for a week in preparation for the Intra-mural tournament.

The matches will begin the following Monday, the schedule of which will be announced later. Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week will find the courts reserved for the men of the college, while the girls will have possession of them during Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday afternoons.

The organization of a varsity tennis team this year will eliminate many men from competition in the Intra-mural tournament and therefore will enable more players to compete in the sport.

Plans Meets

R. X. GRAHAM

Graham Announces Inter-Fraternity Track Meet Plans

Encouraged by the success of former years, Prof. R. X. Graham, track coach and assistant athletic director, has announced that two intra-mural track meets will be held in the near future. These meets are a part of the intra-mural program under direction of the Athletic department. Teams entering will be sponsored by the various fraternities and the non-fraternity group on the campus.

The first of these meets will be held on May 11. Competition will be staged in ten main events. The running events are the 110 yard, 220 yard, 440 yard, 220 yard dashes and the mile; field events are the discus throw, javelin throw, shot put, high jump, and broad jump. The team from the T.U.O. fraternity took the meet in last spring's competition.

The second meet, which is to be held on May 16, will consist of a half mile relay race. Each team entered will be composed of four members, each running 220 yards. The Delts took this relay race last year. Entries for these two meets must be placed with Prof. Graham on or before May 7.

W. A. A. NOTES

By "Libby" Cone

Election of officers for the coming year took place at the Tuesday meeting of W.A.A. Officers elected are: Patricia Jones, president; Virginia Rumbaugh, vice president; Jane Holland, secretary; Harriet Jackson, treasurer; and Virginia Luckhardt, hike supervisor.

A class in tennis fundamentals is being taught by Miss Love every Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the gym. The class will be continued for four weeks, during which time technique in the forehand drive, backhand drive, service, and court positions will be explained. Girls will be given an opportunity for practice in the gym.

W.A.A. will present the winding of the May Pole as a new feature of May Day ceremonies this year. It is planned to make it an annual feature on the program, to be performed by members of W.A.A.

The colorful presentation is being directed by Jane Holland, who announces that 24 W.A.A. girls, gowned in white, will present an American college girl dance, manipulating rainbow colored streamers about the pole.

Baseball "Comedy Of Errors" Enacted By Delt Nine

After a glorious sendoff from the elm-studded campus, yesterday, the Delta Phi Sigma baseball team arrived in New Castle for their opening game only to discover that they had arrived at the wrong field. Having rectified this insignificant mistake, the stars of the diamond arrived at the correct ball park, several hours later only to discover that

TUO Sluggers Bid For Second League Crown

By "Dick" Nelson

From all appearances, the fraternity from up on Furnace Hill is sending as good a mushball team into the spring intra-mural competition as they did into the basketball league last winter. So far this season they have taken all opponents over with considerable ease. They have a clever, fast fielding team and possess a number of hard hitting players. This team is one of the favorites to land on the top of the mushball heap here.

The players:

"Banjo" McCall, who stops the hot ones at short-stop, is playing his fourth year with his fraternity.

"Dutch" Sweeney, who seems to excel in any of his athletic endeavors, plays at third base for the T. U. O's. He is also one of the best pitchers in the league. "Dutch" is in his third year of fraternity mushball here.

"Lou" Franklin, who is playing his first season with this team, pitches or holds down the second sack.

Ray Elliott plays at the initial station for his first season.

"Bob" Grier, who promises to become one of the best backstops in Jack Hulme's loop, is in his first season of play.

"Jim" Bailey, another first year man to hold down a regular position, roves around right field.

"Hump" Campbell, a veteran of four seasons, gathers them in at his center field position.

"Ed" Brown, plays the moving short-stop position. This is "Ed's" first year in inter-fraternity mushball.

"Joe" Keterer, another four year veteran, camps over at left field.

In addition to the regular first team the T.U.O's possess some equally good utility men.

"Roger" Paris, who played for this fraternity team last year, can fill nearly any position, but feels most at home on the second cushion.

"Tony" Krulatz, a first year man, can either pitch or hold the hot corner at third base.

High School Mentor

ALAN HARPER

Alan Harper Receives Coaching And Teaching Post At McKean High

Alan Van Harper, a member of this year's senior class, will teach and coach at McKean high school next year. Harper will teach science and coach football and track.

Harper won his letter in both football and track at Westminster, playing halfback on the grid team, and running the quarter mile in track.

Harper has been a reporter for three years and sports editor for one year of the weekly newspaper; has been stage manager for Little Theatre plays; and has been a member of class and varsity debate teams. He is also a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity; Tau Kappa Alpha, national debating fraternity; and Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity.

He is a member of the Y.M.C.A. cabinet, a member of Delta Phi Sigma social fraternity, and a member of Sphinx, senior men's honorary society.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Haldy, of Turtle Creek, Pa. have announced the arrival of a baby daughter, Barbara, April 22.

Mr. Haldy is athletic coach and a teacher in the department of mathematics in Union high school, Turtle Creek. He was a letterman on the football team in 1929 and 1930 and a member of the graduating class of 1931.

Varsity Tennis Season Opens Tuesday May 8

Titans To Meet Slippery Rock In Initial Match Here

Eight tennis matches have been carded for the Westminster tennis team. It may be that one or two more will be added.

The Titan racquet team will start the season on Tuesday, May 8, with a home match with Slippery Rock State Teachers' College. During the third week in May, the Titans will play four matches: May 14, Duquesne at Pittsburgh; May 15, Geneva at New Wilmington; May 17, Allegheny at New Wilmington; and May 18, Duquesne at New Wilmington.

The fourth week in May will find the racquet team playing two matches: May 22, Slippery Rock at Slippery Rock; and Allegheny at Meadville on May 23. The final match of the season will be with Geneva at Beaver Falls on the morning of May 30.

Veterans on the squad are: Everett Campbell, Geoffrey Sowash, Tom McClure. New candidates for the team include: Arthur Brownell, Robert Grier, and Ray Sweeney.

Your justifiable criticism of percentages and standards as ends instead of means, and of super I.Q.'s as, in themselves, indices of greatness, all deserve some attempt, on my part, to explain the real purpose of the sophomore examinations.

Will you not agree:

1. That one cannot know without knowing something.
2. That the number of credit units recorded in the office files is a very inaccurate indication of one's knowledge.
3. That knowledge of one's progress, one's relative degree of success in the main fields of learning is a strong stimulus to mental effort.
4. That the comprehensive objective examinations is one of the best measuring instruments available today, and that teaching and counseling students remain haphazard, uncertain, and unconvincing without such measurement.
5. That it is desirable to find out what our sophomores know at the end of their two years in college, in comparison with what the sophomores of other colleges know.

This examination covers the fields of English, Social Science, Fine Arts, General Mathematics, General Science, World Literature, and Contemporary Affairs. It is constructed by the Cooperative Test Service, a service sponsored by the American Council of Education, and subsidized by the General Education Board to the amount of $500,000. Dr. Ben Wood of Columbia is director and has on his staff such men as Henmon of Wisconsin, Kelly of Harvard, Lindquist of Iowa, Paterson of Minnesota, Ruch of California, Terman of Stanford, and Tyler of Ohio State. This national service was started in 1932 with colleges from 38 states participating. Many colleges have taken up this work since. Other subject-matter specialists have been added to the original group of test-makers. The Service is not a money making scheme but a group cooperative project.

I do not claim that the test project is without fault. I know that it will mean two very strenuous days of mental activity. If you try to do your best on the examination, you will dust the cobwebs off almost every previous experimental path in your cortical association areas.

I ask you to give this examination your best efforts in deference to the judgment of the nationally famous men who are sponsoring it. It is the product of the combined intelligence of many of the best brains in American Education.

Yours,
Machievelli

Y M District Conference

Now In Session Here

At the morning session Philo C. Dix, Harrisburg, state secretary of the Y.M.C.A. will conduct a forum address on "Is the College 'Y' Effective?" The Rev. Schuyler E. Garth will also address the group at this time.

Training groups for officers will meet from 11 to 12 o'clock and will be continued in the afternoon from one to two.

At 12:15 the delegates will be guests at a buffet luncheon to be served by the Y.W.C.A. After this they will again assemble in the United Presbyterian church where there will be a song service and reports of committees will be made.

The forum for the afternoon will be conducted by L. S. Erickson, Pittsburgh. The subject for discussion will be "State Y College Relationships".

A recreational hour will be observed at 4:30 p. m. when the athletic facilities of the college will be at the disposal of the delegates.

The conference banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. at Hillside. Newly-elected officers will be installed at this time, with short talks by old and new presidents. Dr. Richard Aspinwall will again speak, using for his subject "A Philosophy of Life". At 9 o'clock the conference will be adjourned.

The advisory committee for the conference consists of Dr. John Orr, chairman, Dr. I. C. Keller, Professor Clyde Lady, Dr. Wm. E. Purvis of Grove City college, Dr. Ralph J. Neale, William W. Mendenhall, University of Pittsburgh, and R. V. Davis. Wilbur Christy heads the special student committee.

Alumni Day

Alumni day, the annual meeting of graduates and former students will be held on Saturday, June 9. The alumni dinner will probably be held in the United Presbyterian church at noon, and this will be followed by the annual business meeting in the chapel at 1:30. Class reunions will be held afternoon and evening.

Fireflies Present Many

Classical Favorites

"Song of India", "Nile", and "Es-tralita" were some of the old favorites sung by the Fireflies, in the college chapel, Monday night, April 23. The musical ensemble, consisting of a woman's trio and piano accompanist, presented a varied program of classical and semi-classical music. That they were appreciated by the Westminster audience was evidenced by the fact that they were called back more than once for extra selections.

To Present Plays

Members of the Little Theatre group will present two one-act plays at the New Castle women's club, Monday afternoon, April 30.

The plays which will be produced are "Three Wishes" and "The Marriage Proposal". "The Marriage Proposal" and "Spring" were enacted at Shaler high school, Glenshaw, Wednesday, April 25.

Mack Donation Aids In Campus Improvements

According to a recent announcement made by President R. F. Galbreath, Mr. J. S. Mack, McKeesport, has donated funds for landscaping the college campus. This generous gift by Mr. Mack provides for the purchase and planting of shrubbery around Old Main Memorial, Science hall, Browne hall, Hillside, and the gymnasium.

The general plan for beautifying the campus, as explained by President Galbreath, embodies two principle ideas: first, to plant shrubbery that will not require annual replanting; and second, to leave the main campus quadrangle unbroken, placing the shrubbery around the buildings.

The campus has been studied and a thorough plan for the landscaping has been made by Griswold and Company, landscape architects, who will supervise the planting.

Mr. Mack is the donor of the student loan fund, designated as the McElwee Ross Loan Fund, which has been used to aid worthy students during the past few years. This latest contribution is another indication of Mr. Mack's interest in the college, from which his oldest son, Gordon, was graduated with the class of 1930.

Work of grading and seeding the lower campus, which the college itself is doing, is well under way, H. R. Patton, business manager, announces. Other campus improvements, now under way include the building of two additional tennis courts on the athletic field. These will be used by the varsity team.

John Gerstner Made Vice-President Of Y M Student Council

John Gerstner, new president of the Westminster Y.M.C.A., was elected vice-president of the district student council of Y.M.C.A.'s at the conference held here last Friday and Saturday.

The regular conference sessions were held in the assembly room of the United Presbyterian church. Speakers on Friday evening's program were James Jacobsen and Dr. R. F. Galbreath of Westminster, and Rev. Richard Aspinwall, head of the extension department of West Virginia University.

Special speakers on Friday were the Rev. Schuyler E. Garth, of the Christ Methodist Episcopal Church of Pittsburgh, Rev. J. Ralph Neale, of New Wilmington, and Philo C. Dix, state secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

At the banquet held at Hillside in the evening, Edward L. Sittler, acting regional Y.M.C.A. secretary was in charge. The principal speaker was Dr. Richard Aspinwall. Dr. R. F. Galbreath gave the closing address.

Delegates were present from Indiana, Clarion, California, Slippery Rock, and Edinboro state teacher's colleges and from the University of Pittsburgh, Carnegie Tech, Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny, Grove City, and Geneva.

Wilbur Christy was chairman of the Westminster student committee and Dr. John Orr of the faculty advisory committee.

Co-eds Will Escort Men To Novel Party At Hillside Dormitory

Hillside women will be hostesses to the student body at a party to be given at the dormitory Monday evening, May 14. The party will be novel in that the co-eds will escort their guests. Permission has been granted to the young women to call at the fraternity houses for the young men and to return them safely after the party. Dancing and games will constitute the evening's entertainment, and the girls are urged to bring plenty of extra money to treat their boy friends to refreshments—or perhaps the gentlemen will be chivalrous and reverse the transaction.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Lucille Litman, chairman, Jeanne Rolfe, Dorothy Stewart, and Josephine McGoun.

Installation Plans For Beta Phi Alpha Near Completion

Plans are being completed for the installation of Alpha Epsilon chapter of Beta Phi Alpha, national sorority, on the campus, Saturday May 12.

Kappa Alpha Alpha, whose petition to the national group was accepted last fall, will be the twenty-ninth chapter of the sorority.

The first step in installation will be a pledge ceremony to be held in the music recital hall of the conservatory, Wednesday, May 9. The following girls will be pledged: Gladys Blaine, Grace Behm, Nancy Johnston, Grace Kriess, Betty Miller, Dorothy Thomson, Mabel Masters, Wathena Ornduff, Martha Morrow, Mildred Thomas, and Mary E. Morrow.

On Friday evening, May 11, the initiation service will take place, and the final degree of installation will be held Saturday, May 12. Following the formal installation, a banquet will be held at The Tavern at 7 p. m. with the entire Eta province, Pittsburgh, as guests of honor.

Dorothy Thomson, Mildred Thomas, and Nancy Johnston are in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

National officers who will participate in the event are: Della Winters Theda, grand secretary; Louise White, president of Epsilon province; and Lee Price Goff, president of Sigma province.

Varied Dramatic Program Interests 105 Students

Dramatics has been one of the major activities on the campus this year, according to figures which show that 105 students have taken part in acting, staging, directing, and managing 18 presentations of the 12 plays produced during the year.

Twelve different productions were staged on the campus, while eight dramatic programs were presented before audiences in New Castle, Mercer, Canton, O., Glenshaw, and Pittsburgh.

The varied repertoire for the season included two three-act dramas, and 10 one-act productions, representative of many types of drama; notably comedy, phantasy, farce, as well as the dignified and expressionistic types of play.

The extensive program afforded seventy-eight different parts for student portrayal, and an opportunity for 20 other students to act as stage managers, scenery workers, electricians, and property men. In addition to this, seven students were enabled

Harold Bauer's Recital Will Climax Music Week Program

Final plans for music week at Westminster have been completed, Alan B. Davis, director of the conservatory announces. The music week will be held starting Sunday, May 6, and will extend until Friday, May 11.

Sund night in the college chapel the Westminster a cappella choir will produce the cantata, "Behold the Christ", as the first event of the week.

Soloists who will assist the choir are: Mrs. Rankin Johnston, New Wilmington, soprano; Mrs. Daniel McQuiston, New Wilmington, contralto; Mr. Samuel Lewis, New Castle, tenor; and Mr. Richard Johns, New Castle, baritone. Paul McKnight will be at the organ.

The cantata "Behold the Christ", was written by Mrs. L. C. Nevin, mother of Professor Gordon Balch Nevin. Music was composed by the late Dr. George B. Nevin, professor Nevin's father, but was left unfinished at his death and has since been completed by Professor Nevin.

The a cappella choir of the college which will sing the cantata as part of the regular chapel service will be directed by Alan B. Davis.

A mixed recital featuring two piano and two violin duets will be presented Monday evening in the chapel. Vocal, piano, violin, and pipe organ selections will also be included on the program. Sadie Mae Foltz and Cecil Bowles will furnish accompaniments during the evening.

Music for the Tuesday evening program will be furnished by an orchestra consisting of twenty pieces, under the direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron.

Thomas Mansel To Practice Law In County

Thomas Mansell, assistant professor in the history department, has recently been admitted to the Lawrence county bar. Mansell will practice in the Lawrence county courts.

Mansell was graduated from Westminster with the class of 1930, taught economics one year, and was graduated from the Harvard law school last June.

In addition to his duties in a New Castle law office, Mansell has been borough secretary.

Noted Pianist

HAROLD BAUER
Harold Bauer, internationally known pianist, will present a recital in chapel, Friday evening, May 11.

Nevin Will Take Part In Reading Music Week

Gordon Balch Nevin, organist, composer, and professor of organ at Westminster, will give an address and recital on Wednesday, May 9, at Reading, Pa., as part of the Reading observance of national music week.

Professor Nevin will talk about the "Nevin Clan": Ethelbert Nevin, Arthur Nevin, Dr. George B. Nevin, and will also deal with his own compositions. The address will be given in the Hangene Music hall, Reading, and will be followed by a reception.

The organ recital at Reading, also part of the music week celebration, will be given in St. Luke's Lutheran church, the program to feature American composers. Music by various members of the Nevin clan will feature the week in Reading.

Mothers Of Two Girls Die During Past Week

Sad news has come to Westminster's campus in the form of death notices of two students' mothers, Mrs. F. L. Ornduff, and Mrs. J. Alvin Hazlett.

Mrs. Ornduff, mother of Wathena Ornduff, a sophomore in school, died Tuesday afternoon, May 1, after an illness of almost a year. Services were held in the New Wilmington United Presbyterian church, Wednesday, May 2, after which the body was removed to Joplin, Missouri, for burial.

Mrs. Hazlett, mother of Martha Hazlett, a junior, passed away Thursday, March 26. She had been ill for six months. Services were held in Hartstown, and burial in Tarentum.

Pittsburgh Women To Be Guests Of College

The Westminster Women's club of Pittsburgh will be the guest of the college this Saturday and will hold its meeting on the campus. A luncheon at noon in the Hillside dormitory, an inspection trip of buildings and grounds in the afternoon, and a tea in Browne hall will feature the day.

Women of the college faculty will act as table hostesses at the luncheon to be held at Hillside, with the visiting alumnae as guests of the college. Mrs. R. C. McKelvey, president of the club, and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath will pour at the tea, and women of the faculty and wives of faculty men will assist.

The Girls' Glee club will present "Following Foster's Footsteps" at the tea, while incidental music will be furnished by Cecil Bowles and Ellwood Rushworth.

36 Students Pledged By Honoraries

Thirty-six students were honored at tap day exercises held in the chapel Tuesday morning at 10:45, when six honorary societies publicly pledged students who have been outstanding in various activities.

Masquers, honorary dramatics society pledged: Jane Holland, Russell Sewall, and Helen McCuen.

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity honored the following pledges: Clarence Manor, John Byers, and Thomas Smith.

Bids extended by Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debating group were accepted by the following pledges: Melvin Moorhouse, Harold Griffith, Kenneth McCormack, Bruce Bower, Wayne Rush, Thomas Rogers, Marjorie Scott, Virginia Booth, Pearl McConnell, and Charles Brown.

Delta Nabla, honorary mathematics fraternity, announced the following pledges: Jane Veazey, Thelma Merriees, and Helen Louise Taylor.

The following members were pledged to Psi Nu, honorary journalistic sorority for women: Katherine Lynch, Bessie Struck, Helen Louise Taylor, Theresa Burgoon, Virgil Wettich, Dorothy Isaho, Mary R. Morrow, Mildred Ralston, Betty McCrory and Helen Snyder.

Sphinx, senior men's honorary society honored: Donald Kellett, Clarence Manor, Maurice Michmerhuizen, Thomas Smith, G. Hall Todd, William Staples, and Edgar Allis-house.

Chapel opened with a short devotional period led by Wilbur Christy and Robert Douglas. Following this, the program was turned over to Elmer Meider, president of student council, who proclaimed tap day as the innovation of an annual traditional ceremony, sponsored by Sphinx.

Accompanied by a short history of the organization, the president of each group announced the names of the pledges. Officers who took part in the ceremony were: Geoffrey Sowach, Masquers; Ebba Sizer, Psi Nu; Hershel Rickard, Delta Nabla; Charles Branfield, Pi Delta Epsilon; and Harold Polonus, Sphinx.

Seven Girls Pledged By Target In Ceremony Held On South Terrace

Target, senior women's honorary society, held an impressive pledge ceremony on the South terrace, Tuesday evening, May 1, at 7 o'clock.

Seven members of the junior class were pledged following an introductory address by Ruth Russell, president. The new pledges are: Lillian Baird, Betty McCrory, Patricia Jones, Virgil Wettich, Mildred Ralston, Lola Sewall, and Charlotte Melhorn.

Senior members of Target who extended the bids were: Jane Baker, Evelyn Judson, Emily Parker, Helen Wheldon, Betty Newell, Jean Miller, Esther Caughey, Jane Black, and Ebba Sizer.

Dean Mary E. Turner closed the ceremony with a short talk, in which she pointed out that Target has established, as an annual precedent, this individual form of installation.

Miss Elizabeth Stewart and Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, faculty advisors also participated in the ceremony.

Dr. S. C. Gamble To Give Commencement Address

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Cooper Gamble, Butler, a graduate of Westminster college with the class of 1901, will give the commencement address at the eightieth annual commencement exercises on Monday, June 11, President R. F. Galbreath announces.

Other speakers for the commencement season include: Eric Thompson, valedictorian; Wilbur Christy, salutatorian; the Rev. W. F. Harkey, Houston, preacher of the Christian Associations' sermon on Sunday, June 10; and President Robert F. Galbreath, preacher of the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday evening, June 10.

POLITICS vs. HONORARY GROUPS

Fraternity politics has again evidenced itself in campus activities. Six honorary groups announced their pledges in the Tap day ceremonies held in chapel last Tuesday. Most of these organizations it seems have abandoned past practices of pledging everyone who has shown the slightest interest in the fields which they represent and have made membership a valued reward for active service.

Only one of these organizations, Psi Nu, honorary journalistic fraternity women, presents a list of pledges which is questionable. Psi Nu has pledged 10 new members. Three of these girls have worked on both the Holcad and the Argo and have earned the award of membership.
None have become eligible as a result of work on the Handbook leaving seven who must have "earned" their honors through Argo work alone.
Of these seven it has been found that, but one holds a main editorial position and that only two of them have worked hard enough to receive Argo credit.

Members of Psi Nu are discrediting their own membership in lowering their standards of pledging. There is little honor in belonging to an organization so controlled by politics that membership is no longer based on ability and effort.

MORE EXPERIMENTING

Several days ago, if we are to believe all we hear, the History Department held an oral examination to determine the general knowledge of a candidate for a doctorate of philosophy. The nervous candidate was subjected to a barrage of questions on various phases of history laid down by the examining professors. He was getting along fine until one of them, an authority on the Tudor period, spoke up.

"About the army in the Tudor times. Was there a standing army then? Tell us about it."

Everyone sat up at this. Professors looked at each other questioningly and scratched their heads. The student stammered a little and plunged into a series of vague, verbose generalizations which made it quite plain that he didn't know from nothing, as Rube Goldberg says.
Gradually the discussion veered away from this subject; but when the examination was completed, the professor's colleagues crowded around him.

"What is all this about the Tudor standing army? Was there one?" they asked.

"Well, that's a funny thing," he admitted.
"Professor Blank asked me about that the other day. He didn't know and I didn't know. I thought this fellow might."

Which may or may not prove that a rolling prophet is not without moss.—The Yale Daily News.

PRESS TICKETS

Contrary to the custom of sending press tickets to the district papers which place Westminster before the public; the committee for the recent Junior prom, refused to go through with the plan.

By stating that such a custom was a "racket", they placed Westminster in a bad light with the papers, who classify the class as a bunch of "cheapskates".

It is regrettable, too for the newspapers of Sharon and New Castle have been more than generous with their space to Westminster, and the activities of the Junior class.

All other activities, such as athletics, lectures, course, artist's course, little theatre plays, senior dance and up to this time the Junior prom, have supplied the newspapers with press tickets in return for the publicity they have received.

Intercollegiate Notes

The University of Missouri will forgo all interscholastic tennis competition this year because of lack of funds for the sport.

A "live-within-your-budget" program is the essential element in bringing about operating economics in college administration, according to W. C. Trotter, business manager of the Mississippi State College for Women. "Institutions, like individuals, should learn the lesson of careful planning and of prudent spending."

A wind velocity of 231 miles per hour, the highest ever recorded, has been charted at the Mount Washington, N. H., observatory. It was three times as fast as the average hurricane.

Members of the faculty of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., have offered to contribute their services to the university for the summer session to avoid all further salary cuts.

Dr. David P. Barr, professor of medicine at Washington University, will go to Australia this summer to deliver a special course of lectures at the University of Melbourne.

One group of 102 Haverford (Pa.) College students has sent to President Roosevelt and Senator David A. Reed a petition announcing their refusal to "fight in any war."

Education has ceased to be a "handmaiden of politicians, devoted to propaganda functions," according to Dr. James R. Angell, of Yale University.

The men of St. Louis University have revolted: They are griping because they have to shave too often. Reason: The co-eds demand it.

The twenty-seventh annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Historical association will be held at the University of Missouri this week.

Emily Marshall, a University of Missouri student, has maintained a perfect score in 30 matches of the university co-ed rifle team.

The University of Michigan was one of the first, if not the first, to admit students from high schools on certificates.

A new system of accrediting colleges in which schools will be judged by their "Acceptance of an ideal instead of whether they have a certain endowment or whether they have a certain number of teaching hours" has been proposed by Pres. Henry Gage, of Coe College.

Chet Wynce, new football coach at the University of Kentucky, has been named director of athletics for that institution.

Although the proposal to merge Northwestern University and the University of Chicago has been rejected, a committee of prominent educators is continuing its investigations of the educational implications of consolidation of the two institutions.

University of Georgia candidates for degrees in Education will be given intensive psychological tests in an endeavor to compare them with similar students in other states and to determine the feasibility of instituting policies for excluding inferior candidates. This practice has been adopted elsewhere in the country with excellent results, according to J. C. Meadows, Dean of the College of Education.

Graduates from the College of Commerce, University of Kentucky, publish a pamphlet called "Bargains in Brains", in which the picture of each graduate, his age, height, weight, chief interest and experience, are listed. This plan was followed last year with the result that all but two graduates were placed, and out of the 41 obtaining positions, only two proved unsatisfactory.

To the Editor:

Target wishes to explain the posi-

Owing to the fact that Target has been duly recognized by Morta-

Although this was explained be-

All-Stars Defeat Saints In Opener

Rally In Fifth Inning After Trailing By 8-2 Count

The Westminster All-stars beat the St. Andrews mushball team of New Castle in their inaugural game at the College field, Tuesday evening, by a 10-7 score. The All-star outfit is composed of the star players from each of the five fraternity teams.

The game was umpired by John Lawther, the Judge Landis of Westminster ball, at the plate, and a much subdued "Skippy" Simpson at the bases. A crowd of about 150 students and visitors witnessed the fray, and although quite a bit of dissension was voiced at certain decisions, no pop bottles were heaved at the officials (there being none of afore-mentioned bottles available).

Considering the fact that the outfield contained three bow-legged players, there were few errors for the All-stars, although Joe Ketterer did a nice job of punting grounders in the general direction of Bill Douglass, known to his friends as the "Iowa Flash."

Ray Sweeney pitched a commendable game, with Clem Lausberg on the receiving end. Elmer Meider thrilled the crowd with his sensational fly catching.

Delts Threaten T U O Crown On Diamond

With the intra-mural mushball season about half-gone, the fight for first honors seems to be between the Delts and the T.U.O's. The regularly scheduled game for these two teams was postponed because of inclement weather and so far the question of superiority has not been decided.

The Delts present a formidable lineup. Their team is composed of experienced players and they have a wealth of material available, at least seventeen men who are capable of playing good ball.

These men are:

Elmer Meider, who, we understand, plans to turn to "pro" baseball this summer, can fill any position. His mainstay with the Delts, however, is in the pitcher's box. "Coe" Kennedy, another veteran, plays at first base but is able to pitch if necessary. "Coe" is a port-side.

"Bob" Scarborough, whose position is at third base, has the habit of knocking the pill over the right field fence. "Sippy" Simpson usually plays in the shortstop position. "Pete" Leyshock stops 'em at second base.

"Bill" Douglass generally plays the field. "Ace" Kennedy protects the left field garden. "Ich" Mintz, a newcomer to the Delts, is a good backstop. "Clem" Lausberg, who is playing his first year with this team, is another catcher with ability.

"Art" Brownell, a newly acquired member, plays at short field. "Swede" Hunneke guards the right field plot.

In addition to the above are several others who are able to fill any position when the occasion demands; "Bunny" Austin, Ray Southard, John Ruffalo, "Chuck" Jones, "Jerry" Auld, and "Nigger" Burry.

Ex-Westminster Gridder West Point 'Kaydet'

Congratulations go to Harris Rogner of Masury, Ohio, who has received notice that he has successfully passed the entrance examinations to the United States Military academy at West Point. He will enter the Army school on July 2.

Rogner was a member of the 1931 football squad at Westminster. He was graduated from Brookfield High school in 1931, after a brilliant career in football and basketball. He spent one year at Westminster and participated in intra-mural athletics as well as football.

During the past term, he has been enrolled at the Staunton Military school where he played tackle on the football team and center in basketball.

While at Westminster, Rogner was pledged to Theta Upsilon Omega social fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rogner of Masury, Ohio.

Glee Club Production Adds To Library Fund

Forty-seven members of the Girl's Glee Club took part in the unusual musical production, "Following Foster's Footsteps," staged in the Community house, Tuesday evening, May 1.

The program, based on old southern melodies of Stephen Collins Foster, featured the following well known numbers: "I Dream of Jeanie", "Old Black Joe", "Camp-town Races" and the closing chorus, "Old Folks at Home".

As a result of this successful presentation, the Girl's Glee Club will contribute $30 to the library fund.

Charlotte Melhorn was in charge of tickets, and Dorothy Patch and McClees Murray composed the stage committee.

Faculty To Hold Annual Formal Dinner Party

Members of the faculty will hold their annual formal dinner party at the New Castle Field club, Saturday evening, May 26, at 7 o'clock.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes the following: Mrs. E. B. Russell, chairman; Miss Margaret Reed, Dr. B. E. Quick, and Mr. Harold Brennan.

This faculty party will conclude the year's social program.

Tennis Match

Announcement has been made to the effect that another match has been scheduled for the Westminster varsity tennis team. The opposition will be furnished by the Collegians from Youngstown College on Friday, May 18, here.

Delts Favored Over Bedford In Starter

After a belated start, the Delta Phi Sigma baseball team will finally be on the field tomorrow afternoon against the New Bedford Indies in what promises to be an interesting game. The contest will be staged at the New Bedford field and is scheduled for 2:30. This will be the opening game for both teams, so neither aggregation is expecting any World Series performance. In the game last year, the Delts took the measure of the Bedford team by a score of 15-9 after a rally started in the fifth inning by "Red" Healy, who will be missing from the fraternity lineup this season. Ray Sweeney hurled that fray, allowing only six hits but ragged fielding allowed many men to reach the baselines who should have been easy throwouts.

The Delta team has been fielding well thus far in practice with Sweeney acting as sparkplug of the infield at shortstop. The starting pitcher for tomorrow's game will doubtless be Lloyd Garrett, southpaw with George "Eppa" Hollander ready to ascend the mound should any trouble befall Garrett. The hard-hitting outfield should give the fraternity team a considerable advantage over the border nine.

Jack Hulme, guardian of intra-mural sports, has announced that intra-mural tennis will start on Wednesday of next week.

Teams for competition will probably be twenty in number, four from each of the five fraternities on the campus.

Mr. Hulme will arrange the schedule so that games in two leagues, A and B, will be played. Both single and double teams will be entered by competitors in either loop.

No varsity men are eligible for intra-mural tennis.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Mary R. Morrow who is in charge of arrangements announces that the Alpha Gamma Delta dinner-dance will be held Saturday, May 19, at the Field Club. The Alleghenians will furnish the music and Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, and Dean Mary E. Turner will act as chaperons.

Kappa Phi Lambda

Eighteen pledges were formally initiated into Kappa Phi Lambda, Tuesday evening, May 1 at the fraternity house.

Omicron Mu Gamma

Honor guests at the Omicron Mu Gamma formal dinner-dance tonight will be Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath and Dean Mary E. Turner. Chaperons are Mr. and Mrs. Alen B. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cameron.

Dorothy Patch was host to sorority members at a luncheon given at The Gables, Saturday, May 5. The luncheon was honoring Deborah Teas, Hudson, Ohio, who was a guest here last week-end.

Phi Pi Phi

John Lytle and Herbert Smith were guests at the fraternity house last week-end.

Sigma Kappa

Ruth Rowse was a visitor at the Sigma Kappa suite Tuesday, May 1.

Theta Upsilon

Theta Upsilon will hold their annual formal dinner dance at the Field Club, Friday, May 11. Helen McLaughry, chairman, Catherine Hittner, and Lucille Litman compose the committee in charge. Chaperons are: Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brennan, Miss Florence White and Miss Mildred Ailman.

Quadrangle

Quadrangle will hold a formal dance at the Castleton on Saturday, May 12. Ted Marlin's orchestra will play and a buffet-supper will be served. Chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dean Mary E. Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Freeman. Nell Kudelko and Anna Kendelhart are in charge of arrangements.

Conference Speaker Places Emphasis On Social Science

"We should supplant some subjects now taught in our schools with more social science," Dr. Ben G. Graham, superintendent of Pittsburgh schools, told delegates to the second educational conference here last Saturday.

Dr. Graham's address, on the subject "Expansion of the Social Science Curriculum," was the keynote speech of the morning session held in the college chapel at 10 o'clock. Sixty delegates, most of whom were high school principals and school superintendents, attended the conference.

President R. F. Galbreath welcomed the delegates to the conference and Dr. W. D. Gamble, superintendent of Sharon schools, acted as chairman of the morning meeting.

Following a luncheon, served in Browne hall at 12:30 to the delegates, the afternoon session got underway at 2 o'clock with Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle schools, as chairman. Concerned with problems of adult education, the session was a most interesting one.

Professor John D. Lawther, head of the department of psychology and education, was general chairman of the conference, and was responsible for working up the program.

Concert By A Capella Choir Opens Music Week

The fourth of the series of musical events to be held in the chapel, is a concert to be presented by the women's glee club, Wednesday evening. The fifty girls taking part will sing under the direction of Miss Ada Peabody.

The program will be composed of four numbers by the glee club, two vocal solos, two pipe organ selections, and a piano solo. Accompanists for vocal numbers are Josephine Rymer and Elmerle Woodside.

On Thursday evening the A Capella choir will again appear under the direction of Professor Alan B. Davis. This program will feature five numbers by the choir, four pipe organ solos and one piano solo. Paul McKnight will furnish all accompaniments.

Climaxing the annual music week celebration, the conservatory of music announces the presentation of Harold Bauer, internationally known pianist, who will appear here in a recital, Friday evening, May 11. Mr. Bauer is recognized in Europe and America as a "master of masters" and has been decorated by the Legion of Honor of the French government for valuable services in the cause of French music.

In his early youth, Bauer toured England as a violin virtuoso, but upon the advice of Paderewski, later devoted himself to the piano. He has been for many years a citizen of the United States, thoroughly identifying himself with the music of this country, and has appeared with every important American symphony orchestra and in all the music centers of the country.

The late Henry T. Finck, one of America's foremost music critics says of Bauer: "One does not need to be a musician to listen to him. He makes the meaning of the composer so clear that a person without the least conception of harmony could hear and enjoy. Bauer is heart and soul in the piece he is rendering, and his masterly intellect recognizes every value of tone, phrase of climax, to the exclusion of all mannerism. His playing is the absolute perfection of interpretation."

Mr. Bauer's Westminster program is:

Air de ballet . . . . . Gluck-Saint-Saens
Les Carillons de Cythere Couperin Chorale: "Jesu, Joy of man's desire" . . . . . J. S. Bach
Sonata in A . . . . . Scarlatti
Sonata appassionata, Opus 57 . . . . . Beethoven
Fantasietueche, Opus 12 Schumann
Impromptu in A flat . . . . . Schubert Reflection in the water . . . . . Debussy Ballade in A flat . . . . . Chopin

Choir Will Sing May 20

John E. Allen, of Linotype News Lauds Originality and Make-up of the Holcad

Swinging away from the old attitude that newspaper men are born and not educated, editors the country over are now eager to hire products of schools and courses in journalism, John E. Allen, editor of Linotype News and principal speaker at the Journalism Day program, believes.

"Time was, if you wanted a position on a newspaper, it was best to hide the fact that you had studied the subject in college," Mr. Allen said. "Now many graduates of journalism schools hold down positions on leading newspapers."

Asked what schools of journalism he thought best, Mr. Allen mentioned Missouri, the Pulitzer school, Columbia; Washington and Lee, Wisconsin; and the Medill school, Northwestern.

Mr. Allen's advice to young people interested in journalism as a profession is that it is interesting, captivating, but that it is no method of getting rich. He indicated that the profession is one method of serving humanity, for which a person must be satisfied with long hours and small pay.

Subjects in college of most value to students of journalism, according to Mr. Allen, are: history, sociology, psychology, and, of course, English and journalism. A good liberal arts training, he believes, is the best foundation for editorial success.

"News men are better trained today than they were yesterday," Allen believes, "but still only the innate, inborn talent breaks through above the mediocre."

Many school papers appear dull, Allen contends, regardless of content, because the matter of typography is overlooked. "Appearance of a paper is not only a matter of typography," he claims, "for correct spacing, proper leading, and good balance also enter in."

Allen's criticism of the Holcad is that it is consistent in using Cheltenham heads, is wise to use capital and small letter heads, and shows originality in that it does not have exact mechanical page balance.

Alumnus Directs Play

Under the direction of Professor William Hamilton, a graduate of Westminster, the Junior class of the New Wilmington high school will present a three-act comedy, "The Nut Farm," in the Community house, Thursday evening, May 10.

"The Nut Farm" was one of the leading plays of the New York stage a few years ago and is being presented by special arrangement with the Samuel French Company of New York.

H. L. Davis Accepts Teaching Post At Lawrence College

Dr. Herbert L. Davis, assistant professor of chemistry at Westminster for the last two years, has been appointed assistant professor of chemistry at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wisconsin, Dr. H. M. Wriston, president of Lawrence, announces.

Dr. Davis has been at Westminster during the leave of absence granted to Professor Harlow S. Osgood, who has been completing work at Cornell University for his Ph. D. degree.

Dr. Davis was graduated from Dickinson College in 1921, received his Ph. D. at Cornell in 1927, and was Heckscher research fellow in chemistry at Cornell from 1928 until 1932 when he came here. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Alpha Chi Sigma, and the American Chemical Society.

Lawrence college in Wisconsin has 900 students and a faculty of 70. The college was founded in 1847.

Chapter Officers Of Beta Phi Alpha To Be Installed

Concluding the installation ceremonies of Alpha Epsilon chapter of the national sorority, Beta Phi Alpha, on the campus the third and final step will take place tomorrow, May 12.

At this time the following chapter officers will be installed: Gladys Blaine, president; Mabel Masters, vice-president; Grace Kriess, secretary; Grace Behm, treasurer; and Wathena Ornduff, chaplain.

The evening's program includes a banquet to be held at the Tavern at 7 p. m., with the entire Eta chapter, Pittsburgh, as guests of honor. Plans are under the direction of Dorothy Thompson, Nancy Johnston, and Mildred Thomas.

The first step in the installation ceremony consisted of a pledge ceremony, conducted in the music recital hall of the college conservatory, Wednesday, May 9. Gladys Blaine, Grace Behm, Nancy Johnston, Grace Kriess, Betty Miller, Dorothy Thompson, Mabel Master Amelia Borah, Wathena Ornduff and Mildred Thomas were pledged.

The initiation service will be held this evening. National officers present for these events are: Della Winters Theda, grand secretary; Louise White, president of Epsilon province; and Lee Price Goff, president of Sigma province.

Eighty-eight Seniors Candidates For Degrees

Eighty-eight students will be candidates for degrees at the eightieth annual commencement on Monday, June 11, Dr. J. A. Swindler, registrar, announces.

Of this number, 47 will be candidates for the bachelor of arts degree; 27, the bachelor business administration degree; eight, bachelor of science; four, bachelor of science in public school music; and two, bachelor of music. Two members of the class who already hold bachelor's degrees will be getting their second baccalaureate.

Contributions Swell Growing Library Fund

Contributions are continually increasing the library fund according to a statement made recently by Professor C. R. Rankin, treasurer.

An authorized announcement, made in chapel, Monday, May 7, stated that the fund has reached a total of $500. Since that date two other contributions have been added, one of $15, and another of $23.80, making the grand total $538.80.

A large contribution to be made in the near future, will increase the fund by the amount of $250. This amount has been promised by the Westminster Women's club, following their annual visit to the campus.

Hillside Girls Will Hold 'Dutch Treat' Party Monday Nite

"Tis a saying of old days
That the woman always pays".
—Rejected poems

Joe College may be a cynic—due to touches on his pocketbook for cokes, dances, flowers, candy, presents, gas, and oil, and all that sort of thing which co-educational schools are heir to.

He may believe in "Dutch treats", but may never have experienced such 50-50 adventures. Certainly, he does not believe for one minute that the woman ever pays all. That, perhaps, is a little too much to expect.

But here's a break for Joe College, for his pocketbook and for Dad, who supplies the pretty little Uncle Sam picture papers. The Hillside girls are holding a party Monday night. The girls will invite the men and they will pay 25 cents a person for admittance. Refreshments will be for sale and this is where Joe College comes in. Games will be provided for the faculty and dance numbers will be given by the girls for entertainment. The dance will be semi-formal.

The question of etiquette which arises is whether, after the girls have escorted the fellows home, they should then escort the girls back to the dormitory.

The committee in charge of the party includes: Lucille Litman, Jeanne Rolfe, Dorothy Stewart, and Josephine McGoun.

Of course it's for the Library Fund.

College Band To Give Concert In Gymnasium

Under the direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron, the college band will present a concert in the college gymnasium, Monday, May 21, at 8:15 p. m.

The program of popular favorites includes: Sempri Fidelis March; Overture Orpheus in der Unterwelt; Legend of a rose; Japanese Sunset, One Fleeting Hour, Nola, Men of Sparta, Intermezzo (L'Arlesienne), a selection of Victor Herbert favorites, Stars and Stripes Forever, and a group of xylophone solos to be played by Harold Falkner.

Olive Pope, who will direct the sale of tickets announces that the admission fee will be 20 cents and the proceeds will be contributed to the library fund. Other members of the ticket committee are Cecil Bowles and Curtiss Artman. Chester Miller is head of the stage managing committee, and will be assisted by Douglass Smiley and William Lillich. Comfort Spelman has charge of programs and Ellwood Rushworth is publicity director.

Sophomore Tests Indicate Large Number Of Outstanding Students; William Nunn And Herman Meyer Have Highest Scores

Argo To Be Ready For Distribution First Week In June

A modernistic theme, featuring architectural designs used in World Fair buildings, will characterize this year's Argo, which will be distributed the first week of June, Clarence Manor, editor, announces.

The cover will be worked out in glossy black leather, and red lettering and end sheets. The same color scheme will be employed all through the book. The pages will be embellished with occasional red rulings and dots.

The large feature section will include "The Passing Show", something new in Argo planning. It is a six-page parade of the year's outstanding students and faculty members, in caricature.

Other features are: class beauties; several pages of Holcad heads, suggesting the major events of the year; a conglomeration of Holcadabra excerpts; and student, faculty, and campus snapshots.

Art work employed in the Argo has been done by students, most of whom are taking work in the art department.

The book will contain 175 pages, will feature group pictures of organizations, and will include a large number of action photos of activities.

Arrangements For Sophomore Dance Near Completion

Donald Woods, general chairman of the Sophomore dance, announced today that plans were being completed for the annual class prom which will be held in the gymnasium, Friday, May 25.

Tickets will be sold by members of the Sophomore class and the admission price to the dance will be $1 a couple.

Although no orchestra has been decided upon, bands of Jean Wald, Gene Botsford, and Gordon Robinson are being considered, Woods announced.

Assisting Woods on the general committee are: Josephine McGoun and David Kennedy. Other committees are: orchestra, Bruce Bower, chairman, Edith Carson, Mary Fleming; decorations, Jeanne Rolfe, chairman, Jane Holland, Lucille Nevins; tickets, Harvey Snyder, chairman, George McGeech, Gerald Kloss; advertising, Kenneth McCormack, chairman, Walter Donaldson, Jerry Auld; and chaperons, Evelyn Wilson, chairman, Susan Barnes, and McClees Murray.

Argo Editor

CLARENCE MANOR

Clarence Manor, editor of the Argo, is president of Kappa Phi Lambda, and is a pledge of Pi Delta Epsilon and Sphinx.

Formal Reception For Seniors Planned For Next Thursday

Members of the senior class will be honored guests at the annual formal reception, to be given by President and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, at the Hillside, Thursday evening, May 17.

This year, there will be dancing with music furnished by the college orchestra, in addition to the traditional entertainment in which the underclassmen honor the seniors. Refreshments will also be served during the evening.

In the receiving line will be Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dean Mary E. Turner, Dr. and Mrs. James Swindler, and members of the senior class.

Those who will assist Mrs. Galbreath are: Mrs. Charles Freeman, Mrs. E. B. Russell, Mrs. Gilbert Taylor, Mrs. Harold Black, Mrs. Ben Euwema, Mrs. John Orr, Mrs. A. T. Cordray, Mrs. Harold Brennan, Mrs. John Lawther, Mrs. A. B. Davis, and Miss Elizabeth Stewart.

Commutors Score Higher Than Students Who Are Residents

Tabulations of the standard comprehensive tests which were given to members of the sophomore class last week indicate that there are a number of outstanding students in the class. The tests were the cooperative complications which colleges and universities in 36 states gave to second-year students.

Among those who scored highest were William Nunn, who had a score of 1.194 out of a possible 2.013, and Herman Meyer, who scored 1.069.

In the general culture test, which included 803 possible answers, William Nunn scored highest, with 453. The median for this test was 147, while the range was 40 to 453. Others who scored among the highest in general culture were: Herman Meyer, Ruth Rutter, Marjorie Scott, Jane Smiley, Virginia Luckhardt, Robert Lowndes, Ann Kendlehart, Mary Fleming, Evelyn Baer, and Virginia Booth.

William Nunn also scored highest in the literary acquaintance test, with 141. There were 200 possible answers in this test. The median was 50, while the range was 10 to 141. Others who scored high were: Mary Fleming, Ann Kendlehart, Virginia Luckhardt, Herman Meyer, Ruth Rutter, and Jane Smiley.

Herman Meyer was high scorer in the contemporary affairs test, with a score of 213. There were 306 possible answers in this test. The median was 76, while the range was from 20 to 213. Others who scored high were: William Daggett, Roland Levine, James Newton, William Nunn, and Donald Wood.

Complete Program For Commencement Week Activities Announced

Following a meeting of the Alumni Council of Westminster held at the college last Saturday afternoon, the complete program for the commencement week activities has been announced.

The first event of the graduating season will be a picnic, given by the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. for the senior class on Friday, June 8 on the athletic field.

Saturday, June 9, is alumni day. The annual alumni banquet and business meeting will be held in the United Presbyterian church at noon. A reception for Dr. Charles Freeman, in his fortieth year of service to the college, will be held at 3:30. Class reunions are scheduled for 5 o'clock.

The winding of the may pole will take place on the South campus at 7 o'clock Saturday night. The May queen coronation will take place at 7:30. An orchestra concert on the South terrace at 8:30 will end the day's activities.

On Sabbath, June 10, the Christian Association's sermon will take place in the United Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock. The Rev. W. F. Harky, Houston, will preach the sermon. At 4 in the afternoon Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will play at a vesper organ recital in the chapel. President R. F. Galbreath will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the chapel on Sabbath evening at 8 o'clock.

The board of trustees will meet Monday morning at 10:30 in the Little Theatre. Commencement will be held on the South terrace at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, June 11. The Rev. Dr. S. C. Gamble, Butler, will deliver the commencement address. Eight-four seniors will be candidate for degrees.

Chester Miller Named Editor Of Handbook

Chester Miller has been appointed editor of the freshman handbook at Westminster college for the coming year, the Y.M.C.A. cabinet, announces. Miller, a sophomore, is a member of Phi Pi Phi fraternity. George Herchenrother was appointed business manager of the book. He is a member of the freshman class and is a pledge of Phi Pi Phi.

Bauer Draws Comparison Between European And American Audiences

By Theresa Burgoon

Harold Bauer, celebrated concert pianist who is appearing here tonight, has won the reverence and admiration of music-lovers the world over during his concert career which began 39 years ago.

Receiving his early training from his father, he began his career as a violinist, but on the advice of Paderewski, who recognized the unusual singing quality of his tone in his piano accompaniments; he abandoned the violin at the age of 30, and after three years of preparation, made his debut as a pianist with the Berlin Philharmonic society.

Mr. Bauer made his first American appearance in 1901, as soloist with the Boston symphony orchestra. Since then he has spent most of his time touring the United States, and he has played oftenest in this country.

From his wide experience in concert work, Mr. Bauer draws an interesting comparison between European and American audiences. "The principal difference", according to the famous artist, "seems to be that in Europe, people do not go to concerts until they have some kind of a musical education; while in America, they go in the first place from a feeling of curiosity, and a natural, inborn intuition for music.

Stimulated by what they hear, the desire and determination to acquire a musical education follows as a result, and it is this fact which makes an American audience so stimulating to artists who feel this condition and recognize the responsibility which it brings."

"This attitude on the part of American men and women," he points out, "is creating a soil favorable to the growth of musical taste and the production of musical composition."

Though an Englishman by birth, Mr. Bauer became an American citizen soon after his Boston debut. Since that time he has directed his talents to furthering such musical appreciation in the United States.

Through his efforts, the Beethoven Association of New York was founded in 1918, and as continuous president of this organization he has done some of his best work along this line.

One of the peculiar talents of the artist is his ability to reach any audience. He has played before a tribe of red Indians outside of Arizona, as well as for a native Hawaiian group. He declares that the Indians from the Phoenix school were among the most responsive of any audiences before which he has appeared.

Although music critics agree that he is able to interpret perfectly the works of any composer, they single him out as the ideal Brahms and Schumann interpreter.

Tonight the Westminster audience will have the opportunity to hear Schumann's, "Fantasietueche, Opus 12, as played by Mr. Bauer. He will also play, "Reflection in the Water", a composition by the famous French composer, Debussy, one of Bauer's most intimate friends.

SENIOR CLASS ERRS

The senior class has missed an opportunity of eliminating one of the outstanding defects of the Westminster commencement season in neglecting to schedule the class dance for the evening of Saturday, June 9.

The gradual disappearance of class day exercises, the fact that all seniors are present on the campus for the commencement season, and the anti-climax caused by nothing specific to do following the May queen coronation, make for a rather drab commencement eve.

Scheduling the dance for June 2, one week before the commencement activities start, has two main drawbacks: It is held during the final examination week, and many underclass students will not be able to attend. It is too far away from the commencement season to draw alumni.

Saturday night preceding commencement will again be a free-for-all, nothing-on-the-calendar night this year merely because the senior class did not schedule its dance one week later.
A hint to the present junior class should be sufficient in this regard.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS

Very few members of Brain Trusts have ever died with their brains on. The reason is not far to seek. The people are all Englishmen in their distrust of those who claim to be wise.
The moment a man lets it be known that he has mope in his head than the general they begin to scrutinize him with sharp and bilious eyes, and if the chance ever offers—and it usually does, for he almost always does something foolish hallelujahs and, in the vulgar phrase, tie a can to him.

Thus the outlook is poor for the Brain Trust,
...and I say so as one who wishes it well....
That it will escape the guillotine is happily probable, for it has avoided the common error, so fatal to some of the Brain Trusts of the past, of setting up a guillotine for its critics. But that it will accumulate unpopularity seems to be very likely—in fact, it has already accumulated more than a sufficiency to undo it in the long run. The Tories hate it because it has tried to upset their appreciation, and the radicals because it has stolen their thunder.

As for the politicians, they hate it as a matter of policy; for they want to collar its most popular ideas for themselves, and hating it violently and publicly is a good way to cover up the theft.

In all this, as I have said, there is nothing new. History is full of precedents.—H. L. Mencken, in Liberty.

COLLEGE CONSERVATION

From a purely economic viewpoint the government must take cognizance of education,—a $2,500,000,000 industry directly affecting one quarter of the national population. According to the 1930 census there are over 1,044,016 teachers of various kinds. In the classification of gainfully employed workers there were only seven groups out of 130 with more workers....

From a social conception the government, as the instrument of society, is obligated to assume even a greater responsibility. The administration has provided for one group of the country's youth in the Civilian Conservation Corps. The improvised college student has been left to his own resources.

The student would not be the sole beneficiary of a national scholarship and loan fund. Increased enrollments would relieve the pressure now forcing colleges to curtail salaries and dismiss instructors. Many of the 80,000 unemployed teachers whom the NRA has so far ignored might regain their positions.

But there is a wider application,—that in the interest of society. As the last line of defense against economic peril the educational structure must be strengthened, not allowed to weaken.
For in intellectual leadership lies the way out.
The cost of a single battleship, an amount sufficient to finance many thousands of college men and women, would more than serve the purpose.
—The Dartmouth.

both in the writing and producing of plays.

Congressional investigators probably aren't aware of the fact, but they are just a group of "scopotropists", according to Dean Henry Wig-

FLASH!

Noah Webster challenges music conservatory. If anyone knows exactly how to spell a ca., the name applied to a body of singers who sing without musical accompaniment, we wish they would tell someone.
The printer thought it was A. Capella, the name of something for the library fund. A reporter, hearing the word over the phone thought it was archipelego. The printer who printed the program for the cantata printed it "A Cappello." Webster has it as "a capella."

Caps or lower case, two P's or one, with accompaniment or without, we shall fight it out along these lines if it takes all summer, ten proofreaders, and three engineers handbooks.

Why not emulate Professor Nevins and call it, "A Caprinter's Chore?"

SPORT TOPICS

TRACK CONTROVERSY

The intra-mural track meet, which was conducted at the upper field this afternoon, failed to excite the normal amount of enthusiasm usually exhibited in events of this type. Following the failure of the athletic board to sanction a varsity track team, due to a lack of funds, the track candidates were considerably downhearted and in many cases terminated training. While intra-mural meets of this type are interesting to watch, they are likely to be unduly tough for the participants who are out of condition.

It is easy to notice the difference in this sport from the other intra-mural activities. Mushball requires practically no physical conditioning, and baseball allows the substitution of a fresh player when fatigue becomes apparent, but to date there has been no method of substituting for an exhausted quarter-miler, rather he must continue to the finish line and there face the after effects which are sometimes unpleasant and often dangerous.

Another drawback to intra-mural track is the unequal distribution of track material among the fraternities. As in last years meet, three fraternities were forced to enter with little or no possibility of emerging victorious. It is the sentiment of the trackmen upon the campus that there should either be a varsity track team with good equipment facilities for conducting track meets or no team whatsoever.

Although Westminster seldom was able to place a consistently strong track team upon the field in recent years, there were always enough stars developed to take a goodly share of the honors in the conference meeting and this should continue. Should another year elapse without the appearance of a varsity team, it is doubtful if the intra-mural meet will survive the sentiment of the students.

Varsity men in the two sports this year are beginning to wonder what has happened to the award system that used to exist at Westminster. Newcomers in the sports have received their rewards unceremoniously and the old timers have been ignored. While the expense of providing lavish awards may be considered prohibitive, it would be worthwhile to remember our athletes in some manner. They should be reminded that the student body has not forgotten their efforts on the field and floor.

Elmer Meider has developed a great hatred, incredible as it may seem. "Swede" Hunneke is the indirect cause of the trouble, which started when "Willie" a pet garter snake was captured by the frog pond and taken into the house when evening approached. "Willie" made an escape from his box and for two days nothing was seen of him. Yesterday, when Meider was burrowing through a pile of Hunneke's garments in a search for a tennis racket, he withdrew his hand suddenly with an angry and hungry "Willie" coiled around it. Needless to relate, Elmer soon returned it to the frog pond in a spectacular manner and "Willie" has been cautioned to remain there indefinitely.

Sowersby To Coach Raquet Welders; Campbell Captain

Francis S. Sowersby, instructor in business administration and a certified public accountant in New Castle, is the coach of the varsity tennis team this season. Everett Campbell, has been elected captain of the team.

The ranking of the Titan players, following the initial match with Slippery Rock, is: Robert Grier, No. 1; Art Brownell, No. 2; Captain Everett Campbell, No. 3; Hugh McCall, No. 4; Ray Elliott, No. 5. Others on the squad include Robert Maxwell, and Geoffrey Sowash.

Next week the Titans play Duquesne at Pittsburgh on Monday; Geneva at home, Tuesday; Allegheny at home, Thursday; and Duquesne at home, Friday. Slippery Rock will be played at Slippery Rock on May 22; Allegheny at Meadville, May 23; and Geneva at Beaver Falls, May 30.

BULLETIN

R. X. Graham announces that the intra-mural track meet scheduled for yesterday, will take place Wednesday, May 16. Weight events will begin at 2:30.

TUO's Smother Delts; Take League Lead

Beneath clear blue skies, mid-winter temperature, and a sixty mile gale, the T.U.O. mushball team administered a handsome 18-7 shellacking to the Delts last Monday in what was expected to be the closest and most bitterly fought game of the first round of the intra-mural mushball league. For four innings the scores ran parallel, but in the sixth and last, the team from Furnace Hill wielded their bludgeons to garner five nits and ten runs to put the game on ice.

In the first inning, Leyshock, starting on the mound for the Delts, got into trouble by issuing a pass and two hits which coupled with five errors on the part of his loyal supporters caused four runs to cross the plate. In their half of the inning, the Delts managed to score a single tally without a clean hit. Blanking the T.U.O.'s in the second frame by virtue of a beautiful double play from Meider to Kennedy, the Delts wielded their clubs for their healthiest demonstration of the afternoon, gathering three hits and four runs. Both teams remained equal for the next two innings with Meider replacing Leyshock in the box.

In the fifth, the T.U.O. club drew away on a single marker while blanking the Delts in their half of the inning. In the beginning of the sixth the trouble for the Market street boys began with a weird bit of officiating, allowing Franklin to bat twice in succession. After a wild commotion the decision was allowed to rest and the Delt fielding fell to shreds. The ball began to boom off the bats of the T.U.O.'s to give a five run lead when the side was retired. Both rallies by the Delts in the last two innings were quickly terminated by smooth infelding with the T.U.O. team increasing the slaughter in the seventh with a barrage of three hits, which accounted for six more runs, while the Delt infield and outfield took turns booting everything coming into their reach.

The Delts led in everything but runs, having ten bingles to the total of nine for the T.U.O.'s. In errors they also led by a much greater margin, the count being the incredible amount of 15 to seven. For the T.U.O.'s, Joe Ketterer, hard hitting outfielder looked best at the bat, with Ray Sweeney, who pitched a nice game, scoring four of his team mates runs. For the Delts, "Ick" Mintz led the batting list with Kennedy and Hunneke doing 500 stickwork. McCall and Ketterer hit for two, with Grier and Mintz connecting for triples.

The game, which drew the maximum crowd for the season thus far was exciting enough in spots but ragged fielding marred the work of the moundsmen. Sweeney allowed ten hits in seven innings, Meider was clipped for seven and Leyshock for two. Sweeney issued but one pass, Leyshock granting three and Meider two.

W. A. A. NOTES

By "Libby" Cone

After the girl's mushball teams enjoyed two sunny outdoor practices, the threatening weather chased them indoors for their opening games last Thursday.

The Sophomores started their season in the proper way by taking a thriller from the Freshmen 20-19. Simison and Held performed on the mound. In the second game Sewall and Ralston pitched the Juniors to a 16-7 win over another Freshman team.

Twenty-four girls have been selected to take part in the May pole-wind, an event sponsored by W. A. A., which will be held Saturday, June 9, on the South Terrace.

Jane Holland, who is in charge of plans, announces that the following girls will participate in the ceremony: Virginia Booth, Harriet Jackson, Patricia Jones, Martha Morrow, Virginia Rumbaugh, Mary Scott, Alene Somerlade, Dorothy Young.

Garrett Pitches Delt Nine To Opening Victory

Garnering all three runs in the fifth inning by a total of three hits and an error, the Delta Phi Sigma baseball team eked out a close victory over the New Bedford Independents by a three to one score in the opening game of the season at New Bedford last Saturday.

Lloyd Garrett, starting on the mound for the Delts, pitched five scoreless innings, allowing only a scratch hit and striking out ten opposing batters. Hollander replaced Garrett in the sixth, and coasted easily until the ninth, when he weakened slightly and two hits and an error provided the only tally for the Bedford team.

The Market Street sluggers were held in easy check by Lucas and had to be content with five hits, only one of which was for an extra base, that being a double by Sweeney. The second game with New Bedford will be played at New Wilmington tomorrow on the upper field. The Bedford team will present a stronger lineup than last Saturday, and unless the fraternity boys begin to hit their hitting stride, they will be threatened with a drubbing on the home grounds.

Doubles—Campbell and Grier defeated Thaylor and Kruse, 6-1, 6-2; McCall and Elliott defeated Bishop and Gibson, 11-9, 6-3.

Browne Hall Hash-Slingers Prove Versatility

By Ray Southard

The Browne Hall mushball team hit Hunneke, Hillside's hurler, for 17 hits and a 12 to 5 victory Wednesday afternoon in the opening game of the "Industrial League." Burry led the attack on the Hillside moundsmen with two doubles and a homer in four trips to the plate. The defensive aces of the afternoon were Willits and Douglass for the Agnew clan, McCall and Dawson performing well for the Fulton outfit.

The game was played throughout with outstanding spirit, and contests between these two outfits aim to be one of the outstanding events in the intra-mural season in years to come.

Soph Tests Indicate Many Outstanding Students In Class

In the general science test, with 267 possible answers, William Nunn scored highest with 127. The median was 38, while the range was from 0 to 127. Others who scored high were: Willard George, Albert Koper, Mary Fleming, Herman Meyer, Mary Ellen Morrow, William Offutt, Perry Reeher, and George Lloyd.

Albert Koper was high scorer in the mathematics test, with a score of 115 out of 166 possible answers. The median for this test was 41, while the range was 10 to 115. Others who scored high in this test were: Willard George, Herman Meyer, William Edwin Rae, and John Wilkins.

On the English usage test, Virginia Luckhardt was high scorer with 229 out of a possible 271 answers. The median for this test was 133, and the range was 50 to 229. Others who scored high were: Jane Breaden, William Nunn, Betty Brown, Mary Fleming, Ann Kendleart, Herman Meyer, and Virginia Booth.

Strangely enough, commuting students seemed to score higher than resident students, especially in the contemporary affairs test. While exact data are not available, it is thought that the commuters will equal or excel resident students in all tests.

Scoring of tests, under direction of Professor John D. Lawther, was completed Monday, and the tests and scores will be mailed to the central office of the cooperative bureau where the median for all colleges and the range as well as top scores will be determined and announced later.

Well-Known Alumnus To Receive Music Degree From Curtiss Institute

Paul S. Robinson, a graduate of Westminster with a bachelor of arts degree in the class of '29, who was one of the honor students of his class and salutatorian, is again to be honored with another bachelor's degree, this time with a Bachelor of Music degree from Curtiss Institute, Philadelphia, in organ playing.

This is the first time Curtiss Institute has conferred degrees on any of its students. Only those students who have the preliminary qualifications for the degree and who have attained distinction for their work will be awarded degrees. Mr. Robinson will have the distinction of being the first and only person to receive from the Institution a degree in Organ Playing. The degrees are to be conferred on May 22. At this time Mme. Marcella Sembrich, formerly coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, and the past ten years at the head of the Department of Singing in Curtiss Institute, will receive an honorary degree.

Mr. Robinson has again been offered the position of solo organist at Duke university for the Summer Session beginning in July. This makes the third consecutive year this offer from Duke has come to him. Not only is Duke university one of the wealthiest of our universities, with the most beautiful buildings and campus of all colleges and universities, but it has in the music hall one of the largest and finest organs in the world.

Alumni To Honor Freeman For Forty Years Of Service

Forty years of service to Westminster will be honored here on Saturday, June 9, when alumni will hold a reception in honor of Dr. Charles Freeman. The reception will take place at 3:30 in the afternoon of alumni day.

Dr. Freeman came to Westminster in 1894 as professor of chemistry. He has been a member of the faculty ever since, has three times been acting president, and has been dean of the college for 25 years. At present he is head of the department of chemistry, having resigned as dean last year.

A graduate of Allegheny college with the class of 1891, he received his A.M. degree at Allegheny the following year, and his Ph. D. degree in 1894. Westminster conferred upon him the LL.D. degree in 1929. Teaching experience at Williamsport-Dickinson Seminary and graduate work at Johns Hopkins university preceded his coming to Westminster after graduating from Allegheny. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, American Chemical Society, and is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

May Pole-Wind And Coronation Of Queen To Feature May Day

Plans for the traditional May Day ceremony to be held Saturday, June 9, on the South Terrace have been completed. At 7 o'clock, the W.A.A. will sponsor a May pole-wind, in which twenty-four girls will participate. Those who will take part are: Virginia Booth, Harriet Jackson, Patricia Jones, Martha Morrow, Virginia Rumbaugh, Marjorie Scott, Ailene Somerlade, Dorothy Young, Florence Heintz, Jean Jaxtheimer, Jean Semple, Evelyn Means, Joan Bolles, Dorothy Morrison, Elizabeth Cone, Mary Jane Metzler, Betty McNab, Marie Nevin, Lucille Nevin, Elizabeth Charles, Roberta Ross, Mildred Ralston, Jane McMillen, and Jane Holland. The girls will all wear white organdy dresses, and the streamers of the May pole will be varl-colored.

This ceremony will be followed by the coronation of the May Queen. Virgil Wettich, May Queen-elect, will be attended by Helen McLaughry, Mary Rebecca Morrow, Dorothy Isaho, Mary Carlton Wright, Charlotte Melhorn, and Martha Hazlett. Their gowns or organdy will follow a color motif of blue, pink, and yellow. Large garden hats in matching shades will add to the charm of the costumes.

The senior girls who will attend Louise Johnson, last year's May Queen are: Betty Newell, Jean Mankedick, Jane Baker, Grace Kelly, Esther Caughey, and Martha Goodwin. These girls will be gowned in white organdy and will wear sashes of pastel shades.

Plans Progressing For Senior Dance

Plans are rapidly moving forward for the annual spring dance, which will be sponsored by the senior class with the co-operation of Target and Sphinx on Saturday evening, June 2, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m.

According to an announcement made by William Neely, general chairman, one of the three following bands will probably be engaged for the evening: Hal Thomas, Billy Blank, and the Treymour club. The admission will be $1.00 per couple.

The committees in charge are: William Neely, general chairman; Ruth Russell, Everett Campbell, William Douglass, and Alton Kloss, orchestra; Jean Miller, and Jane Baker, programs; James Jacobsen, Esther Caughey, and Theodore Robins, tickets; Miriam Davidson, Leonard Baird, Hugh McCall, Elizabeth Newell, and James McGeorge, decorations; and Alan Van Harper, Ebba Sizer, and Charles Branfield, advertising.

Y P C U Elects Officers

Officers, of Y.P.C.U., elected for the coming year at a meeting held last Sabbath evening, May 13, are as follows: Hall Todd, president; William Crea, vice president, and Lois McGill, treasurer.

Due to a tie between Sue Irons and Eva Reid for the position of secretary, it was decided to hold another vote at the next meeting. James Jacobson is the retiring president of the organization.

Old Main's New Bonnet Installed As Workmen Replace Faulty Roof

"Gone are the days—" Another Westminster tradition has vanished. No longer will that hallow spot on the roof of Old Main provide an icy skating place in winter and a wind-swept lake in spring. When a roof, guaranteed for twenty years, lasts but six years, it must be replaced, so Westminster's Old Main, a trifle late in the season, perhaps, donned her new spring bonnet this week. To the layman's eye the old roof looked as good as new, but an inspection, which necessitated chopping a hole in the roof, revealed the fact that the tarry ceiling was in poor condition.

The first thing to do was remove the old covering, and then a heavy matting of sheet celatex, which consists mainly of sugar-cane fiber, was laid. Over this several layers of tarred felt were placed. Pitch was used to bind the layers together, and pitch and gravel were poured over the top.

The pitch, which is composed of asphalt and coal-tar compounds, is rather tricky stuff to work with. The mops with which it is spread often burst into flame after being used. As it is heated in an open tank the slightest rainfall may cause it to boil over and catch on fire. Also, because it is heated to a temperature of about 300 degrees, the workmen are in constant danger of being badly burned from spilling or splashing the liquid. More than sixty rolls of felt and 125,000 pounds of pitch were used on the new roof.

Record Crowd Present To Honor Seniors At President's Reception

About five hundred members of the faculty and student body were present last night to honor the seniors at the annual reception given by Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath in the Hillside.

Receiving the guests were Elmer Meider, president of the senior class, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dean Mary E. Turner, Dr. and Mrs. James A. Swindler, and members of the senior class.

Music during the evening was furnished by the college orchestra, with many enjoying the dancing. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Those who poured were: Mrs. Charles Freeman, Mrs. Gilbert Taylor, Mrs. Harold Black, Mrs. Ben Ewema, Mrs. John Orr, Mrs. A. T. Cordray, Mrs. Harold Brennan, Mrs. John Lawther, Mrs. A. B. Davis, and Miss Elizabeth Stewart.

Nominated

Harvey Moore '26, Sharon attorney, was nominated, on the Republican ticket for the state assembly, in the primaries held at Sharon, Tuesday, May 15.

Plans For Sphinx And Target Sing Being Completed

Plans are progressing rapidly for the inter-fraternity inter-sorority sing which will be held on the South Terrace, Saturday evening, June 2, at 7 o'clock. The sing is being sponsored by Sphinx and Target, honorary senior fraternities.

Each group will sing two songs. The songs will be either fraternity and sorority songs or popular songs with fraternity and sorority words written to them. Two or more singers from each group will take part.

Three judges from music departments of surrounding colleges will be asked to pick the winning carolers. The judges will announce their decisions at the Senior dance, sponsored by Sphinx and Target, which will be held in the gymnasium following the sing.

Dr. Galbreath will make the presentation of cups to the winning groups at the dance. The cups will remain in the possession of the winning organizations for one year. They will then be returned and the next year's winners will be given possession of them.

Efforts are being made to have a wire placed from WKBN, Youngstown for the broadcast of the program and the music of the Senior dance orchestra. Newspaper reporters and photographers from Pittsburgh, Sharon, and New Castle, and Youngstown will be present.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Alan Van Harper of Sphinx and Jane Baker from Target. Committee members of Sphinx and fraternities they are working in conjunction with for the sing are: Paul McMinn, Kappa Phi Lambda; William Douglass, Epsilon Theta Pi; Elmer Meider, Delta Phi Sigma; Edgar Allshouse, Theta Upsilon Omega; and Thomas Smith, Phi Pi Phi.

Girls in charge of sororities for the sing are: Virgil Wettich, Chi Omega; Helen Snyder, Theta Upsilon; Gladys Blaine, Beta Phi Alpha; Ebba Sizer, Kappa Delta; Betty Newell, Sigma Kappa; and Charlotte Melhorn, Omicron Mu Gamma.

Women's Glee Club To Appear In New Cassle

Two concerts in New Castle churches will be given during the next week, by the Women's Glee club, directed by Miss Ada Peabody.

Friday evening, May 18, the glee club will sing in the Eworth M. E. church and Wednesday evening, May 23, a program will be presented in the Highland U. P. Church.

The program will include selections by the Woman's octet and the glee club followed by the singing of the dramusical, "Following Foster's Footsteps".

Annual Affair Will Be Held Saturday, May 25

Wick Mackey's Loganbrook orchestra will furnish the music for the annual sophomore dance, to be held in the gymnasium Friday night, May 25. Bruce Bower, chairman of the music committee announces.

Mackey features "Bobby" Powell, blues singer; Warren Rollins, soloist; and a vocal trio. His pianist is Bob Wilkes, popular as a former member of Tal Henry and Don Bigelow's orchestras.

Black and silver crepe paper will be harmonized with different hued lights to furnish artistic decorations for the gymnasium.

Chaperons invited by the class will be: Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Swindler, and Dean Mary E. Turner.

Donald Woods is general chairman of the dance and his committee heads are: Bruce Bower, orchestra; Jeanne Rolfe, decorations; Harvey Snyder, tickets; Kenneth McCormack, advertising; and Evelyn Wilson, chaperons.

Tickets are on sale by all members of the class and the admission price will be $1 a couple.

WAA To Present Letters To Five Girls At Banquet

Woman's Athletic Association will hold its annual formal banquet at the Tavern, Tuesday evening, May 22.

The event which will be the climax of the year's activity in the athletic department, will be attended by all W.A.A. members and those elected to the club during the last sport season.

The feature of the evening's program will be the presentation of Westminster W's to five upper-class girls by Dr. Galbreath. Although these awards were made available at the organization of W.A.A. this is the first time any girls have earned them. Under the point system now functioning, a girl must receive a total of 1000 points for participation in the various sports sponsored by the W.A.A., and must spend at least two years at Westminster to win a block letter.

Girls who will receive this award Tuesday night are: Virgil Wettich, Patricia Jones, Mildred Ralston, Fern Fox, and Lola Sewall.

Newly-elected members who will be formally received into membership are: Martha Brookhauser, Virginia Mack, Betty Washabaugh, Louise Hess, Martha Isen, and Aileen Pleister.

Guests at the banquet will include: Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Galbreath, Dean Mary E. Turner, and Mrs. Edward Reed, a member of the Westminster college board.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of Lucille Nevin, Joan Bolles and Mary Jane Metzler.

Senior Questionnaires Reveal Varied Ambitions and Plans For Life Work

Of the 88 seniors who will receive degrees on Monday, June 11, world travelers, residents of many cities, folks of varied ambitions, campus leaders of considerable versatility, and many who have definite plans for life work are included.

Geoffrey Sowash wins the title of world traveler, since he was born in Egypt; lived for seven years in Khartoum and Omdurman, Egypt, where his father was engaged in missionary work in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan; lived in Cairo and Alexandria, Egypt, for four years; lived in Annecy, Southern France, for a few months; and lived four years in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Desmond Griffin has lived in a number of towns throughout the United States. His former home towns include, Billings, Mont.; Sheridan, Wyoming; Denver, Col.; Glenwood Springs, Co.; Clarksburg, W. Va.; and Marietta, O., in addition to his present home in Sharon.

Henry Shilling, who has been pastor of the M. E. church at West Mid-dlex while attending Westminster, will continue as pastor there. He, too, has moved about the country, having lived in Pulaski; Grove City; Wilmore, Kentucky; Brookville; and New Bethlehem, his home town.

Robert Douglass, who now lives in town, has resided in Wilkinsburg, Pittsburgh, and East Palestine, O. Howard Waite, town, has lived in Pittsburgh, Ellwood City; Midland, Canonsburg, St. Anthony, Idaho; Danville, Ky.; and Kalamazoo, Mich.

Harwood Baldinger, who now lives in South Kortright, N. Y., has also lived in Pittsburgh; Butler; Steubenville, O.; Cambridge, N.Y. Delhi, N. Y.; and Pittsfield, Mass. Paul McMinn, now of Brocton, N. Y. has resided in New Wilmington, Slippery Rock, Jamestown, and Chicora. Jane Black, now of Butler, has lived in Washington, Pa., and Collingswood, N. J. Charles Branfield, Masury, O., has also lived in Warren, O.; and in Youngstown.

Graduate work will attract at least six members of the class, Emily Parker, honor student, has a scholarship at Northwestern University for graduate work in finance. Helen Baerman, who completed her work at the first semester and who now works at the Joseph Horne store in Pittsburgh, will take graduate work in the research bureau for retail training, University of Pittsburgh.

Wilbur Christy, salutatorian, and Robert Douglass plan to enter theological seminary. Fred Luderer will probably enter University of Pennsylvania law school. Miriam Davison will take work at Johns Hopkins University hospital school. A number of seniors plan to take summer school work, including Thelma Dunmire, Walter MacDonald, William Miller.

Eight students already have positions for next year, while three or four others have positions which cannot yet be announced. Alan Van Harper will teach and coach at McKean high school. Bill Douglass will teach and coach at Sykesville high.

STUDENT AID NEEDED IN INTER-FRATERNITY-SORORITY SING

When the Senior class voted to eliminate the customary Senior sing this year a vacancy in the social life of the college was created which, if nothing were to take its place, would in reality be a step backward instead of in the direction of progress.

Fortunately such is not the case. Two senior organizations (Target and Sphinx) are sponsoring an Inter-fraternity and Inter-sorosity sing. Committees are already appointed and will be giving freely of their time and ability to make the new function a success and of interest to every member of the student body.

The committee alone will be able to do nothing. For success in any venture of this nature cooperation is the key-note of achievement. If each sorosity and each fraternity take an active interest the plan will become one of the leading extra-curricular events of the school year... if not... it will be as uninteresting as the former Senior Sing.

Other schools throughout the country have tried similar programs and in every case they have proved a tremendous success. Westminster students can do likewise. Their inter-organization sing can either be valueless or something to be proud of. Which of these two it will be, shall be determined by the students themselves, but we firmly believe that student spirit and student interest in their social organizations will establish the Sing as a permanent tradition of Westminster.

SOME PSYCHOLOGY NEEDED

With Spring finally here and June graduations in the offing, thousands of college seniors are casting about and wondering just what will be the result of the annual search for the traditional "job".

During the past three years it is estimated that nearly three million students have been graduated from college and high school, and the most reliable statistics obtainable point to the fact that not more than 20% of this group have found profitable employment.

A very large percentage of these college graduates have displayed remarkable initiative in securing a livelihood, both in making unusual occupations for themselves and in forgetting their pride and taking whatever job could be secured, regardless of its status. It is a tribute to their youth and spirit in that, on the whole, they still have courage and recognize the depression and its hardships for what it is.

But one wonders whether the colleges themselves have done all within their power to prepare their students for the period of hardship which follows graduation. Are the students prepared psychologically for the change which has come over business and the opportunities which it offers to youth, especially those colleges and schools which do not train their students for a specialized profession?

Has not the old idea of the prestige of the college graduate and his niche in the business and social life lingered too long? There are, of course, exceptions to this, as may be witnessed by the individual initiative displayed by many students, but it is almost certain that this initiative was displayed in spite of the college training and not because of it.

The problem which remains unsolved in business today is that of distribution, and it is here that the field for development lies. Yet how many students are trained in the psychology of selling? This does not mean that every student should be a salesman, but the field of distribution is wide and the opportunities within are numberless, even in the present period of depression.

For some unknown reason the majority of college graduates are possessed of a fear of selling or any of its many ramifications, yet the fact remains that here not only lies the greatest opportunity for advancement but also the greatest possibility for material profit.

In view of this, should not the college imbue their students with the psychology of selling in the formative years of their college life, when student will almost follow where the college leads?

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER

The era of "flaming youth" is definitely gone.
A radical and welcome change has taken place, during the last three or four years, in the men and women of college age in America. Whereas recently the collegian who knew where he was going and what he wanted was the exception, today nearly all have a driving purpose and a recognized air. Only yesterday the man who could make the most brilliant "wisecracks," who spent money most readily and lavishly, who was in short, the typical "Joe College," was the ideal of college men. Today achievement is the ideal, and he who excels in scholarship and in leadership is the character for emulation.

It is not unreasonable to lay this to what has received so much adverse publicity and assorted blame—the depression. The depression has been crammed down the throat of everyone able to read a news-paper or understand a present-day conversation. Everyone, irrespective of age, has had it borne in upon him that life isn't altogether the grand bowl of cherries. All of which is an excellent thing, perhaps not for the peace of mind of the individual, but for the welfare of the nation as a whole. This depression, through its grueling process, has collected and concentrated the scattered brains of yesterday's youth, and, though incapable of peopling the world with Utopian young men and women, it has created a generation which can think as straight as any other and can see as clearly.—The Daily Northwestern.

Intercollegiate Notes

Sixty-three of approximately 600 colleges and universities in the United States have been approved by the American Council of Education as being institutions adequately staffed and equipped to confer doctor's degrees. Twenty states are not represented in the list of 63; New York with six approved universities, and Pennsylvania with five, head the list.

Drastic changes in the curriculum requirements of the liberal arts college of Northwestern University include the abolishment of mathematics, three instead of six specific requirements for a degree, and the division of the college into three groups—natural sciences and mathematics;
social sciences; and languages and literature.
Dean Hibbard characterizes the new curriculum as "modern rather than modernistic, liberal without being radical."

Twelve per cent of elementary school teachers, 60 per cent of junior high school teachers and 87 per cent of senior high school teachers have had four years or more of college training.

A survey of 156 colleges and universities shows that the scholarship averages of fraternity men in the majority of these institutions are higher than those of non-fraternity men.

The University of Chicago has announced that students in the humanities curriculum may bring with them to final examinations any texts, notebooks, or reference material they choose.

Less than 10 per cent of the public schools in the United States make systematic use of motion pictures in class rooms.

A school of journalism will be organized at Wayne University, Detroit, at the beginning of the next fall semester.

Irvine Warburton, University of Southern California's all-American grid star, has been rejected for a role in a football picture because he "doesn't look like" a football player.

Titans Take Two Of Three Tennis Matches

led by the brilliant work of freshman Bob Grier, number one man, the Westminster racquetmen played three matches during the past week and succeeded in winning two of them decisively. The highly touted Youngstown "Y" team was easily defeated by a 6 to 1 score last Friday. Next in line, the Titans caught a Tartar in the form of the strong Covenant team from Geneva. The newly-organized Westminster team fell beneath the onslaught of the buff and grey, only Grier being able to win his match. This contest was staged last Tuesday.

Allegheny College was met yesterday and turned back handily by a score of five to two.

The summaries:

Geneva Match

Singles

Grier, Westminster, defeated Lytell, Geneva, 6-2, 6-1; Clark, Geneva, defeated Brownell, Westminster, 6-2, 6-3; Ginsberg, Geneva, defeated Campbell, Westminster, 9-7, 6-2; Shugart, Geneva, defeated McCall, Westminster, 1-6, 6-2, 6-4; O'Riley, Geneva, defeated Elliott, Westminster, 10-12, 6-4, 6-3.

Doubles

Garrett Hurls 2nd One-Hit Game As Delts Take Third

With "Lefty" Lloyd Garrett hurling one-hit ball and a barrage of extra base hits resounding from their bats, the Delts baseball team pounded out a decisive 6-2 victory over the strong Polish National team at New Castle, Thursday afternoon.

The Polish team, which bids to be a threat in the inter-city and county league, was unable to get to Garrett after the first-inning, where an error, three bases on balls and a single brought their two tallies.

Ray Sweeney and Bob Scarbrough each hit long homers, and each time there was already a runner aboard. "Swede" Hunneke was robbed of a homer when his scorching triple was stopped by long grass in the field.

The game, which was called at the end of the fifth because of darkness, was regarded by the home team as somewhat of a set-up, and not until the collegians had sent the starting moundsman on his way to the bench and had begun to work on the relief pitcher did the team from New Castle begin to realize that the boys from New Wilmington were hitting a .314 pace.

Westminster Has Won Fourteen Championships

Fourteen Tri-State Conference championships have been won by Westminster athletic teams since 1925, a survey shows. This includes six championships in basketball; three in tennis; three in cross country; and two ties for the football championship.

The Titan basketball teams have won all but one of the last seven league championships; or, since Lawther has been coach, six first places and one second place or runner-up position have been won. The Titans won the league championships in 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, and this year. In 1933, Geneva won the league title, and Westminster was second.

Varsity tennis teams in 1925, 1926, and 1927 won Tri-State championship. Cross country teams of 1927, 1928, and 1931 won league titles. The football team of 1928 tied with Duquesne, then a member of the Conference, for the championship; and the following year tied with Waynesburg for the title.

Track teams have never won the conference championship, but have finished second six times in eight seasons. In 1925, 1926, 1927, 1929, 1930, and 1931 the Titans were second. They placed third in the Conference championship meet in 1928 and 1932. Since 1928, when R. X. Graham became coach, the Titans have had varsity track teams five years, during which time there have been 9 dual meet victories, 6 dual meet defeats, three second places in the championship meet, and two third places.

In addition to these championship honors, the Titan basketball team has won Pittsburgh district championships on four occasions: 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1932. This past year, Pitt and Duquesne were on top in the district, while Westminster was second.

Phi Pi's Place In First Division; Eps Fall Behind As Mushball Season Ends

By Dick Nelson

Intra-mural mushball competition will officially close this week after a very successful season. Of the six teams entered in the league the one representing the Phi Pi Phi fraternity will be third in official standing, having won 5 games and losing 4.

Phi Pi's Finish Well

The following men compose the Phi Pi team: Jack Willets, pitcher or general utility man; "Chuck" Deabler also a pitcher but has lately been at roving short; Tim McClure at the short stop position; "Chet" Miller holds down the third sack; Harvey Snyder plays the field or second base; Bill Neely guards left field; Jeff Sowash is at the initial sack; "Doc" Griffith generally plays in right field and Deichmiller in the center garden. Tom Smith is behind the bat.

Eps Weak in the Field

The team having the most unsuccessful season was that of the Eps who won but a single game during the campaign. Their material was good but they failed to make it click.

The Eps: Campbell at the back-stop position; "Doc" Lapsley in the pitcher's box; Baldinger at the first corner; George Monks at shortstop; Glen Momeyer sometimes plays at the hot corner, third base; Ken McCormack hold downs second base; Camden Meek, Shumacher, Cypher, and Kenny Seifert make up the outfield crew.

Varied Program Of Inter-Fraternity Activities Considered Most Extensive In District

Ninety-five percent of all men students in the college have participated in intra-mural games during the past year, according to records in the office of Jack Hulme, director. Of the 299 men regularly enrolled, 287 have participated.

Assisted by George Hollander and William Staples, student assistants, Hulme's department has provided basketball, mushball, tennis, volleyball, water polo, horse-shoes, and football in organized leagues, in addition to the regular physical education class work, including swimming, gymnastics, wrestling, and calisthenics.

A total of 269 contests in the intra-mural league during the year are divided as follows: basketball, three leagues, 105 games; mushball, 35; tennis, 30; horseshoes, 30; volleyball, 30; water polo, three; football, frosh-soph, one; mushball, 35.

Six hundred and ten games of players are listed for the entire sports program, but of this number duplications show that 287 different men students have participated. Students to the number of 117 have acted as officials for the contests.

Basketball, with three leagues, attracted 125 men. Mushball, now in progress, has 130 men participating. The intra-mural tennis matches claimed 50 entrants. Volleyball had 91 participating. Water polo attracted 25; horseshoes, 25; inter-class football, 35. There are 32 men entered for the intra-mural track meet which will be run off next week.

In addition to the intra-mural sports program, 73 students took part in varsity sports. Nine men are taking part in varsity tennis; 15 competed in varsity cross country; 22, basketball; and 27, varsity football.

In the basketball leagues, Delta Phi Sigma won the "A", "B", and "C" championships. The sophomore class won the water polo championship. The freshman class won the inter-class football. The volleyball title was won by Delta Phi Sigma, as was the horseshoes title. Intra-mural tennis and mushball leagues are still under competition.

Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity entered 36 different men in sports during the year. The non-fraternity group had 39 different competitors. Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity had 29 team members in the various leagues. Phi Pi Phi entered 24 different men. Delta Phi Sigma claimed 46 players. Epsilon Theta Pi had 36.

Six men students also passed the American Red Cross life-saving tests during the year. They were: William Shira, Hans Holm, James Ramsey, Robert McCully, Leo Grandmontaigne, and Walter Rudolph.

Fourteen Students Named In Hall Of Fame Balloting

Fourteen Westminster students, all members of the junior and senior classes, were nominated to the Hall of Fame contest sponsored by the Collegiate Digest in last week's issue. Collegiate Digest will, within two weeks, announce the winners for each college.

Those nominated by local students were: Eimer Meider, Eric Thompson, Harold Polonus, Virgil Wettich, Lillian Baird, Evelyn Judson, Cromwell Ketterer, Theresa Burgoon, Maurice Michmerhuizen, Paul McMinn, William Douglass, Wilbur Christy, Dorothy Isaho, and Clarence Manor.

The man and woman student on each campus who is given the largest vote will each receive a Parker pen. Those who balloted receive bottles of Quink. Pictures of the winners will appear in Collegiate Digest in a later issue.

Band Will Present Concert On May 21

Three trumpeters, in a novel announcement made in chapel last Monday, called the attention of the student body to the fact that the college band will present a concert in the gymnasium Monday, May 21, at 8:15 p. m.

The band will play under the direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron, and will present a program of popular favorites. As a form of variation, Harold Falkner will offer a group of xylophone solos.

The tickets will cost 20 cents and may be purchased from any of the college music students. Proceeds are to be added to the library fund.

Nevin Closes Recitals With Varied Programs

Gordon Balch Nevin presented the last of a series of organ recitals in the College chapel, Tuesday evening, May 15.

Seniors Have Varied Plans And Ambitions

Cromwell Ketterer will teach at the Lincoln school, Freedom. Harwood Baldinger has been elected principal of the South Kortright, N.Y. grammar school.

Helen Baerman will continue to work at Horne's store in Pittsburgh. Desmond Griffin has a position with the McDowell National Bank, Sharon. Henry Shilling will continue as pastor of the West Middlesex M. E. church. Ray Werner, who has worked five days a week from 3 in the afternoon until 11:30 at night as timekeeper at the Powell Press Steel plant in Hubbard, O., will probably continue in this position.

Nine members of the class plan to enter business. These are Chester Claypool, Geoffrey Sowash, William Neeley, Ruth Russell, Hugh McCall, Russell T. Anderson, James Bloker, Charles Pharmer, and Thomas McClure.

Twenty other members of the class plan to teach, provided they can find position. A recapitulation, then, of the class shows that six will take graduate work; eight already have positions; nine plan to enter business; 20 others plan to teach; and three have positions which cannot be announced. This makes a total of 46 who either have definite plans or hopes. Some 20 seniors did not fill out questionnaires, so the figures quoted are not complete.

Key Shrubs Planted In Landscape Project

Evergreens, Cornelian cherry trees, flowering Japanese cherries, flowering crab apples, and flowering magnolias, are some of the trees being used in landscaping the campus, according to Mr. Toler, of New Castle who is superintending the planting of trees and shrubs.

As a part of the present plans Science hall, Browne hall, and Old Main will be covered with ivy vines.

Only the key plants in the plan of beautifying the campus are now being planted, as the season is so far advanced. No work will be done for the present around the gymnasium or Hillside. Within the next two weeks the present planting will be finished and at some future date the work will be completed.

Dramatic Class Produces Plays In Lieu Of Exam

Something unique in final examinations is planned for the class in dramatic production by Professor A. T. Cordray. Instead of the traditional written examination, members of the class will present two one-act plays on Monday, May 28.

The first play, "Spring of the Year" will have in the cast the following: William Turner, a cop; Don Mechling, A Gob; and Isabelle Mackey, A Skirt.

The second play, "His Little Gypsy Sweetheart", will include: Dorothy Watkins, Lucy; Wathena Ornduff, Josephine; Doris Updegraff, Emily; Dorothy Johnstone, the Maid; Helen Towner, Fanny; McClees Murray, Winnie; May Smyth, Madge; and Dorothy Bieber and Virginia McCown, Louise.

Members of the stage staff who will assist in the production are: Charles Brown, stage manager; Donald DePeuy, electrician; Don Mechling, stage assistant; Jane Holland, makeup, chairman; Dale Galbreath, cashier; and Gretchen Smith and Olive Pope, ushers.

Two performances of the plays will be given, at 7:30 and 9, in the Little Theatre. Tickets will be 20 cents or two for 35 cents and the proceeds will go to the Library fund.

New Emma Louise Foltz Cup Awarded Alpha Gamma Delta

Recognition of and further incentive to scholarship is the purpose of the new Emma Louise Foltz cup, which was awarded to Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, Tuesday, May 22.

The cup which has been donated by Mrs. E. B. Russell in memory of her mother, will be presented each year to the sorority having the highest scholastic rating on the campus.

In making this year's award, grades for the 1932-33 term were considered. An average of 1.765 earned by Alpha Gamma Delta during this period, won for them the honor.

For many years, it has been the custom of the college to award two scholarship cups to those groups on the campus having the highest scholastic averages. This competition has been between four groups; fraternity versus non-fraternity and sorority versus non-sorority. This year both the non-fraternity and non-sorority groups won the award.

Last fall, Pan-Hellenic Council petitioned the faculty for permission to accept the cup offered by Mrs. Russell as recognition to the sorority having the highest scholastic average on the campus.

As a result of this action the faculty granted this petition and also decided to inaugurate such an award for the fraternity making the highest scholastic rating. As yet, however, no fraternity cup has been provided and no award made.

A Capella Group Of Erie Academy High School To Sing Here Next Week

As a part of the chapel program for Thursday, May 31, the a capella choir of Academy high school of Erie will sing a group of songs.

Thirty boys and thirty-eight girls take part in the chorus which is directed by Professor O. L. Greider. They have appeared at the White House, in Philadelphia before the Music Supervisors of New England and the Middle Atlantic States, a State contest in Pittsburgh, the Century of Progress, Chautauqua Institute, and before numerous college audiences.

In the varied repertoire of the chorus are: Nightingale, Tchaikovsky; Echo Song, Di Lasso; Czeko-Slovakian Folk Song; O Morn of Beauty, Sibellus; To Thee We Sing, Schoedor; I Got Religion, Spiritual arranged by Noble Cain; Exultate Deo, Palestrina; O Bone Jesu, Palestrina; Lullaby on Christmas Eve, Christiansen; Hear My Prayer, Arkangel; Cherubim Song, Glinka; Gospodi Ponsilui, Ivasky; Emitte Spiritum Tuum, Schuetky.

Manages Plays

CHARLES BROWN

Charles Brown, a member of this year's graduating class, is stage manager of "Spring of the Year" and "His Little Gypsy Sweetheart" which will be presented by the class in dramatic production.

Hal Thomas To Play For Senior Dance Next Week

Hal Thomas and his orchestra have been engaged to furnish the music for the Senior dance, to be held Saturday evening, June 2, from 8:30 to 11:30, according to an announcement made by members of the orchestra committee.

Both Target and Sphinx are co-operating with the class of '34 to make the dance a success.

Many Commencement Addresses Scheduled For Dr. Galbreath

Eight commencement addresses and baccalaureate sermons have been listed for Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, and more will probably be added within the next week.

On Sunday, May 20, Dr. Galbreath preached the baccalaureate sermon before the Peters Township high school at 3 p. m., and also preached the baccalaureate for the New Kensington high school class at 8 p. m.

The Enon Valley high school commencement this evening will find Dr. Galbreath as the speaker; and on Sunday, May 27, he will preach the baccalaureate sermon for the Edinboro State Teachers' College class.

Dr. Galbreath will address the Brookville high school class on Monday, May 28; the Washington high school commencement on Tuesday, May 29; the Freeport high school commencement on Thursday, May 31; and the Connellsville high school baccalaureate on Sunday, June 3.

Decorations For, Soph Dance Follow Nocturnal Theme

Black and silver crepe paper will be used to create a nocturnal decoration scheme at the sophomore dance tonight in the college gymnasium. Stars and a crescent moon will accentuate a black crepe paper ceiling. A curtain-effect, achieved by black paper with silver tie-backs, will conceal the bleachers, and a canopy will be arched over the orchestra. Palms and ferns will complete the decorations.

Collegians will dance to the rhythmic music of Wick Mackey's Loganbrook orchestra. Mackey features "Bobby" Powell, blues singer; Warren Rollins, soloist; and a vocal trio. His pianist, Bob Wilkes, was formerly a member of Tal Henry and Don Bigelow's orchestra.

The class has invited Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Swindler, and Dean Mary E. Turner as chaperons.

The committees in charge of the dance are: general committee, Donald Wood, chairman, Josephine McGoun, David Kennedy; orchestra, Bruce Bower, chairman, Edith Carson, Mary Fleming; decorations, Jeanne Rolfe, chairman, Jane Holland, Lucille Nevin; tickets, Harvey Snyder, chairman, George McGeoch, Gerald Kloss; advertising, Kenneth McCormack, chairman, Walter Donaldson, Jerry Auld; and chaperons, Evelyn Wilson, chairman, Susan Barnes, McClees Murray.

YM And YW To Honor Seniors At Joint Picnic

Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. announce that their annual joint picnic honoring members of the senior class, will be held this year on Friday, June 8, at the football field.

The big feature of the afternoon program will be the annual faculty versus senior mushball game, scheduled to take place at 4 p. m. Various other sports and recreational activities will precede the picnic lunch, and the days activities will be concluded with an outdoor vespers service to be held at 7:45 p. m.

Lola Sewall and Martha Byers are in charge of plans.

Books Of Late Dr. Shott Presented To Library

Miss Corinne Shott, daughter of the late Dr. J. A. Shott, recently presented the college library with 200 volumes taken from Dr. Shott's personal collection.

These books deal primarily with the subjects of education, philosophy, and psychology, and, according to an announcement made by Miss Mildred Ailman, have been catalogued and placed on the shelves for use.

Inter-Fraternity, Sorority Sing Will Open Week Of Commencement Activities

Opening activities for Commencement week, Sphinx and Target will sponsor an inter-fraternity, sorority sing Saturday evening, June 2, at 7 o'clock. This activity will replace the annual Senior Sing.

Fraternity and sorority groups have been rehearsing during the last week the songs they will sing at this time. Twelve or more singers from each organization will form a glee club and sing two songs. One of the songs must be a fraternity or sorority song and the other may be a popular song with fraternity and sorority words written to it.

Head Committee

JANE BAKER

ALAN HARPER

Jane Baker and Alan Van Harper, senior members of Target and Sphinx, are in charge of arrangements for the Inter-fraternity, sorority Sing which will be held June 2.

Professor Edward H. Freeman, of the College music department, will be chairman of the judges. Other judges will be prominent musicians of the district.

Sphinx and Target, senior honorary fraternities sponsoring the Sing, are procuring cups for the winning groups. The Sharon News-Telegraph will donate the cup for the winning fraternity, Sphinx announces. Target is making arrangements for a cup which will be presented to the winning sorority.

Alan Van Harper, of Sphinx, and Jane Baker, of Target, are in charge of arrangements for the Sing.

The judges will reserve their decisions and announce them at the annual Senior dance which will be held Saturday evening. Dr. Galbreath will present the cups to the winning organizations.

Ten Classes Will Hold Reunions Here Alumni Day, June 9

Ten graduating classes will hold reunions on alumni day, Saturday, June 9. Dr. S. E. Calhoun, chairman of the reunion committee announces.

The oldest class to hold a reunion, that of 1884, will celebrate its 50th anniversary of graduation. At least 10 of the surviving 13 members of the class will be present, Attorney Frank Scott, Cleveland, O., chairman announces. The class will be guests of Judge James McLaughry and his sister Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry at the Overlook.

Rev. Dr. Arch Robinson and Mrs. C. B. Robertson are on the committee for the class of 1889 reunion. Both are of Pittsburgh. Mrs. W. R. Dickson, McDonald, is chairman of the class of 1894 class reunion.

Attorney John Lockhart, New Castle, has charge of plans for the reunion of the 1899 class. The 1904 class will hold its reunion at 5 o'clock in the New Castle Field club. In charge of arrangements are Edythe Davidson, Pittsburgh; and Helen Byers Bradley, Uniontown.

Norman Igo, Youngstown, Ohio, is chairman of the class of 1909 reunion committee. Attorney Ralph Miller, Youngstown, O., is in charge of the class of 1914 plans. Dr. Hugh Hart, New Wilmington, is making plans for the 1919 reunion which will be held at Dr. Hart's home.

Attorney Gilbert Long, New Castle, is chairman of the 1924 class reunion; and Professor Ross Ellis and Attorney Thomas Mansell, New Wilmington, are making plans for the class of 1929 roundup.

Student Council Plans College Dance, June 9

Dean Mary E. Turner announces that plans are in progress for an all college dance to be held Saturday, June 9, from 9:30 to 11:30 p. m., in the college gymnasium.

The college orchestra will provide music for the dancers, and their will be no charge for admission.

Plans will be under the direction of the student council.

Professor Baker To Do Research Work Abroad

Professor James V. Baker, member of the college history department during the past year, will sail for England on the M. V. Georgic, Saturday, June 16.

Mr. Baker will spend the summer in research work at the Public Record office in London. He will return in time to resume his work here next fall.

New Wilmington Is One Of The Best Lighted Towns Economic Survey Reveals

That New Wilmington is one of the best-lighted small towns in the country is one of the conclusions reached by Mr. Ellis' classes in statistics, after several thorough surveys of the college town.

Four surveys are being conducted, three of New Wilmington and one of Sharon. Material is gathered by means of a house to house canvass and interviews with town officials.

A commercial and industrial survey of New Wilmington, the work of Ruth McCabe, John Straus, and Harvey Snyder, investigates the educational facilities of the town, noting that teachers' salaries are unusually low. There are four town policemen, and 29 volunteer firemen.

New Wilmington's leading industries are: the receiving plant, Dairyman's Milk Company; the Quality Tool Corporation; and the West Ridge Bus Line and Transportation Company. The type of city government is the mayor council type, which eliminates the necessity for officials' salaries.

The population is exclusively white and all U. S. citizens. Every inhabitant has received at least a grammar school education, 80 per cent finished high school, and three per cent are college graduates.

The real estate survey of New Wilmington, prepared by William Wagner, Donald Wood, Edwin Austen, and John Willis, is a study of the housing problem in the town. Most of the residences are old, but in fair or good condition. Eighty-eight per cent of them are frame. Three per cent of the houses are vacant, and there are 124 rooms available to students.

A report on purchasing power and buying condition disclosed the fact that New Wilmington residents buy only about one-quarter of their groceries in the chain stores, preferring to trade at the more friendly independent establishments.

More than 90 per cent of the townspeople make a definite attempt to buy from New Wilmington merchants, but New Castle draws more than 50 per cent of those that shop out of town.

The average size of a New Wilmington family is three people. About 30 per cent of the heads of families are retired. The majority have cars, there being 124 automobiles owned by townspeople.

Harold Griffith, Kenneth Seifert, Dave Kennedy, Jacob Thomas, Alta Russell, Altha McCartney, and Richard Watt gathered this information.

The last survey, concerning commerce and industry in Sharon, included reports on living conditions, labor, natural resources, city government, etc. It is the work of Thomas Walker, Robert Snodgrass, and William Glaser.

The surveys are, as yet, not quite complete. Much of the material is derived from sample statistics.

STUDENTS CO-OPERATE

With the announcement last week that the Library fund has already gone over $600, the spirit that has put Westminster ahead of other Liberal Arts colleges of its size was shown.

Students were behind the drive for a new library, to replace the inadequate apology which is at present serving in that capacity, from the start. An N.R.A. fair by the girls of Neshannock lodges, a Spaghetti dinner by the girls of Browne hall, a style show by Target, Student council and Pan-hellenic dances, a dance by the girls and fellows of the co-op houses, a concert by the Girl's glee club, a Band concert, a Dutch treat party by the Hillside girls, and plays by the Little theatre group, are some of the projects which kept the fund for a new library growing.

May the good work continue and may next year's student body have the privilege of studying in a modern, well-equipped library.

MORE TENNIS COURTS

With the addition of two tennis courts to the athletic field of Westminster, just twice as many students will be able to enjoy this sport.
But the supply does not yet equal the demand.
As soon as the new courts were laid out and before they were completed they were already in use.

At least four more courts are needed to give all students a chance to participate in the spring sport. There should be one court alone for faculty members which could be used by the faculty at any time. At least two courts should be put at the disposal of the women students. Perhaps these could be constructed behind Hillside where the girls could use them at any time. To round out the program, one more court for varsity tennis would make Westminster the best equipped college for the spring sport in the district.

CORRELATION

Advocates of a broader [curriculum] requirement probably will not deny the advantages of specialism. They will object, rather, to the particular type of specialism now existing in our social sciences. It recalls the case of the Chicago heiress who was sued for reneging on a contract to buy a horse, and gave the excuse that the steed did not fit her saddle. Similarly, a student who specializes so narrowly that he does not know even the fundamentals of most of the social sciences finds himself trying to fit his problems to his technique when he ought to be doing the contrary.

Say that you are an economics major, and that your father involves you in a discussion of the "new deal." You think you come off pretty well on the gold policy. But what about Congress turning over so much of its power to the President? You did not study government. When great social tides once get up momentum, can "measures" really do much to stop them? You passed up sociology. New-dealism may be succeeded by Fascism or Bolshevism. What is your opinion of the human experiences which each must tend to encourage or thwart? You never gave philosophy a chance to introduce you to problems of ethics and values. By this time Dad is wondering whether he or the country can afford such highly specialized young gentlemen.—

Bruce Knight in The Steeplejack, Dartmouth College.

Intercollegiate Notes

Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, director of athle-

University of Iowa officials have developed a plan to coordinate the financial problems of campus fraternities through the establishment of an independent control corporation.

A mass meeting was held recently on the Dartmouth College campus to crystalize undergraduate opinion with regards to the problems of war and peace.

Holcadabra

If the co-eds at Browne Hall feel that they didn't get their quota of phone calls Thursday night they can blame it on the young lady who talked on the phone for more than an hour and a half.

"Remember, it doesn't pay to cram for exams. The best way to do is to learn everything during the semester." This has been printed before, but we'd sort of like to rub it in.

Why not expand the interfraternity, inter-sorority sing to include such organizations as the Brotherhood of Bashful Beans, the Engineers Honorary Sorority, and the Exalted Order of Chapel Cutters?

We enjoy:
Seeing "Scar" knock a fast one over the fence.
Watching "Monks" stop a sizzler through short.
Hearing "Fritz" talk the opposing pitcher into a huff.
"Furry's" wind up.
"Grier's" catching.
Seeing the co-ed audience turn pale at mushball games when the gentlemen in the outfield take off their shirts.

The song, "Boulevard of Broken Dreams" could be applied to Market street between Old Main and the business section. Only the title would have to be changed to "Boulevard of Broken Pocket Books". One day we counted 345 ice cream wrappers, 59 chewing gum wrappers, and papers from candy, cigarettes, peanuts and various and so-forths strewn along the sidewalk.

About this time of year people meet other people whom they now wish they had met about six months ago.

Members of one of the fraternities are planning on packing a picnic lunch, including red ants, of course, and heading for the wild open spaces. What if it rains boys?

Round Town.
Thompson House inmates claim that Biology is interfering with their studies in other subjects. All of their text books are being used as weights to press flowers.

Girls at the co-op lodges have consumed 14,345 peanut butter sandwiches this year, according to the latest report from our statistical department.

Hillside boasts of several hardened bug catchers whose services are drafted whenever an insect gets into a room. The electric light fuses at Hillside are of a special type that invariably blow out when someone is studying for a test.

Men at the boy's co-op lodge usually answer the phone by saying,
"Gentlemen's co-operative mansion."
What is the name of the young lady at Browne Hall who eats sardines in bed?

We recommend:

Warning your parents in advance if you think you are going to flunk any courses.

A cooling midnight dip in the town pool on sultry nights.

Starting that term paper no later than next Monday.

Worst Pun of the Week.

"Use the word 'archaic' in a sentence."
"We can't have our chaic and eat it too."

Closing Thought:

"Keep your shirts on, gentlemen."

Titan Athletes Who Will Be Lost By Graduation

BLOKER, J. W. 4

HOLLANDER

ELMER MEIDER

DOUGLASS

MAUNO SILJANDER

Westminster will be minus the services of five outstanding athletes when the sport seasons get under way next fall. Among the missing stars will be three basketball lettermen and two football lettermen.

Cap't William Douglass, veteran forward of three years campaigning will leave a vacancy which will be hard to fill.

"Whitey" Siljander, active in football, basketball and track will be long remembered for his polished performances, especially in the field events.

Jim "Hook" Bloker will terminate his college career with four years of football to his credit, where he played center.

George Hollander, a transfer in his Sophomore year from Alabama, performed at varsity guard in football for three years.

Elmer Meider, involuntarily inactive until his senior year, was a welcome addition to the Westminster basketball squad at guard.

Swimming, Hockey Popular With Co-Eds

Although not up to the high percentage the men have rated in their intra-mural program, the girls come to the front to prove a goodly number of them have been spending the year acquiring skill and losing weight, following their athletic program.

Miss Love announces that the total number of girls who participated in the various sports was 185. Participation means two practices a week and games when scheduled. The freshmen seem to find the call of the gym most alluring as they turned out exactly one hundred girls. The senior representation was smallest with 15; the Juniors had 20; and the sophomores had 50. Sixty girls in the various classes took part in at least three sports.

Swimming seems to be the favorite of the women. In addition to the swimming classes, which are filled to capacity, 139 girls enjoyed pleasure swims during the Friday afternoon period. 30 girls received their Senior Red Cross Life Saving awards, after taking the test given by Jack Hulme this year. The Mermaid Club, organized this year, boasts a membership of 40 advanced swimmers.

Basketball is next in popularity with 72 girls playing regularly. Other sports and the number of participants are: field hockey 61, soccer 65, volleyball 71, tumbling 24, baseball 57. Twenty-four girls attended classes in tennis fundamentals, taught by Miss Love this season.

All sports are sponsored by W.A.A., which was organized by Miss Love two years ago. This club has a membership of 50 women, elected because of out-standing athletic ability. In each sport, color tournaments are held, then selected class teams play.

"Prexy" Presents Block W's To Five W. A. A. Members At Banquet

The W.A.A. formal banquet, held Tuesday night at the Tavern, concluded the sports year for W.A.A. members. Dr. Galbreath presented Westminster W's to Mildred Ralston, Virgil Wettich, Patricia Jones, Lola Sewall, and Fern Fox. Mrs. E. O. Reed of Mercer, addressed the club, giving an informal talk on girls in athletics, which was most interesting and well received.

Mushball Crown Is At Stake In Playoff Monday

With a game apiece to their credit and a tie game providing no satisfaction but considerable excitement, the league-leading mushball teams, the Deltas and the T.U.O.'s will stage the final contest Monday afternoon for the mushball championship of the fraternity league. The losing team will automatically fall into the runner-up position, the now second place Phi Pi team falling back to third as a result of too many markers in the lost column.

In the first game of the season's series, the T.U.O. team turned in a neat performance over the erratic Delt team for a 18-7 victory. In the second game of the series, the Deltas produced a new pitcher in the form of Jim Ferguson who kept pace with the T.U.O.'s ace hurler, Sweeney, the score being two apiece as the game was called in the eighth because of darkness.

Last Monday afternoon, the T.U.O.'s received their first setback in the third game of the series when the improved Delt team smote the offerings of Ray Sweeney for seventeen hits and 15 runs. Always the stronger hitting team, the Deltas were considerably inferior to the Furnace Hill clan in the pitching department until Ferguson allowed but two hits in the last encounter to hold the T.U.O. ten to four runs.

The rubber game, to be played Monday afternoon terminates the regular season of the intra-mural league. The All-stars will play two remaining games, one tonight with the colored stars of New Castle and one tomorrow with the Mellon bank team of Pittsburgh.

Titans Drop Return Match With 'Gators

After defeating Allegheny on the home court last week by a 5-2 score, the Titan netmen dropped the return match at Meadville, Wednesday 4-3. Westminster won two single matches, and the first play of doubles, but lost out in the second double match to fall behind by one point. The summaries:

Singles:—Grier, Westminster, defeated Peterson, Allegheny 3-6, 6-2, 6-3; Lubic, Allegheny, defeated Brownell, Westminster 3-6, 6-3, 7-5; Campbell, Westminster, defeated Tate, Allegheny 10-8, 6-2; Serene, Allegheny, defeated McCall, Westminster 6-3, 6-3; Goodrich, Allegheny defeated Elliott, Westminster 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles:—Grier and Campbell defeated Peterson and Lubic, 7-9, 10-8, 6-4; Tate and Nevin defeated Brownell and Elliott, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Intra-Mural All-Stars Take Double Victory At Rochester Field

The Intra-mural mushball All-stars, took the road on Wednesday afternoon and scalped the Rochester City champions in both ends of a double-header. The college team was too strong in all departments for their hosts and returned to the campus with a 5-2 victory in the first game and a 9-0 triumph in the second, this being the result of a forfeit when the Rochester team walked off the field in the 3rd inning due to an altercation with the umpires.

The dispute occurred when Ronnie Paris collided with a Rochester infielder on his way from second. Both umpires agreed that the Rochester player had been blocking the baseline, and vindicated Paris, but the Rochester team became upset and being on the short end of the 2-1 score, retired with harsh words and mutterings and left our lads in possession of the second fray.

For the All-stars, the outstanding performances were turned in by Ketterer, Scarbrough, Meider and Sweeney.

Slippery Rock Collegians Bow To Deltas; 15-4

Amassing a total of eleven hits and bunting them into two big innings, the Delta Phi Sigma baseball team defeated the Slippery Rock Collegians by a 15 to four count for the fifth straight victory of the local fraternity boys. The contest was waged before a fair-sized gathering at the upper field last Saturday afternoon.

Wilbur Patterson was the hurler for the home team and gave seven scattered hits. After a shaky start, the Deltas pushed over six runs in the second to attain a lead that was never headed. Two more were collected in the fifth and another hitting orgy in the sixth gathered seven more runs.

Johnny Brinko, ex-Westminster student was the starting pitcher for the Rockets but was withered by a six hit attack in the second and was removed in favor of Crowl, who finished the game. Crowl held the Westminsterites to one lone hit for three innings but collapsed in the sixth when Meider doubled, Lausberg and Douglass tripled, and Jackie Laraway applied the finishing touches with a mighty home run over the fence in right field.

For the teachers, Gibson, Henning and Brinko displayed the best performances. Two scheduled games were rained out during the past week, but the Deltas hope to engage the strong Sharon ex-Legion team, runners-up in last year's State competition, for a contest at home tomorrow.

Varsity Statistics

With the athletic season definitely closed, the statistics of games lost and won are as follows: Basketball, won 22 and lost 4, football, won 2 and lost 6 and tennis (to date) won 3 and lost 2 for a total percentage of .692 victories.

Former Coach Named To Municipal Office

Charles McMahon, coach of football at Westminster from 1906 to 1909, has been appointed justice of the municipal court by Mayor LaGuardia of New York.

Many Westminster alumni attended the installation ceremonies at which McMahon was sworn in as justice of the Third district. He is an independent Democrat and his appointment was backed by former United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner, as well as the bar association and the New York County Lawyers Association.

McMahon was admitted to the bar in 1908 after graduation from Harvard law school.

During the four years that he coached at Westminster McMahon won 25 games, lost 12 and tied one.

The Epsilon, the college publisher's magazine, in its March 1934 issue announced the installation of the Westminster chapter of Phi Delta Epsilon. Edward E. McDonald of the Carnegie Tech chapter conducted the initiation services which were held in Old Main Memorial. A banquet held at Hillside during the evening concluded the services.

Former members of the local honorary journalism fraternity, Tau Gamma Delta, who became charter members of Pi Delta Epsilon are, Charles R. Branfield, Robert N. Jones, Robert V. Jones, James R. McGeorge, Paul McMinn, Kenneth J. Mehl, Maurice E. Michmerhuizen, Harold A. Polonus, Alan Van Harper.

Book Written By Dr. Orr Presented To Library

"English Deism Its Roots and Its Fruits" written by Dr. John Orr has been presented to the college library.

The work traces Deism through the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and shows that it has a large part in producing higher criticism of the Bible and to what extent Modernism is a fruit of the eighteenth century Deism.

Dr. Orr, a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, became interested in the subject of deism while studying in the University of Berlin.

Virgil Wettich To Be Crowned Queen Tonight

Miss Virgil Wettich will be crowned queen at Westminster College in ceremonies to take place on the South terrace of the college this evening at 7 o'clock. Miss Wettich, a junior, will receive the crown from Miss Louise Johnston a member of the senior class and last year's queen.

Miss Wettich will be attended by six classmates. They are: Helen McLaughry, Mary Rebecca Morrow, Dorothy Isaho, Mary Carlton Wright, Charlotte Melhorn, and Martha Hazlett.

Miss Johnston will be attended by six senior girls: Betty Newell, Jean Mankedick, Jane Baker, Grace Kelly, Esther Caughey, and Martha Goodwin.

Gowns of the attendants of Miss Wettich will be of organdy and will follow a color motif of blue, pink, and yellow. Large garden hats in matching shades will be worn. Gowns for the senior attendants will be white organdy with sashes of pastel shades.

Louise and Lucille, twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Black of the faculty, will be the crown bearers in the pageant.

Following the coronation of the queen, the Maypole will be wound by a group of 24 women students, all members of W.A.A. Jane Holland, (Continued on Page 4)

Westminster May Queens

LOUISE JOHNSTON

VIRGIL WETTICH

Virgil Wettich will receive the crown as May queen this evening from Louise Johnston, last year's queen. The ceremonies, to take place on South terrace, start at 7 o'clock.

Miss Wettich, a junior, is president of Chi Omega, and is a member of Target, senior women's honorary society. She has been an assistant editor of the Argo; a member of intramural hockey, volleyball, basketball, and baseball teams; a member of the Y.W.C.A., Y.P.C.U., and freshman commissions; has maintained a high academic average; and is a member of Psi Nu.

Miss Johnston, a senior, was queen last year. She is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority, and has been a member of the oratorio society and of the glee club; a member of the Tribunal, governing body; and has also been outstanding academically.

Dr. S. C. Gamble To 88 Seniors Will Deliver Address Be Candidates For Degrees

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Cooper Gamble will deliver the commencement address at the eightieth annual graduation exercises at Westminster on Monday, June 11.

Dr. Gamble, pastor of the second United Presbyterian church, Butler, Pa., is a graduate of Westminster of the class of 1901. He was graduated from the Pittsburgh seminary, and received the degree of doctor of divinity from Westminster in 1924.

Dr. Gamble has held pastorates in Martins Ferry, Ohio, 1904-1909; second U. P. church, New Castle, 1909-1914; first U. P. church, Philadelphia, Pa., 1914-1918; and has been at Butler since 1919.

He is past president and honorary member of the Butler Rotary club; a member of the board of the Butler Memorial hospital; a director of the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary; and is an associate editor of the United Presbyterian. His "Benedicite" letters, which have appeared in the United Presbyterian, have been is-

Plan To Publish Alumni Bulletin

Plans are being formulated whereby members of the Alumni association will receive, next year, a new Westminster publication in the form of an Alumni bulletin.

The bulletin will be published a number of times during the year and will be distributed to all alumni who have paid the regular $2.00 association dues. This publication will be issued in place of the Holcad, which members of the association have heretofore received.

Mr. Patton, business manager of the college, states in announcing this change "that the success of the new publication depends on the measure of support received from the alumni." If a sufficient number are interested and join the association a larger number of issues of the bulletin will be published.

The book will contain alumni news of the college which will be interesting to the alumni. Graduates still interested in receiving the Holcad will be placed on the mailing list if they send the regular subscription price of $2.00 to the circulation manager of the paper.

Three Services On Tomorrow's Program

Three religious services, part of the commencement activities, take place at Westminster tomorrow.

The annual Christian Association's sermon, sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. cabinets, will be preached at 11 o'clock in the United Presbyterian church. The Rev. W. F. Harkey, pastor of the Houston, Pa., United Presbyterian church, will preach.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon, professor Gordon Balch Nevin will present a vespers organ recital in the college chapel. The program includes: Castilleja Sonata (First Movement) by Latham True, To Spring by H. A. Matthews, O Mensch, bewein' dein' Sünde fress by J. Sebastian Bach, Festival Postlude on Ancient Melodies by Russell K. Miller, Legende, Opus 19, No. 2 by Joseph W. Clokey, Sixth Sonata, Variations on the Choral, "Our Father, Who Art in Heaven" by F. Mendelssohn, and A Sylvan Idyll by Professor Nevin.

The baccalaureate service will be held in the college chapel in the evening at 8 o'clock. President Robert F. Galbreath will preach. Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will be at the organ and will play an organ solo. The choir will sing "All people that on earth do dwell" by West.

Reception Honoring Dr. Freeman To Be Held This Afternoon

Alumni and members of the student body and faculty will honor Dr. Charles Freeman with a reception to be held on the South terrace this afternoon, June 9, at 3:30.

Since 1894, Dr. Freeman has been a member of the college faculty, having filled the position of dean for twenty-five years, and three different times has been acting president.

A graduate of Allegheny college, he received his A.M. and Ph. D. degrees before coming to Westminster, which in 1929 conferred upon him the LL.D. degree. He also is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the American Chemical society, and is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

A reception line composed of the following members will greet the guests as they arrive: Dr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath and Dr. H. H. Donaldson, president of the Board of Trustees, and his wife.

Senior members of Target, assisted by Alan Van Harper, Elmer Meider, Alton Kloss, and William Neeley will have charge of serving refreshments.

The committee in charge of arrangements, who will work under the direction of Dean Mary E. Turner, chairman, is composed of the following faculty members, who are alumni of the college: Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, Miss Ruth McConnell, Miss Margaret Reed, Miss Corinne Mercer, Mr. Donald Cameron, Mr. Thomas Madsell, Mr. J. D. Lawther, Miss Pearl Hoagland, Mr. H. R. Patton, and Mr. Ross Ellis.

Tag Day Drive Sponsored By Target Opens Today

Members of Target, senior women's honorary fraternity, are sponsoring a tag day for the benefit of the library fund, today and Monday. Senior members of the fraternity are opening the drive this morning and the junior members will be in charge of the sale this afternoon and Monday, when the seniors will be engaged in graduation activities.

Girls selling the tags will be designated by blue and white ribbons. All contributions in exchange for the tags will be voluntary.

300 Alumni Expected To Revisit Campus Today

Approximately 300 alumni are expected back for the annual alumni day program being held at the college today, including the annual alumni dinner, the reception for Dr. Charles Freeman, and the class reunions.

The dinner will be held this noon in the United Presbyterian church parlors. The committee in charge includes: Mrs. Wm. McElwee, Mrs. J. V. Wherry, Mrs. Lauren Thompson, and Dr. Hugh M. Hart.

Officers who will be in charge of the meeting in the afternoon are: F. L. Burton, president; W. D. Gamble, vice-president; Mrs. Zella Robins, secretary; Miss Elizabeth McBane, treasurer; and Arthur Kirkbride, auditor. Election of new officers for the year and the appointment of new committees will be taken up at this meeting.

At 3:30 a reception for Dr. Charles Freeman will be held and at 5 o'clock arrangements have been made for 11 class gatherings. The committee in charge of class reunions includes: Dr. S. E. Calhoun and H. R. Patton.

All-College Dance To Be Held Tonight In Gym

Cecil Bowles and his orchestra will furnish the music for the Student Council dance which will be held in the gymnasium tonight from 9:30 to 11:30.

Students, alumni, and friends of the college are invited. There will be no charge for admission, as expenses will be paid by the profit gained in previous all-college dances held throughout the year.

Target Elects Officers

Miss Elizabeth Stewart entertained the members of Target at a tea in her home, Friday afternoon, June 1.

Following the tea a short business meeting was held and the following officers elected for the coming year: Betty McCrory, president; Mildred Ralston, vice president; Charlotte Melhorn, treasurer; Lillian Baird, secretary; and Lola Sewall, historian.

Faculty Members Have Varied Plans For Summer

Sixteen of the forty-two members of the teaching staff have announced definite plans for the summer recess. Five of this number will enroll in graduate courses at various universities, one will do research work in London, seven will combine study work and travel, while three intend to make travel their sole occupation for the summer.

Those enrolled in summer sessions are: Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, Miss Mildred Allman, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Miss Florence E. White and Professor Albert J. Tener. Miss Kirkbride plans to commute to Cleveland, where she will do graduate work in piano study. She will also spend some time in the late summer traveling through New England.

Miss Mildred Allman has chosen to do her graduate work at Penn State; while Miss Elizabeth Stewart will study at the Middlebury, Vermont French school. After the completion of her summer school work, she too will travel.

Miss Florence White will attend the A.A.U.W. convention at Poughsued in book form as "The Letters of Benedicite." Dr. Gamble is a brother of Prof. W. D. Gamble, superintendent of Sharon schools.

Other speakers will be: Rev. Richard W. Graves who will deliver the invocation, Wilbur C. Christy who will deliver the salutatory address, and Eric Thompson, who will give the valedictory address.

The board of trustees meets Monday morning at 10:30 in the Little Theatre to pass upon seniors recommended by the faculty for graduation and to conduct the other business of (Continued on Page 4)

THE NEW LIBRARY

Alumni will read, perhaps with something of a smile on the lips, that the student body has, since January, raised almost $700 toward the new library fund. Before allowing this smile to become a patronizing one, look into the situation.

All funds raised by students have been done through the various activities: dances, parties, bazaars, tag days, plays, recitals, concerts. The movement has been spontaneous on the part of students, and enthusiasm and interest has never lagged.

Students and faculty realize that Westminster must have a new library. More than this, they are determined that Westminster will have a library building. Facilities for research and study are inadequate now. These must be improved.

The movement on the part of students is just the beginning. The new library is on the horizon, with ground breaking surely not more than a year away, we hope. As President Galbreath has said to many alumni groups: "Go home and think about this matter. We are going to have a library building."

MOTHER, FAIR

Last year the Holcad printed an editorial in which it said that a good alumnus was a devoted son or daughter to a good mother. Taken for granted that Westminster is a good mother, devotion, then, should be explained.

Devotion does not mean playing politics, trying to see how much the college can do for one without doing anything for it, finding fault when what is needed is encouragement and aid, using petty grudges as a foil to cover up paralysis of the pocketbook.

Westminster needs of alumni and board members impersonal, devoted, consecrated, enthusiastic support of every kind, as every church college needs. We need an organized, sympathetic, well-wishing, hard-working family of graduates and trustees. By and large, we have just that. Only a few misunderstand. And surely the few who do not understand are those who do not come back for commencement.

You who come back, who are interested, tell other alumni of the great progress made by Old Westminster through the year. The college has been doing things. It has much to recommend it to the most discriminating parents of young men and women. Its standing is very high. The future depends upon faculty and students on one hand, and on alumni and trustees and the church on the other.

FORTY YEARS

Through four administrations of Westminster presidents, through ten college generations, through the end of one era and into the new era, through forty years Dr. Charles Freeman has served Westminster.

Since 1894, when, as a young man, he came to Westminster, taught chemistry and science in the old building East of Old Main Memorial

(which later became the Gymnasium when the Mary Thompson Science hall was built), Dr.
Freeman has been an integral part of the college.

During the years, he has remained young in appearance, in outlook, and in physique. He has been professor in chemistry, head of the department of Chemistry, dean of the college for 26 years (1907-1933), acting president twice.

Alumni of classes as far back as 1894 know him and have studied under him. During the years he has counseled with many who have attended Westminster. He has served on committees, awarded degrees at commencements, come in contact with student activities of every sort through his offices, and has been a friend to many who will honor him this afternoon.

The reception in his honor and to commemorate forty years of service to Westminster is, of course, not planned to mark the end of an epoch but rather the start of another period of usefulness and service.

Intercollegiate Notes

Sir Arthur Eddington, British astronomer, claims that he has a mathematical formula which pictures the universe which can be written on a blackboard with a piece of chalk in about 30 seconds.

Dr. Shelton J. Phelps, dean of the graduate school at George Peabody College at Nashville, Tenn., has been elected president of Winthrop College at Rock Hill, S. C.

Harry I. Stegmaier, Cumberland, Maryland, recently was appointed student editor of the Kentucky Law Journal by the faculty of the Law school. Roy Moreland will retain his position as faculty editor.

Recent attacks on the new deal such as those voiced by Dr. Wirt should not surprise us too much, but rather, we should look on them with an air of open-mindedness, James Schermerhorn, former editor and publisher of the Detroit Times, told more than 350 delegates of the Michigan In-scholastic Press Association at the University of Michigan. In discussing the New Deal, Mr.
Schermerhorn pointed out that current criticism does not center around whether or not we are "on Our Way", but rather in which direction we are headed.

Twelve days after he was put to death clinically, a mongrel dog barked and growled while eating his food in a laboratory in Berkeley, Calif. Dr. Robert E. Cornish, research professor at the University of California, said he believed he might succeed eventually in experiments to revive human beings after death.

More than 200 Michigan University students travel by air between their homes and colleges.

Ed Wynn, speaking before the Town Criers of Rhode Island a few days ago, advocated a secretary of Humor in the Roosevelt Cabinet,
"to avert war and other troubles."

Revision of the Arts college examination system at the University of Minnesota, chiefly to eliminate "high-pressure cramming" during examination week is under consideration of department heads and faculty members. Dean John G. Johnson's suggestion included: discontinuance of regular class meetings for about a week before examinations; use of this period for reading or review by students, by completing term papers which would be handed in before examinations begin, or by giving one-hour objective tests when considered desirable by the instructor; and use of the regular examination time for the type of examination considered by the instructor most valid for a long course.

The first move on the part of a group of college newspaper men to join the American Newspaper Guild, national organization of newspaper editorial employees, has been made by the Junior American Newspaper Guild chapter at the Lee School of Journalism at Washington and Lee University. It is believed the organization will be recognized by the American Newspaper Guild.

"What good is a Phi Beta Kappa key?"
Knox College officials recently made a survey of the activities of 88 Knox students who received such keys between 1917 and 1927. There are eight Ph. D's, eleven M.A.'s, nine M.S.'s, two J.D.'s and two M.D.'s. Teaching is the profession which has drawn the great majority of this group.
Six are lawyers, two are doctors, and the others are distributed between library work, chemistry, journalism, banking, engineering, statistical work, accounting, social service, farming, and business.

AND then there's the story about Don Tinsman, the man among men, who went up to the Inn, and not because he was hungry, but merely because he got them at a reduced rate, bought twenty-four hamburgers and ate fourteen of them at the Inn and took the other ten home with him just in case he got hungry. He ate six of the ten and gave the other four away. Wonder what he's like when he gets really hungry?

Seven Will Receive Honorary Degrees

Divinity, Pedagogy, Law Degrees Will Be Conferred

Seven honorary degree candidates will receive degrees at the eightieth annual commencement on Monday. The commencement exercises will be held outdoors on the South terrace of the college at 2 o'clock.

Of the seven honorary degrees to be conferred, four will be doctor of divinity; two, doctor of pedagogy; and one, doctor of laws. One of the seven to receive honorary degrees will not be present, but will have the award made in absentia.

Two Pittsburgh district schoolmen will be honored with degrees of doctor of pedagogy. They are William M. Stewart, superintendent of schools, Etna; and F. DeWitt Zuercher, superintendent of schools, North Braddock.

Professor Stewart, educated at Westminster, receiving both A.B. and M.A. degrees, attended also Grove City, Wooster, and University of Pittsburgh. He has spent 36 years in school work, serving in Butler and Armstrong county rural schools, as principal of the Kittanning high school, principal of the Slippery Rock school, and superintendent of the teacher-training department of Slippery Rock college for 14 years. For 12 years he has been at Etna.

Mr. Zuercher, a graduate of Otterbein College, has taken graduate work at Ohio State and holds the M.A. degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He has been in school work for 22 years, having served as high school principal and supervising principal in Blairsville from 1910 to 1918; with the A.E.F. 1918 to 1920; and as teacher, principal, supervising principal, and superintendent of schools at North Braddock from 1920.

Dr. Clyde Shepherd Atchison, head of the department of mathematics at Washington and Jefferson college, Washington, will receive the doctor of laws degree. Dr. Atchison was graduated from Westminster with the class of 1903; received the Ph.D. degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1907; and has taken graduate work at M.I.T. and University of Chicago.

Dr. Atchison was an auditor and accountant for the U.S. Shipping Board during the World war; was instructor in mathematics at Williams College, 1907 to 1912; and since 1912 has been professor and head of the department of mathematics at Washington and Jefferson. He has taught at West Virginia University summer sessions, has been a consultant to city budgeting committees, a civil engineer with railroad companies, a contributor to various professional journals, and is a member of a number of outstanding associations and societies, including Phi Beta Kappa.

Four ministers who will be honored include: Rev. W. Franklin Harkey, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Houston, who will preach the annual Christian Associations' sermon tomorrow morning in the United Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Harkey was educated at Erskine College and Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary. He has had pastorates at Logan's Ferry, Pa.; Washington D. C.; and Houston; and was a Y.M.C.A. secretary during the war. He is a member of the board of the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary; vice-president of the Board of Publication and Bible school work; president of the Canonsburg-Houston Rotary Club; and a frequent contributor to religious periodicals.

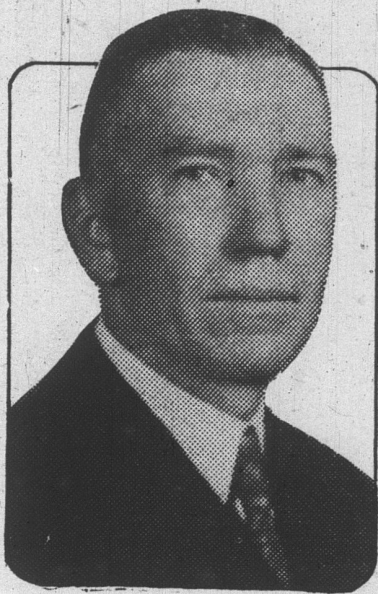

The Rev. Robert Wesson Gibson, pastor of the Beverly Heights United Presbyterian church, Mt. Lebanon, will also receive the doctor of divinity degree. Rev. Mr. Gibson was graduated from Muskingum College in 1918, and from the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary in 1921. He also received a diploma at the school of Military Aeronautics at Ohio State.

From 1921 to 1929, Rev. Mr. Gibson was pastor of the Springdale United Presbyterian church; and has been in Mt. Lebanon since 1929. He has been a member of the board of education of the United Presbyterian church, executive secretary of the home missions committee of Allegheny and Monongahela presbyteries, and chairman of the committee in charge of young people's work. He served with the aviation department during the World war, and is chaplain of the Mt. Lebanon American Legion post. He has contributed to the United Presbyterian magazine, and is a member of a number of societies.

DR. C. S. ATCHISON

Rev. R. W. Gibson, pastor of the Beverly Heights United Presbyterian church, Mt. Lebanon; Rev. W. F. Harkey, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Houston; and Rev. A. R. Porter, pastor of the Drexel Hill

Presbyterian church will be honored with doctor of divinity degrees. Dr. C. S. Atchison, head of the department of mathematics at Washington and Jefferson college will be honored with a doctor of laws degree.

church, Drexel Hill, Pa., will also receive the doctor of divinity degree. Rev. Mr. Porter was graduated from Westminster with the class of 1911, and from Princeton University in 1916. He also received the M.A. degree from Princeton in 1916.

Rev. Mr. Porter's pastorates have included: Poland, O., 1916-1919; Greenfield Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, 1919; Marietta, Pa., 1921-1927; and Drexel Hill since 1927.

A fourth minister to be honored with the doctor of divinity degree is the Rev. Dr. Harvey E. Phillips, Cairo, Egypt, who will receive his degree in absentia. Dr. Phillips was graduated from Washburn College in 1905, and from the Pittsburgh-Xenia seminary in 1908. This same year he also took his Ph.D. degree from University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Phillips has been in missionary work in Egypt since 1908. He was at the Alexandria Boys' School until 1911, and from then until 1918 did evangelistic and educational work in the Luxor district. He was in Tana during the 1919-1920 year. Since then, most of his work has been at Cairo, Egypt where he has been a Y.M.C.A. official, editor of the church papers, and teacher in the seminary.

During furlough he has been stated supply in the Lincoln, Nebraska churches; and in the Gaston Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. During his last year in seminary he was stated supply at Gladden, Pa.

Dean James A. Swindler will present the candidates for the degree during the commencement exercises, and President Robert F. Galbreath will confer the degrees, assisted by Dr. Swindler and Dr. Charles Freeman.

Titan Teams Win Seventy Percent of Meets in Past Year

Seventy percent of all varsity contests were won by Westminster athletic teams during the past year, a survey shows. Of the 44 varsity games, 31 were won by the Titan teams.

Basketball, with 22 victories in 26 starts, was the best of the Titan outfits, maintaining its eight-year record of averaging 15 or more victories to three defeats per season. Coach John Lawther's courtmen have won 126 games and lost 25 in eight seasons.

The varsity tennis team, coached by Professor F. S. Sowersby, completed its spring campaign with five victories and two defeats. The varsity football team won two out of eight contests. The varsity cross country team, coached by Professor R. X. Graham, won two meets and lost one. Thus the Titan percentage for the four varsity sports was .704 for the year.

In addition to the varsity program, the intra-mural program, in its ninth year, attracted 287 of the 299 men, or 95 per cent. One hundred and eighty-five women students out of 327, or 57 per cent, took part in intra-mural games. Westminster has the oldest full program of intra-mural sports for all in the entire district.

Netmen Score Five Wins, Two Defeats In Return Matches

Setting a record of five victories to two defeats, the Titan netmen played return matches with Slippery Rock and Geneva to complete the season.

Traveling to Slippery Rock, May 25, the Blue and White team took a 5-2 victory. In the singles Grier, Westminster, defeated Kruse, Slippery Rock 9-7, 3-6, 6-2; Brownell, Westminster, defeated Taylor, Slippery Rock, 6-3, 6-4; Campbell, Westminster, defeated Brinko, Slippery Rock, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3; McCall, Westminster, lost to Eddinger, Slippery Rock, 2-6, 6-4, 9-7; and Sowash, Westminster, defeated Gibson, Slippery Rock, 6-2, 6-2.

In the doubles Greer and Campbell, Westminster, defeated Taylor and Kruse, Slippery Rock, 6-2, 6-3; and Brownell and Sowash, Westminster, lost to Powka and Westlake, Slippery Rock, 2-6, 4-6.

In the last meet with Geneva, May 30, the Titans were victorious with a 4-3 score. In the singles Grier, Westminster, defeated Lytell, Geneva, 6-4, 5-7, 6-1; Brownell, Westminster, lost to Clark, Geneva, 0-6, 3-6; Campbell, Westminster, defeated Ginsberg, Geneva, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4; McCall, Westminster, lost to Shugart, Geneva, 3-6, 3-6; and Elliott, Westminster, lost to Riley, Geneva, 1-6, 6-3, 4-6.

In the doubles Grier and Campbell, Westminster, defeated Lytell and Clark, Geneva 6-0, 3-6, 8-6; and Brownell and McCall, Westminster, defeated Ginsberg and Shugart, Geneva, 0-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Alpha Gamma Delta and Phi Pi Phi Win Awards In Last Week's Sing

Phi Pi Phi fraternity and Alpha Gamma Delta sorority were judged the winners of the inter-fraternity, inter-sorority sing, held on the South terrace, Saturday evening, June 2, at 7:30 p. m.

Loving cups, gifts of the New Castle News and the Sharon News-Telegraph to Target and Sphinx respectively, were presented to the winning groups later in the evening, during the Senior dance, by Dr. R. F. Galbreath.

Professor Albert Taylor, Mrs. Daniel McQuiston, and Miss Esther Gibbons acted as judges, in response to the invitations of Target and Sphinx, sponsors of the contest.

Correction

In the story in last week's Holcad on the presentation of the scholarship cup to Alpha Gamma Delta sorority an error was made in stating the name of the cup. The name is the Ellen Louise Foulke cup.

Statistical Survey of Student Reading Shows 5000 Books Withdrawn

Over 5000 books have been withdrawn from the library during the year, an analysis of the circulation of library books conducted by Miss Mildred Ailman shows. This total includes books withdrawn from the Main library and the Elliott library. Books withdrawn for overnight usage as well as the one-week and two-week reserves have been counted.

The total circulation of two-week books, or books which students have withdrawn for leisure reading was 1100. Of this reading, 46 per cent was in fiction and the other 54 per cent was done in drama, history, poetry, biography, religion, foreign literature, and science.

The study also reveals that the senior class ranks highest in percentage of reading students in school, 87 per cent of the senior girls and 53 per cent of the senior men having read from one to 20 books. The freshman class claims the lowest percentage of readers with 40 per cent of the freshmen girls and 5 per cent of the men doing leisure reading.

Versatility Wins Hollander Gold Conference Medal

George Hollander, Jr., Freeport, N. Y., has been given the Tri-State Conference gold medal for scholarship and athletics.

Hollander played as a guard and tackle for three seasons on the Titan football team; has been an assistant to Jack Hulme, swimming director; and has taken part in intra-mural basketball, mushball, and baseball. He has been a member of the tribunal, governing body; a member of Delta Phi Sigma fraternity; a member of the history club; and has been a member of student committees.

Hollander stands high in his class, and is a candidate for the bachelor of arts degree with a major in social sciences. He was a star at Freeport, L. I. high school before entering Westminster. He transferred from the University of Alabama at the end of his freshman year.

The gold medal, awarded to the athlete who ranks high academically in each of the conference colleges, will be presented at the commencement exercises.

Total of Fund Evidence of Wide Interest

A total amount of $651.21 has been contributed to the library fund during the year. Individuals and outside associations, as well as many school organizations, have helped to swell the growing fund.

Those who have contributed are:

Westminster Enjoys Outstanding Year

Religion Holds Paramount Place In College Life

Religious organizations at Westminster continued to hold a most important and influential position on the campus during the 1933-1934 year. The six student organizations are: Y.M.C.A. cabinet, Y.W.C.A. cabinet, College Y.P.C.U. society, Chapel Bible Class, Sabbath Evening Prayer Group, and Karux pre-ministerial fraternity.

These six religious organizations, with a total student membership of 285, held 148 meetings and services during the college year. In addition to these meetings, 209 other religious meetings were held, many of which were sponsored by one or more of the religious organizations.

Many Services

One hundred and seventy daily chapel services, 31 Sabbath evening chapel services, five special services during the week of prayer, and three vesper services were included in the 209.

The Y.M.C.A. sponsored a series of special chapel services for men in October. Speakers were Dr. M. G. Yeager, Mercer; and Dr. B. E. Quick, biology department. The Y.W.C.A. sponsored, at the same time, a series of special chapel talks for women. Dr. Lois Merkel, Sharon, was the speaker.

Gospel Teams

The Y.M. gospel teams conducted services in the First U. P. church, Warren, Ohio, in September; and in the Second U. P. church, Mercer, in October. The Y.W. cabinet played hostesses to the women of the freshman class in October.

Delegates from the Y.M. and Y.W. cabinets attended the Student Council meeting at West Chester in October. The Y.W. held a masquerade party in the gym October 25. Delegates from the Y.M. cabinet attended the regional "Y" conference at Beaver Falls on December 8 and 9. Both Y.M. and Y.W. cabinets sent delegates to the political conference held at the University of Pittsburgh on January 6.

Week of Prayer

Included among the group of Tuesday afternoon teas in Browne hall lounge was one at which the Y.W.C.A. cabinet was hostess on January 23.

Rev. H. Raymond Shear, '11, was the preacher at the annual week of prayer sponsored jointly by the two Y. cabinets. The week of prayer was held from February 12 to 17, with meetings both morning and evening.

The western Pennsylvania area student Y.M.C.A. conference was held at Westminster April 27 and 28, with the local cabinet and officers in charge of arrangements. The Y.M. and Y.W. cabinets were hosts (Continued on Page 4)

Sixty-Four Student Organizations Appeal To Varied Interests

Sixty-four organizations, appealing to every interest and ability, offer opportunities for extra-curricular activity and experience for Westminster students. Every student in the college is affiliated with at least one of the many organizations, societies, and activities.

Fraternities number 21. Of this number, five are men's social fraternities; seven, women's sororities; and nine, honorary fraternities and sororities. Six musical organizations, six religious organizations, and three publication staffs claim more than 500 student members and participants.

Eight intra-mural sports for men, eight sports for women, and four varsity sports claim the energies of a large proportion of the student body. Dramatics and debates are enthusiastic extra-curricular interests of nearly 150 students. There are four student governing boards.

In addition to these organizations, many special committees for social functions, celebrations, commencement, and other major events call upon student leadership and ability.

Warden Estate Bequests $1000 To Library Fund

A bequest of $1,000 from the estate of the late James Warden, Mt. Pleasant, has been received by the college, President Robert F. Galbreath announces. The money is to be added to the library fund. Mr. Warden was a brother of Samuel N. Warden, a member of the board of trustees.

The student library fund, with 26 organizations and contributors listed, reached a total of $651.21 from January until June this year. In addition to this, other amounts pledged, including $250 by the Westminster Women's Club of Pittsburgh, will make the year's total about $2,000.

Will Durant To Speak Here On October 24

Will Durant, well-known author and lecturer, will be one of the outstanding speakers on the college lecture course this coming year, Miss Florence White, director of the course, announces.

The lecture course will probably include from eight to ten varied numbers. Durant's lecture, to deal with current problems, will be given in the chapel on October 24.

DR. R. F. GALBREATH

President Greets New Students With Letter

President Robert F. Galbreath contributes below a greeting to all entering students. A letter from Dr. Galbreath to upper-class students will be found on the editorial page. My dear friends-to-be:-

Inasmuch as this copy of our college paper is to be sent to you, I desire to take advantage of this opportunity to extend you a welcome to Westminster.

You will be the eighty-third class to enter the old school. You will find a great background of tradition and custom. May I tell you of a few of the more important of these?

First, we try to live as a big family, everybody knowing, liking and helping every other body.

Second, we believe in serious work because we are preparing to live in a serious world.

Third, we believe that to be helpfully serious we must often be wholesomely forgetful. So there are afternoons and evenings when we forget lessons, classes, problems and cares and just play. Come prepared to play as well as work.

Fourth, we know one cannot build (Continued on Page 2)

Dramatics Appeal To 109 Students; 13 Plays are Staged

Dramatics, appealing to the entire student body and faculty, had one-sixth of the entire student body as participants during the year. A total of 109 students had acting, directing, staging, or managing experience in the 20 presentations of 15 different plays with Professor A. T. Cordray directing.

Two of the plays were three-act productions, while 13 were shorter. Twelve presentations of plays took place at the college, and eight dramatic programs were staged in district towns and cities.

Of the 109 students who participated in dramatics, 82 had acting parts, 20 were stage managers and workers, and seven were student directors.

Plays produced during the year included: "Enter the Hero," "Apartment to Let," "Hearts Enduring," "The Travelers," "A Kiss in the Dark," "Importance of Being Earnest," "The Theatre of the Soul," "The Marriage Proposal," "Three Wishes," "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," "Sparkin'," "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," "For Distinguished Service," "Spring of the year," and "His Little Gypsy Sweetheart."

Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity, elects students to membership who do outstanding work in acting, staging, or directing plays.

Every College Activity Marked By Achievement

College Host To Nine Conventions During Past Year

A significant commentary on the place Westminster holds in the mind of the general public is the fact that nine conventions and conferences were held at the college during the past year.

The Liberal Arts College Association of Western Pennsylvania came here December 9 for a meeting, with 100 delegates in attendance. An eight-college debate tournament, sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity, was held at the college December 15 and 16. Westminster won the tournament.

W.A.A. sponsored a district college play day on February 24, with delegates present from nearby colleges. Mothers of students attended the Mothers' Day meeting held March 3 at which time a program of sports and social events was arranged for the visitors.

Journalism day, sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, was held at the college April 21. One hundred editorial, mechanical, and business workers in district newspapers attended. John E. Allen, editor of Linotype News, was principal speaker.

The second annual educational conference for high school principals, school superintendents, and district college education teachers was held April 28. The western Pennsylvania Y.M.C.A. student conference, sponsored by the college Y. cabinet, was held April 27, 28, and 29.

Early in May a second meeting of the Liberal Arts College Association was held at the college. The 29th annual Missionary Conference of the United Presbyterian church, starting August 3, is now in progress on the campus.

Goodchild Elected Biology Instructor

Chauncey Goodchild, New Castle, has been elected instructor in biology for the coming year, Dr. B. E. Quick, head of the biology department, announces.

Goodchild, a graduate of Westminster with the bachelor of science degree in 1933, has been doing research work at the college during the past year.

While in college he was a member of Phi Pi Phi fraternity, a member of Masquers, took part in dramatic productions for four years, and was laboratory assistant in biology for three years.

Increase Rooming Facilities To Accommodate Enrollment

Early reservation of rooms by upperclass students together with unprecedented interest among high school graduates in enrolling indicates that Westminster will have a banner enrollment for the 1934-1935 year.

Westminster has always had an unusually large percentage of upperclass students returning, but an accurate investigation shows that this year's return of old students will be the greatest on record.

Demands for rooming facilities have far exceeded all previous plans for accommodation of students. H. R. Patton, business manager, announces. Three additional dormitory houses have had to be provided for women students, and increased facilities are being planned for men students.

In addition to the three Campus lodges for women, both the Elliott

Enjoying a banner year in every department during 1933-1934, Westminster officials, students, and alumni look forward with anticipation and high hopes for the opening of the 83rd year on September 10.

The enrollment, which had increased by 15 per cent during the 1932-1933 year, again increased by 9 per cent during the past year, reaching a mark of 670, the highest in the history of the college.

Campus improvements A large number of campus and building improvements were made during the year. Two new tennis courts were constructed; dormitory houses were papered and painted, much timber was cut on the 170 acres owned by the college, and the landscaping of the entire campus was started through a gift of J. S. Mack, McKeesport.

Campus improvements started included the purchase of the Elliott property by J. S. Mack and its transfer, as a gift, to the college on June 9. With the acquisition of this property, College and Walnut streets have been vacated by the borough council, and in the completed campus plans will be eliminated.

Athletic Progress Varsity sports teams finished the year with a record of 70 per cent of victories. Of the 44 varsity contests staged, 31 were won by the Titans. Basketball again was in the lead, with 22 victories out of 26 games. The tennis team won five out of seven matches. The cross country team won two out of three. Football showed two victories and six defeats.

Ninety-five per cent of the men students and more than 50 per cent of the women students participated in the intra-mural sports program in its ninth year. A total of 269 intra-mural contests in eight different sports were provided for the men students, with 287 men participating. Women students had 167 contests in eight different sports, and 185 women participated. Forty students passed the senior American Red Cross life saving tests.

Debates, Music Twenty-six students took part in 51 debate contests. Of this number 40 were decision events, and Westminster teams won half of these. Twenty-one different colleges and universities were met in platform contests, three different questions were debated, and four systems of debate were followed.

Six musical organizations and the artist course provided 34 musical programs during the year. In these, 175 students participated. Twenty-seven programs were presented at the college, while seven were given in nearby towns and cities. Music week was observed in May with a six-day program which was fittingly climaxed by the appearance of Harold Bauer, internationally (Continued on Page 4)

house and the Thompson house will be used this year, and Senior Lodge and two other houses will be utilized, making a total of eight dormitory homes. Boys will occupy the McElwee house and the Williams house. Hillside and Browne hall will be filled with women students. Not only have facilities been enlarged, but the new arrangement is more convenient and comfortable.

Most Rooms Reserved Five fraternity houses near the campus will, according to fraternity officers, be filled with roomers. Many rooms for men in town have already been reserved for the year, owners state.

It is apparent, officials state, that more discriminating parents than ever before have become interested in Westminster. Enrollment increase of 24 per cent the past two years is certain to be surpassed for the 1934-1935 year.

High Academic Standing Attested By Agencies

Academic standards at Westminster, always one of the features which has attracted young people, are among the highest of American colleges. Westminster is a member of all academic accrediting associations, a distinction which few colleges have.

Academic standards, too, have been constantly raised through the careful selection of entering students. Eighty-six per cent of the freshmen enrolled for the coming year are from the upper one-fifth of their graduating classes. Forty-one of the new students are high honor young men and women.

In Ten Associations

Westminster is a member of and recognized by ten associations: Association of American Universities, Middle States and Maryland Association, American Association of University Women, Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Liberal Arts College Movement, American Association of University Professors, American Fed### eration of Art.

Athletic Conference of American College Women, Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction, New York State Education Department, and is recognized by the education departments of a score of states, by all universities in Pennsylvania, and by all leading graduate and professional schools in the United States.

Students Selected

Graduates are accepted without examination for graduate work at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, John Hopkins, University of Chicago, University of Michigan, and all other universities.

While the enrollment has increased during the past three years, the total registration has not been anything like what it could have been. Westminster has selected its students from the most discriminating homes. The fact that many more young people have sought entrance has made it possible to increase enrollment and at the same time to select only the best students from among those seeking admission.

On Westminster!

The College Glances at the Past Year and Once Again Pushes Forward

On Westminster!

These words, suggesting what has been accomplished in the past, sum up best of all Westminster's future. They typify Westminster's outlook in scholarship, in religious and moral fields, in student activities, in athletics, in enrollment, and in equipment and facilities.

Indications are that enrollment in September will surpass that of the last two record-breaking years. Even with a slightly higher tuition rate, Westminster continues to attract many students due to the fact that the academic standing is of the highest, the training received is the very best, and the name of the college stands so high in the estimation of the public.

The clean, moral, healthy atmosphere of the college and town; the tradition of high scholarship and good character; the acknowledged training and ability of the faculty; the natural beauty of campus, town, and surrounding country, free from city noises and distractions; the progressive, enthusiastic student body with self-managed organizations, all appeal to young men and women and to their parents.

Offering specialized instruction in many varied phases of study, Westminster still has the more general courses which lead to the professions. There is a spirit about the college which is friendly and helpful. Social life is noted for democracy and lack of showy sophistication. Religion occupies an important position, for Westminster believes that there can be no culture and training worthy of the name which does not have the Bible as its background.

Having achieved much in eighty-two years, Westminster seems on the eve of even greater accomplishments and success. The outlook for the 1934-1935 year is the brightest of all the bright years in the glorious history of the college. To old students, to entering freshman, and to those who contemplate entering, the Holcad suggests that there is a place for you in the program to further Westminster. In being a part of the continued progress of the college, you, too, will go forward!

On Westminster!

The College Blue Book

Interpretation of This or Any Book Depends Often On Who Does the Interpreting!

Little wonder that the public is sometimes a bit suspicious of salesmen! The wild claims of advertising, both printed and over the radio, certainly has caused an unfavorable reaction. The public understands very little of what academic standing means for a college, and still almost any parent would rather have a son or daughter attend a high grade school than one which is not recognized.

The College Blue Book is an excellent source of information concerning colleges and universities, provided, of course, one understands what the Blue Book does and does not try to do. Among other things, the Blue Book indicates some of the outstanding academic accrediting associations which give their approval to individual colleges.

The total number of such agencies placing the stamp of approval on an institution may not mean a thing. Which associations recognize a college may mean everything. Westminster is recognized by ALL the highest academic accrediting association. It has so been recognized for many years. It is one of the few colleges so distinguished.

Greetings, Upperclassmen

Prexy Sends Personal Letter Marked By Optimism To All Old Students

My dear friends:

As I write it is bordering on the twilight hour—Saturday evening. The shadows have crept half way up Browne Hall. The campus lies green and cool. I hear somebody whistling.

The buildings and campus have a look as tho they were resting in anticipation of something worthwhile ahead, as tho they were waiting for someone to return.

And that is exactly what we are all doing—the office force, campus crew, Dr. Swindler in the Registrar's office—all of us, waiting until early September and the opening of college.

Mr. Graham has gathered news from far and wide, so I shall not attempt to tell you about latest news of the faculty, except a very few things Mr. Graham does not know.

I thought we would see some of you at the Fair in Chicago. In this I was disappointed. We did not see anybody in all the crowds whom we had ever seen before. Nevertheless the exhibits are very remarkable. I hope you have seen them.

Spending a few days in Chautauqua we saw Jim McGeorge, Phil Chambers, Helen Dornhofer, Louise Fink, Mary and Martha Morrow, and just missed Walter Shaw and—(guess)—yes, you are right—Anne Thomas.

The annual summer Conference here on the campus is just beginning with the best attendance in years, a good program and a happy, expectant audience.

There is one suggestion I am anxious to make. It is not new or startling but may be made very important. It is this—Let us make the college year of 1934-1935 at Westminster the best in our lives by studious preparation and a definite effort to improve. That means, in part, giving up our lives. It means also that we will make the incoming Freshman class feel quickly and happily "at home" with us that no one will think of being homesick or discouraged.

With this hope we wait to welcome you back to Westminster.

—Robert F. Galbreath

RAMBLINGS

Professor Ben Euwema has been at the University of Chicago.... Dr. Harold Black attended the Rotary International convention in Detroit.... Bob Galbreath has made scale models of Old Main Memorial and Browne hall during the summer.... Professor Marshall has just returned from England.

Professor Baker will return from England this month and will become a professor in the English department.... Miss Hoagland is completing her M.A. work at University of Iowa.... Professor Brennan is at Harvard.... Jim Bailey is a tree surgeon, just now engaged in "doctoring" campus trees.

Professor McKee and Jack Hulme made an auto trip to Yellowstone National Park in July.... Professor Tener has been at the University of Michigan.... Miss White has studied at University of Wisconsin.... Professor Edward Freeman has been teaching music in a New York state camp....

John Boyd, we hear, is a "proud papa".... Dale Galbreath attended the University of Wisconsin.... Jeff Sowash, Frank Goff, Hans Holm, and others have been employed at the Missionary Conference.... Michmerhuizen, the Holcad editor, wrote from Grand Rapids.... Mommer has been working (and singing) at the college.... The College Inn has been renovated.... The College Press shop has moved, with Waite and White doing a pressing business.

This issue of the Holcad was edited by Professor R. X. Graham, Director of the News Bureau.

1938 Comes to Town

Where do I ship my stuff by freight?
How do I join a frat?
Where does a chap matriculate?
Must I wear that funny hat?
Where do I buy my chapel seat?
How do I get some books?
Where in the world does a freshman eat?
Is the Dean as fierce as he looks?
How do I get on the football team?
Is the water here fit to drink?
Where can I get some good ice cream?
Can you get dates with a wink?
Where can I find the village cop?
Should I use the library?
When do frosh regulations stop?
Will the Prexy call on me?
Where can I have my laundry done?
Why can't the new men smoke?
Do profs in class believe in fun?
What happens when you're broke?
Is there such a thing as a college jail?
Need a Tux for the social whirl?
Where can I send important mail?
I've got to write my girl!

Numbers Racket

The new course numbers in the catalog have been called curriculum inflation by some. Society climbers will find that there are no five hundreds! A new grading system, following the course numbers style, would be good:
A grade of 100 to 149 means that you should still be a freshman.
A grade of 150 to 199 means that you should not have taken that week-end off for the Pittsburgh trip.
A grade of 200 to 249 means that your major interest is in athletics and dances.
A grade of 250 to 299 means that you are designed to be a sophomore for two more years.
A grade of 300 to 399 means that you are majoring in actual study.
A grade of 400 to 499 means that you are getting up in society.

Getting up? Or do you hate to get up? If you get up in society, you will probably get a little high hat. Then you can sing that high hat song, "Oh How High Hat to Get Up in the Morning."

Ahoy, Housman!

I have three friends in college, And one of them's pre-med, And one of them's a journalist Who dates with a Phye Ed.

And now I know the other one Will take a lot of truck And end his days a teacher, Which is the darndest luck!

Book of College Campus Etiquette

1. Is it necessary for a freshman who has been knocked down by an absent-minded professor's car to rise when the Dean goes past on a bicycle?
2. Under what circumstances are sailor pants and knickers for formal wear at College? Sweat shirts? Riding breeches? Bathing suits?
3. Should a waiter in a girls' dorm tip his hat or a bowl of soup when the dean of women is a guest?
4. Should fraternity pins be worn on the vest or on a pennant in one's room, while on a date?
5. When a flock of upper-classmen start throwing spitwads in class, should the instructor stand on the right, the left, on ceremony, on his head?
6. What is proper for a couple dating, say, at the Manse. If they are ten minutes late according to dorm regulations, should they telephone the dorm proctor, run to the dorm and explain that the car broke down, come in ten minutes early the next time?

Of Course!

A sophomore, or so the rumors go, asked a secretary in the college office if he could take English 315. "Have you had the other 314 courses?" the secretary asked. It's a good thing this secretary does not work for the economic department. Just think of trying to sign up for Economics 452 (Banking and Investments) and have her want to know if you have any money in the bank or in stocks! Good-looking coeds, who want to learn to have a way with instructors, will probably elect Art 161 (Design), and Art 231 (Crafts). (2 min.)

And some of the lazier football players are thinking of enrolling in Secretarial Science 254 (Office Practice)!

One young lady, enrolled in a physics course in which men predominate, said she would not be interested in Recent Advances (Physics 271)!

Music Groups Active Present 34 Programs

Thirty-four musical programs during the year gave Westminster students, faculty members, townspeople, and friends of the college opportunities for entertainment and cultural recreation and inspiration.

Recitals, concerts, special programs, quartets, bands, choirs, orchestras, choruses, and soloists all added variety to the large number of programs offered.

Many Students

One hundred and seventy-five students took part in the programs during the year. Twenty-seven of the programs were presented at the college, while seven were presented out of town.

Professor Gordon Balch Nevin gave a series of four organ recitals, on Nov. 7, Dec. 12, April 17, and May 15. Professor Nevin also gave a vesper organ recital on Sabbath, June 10, as part of the commencement week activities.

Music Week

The Marianne Kneisel string quartet presented an outstanding artist course number in the chapel on Nov. 19. The King male quartet received an enthusiastic welcome on Dec. 5.

Music week was observed from May 6 to 11, with a series of six programs. A cantata, "Behold the Christ," was presented in chapel on Sabbath, May 6. This was the work of the late Dr. George B. Nevin, Mrs. L. C. Nevin, and Gordon Balch Nevin, and was directed by Alan B. Davis.

Bauer in Recital

A mixed recital was presented May 7, directed by Professor Davis. Professor Donald O. Cameron directed a concert by the college orchestra on May 8. The women's glee club, directed by Miss Ada Peabody, presented a concert on May 9.

The a capella choir, directed by Professor Davis, gave a concert May 10. Music week was climaxed by the appearance on May 11 of Harold Bauer, world-famous pianist.

Band Concert

Professor Cameron directed the college band in a concert for the benefit of the library fund on May 21. Target and Sphinx, senior honorary societies, sponsored the interfraternity, inter-sorority "sing" on June 9.

In addition to these activities, a capella choirs from Titusville and Erie high schools appeared in special chapel programs, and students in the conservatory of music gave afternoon concerts and recitals during the year.

Five Fraternities And Seven Sororities Have Westminster Chapters

Three hundred and fifty-seven students, or 54 per cent of the student body, are affiliated with the five fraternities and seven sororities on the campus. One hundred and eighty-eight are members of the five fraternities, making an average of about 38 in each group. Seven sororities have a total membership of 169, or an average of about 25 in each.

Of the seven sororities, six are national chapters. These are: Sigma Kappa, Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Delta, Theta Upsilon, and Beta Phi Alpha. Omicron Mu Gamma, music sorority, is a local chapter.

The five fraternities include two nationals: Theta Upsilon Omega, Lambda Alpha chapter; and Phi Pi Phi, Nu chapter. Three local fraternities are: Kappa Phi Lambda, Delta Phi Sigma, and Epsilon Theta Pi.

The five fraternities have chapter houses near the campus, while the sororities have suites in the dormitories where they hold meetings. Quadrangle, non-sorority organization, functions much the same as a Greek-letter group and provides meetings, teas, and parties for its members. The non-fraternity organization of men is similar to Quadrangle.

successfully without taking God into account. That, too, is a part of our old tradition. Because we are sure of this, we have a devotional period each day and on Sabbath we want everyone to attend worship somewhere. We do not make any difference as to your choice of a church home. That is an altogether personal matter.

You will find many friends in college. The friendships that will last long and mean much are formed during one's college days, so come prepared to be a friend as well as to find friends.

We look forward to knowing you and having your cooperation in the life and work at Westminster.

Cordially yours,

President

Ten Games Are Scheduled For 1934 Football Team

Ten games are included on the 1934 football schedule which opens September 22 with the Slippery Rock game here. Included on the schedule are five teams not met last year: Fordham, Pitt, John Carroll, Edinboro, and Waynesburg.

Of the ten games, four are listed as home contests, although the Pitt game will be played at the New Castle high school field. The Titan gridders will travel extensively for out-of-town games, going to New York City; Cleveland, O.; New Concord, O.; Waynesburg, Pa.; Grove City, Pa.; and Edinboro, Pa.

Alumni will be offered season books, good for four home games, at a special price, Athletic Director John Lawther announces. Letters will probably be sent district alumni late in August giving opportunity to subscribe to the season books.

The schedule:
Sept. 22, Slippery Rock at home.
Sept. 28, John Carroll at Cleveland.
Oct. 6, Fordham at New York City.
Oct. 13, Edinboro at Edinboro.
Oct. 20, Thiel at home (Homecoming).
Oct. 27, Pitt at New Castle.
Nov. 3, Grove City at Grove City.
Nov. 10, Waynesburg at Waynesburg.
Nov. 16, Muskingum at New Concord.
Nov. 24, Geneva at home.

Frosh Roundup Shows Versatility, Variety

Long, long lines of Pittsburgh high school graduates who do not want to be extended by extension branches... Erie honor students who want to earn lifesaving badges in the indoor pool... Greensburg boys and girls who like to wear green anyway... Youngstown high school court stars who want to be Titans.

Blondes from Butler and Sharon with ambitions to be May queen... Brunettes from Dormont and Oil City who hope to star behind the Little Theatre footlights... Cleveland high newspaper editors who want to take journalism... Star debaters from Bridge and Mt. Lebanon who plan to be lawyers.

Titian-haired young ladies from Wilkinsburg and McKeesport who want business training... Glee clubbers from Washington and Braddock who yearn to yodel a capella... Titusville football players who think the college town should be changed to Titanyville... Quiet bookworms from Steubenville and Mercer with eyes on the honor roll.

Horn tooters and drum smashers from Homestead and Tarentum who plan to make the college band... Demo commuters from New Castle and Sharon with ambitions to emulate Barney Oldfield... Lads and lassies from college towns who want to "go away to college"... Preachers' sons and daughters from Bellevue and Warren whose parents were graduated twenty years ago.

Young men and women from out of state... City young people who want college life rather than factory timeclock punching... Country folks who want association... Students who won scholarships... Students who plan to work for part of their expenses... Students with plenty of money.

Young fellows and girls trying to look "collegeiate", whatever that is... Finding that enrolling is like taking an ocean voyage... Thinking, the first day out, that no one on board looks socially possible... Realizing, before the trip is over, that one has roomed with some... And borrowed notebook paper, tux-

Women's Sports Attract Almost 200 Participants

More than 50 per cent of the women students were actively engaged in intra-mural sports under direction of Miss Nandeen Love during the year, a survey shows.

The total number of women participating was 185. By participation is meant two practice sessions a week and games when scheduled.

One hundred and sixty-seven contests were arranged in eight different sports. The sports included: basketball, field hockey, soccer, volleyball, mushball, tennis, swimming, and tumbling. Other activities of the W.A.A. included hiking, ping pong, horseback riding, and water polo.

Swimming was the favorite sport of the women students, and 33 pas-

Grid Camp Will Open September 3

Bill and Tom Gilbane, new Titan football coaches, will arrive in town on September 3 to take charge of football camp according to present plans. Letters will be mailed to members of the squad late this month announcing the opening of camp.

The grid camp will probably open on September 4, although the men will be asked to report on the previous day. It is thought that there will be 30 or more men in camp. A large proportion of these are old members of the squad. Very little is known of any new material which may be available from the freshman class.

Plans for the housing and feeding of the football men from the start of camp on September 3 until classes start on September 14, will be made by H. R. Patton, business manager; Jack Hulme, team trainer; and Professor John D. Lawther.

Appoint Officials For Four Home Grid Games

Officials for the four home football games have been appointed by the athletic department and approved by the athletic council. Three officials will be used for each contest.

For the Slippery Rock game on Sept. 22, Wm. C. Evans will be referee; E. A. Stahl, umpire; and John Harr, head linesman. Wm. C. Evans will referee the homecoming day with Thiel on Oct. 20. Dr. Andy Cutler will be umpire, and E. A. Stahl will be head linesman.

R. B. Goodwin has been appointed referee for the Pitt game to be played at New Castle on Oct. 27. J. M. Holmes will be umpire, and Wm. C. Evans will be head linesman. For the Geneva game to be played Nov. 24, Yans Wallace will be referee; J. M. Holmes, umpire; and Lem Schwartz, head linesman.

Two Senior Honorary Societies Are Active

Recognition for scholarship, leadership, and participation in student activities is afforded Westminster students by election to the two senior honorary societies, both of which were organized during the past year.

Target, senior women's honorary society, was organized in January, 1934. Sphinx, senior men's honorary society, was founded in February.

Jointly, these two organizations sponsored the inter-society, inter-fraternity "sing" held in June. Target also sponsored a tag day for the benefit of the library fund. Sphinx sponsored "call day", at which time all honorary fraternities and organizations announced their new pledges in a special chapel service.

edos, dancing pumps, money, fountain pens, and typewriters from eight others... And signed up for lifelong brotherhood with 10 or 15 others in a fraternity or sorority... Or even become engaged (and engaged) to six or seven.

Long lines of every conceivable size, ambition, shape, previous condition of servitude... With as many major likes and hobbies as a dog has fleas... Lining up for registration a week ahead of classes... Becoming oriented... Becoming Westminster students... On, Westminster!

ed the senior American Red Cross lifesaving test during the year. The Mermaid club, which presented an interesting water pageant in the gym pool during the year, has a membership of 40 expert swimmers. Freshman women were most active in sports, with 100 participating. Sophomores were next, with 50; juniors third, with 20; and seniors last, with 15.

The Women's Athletic Association, a branch of the national organization, sponsors all women's athletics. The W.A.A., with Miss Love as director, has a membership of 50 women. Both inter-class and "color" teams compete in the various sports. In addition to the regular contests, a number of gym and sports exhibitions are given each year by W.A.A.

Football Mentor

Bill Gilbane, Brown University football star during the 1930-1931, and 1932 seasons, will take over the job as head football coach at Westminster when the gridders report Sept. 3. Gilbane was captain and fullback on "Tuss" McLaughry's 1932 team, and played on the All-North team which Jock Sutherland took to Baltimore following the 1932 season. Gilbane will be aided by his brother Tom, star center at Brown for three years. Tom also played in California on Andy Kerr's All-East team. Both men received All-America and All-Eastern mention, and both were outstanding in other sports than football. Bill was a member of wrestling, boxing, and baseball teams; while Tom was a member of wrestling and track teams.

Ninety-five Per Cent of Men Students Take Part In Sports

Ninety-five per cent of all men students participated in intra-mural games during the 1933-1934 year according to records in the office of Jack Hulme, director. The intra-mural program, started by Hulme in 1925, this past year attracted 287 of the 299 men regularly enrolled.

Assisted by George Hollander and William Staples, varsity football men, Hulme's department provided competition in basketball, mushball, tennis, volleyball, water polo, horse-shoes, and football. These sports were run in organized leagues and were in addition to the regular physical education classwork which included swimming, gymnastics, wrestling, and calisthenics.

A total of 269 contests in the various leagues were divided as follows: basketball, three leagues, 105 games; mushball, 35; Tennis, two tournaments, 30; Horse-shoes, 30; volleyball, 30; water polo, three; football, frosh-soph, one; and mushball, 35.

Basketball, with three leagues, attracted 125 men. Mushball had 130 participants. In addition to the regular league games, mushball contests were played with a number of district amateur and industrial outfits. Intra-mural tennis matches claimed 50 entrants.

Volleyball had 91 participating. Water polo attracted 25. Twenty-five men students played in the horse-shoe tournaments. Inter-class football found 35 competing.

In addition to the intra-mural participation, 73 men were members of the four varsity sports squads. Some of these men also competed in intra-mural sports.

Six men passed the American Red Cross lifesaving tests in the college pool. These were: William Shira, Hans Holm, James Ramsey, Robert McCully, Leo Grandmontaigne, and Walter Rudolph.

Varsity Athletics Show 70 Per Cent Victories In 1934

With a percentage of 70.4 for the year, Westminster varsity sports teams made the best record in recent seasons. Only one sport, football, fell below the 600 mark in percentage of victories; while basketball, with a percentage of 84.6, placed that sport among the leaders in the district and of the entire country.

Seventy-nine men took part in the four varsity sports: football, basketball, tennis, and cross country. Of this number, 39 won varsity letters. Thirty-one of the 44 contests played by the Titans were won.

Sport	W.	L.	Pct.
Basketball	22	4	.846
Tennis	5	2	.714
Cross Country	2	1	.666
Football	2	6	.252

W. A. A. Sponsors Women's Sports

Westminster's chapter of the Women's Athletic Association was most active on the campus during the past year. Under the direction of Miss Nandeen Love, director of physical education for women, the organization had more than a dozen special activities in addition to sponsoring the intra-mural sports program for women.

Starting with a hike and campfire meal on September 30, W.A.A. had at least one important function for its members each month in addition to regular meetings. There was the Halloween party on October 27, the Mermaid club distance swim in October, the formal initiation of members on November 27, to mention but a few of the fall activities.

Play day for district college girls was sponsored by W.A.A. on February 24. Delegates from the local organization attended play day at Thiel College on February 3; and the convention of the American Athletic Association of College Women at Denison University in April.

A tea sponsored by W.A.A. was held in Browne hall on February 20. A gym exhibition was presented March 22; the Mermaid club water pageant in February; the formal initiation banquet was held in May; and 24 members of W.A.A. wound the Maypole in the annual May pageant held June 9.

Campus Development Plan Nears Completion

With the vacating of College and Walnut streets, two thoroughfares which cut across the campus, Westminster's campus development plans are being realized.

The borough council, through recent ordinances, has vacated and closed the two streets, the college now owning all property abutting on these streets since the purchase of the Elliott property by J. S. Mack of McKeesport and its presentation by him to the college on June 7.

Grading of the lower campus from Walnut street to the gymnasium was started in May and is now about completed. This large plot of ground will be seeded and landscaped in the fall.

No disposition of the Elliott house has been made as yet by the college, but it is thought that it will be utilized where it stands for a year as a women's dormitory home. In all probability it will be moved to Orchard street later.

Titan Sports Teams Win 14 League Championships

Fourteen Tri-State Conference championships have been won by Westminster athletic teams since 1925, a survey shows. This includes six championships in basketball; three in tennis; three in cross country; and two ties for the football championship.

The Titan basketball teams have won all but one of the last seven league championships; or, since Lawther has been coach, six first places and one second place or runner-up position have been won. The Titans won the league championships in 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932 and this year. In 1933, Geneva won the league title, and Westminster was second.

Varsity tennis teams in 1925, 1926, and 1927 won Tri-State championship. Cross country teams of 1927, 1928, and 1931 won league titles. The football team of 1928 tied with Duquesne, then a member of the Conference, for the championship; and the following year tied with Waynesburg for the title.

Track teams have never won the conference championship, but have finished second six times in eight seasons. In 1925, 1926, 1927, 1929, 1930, and 1931 the Titans were second. They placed third in the Conference championship meet in 1928 and 1932. Since 1928, when R. X. Graham became coach, the Titans have had varsity track teams five years, during which time there have been 9 dual meet victories, 6 dual meet defeats, three second places in the championship meet, and two third places.

In addition to these championship honors, the Titan basketball team has won Pittsburgh district championships on four occasions: 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1932. This past year, Pitt and Duquesne were on top in the district, while Westminster was second.

Alumni Figure In Number Of June, July Weddings

Turner-Fisher

Gretchen Miller Turner, Cambridge Springs, became the bride of Marshall A. Fisher, Johnstown, on June 19 at the bride's home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were graduated with the class of 1931. Mrs. Fisher was a member of Chi Omega, and has for three years been assistant principal in the Townville schools. Mr. Fisher was a member of Theta Upsilon Omega, a member of the basketball team, and has, since graduation, been an instructor and assistant coach in the Johnstown high school.

Ewing-Davis

Harriet Calhoun Ewing, '27, of New Castle, became the bride of Clair Marvin Davis, Dextef, O., on June 25. The ceremony was held in the First United Presbyterian church, New Castle. Since graduation, Mrs. Davis has been on the faculty of the George Washington junior high school. Mr. Davis, a graduate of Ohio State, is affiliated with the George S. Dougherty Co., Pittsburgh.

McClelland-Brown

Hazel McClelland, Edenburg, a member of the class of 1930, became the bride of Ronald P. Brown, New Castle, on June 27. The wedding took place in Edenburg. Mr. Brown is a graduate of West Virginia University and Columbia University.

McConagha-Forbes

Isabel McConagha, '27, became the bride of Dr. Theodore Wilson Forbes of Honolulu on July 2. The wedding was performed by Dr. R. J. Love at the bride's home in town. Since graduating from Westminster, Mrs. Forbes has done research and graduate work at Westminster, Cornell Medical school, and the New York Psychiatric Institute, and will continue her study there. Dr. Forbes, a graduate of Oberlin and of Ohio State, is engaged in research work at the New York Psychiatric Institute and is an instructor in Columbia University.

Young-Mansell

Margaret L. Young, New Castle, became the bride of Attorney Thomas V. Mansell on July 27. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home. The bride and groom are both members of the class of 1929. Since graduating, Mrs. Mansell has been a member of the faculty in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. Attorney Mansell, an instructor in the college history department, is borough secretary of New Wilmington. He was graduated from the Harvard law school last year.

Charlotte Patterson

To Marry John C. Rose

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus C. Patterson, town, announced last month the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte, to John Calvin Rose, '33. No date has been set for the wedding. Miss Patterson was graduated from P.C.W. in June, while Mr. Rose is a student at the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary.

Outstanding Ability

Recognized By Nine

Honorary Societies

Achievement and ability in curricular and extra-curricular activities at Westminster is honored by election to one of nine honorary fraternities and societies. During the past year 115 students held memberships in these organizations.

Achievement in journalism on the campus is rewarded by election to Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity; or to Psi Nu, honorary journalistic sorority. Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic, honors those who excel in intercollegiate debating.

Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity, gives recognition to students who show ability in acting, staging, or directing plays. Delta Nabla honors students with ability in mathematics.

Students interested in Science may become members of the Science club. Pre-ministerial students are eligible for membership in Karux. W.A.A. honors women students who achieve in athletics. The French club includes students with interest and ability in French.

Henry "Swede" Huzneke, football and basketball star, has just recently recovered from a case of ptomaine poisoning. Ray Sweeney, three letter athlete, is pitching for the Youngstown baseball team and leading the league in batting.

Dr. C. G. Jordan, State Agriculture Sec'y Dies

Dr. Charles Grant Jordan, 91, died June 23. Dr. Jordan, following his graduation from Westminster, was graduated from theological seminary, entered the ministry of the Presbyterian church, became interested in problems of agriculture through his own extensive farming operations, and was appointed state secretary of agriculture.

Funeral services were held June 25, with burial in Fair Oaks cemetery near town. Pastors in charge of the funeral included: Dr. Walter E. McClure, New Castle; Dr. C. B. Wingerd, New Castle; Dr. S. A. Kirkbride, New Wilmington; Rev. W. J. Byers, New Wilmington; and Rev. E. D. Thompson, Volant.

Eight Lecture Course Numbers Interest Many

Eight lecture course numbers as well as six other programs sponsored by the lecture course provided entertainment and recreation during the past year. The course, under the direction of Professor Ben Ewema, was varied in appeal, featuring a puppet show, illustrated lectures, demonstration lectures, and dealing with travel, international relations, science, crime, law, biology, and art.

"Dick Wittington," presented by the Tatterman marionettes, was the first program, presented October 17. Alonzo Pond gave an illustrated lecture on "The Country of Veiled Men" on November 13.

"Art in Everyday Life" was the subject of an illustrated lecture by Gerrit A. Beneker on December 18. Alden Alley spoke, January 8, on the subject, "What is Happening in Europe and What it Means to America."

A popular science demonstration lecture was presented by Glenn L. Morris on February 12. Gloria Hollister, research associate of Beebe, presented an illustrated lecture March 15 on the subject, "With Beebe in Bermuda."

Michael Flasechetti, famous New York detective, spoke on "True Tales of Crime and Criminals" on April 9. Attorney Harry Hilschman spoke on "Humor and Quirks of the Law" on April 30.

Three programs of silent moving pictures were sponsored by the lecture course in February and March. Among the special chapel speakers whom the course scheduled were Powers Haggood on January 24, and Jennie Lee on February 7. Haggood spoke on "Mines and Miners," while Miss Lee, a member of the English Parliament, spoke on "Germany and Peace."

The lecture course also aided the Holcad in broadcasting the Westminster-Pitt basketball game on February 21, and assisted Pi Delta Epsilon in getting John E. Allen, editor of Linotype News, here for the Journalism Day program April 21.

Miss Florence White, modern language department, will be in charge of the lecture course for the coming year.

Ministry, Teaching, Law Head Alumni Professions

Professions or vocations of Westminster College Graduates over three quarters of a Century up to the present, a recent survey shows, are:

529 Ministers, 394 High School Teachers, 309 Homemakers, 153 Lawyers, 131 Physicians, 123 Business, 112 Music Grads. (Unclass), 65 College and University Teachers, 53 Missionaries.

Westminster Faculty Is Outstanding Among All District Colleges

Training and experience of the Westminster faculty, as compared with that of colleges the same size in this and other sections of the country, is very complimentary to the local staff.

A survey reveals that, with four members now completing such work, 13 will have doctor's degrees; 15, master's degrees; five, two different bachelor degrees each; and six with one bachelor's degree each.

Thirty-five colleges and universities from almost every section of the country are represented by faculty baccalaureate and higher degrees. Ten professors have studied in European schools and universities. Eight professors are members of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

Eleven members of the faculty have been at Westminster ten years or longer, with Dr. Charles Freeman, head of the department of chemistry, holding the record with 40 years of service.

Classroom duties do not constitute the sole activities and abilities of Westminster faculty members. Many honors have been won by professors during the past year, some of which are in connection with their academic work and some in other associations.

Attorney Thomas V. Mansell, instructor in history, was appointed borough solicitor during the year. Miss Florence White, modern language department, was chairman of the international relations committee of the A.A.U.W.

Professor Ben Ewema, head of the English department, has been secretary of the Association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Western Pennsylvania. Dr. Herbert L. Davis, chemistry department, read two papers at the American Chemical Society meeting in Cleveland, O.

Dr. Harold Black, head of the mathematics department, was on the program committee of the Allegheny Mountain Section, Mathematical Association of America. Professor John D. Lawther, athletic director and head of the department of psychology, is a member of the board of the Tri-State Association for the Selection of Basketball officials.

Alan B. Davis, director of the conservatory, is again song leader at the New Wilmington Missionary Conference. Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, music department is again pianist for the conference.

Professor R. X. Graham, director of the news bureau, spoke before the national convention of the American College Publicity Association in Cleveland late in June, and was elected editor of "Ink Slings", official publication of the organization.

Dr. J. A. Swindler, dean and registrar, was elected to the borough school board and to the session of the United Presbyterian church. Miss Mildred Ailman, librarian, is chairman of the education committee of A.A.U.W.

Professor H. J. Brennan, head of the art department, exhibited some of his work in the Carnegie Library in Pittsburgh. Gordon Balch Nevin, professor of pipe organ, composed a number of new pieces during the year and gave recitals in Reading, Pa., and in other cities.

Dr. John Orr, head of the Bible department published during the year his book, "English Deism, Its Roots and Fruits." Miss Elizabeth Stewart, head of the modern language department, was secretary of A.A.U.P.

Lawther at N. Y. U.

Professor John D. Lawther, director of athletics, head basketball coach, and head of the department of psychology and education, is attending New York University during the summer. Professor Lawther is taking the preliminary examinations for his Ph. D. degree.

June Graduates Earn Positions

Many members of the 1934 graduating class have completed plans for the fall. Some are taking graduate work, while a large number have secured positions. Among those who answered a recent questionnaire are:

Alton Kloss has been appointed an instructor in the commercial department at Kane, Pa., high school for the coming year. Kloss was in the honor group in June, receiving the B.B.A. degree. Charles Pharmer is with the Massachusetts Life Insurance Co., Pittsfield, Mass.

Helen K. Baerman is in the sales department of the Joseph Horne Co., Pittsburgh. Alan Van Harper is to be instructor in science and athletic coach at McKean high school.

Helen McCuen, is a chemist with the H. J. Heinz Co., Pittsburgh. William Douglass, captain of basketball, has been elected an instructor and athletic coach in the Sykesville high school. Miriam Davison will enter the Nurses Training School at Johns Hopkins University to become a graduate nurse.

Ray Werner has a position with the Powell Press Steel Co., Hubbard, O. Desmond Griffin is with the McDowell National Bank, Sharon. Harwood Baldinger has been elected principal of the South Kortright, N. Y. grade school.

Cromwell Ketterer, will be on the faculty of the Lincoln school, Freedom, Pa. Ruth Russell, has a position as secretary with the Equitable Life Insurance Co., Youngstown, O. Frederick C. Luderer will enter the University of Pennsylvania law school.

Robert E. Douglass and Wilbur Christy will enter the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary. Christy was salutatorian of his class. Emily Parker has received a fellowship for graduate work in finance at Northern University. She was an honor student in June.

Three Westminster graduates: Charles Branfield, '34; Jane Chester, '34; and Ruth Wagoner, '33, have been elected to the faculty of the Brookfield high school, near Sharon, for the coming year. Branfield's home is in Masury, O., while both Miss Chester and Miss Wagoner reside in Sharon.

Other recent graduates who have secured positions or changed positions include:

Nelson Axe, '31, has been given a position in the Carlton Ellis Laboratories, Montclair, N. J. During the past year Axe has been doing research work in chemistry at the college, and published a paper in the American Chemical Journal.

Elizabeth Macklin, '33, has been appointed teacher in music in the Bessemer high school. She will have charge of choral work. Mary Jane Stunkard, '33, has a position as instructor in music in the Langlois schools for the coming year.

Clare Swisher, '28, former editor of the Holcad, has been made editor of "Hammermill Bond", house organ of the Hammermill Paper Co., Erie. Swisher was on the editorial staff of the Cleveland Press and of the Erie Daily Times before accepting the Hammermill position.

Dorothy Wilder, Sharon, a member of the class of 1933, has been elected teacher of mathematics in the Bessemer high school for the coming year. Miss Wilder served during the past year as a reserve teacher in the Sharon schools. She is a member of Chi Omega and of Delta Nabla.

Missionary Conference In Progress on Campus

With more than 450 delegates, leaders, and guests present, the 29th annual New Wilmington Missionary Conference started on the campus Friday, August 3. Boys are again quartered in Camp Sueglin on the athletic field. The gymnasium serves as dining hall. Browne hall and Hillside are utilized as dormitories for women. The conference tabernacle tent is located next to the Conservatory.

Westminster alumni and faculty members connected with the management and leadership of the conference include: Rev. Don McClure, general manager; Willis McGill, assistant manager; Rev. Dr. W. B. Anderson, secretary of the foreign board; Rev. William T. Turnbull, camp manager; Rev. Stillman A. Foster; Alan B. Davis, song leader; and Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, pianist. Many other alumni are in attendance as guests and missionary field representatives, and a large number of alumni visited the campus and conference over Saturday and Sabbath.

known pianist, in a recital. Dramatics, Publications One hundred and nine students took part in acting, staging, and directing 20 presentations of 13 different dramatic productions. Twelve of the presentations were before college audiences, while eight were staged in nearby towns and cities. Eighty-two students took acting roles, 20 were stage managers and helpers, and seven students acted as play directors.

Westminster's three student publications: weekly newspaper, yearbook, and handbook, claimed 58 students on editorial, business, and advertising boards. Thirty-two issues and editions of these three publications appeared during the college year. Three special prizes and honorable mentions were received by publications during the year.

Religious, Social

The six Westminster student religious organizations, with a total membership of 285, held 148 meetings and services during the year. Gospel teams and groups of men and women students also conducted services in nearby towns. Thirty special chapel speakers and preachers were heard during the year, some of whom were sponsored by the religious groups.

Social activities were numerous. In addition to 68 parties, teas, and receptions held by organizations and by the entire college group, there were 15 all-college gym parties, two of which were formal. Fraternities and sororities held 12 formal dinners and nine informal parties during the year.

to the student body and faculty at the annual picnic in honor of the seniors on June 9. Dr. John Orr spoke after the picnic lunch was served.

Guest Preachers

The final organization event was the annual Christian Associations' sermon, sponsored jointly by the Y cabinets, on Sabbath, June 10. The Rev. Dr. W. F. Harkey was the preacher.

Special preachers and speakers at meetings and services during the year included: Rev. James M. Guthrie, Rev. Dr. J. A. C. McQuiston, Rev. S. A. Kirkbride, Rev. Dr. Robert W. Veach, Rev. Dr. Sam Dodds, Rev. M. L. Moriority, RAB, Avery Jonah Grossfield, Rev. Dr. J. Ralph Neale, Rev. Dr. Murray C. Reiter, Rev. Dr. J. Alvin Orr, Rev. Dr. Robert Irvine, Rev. Leslie Mountford, Rev. Clyde L. Myers.

Religious services were conducted in Mahoningtown and New Castle churches, with special music supplied by the a capella choir and the women's chorus, in April and May.

Three Publications Gather Honors For Editorial Excellence

Student publications at Westminster are well known among authorities on college journalism because of the fact that in the last eight years they have been perennial prize winners in district and national contests.

The three student publications are: The Holcad, student weekly newspaper, founded in 1884; the Argo, junior class yearbook, founded in 1904; and the Handbook, information book published by the Y. M. and Y. W. cabinets for the freshmen.

Holcad a Leader

The Holcad celebrated its fiftieth anniversary this year. The weekly newspaper holds membership in the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, the National Scholastic Press Association, and the Associated Collegiate Press.

Three times in the last two years the Holcad has been accorded honorable mention and distinction for editorials, news, and policy in various association contests. It is regarded as one of the leading college weekly publications in the East.

Argo Nationally Known

Winning six All-American, first prize, awards and two First Honor Rating awards in eight years, the Argo has come to be a model for college and high school yearbook editors. In theme, treatment, use of pictures rather than type, and inclusion of every student's photo, the Argo has set a high standard in the National Scholastic Press Association contests.

During the past year there have been 32 issues and editions of the three publications. Of the 58 students on the three boards, 12 have been elected to Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity, and Psi Nu, honorary journalistic sorority.

Faculty Adopts New Cut System

Frosh 'Bibles' Must Be Carried At All Times

Two weeks of wearing blue dinks and black socks, green ties and white stockings, hair ribbons and name cards will begin Monday, Sept. 24 for the freshmen. These regulations, a traditional part of Westminster life, were drawn up by the Student Council and will be enforced by the Upperclass Tribunal.

The rules are as follows:

1. Carry handbook at all times.
2. Learn Westminster hymn.
3. Enter Main building through East Entrance only.
4. Speak to upperclassmen at all times.
5. Carry an egg on person and secure signatures of 6 upperclassmen during week of October 1.
6. Boys wear dinks at all times.
7. Girls wear berets at all times.
8. Boys wear black socks at all times.
9. Girls wear white stockings at all times.
10. Boys carry matches at all times.
11. Girls use absolutely no cosmetics during week of September 24.
12. Boys wear green Windsor ties 50" by 4".
13. Girls wear green hair ribbon 1 1/2" wide.
14. No co-education for girls during week of September 24.
15. No co-education for boys during week of October 1.
16. Carry name cards 18" by 12" with letters 4" tall, during week of September 24.
17. On Wednesday, September 26, boys and girls come to classes in an imitation of some movie actor or actress and dress so as to avoid any misconstrued conception.
18. Ignorance of any regulation will be no excuse to the Tribunal.
19. Regulations suspended from 6 P. M. Saturday to 6 A. M. Monday.

Treymour Orchestra Will Play For Dance

With a date or without a date—everyone is invited to attend the all-college party and dance to be held in the college gymnasium Saturday evening from 8 to 11 p. m. Treymour Club Orchestra, from Butler, will furnish the music for dancing. Chaperons will be Dean and Mrs. Alex Burr, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. Russell and Dr. and Mrs. Swindler.

This is the first of a series of all-college parties being sponsored by the student council and is under the direction of the social committee of the council.

Students Invited to Join College Book Club

Book Club extends its annual invitation to all freshmen and upperclassmen who wish to become members of this organization, according to an announcement made by Miss Mildred Ailman.

Dues will be the same as in previous years, amounting to two dollars a year. This money is used to purchase new books, which include popular non-fiction and the best modern novels.

Chi Omega Sorority Contributes To Fund

Chi Omega sorority has donated $50 to the library fund, President R. F. Galbreath announced in chapel last week. This is the second donation made within the last month, a sum of $1,000 having been given by the Warden estate last month.

Frosh Stunt Day Will Be Run Off Tomorrow, 9:30

Freshman Stunt day, traditional opener for the period of freshman regulations, will be held on the football practice field, Saturday, September 22 about 9:30 in the morning.

Stunt day, which until this year has been a sophomore class project, is now controlled by the Student Council. Al Smith and Ruth Forsman, sophomore members of the council, compose the committee in charge.

The freshman girls are divided alphabetically into seven different groups, which are in the charge of a sophomore member of one of the seven sororities on campus. The freshman men are divided into five different groups, headed by sophomore members of the Westminster fraternities. In these units, the freshmen will present their stunts as a circus program for upperclassmen and faculty members.

The sophomore leaders are: Mary Jane Metzler, Florence Heintz, Dorothea Porter, Elizabeth Cone, Nellie Blain, Laura Ramsey, Mildred Thomas, George Herchenroether, Avalon LeMonte, William Mankedick, Arthur Brownell, John Gehr.

No classes will be held on this annual holiday for which the first year class provides the entertainment.

Kellett Named As New Student Council Prexy

Donald Kellett was elected president of the Student Council at a meeting held Saturday, September 15. The other officers who will serve during the coming year are: Bill Offutt, vice-president; Lillian Baird, secretary; and Dorothy Isaho, treasurer.

This organization will supervise the enforcement of freshman regulations, which will become effective Monday, September 24, and will aid the Tribunal in maintaining freshman discipline.

A committee headed by Lillian Baird has been named to arrange for all-college dances to be held this fall. Another group, of which Dorothy Isaho is chairman, is co-operating with Miss White in securing lecture course and chapel speakers.

Re-elected Secretary

LILLIAN BAIRD

Lillian Baird, who was re-elected secretary of the senior class last week, has filled this office for three years. She is also secretary of student council and head of the council chapel committee.

Thirty-nine Students Will Play In College Band

Thirty-nine students have become band members and will take part in the band programs this year, Professor Cameron announces.

The band will play and march at all home football games this year. Edgar Schaffer is filling the vacant position of drum major.

Although at present there are not enough uniforms to outfit all of the members, additional ones are being ordered.

New conservatory of music equipment purchased during the summer includes two double B-flat Sousaphones and a set of tympani (kettle drums), according to an announcement made yesterday by Alan B. Davis. These will be used by the band and orchestra and by students in the conservatory.

Baker And Marshall Spend Summer In Research Work

Two members of the college faculty, Professor J. V. Baker and Professor L. S. Marshall, returned to Westminster to resume teaching this fall after interesting sojourns abroad. Although most of their time was devoted to research and study in preparation for their Ph. D. degrees, both found time to do extensive traveling, and visited many places of historical interest.

Professor Marshall, after being awarded the fellowship, given by the Manchester branch of the English speaking union, sailed for England shortly following the close of the 1933 school year. During the thirteen months spent abroad, Professor Marshall attended Manchester university, where he studied in the department of commerce and economics, under Dr. Arthur Redford.

Being keenly interested in social science, Professor Marshall chose "The Development of Public Opinion in the Industrial City as Typified by Manchester" as the subject for his research. He stated that he expects to use this material in writing a book at a later date.

Professor Baker established his headquarters in London during the two months he spent abroad in the past summer.

While in England his main interests were in connection with "The Life of Sir Thomas Roe, the First English Ambassador to India, in the Court of the Great Mogul", and a great deal of his time was spent in haunting the British museum and the Public Record office where he did most of his research.

Being especially attracted by the beauty of the old cathedrals, Professor Baker visited those at Canterbury, York, Ely, and Peterborough. Traveling in the lake district occupied the remainder of his leisure.

Professor Baker commented on the encouraging aspect of the economic situation in England and added, "I noticed a great deal of building activity and I think that England is definitely making a recovery."

Officers Elected By Upper Classes For College Year

Officers were elected for the three upper classes last week in a special meeting of the student body under direction of the student council.

David Harris was elected president of the senior class, Lillian Baird was made secretary; and William Staples was elected vice-president. Another ballot will be taken later for this office.

Richard Reniers was elected president of the junior class. Other officers elected were: Evelyn Wilson, secretary; Wilson Myers, vice-president; and John Auld, treasurer.

Albert Smith was chosen as president of the sophomore class, George Mitchell was elected vice-president; Alex Brincko, treasurer; and Ailene Plester, and Elizabeth Cone tied for the office of secretary. Another ballot will be taken on the office of secretary.

Thespian Try-outs Start Next Week

Freshmen and other new students who have had previous drama experience are urged to try out for parts when The Little Theatre of Westminster College begins its season's activity by holding try-outs for all major productions early next week. All students are eligible to compete for roles in these plays.

In addition to a number of one-act dramas, four long plays have been chosen tentatively for presentation: "Houseparty," a melodrama whose action occurs in the library of a fraternity house; "The World We Live In," a satirical fantasy by the Capek brothers, in which the characters are butterflies, beetles, ants, and other insects; "The Enemy," Channing Pollock's drama of war-torn Germany; and Shakespeare's brilliant comedy, "Twelfth Night." Short plays with Marionettes may also be offered during the year.

A distinct change in policy calls for the presentation of all this year's plays in the Little Theatre, which is being equipped with heavy window and additional lighting equipment.

Seat reservations will be arranged for each play, and wraps will be checked for the convenience of those attending.

The following instructions are given by Professor Cordray for those intending to try out:

1. Sign the appointment schedule posted on the Little Theatre bulletin board, reserving any time from 7:15 to 9 P. M. Monday evening, September 24, or from 3:30 P. M. to 5 P. M. Tuesday afternoon.
2. Get a mimeographed copy of the try-out material at the counter of the college office. This sheet will be self explanatory.

Ten Graduates Enroll At Pittsburgh-Xenia

Ten graduates of Westminster College are students at the Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary whose year starts this week. Of this number, four are members of the senior class; four middle class, and two junior class.

Seniors are: Scott McMunn, Oakdale; Walker Brownlee, New Wilmington; Charles Fulton, Beaver; and Charles McCormick, New Wilmington.

Members of the middle class are: Albert Dodds, New Castle; Matthew Gilliland, New Wilmington; Willis McGill, New Wilmington, and Calvin Rose, New Wilmington.

Juniors are: Wilbur Christy, Pittsburgh, and Robert Douglass, Wilkinsburg.

Ten Rules On Attendance Go Into Effect

Ten rules regarding class attendance were unanimously adopted by the faculty at a meeting held yesterday. The rules provide in the main that a student shall not be dropped from class for absence alone, but he must be low in class work also.

The rules are:

1. The responsibility for satisfactorily meeting the requirements for completing the work of any given course rest squarely upon the student.
2. It is assumed that each student will be present on time at each regular session of every course in which he is registered.
3. It is further assumed that students will use due judgment in assigning time priority to their various interests and activities.
4. No student will be barred or dropped from class for mere absence.
5. Any student may be barred or dropped from class when, in the combined judgment of the Dean of the College and the instructor involved, and for any reason, the said student fails to benefit by the work of the class or is a hindrance to the progress of the others.
6. The instructor in charge shall take the attendance at the beginning of each session of a course.
7. The instructor shall make a complete weekly report of absences for each course, upon a blank to be provided, not later than the close of each academic week.
8. The "office" shall tabulate the attendance reports and supply the Deans with the attendance record of each student.
9. Absences from written examinations, announced at least two sessions previously, shall not be excused except by the Dean and then only for most weighty reasons. Such excused absences shall be made up in a manner satisfactory to the instructor concerned and due credit given the student.
10. All other "make-up" work shall be entirely at the option of the instructor.

Reorganization of Senate Adds House Of Representatives

Including the newly elected House of Representatives with the Council composed of seven girls elected last semester, the Senate has been reorganized this week. Heretofore, the organization has consisted of the Council only.

House of Representative members were elected last Saturday at meetings of the various women's dormitories. Virginia Rumbaugh and Ruth Johnson of Hillside, Elizabeth Greenough and Sara Hamilton of Browne Hall, Marjorie Scott of Beechwood lodges, Sara Black of Elliott and Thompson Houses, and Edith Carson of the campus Lodges will convene as Representatives next Tuesday.

Plans for a new constitution are now being formulated by the Senate, the women's governing body. The committee in charge, composed of Mary R. Morrow, Helen Snyder and McClees Murray, which Snyder and week, will submit its plans Tuesday for the approval of the House of Representatives and the Council. The new constitution will include the duties and powers of the proctors and of the Senate.

Biberich Writes Book

Walter Biberich, instructor in German, spent part of the summer in Cuba. He worked on a grammar to be used in courses in beginning German this year.

New Cut System

Dean Burr Favors Compulsory Class Attendance; Sickness Only Excused

A new system of cuts will be inaugurated at Westminster this year if Dean Alexander Burr has anything to say about it. Dean Burr is in favor of having compulsory attendance at Westminster with cuts for sickness only excused.

Although Dean Burr is in favor of the no-cut system, he is also in favor of not expelling any student for absence alone. If a student is absent from classes and is falling down in his class work, the student should be dropped from class, but not otherwise according to Dean Burr.

A system such as this one is what the Westminster students have been seeking for the last few years, and it will be interesting to see how it works provided the new system is tried out. Students know, of course, that such a system will make all grades dependent on examinations. Probably because of this the percentage of failures in each course will raise.

Most of the students will realize that they will have to go to classes a maximum number of times anyway in order to pass their work. It will be interesting to see how such a system will work at Westminster.

World Service

Are Educational Institutions Also World Service Corporations?

"A university, it is true, cannot be conceived in terms of a service agency." Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of Chicago University, makes this statement in an essay called "The University of Utopia," one of a collection of essays in College Years, by Heidler.

Westminster in conducting student canvass campaigns in the past few years has advertised the college as "a service corporation."

What is the object of a college or university if it is not acting as a service corporation to the world in training men and women to become leaders in religion, education, and business? Hutchins admits this later in his essay when he says, "In so far as a university is an educational institution it hopes that its graduates will not just be average but people who are leaders or promise to be."

Since its organization Westminster College has sent out more than 60 foreign missionaries, almost 600 ministers, 130 doctors, 150 attorneys, 15 school superintendents, 14 court judges, 600 high and grammar school teachers, 17 college professors, three senators and congressmen, 15 editors and journalists, 50 athletic coaches, 30 bankers, and many others who have proved that Westminster is "a service corporation."

Educational Gifts Drop

Philanthropic Gifts To Institutions Show Decrease In Six Large Cities

Gifts to educational institutions suffered a sharp decline in 1933, according to indications shown in a compilation of all publicly announced philanthropic gifts in six large cities of the country....

The total of such gifts to educational institutions in the six cities covered was $14,552,988 in 1933, as against $59,498,928 in 1932—a decrease of $44,943,940....

The total for all forms of philanthropy reported in the six cities in 1933 was $142,543,547 as against $176,008,914 in 1932, a total decrease of $38,465,367, or less than the decrease in educational gifts alone....

In 1932 educational institutions were the greatest benefactors, outstripping every other form of philanthropy....

The cities covered were New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and Boston.—Yale Alumni Weekly.

Intercollegiate Notes

A new "seven wonders of the world" was listed at the University of Illinois by Prof. A. W. Nolan when he announced what he considered to be the outstanding wonders of the universe. He included in his list the discovery of the solar system; law of moving bodies; law of electricity; law of electrical radiation; law of electrical structure of the universe; law of steam engine; and the law of life.

A ventilating system designed to change the air in the University of Iowa (Iowa City) Union every six minutes will be installed in the Cornhuskers' social center in the near future.

"I believe in youth. I believe that youth over the last ten years hasn't had a real chance," says Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of Pennsylvania State College (State College, Pa.)

Grace Abbott, former director of the Children's Bureau of the department of labor, has been appointed professor of public welfare at the University of Chicago. She will also be editor-in-chief of the university's Social Service Review.

Students poorly trained for a college career, and who do not wish to take work for a higher degree, have been enrolled in a special course designed to give them subjects that will be most profitable for them in their short stay in college at the University of Missouri (Columbia).

Washington University (St. Louis, Mo.), during 1933-1934 school year, received gifts totalling $858,818.

Home economics students at the University of Texas are offered a course in home designing.

88 of the 192 Rhodes scholars in 1933 were from the United States.

123,395 persons attended the Institute of Arts and Sciences at Columbia University during the past year, the largest attendance noted since the establishment of the institute.

Prof. George D. Strayer, of Columbia University, advocates the creation of a federal department of education with a subsidy of $500,000,000.

The U. S. Naval Academy will begin its 90th year on September 28.

Universities in Japan have only 35 women students.

The Rockefeller Foundation has recently granted McGill University (Toronto) a gift of $1,000,000 for the foundation of a department of neurology.

A system whereby students are able to read more rapidly and improve their grades has been developed by Stanford University (Stanford, Calif.) psychologists.

121 scholarships have been granted by the New Jersey College for Women (New Brunswick) to students for this school year.

A laboratory to assist children with defective speech has been planned at the University of Wichita (Kansas).

Canning most of their food during the summer time enabled a group of co-eds at Alabama Polytechnic Institute (Auburn) to save approximately $167 each of their school expenses.

Named in honor of the Rev. John Harvard, a Puritan, Harvard University (Cambridge, Mass.) is the oldest institution of higher education in the United States, being founded in 1636.

Officers, faculty members, and employees of the University of Pennsylvania (Philadelphia) are now being paid an additional 3/4 per cent of their salaries to compensate them for cuts taken last year.

Approximately 31,300,000 persons are attending school in the United States at the present time.

University authorities require that all speeches delivered by students at the University of the Philippines be censored by them before they are given in public.

Last June the University of Kansas (Emporia) graduated five women who had finished courses in Medicine.

Holcadabra

Although there has been much rumor to the effect that in order to prevent the manufacturers of Dinks and Berets from obtaining material, the nationwide textile strike was started by an anti-freshman-regulations organization at Westminster, our Washington correspondent denies the evidences of any proof of such a statement.

—O—
As one freshman so aptly put it when the eight o'clock bell rang last Friday for the first class of the year: "Well, we're off."

Storie.

Passing the old College Press Shop, the other day, a freshman girl convulsed the local citizenry when she innocently asked if that was where the college students obtained their newspapers.

BUCKSHOT

Where are all the sophomore girls we were going to date this year?... The sale of pipes in New Wilmington has increased astoundingly since that display was put in the window of one of the local shoppes... On your mark, boys, it's just around the corner. Prosperity? No!... pledging season... Ladies, please! The door at the east end of the gymnasium does not lead into the women's dressing room, as one of our freshman coeds discovered recently.

Davis Scores Triumph In A Cappella Fight

By successfully spelling "A Cappella" in chapel last Wednesday, professor Alan B. Davis, director of music, ended a months old controversy that has been raging since early last spring. "The word is spelled with two P's," said Davis. "If you spell it with one P it means hog, in Italian."

Journalists, Webster, and Davis all differed as to the correct spelling last spring, when an advance on an A Cappella choir program was being written. In keeping with its policy of fairness to all, the Holcad printed the story using three different spellings of the word. This, however, was unsatisfactory to all concerned. There was much talk of appointing a committee, changing the name of the choir, and discontinuing publication of the Holcad.

Biding his time, professor Davis waited until last Wednesday before entering the fight anew, when he unexpectedly declared himself, catching his enemies unprepared and easily scoring a single handed victory.

Public opinion insures his victory. While little notice would be given to a misspelled choir, no one can call the organization a "hog choir" and get away with it.

—O—
Isn't it nice the way the boys stopped smoking in front of the chapel as soon as they were requested not to?

—O—
That breakfast-hike announcement in chapel sounded quite interesting until they mentioned the fact that it was only for girls. We knew that there would be a hitch to the hike somewhere.

—O—

Titans To Tackle Rockets In Opener

Veteran Teachers Outfit To District Small Colleges Open Season Oppose Westminster Tomorrow

By Dick Nelson

Well trained and in good spirits the Westminster Titans await the invasion of the Slippery Rock Teachers to tomorrow in the first football classic of the year, fully prepared to wipe out the 13-6 defeat which the Thompson men gave them last year.

It would seem, on paper, at least that the Teachers should be on the long end of the betting column. Their team is composed of nearly all seniors and veterans of three or four grid seasons. An advance study of their probable lineup for Saturday's game show that all of the first eleven men appeared in last year's fracas.

Comparison of teams is difficult because of the fact that the system instituted by the Gilbane brothers is yet to be seen and its worth proven. It can safely be said, however, that the Titans will be in the game to win and if excellent training and coaching skill have anything to do with the matter they will accomplish the feat.

Injuries to Westminster players are not helping the cause. It is not at all certain that Mintz, strongly counted on as first string signal caller, will have recovered sufficiently from a badly strained knee to be able to enter the game. Arrowsmith, veteran back, is in the Jameson Hospital in New Castle where he had his tonsils removed yesterday. Strausberg has a bad ankle. Krulatz has a bad cut over his right eye. Franklin has an injured hand, and other men have minor ailments.

The Gilbanes would not say last night who would be given the starting assignments, on the Titan team, but scrimmage sessions since last week would indicate the first eleven will be a mixture of old and new men.

Of the backs not on the injured list there are: Ray Sweeney, half or quarter; Bill Staples, fullback; Ralph Clark, fullback; Jack Laraway, halfback; Jim Bailey, halfback; and Emile Couture, halfback. Four of these six men will no doubt start in the backfield.

On the line, the men available include: Jim Ferguson, Thomson Wilson, Dick Watt, Ed Austen, ends; Lou Franklin, Don Helmick, centers; Bob Scarbrough, Bill DeArment, Joe Straw, Bob Harder, tackles; and Hal Burry, Walt Young, Tony Krulatz, Dick Reniers, August Miller, guards.

Of the eight men on the injured or sick list, at least four will not have an opportunity to play in the opening game. Included among this group are: Bob Arrowsmith, quarter; Dave Mintz, quarter; and Bim Strasberg, end.

Coach Thompson of Slippery Rock has decided to start Tatala at quarter, Freed at left half, Sillman at right half, and Ortman at fullback. According to records, this will give the Teachers a backfield averaging 155 pounds.

Ziemenski and Gibson have been selected as ends; Perkowsky and Parsons as guards; and Stonis and Dinsmore as tackles. Nocera will be at center. Nick Uram, Ken Robertson, and Frank Rogers may also see action in the Teacher backfield.

Professor Don Cameron will have the Westminster band ready for the opening game. This 32-piece organization will play before and during the contest. Wm. C. Evans will referee, E. A. Stahl will be umpire, and John Harr will be linesman.

According to Bill Gilbane, there will be no regular captain for football this fall. An acting captain will be chosen before each game and at the end of the season an honorary captaincy will be bestowed.

Freshmen To Begin Touch Football Game

The new touch football league will begin with a tournament for Freshmen only. After the tournament has been completed, upperclassmen will be taken into the league as fraternity teams. As far as possible, Freshmen men will be divided into dormitory teams for the tournament.

All Freshmen interested in the touch football tournament are requested to report to the lower athletic field, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The new sport will be under the direction of Jack Hulme with the assistance of Ray Southard.

Following is a list of the rules which will govern play in the tagball league:

Touch Football Rules

1. A team shall consist of nine men.
2. Five men must be on the line of scrimmage on offense. Penalty: 5 yards.
3. All men are eligible to receive a pass.
4. Forward passer must be five yards behind the line of scrimmage in making a pass. Penalty: incomplete pass.
5. No penalty other than loss of downs for incomplete passes.
6. In place of being tackled the ball-carrier must be tagged with either hand below the head. In making the tag both palms must be open, and no holding with the hands permitted. Penalty: 15 yards for tackling; 5 yards for holding with the hands; 5 yards for unnecessary roughness in tagging.
7. No use of hands on head on the part of either offense or defense. Penalty: 5 yards in case of offense; 15 yards in case of defense.
8. Men must maintain possession of the ball when tagged. Penalty: if ball is dropped at the point of being tagged the ball is a free ball and is dead at the point of recovery. It belongs to the team that recovered.
9. When a man is tagged in the act of passing, the ball is dead at the spot of the tag no matter what follows.
10. In blocking, the man making the block must have at least one foot in contact with the ground when contact is made with the opponent. Penalty: 15 yards.
11. Four downs to make twenty yards.
12. Time of quarters: 8 minutes; one minute intermission between third and fourth quarters; five minutes intermission between halves.
13. Time out is as follows: (a). When ball goes out of bounds. (b). When referee calls time out for captain. (c). After a score has been made and during the try for point after a touchdown. (d). At discretion of the referee if the infliction of a penalty consumes considerable time. Time is in when the ball is put into actual play.

Note: Rules subject to change.

Visits Laboratories

Professor Walter Obold, of Biological Sciences, Drexel Institute, visited the biology laboratories at Westminster Monday, September 17.

Campus Sages Select World Series Favorites

By Jerry Auld

Although much interest is being focused upon the approaching football season, another great event in the world of sports is about to be played. The World's Series, with Detroit and the Giants as probable participants promises to be a hectic struggle.

Who will win the coming series is a great question confronting sports editors and fans. The Tigers are a club of spirit and pep while the Giants are not as peppy as they were last year. But the Giants are next to invincible in a short series, so all we can contend is that it will be a great series.

On interviewing some of the sports figures on the campus many variances of opinion are voiced. The Long Island Brigade consisting of Kellett, and Faber are strong for their fellow Southard, Hunneke, Young Franklin, low New Yorkers. Jackie Laraway, Westminster's stellar little halfback, picks Detroit saying they are superior to the Giants in all around play. "Bunny" Austen, one of Westminster's scrappy ends, says that it will be closely contested with Detroit the probable winners in seven games. Michmerhuizen, a native of Michigan, does not hesitate a minute in picking Detroit.

The Gilbanes pick Detroit saying that they are a team of scrappers. Bill says that they are a young, strong team and believes that their scrap will win them the series. Tom says that Mickey Cochrane is one of the greatest scrappers in baseball and believes that Mickey's leadership will bring Detroit a World's Championship.

Opinions as to who will win seem to be about even among Westminster students and the series is sure to arouse a great deal of interest on the campus. In conclusion about all that can be said is that it will be a great series.

W. A. A. Resumes Athletic Activities

With Pat Jones presiding, the W. A. A. held its first meeting of the year Tuesday in the W. A. A. room at Hillside. Mary Ellen Morrow was elected hike supervisor, and under her direction those freshmen and W. A. A. members who were able to get up, went on a breakfast hike Friday morning at 5 o'clock.

Other business included the appointment of Jane Smiley and Jane McMillan to the offices of social and program chairmen. Lola Sewall will head the committee to revise and edit the constitution handbooks. Virginia Booth was named the sport chairman for soccer, while Vergil Wettich will be in charge of hockey practices and games. Elizabeth Cone was named publicity chairman, whose work is to include writing for the National News Letter of W. A. A.

Announcement was made concerning sport practices for next week. Hockey practices will be Tuesday and Thursday, 3 o'clock for upper-class girls, and 4:30 for freshmen. Soccer will be played Monday and Wednesday at 3 by freshmen and 4:30 by upper-class girls. All girls are invited to take advantage of these practices where rules are worked out for the benefit of those who do not know the game.

Mermaid Club

The Mermaid Club, popular girls swimming club, organized on the campus last year, has been reorganized and presents its plans for the year. Meetings will be held only during the winter season, when one night a week will be scheduled. Tryouts for membership will be held the week before Thanksgiving.

In the meantime, swimming parties are to be held often, and will be open to all girls. The first party will be Friday of this week at 8 o'clock. Beginning next week the pool will be open Friday afternoon from one to three o'clock to all girls.

ANNOUNCEMENT

All college students are requested to comply to the following rules at all home games:

Upperclassmen should avoid sitting in seats reserved for the band and for purchasers of season tickets.

Freshmen should sit in the end sections.

All students should arrive at the field early to avoid confusion.

Your co-operation will be appreciated.

Hulme's Intra-mural League Opens Monday

Monday afternoon, the fall Intra-mural season will begin with contests scheduled in Horseshoes and Volleyball. The contests will be held on the lower athletic field below the Gym.

Much work has been done in preparation for those fall sports. Under the direction of Jack Hulme, new boxes for the Horseshoe events have been constructed, and a new Volleyball court has been laid out.

For the present only the fraternity and non-fraternity groups will have teams in the volleyball and horseshoe leagues. Freshmen will not take part until after the rushing season is over; then, as pledges they will be permitted to take part on their fraternity teams.

PLAYGROUND TEACHER

Wesley Bennett, star center for the Titan basketball team, is being employed as playground instructor at the New Wilmington high school by the FERA.

Women's Gym Classes To Ride Horseback

To an already varied and interesting program of women's physical education work, there has been added a new sport—horseback riding. Six riding horses have been secured from the Sharon Riding School for use here. Classes will be held twice a week and regular gym credit will be given girls who ride at the scheduled time. The horses are to be kept in New Wilmington stables and other girls can ride at any time. At the present time eighteen girls have enrolled in the class.

Westminster is fortunate in being able to offer horseback riding as a part of the physical education program, as few other schools of the same size sponsor this sport.

Another new class appears this season at 8:50 when Miss Love takes her class to the tennis courts to teach them the fundamentals of the game. Girls who register for work in the physical education department may choose for the fall season, hockey, soccer, riding, tennis, or beginning or advanced swimming.

All-American Team Contest Starts To-day

For the first time in the history of the selection of All-American Football teams, the students of Westminster College and the other institutions in which Collegiate Digest is distributed, will have the opportunity of voting for their favorites and selecting an All-American team of their own, according to an announcement made in the first 1934-35 issue of Collegiate Digest, national rotogravure section for undergraduate newspapers.

A coupon to be found on page 8 of today's issue of Collegiate Digest, has been provided for the convenience of those wishing to cast a vote for their favorite players. This coupon may be filled out and mailed or brought in to The Holcad office where arrangements have been made to handle the large volume of voting that is expected from Westminster.

Under the rules of the contest, each individual may submit one complete team as his or her selection for the Collegiate Digest All-American Football team. Then, if spectacular playing by some individual or team changes the voter's mind, he is free to submit a second choice team as candidates for the honor. Vote each week so as to be sure your candidate wins.

The only restriction in balloting has been placed in the fact that each undergraduate is allowed to select no more than one full team each week.

At the end of the contest, the closing date of which will be announced later, Collegiate Digest, representing the undergraduate bodies and newspapers of the United States, will present each member of the student's own All-American with gold medals significant of the honor which has been bestowed upon them.

Good playing in the earlier, less important games of the season is just as important as good playing in the later, more important games. In order to make a selection which will compare favorably with the team that is finally picked as the Collegiate Digest All-American for 1934, it is advisable to start watching the grid-iron feats of the different players and institutions early in the season, and to start voting for your choices without delay.

Collegiate Digest Sponsors Contest

The ambitious reader of The Holcad and Collegiate Digest, the weekly rotogravure section, will have an opportunity to compete in two contests throughout the school year—and in addition to make himself some real money.

Whether you go in for photography or crossword puzzles, you will have a chance to earn some real fame and some large monetary rewards for your work. Collegiate Digest will pay $1 for all photographs accepted for publication—and it makes no difference what size camera you have just so the pictures are clear.

Cross-word puzzles have continued to be leading features since the craze first started a number of years ago. To satisfy this demand of college students, Collegiate Digest will pay $10 for all original cross-word puzzles done by students or faculty members and which have a college angle to them.

All entries in these various contests should be sent to the Editor, Collegiate Digest, Box 472, Madison, Wisconsin.

Dr. Eberling Here

Dr. E. J. Eberling and family called on friends and spent Tuesday night in New Wilmington. Dr. Eberling will be remembered by alumni as Professor of Economics here in 1921 to 1923. He is located at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., where he has been teaching since leaving Westminster.

Campus Development Nearly Completed

With the completed grading of the lower campus between Walnut Street and the Gymnasium, development of the campus is nearly finished. The ground has been seeded and will probably be landscaped in the spring. College street and Walnut street have both been ordered closed by the borough council as the college owns all property abutting these streets.

Returns To Teaching

LEON S. MARSHALL

Professor Marshall, assistant professor in the history department, returned to Westminster this year after spending a year's leave of absence studying in England.

Three College Students Run Business Places

Three New Wilmington students are running businesses of their own in order to work their way through school this year.

Perry Klumph, a junior, and Nelson Greer, a senior, are running the College press shop. The press shop does its business right next to the College Inn.

Lawrence Kauffman, a freshman, is conducting a riding academy. Kauffman has a racer among his well-bred horses which he has stabled behind the Presbyterian church.

Cameron Talks Music At Local High School

"Trumpets and Drums" was the topic of an address given by Professor Donald O. Cameron of the music department to the student body of the high school last Wednesday morning.

Mr. Cameron spoke briefly on the various instruments of the band giving a few words about each instrument. He spoke of the social life within the band and pointed out that the players got just as much enjoyment out of playing music as the interested observers get in listening to music.

Sorority Rushing Begins November 12

Rumbaugh, First Woman Argo Editor

Miss Virginia Rumbaugh, member of the junior class, has been appointed Editor-in-Chief of the Argo of the class of 1936.

Miss Rumbaugh, who was a sophomore assistant in Argo work last year, is also a member of Senate, Kappa Delta sorority, Pen-Hellenic council, and is vice president of W. A. A. Appointment to the editorship is a singular honor in that this is the first time a girl has ever held this position.

Other department heads, as announced by Mr. Brennan, faculty advisor, include: art editor, Mary E. Morrow; business manager, Harvey Snyder; advertising manager, Ann Kendlehart; literary editor, Alta P. Sell; associate literary editors, Ruth Clark and Ruth Johnson.

The background for the 1936 year-book, which will make its appearance in May, is to be in Gothic style and theme; a marked contrast to last year's modern treatment. Art students will again produce the designs. Student and campus pictures for the new book will be taken within the next week or two.

For the past five years the Argo, in competition with the leading colleges of the country, has been awarded All-American yearbook honors. Announcement of the rating of the 1935 book, edited by Clarence Manor, will be made early November.

First Woman Editor

VIRGINIA RUMBAUGH

Virginia Rumbaugh, a junior, is the first woman student to be appointed Editor of the Argo.

Lab Manual Written By Dr. Moorhead

A laboratory manual of elementary physics was written and published by Dr. John G. Moorhead, assistant professor in physics, during the past summer, and is now being used by Westminster classes in elementary physics.

The manual contains 75 pages, including general instructions, 67 experiments, and logarithm tables. On the flyleaf, Dr. Moorhead acknowledges the cooperation of Dr. J. A. Swindler, head of the department of physics, in planning the book.

Dr. Moorhead is a graduate of Indiana University, where he received both the A.B. and A.M. degrees, and of Northwestern University, where he received the Ph.D. degree in 1931. He is a member of Sigma Xi, the American Physical Society, and is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Publishes Lab Manual

DR. JOHN MOORHEAD

Dr. John G. Moorhead, assistant professor in the Physics department, has written and published a Physics Laboratory Manual.

Council Announces Pre-Rushing Rules

Pan-Hellenic Council held its first meeting on Wednesday, September 26.

Sorority rushing was planned and has been scheduled to begin on November 12, and will last until November 21. The following rules which are the same as those used last year during the pre-rushing period will be in force from now on:

1. Upperclass girls may visit the freshmen in their rooms, but freshmen will not be permitted in sorority girls' rooms.
  2. Upperclass girls may not take freshmen home for week-ends.
  3. Upperclass girls may not spend the night with freshmen girls.
  4. Upperclass women may not mention sorority to freshmen at any time.
  5. The age old system of "dutch treat" will be in force.
  6. Upperclass girls may accompany freshmen anywhere in accordance with college rules.
- The date for the annual tea which Pan Hellenic gives for freshmen women was fixed for October 12.
- The Council has decided to meet the first Wednesday of every month, a different sorority taking charge of the program at each meeting. Lillian Baird, Isabel Reed and Jane Holland were appointed to take charge of programs for meetings.

Cooper Appointed As Supervisor Of Practice Teaching

Homer E. Cooper, Ph.D., who has been recently appointed to the faculty staff, assumed his duties here as supervisor of teacher's training, Friday September 21, Dr. R. F. Galbreath announces.

In addition to his supervision of student teaching, Dr. Cooper will also assist in student placement.

He comes here from New York, N. Y., where he has been engaged in research work. He is a graduate of West Virginia university where he received his A. B. degree. His graduate work was done at Columbia University, where he took both his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees.

Dr. Cooper has had a wide experience in education, having been Dean of State Teachers College, Richmond, Ky., and superintendent of the public schools in Bluefield, W. Va. He was also in administrative charge of the Pitt extension work in this district.

Library Contribution

Miss Mary Neely, '01, contributed $50 to the library fund early this month, President R. F. Galbreath announces. Miss Neely spent part of the summer in town. She is a member of the faculty at Schenley high school, Pittsburgh. Her brother, William Neely, was a member of the 1934 class.

Seventy-three FERA Jobs Given To Students

Seventy-three FERA jobs have been allotted to Westminster college and sixty-one of these positions have already been applied for and filled. In communities other than New Wilmington, 23 students are employed in the schools and public libraries where they are filling stenographical, clerical, playground, and tutoring positions.

There are 28 students doing FERA work on the campus and 10 other students are engaged in making an investigation sponsored by the State Department of Education in several schools in nearby communities.

Several campus projects have been planned, to be completed by FERA workers. They include: landscaping of the campus, construction of playground facilities, and tennis courts, and clearing the college woods of underbrush.

The remainder of the positions will be filled as soon as possible.

Two Westminster Graduates Die

Word has been received here of the death, on Monday, September 24, of two Westminster graduates, Dr. Charles H. Robinson and Dr. William M. Stewart.

Dr. Robinson, of the class of 1883, was pastor of the U. P. Church of Wheeling, W. Va.

Dr. Stewart was graduated here in 1899 and received his degree of Dr. of Pedagogy last June. He has been superintendent of schools in Etna, Pa., for the past 12 years. Previous to that time he had charge of the model school at Slippery Rock, Pa.

Prof. Cooper To Teach Graduate Course Offered

Saturday classes for graduate students who seek additional credits toward permanent teaching certificates in Pennsylvania will be offered by Westminster, starting Sept. 29, Dr. R. F. Galbreath announces.

A three-hour graduate course acceptable by the State Department of Public Instruction, will be taught by Dr. Homer E. Cooper, new supervisor of practice teaching.

Dr. Cooper's wide range of educational experience, as a teacher, school superintendent, dean of a state teachers' college, extension director for a large university, and state supervisor of education in New York ably fit him to teach this course.

Enrollment Will Reach A New Peak; 700 Students

Enrollment at Westminster will reach a new "high" of 700 by the end of this year, according to W. A. Johns, head of the personnel department.

Total registration to date is 670. Of these 334 are men students and 336 are women. Late registration and mid-year enrollments are expected to number at least 35, bringing the total above 700.

These figures compare favorably with the September, 1933 enrollment of 670 to total last year and 622 to total last year.

Dramatic Season To Open October 18

With the production of three short plays under student direction, the Little Theatre season will open Thursday, October 18. In accordance with present plans the plays will have a second presentation Friday, October 19.

The plays which have been selected are "The Man Who Thought of Everything" to be directed by Helen McLaughry; "Wistful Waiting," which will be under the direction of Jane Holland; and "Shaw," directed by McCrea Hazlett.

The casts for "Wistful Waiting" and "Shaw" have been selected from the class in dramatic production; while the third cast will probably be chosen from the group of fifty students who tried out for the Little Theatre production this week.

"Houseparty", the second play-course event is scheduled for November 21, 22, 23, and 24. The season's program will be continued with another group of short plays to be produced December 13 and 14.

Officers Elected By Two Campus Organizations

Officers were elected by the Tribunal and the Inter-fraternity council last week in organizing these groups for the year's activities.

Nelson Greer, a senior, was elected president of the Tribunal, the organization which enforces freshman regulations. Representatives from all fraternities, sororities and the non-fraternity groups are members of this organization.

Officers of the Inter-fraternity council elected at a meeting held last Tuesday are: Thomas Smith, president; Charles Perney, vice president; and Robert Faber, secretary. The inter-fraternity council includes two representatives from each fraternity. Rushing rules for the fraternities are formulated and problems in rushing are settled by this group.

Works For M. A. Degree

Polly Sellar, '33, is registered this fall to study at the University of Columbia for her Master's degree. Last year Miss Sellar taught in a settlement school near Burkeville, Virginia.

Commuters Miss Nothing By Not Living On Campus, Master's Thesis Reveals

In her study in connection with her master's thesis on the subject, "The Influence of Commuting on the Achievement of College Students", Miss Pearl Hoagland, assistant professor in the department of education, derives some very interesting facts.

From the information received through questionnaires sent to Monmouth, Thiel, Geneva, and Allegheny, in addition to Westminster, Miss Hoagland concludes that, "There seems to be no strong argument against the practice of living in a home situation instead of residing in a college house or fraternity house or rooming in a private home."

From the study made at Westminster for the first semester, 1933-34, it was shown that as a whole commuters made a scholastic record superior to the non-commuters. Women commuters exceeded the women dormitory residents only by a slight difference; but in the case of the men students the commuters proved to be significantly superior to the non-commuters. This grade-relationship was found to be closely paralleled at Geneva college.

In regard to other phases of college life, Miss Hoagland points out that as far as the local commuter is concerned, "he is no longer considered the least desirable addition to the student body, since this mode of attending college has become so prevalent in the colleges of Western Pennsylvania."

Although the survey at Westminster showed that about two thirds of the commuters felt that they were missing something by not living on the campus; the fact that a fairly large percentage of them, when considered in relation to total enrollment, participate in extra-curricular activities, a very large percentage make an effort to attend college functions, and only a slightly smaller percentage of them join fraternities and sororities, would seem to counteract this opinion in part.

The reason for commuting most frequently given by students at Westminster were economic reasons, desire to live at home, and a job in the home town. From figures taken from the questionnaires it was estimated that the average student saves $200 a year by commuting. Other advantages which the commuters say they enjoy are the opportunity for better study, better home life and entertainment, and freedom from annoying restrictions.

Frosh Men Rotate To Frat Houses For Meals

In order to promote friendship between upper and lower classes, a number of the freshman men are taking their meals at fraternity houses on the campus, from September 11 through October 15. The visitors are divided into five groups, each of which spends a week at every house.

The order of rotation is from the Theta Upsilon Omega house to Delta Phi Sigma, Phi Pi Phi, Kappa Phi Lambda, and Epsilon Theta Pi.

The group which started its first week, September 11 through 17, as guests of the T. U. O's and is now eating with the Phi Pi's, includes: Holland Donaldson, Jr., Leslie Ridge, Frank Skelley, Hugh Mack Dill, Edward Nakles, W. H. Morgan, Jr.

The other groups, now with the Kap's, Ep's, T. U. O's and Del's, respectively, are: first, Hiram Stoner, J. F. Stewart, F. D. Hamill, Bill Yost, Seward Davis, and Clarence Brallier; second, Andrew Demo, Eugene McCalgin, Robert Henderson, Robert Reniers, and McElroy Smith; third, Charles Scofield, James Chalener, Sam McKim, Lorin Randall, Bob Jamison; and fourth, Charles Eber, Wayne Christy, Clark Weber, Bill Weddle, and Jack Harris.

Freshman men who commute, work for their board, stay in co-op houses, or live in town are of necessity not included in these groups, which were arranged for and scheduled by Professor R. X. Graham.

Safety Director Gives Chapel Talk On Driving

"Women are the safest drivers of today", according to H. Russell Craig, safety director of Philadelphia, who spoke in chapel Wednesday, Sept. 26. Mr. Craig, who represented the Indemnity Corporation of Pennsylvania, discussed "Safety Education" with a view toward pointing out the causes for accidents.

Since the greater part of present fatalities are automotive rather than industrial, he presented these three human failings, in an attempt to educate people to avoid them; un-sportsmanship in driving, ignorance of the motor code and the laws of physics, and unsafe speed.

Regulations Are In Style

Wearing Of Dinks And Green Ties Have A Glamour That Will Be Missed

Stunt Day, the wearing of regulations, being paddled in those hours when all good freshmen should be studying, the flying of Soph flags at strategic points on the campus, might tend to discourage the freshmen who have entered Westminster and make them think that college life is not all "that it's cracked up to be."

Freshmen who are a little faint-hearted and who are not used to being the underdog may look at it in this light, but if you go over the whole idea carefully you might change your mind.

Upperclassmen are really carrying out old traditions when they conduct these personal "good will" meetings with the freshmen. Upperclassmen have been making "goats" of freshmen for years and the idea penetrates so rapidly that all freshmen after the first month of school look forward to the time when they will be upperclassmen so that they too can "lord it" over the lowly plebes.

Then too regulations, stunt days, and all of these other things are not imposed on the newcomers to make them look lowly, but rather to help promote the personal feeling among freshmen that they are becoming part of the clan.
It is surprising to find, with the removal of regulations, that a certain glamour that goes with being a freshman is missed when dinks and green ties are finally taken off.

Freshmen are more or less on their honor this year to wear regulations and in this way become a part of instead of putting themselves above other members of the class. Regulations will only be in effect two weeks instead of the customary six. The Tribunal has been late in getting organized and will have little more than a week of control. Chapel seating has not yet been arranged hence the Tribunal will not be able to get a definite check on those not wearing regulations. If freshmen keep faith with the conditions imposed by the upper classes, they will be getting off easier than other classes in the past. Otherwise the Tribunal may take some more drastic action.

Look Around Freshmen

Take Your Friends With You When You Join A Fraternity

Blackslapping, hand shaking, and all of the other outward signs of fraternity rushing are showing themselves on the campus again. The freshman class is being thoroughly combed for likely fraternity members. Men who are ambitious in school activities, good athletes, fellows who are good talkers and are "smooth" looking are already getting their names on the lists of the rushing committees as "the ones we'll work hard on."

Be careful, freshmen! The fellow who's shown you a good time and told you all about how his family helped found this school may be a senior, and if so you will only be able to spend one year as a fraternity brother of his while in school. Find out where the other members of your class are going. Get acquainted with the ones you want to be friends with and stick together when joining a fraternity. After all the members of your own class are the ones, who you will associate with mostly in your four years of college.

Dr. Kolmer Believes He Has Conquered Infantile Paralysis

Philadelphia, Pa.—A Temple University scientist believes he has conquered infantile paralysis.

The man, who is ready to present a priceless vaccine to the world, is Dr. John A. Kolmer, widely-known pathologist and Professor of Medicine at the School of Medicine of Temple University.

Dr. Kolmer told of long years of research that culminated when he injected his vaccine into himself and a young woman assistant to determine its efficacy. The woman, who, with him, literally took her life in her hands, is Miss Anna M. Rule. The vaccine, which may some day drive infantile paralysis into the limbo of smallpox, contains a small amount of devitalized virus.

Exhaustive experimentation with monkeys preceded the human test. In the case of the animals, the vaccine rendered them immune to the disease—but there was still a chance that a human being would contract the disease instead of being made immune to it.

A few months ago, Dr. Kolmer and Miss
Rule inoculated themselves with the vaccine.
Four times, at weekly intervals, it was injected.
After six weeks there should have been set up in the blood stream sufficient resistance to create immunization. The next stage of the experiment then took place.

A quantity of blood was tapped from the arms of Dr. Kolmer and Miss Rule. The specimens were placed in test tubes, together with portions of active virus. That combination was injected into the brain of a monkey, and the monkey remained healthy.

The explanation is that the blood of the human subjects had set up anti-bodies that killed the active virus.

Therefore, as Dr. Kolmer patiently explained to a group of curious, questioning writers, by inoculating a child with the vaccine, should that child contact polio germs, the anti-bodies so set up in his system will prevent infection.

Dr. Kolmer believes his vaccine spells doom to infantile paralysis. When further experiment proves to the world that no harm can come from inoculation, he is confident that mothers will ask for vaccination of their children against infantile paralysis just as they do now against other contagious diseases. He believes one vaccination will prevent infantile paralysis for a lifetime.

Student Interest Demands Code Administration Courses

Washington, D. C.—A recognition by many of the Nation's institutions of higher learning of the interest their student bodies are displaying in the President's recovery program, including NRA, is shown by the tendency of colleges and universities to install courses on NRA, Code administration, and other parts of the recovery program in their regular curricula this fall.

A larger enrollment in economics and sociology courses than at any time in history is being recorded by many colleges and universities, according to word reaching the Office of Education of the Interior Department.

While full details of the number of college courses on NRA are lacking, a typical example is a class on industrial organization to be offered at the University of California, dealing with NRA.
Another is a course in the Business Administration School of Barnard College on the conduct of business under NRA. A phase of a public administration course at Princeton will deal at length with NRA, Executive Orders, and Codes.

During the past summer the School of Public Affairs at American University, Washington, devoted part of its session to a study of NRA.
Western Reserve University, Cleveland, conducted a course on current problems in labor and industry. Columbia University Summer School held sessions on "Economics of Recovery Administration". The University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, in a 2 weeks "round table", devoted some of its work to a discussion on NRA.

Graduate students at Columbia University Teachers College studied the educational possibilities of local NRA organizations using the Mont Vernon, N. Y., NRA organization as an example.

Holcadabra

We are libel to be sued for this, but it is rumored along the Rialto (Neshannock Creek) that Ruth Martin is engaged to a cute little 200 pound freshman whose name is withheld.

Jake Thomas ate eleven hamburgers the other day, averaging one gulp per each.—We nominate him to the Wimpy Club.

Buckshot

A frosh flag flew from the tower of Old Main Tuesday night. In answer to a call to arms, sophs foraged through the town wielding appropriate instruments of retribution... a half hour of scouting resulted in the rounding up of about a dozen frosh who received theirs in front of Browne Hall... traveling painfully up Market street, the second year men tried out a few backhand and forehand shots, eventually arriving at the Kelly house, with the score about 20 to nothing in their favor.
...more frosh formed a receiving line on the front lawn, after some persuasion, and met the boys... one freshman in particular was so thrilled at the prospects that he absentmindedly dressed himself in three pair of trousers and two turkish towels... a few more points were scored around the town and the lads hid themselves home... some to hide and others to sleep... the rising sun shone on a soph flag triumphantly streaming from the top of Old Main.

That cow that was mooing
so horribly down by the football field wasn't in terrible pain, after all. It had merely seen a freshman in full regulations.

Contrary to what our chapel speaker said last Wednesday about it being impossible for two objects to be in the same place at the same time, we wish to say that an Austin car pulled up in front of the Inn the other day and evicted twelve coeds.

And then there's the one about the chemistry student who thought that an alcohol radical was an ardent prohibi-tionist.

A motion has been brought before the college authorities to erect a combination flag pole and billboard on the football field so that the sophomores and freshmen can erect flags and paint signs without bothering anyone.

Although the college authorities no longer authorize flag rushes, there certainly has been a rush to erect flags this week

Gentlemen, don't you know that it isn't nice to speak of our two coaches as, "the Chilblains?"

"Happy birthday to you," sang the coeds at Browne Hall and Hillside, at the birthday parties, Thursday night. Sweet voices drifted on the evening air, and dishwashers and waiters who had dates went mad as they waited for the gals to leave.

Flash!

East meets West, and Westmin-regulations (in part) and emulate screen stars. Although no personal interviews could be obtained, we particularly noted that Charlie Chaplin, Harpo Marx, Paul Muni, Greta Garbo, Mae West, Micky Mouse, Clark Gable, and several others were present.

Then there's the story about the girl who entered her room, not knowing that her roommate had arrived. "Who put all these coat hangers in here?" she asked, spying a vast pile of them on the bed. Gathering them up she marched into the hall and proceeded to give them away to the passing occupants of the dorm. Friend roomie arrived as the last of the hangers was passed out.

Tom Rogers, the TUO, spent fifty

Pressbox Panorama

The afternoon of the Slippery Rock Game. Most of the sports fans were garbed in shirt sleeves, the stands looking like the right field bleachers at the World's Series. It looked as though a record might have been broken for first game attendance. Many of the freshmen looked longingly at the seats between the thirty yard markers and then resigned themselves to the end zones. Several students were calmly and unconsciously seated in the faculty section until they noticed the amused look of passers-by.

The most popular spot on the field was the press box when the shower started. The attendance decreased abruptly when the rain really started to pour down. We saw Dr. Galbreath dripping with rain still sitting and watching the game. Congratulations to a real sport! Many of the fans were surprised at the attirement of several of the squad in their black jerseys with the white markings. We learned that these had been kindly loaned by the New Castle team when our order for new equipment arrived late.

Some wit remarked that the college band looked like a reform school outfit. They pepped up the afternoon with some nice tunes anyhow. Dick Morris had considerable trouble with his bass horn passing it over the press box desk between numbers to insure its safety. We liked the way the Gilbane brothers handled their boys coming out of the game, a pat on the back, a few remarks and a feeling of mutual satisfaction. Reminiscent of last year's Duquesne game, Joe Straw made a remarkable tackle, concluding his performance in the shape of a pretzel, but the play was called back anyhow.

One of the Slippery Rock rooters had marvelous lungs, but a rather quaint vocabulary; a real hog-caller that lad. The Titans came out on the field with their eyes rimmed with black greasepaint to offset the sun glare. Before the final whistle blew, Lou Franklin had collected a permanent blackening of one optic. Two scouts from John Carroll witnessed the game. Johnny Lawther enjoyed this game from the press-box. Swede Hunneke sat in the stands and fidgeted while the game progressed. Maybe Pop Hunneke will send that letter to the dean which will put Swede out on the field again.

Pete Leyshock enjoyed the game with three peaches from Grove City under his wing. "Baldy" Faber assisted him. Plenty of alumni were back for the contest. For the second consecutive year "Red" Stonis played in the Westminster backfield. Ben Euwema is a real football fan. Prof. Davis is still the best "fifty-yard-line quarterback" in the stands. The cheerleaders looked pretty snappy in their new sweaters, but did you see that Slippery Rock yell leader doing those flips!

Bunny Austen lost twelve pounds in that game. Tubby Harder would make no statement. That player that nobody could identify was a newcomer named Susko. We pick Slippery Rock to be a real local threat this year again. Those boys in the green jerseys only had one week of practice. If Dave Mintz, Bim Strasberg and Louie Franklin can play ball like that when they are handicapped with sprains, bruises and charleyhorses, what will they do when they are in shape? We know that you would rather look at some pictures of the John Carroll team but since we haven't got any to print, we have to fill up space with this.

Blue Streaks of Cleveland Open Season With Westminster

With the initial victory of the season packed snugly under their belts, the Westminster Blue and White team take the field tonight against the Blue Streaks of John Carroll University of Cleveland.

Even as this issue of the Holcad is being distributed over the campus, the boys from New Wilmington are probably out under the lights at the Cleveland Stadium awaiting the referee's whistle that will send them into action with the Blue and Gold riders from the Buckeye state. griders from the Buckeye state.

Streaks Good Last Year

There is comparatively little statistics which can be employed in determining the comparative strength of the two elevens. In last season's competition, John Carroll griders turned in a record of two defeats, one tie and two victories, while the Titans won two and lost six. The caliber of opposition for the Blue and White, however, was much stronger than that encountered by John Carroll last year. The only tangible fact connecting the two elevens is the somewhat dubious evidence that John Carroll took a 20-0 trimming from Case, over whom Westminster eked out a 6-0 decision.

Spirit of Notre Dame

Once again the Titans are confronted with the Rockne system as they pit the Brown triple wingback offensive against the Notre Dame shift. It might be recalled that this system has been a Waterloo for the Blue and White during the past three seasons. Elmer Layden's Night Riders of Duquesne hold a two game decision over the U.P.'s in as many encounters. St. Bonaventure has duplicated this feat. Other outfits employing the Notre Dame system, which have caused grief to the Titans are Muskingum and George Washington University.

Battle of New Coaches

The destinies of the John Carroll eleven are this year entrusted to two former Notre Dame stars in the persons of Tom Yarr, famous Irish center and Mike Koken, Youngstown's gift to the Ramblers. This being the first year of college coaching for both the Gilbane brothers of Brown and the boys of South Bend, Yarr and Koken, there is a semblance of a side contest between the stars of Tuss McLaughry and the products of Knute Rockne. The Ohio school which has a freshman ruling will present a squad not much larger than the Westminster aggregation. John Carroll has only twelve lettermen returning for the season, but there is a wealth of new material from last year's freshman squad.

Titans Open Carroll Card

The New Wilmington squad will have the advantage of one game's seasoning, while the Blue Streaks are opening their season tonight. It seems that Westminster will take honors this year as trial horses, as they opened Slippery Rock's season last week, will open the season for John Carroll tonight and next week will do similar honors for the Fordham Rams.

Squad Condition Fair

Unless there are certain hidden injuries among the members of the Gilbane team, the Titans will enter the fray tonight in pretty fair shape. While Bob Arrowsmith will still be among the missing, Mintz and Stasberg have recovered sufficiently to enable them to play along with Straw, Franklin and Austen. No reports could be extracted from the coaches regarding their opinions on the results of the contest tonight. The starting lineup is still in doubt but the unofficial lineup of this department is herewith presented.

Coed Soccer, Hockey Begin This Monday

Soccer and hockey head the bill for the women's sport program this week. Freshman soccer practice is scheduled for three o'clock Monday and Wednesday, while upper class rehearsals will begin at four. Hockey will be run off Tuesday and Thursday when the practices will be reversed, the upper class girls meeting at three and the freshman at four.

All gym classes under the direction of Miss Love, with the exception of the swimming groups, are taking advantage of the warm weather and are meeting outdoors as often as possible.

Spirited games of soccer, hockey, and tennis, as well as a number of equestrian games can be seen around the campus by persons passing through New Wilmington almost any time of the day.

Titans 7-0 Victors Over Rockets

Topple Teachers In Stubborn Contest

After waging a bitter struggle for four long quarters, the Blue and White eleven of Westminster opened the new gridiron season with a 7-0 victory over a stubborn Slippery Rock team last Saturday at the college field.

Titans Unimpressive

By virtue of an intercepted pass which brought the Westminster griders into scoring position toward the end of the first quarter, the Titans were able to complete a lucky pass in the opening minutes of the second quarter to give them the lead which was never threatened for the remainder of the contest. The New Wilmington aggregation showed a decided lack of power in their running attack although on the defense, they were exceptionally good for the opening contest of the season.

Staples Run Big Factor

The Teachers, after uncorking several "shovel" passes, forged into Westminster territory toward the end of the first period. At this point the Titan forward wall held solidly and the Rockets took to the air once again with disastrous results. Acting-captain Bill Staples covering the left wing of the secondary defense, reached into the air and pulled down an enemy pass on his own twenty yard marker. With interference quickly forming and protecting him on his right flank, Staples labored along the sidelines and reached the Rockets eleven yard line before being snagged by the Teacher safety man.

Power Punch Missing

From here Sweeney sliced off tackle once and inside tackle twice to pick up a first down on the one foot line. With four downs to make a score, the Titans plunged four times and wound up some two yards from the payoff line. Slippery Rock punted out of danger as the quarter ended. At the beginning of the renewal of play, Sweeney flipped a bullet heave to Bunny Austin who was snagged at the twenty-five yard line in the Rockets territory.

Rhode Island Stu

At this point Sweeney dropped back some fifteen yards and with green jerseys swarming around him heaved a weird pass which ascended to great heights in a listless end-over-end flight. It fell to earth at the ten yard line where it was miraculously caught by "Bim" Strasberg, freshman end from Providence, R. I. Strasberg, who had replaced Watt at the right terminal position seized the oval from between two defending Rocket backs and sprinted the remaining ten yards for the score. Jackie Laraway then booted a whistling drive over the uprights for the extra point.

Intercepts Pass

WILLIAM STAPLES

Acting captain of the Westminster football team, whose interception of a Slippery Rock pass in the first quarter and a seventy yard run, provided the biggest thrill of the afternoon.

Heat, Rain and Stonis

The remainder of the game was uneventful. With the temperature close to ninety on the field, the intermittent showers were a relief to both elevens. The veteran tackle from Slippery Rock, "Red" Stonis, turned in the greatest performance on the field, smashing through and breaking up everything which came his way, and a great deal more besides. When the final whistle blew, Slippery Rock had garnered six first downs to the Titans' three, but contrary to Pop Warner's theories, football games are still paid off in touchdowns. Lou Franklin, Burry, Laraway and Austen turned in the best games for the Blue and White, while Stonis, Gibson and Tatala excelled for the Rockets.

The lineups:

Westminster		Slippery Rock
Watt	L. E.	Ziemenski
Straw	L. T.	Dinsmore
Young	L. G.	Perkoskey
Franklin	C.	Nocera
Burry	R. G.	Rowlands

Society

Kappa Phi Lambda

Members of Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity, announce a house party to be held Saturday evening, September 29, as the opening event on this year's social calendar. Those who have charge of the arrangements are: Walter Whiteside, Graham Carter, and Walter Ritter.

Theta Upsilon

Edith Round, alumna, of New Castle, was a recent visitor at the sorority suite.

Kappa Delta

Members of Kappa Delta sorority entertained a few upperclass non-sorority girls at a tea held in the sorority suite at Hillside this afternoon at four o'clock.

Dr. Euwema To Speak At University Club

Dr. Ben Euwema will speak before members of the University Club, of Sharon, on October 2. Paul Quimby, a Westminster graduate, is president of the Club. Other members who have graduated from Westminster are Dr. A. B. Stewart, Harold Polonus, Trevor Sample, and Hugh Gamble.

Faculty Picnic

This evening at 6:00 p. m. the faculty will hold a picnic at the "Gazabo," the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Russell.

Plans for the picnic are in charge of Mr. Ross Ellis, instructor in the department of Business Administration.

Browne Hall Party

All freshman girls will be the guests of the Browne hall co-eds, tonight at an informal party.

Pajamas will be the formal attire of the evening. A program of stunts and games has been arranged by Betty Barrett and Mary Boyd.

Library Increased By Many New Books

Miss Aihman announces that the new books ordered for the library have arrived. These books were selected from lists submitted to her by the heads of the various departments.

The books include:
English
"Poetry: its Appreciation and Enjoyment" by Untermeyer, and "Chief Contemporary Dramatists" by Dickinson.

Journalism
"Journalistic Vocations" by Rogers, "History of Co-operative News-gathering in the United States" by Rosewater, "History of Services Rendered by the American Press" by Lewinson, "Law of Libel" by Sackett, "Copy" by Hoover, "Law of Newspapers" by Arthur, "Magazine Article" by Crawford, "Newspapers in Community Service" by Radder, "Writing Journalistic Features" by Reed, "Country Journalism" by Allen, "Journalists Manual of Printing" by Allen, and "Reference Guide to the Study of Public Opinion" by Childs.

History

Prof. R. X. Graham Speaks At High School

"Three Cents Will Hire You 10,000 Workers" was the subject of a speech given by Professor R. X. Graham in the New Wilmington high school, Thursday afternoon, September 27.

This talk was concerned with the fact that the services of approximately 10,000 persons are required in the manufacture, writing, and publication of the daily newspaper. It was the second in a series of addresses being presented during the weekly assembly program of the local public school. Professor Donald O. Cameron of the music department was the first speaker.

McGeorge Will Teach In East McKeesport

James McGeorge, a member of the class of '34 has received an appointment as teacher of Mathematics and General Science in the East McKeesport high school, it has been announced.

McGeorge will leave tomorrow for McKeesport where he will take up his teaching duties next week. Besides being an instructor, he will be in charge of boy's activities.

While in college McGeorge was a member of Kappa Phi Lambda, social fraternity, Phi Delta Epsilon, was active in Y.M.C.A. work, and was snapshot editor of the Argo.

Fraternity Pledging Set For October 24

Faculty Rules New Plan for Re-entrance

Brennan To Lecture On French Art

"French Painting" is the subject of a lecture by Professor Harold J. Brennan, to be given in the college chapel at 8 p. m., Wednesday, October 11.

The talk and slides will center around French painting of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, due to the fact that the beginnings of the modern school are found in this productive age. Cezanne, Van Gogh, and Seurat, who have exerted a keen influence on present day painters, will receive special prominence.

Although the lecture is intended primarily for students of French and art, all others will be welcome.

All-College Dance Tomorrow Features Tremore Band

Announcement of an all-college dance to be held tomorrow evening, at 8 p. m. in the college gym has been made by the social committee. The Tremore Club orchestra will provide music and a charge of 25c per couple or 10c a stag is to be made.

Concerning dances in the future, the committee has made the following plans. There will be five all-college dances this semester, before the beginning of the basketball season. Two of these, the first of which was held Sept. 22, and the Homecoming dance are to be free of charge. At two others, the one being held this Saturday and another later, admission charges of 25c a couple or 10c a stag will be made. The proceeds from these two dances will be used to give a fifth dance.

Those invited to chaperone tomorrow evening's dance are: Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Black, Dean and Mrs. Alex C. Burr and Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell.

Target Entertains All Freshmen Women

Target, senior women's honorary society, is entertaining women of the freshman class at a series of social events during this week and the next.

Freshmen have been divided into seven groups, each under the supervision of one member of Target, who strives to acquaint the girls with the purpose of the organization and requirements for membership. The Target advisor seeks also to discover the interests of the freshmen and to encourage them to try out for extra-curricular activities and to maintain high scholarship.

Mildred Ralston entertained her group at a tea at Dr. Hart's residence, and Pat Jones at an outing at the Jones cabin off the upper New Castle road. Lola Sewall gave a wicker roast, and Lillian Baird entertained at the Tavern. Charlotte Melhorn and Betty McCrory entertained their groups together with a "Toaster" at the Russell "Gazabo". Virgil Wettich will give a "Toffee" in the Hillside Kitchen.

Expenses of the entertaining will be paid from the Target treasury.

Y. M. Will Use Text Book

"Principles of Jesus", by Robert E. Spear, will be used as a basis of study this year by the Y. M. C. A.

While the main part of the work of the Y.M.C.A. will be taken from this text, they will occasionally have guest speakers.

Will Speak On Art

HAROLD J. BRENNAN

Professor Harold J. Brennan, head of the Art department, will speak in the college chapel, Wednesday, October 11, on French art.

Observe Campus Rules

There has been a tendency on the part of the students to disregard two of the college rulings during the last few weeks. These are in brief:

1. There shall be no smoking permitted upon the immediate campus surrounding the Main buildings.

2. Students should confine themselves to the concrete walks on college property to maintain the beauty of the campus.

The student body is urged to comply with these regulations, in order that the administration will not be forced to enact penalties upon violators.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Cordray Announces Opening Play Casts

Cast for the first series of three short plays which will be produced under the direction of the dramatics department, October 18 and 19, have been announced by Professor Cordray.

The cast for "The Man Who Thought of Everything", which will be directed by Helen McLaughry, includes: Jane Carlyle, Noreen Bont-rager, and Douglass Smiley. All of these students are taking part in Little Theatre productions for the first time.

"Wistful Waiting" is being directed by Jane Holland and the cast includes: Maxine Jacobs, Helen Towner, Eunice Dickson, Jean Ritter, Dorothy Tinker, Jane MacMillan, and Grace Kildare.

McCrea Hazlett will direct "Sham" and Florence Heintz, Melvin Moorhouse, and Clem Lausberg will play in it.

Players in "Sham" and "Wistful Waiting" are members of the class in dramatic production while the cast of "The Man who Thought of Everything" has been chosen from the group of fifty students who tried out for Little Theatre productions.

Band Will Play For Homecoming Program

Ed Shaffer, drum major, will lead the college band in their second public appearance scheduled for Homecoming Day, October 20.

The band, numbering 40 members, is under the direction of Professor Donald O. Cameron, and will parade in full uniform before the alumni.

Students Having Been Dropped Must Pass Examination

Important changes in the treatment of students dropped from school because of poor scholarship have been effected through recent faculty action, and will go into effect, February 2, 1935.

As the catalogue states, any freshman failing to earn at least nine credit hours, or any upper-classman failing to earn at least 10 credit hours and 10 honor points is not eligible for registration the following semester, but may, at the discretion of the Dean, Registrar, or President, be registered on probation. If this probation is not removed, the student is dropped.

Up to this point, no changes have been made, but the new plan continues from here. It involves the following points:

1. It is proposed that hereafter none be re-admitted to college, having been dropped for poor scholarship, unless they present evidence of ability to do, and of having done, academic work of high quality.

2. This evidence shall be the passing of a prescribed examination or examinations, set by the college, with at least a minimum, previously stated grade.

3. No student shall be re-admitted until at least one regular academic term (not a summer session) shall have intervened between the date of dropping and the date of readmission.

4. During this intervening period the applicant will be expected to prepare for the readmission examination by independent study, private tutoring or formal academic work at an approved institution.

5. The purpose of this plan is to emphasize quality of work, not quantity.

6. The exact work prescribed shall be specified by the Dean of the College after conference with the student, his major or other advisor and any other instructors, especially involved.

Frosh Regulations Remain In Effect

Freshman regulations will remain in effect until Thanksgiving, instead of ending tomorrow as previously planned, the Tribunal decided today.

Another court martial will be held at 7 p. m. tonight on the south terrace to try remaining offenders on the Tribunal's list.

New Library Should Include Many Features, Miss Ailman

"There is of course no such thing as an ideal library". With this qualifying statement, Miss Ailman, head librarian, discussed those features which she believes should be incorporated into the new Westminster library building.

"The most important thing is space," she declared. Adequate room should be provided for 40,000 to 60,000 volumes in reference, general reading, cataloging, seminar, and stack rooms.

Emphasizing the fact that so far all plans are tentative, Miss Ailman continued by recommending a fire-proof archive room in which valuable books might be stored, a display room for exhibits of art and printing, and a browsing room where students could become acquainted with those non-reference volumes which should be in every good collection.

"Class rooms, except for the use of the library staff, would be out of place," she said, but cited her talks to freshman groups as examples of

YW Program Planned For Coming Year

Programs for all the Y.W.C.A. meetings of the year have been planned by members of the YW cabinet. Study group sections alternated with outside speakers for variety, are part of the plans.

The first study series was on the subject of prayer. Next Wednesday, October 10, the Candle Light Initiation service will follow the annual banquet, in charge of Dorothy Young, Martha Hazlett and Lola Sewall.

On October 17, a new series will begin on "Parables of the Bible", and will continue for four meetings. Following this series there will be a special speaker on November 14. The Thanksgiving meeting on November 21 will be in charge of the Freshman Commission.

Before the Christmas holidays there will be two studies on the life of Christ, and the annual vesper service on the nineteenth.

After the holidays the group, led by visiting ministers will study "Doctrines". February and early March will be devoted to questions of a more personal nature which arise from Bible study.

Under the auspices of the Y W prayer groups are organized in each of the women's residences on Thursday evening.

Meetings of the organization will be held both at Browne Hall and Hillside; the first two of the month at Hillside, the last two at Browne Hall.

The annual Halloween party, one of the main social events of the year, will be held late in October.

Jean Semple is in charge of the membership campaign now under way.

The Cabinet hopes that, in having a definite program mapped out for the year, it can work more intelligently and accomplish much more.

Public School Music Seniors Doing Cadet Teaching In Volant

Twelve seniors, majoring in public school music, are now doing practice teaching in the Volant schools, under the supervision of Miss Ad-Pegbody.

The cadet music teachers will try a new plan of teaching twice a week throughout the year, replacing the old system of six weeks' practice work.

Those who are doing cadet teaching are: Charlotte Melhorne, Charlotte Keurner, Dorothy Patch, Sadie Mae Foltz, Margaret Weber, Marguerite Averill, Mary Patterson, Olive Pope, Edgar Shaffer, Betty Eaton, Mary Stanier, and Jane Gilmore.

Inter-fraternity Council Plans Rushing Rules

Interfraternity Council met Monday, October 1, for the purpose of formulating rushing rules.

The rushing period, which has already begun, shall end on the last day of freshmen rotation which is Tuesday the 21st, at midnight. Silent period will immediately follow and will end at midnight on Wednesday the 24th, during which time bids are to be handed in at college office.

The following rules were passed:

1. No promise or implied consent is to be extracted from Freshmen by fraternity men.

2. Only one meal is to be served gratis to freshmen men at any fraternity house.

3. No fraternity is permitted to keep freshmen for meals any longer than the set period of one week during the rotation period.

4. Each fraternity is allowed one smoker. Dates arranged for fraternity smokers are: Delta Phi Sigma, October 15; Phi Pi Phi, October 16; Kappa Phi Lambda, October 17; Epsilon Theta Pi, October 18; and Theta Upsilon Omega, October 19.

5. Fraternities may not ask freshmen to house parties. Parties for freshmen are stag.

6. Fraternity men may not take freshmen out of town during the last week of rushing.

7. No talking to or rushing of freshmen men is permitted during the silent period.

If any of the rushing rules are broken either in spirit or letter, the privilege of pledging any member of the class of '38 will be taken away from that fraternity.

Freshman Offenders Go Before Tribunal

Freshman court martial was held by the upperclass Tribunal, Tuesday evening, October 2, on the South Terrace.

Dale Galbreath, judge of the Tribunal, took charge of the meeting. Harry Dobkins acted as prosecuting attorney. Nelson Greer, president of Tribunal, was assisted by eight judges: Virginia Booth, Bruce Bower, Helen Drier, Kay Hittner, Florence Mariott, Mildred Renshaw, Ray Southern, and Jane Veazey.

Seventeen freshmen were brought before court attired in their regulations. Co-education and disregarding regulations were the most prevalent offenses, and the penalties inflicted upon those found guilty, ranged from the singing of the Westminster hymn to wearing a bird cage.

One-third of the offenders were tried and those remaining will be brought up at the next court martial.

Davis Announces New College Male Quartet

After several tryouts, Professor Alan B. Davis announces that the college male quartet will be composed of the following members: Clarence Brallier, first tenor; Charles Schmitt, second tenor; Richard Davis, first bass; and Robert Maxwell, second bass.

The quartet will perform under the direction of Professor Davis and will be accompanied by Cecil Bowles, pianist; and Paul McKnight, organist.

Unusual Minerals Added To Biology Collection

Mr. P. L. Forbes, of Stauffer, Oregon, has donated two samples of unusual minerals to the Biology department.

One is known as Iridescent Obsidian, a Pliocene lava rock of deep black color and glassy luster. The other is Opalites, which shows deposits in layers of pink and white.

These samples will be put on exhibition in the library.

No Smoking

Traditions Request Students Not To Smoke
On Westminster Campus

Students have again been requested to refrain from smoking on the campus.

If we look back upon the history of Westminster we find associated with the school many traditions. Among these traditions, which have been upheld throughout the years, we find one which has to do with smoking on the campus.
It has long been the custom at the school to refrain from smoking on that part of the college grounds known as the campus proper, which includes that rectangular property on which are situated the main building and the Science hall.

In recent years, however, it has been noted with regret by both graduates and undergraduates of the school that this custom, which has prevailed through so many years at the college, is being violated habitually by many students.

While we feel that the infringement of this "unwritten law" shows lack of loyalty and reverence to the college; we do not believe that the offenders do so in a malignant or disrespectful spirit—but rather do so unwittingly and unthinkingly.

No matter what attitude we assume, it is a matter which can easily be remedied, and one in which we can show our loyalty and respect to the traditions of Westminster.

Federal Student Aid

Government Appropriations Increased To Enable 100,000 Students To Receive Aid

Among the numerous relief projects of the Federal Government is one that has to do with college and university students. It aims to provide assistance for those who might otherwise be obliged to drop out for financial reasons. Through the relief projects, jobs are furnished in and about the institution for which the student is paid at the rate of from 10 to 20 dollars per month. The plan went into operation last February. Until the close of the school year about $5,000,000 were expended in 1,207 colleges and universities and some 70,000 students were able to remain in school.

For this next school year the government is increasing its appropriation. It has been set at $13,000,000 which means $1,500,000 per month as against a little more than $1,000,000 per month for the latter part of the year which closed in June. This will enable 100,000 students to receive aid this year. On the original basis the college was permitted to extend aid to 10 per cent of its enrolment. This percentage has been raised to 12. There has also been an enlargement of the kind of work allowed. Labor is no longer restricted to the campuses and internal affairs of the institution. Students may now be assigned work which is designed to increase the usefulness of the institution to the community. They may be used to teach illiteracy classes, to conduct public forums or to engage in any kind of effort tending to promote adult education.

Most people are agreed that too much paternalism is a demoralizing influence upon those toward whom it is exercised. Not many would assert that the government is going too far in this instance. Only a small portion of the youth of the country are being benefited and the best portion at that. Young men and women who have enough appreciation of things worth while to endure hardness to obtain them have character enough to stand a certain amount of paternalism without injury. Such youth are the ones for whom the institutions of higher learning are intended. From the standpoint of its own future the government is wise in looking after its youth, particularly after those who show themselves possessed of the stuff of which the most capable and reliable citizens are made.

Intercollegiate Notes

There are more than 20,000 chemists who hold memberships in the American Chemical Society.

New head coaches have taken office this fall at 27 football playing colleges in the eastern United States.

Some of the buildings which house the North American College (Rome, Italy) date back to 1604.

To prepare women of Chile for their newly acquired right to vote, the University of Chile has inaugurated courses in public affairs.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt attended and Columbia University law school.

The oldest Greek letter college fraternity in the United States is Phi Beta Kappa, which was founded in 1776.

Part-time jobs financed by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration will help 100,000 needy young men and women to this year finance their higher education.

Glenn Cunningham, famed University of Kansas (Lawrence) miler, will enter the University of California this fall, where he will assist Brutus Hamilton, California Coach. He will serve without pay so that he may preserve his amateur standing.

A total of 827 living chemists have had training in chemistry and chemical engineering at the Pennsylvania State College.

A school of social service designed primarily to train government relief workers was established at the University of Georgia (Athens) during the summer session.

Figures recently compiled by one of the leading insurance companies of the country in answer to the question "Does College Pay?" show that the average high school graduate goes to work when he is eighteen years old, reaches his maximum earning power of $2800 a year when he is fifty years old and during his entire life he will earn approximately $88,000. The college graduate does not go to work until he is 22 and reaches a maximum of $8,500 per year at the age of sixty. His total life earnings will be $180,000 or $92,000 more than the high school graduate—$23,000 for each of the four years spent in college.

A course in transportation being given for the first time this fall at Columbia University (New York City) deals with the physical and economic aspects of the port of New York.

John Wellington Finch, former dean of the school of mines, University of Utah, (Salt Lake City) has been appointed director of the United States Bureau of mines.

It has been estimated recently that there are still more than four million illiterates in America, despite the great efforts made to educate the people of the nation.

There are more than 20,000 chemists who hold memberships in the American Chemical Society.

A Master of Nursing degree has been created at Yale University (New Haven, Conn.) for graduates of that institution's school of nursing.

A tuition savings trust fund has been created by the alumni of Princeton University (Princeton, N. J.) which is designed to help satisfy the need for scholarship funds at that institution.

The chief surgeon of the ear, nose and throat department of the Civil and Military Hospital, Nice, France, Dr. Jacques Vialle, is now studying under Dr. Chevalier Jackson, of the Temple University, (Philadelphia, Pa.) faculty.

"we couldn't hear it until you were within a mile of the school." Another commuter remarked that they should put all of the commuter's cars to-of the whole lot. Laughing, they walked away to their classes. Clever

UP's-Rams, Yankee Stadium Tomorrow

Cleveland Streaks Swamp Westminster

Blue and White In Stiff Test

Still smarting under the lashing which the Blue and Gold riders of Cleveland administered to them last Friday night, the Westminster Titans entrained for New York City Thursday morning to open the season for Fordham University tomorrow at the Yankee Stadium.

Rams Tough

Since Labor Day morning, the Fordham squad has been going through strenuous drills, with Coach Jimmy Crowley carefully developing his squad of sixty candidates into three almost equally matched juggernaut elevens. "Sleepy" Crowley is faced with the problem of one of the most severe schedules in recent years and the loss of seven of his outstanding veterans. Although no longer will the triple threat Al Danowski tear away for touchdowns in the old maroon moleskins, three are still some twenty backfield candidates to choose from. The same may be applicable to Del Isola, star snapper-back of the 1933 Ram machine.

Rose Bowl Prospect

Since the beginning of school, the cry of the Fordham students has been "From Rose Hill to the Rose Bowl" and without a doubt the Bronx university has a great deal to be hopeful for. With the exception of the University of Pittsburgh, the Rams are undoubtedly the strongest contenders for Eastern honors. With reserve strength bounding and one of the mightiest lines in the east, the Catholic eleven will conclude such powers on its schedule as St. Mary's, Southern Methodist, Tennessee, N.Y.U., West Virginia and Purdue.

Much Depends On Opener

With such an outlook for the misnamed "Sleepy" Jim Crowley, it is small wonder that the whole Fordham campus eagerly awaits the Blue and White eleven of New Wilmington as the first test of a difficult schedule. While it is ridiculous to assume that the Titans can compare in any way with the Rams, it is worth while to note that Westminster has already completed two games of a difficult schedule and will be in a position to give a good exhibition of a stumbling block in the way of the Fordham streamrollers.

More Notre Dame

Once again the Titans are to be considerably annoyed by the deceptive maneuvering of the Rockne formation. The Fordham team featured this style of attack last year and is well drilled for this season. In addition to the Notre Dame shift, Coach Crowley has developed a deceptive shift for the guards which will no doubt be of additional effectiveness. Crowley has developed a backfield which is a model of well-balanced machinery. Although there are no outstanding stars on the team, there are at least three possible All-Americans wearing the crimson jerseys.

A Great Blocking Team

Always noted for his ability to produce excellent blocking at Michigan State, Crowley has carried this asset to the Bronx with the result that Fordham will feature crisp blocking in its smooth attack. Ralph Wolfendale, veteran guard, will be teamed with another veteran, Waldron, Julius Miskinis will be the logical replacement for the sensational Del Isola at center. There is tremendous power in both Alex Sabo and Amerino Sarno at the tackle posts. Ted Nitka, an accomplished terminal of Eastern honorable mention will be paired with Captain Les Borden at the wing positions. The backfield contains excellent material in Joe Maniaci, fullback, Steve Sarota and Tony Saransky, halfbacks and Andy Palau at quarter.

Squad Morale Good

The Titans left without displaying any tendencies to flunk with the prospects of enormous odds against them. The light Blue and White team realize that they are not expected to win, but only to display the spunk and spirit which charac-

W A A Plans Outing For October 9

As guests of Miss Nandeen Love, members of the W. A. A. will enjoy an outing Tuesday of next week, when, after a hike and outdoor meeting, they will cook their dinner in the woods. Miss Love has left the arrangements for the affair up to the newly-elected program and social chairmen, Jane Smiley and Jane McMillan, who announce that a very tempting menu and an interesting program have been planned.

Carroll Stops Titans 34-14

Last Friday night Bill and Tom Gilbane led their Westminster gridiron lads to Cleveland where they had to accept their first defeat of a long strenuous season. Performing under the lights against John Carroll University the Titans lost by the lopsided score of 34-14.

First Quarter Even

Co-captains Sweeney and Straw won the toss and elected to receive. Westminster then tried two plays at the line and kicked to Carroll's thirty-five. Carroll also played for breaks and kicked back. Throughout the quarter Westminster had one first down to Carroll's two.

Carroll Gets Break

Early in the second period with the Blue and White in possession of the ball Davy Mintz fumbled on Westminster's 27 yard line and McGinty recovered. Inspired by the break the Cleveland lads pushed through for a first down on the Titan eleven. On the next try the Blue and Gold clad boys went to the two yard line. The next try resulted in a touchdown. Guley converted and a rapid fire scoring session was on. The eleven from Westminster received but were forced to kick on the very first play. Artale ran right end for 54 yards, placing the ball on the one yard stripe. This time Guley's placement was wide.

Sweeney Turns in Long Run

Shortly after the second touchdown Carroll tried a long pass but diminutive Dutch Sweeney came in fast, took the pigskin, and was off like a streak for that last coveted stripe and a touchdown. Sweeney's run was successful after a clever reversing of his field and the 82 yard jaunt put added zest into the losing team. Jackie Laraway promptly converted from placement. But another touchdown was not to be denied the Carrollites as Breen snatched a pass from Artale in the end zone. Guley again missed the try for placement.

Both Teams Score

The second half had not progressed long before Artale again struck through right guard for 58 yards and a touchdown. The try for placement was good. Then the Wilmington team began touchdown maneuvers via the air route. A Sweeney to Laraway the last 10 yards for the stepped the last 10 yards for the second score. Laraway's try for placement again was good. Later in this same period Breen snatched another pass for a touchdown and the final six points. No scoring took place in the final period but Westminster added three first downs in an impressive march up the field.

Score Misleading

Although Westminster lost this game by a very impressive score they were not hopelessly outclassed. The total of first downs illustrated this, with Carroll having only four more than Westminster. Sweeney's run was the outstanding feature of the game receiving good blocking from his mates. Clark's line-blocking in the final quarter also impressed Westminster spectators. The Titans fought hard, but the blocking and line plays of the famous Notre Dame system outclassed the Westminster defense.

Theta Upsilon

Members of Theta Upsilon sorority and several upperclass women who are not members of a sorority were entertained at a tea given by Miss Florence White at her apartment on Wednesday, October 3.

Sigma Kappa

Members of Sigma Kappa sorority announce the pledging of Clara Brown. The pledging took place in the sorority suite Friday night September 28.

New Castle Alumnae held a tea for the active members in the suite recently.

Pearl McClimans and Betty Newell were visitors here last week.

Chi Omega

Jean Mankedick, Ruth Weller, and Jean Young, alumnae, were visitors at the sorority suite recently.

Kappa Delta

Plans have been made to have a luncheon at the Tavern on Homecoming Day, October 20. Kay Wagner and Virginia Rumbaugh are in charge of the arrangements.

Omicron Mu Gamma

Dorothy Patch has been elected Vice President of the sorority.

Members of Omicron Mu Gamma will pledge Olive Sanford Monday night, October 8.

Betta Phi Alpha

Members of Beta Phi Alpha will entertain their alumnae at a luncheon at Sunnycrest on Homecoming Day, October 20. Arrangements are being made by Nancy Johnston and Amelia Borah.

New College Trustee Is Elected To Board

Mr. John Eichenauer was elected trustee of Westminster college, to serve for a period of three years, at a meeting of the first Synod of the West held in the First United Presbyterian church of Northside, Pittsburgh last week.

Dr. R. F. Galbreath attended the meeting and made the report of Westminster, which is required by all its supporting synods.

Dr. Galbreath leaves next week for Bovina Center, N. Y., where he will report to the New York synod.

Faculty Rules New Plan For Re-entrance

7. The work prescribed shall never be in advance of that already attempted by the student in the course. Therefore the student is penalized at least a full term.

8. The work shall always be of a review, "make-up" or remedial nature so prescribed as to demonstrate the student's ability to do good work as well as to strengthen his foundation for further work.

9. It is intended that the amount of work required shall be approximately that of one-half term. It is expressly reserved to the Dean, in conference with aforementioned advisors, to specify the amount of work required.

10. The examinations shall be prepared by the instructors involved and shall be comparable to the usual term final.

11. A student thus readmitted shall be credited with any work thus made up.

12. A student thus readmitted shall be on probation for the immediately following term.

Under the old system, after the one semester during which the student could neither return to Westminster nor enroll for credit at any other school, he could file a petition asking that he be allowed to re-enter.

Such petitions were usually granted in spite of the fact that the student had more than likely merely idled the whole previous semester away. Records show that improvement, if any, was very slight. It was these discouraging facts that led the faculty to agree unanimously to adopt the new system.

Direct Little Theater Plays

JANE HOLLAND

HELEN McLAUGHRY

Helen McLaughry and Jane Holland will direct two of the plays which will be presented by the Little Theatre players, October 18 and 19. Miss McLaughry will direct "The Man Who Thought of Everything" while Miss Holland will direct "Wistful Waiting".

Jack Hulme Speaks On Fire Prevention

"Fire Prevention" was the subject discussed by Jack Hulme when he spoke to women students in the Hillside parlors last night.

At this meeting it was announced that a new fire-alarm system will be installed in Hillside and special fire drills and other precautionary measures will be taken to prevent all danger of fire.

During the meeting six girls were elected to serve as fire-captains for the year. Those elected were: Dorothy Isaho and Hazel Long who will serve on the first floor, Gladys Blaine and Helen Snyder who will represent the second floor, and Dorothy Biéber and Comfort Spelman who will take charge of the third floor. These representatives will meet with Jack Hulme and discuss methods and rules for efficient fire control.

Alumni Bulletin Will Be Mailed Next Week

The first issue of the alumni bulletin will be mailed to about 3,000 alumni the latter part of next week, according to Professor R. X. Graham, who has edited the publication.

The bulletin will be printed quarterly and as planned will be sent to those alumni who have paid their organization dues.

A picture of Old Main Memorial will form the cover page for the bulletin which will include 16 pages of alumni news, Births, deaths, and marriages of alumni, sports news, class note, and news of the campus will be contained in the bulletin.

Homecoming Planned For October 20

Plans have been completed for the annual Alumni Homecoming day at Westminster, to be celebrated this year on Saturday, October 20.

The program of events starts on Friday evening with a bonfire and pep rally on the athletic field at 7:15. Professor Donald O. Cameron will have the 40-piece college band on hand for the occasion. Edgar Schaffer, is student drum major of the band.

On Saturday a field hockey game on the upper campus between teams representing the senior and junior women will take place at 10:30. Luncheon will be served in Browne hall at 1 o'clock. The football game, with Thiel College as opponent, takes place at 2:30.

Following the football game there will be a reception and tea in Browne hall. A dinner will be served in Browne hall at 6 o'clock. At 7:15, three plays, directed by Professor A. T. Cordray, will be presented in the Little Theatre. These are: "Sham," "The Man Who Thought of Everything," and "Wistful Waiting."

Parties in Browne hall and in the Gymnasium will take place at 8:15. The five fraternities and seven sororities on the campus have all made plans for special luncheons and meetings of their alumni. Most of these are either at 11 or 12 o'clock in the morning or at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Westminster Sends Representatives To Educational Meeting

Dean Alex C. Burr, Dr. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. John D. Lawther, and Dr. H. E. Cooper were Westminster college representatives to the fall meeting of the Association of Liberal Arts colleges of Pennsylvania for the Advancement of Teaching, at Harrisburg, Tuesday, October 9.

"What are the basic principles on which a teachers preparation program should be built?" was the topic for the morning meeting. Dr. Weir C. Kettler, president of Grove City college, and Robert M. Steele, California State Teachers college, were speakers.

Luncheon addresses were given by James N. Rula, superintendent of Public Instruction in Pennsylvania, honorary chairman of the conference, and Will Grant Chambers, Dean of the school of education at Pennsylvania State college.

The afternoon discussion was concerned with "Adult Education", and was lead by W. D. Whitney, Director of Vocational Teachers Training at the University of Pittsburgh.

Committee reports and the election of officers concluded the meeting. Dr. Hinkle, Allegheny college was re-elected president of the association.

Sphinx Will Sponsor Dance On October 27

Members of the Pitt football squad will be guests of Sphinx, men's honorary activities fraternity, at a dance to be held Saturday night, October 27, following the Pitt-Westminster game.

Clarence Manor is general chairman, with Don Kellet in charge of the orchestra. Admission will be one dollar per couple.

Officers of Sphinx this year are: William Staples, president; and Hall Todd, secretary-treasurer. Other members are: Don Kellett, Tom Smith, Clarence Manor, Edgar Allshouse, and Maurice Michmerhuizen.

YPCU Will Meet

Sabbath evening at 6:30, the Y. P. C. U. will meet in the United Presbyterian church.

The subject for discussion will be "Is the Bible a Practical Guide Book for Everyday Living?" Eva Reid and James Ewalt will be the leaders in charge of the meeting.

'Army Traveling On Stomach' Has Nothing On College Students

"An army travels on its stomach," said Napoleon. College students do not study on their, unless they read in bed, but good meals, well prepared and served, go a long way towards making college life more enjoyable.

At Browne Hall and Hillside a total of 185 girls at a variety of carefully planned and balanced meals. Excellent service in the dining rooms, singing during the meals, frequent parties, and other features, provide an atmosphere that is often sought, but seldom found.

Miss Mary Dale, a graduate dietitian, with nine years experience in her chosen field, is in charge of the meals. She selects and buys all of the food, plans the meals and supervises the work in both dining room and kitchen. Twenty people at Browne Hall, and 18 at Hillside, including cooks, waiters, and dishwashers are required to prepare and serve the food.

Forty gallons of milk a day, and 150 pounds of butter a week are used in the dormitories. Modern, spotlessly clean equipment, experience, and first grade food is used to produce meals that make eating a pleasure.

International Arms And Munitions Will Be Debate Subject

"Resolved: that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions" was the question agreed upon for intercollegiate debates among members of the Pennsylvania Debating Society at its convention Saturday, October 6, in Harrisburg.

Twenty-three of the 30 member colleges were represented by 33 students and 23 faculty advisers. Nearby schools sending delegates included Allegheny, Grove City, and Washington, and Jefferson.

Each college was entitled to submit as many questions as desired. From these a committee chose the three best, which were in turn voted upon by the entire convention. The final choice fell to the question above, which is also the official question for Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary debating fraternity.

Professor A. J. Tener and Harold Griffith were the Westminster representatives.

Music Students Present Program For Sharon Club

Under the direction of Professor Alan B. Davis, a group of music students presented a program for the opening reception of the Sharon Music Club, Wednesday night at the Buhl Club, Sharon, Pa.

Those taking part in the program were: Lowenne Swindler, violinist; Lois McGill, pianist; Sadie Mae Foltz, pianist; Bernice Turner, soprano; Laura Ramsey, soprano; Charles Schmidt, tenor; Richard Davis, baritone; Robert Maxwell, bass.

'No Frosh Co-Education For Two Weeks' Read Regulations of Twelve Years Ago

By Avalon Le Monte

Pitched battles preceded the going into effect of freshman rules ten or fifteen years ago, according to the statements of several alumni. The sophomore class had the rules printed on large handbills and posted them about the campus on a certain night; the frosh had to remove every one of the placards before classes resumed the following morning, or obey the rules printed on them.

The results of this system were desperate struggles and near riots among the freshmen and sophomores. For this reason the custom was eliminated a few years ago, and now peace reigns on the campus.

Below is a reprint of the wording of one of the posters printed in 1922.

Will Durant To Open Lecture Course Series, In Chapel, October 24

Chapel Seats Assigned; Roll Will Be Taken

Attendance in every section of the room will be marked twice during each day's chapel exercises beginning next Monday, Dean Turner announced yesterday.

Seating assignments have been posted and each student is expected to attend chapel at least four days a week. If a student's place is vacant that student will be counted absent, whether he is in the chapel or not.

No notices will be given this year when overcuts have been taken; 1/2 of an hour credit will be deducted for each overcut, however, as in previous years.

The following students will take roll: senior section, Kay Lynch and Lola Sewall; junior section, Gladys Evans and Mildred Ralston; downstairs sections, Mary R. Morrow, Adele Hall, Jane Holland, and Margaret Eversole.

YWCA Initiates New Members At Candle Service

Y. W. C. A. held its candlelight initiation service in the college chapel Wednesday, October 10, at 5:30 p. m.

The initiation service was conducted by Mildred Ralston and during the ceremony, McClees Murray sang "The Green Cathedral," accompanied on the organ by Miss Dorothy Kirkbride.

Following the initiation, the members and new initiates adjourned to the dining hall in the United Presbyterian church, where dinner was served and after which a special program was presented, with Betty McCrory acting as toastmistress.

The program, arranged by Dorothy Young, consisted of the following numbers: Ruth Stewart, vocal solo; Dean Mary E. Turner, address on "The Worth and Meaning of the Y. W. on the Campus"; Mildred Ralston, discussion of plans for the year; Isora Mangus, reading; and Lillian Baird, vocal solo.

The new Dean of Women and the officers of the Slippery Rock Y. W. C. A. were guests of the Westminster association at this meeting.

Lecture Course Speaker

WILL DURANT

Will Durant, author, philosopher, and brilliant lecturer will speak in the College Chapel, Wednesday, October 24. The subject of his lecture will be "The Ten Greatest Thinkers".

Subject To Be, "The Ten Greatest Thinkers"

Will Durant, author, philosopher, and brilliant lecturer, the first speaker on this semester's lecture course, will talk Wednesday, October 24 in the College Chapel, on "The Ten Greatest Thinkers."

Dr. Durant has been Professor of Latin and French at Seton Hall College, and an instructor of Philosophy at Columbia University. While at Columbia he delivered a series of lectures at Labor Temple. These lectures were largely attended and such was the enthusiasm for them that a publisher asked him to put them in a book. This suggestion resulted in his first book, "The Story of Philosophy", which exceeded the sale of even the most popular fiction.

Others books followed: "Transition," the interesting story of his life; "Mansions of Philosophy," "Studies in Genius," and many others. He circled the globe twice to gather material for his monumental "Story of Civilization" the first volume of which is to be published soon, followed by four other volumes at five year intervals.

Dr. Durant has been touring the country for some years, lecturing before large and varied audiences. In the difficult season of 1932-33, Los Angeles and its environs gave him 18 engagements in 20 days. By demand of the public press he was brought back to Portland, Oregon, to repeat, within a week, an address from which 1000 had been turned away. He has filled Carnegie Hall to its capacity many times.

Among the lectures for which Dr. Durant is famous are: "The Roosevelt Revolution and the Counter-Revolution," "Is Our Civilization Dying?", "Is Progress Real?", "Must America Fight Japan?" and "The Wisdom of the East." Gifted with eloquence and wit, and referred to as the best-educated man in America, Dr. Durant approaches this lecture with the same wide background of education that has characterized his other lectures.

Women Outnumbered By Men According To Enrollment Data

Men students lead by a margin of five over women students enrolled in Westminster college this year. Out of a total enrollment of 679, men students predominate with 342 and women students are not far behind with 337.

Westminster was one of the six schools in the New York Times enrollment poll, which reported the largest total enrollment in the history of the school. Westminster's percentage increase, this year over last was 5.1 per cent.

Both the senior and freshman classes have more men than women, the ratio of the former being 62 to 54, and of the latter, 124 to 113. Of the special students, men lead 16 to 15.

There are 56 junior men and 63 women, and 83 sophomore men and 89 women. Of the four unclassified students, one is a man.

Entertain Lion's Club

The following students took part in an entertainment before the Lion's Club of New Castle, Tuesday noon: Ellwood Rushworth, violin; Robert Maxwell, bass; Richard Davis, baritone; Cecil Bowles, pianist.

Library

A Good Library Should Be A Collection Easily Accessible, Free From Distractions

A good university is merely a collection of good books, someone once said. When we analyze this, we find that the important word is "collection." The word suggests an orderly arrangement, a wise selection, a varied scope of books.

In order that any given number of books constitute a true collection, these books should be arranged in some definite system. More than this, they should be arranged so that they are easily accessible to all and, at the same time, protected from weather and temperature.

They should be kept apart, in a building exclusively for the housing of books. They should be located in such a building so that there is room for students and faculty members to get to the books and to read and study them.

The report of the library committee to the faculty of the college contains many good suggestions, but the best is that Westminster needs a library with no other rooms or features than library connected with the building. Long in need of a library building, it would be a foolish move to combine three or four other features with such a building.

Westminster students have often talked of the need of a library building. In fact, this need is the one which is felt most by faculty and students. The Holcad hopes, therefore, that officials in considering such a building, plan it exclusively for library purposes. A library is merely a study laboratory. It should have nothing else associated or connected with it which would make for distractions, noise, confusion. It should be set apart, a quiet place where study and reading and meditation might be possible away from the noise of office and classroom.

Event At Westminster

Fraternities have been discussing during the last few days, as a result of a move by the Interfraternity council the advisability of an Interfraternity ball.

It is of the opinion of the Holcad that an Inter-fraternity ball would be a good event to add to Westminster's social program. A dance of this kind would go far toward bringing the fraternities on the campus together and promoting a more friendly feeling between them.

The council is to be commended on introducing a dance of this kind at Westminster. An Inter-fraternity ball will undoubtedly be a permanent social event on the Westminster campus.

A delegation of 350 representatives of American universities will visit Rome, Italy, next year to aid in the inauguration of the New University City there.

New Book Contains Biographies Of 4,182 American Young Men

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

LOS ANGELES—Who are these young men, in whose hands at various times it has been said the future of America rests?

Where do they come from; what have they done; where are they going?

Out of the Southwest comes the answer, in a unique volume published here and titled "America's Young Men." The work is subtitled
"The official 'Who's Who among the Young Men of the Nation,' and in its 700 pages it contains the biographies of 4,182 American men under forty years of age, leading citizens from virtually every city and town of any size in the country.

It is the work of Durward Howes, one of the "young men", Los Angeles jeweler, and former president of The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. In his effort to keep the volume truly representative, he sent questionnaires to more than 10,000 young men; and from the 4,182 represented in the book, he has compiled a set of statistics both enlightening and amazing.

The conviction of a few years ago, for instance, that the greatest number of young men turned to bond-selling as an aid to living is blasted by the revelation that 525 of the young men listed in the Howes book are attorneys. This is the greatest single listing; although 954 are educators, this group is divided into a number of sub-groupings. There are twenty-nine college presidents in the list under forty years of age.
Some 249 in the other classification are presidents or chief executives of the organizations with which they are connected. There are 108 editors, 81 newspapermen, 96 publishers, three ex-governors, three attorney-generals, ten mayors, forty-nine jurists among them.

These young men show more hesitancy about stating their spiritual affiliation than they do their political affiliations; 1,122 did not state their religion; 717 did not state their party. The Presbyterian, the Episcopalian, and the Methodist churches, in the order named were designated by 594, 593 and 563 of the subjects. Congregational, Baptist, and Catholic churches claimed around half those numbers.

The Republicans win the registration over the Democrats, 1,355 to 1,048. There are forty-three Socialists and 385 miscellaneous, while 242 disclaim any party affiliation.

World War service is claimed by 1,478 of the men, and nearly half of them, 662, were officers. Eighty-two per cent of the young men represented are married; one-third of these have two children; one young man has seven.

New York State ranks first as both the birthplace and the residence of representatives in the volume. Illinois is second in each classification; Iowa is third as to birthplaces; California, third as to residence. One hundred and sixty-one of America's prominent young men were born outside of the United States; fifty reside outside.

America's young men can't agree whether golf is a sport or a hobby; 225 listed it as their hobby; 980, as their favorite sport. Perhaps the difference lies in the score-card. Pipes and public speaking, tinkering and maps are among the unusual hobbies named. Sports and recreations include camping, football, mountain climbing, reading, chess, ping pong, and badminton.

Holcadabra

Dear Anti-Punsters:

Several letters have been received by this column, protesting against the terrible puns in it the last few issues. We're sorry, they hurt us as much as they hurt you, but by sacrificing ourselves we hope that our readers, who now number about 25, (that being the number of people who have stopped speaking to us lately) will become so disgusted with puns that they'll form an anti-pun club, and eliminate the dread nabbit from our school life.

Hopun to hear from you later,
Holcadabra.

Add Frosh Remarks:

"Wasn't that terrible about the king of Yugoslavia being murdered?" remarked an upperclass girl.

"I should say it was," replied a freshman girl, "they interrupted a perfectly good world series broadcast to tell us about it."

Dear Sir:

I am a chemistry student; the other day someone asked me how to boil air. I couldn't tell them, and I have looked in all the text books for a method, but as yet haven't found out how to do it. Do you steam it? Please answer right away.

—Joan B.

Dear Miss B.:

One does not steam air to boil it.
You are thinking of plum pudding.
We cannot remember having heard of boiled air, but if you will mix the following ingredients together you will undoubtedly get air hot enough to boil:

One perfectly good afternoon.
One bridge table.
Two decks of bridge cards.

Pressbox Panorama

The Fordham game being safely passed, it has been brought to notice that some parties are quite concerned over the apparently frivolous attitude with which the squad now views the rout of the Yankee Stadium. The fact that the team is sufficiently able to realize the humor of the occasion is a blessing in itself. If the boys took to brooding over a defeat by as powerful an aggregation as the Rams, the outlook for the rest of the season would be gloomy. With only one game remaining on the schedule as a sure loss, the rest of the contests should provide an opportunity for the Titans to enact a little drama of revenge.

Another tale of the remarkable Joe Straw has wended its way from the Bronx to the campus and it is an usual a good one. It seems that Joe was carried back by three of the Fordham gridders and deposited in a section of the stadium that was composed almost entirely of mud. Joe made several tremendous efforts to arise from his soupy lair and each time slipped back in the mud. One bloodthirsty Ram then croaked his encouragement to a team mate saying, "That's the way, hit them so they can't get up!" By this time Joe has arisen to one knee and in his quiet voice than rang along the steel-gridded stands responded to his tormentor, "Stop that noise!"

Lou Franklin brings back the story that he had a defense all doped out for Fordham but the Gilbanes refused to utilize it. Franklin explained that the defense he would have used was one of his own inventions, the 6-12-6-2-1.

Of the two thousand rooms in the Hotel Pennsylvania, there are nineteen hundred and ninety-eight radios installed for the guests. Walt Young and Jim Bailey were lodged in one of the two radio-less rooms, much to their disgust.

Hal Kemp, that genial bandleader who was at one time a collegian himself, outdid himself to be obliging to the squad when they ate their meals at the Pennsylvania. He not only played every request that the fellows wanted to hear, but signed everything that was pushed before him including many napkins and menus.

At the Stadium, the Westminster squal used the dressing room of the Yankees for their headquarters. Bill Staples used the locker of that great man, Babe Ruth. There were several interested parties that observed the resemblance of Staples to the Babe, especially around the waistline.

Bim Strasberg was the only member of the squad to miss the train. Bim is still disgusted as he recalls that after he hastily boarded the midnight train he discovered that his ticket was good for the next sixteen days and the lassie from Providence was still at the Hotel McAlpin.

Tubby Harder received great ovations from the Fordham stands each time he came into the game. Tony Krulatz managed to almost get lost every time he went for a walk. The boys visited Radio City, also Minsky's.

One of the eminent satirists of the New York News referred to Westminster and their triple wingback offense as "the darling young men with their flying trapeze." Perhaps during December, the white-clad basketballers will prove to Mr. Kenny that trapeze artists are liable to be fatal to such spectators as will attend the C.O.N.Y. and St. John's circuses.

Sleepy Jim Crowley made his bid for a laugh when he announced to the New York reporters that he hoped that Westminster would at least show up for the game in order that ten thousand fans might not be disappointed. This may have the taste of sour grapes, but we sincerely hope that after the St. Mary's game in two weeks, Sleepy Jim will be sorry that the Gaels did not get lost somewhere in the Rocky Mountains.

Westminster Tackles Rangy Teachers Outfit Tomorrow

Playing their fourth game of a tough ten game schedule the Titan footballers tomorrow invade the Edinboro State Teachers' stronghold in an attempt to raise their percentage to .500.

After playing the last two games with teams out of the caliber of the Titans, namely John Carroll and Fordham, this fray should show more accurately the actual strength of the Gilbane outfit.

These eleven have not met on the gridiron since 1931 when Westminster drubbed the Teachers 13 to 0. The preceding year, 1930, the Titans outnosed Edinboro on the Erie countyites field 19 to 12. In view of the fact they have not met for two years it is impossible to compare them in that manner for the personnel of both teams has changed almost completely in that time.

Coach Socks Harrison of Edinboro always finds time each fall to turn out a strong team and according to authentic reports this year is no exception. Notwithstanding the fact that Harrison's proteges were defeated last week by California State Teachers' college they will be mighty tough to beat.

Those who scouted the California game say that the Edinboro men are light but make up for their lack of weight by being fast and shifty. It is said that their passing and punting is excellent and it is probable that the teachers will attack via the air.

Harrison has his men trained in the Pitt system of defense and they shoot their plays from a single and double wingback formation.

Despite the fact that the John Carroll and Fordham games were tough the Titans are in good condition. In addition to this the backfield will be strengthened by the return of Bob Arrowsmith, veteran of the ball carrying clan, who has been out for the past few weeks with a throat infection.

On the other hand it is only probable that Mintz and Laraway will be in the lineup. Both have tricky knees and Mintz has not been out for practice during the last week because of this injury. Only minor ailments or bruises mar the excellent condition of the other members of the squad.

The team leaves early Saturday morning for Edinboro.

Gilbanes Plan New Lineup For Tomorrow's Game

When the squad takes the field tomorrow at Edinboro, the probable quarterback will be Bob Arrowsmith, who has been out of competition to date due to a tonsil operation. This will change the backfield around with Staples at full, Laraway at blocking half, Sweeney at running half and the newly returned Arrowsmith at the masterminding post. Another change will see Bruce Franklin shifted from his center position to that of tackle. Helmick will play at the pivot post with Bob Scarborough at the opposite tackle position.

Cross Country Season Opens At Pitt Tomorrow

Meeting Pitt as their first opponent of the year the cross country squad will leave early tomorrow morning for Pittsburgh where they will run the Schenley Park course against the U. of P. harriers.

Westminster long distance men have failed to cross the finish line ahead of any of the Pitt runners in the annual meets of recent years. It can only be hoped that the feat may be accomplished tomorrow morning.

The Titan cross country squad is mostly composed of inexperienced men, there being only two veterans, Davis and Gerstner, reporting this fall. Other members of the team are Donald Garrett, Richard Joho, Willard George, Donald Schumacher, and Hans Holms.

These men, together with managers James Ramsey and Richard Nelson, Coach R. X. Graham, John Lawther, and Maurice Michenerhuizen, will make the trip tomorrow. They will be guests of the University of Pittsburgh at the Pitt-Southern California game in the afternoon.

Women's A. A. Enjoys Hike And Outdoor Supper

Members of the Women's Athletic Association enjoyed an unusual meeting and a real treat Tuesday afternoon—thanks to Miss Nandeen Love, W.A.A. sponsor. As her guests for an outdoor supper, the girls hiked to McLaughry's woods, where Jane McMillan, Comfort Spelman, and Martha and Mary Ellen Morrow directed the preparation of an excellent meal. Baked potatoes, hamburgs, tomatoes, coffee and candied apples (with second helpings encouraged) were on the menu which, until this time, Miss Love had refused to make known.

After eating and singing around the fire in real camp fashion, the girls answered to roll call of the regular meeting. Miss Love said a few words, commending the members on their willing co-operation and fine spirit shown in their work so far this year. ff ff ff

Former "Fired" Gridder Becomes Varsity Captain

For a college football player to change from one institution to another and make the grade is not a particularly rare occurrence, but when a player is dropped from the squad of one college and ultimately becomes captain of another college team, that is news—maybe it is history!

Such is the case of Al (Ghint) Andrews, former Westminster halfback. Andrews, who was in his second year of play at this college when he was cut from the squad prior to the Thiel game last season, immediately enrolled as a sophomore at Nassau college and became a member of the football squad there.

This season, "Ghint" has won a regular berth at fullback on the varsity and in addition to this, has become the captain of the Cestari-coached brigade. In the opening contest of the season, Captain Andrews led his team to a 12-0 victory over the New York State Aggies.

Andrews, who was handicapped by minor injuries during his second season here, was considered useless to the squad because his running and defensive work had slowed up his performance. From accounts of the opening game, Andrews had recovered all of the ability he once possessed as star halfback of the championship Lawther-coached Freeport, L. I. team of which, Lou Franklin and Walt Young were also members.

Edinboro Lineup

The probable Edinboro lineup: Peterson and Hastie at the ends; Holland and Leson, tackles; King and Mischler, guards; Bennardo, center. In the backfield Davies will be at quarter, Crowe and Wilkins at the half positions, and Namit at full.

Rams Outclass Gridders In Stadium Tilt

Last Saturday Westminster's "Titan" received a terrible butting from one Fordham "Ram" to the tune of 57-0. On the rain soaked gridiron of the Yankee Stadium the greatly outclassed Pennsylvania lads fought to hold the score as low as possible.

Fordham Backs Run Wild

The maroon clad boys from the metropolis lost little time in scoring, for in less than five minutes they had chalked up two touchdowns. The first of these scores came on a ten yard jaunt off tackle by Sarusky. Then several seconds later "Ted" Nitka, a possible "All-American" blocked a kick and Maniaci scooped in the loose ball and continued for thirty-five yards and the second touchdown. Harlow converted this touchdown and before Westminster could get settled Sarusky had added another six points on a 42 yard gallop. On powerful marches the Rams added another touchdown to bring the total score of 25-0 as the quarter ended.

Football Power to the Fore

In the second period Fordham's shock troops assumed the responsibility and responded with three more touchdowns. One of these substitutes, Bill Curran accounted for two of these excursions while Mulrey registered the other. Even the second team and part of the third proved too powerful for the relatively light New Wilmington.

Titans Hard Fighters

Entering a shortened second half on the short end of a 45-0 score the Titans fought hard and held the Crowley shock troops to two scores. On the offense the Titans were as the defense of the Crowleymen was as strong as their offense. Line plunges and power plays were useless against the hard charging Maroon line.

Practically No Passing

The aerial attack of both teams was held in store for the final minutes of play. Then in a last futile attempt to score Westminster took to the air. They tried a total of five passes and succeeded with two of them. Both of these were from Sweeney to Bailey and after the smoke cleared the ball rested on Fordham's 25 yard stripe but the whistle ended hostilities for the day. Outside of the aerial route Westminster had as much chance to score as a Communist would have in a Union Square riot.

Austen Saves Touchdown

In the early moments of the game the alertness of "Bunny" Austen robbed the fleet Maniaci of another touchdown. The Fordham speedster rounded left tackle broke into the open and seemed headed for the last stripe but Austen came up from behind and brought the halfback down. This checked what seemed a 72 yard run. This outstanding tackle proved to be the defense feature of the game.

The rain cut the attendance to 6,000, only one-fourth of the total expected.

No Frosh Dating Read Rules Of Twelve Years Ago

9. On Friday of next week each lowly green horn shall bedeck himself with bloomers, green ties, and middies acquired from his greenie. If said greenie does not exist burlap sacks will be found most convenient.

10. Never be without a lucifer to light some Superior's fag.

11. On Wednesday of next week in order to show your willingness to labor and thus your right to a future place in our midst, carry a brick or an equal weight of stone wherever your wandering footsteps may lead you.

TO YOU CUBICULARIAE

12. On Thursday of next week all anthrope vulgaris shall appear adorned in a necklace of safety pins worn conspicuously, and consisting of at least four dozen safety pins. Likewise on Thursday shall no fresh woman be seen walking on streets or sidewalks, but they shall modestly and discreetly betake themselves to curbstones, whereupon they shall maintain the most ladylike equilibrium; furthermore shall they keep off the front campus, using only the side and rear doors of Old Main. This rule holds from sunrise to sunset.

13. Each fresh woman shall freely and spontaneously volunteer to make the bed of one of her worthy Superiors, the sophomores, beginning Wednesday and lasting for one week.

14. On Friday of next week all fresh women shall appear from sunrise until sunset in a greenhorn's vest, light stockings, dark oxfords or slippers laced with green, and skirts wrong side out. All bobbed hair girls shall confine their locks in a hair net and all those whose tresses are not shorn shall wear same in becoming pigtales, three in number, tied with green.

15. On Wednesday of next week all fresh women shall wear hats becomingly draped with veils, said veils to consist of a towel; and they shall salute all sophomore fellows with a wash cloth which they shall wave violently with their right hands.

New Volumes On Order for Book Club Members

Miss Ailman announces that a number of new books are being ordered this year for the Book Club, an organization open to students, faculty, and town residents.

Dues, amounting to $1 per semester or $2 per year, supply the money for buying the new books, which are available, during the first year, only to members. After that they are placed in general circulation.

The following books have been ordered for the Book Club and will arrive in a few days: "Boy and Girl Tramps of America", Minehan; "Amaranth", E. A. Robinson; "Eskimo Year", George M. Sutton; "Desert Wife", Hilda Faunce; "So Red the Rose", Stark Young; "Robthorne Mystery", C. J. C. Street; and "Holy Deadlock", A. P. Herbert.

At present, the following books are on the shelf and are available to Book Club members: "Boris Godunov", Graham; "Marie Antoinette", Zweig; "Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas", Stein; "America as Americans See It", Ringel; "Normandy", Huddleston; "Journey of the Flame", Pierro Blanco; "Last Adam", Coyens; "Woods Colt", Williamson; "No Second Spring", Beith; "Shake Hands With the Devil", Conner; "Sea Wall", Strong; "Testament of Youth", Brittain; "Anthony Adverse", Allen; "Twenty Years A Growing", O'Sullivan.

Members of the Club have loaned the following novels for the use of the members: "Anne Boleyn", E. Barrington; "Down in the Valley", Freeman; "Best American Mystery Stories", Wells; "Long Remember", Kantor; "Sir Arthur Pinero's Plays", Fyfe; "Play Parade", Coward; "An Artistic Rodeo", Streeter; "Goodbye Mr. Chips", Hilton; "Backfire", Chase; "Crime Club Golden Book"; "Unfinished Cathedral", Stripling; "New Dealers", Unofficial Observer; "Red Bread", Hindus; "Shaw-Terry Letters"; "The Crusades", Lamb; "Fads and Fallacies in Present Day Education", Buchholz.

Westminster Grad Leads Sunday Night Chapel Services

Chapel services last Sunday night were led by the Reverend Donald McClure who talked to the student audience on missionary work in the London.

Reverend McClure graduated from Westminster college in 1928 after which time he taught in foreign fields and attended Theological Seminary. He and his wife, who was present with him at the chapel service have both done extensive work as missionaries in the Sudan, and are making plans to return this winter. Reverend McClure is at present filling the pulpit at Murrsville, Pennsylvania and has charge of the management of the missionaries at the conference that meets in New Wilmington every summer.

Book Stacks Moved To Give More Space

Periodicals and bound copies of newspapers contained in the library will be moved from their present place in the stacks to the Argo room on the third floor of the Science hall, according to Miss Ailman, librarian.

This change will give more room in the present overcrowded stack rooms and will group all periodical literature in one room. The great weight of the books in the stack room has caused the floor to sag; the moving of these books will relieve the strain on the building.

As moving these books will cause considerable confusion in the stacks of the library for about a week, Miss Ailman requests that student and faculty members wishing books from the stack room take them from the library in the morning.

Ray Hansen To Speak In Chapel
This Tuesday

R. Ray Hansen, lawyer, investigator, and international lecturer, appearing at the morning chapel service, Tuesday, October 23 under the sponsorship of the Lecture Course, will speak on his first hand experiences with gangland.

Attorney Hansen was satisfied to pursue his practice in law until he found himself in a bloody closet, a victim of gangland, his jaw broken by face and head battered with the butts of gangster's guns because he had dared to interfere with their control of an election.

Since then Mr. Hansen has been a militant crusader against gangland. He invaded the Chicago gangs, as an undercover investigator in an effort to get evidence which might aid in the conviction of his captors—and succeeded. Satisfied that the gang problem was not Chicago's alone, Mr. Hansen made contacts in the gangs of other cities, repeated his Chicago experience and gained first-hand information at the risk of his life, in order that the public might know the real threat and inside workings of organized crime. Recently he completed a tour in which he made a critical study of criminal justice in Canada and England.

He bears the distinction of having been honored officially by the Chicago bar association, an organization of 7,500 lawyers in the city of Chicago, for "patriotic and courageous services," the only citation of its kind in the history of the association.

He presents a great constructive message in answer to our crime problem. It is a thrilling story, with a powerful appeal for character education.

Book Store Will Sell Non-Fiction

Inaugurating a new policy whereby new books on various subjects will be carried on the shelves for students who wish to own such, the College Book Store has stocked with seven outstanding tomes of varied interest. Two of these books are reviewed on the editorial page in this issue.

This new policy makes it possible for students to see, feel, and look at the outstanding recent books in various fields, and makes available these books for any students who wish to purchase them for their libraries. The fact that such books are not available in any towns nearer than Pittsburgh and Cleveland makes this a distinct service to students.

Books which are now in the book store are: Numerical Mathematical Analysis, J. B. Carborough; A history of Biology, Nordenskiöld; The Anatomy of Science, G. N. Lewis; Adventures in Ideas, A. N. Whitehead; Legacy of Rome, Cyril Bailey, (editor); Psychology of Language Pillsbury and Meader; Companion to Shakespeare Studies, Granville Barker and Harrison.

Freshman Hazing
To Be Inter-Class
Debate Subject

"Resolved: That freshman hazing should be abolished at Westminster College." This question will be argued in a series of interclass debates to be sponsored by Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debate fraternity, the early part of November.

The first two debates will be held November 5 at eight P. M. when the freshmen will uphold the affirmative against the sophomores in the Little Theatre, and the seniors will take the negative against the juniors in Room 109. The winners of this first round will decide the school championship on the same question in chapel two weeks later.

The following rules will obtain:

1. Each team shall consist of two members, one man and one woman.
2. Judges for the first two debates will be members of the fraternity; for the final round, three members of the faculty will be asked to judge.
3. If the two winning teams were debating the same side, they shall draw lots to determine sides for the last round.
4. Each team shall provide a timekeeper.
5. Length of constructive speeches—eight minutes, rebuttals—four minutes.
6. No Tau Kappa Alpha member or member of the debate squad shall be eligible to compete.
7. After the final debate, the Student Council shall conduct a poll to determine the opinion of the student body on this question and that opinion shall be presented to the faculty as a formal recommendation by the students.

Melvin Moorhouse is president of the fraternity, other members are: Marjorie Scott, Pearl McConnell, Ann Kendlehart, Tom Rogers, Bruce Bower, Wayne Rush, Kenneth McCormack, and Harold Griffith. Mr. Tom Mansell is faculty adviser.

Hillside Too Quiet; Will Assume Air Of Gaiety

By Elizabeth Cone

"The quietest place I've been in for eight years", and with this quotation of Mrs. Beam, newly appointed House Director, there began a drive to make Hillside a popular place in its own right.

It's a well known fact that only the bravest of daters with pre-arranged dates enjoy its spacious lounge and music room from after dinner until study hours. Until this year men didn't just "drop in" to dance and enjoy themselves as they do nightly at Browne Hall. But why shouldn't they? Former freshmen women don't fade in a year or two. (Ask the steady daters).

Delving into the ancient history of Hillside, we find that it has always been located on a very steep hill, and has always had a very formal and suppressing air. Even when our grandmothers were hoop-skirting it up the hill, and asking for horse, and buggy permission, the lounge and music rooms were never overcrowded with congenial after-

Varied Homecoming Day Program Planned For Former Students

Luncheons, society reunions, a bonfire, dramatic productions, a dance and a party, and a football game will be included in the program for the large number of alumni who are expected back for Homecoming day tomorrow.

Planned, as always, on the basis of college tradition and development the program promises unusual entertainment and fellowship for all who hold the best interests of the college at heart.

Tonight at 7:15 a bonfire and pep rally will be held on the athletic field. To pep things up the 40 piece Westminster band will be on hand, in charge of Professor Donald O. Cameron.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 there will be a Senior-Junior women's field hockey game on the upper campus field.

At one p. m. a light luncheon will be served at Browne Hall for the Alumni. Following this, at 2:30 the Westminster Titans will battle with the Lutherans from Thiel College.

After the football game a reception and tea will take place at 4:30 at Browne Hall for alumni and students. At 6:00 a dinner will be served for alumni and friends at Browne Hall.

Beginning at 7:15 three one-act plays will be presented in the Little Theatre under the direction of Professor A. T. Cordray. The plays are "Sham", "The Man Who Thought Of Everything", and "Wistful Waiting".

At 8:15 a party will be given in Browne Hall and a dance at the gymnasium. The Traymour Club Orchestra will furnish the music. Chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Freeman and Dr. J. A. Swindler.

Since the date for Homecoming has been set for October, rather than late November, it is expected that many more alumni will return.

Hal Thomas To Play
For Sphinx Dance

Hal Thomas and his orchestra will play for the Sphinx dance, October 27, Don Kellett, chairman of the orchestra committee announces.

The dance is being held the evening of the Pitt-Westminster football game and members of the Pitt football team will be invited.

Clarence Manor, who is in charge of general arrangements, announces that tickets will go on sale next week at one dollar per couple.

Extra Hours Will Be Granted On Accomplishment

Extra hours in the future will be allowed only on the basis of superior academic accomplishments, according to recent faculty action. A normal load of 16 hours, physical education excluded, may not be exceeded unless the student has maintained an average of at least "2", with no grade of less than "2" in his major subject, during the preceding semester.

In cases of absolute necessity this regulation may be waived, but the exception is merely a temporary one to bridge over from the old to the new plan. It is also provided that students carrying extra hours shall receive credit toward graduation in only those courses in which their grade is "1" or better.

This new policy is an attempt to improve the quality of student work, even if it be at the expense of quantity, and to avoid the complications resulting from students who must take extra hours in order to have even a chance to graduate.

According to information obtained from office records, the important reasons for these complications were as follows:

1. Students postponed group requirements until in their senior year they are forced to take them as well as to complete a major.
  2. Students who should really have gone to summer school or taken an extra term expected to remedy the situation by carrying a load of extra hours.
  3. Students wished to be certified in too many separate branches.
- Evidence that this system will soon eliminate the senior who must take extra hours in order to graduate, is found in the fact that while only 26% of the seniors scholastically deserved the extra hours granted them, 57 per cent of the juniors did. Eighty-three per cent of the sophomores had satisfactory academic standing, and all the freshmen.

Silent Period To Begin Next Monday

Silent period for fraternity rushing begins Monday at mid-night instead of Tuesday as was originally planned, the Inter-fraternity council announces. Silent period will extend until Wednesday noon.

Tuesday at Chapel time fraternities must have bids made out and handed in to the College office. Freshman preferential cards will be handed to all freshmen who have received bids in chapel Tuesday. Freshmen must return all preferential cards to the college office by chapel time Wednesday and fraternities will receive a list of pledges Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

Professor Ben Euwema has been elected referee of rushing by the Inter-fraternity council.

Wins Teaching Post

Well-Known Artists
And Lecturers To Feature Programs

Well-known artists and lecturers are included on the Artist and Lecture courses at Westminster for the year, Professor Alan B. Davis and Miss Florence White, directors of the courses announce.

The Artist course will feature five numbers in addition to four recitals by Gordon Balch Nevin, well-known composer and organist who is a member of the Westminster faculty.

The Artist course numbers include: Robert Crawford, baritone soloist at Chautauqua and on radio and opera programs, Nov. 9; the Bachman Woodwind Ensemble, Feb. 8; Rebekah Crawford, contralto, Westminster graduate; C. Dorothy Kirkbride, pianist, also a Westminster graduate; and Eleanor Mentch Davis, accompanist, on Feb. 22; Joanne de Nault, contralto, and Margaret Hamilton, pianist, in joint recital, with Eleanor Mentch Davis, accompanist, on March 15; and Samuel Gardner, violinist, with Ora Witt, soprano, in joint recital on April 5.

Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will give organ recitals on Nov. 20, Dec. 18, Feb. 19, and March 5, complimentary to the Artist course.

Lecture course numbers include: Mr. Will Durrant, well-known philosopher and author, will speak on "The Ten Greatest Thinkers" on Oct. 24. Princess Der Ling, late of the Manchu court, will speak on "At the Manchu Court" on Nov. 15.

Dr. Emil Lengyel, lawyer, journalist, and author, will speak on "The New Deal in Europe" on Dec. 17. Capt. Carl von Hoffman, explorer, scientist, and ethnologist, will present an illustrated lecture on "Head-takers of Formosa" on Jan. 14.

Dr. Lothrop Stoddard, a leading authority on world affairs, will speak on "Europe, America, and Our Money" on Feb. 7. On March 19, Juanita Bauer will present an original program of mono-dramas.

Season and event tickets for these events have been announced for sale to the general public.

College Band Will March Tomorrow

One of the outstanding features of the Homecoming program tomorrow will be the appearance of the college band under the direction of Prof. Donald Cameron with Ed Shaffer acting as drum major.

This year the band has been increased to forty members with the formation shifting from a four man front, as was used last year, to a five man front which is used by larger bands.

Tomorrow afternoon will find the band marching on the gridiron before the game and during the half when they will have dress parade. Formation of the letter "T" and the letter "W" with the playing of both the Westminster and the Thiel songs will feature the dress parade.

Tonight the band will be on hand at the outdoor pep meeting at the athletic field. Following the pep meeting the band will lead a street parade around the campus with many of the students joining in the march.

Attend Fall Meeting Of Mathematic Association

Dr. H. L. Black, head of the department of mathematics, and Henry Lawton, student assistant in the mathematics department, attended a meeting of the Allegheny Mountain section of the mathematics Association of America, at Grove City, Saturday, October 13.

Robert Zimmerman, '31, now teacher of mathematics in the Swissvale high school, also attended the conference. Zimmerman is working for his Master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

Welcome Alumni

Although Westminster Has Changed, Alumni
Will Remember It As Home

It certainly is good to be back to the Westminster campus. Although it is changed in having a new "Old Main", an improved campus, a better athletic field, added faculty members, and a new student body, the old atmosphere of home still remains. This is the thought of many of the alumni as they return to Westminster for homecoming.

Yes, it is good to be back when you don't have to fire the furnace, shovel the snow, cut the wood, wash the car, and do all of the other things which you connect with home. But if you who are alumni were doing the firing and the shoveling you would probably find it different than when you were in school. Westminster's curriculum has undergone a change as well as the buildings and campus. New departments have been added. New courses have been added.
Rules of the college have been changed and new rules have been made. The level of scholarship has changed. Westminster is moving ahead with the rest of the world.

Congratulations are to be extended to you who are alumni for the help you have given in putting Westminster ahead.

It has been a habit for colleges and universities to depend upon alumni bodies for help in different undertakings. Westminster has been following out this custom and the institution is growing physically greater and intellectually more influential. The student's word to the alumni is, therefore, a word of praise and thanks.

General Reading

Book Store Is Farsighted In Placing Non-fiction Books On Sale For Students

The farsighted initiative on the part of the College Book Store in providing general reading books for sale to students cannot be overemphasized. The books are in no way either textbooks or reference books, but are reviews of various fields of thought.

Surely a student's souvenirs after four years of college should include (in addition to snapshots, football programs, pledge pins, fraternity initiation paddles, and text books) a few books which he can place in his library and reread again and again. So many new books appear each year that it is impossible to read even a fraction of those published in each field. It is possible and wise, however, to read and own one or two of the best, and the new Book Store policy makes this possible.

The cost of education per student has dropped as much as $150 per year at the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor).

Six Roosevelts matriculated at Harvard University (Cambridge, Mass.) this year.

Reviews of The Week

The book reviews in this column, which have been written by Professor Gilbert H. Taylor, head of the department of Ancient languages, are of two of the new non-fiction books on sale in the College Book Store.

The Legacy of Rome

Edited by Cyril Bailey, Oxford, 1923 and 1928, 12 mo., 512 pages.

This is a book of thirteen chapters on various departments of Roman civilization, the whole preceded by an introduction written by the Right Hon. H. H. Asquith, who was prime minister when the war broke out. The book is a typical specimen of Oxford book making. Merely as a specimen of English the work is well worth buying. The volume contains so much material that it is impossible to review the whole in any brief space. In particular we may mention the chapters on the conception of Empire, Communications and Commerce, Family and Social Life, Science, Building and Engineering, and Agriculture. Anyone who reads this book will have a clearer conception of the wealth of ancient Mediterranean civilization and of the influence of that civilization on succeeding centuries. An excellent book for the general reader as well as the classical student.

The Psychology of Language

By Walter B. Pillsbury and Clarence L.
Meador. Published by D. Appleton and Company, New York and London, 1928,
8 vo., 306 pages.

The point of view presented in this book is thoroughly up-to-date. Language is considered in a broad sense as resting on a physical, psychological, and social, or environmental, basis. The point is made that in the human body there is no specifically linguistic apparatus. Language is conceived of as a form of self-expression (in a way a mode of behavior) and at the same time a means of communication. Language, as thus conceived, is far more than speech. It is a group product and a social product. It is a concrete social and environmental affair and includes such things as the tone of the voice, the flash and movement of the eyes, the motion of the head, the turn of the neck, in short the general carriage of the entire body, and all of that in a concrete environment with other people. The language of the written page is thus regarded as a rather artificial abstraction. There is, however, no specifically linguistic apparatus; but, on the contrary, we find a coordination of different functions and parts of the body, things which had been previously developed for more immediately necessary and non-linguistic purposes. From this point of view it is possible to interpret matters as to say that language (and thought) is an incident and an accident in the evolutionary process, something that was never really intended, an epiphenomenon that grew gradually as a social convenience. That would be in accordance with the materialistic thought of thirty years ago, and the authors date back to that time, but they do not commit themselves to the interpretation.
Language is portrayed as resting primarily on the respiratory apparatus and the ear, but as being historically developed from several distinct sources, and the idea is stressed that, besides the full and well-rounded type of language, slight and partial types also have for countless ages been in regular use. The point of view presented is thus diametrically opposed to the traditional conception that language must necessarily consist of fully developed sentences which are expressions of complete thoughts. Ellipsis is short hand thought and a primitive trait.

The last chapter, by Meador, is especially good. Here Meador gives what is practically a treatment of the sentence and mental apperception from the standpoint of the Gestalt-psychology. Gestalt-psychology is an elaborated modern form of the old doctrine that we go from the whole to the parts. In a square with its diagonals we do not build the square when we see it, but we see it wholly and then may or may not notice detail. So the sentence and phrase method of teaching reading is better than the method of isolated words, and the best way to learn a foreign language is to learn phrases and entire sentences rather than separate words. Meador looks upon the sentence as a configuration or pattern on a ground expressed or implied. If it is raining and I say, "Rain," that is a very definite thought pattern, the situation gives the ground or setting and nothing more is necessary. The words, "Man overboard," and "No money, no goods", not only get the idea across, but they are clearer, more forceful, and more direct than anything else could be. They are complete sentences.

Meador is probably more modern than Pillsbury. This Platonic Gestalt-ism can be read into the whole book, which is very good.

Alumni Notes

Oscar Snertz, '23, who had the reputation, while in school of never buying shaving cream or toothpaste —always using his fraternity brother's—will not be welcome at the EataHunka Pie house on Homecom-

Alumni, the school may have changed since you were here, but probably you have too. Do not fail to mention the fact that the freshmen appear to be many years younger than they were when you were in school. They expect this of you.

Joe McFizzle, '02, will hold his annual session in the gym, Saturday, Flash! Deltis Roll Dice For Touchdowns.

If while passing the Delt house your ears should be assailed with such cries as, "Come on, Dice! Roll 'em bones!" and other sundry phrases, normally attributed to crap games,
don't get the wrong impression.
Not content with leading the field in intra-mural touch football, the Deltis have taken to indoor, intra-fraternity football. It is played with four dice, rolled onto a cardboard field. Members have their own teams, such as Pitt, Southern California, Fordham, etc. At the present Buck Jones is rolling 1,000 per cent, having won two games and lost none. Yea, team! We want a touchdown—we mean a rolldown.

Her name is Sugar, but why not call her Carbo, which is the short for carbohydrate?

Westminster Grad Dies

J. E. Nevin, of the class of '91, died Tuesday, Oct. 2. Mr. Nevin, a prominent business man of Western Pennsylvania, was active in religious affairs and was a leading Rotarian of the Pittsburgh club.

Titans Will Meet Thiel Tomorrow

Blue And White To Tackle Westminster Crushes Edinboro 20-0

Rugged Foemen In Lutherans

THIEL GIVEN SLIGHT EDGE

Encounter With Greenville Opponents Is District "Natural"; Only Westminster Thiel And Grove City Left In District Race

Featuring the annual 'Homecoming Day' program will be the invasion of Coach Jack Stoebor's Thiel College eleven. Stoebor brings a veteran grid machine to town Saturday, eager to avenge last season's setback. This battle is sure to cause added excitement due to its influences upon the Tri-State Conference standings.

Thiel Owns Impressive Record

The veteran Lutheran eleven amazed the football world in their opening tilt by upsetting Geneva to the tune of 12-7. They immediately followed that by handing Holbrook college a 38-0 trouncing. Although Thiel, by grace of their win over the Covenanters, enter the game as slight favorites, the Titans feel confident in winning. Westminster does not offer a perfect record but the two defeats were registered at the hands of far superior elevens. The Blue and White warriors in their wins over Slippery Rock and Edinboro showed favorable promises of being the best eleven Westminster has shown in three years.

Titans Lineup Shifted

Due to injuries and glaring weaknesses Lou Franklin, regular center for the past three years, has been shifted to a tackle position where it is felt he will strengthen the Westminster defense. Franklin's understudy, Duke Helmick has been offered stiff competition by the versatile "Bob" Scarbrough who has been showing up well in weekly scrimmages at the center position. Scar's favorable showing at the pivot post will likely gain him much action in the approaching tilt. Scar now has played every position for the Titans except quarterback.

Thiel Has Weight Advantage

Stoebor's Lutheran line averages about 184 to a Titan average of about 179. Thiel's forward wall will offer the Titan line an afternoon of stiff competition because they are fast and low chargers. The Thiel backfield will tip the beam on an average at about 164 while the Titan's backs average about 158. Westminster will probably use all of their eight available backs as Bill Gilbane has not yet found a combination which will click.

Titan Injured List Reduced

Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane hope to have all their injured players available for the contest with the possible exception of Couture. Davey Mintz and Jack Laraway who were injured in the Fordham game have returned in suitable condition to allow them to play against Thiel. Kusar, a freshman lineman, who was injured in scrimmage prior to the Fordham tilt also has resumed practice this week. Arrowsmith, who was used in the Edinboro game for the first time this season has rounded into fine condition and looms as the possible starter at quarterback, Saturday.

Thiel also has been hampered by injuries the most outstanding of these being the broken leg suffered by Ed Dudley. Dudley was a star guard but his place will be filled capably by John Gazetos, 190 pound senior guard from Butler.

Thiel Seeks Revenge

Thiel elevens have not been very successful against Westminster in the past and are seeking revenge. In 1931 Thiel had to accept a 22-0 trouncing and the next year they were waylaid, also on homecoming, by a 19-0 score. Then to make matters worse Westminster traveled to Greenville and beat them again by a score of 14-0 last year. This was one of Westminster's two wins last year, which added to Thiel's unpleasantness. Stoebor's veteran machine is composed mostly of seniors and this is to be their year. Thiel will be handicapped by the new system which Westminster has engaged in that they have never seen a triple wing back in action. The game will likely be hard fought and one score by either team will likely decide.

Large Crowd Expected

In an effort to make the annual homecoming day a bigger feature in the college program it has been shifted from a late date in November to this early date in October. This has been done to draw more alumni through favorable weather conditions. If the weather allows, tomorrow should find the Westminster stands packed to capacity with returning alumni and local fans who view this as the crucial game in the race for the Tri-State crown. The kick-off will be at 2:30.

Junior And Senior Women In Hockey Game Tomorrow

Coach Gilbane's football eleven may be the center of student and alumni attention Saturday afternoon, but Miss Love's fast stepping hockey elevens will claim the lime-light Saturday morning.

Ten-thirty o'clock will find the Junior and Senior hockey aggregation with shin-guards buckled, sticks in hand, ready for the opening bully. Pieces of sod may fly thick and fast when these perennial rivals cross sticks. The present senior team was the first group to play hockey at Westminster college, and have been defeating all other teams consistently for the past three years.

Led by Vergil Wettich at right inner position, the senior team will present a fast moving forward line. Mildred Ralston, at center halfback, can be counted upon to side-step and advance the ball in real "Staples" fashion, helping Lola Sewall defend the senior goal.

Virginia "Strassberg" Rumbaugh, end zone flash, will play left wing and captain the attacking junior team, which boasts a strong backfield and the desire to avenge their defeat of two years ago.

Probable Co-captains

AUSTEN

LARAWAY

Although it has not been confirmed by the Coaches Gilbane, it is highly probable that Jack Laraway and "Bunny" Austen will be the co-captains of the blue-clad Titans when the referee flips the coin tomorrow. Neither have acted in this capacity as yet this season and it is likely that their ability and brilliancy so far this season will earn them this distinction tomorrow. "Bunny" has been playing a bang-up game at end and Jackie Laraway is the blocking halfback with the educated toe.

Panther Harriers Crush Westminster Team 15-40

Westminster's cross country team lost their initial meet of the year last Saturday to the Pitt harriers, 40-15, over the four and a half mile Schenley Park course. Five Pitt men broke the tape together after running the route in 25:15.

Seven of the eight Titan trotters lost their bearings over the poorly marked course and were automatically disqualified for placement.

Two more meets are on the schedule for the runners, Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh on Nov. 9 and Muskingum at New Concord on Nov. 16.

Red Raiders Powerless Before Titan Attack

The much-abused Westminster football team turned the tables last Saturday and scored a decisive 20-0 victory over Edinboro State Teachers at the Edinboro home field. Displaying considerable power in the third quarter, the Titans hammered the light Teachers team at will and collected a total of twenty first downs, while the scarlet clad team of Edinboro fought gamely but futilely against the determined power of the Blue and White forward wall.

Clicks At Last

Westminster showed the few fans who braved the chilly gales from Lake Erie how the triple wing offense works for the first time last Saturday. With Staples, Sweeney and Arrowsmith gaining consistently, the team showed real form in the execution of sparkling reverses and cutbacks that tore the outweighed red team to pieces for the entire game.

Edinboro Fails To Threaten

The boys from the State Teachers' college, who term themselves the "Red Raiders", only once invaded the territory of the Blue and White. The result of a fumble, this intrusion was short-lived as the Westminster line swarmed over the bewildered teachers and soon punted far back into the Edinboro territory.

First Score in Second Period

For the first quarter, Westminster did nothing creditable in the way of scoring. Three times the Titans rushed the ball deep into Edinboro territory only to lose it by bad football. Two fumbles and an intercepted pass enabled Edinboro to punt out of danger these three times. About the middle of the second period, Ray Sweeney, on a cleverly executed cutback, ran from the Edinboro 45 yard line to the twenty yard stripe. One play after that,

Staples plunged through the center of the line to the twelve yard line. Sweeney ran around his right end for ten yards. On a line plunge, Staples scored. Arrowsmith passed to Bailey for the extra tally.

Third Quarter

The Titans opened up in the third quarter with brilliant running by Arrowsmith and Sweeney for long gains on reverses over tackle. In rapid succession Sweeney and Staples added touchdowns. Arrowsmith kicked one of two attempts over the crossbar for the final score of 20-0. At this point, Bill Gilbane inserted his second string players who remained until a few moments before the final whistle blew.

Line Play Good

The continued brilliant play of "Bunny" Austin made Edinboro look bad on their end runs. Walt Young and Burly ran perfect interference during the third quarter. This pair, which has been improving for the last month, are rapidly becoming adept at the guard posts and will be an important factor in the Thiel game next week.

Edinboro Tries Hard

The Red Raiders had no particular star in their midst. They were too outclassed to show any individual brilliance. Up to the final whistle they struggled against their heavier opponents and left the field beaten but undiscouraged. Holland and Crowe turned in good performances for Edinboro.

FERA Workers Aid State In Youth Survey

Nine of the Westminster student FERA workers are aiding the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction in making an inventory of on-coming youth in this state.

The study deals with 30,000 children widely distributed so as to represent fairly, the State as a whole both geographically and socially. The individuals to be studied constitute two groups: pupils who were in the sixth grade in public schools in 1926-27, and pupils in the same grade in 1928-29. Westminster students have been assigned these groups in New Castle borough, Lawrence County, Union township, and Shenango township.

Regarding a fair proportion of these pupils, information will be gathered along the following lines: identification of the individual, and his vocational and educational experiences and preferences; his school record; his social-economic background; his individual and social traits.

Centers for the work of gathering this data are organized in colleges and universities all over the State, Westminster, of course, being one of them. Each student is assigned a certain territory. He has access to all school records, and where these prove insufficient, he will avail himself of personal interviews and mail service in order to secure the desired information. The results thus obtained will be used in the State survey which is primarily concerned with improving higher education and making it more available.

Westminster students engaged in this survey work are: Martha Ihlen, Alice McCrory, Jeannette Powers, Eunice Dickson, Martha Yoltan, Lillian Oelslager, Jane Holland, Eva Reid, and Helen Simison.

Finals Required In All Courses

No students whatsoever will be excused from any final examination except by action of the dean in individual cases, according to recent faculty ruling which will be effective at the end of this semester.

Need for, and the desirability of departmental uniformity is one reason given for the change in the present system. Members of the faculty decided that it was neither wise nor fair to require final examinations in one department and not in another. Also, a properly designed examination is considered an educational instrument. It emphasizes the unity of the college course rather than its division into six-weeks bits.

The third argument is that the new plan will remedy carelessness in work, on the part of the student, and laxness in grading, on the part of the professor.

Students Contribute To Missionary Work

Westminster will contribute its share to the work of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald McClure, who plan, if sufficient funds can be raised for them, to return to the Sudan as United Presbyterian missionaries.

Rev. McClure is an alumnus of Westminster in the class of 1928. He taught, after graduation here, for three years in the Sudan, then studied at the Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary where he completed his theological course last May.

While it is an all-college program of faculty, students, and alumni, the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. are sponsoring the drive and conducted a chapel service on Monday October 15 to inaugurate it.

Representatives in each fraternity and sorority and in the non-fraternity groups will receive contributions from the student body, as well as the faculty, and staff representatives.

Y.W. Will Meet

Y.W.C.A. announces that the subject for discussion next Wednesday evening will be "Lost Parables." Dr. R. F. Galbreath will speak at this meeting.

Elliott House Girls Move For Benefit Of 'The Library Fund'

"For the library fund" may call forth applause when announced with a contribution list, but when announced to the girls in the Elliott house it has no particular appeal at the moment.

After six weeks of waiting while the fate of the Elliott house was debated, the twelve sophomores received the final ultimatum last week. So, "for the library" they moved—the girls to Browne Hall and Miss Dale to Hillside. Thursday saw a dozen slightly disillusioned girls making innumerable trips to the freshman dormitory via the hockey field. Interested men were pressed into service and could be found (with difficulty) struggling along the same path under stacks of hat boxes, tennis racquets, cushions, grips, make-up boxes, and coat hangers.

New Donations Received For Library Fund

In raising a fund for erecting a new library at Westminster, $6,923.48 has already been contributed. Of this amount $6,000 was raised by the college and $923.48 has been raised by the students.

Mr. J. S. Mack, of McKeesport, contributed $5,000 to the college fund last week and the remaining $1,000 was a bequest of the estate of the late James Warden, Mt. Pleasant.

Donors to the student fund are as follows: Miss Mary Goetz, $25; Target, $30; Neshannock Lodge, $40; Pan Hellenic Council, $90; Voluntary Admissions to All-College parties, $70.25; Women's Athletic Association, $25; Miscellaneous, $4.70; The Mermaid Club, $6.50; New Castle's Women's Club, $5.00; Mrs. Mary Coventry, $5; Student-managed picture shows, $2.27; Miss Evelyn Judson, $50; Browne Hall, $30; Women's Glee Club, $36.

Miss Peabody—Women's Glee club, $10; Freshmen Men and Women's cooperative lodges, $20.28; A. A. U. W., $15; Westminster College Faculty, $25.20; Miss Comfort Spelman, $10; Hillside Party, $50.56; Westminster College Band, $20.40; Interest, $1.70; Dramatic Production Class, $26.35; Harold J. ## Durant Offers Four Things For Students To Think About

By Isabel Scheetz

"One can talk about philosophy without getting into an argument, because so few people really make a study of it, but I can't say anything about the New Deal for that is common property of which the man on the street corner has just as good an opinion as I."

And with that statement, Will Durant answered the questions placed before him regarding the conditions in this country. He admires Pinchot, Roosevelt, and Mayor La Guardia of New York; predicts that Reed will be re-elected to the U. S. Senate over Joseph Guffey, Democratic nominee; and he has no use for Stalin of Russia and Mussolini of Italy, whom he thinks are so much alike that their differences could be passed through the eye of a needle.

Without attempting to offer solutions, he left the writer with something to think about. Classifying them as the "Four Things to Think About in the Middle of the Night", Dr. Durant asked what must we do about the present condition of so-

Dance Will Honor Football Players Tomorrow Night

Elaborate plans are under way to transform the gymnasium into a typical setting for football players and fans, who will dance to Hal Thomas' orchestra, Saturday evening from 8 to 11 p. m. following the Pitt-Westminster game.

Sphinx, men's honorary scholastic fraternity, is sponsoring the dance, and has invited the Pitt players to be guests of honor. The price of admission will be one dollar per couple.

Clarence Manor is in charge of arrangements for the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cordray, Mr. and Mrs. R. X. Graham, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lawther will act as chaperones.

New Plan Aims To Reduce Academic Load Automatically

Automatic reduction of schedules will be effected through a plan recently adopted by the college administration. It holds that any student who, in the immediately preceding semester has failed to maintain an average grade of "1", figured on the total number of hours carried, may be limited in any given term to a total academic load equal to one-half of the sum of the hours and honor points made in the preceding semester.

On the other hand, those students incapable of doing work of fair quality will find their academic load gradually reduced to the point where it is economically foolish for them to remain in school.

Extra hour charges will be refunded if the student maintains an average of "2.5" and receives no grade below "1" while he is carrying extra work. This proposal was made by the college business office and approved by the Board of Trustees. It is intended to encourage capable students to carry as heavy a schedule as they desire.

Freshmen Class Elects Reniers For President

Freshman class officers were elected, at a meeting of the class held after chapel yesterday morning.

Those elected are: Robert Reniers, president; McElroy Smith, vice president; and Alice McCrory, secretary. Melva Kepper and Lawrence Kauffman tied for treasurer. Another ballot will be taken to determine the winner.

Members of the student council supervised the election.

Forty Freshman Men Pledged To Fraternities

Chairman

CLARENCE MANOR

Clarence Manor, a senior, is chairman of the committee in charge of the Sphinx Football dance tomorrow night. Manor was editor of the Argo last year and is a member of the inter-fraternity council this year.

Only One-third Of Class Affiliate With Greek Organizations

Forty members of the freshman class at Westminster were pledged to four of the five fraternities on the campus at the conclusion of the annual rushing season.

Phi Pi Phi fraternity pledged: Wallace Byers, Wayne Christy, Delbert Denniston, Robert Henderson, Thomas Kirby, James Kirkpatrick, Charles Montgomery, Riley Patton, Robert Reniers, McElroy Smith, Kenneth Weber, Robert Weber, Thomas West, and Robert Manley.

Twelve pledges of Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity are: Paul Bennett, Roy Gibson, Frank Hazlett, Robert Jamison, Jennings Poole, Lorin Randall, Waldron Schruers, Howard White, James Wilkie, Heber Baldwin, James Marshall, and Ralph Clark.

Delta Phi Sigma fraternity pledged 12: Kenneth Andrew, Robert Birch, Lester Black, Richard Joho, William MacIvor, Edward Nakles, Morgan Rudich, Robert Rudolph, Robert Sowers, John Susko, Earl Wright, and William Yost.

Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity pledged: George Anderson, Eugene McCoin, and Robert Zahniser.

There are 124 freshmen men eligible for membership, so pledging this year, with a total of only 40, is but one third of the class. Freshmen who have not yet pledged to a fraternity still have the opportunity and can do so by signing their preferential cards and handing them in to the college office.

Theta Upsilon Omega has not officially pledged yet through a ruling of the inter-fraternity council. The T. U. O's will announce their list of pledges, November 3.

Grossfield Speaks On Zionist Movement

Rabbi A. J. Grossfield, instructor of Hebrew at Westminster, was guest speaker during the chapel service Wednesday, October 24.

He spoke on "The Zionist Movement" and pointed out that the Nazi movement has bound the Jews more closely together than any other modern event.

In addition to giving the background of Jewish ideals and customs, he stressed the importance of the race and language in modern society, and concluded his address by citing, the great part which Zionism is taking in breaking down national barriers.

Cast Chosen For First Long Play of Season

"The Enemy" by Channing Pollock will be produced November 21-24 inclusive as the first long play of the Little Theater season.

Mr. Cordray has announced the following cast: Jane Holland, Pauli; McCrea Hazlett, Carl; Virginia McCown, Mizzi; Avalon LeMonte, Fritz; Professor Walter Biberich, Professor Arnot; Thomas Kirby, Behrund; James Goodchild, Jan; and Comfort Spelman, Baruska.

The theme of "The Enemy", anti-war propaganda, is portrayed from the standpoint of the German allies during the World War, and provides refreshingly new scenes and ideas.

Accepts Position

Francis S. Sowersby, professor in the department of economics for the last two years, will take a position with Price, Waterhouse, one of the best known accounting firms in the country, the first of November. He will be located in West Virginia.

Adopt Proposals For Changes In Senior Classes

Changes in second semester senior work have been effected through the adoption of a proposal suggested by Dr. H. L. Black, Dr. H. E. Cooper, Dr. Ben Euwema, Dr. Charles Freeman, Professor John D. Lawther, Dr. B. E. Quick, Dr. E. B. Russell, Miss M. E. Stewart, Dr. J. A. Swindler, and Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor.

The new plan includes the following points:

1. Five hours academic credit toward graduation (instead of the former three) will be given for the required six weeks of practice teaching.
2. Seniors availing themselves of "conditional graduation" will be required to take practice teaching in summer school, providing they need not more than five hours credit and can meet all other requirements.
3. During the school year 1935-36 practice teaching will be offered throughout the year, two hours a day, three days a week for a total of five hours credit.
4. Next semester there will be two six-week periods of practice teaching during each of which one half of the teaching group will take practice teaching. All majors in any given department being assigned to the same period.
5. The method of handling second semester classes that are predominantly senior will be left to the discretion of department heads.
6. Eighth semester final grades will be counted in determining class rating and all academic hours.

Freshmen Commission Elected By YW Members

Freshman girls, who are members of Y.W.C.A., met in Browne Hall lounge Thursday, October 18, and elected the following girls as members of the freshman commission: Martha Yoltan, Jane Carson, Noreen Bontrager, Eunice Dickson, Mary Boyd, Isabel Meloy, Betty Greenough, Agnes Donaldson, Sally Hamilton, Margaret Sloan, Izora Mangus, and Alice McCrory.

Mary Boyd and Izora Mangus were chosen as chairman and secretary respectively.

The newly elected commission will be in charge of the Y. W. Halloween party to be held in Browne Hall, Tuesday, October 30.

Outstanding Lecture

Attracts More Than Usual Interest In Student Body And Faculty

In sharp contrast to the welter of passing fair or even poor lectures to which the collegian is generally subjected, the initial number on the Lecture Course was both surprising and stimulating. The appearance of Dr. Will Durant as the first speaker on the course went a long way toward creating interest in future programs.

Interest on the part of students, faculty, and the general public in the Durant address was unusual. The crowd which assembled was the largest that has been present at any major function in recent years. The satisfaction of those who heard the lecture was obvious.

If the Durant lecture is a sample of the type of thing which students may expect, then the student body is in for some extremely entertaining, cultural, interesting, and diverting evenings this winter.

All of which suggest that the daily chapel programs either dispense with speaking or concentrate only on outstanding speakers. Poor addresses in daily chapel will cool off any ardor students may have garnered for lectures if they are allowed to predominate.

A Worthy Cause

Westminster Students Have Opportunity To Aid
Missionary Work

Westminster has been privileged with a rare opportunity of service.

One of the many beloved members of its alumni in recent years, with his wife, stands ready to enter upon the task of being a minister of the gospel in the interesting and promising field of the Sudan, where the work of many United Presbyterian missionaries, many of them claiming as their Alma Mater Westminster, has been going on for nearly a century.

Reverend Donald McClure recently preached at a Sabbath evening chapel service, inspiring his audience with his profound enthusiasm for the glorious adventure of preaching and teaching in the Sudan.

Many of the greatest American educational institutions (not having, in many instances any church connection) have Christian missionary representatives in foreign lands. Due to the present financial conditions, the United Presbyterian church is unable to send and support Reverend and Mrs. McClure in their work.

Westminster students, alumni, and faculty members have a new chance to give service. We can, if we are willing, perform our part in sending our representatives to the Sudan.—G. Hall Todd.

An average of 38 football players are killed each season in the United States, while only 10 fatalities are recorded each year in Spain as a result of bull fights, despite the fact that the latter is rated as a more dangerous sport.

A Companion To Shakespeare Studies

By H. G. Barker and G. B. Harrison.
Published by the MacMillan Company.

As editors of "A Companion to Shakespeare studies", H. Granville-Barker and G. B. Harrison have blended scholarship with a lively interest in the actual theatre. Their compilation of fourteen essays by prominent British authorities reflects this dual interest. Beside treatment of conventional subjects such as the life, the sources, the texts, and the body of criticism, they have included such topics as music in the plays, national and social backgrounds, and the production of Shakespeare in the theatres of four centuries. The volume is readable, yet authoritative, escaping pedantry while demonstrating the modern status of Shakespearean scholarship.

The "Companion" is recommended to those who wish to acquire a background for the appreciation of Shakespeare with as little pain as possible. It is competent, stimulating and altogether agreeable.

Intercollegiate Notes

Honorary Fraternities A

Waste of Time And Money

Athens, Ohio—"A waste of time and money," is the epithet hurled at Phi Beta Kappa and other honorary fraternities on the Ohio University campus by editor John McLean and ex-editor Harry Waddell of the Green and White, official student publication.

McLean inaugurated the assault on the select societies with a scathing editorial two weeks ago. Officers of the leading honoraries took up the torch in their fraternities' defense, and McLean retaliated by recruiting the trenchant pen of ex-editor Waddell. And so the question as to what benefits the university has received and what advantages the individual man gains as a member of the honorary fraternities is being mooted with more than a little fervor.

Both McLean and Waddell are members of most of the leading honoraries.

Lack of Knowledge of English

Words Result of Many Failures

Athens, Ga.—Lack of knowledge of English words and their meanings is one of the most serious causes of student failures at the University of Georgia, it has been announced here by the department of psychology.

Freshmen of the University of Georgia were compared with the freshmen of many other colleges by means of psychological tests given the first year students. While in ability to use English the Georgia college beginners did not show up as well, they did better than those of other colleges in tests that required thought and judgment, such as in the arithmetic and artificial language tests.

Little Things of Life Are

Result of Most Annoyances

Los Angeles, Calif.—It's the "little things in life" that are most apt to get in one's hair and under one's skin if results of an experiment conducted recently by a psychology student at Los Angeles Junior College prove anything, for in a list of "annoyances" checked by a number of subjects, details such as earthquakes and torna-does were completely ignored.

In carrying out the experiment, lists of 10 annoyances were made by the subjects, and these
"pet peeves" were in turn compiled into complete lists to be marked as either extremely, moderately, or slightly annoying, not annoying at all, or a situation that has never been met.

Men agree that back seat driving is extremely annoying, but listening to baby talk is considered the worst possible annoyance. Loud girls, excess use of makeup, and bitten fingernails also bother men.

Uncleanliness annoys women most of all,
and quarrelsome people are next in line. Co-eds evidently do not like conceited people, as "people who know it all" and braggarts were high in percentage among the "peeves". College men should know that when they keep their "dates" waiting, they are aggravating them to the uttermost degree.

Editors Mail Bag

To the editor of the Holcad:

Although enough noise emanates from the junior section in chapel during chapel periods, lecturers invariably find it occupied by just such a lot of impolite, mental nincompops as filled it last Wednesday night.

As though it wasn't enough to whisper and giggle during the entirety of the superb address that was delivered, the balconyites tapped their feet, pounded on the backs of the seats, whistled, and exhaled sighs not unlike those given forth by a full grown hippopotamus, whose brain, we've heard tell, is about one half the size of a normal adult's.
Possibly there is some connection.

In fairness it must be said that not all the occupants of the balcony were noisy. There were a few unfortunate souls seated there who had actually come to listen to the lecture.
This fact had evidently escaped the attention of the many students who regard the words function and date as synonymous.

Why is it that so many people of college age and normal college intelligence forget all the rules of etiquette and chivalry when paired off with a member of the opposite sex at any function of a serious type?

Is it because their minds have not kept pace with their years, or have they never discovered that there are some people who really enjoy listening to a good lecture or recital?
Possibly Dr. Durant could have answered the question. He had plenty of examples to draw from.

As a remedy for this disgusting condition may we suggest that the lecture and artist's courses provide counter attractions to such functions as Wednesday night's. Such attractions to take the form of bean-bag or hop-sotch parties, or anything designed to meet the requirements of the juvenile mind.

Pressbox Panorama

When attempting to rate football teams, it is edifying and faintly humorous to notice how many methods are employed. In casual conversation, the "point" method is frequently used. For example, a fan might easily remark that Pitt was fourteen points better than Southern California due to the fact that they achieved an 20-6 victory over the Trojans. The reliability of this method is doubtful at its best and it varies tremendously according to which side of the schedule one starts to figure from. In attempting to rate Pitt and Westminster by points we could start first with Minnesota being twenty points better than Nevada, Nevada eight points better than St. Mary's St Mary's five points better than Fordham and Fordham fifty-seven points better than Westminster. This makes a total of ninety points superiority of Minnesota over Westminster, from which we subtract the five points of the Gopher's victory over the Panthers and we find Pitt with an eighty-five point superiority over the Titans. From another angle, we might start with Pitt's twenty point margin over W. & J., the President being six points better than Geneva, Thiel assuming an eight point edge over the Covenanters, and Westminster superior to the Lutherans by a single point. Once again adding and subtracting, the result shows Pitt, this time only thirty-three points ahead of the Titans. With a discrepancy of fifty-two points it seems hopeless to try and figure any comparison by this method. Perhaps if the two figures were averaged, it might equalize some off-and-on occasions, so we arrive at the final figure which states that Pitt is now fifty-nine points to the good. At any rate, we will all probably know the margin by this time tomorrow night.

The Thiel-Westminster Homecoming classic broke all records for attendance at the College Field, according to figures compiled by R. X. Graham. Never were there so many faces of alumni present in the stands as were seen Saturday. The Thiel delegation was over five hundred, this being a conservative estimate.

The sight of so many old "familiar" faces brings many anecdotes concerning athletes of the past to mind. There is a tale concerning "Shorty" Williams, one of the tallest Titans to ever haunt a basketball team. After a "faux pas" during practice one evening, Johnny Lawther stood before "Shorty" and after eyeing him from head to foot said soothingly, "Shorty, if you had any brains at all, you'd be a basketball player!" With no malice whatsoever, Shorty presently responded, "Wrong, if I had any brains at all, I wouldn't be here now."

Another of the basketeers of the glorious past was a lover of animals, dogs in particular. One evening he brought a hungry hound into the Browne Hall kitchen and attempted to allay the dog's pangs of hunger with a dish of string beans. With great disdain, the mutt thrust his nose into the dish and after several half hearted attempts signified his dislike of string beans. With resignation, the dog-loving court star replaced the dish upon the table and forgot about it. In a few minutes, a waiter dashed into the kitchen and shouted, "More beans." There being no more available dishes at hand, one of the cooks innocently placed the evil platter upon a tray and the waiter carried it out—to the Dean's table from whence it presently returned, empty.

For the first time in many moons, Johnny Lawther became violently excited at the Thiel game Saturday. The last recalled occasion was at the Case game last season. Consequently, Johnnie bellowed loud and frequently and swang from the side of the pressbox with the reckless abandon of a steeplejack. At any rate, Monday morning education classes were somewhat startled as a hoarse, frog-like voice in a somewhat diminished volume lectured pathetically on methods and motives. A really remarkable vocal hangover!

Ben Euvema is rapidly assuming the role of the pressbox Robert Browning. Absolutely the most genially optimistic person on the field is Ben, who encourages all within hearing

Gilbanemen Engage Pittsburgh Titans Whip Thiel In Grueling Contest

Looking ahead to four important grid games with colleges of its own class, Westminster will try to make a good showing against Pitt tomorrow at Taggart stadium, New Castle, and, at the same time, to avoid any possible injury. With the important Grove City battle carded for November 3, and with contests scheduled with Waynesburg, Muskingum, and Geneva on succeeding weekends, the Titans hope to come out of the Pitt encounter with all players in shape to do their best against small-college rivals.

Pitt Powerful

With victories over Wash-Jeff, West Virginia, and Southern California Pitt's Jungle Cats have already illustrated that they possess too much power for the small but scrappy Titans. Sutherland, a devoted pupil of the Warner system, will stress a single and double wing-back formation from which the famous Pitt interference will work. Although the great running halfbacks such as O'Dell, Sebastian and Reider have departed, Pitt still has a forward wall which ranks with the best in the country. To scamper through when the holes open, Pitt has such men as Weisenbaugh, Nick-sick, Shedlosky, and Randour.

Pitt Eastern Contender

Although Pitt has been beaten by Minnesota they are not out of the running for the championship of the East. Pitt has not lost a game to an Eastern opponent since 1928. It is true they are facing one of the most strenuous campaigns in years and plan to use the game with Westminster as a breather. With such All-American contenders on the team as Capt. "Doc" Hartwig and "Izzy" Weinstock in the lineup this game has to be placed along side the Fordham game as far as Westminster is concerned.

Panthers Have Array of Stars

Pitt's lineup is graced with an array of stars that any school might be proud to have. Calling signals for the Pittsburghers will be Munjas, a punter of great ability. Munjas will probably be relieved by McClure or Greene, both of whom are future stars. Weinstock is a fullback who is great defensively and offensively and balances that with an educated toe which kicks the extra points. Weisenbaugh, a sub fullback, can easily be called the fullback until he gets to the line of scrimmage but after that he is a halfback. Hartwig is a star guard who can pull out of the line and bring opposing tacklers down with ease. Flanking Hartwig at the other guard position is Ken Ormiston who played well against the Trojans. Harvey Rooker and Baxter look after the end duties while the tackle assignments are capably filled by Hoel, Detzel and Olenjiczak.

Second Teams To See Action

Although the first teams of both schools are likely to start it is likely neither team will play long. Pitt will use every man available due to the fact that this game will be valuable in strengthening their so-called weak reserves. Bill Gilbane with an important engagement with Grove City next week will likely rest his varsity as much as he can to enable all eleven to be in good physical condition for next week's game.

ATTENTION STUDENT FANS

Students attending the Pitt-Westminster Game at Taggart Field, New Castle, tomorrow will enter by the north gate and sit in Section II. Tickets will be honored at the North Gate and student season books will not have to be exchanged.

Westminster-Grove City Retain District Rating

Point After Touchdown Place Kick By Laraway Proves Winning Margin

Playing before a crowd estimated at nearly 3,000, the largest crowd in many years, the Westminster Titans last Saturday proved themselves one of the outstanding contenders for Tri-State honors by defeating the righteously highly touted Thiel Lutherans 7 to 6.

Contest Close

It was not until the final whistle blew that the outcome of the game was decided. The Lutherans, trailing in the last quarter by only one point, opened a passing attack which, had it been successful, would have spelled doom to the Titan hopes. Thiel's over-anxiety and Westminster's vigilance kept the Titans out in front.

Thiel Not Overrated

Favorites to win prior to the game Coach Stoebers proteges certainly proved to any doubting Thomases that bets on them could not go far wrong. They were strong, alert, aggressive, and well trained. Neither scouts nor rumors had over-rated them.

Three Years Straight

Thiel	Westminster
Ruehle	L. E. Austen
Casey	L. T. Franklin
George (C)	L. G. Barry
Seiberling	C. Helmick
Gazetos	R. G. Young (C)
Strimer	R. E. Strausberg
E. Snyder	Q. B. Arrowsmith
Stanford	R. H. Sweeney
Tomechko	L. H. Laraway
Clark	F. B. Staples (C)

Score by periods:
Westminster	0	0	7	0	7
Thiel	0	6	0	0	6

Touchdowns: E. Snyder, Bailey. Point after touchdown: Laraway. Substitutions: Westminster—Clark, Watt, Bailey, Krulatz, McIvor, Scarbrough. Thiel—Hess, Josephs, Edwards, Smith, Killner. Referee—Wm. C. Evans; Umpire—Dr. Andy Cutler; Head linesman—E. A. Stahl.

On the other hand it is equally certain that the Gilbane brothers have produced one of the best Westminster teams of recent years. The line held admirably in time of danger and the backfield displayed considerable power. Saturday they played good football and were alert enough to take the breaks and make them count.

Austen, Laraway Titan Stars

As far as it's possible to pick out individual stars, Austen and Laraway are the choice. Time after time Bunny Austen, Titan left end, came crashing through the Thiel line or slipping around end to make spectacular and powerful tackles.

Jack Laraway, Westminster ball carrier, also gave an excellent account of himself. Besides playing heads-up ball in the backfield it was he who kicked the ball between the goal posts for what turned out to be the winning point.

A Dangerous Panther!

"Izzy" Weinstock, one of the most ferocious of the Pittsburgh Panthers, who is also an almost certain All-American. Weinstock, who is the hard-plunging fullback of the Pittsburgh backfield is a great hand at backing up the line and hewing down would-be tacklers when running interference.

Staples To Head Newly Organized Block "W" Club

Westminster College is to again have a Varsity club!

That, at least, is the aim of the lettermen of the college who met in the gym last night and took a large step toward the organization of such a club.

A similar organization was in existence here until about three years ago when, probably due to lack of interest, it died. The object of this new organization is to gather the lettermen of the various major sports into one group and give them a voice in the athletic policy of the college.

At the meeting last night the following officers were elected: President, William Staples; Vice president, Ray Sweeney; Secretary, Don Helmick; Treasurer, Robert Grier. Representatives to the Athletic council, Henry Hunneke and Robert Arrowsmith. John D. Lawther and Jack Hulme are the faculty advisors.

Plans are being made to draw up a charter and Staples will appoint a committee to obtain a sample charter from a lettermen's club in one of the larger colleges or universities.

Varsity club will sponsor a dance to be held in the near future and Staples appointed Hunneke as chairman of the committee which includes Harvey Snyder, Robert Grier, Perry Klumph, Jack Willets, and Ray Elliott.

White dinks with a blue "W" will be worn by the members of the new club.

Kappa Delta

Margaret Sands and Betty Washabaugh will be visitors at the sorority suite this week end.

Libby Cone was given second degree initiation Tuesday evening, October 23.

Sigma Kappa

Mary Fleming, of Pittsburgh, will visit at the sorority suite this week end.

Gene Lynch, Kay McKay and Hazel McLaughlin were visitors at the suite last week end.

Mrs. Mary McConagha will be honored at a tea given by members of Sigma Kappa in the lounge at Hillside, Friday afternoon. Mrs. McConagha has been chosen as a patroness.

Ruth Johnson has been awarded the sorority scholarship cup for having the highest scholastic standing among the sophomore girls of the sorority.

Wilanna Lorimer has been appointed Triangle editor of the chapter.

Phi Pi Phi

Jack Strauss visited this week at the Phi Pi Phi house.

Twenty-five alumni spent Homecoming at the house.

Kappa Phi Lambda

Kappa Phi Lambda announces the pledging of Clifford Miller, a member of the sophomore class, at the house, Wednesday evening, October 24.

John Dagleman and Kenneth McClure will be visitors at the fraternity house this week-end.

Epsilon Theta Pi

Ten alumni of Epsilon Theta Pi returned for Homecoming this year.

To fulfill the vacancy of secretary left by the resignation of Glenn Mo-meyer, Camden Meek was elected. Ray Campbell was elected corresponding secretary.

WAA To Hold Festive Party on Hallowe'en

Corn husks and pumpkins will lend real atmosphere here to the W. A. A. room Wednesday of next week when its members will celebrate spook and goblin nite by holding an old-fashioned Hallowe'en party.

Lucille Nevin has planned the program which will find the girls pulling taffy, bobbing for apples, popping corn, and enjoying other games inspired by the Hallowe'en season.

By popular request the refreshments will include candied apples as served at the supper hike held by Miss Love a few weeks ago. Olive Pope is in charge of the refreshment committee, and Helen Simison will direct the decorating of the W.A.A. room. Festivities are scheduled to begin at 8:15 p. m.

Black List:

According to the latest reports from the Kitchens and dining rooms of both Browne Hall and Hillside the following girls should not be dated.

The girl who holds up her table an extra five minutes every meal.

The ravenous one who asks two and three helpings of everything.

The young lady who invariably drinks nine glasses of water.

The sweet young thing who plasters the underside of her plate with chewing gum.

The cute little coed who smears the rim of her drinking glass with lipstick.

distance with such gems as, "Well, only forty-five more yards and we'll have a touch-down."

We are trying to determine just what was in the mind of band director Don Cameron, when, as the blue-clad Titans came trotting out for the second half he led his merry musicians into the strains of "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." It is reported to us from valid sources that the estimable Mr. Baker, well known sage in matters of literature and history, was at one time one of the cleverest rugby artists that Oxford has ever produced.

Our hats are respectfully tilted to Ray "Dutch" Sweeney, who gave everything he had in Saturday's tilt until he could hardly stand on a badly damaged leg. In spite of his agony, "Dutch" repeatedly kicked some of the best punts we have ever seen spiral above the college field. When Ray was removed from the field he was so much in pain that field glasses could differentiate tears from sweat and dirt, yet Dutch went back in later to punt the Titans out of a few more bad spots.

A gray clad man with a sleuth-like demeanor and a notebook filled with scrawled diagrams and notes, was tremendously interested in antics of Buny Austen, Yap Young, and Jackie Laraway. It may have been Cliff Aultman of Geneva, or then again, it may not have been, who knows? Who cares?

Titans Trounce Thiel

Snyder Thiel's Best

Thiel's most valuable man and one of the best men on the field was quarter back Edgar Snyder. He gained plenty of ground and was instrumental in breaking up many Westminster plays. If it is true that Snyder was seriously injured in this game Thiel has indeed lost a good man.

Lutherans Score

It was Snyder who accounted for the first touchdown of the game early in the second quarter. As the frame started Thiel had possession of the ball on the Westminster 34 yard line. Clark then picked up 26 yards, bringing the ball to the Titan 8 yard strip. On the next play Snyder went around end for the touchdown. Clark failed to convert for the extra point.

Bailey Scores

With about three minutes of the third quarter behind them Westminster possessed the leather on the Thiel 10 yard line. Laraway faded back and threw a lateral to Bailey who crossed the goal line standing up. Laraway then proceeded to sew up the game by neatly kicking the extra counter.

Statistics

Thiel had a slight edge on first downs, garnering 10 to the Titan 8. Westminster averaged 38 yards per punt while Thiel averaged 35 per kick. The Titans, kicking off three times averaged 45 yards; the Lutherans, kicking off only twice, averaged 30 yards. The Titans completed four passes and intercepted two; Thiel completed two and intercepted one. The officials penalized Gilbane's boys 45 yards; Stoeber's men were set back 40 yards.

Locals Meet Pitt At New Castle

Large Crowd Expected

Although sure defeat for Westminster is being anticipated by the vast majority of fans a capacity crowd is expected because of Pitt's drawing ability. This will mark the first time that a major football team has appeared in New Castle and New Castle fans are expected to turn out well. Westminster officials are hoping that tomorrow's weather conditions are favorable to help offset the game's lack of color due to each team considering it as a breather. The kick-off will be at 2:30.

Hillside Coming To Life; Women Pay For College Party Being Held Tonight

The Woman Pays Tonight, We Hear—There'll Be A Crowd At Hillside, Dear!
—Rejected Poems.

Hillside is coming to life! Tonight's all-college party, at the Hillside, will open the new drive in making the women's dormitory the most popular place about town.

The party will begin at 8 p. m. and end—well, who cares anyhow, but just to put you wise the last bell will be rung and the taffy'll be all pulled at 11 o'clock.

Joe College will take it easy on the pocketbook at this affair. It will be "the woman who pays" at the rate of 50 cents each. Prominent men of the campus will be present to dance to the rhythm of Hal Thomas and his collegian orchestra. If you look closely in all the corners you might find "Doc" Dawson, the punster, telling some of those last year's puns to a group of unsuspecting coeds. Then you'll probably find "Wes" Bennett, the towering Titan, among those present. John Ruffalo, expert cow hand, will be there showing the latest the well-dressed collegian should wear.

Then you'll probably see: John Wilhelm, "Coe" Kennedy, Walt Shaw, Art Brownell, Walt Whiteside, Art Deichmiller, Glen Momeyer, Hall Todd, and all the Kelly house boys present.

Hallowe'en refreshments will be served and for those who do not care to dance, other entertainment will be provided.

Chem Exhibit Shows Crude Oil Refining

A display rack showing a typical refining process for Pennsylvania grade crude oil was received this week and will be used for instruction in chemistry, according to Dr. Charles Freeman, head of the chemistry department. The exhibit, which was furnished by the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association of Oil City, Pa., will become a permanent part of the school's displays depicting various industrial processes.

Included in the exhibit are small bottles containing samples of petroleum products from the raw crude to finished motor oil, gasoline, kerosene, and wax. A sketch of a typical refinery flow chart indicates the various points in the process at which the respective products are removed.

Judge McLaughrey To Speak Here Next Week

The Honorable James A. McLaughrey, judge of Mercer county courts and a graduate of Westminster in '84, will address the student body in the college chapel, Thursday evening, November 8.

Judge McLaughrey, who will speak here at the invitation of the educational committee of the American Association of University Women, has chosen for his subject, "Our Children and Their Use of Leisure Hours."

New Members Formally Taken Into Karux Club

Karux club met Thursday evening, November 1, in Dr. Orr's classroom. Dr. John Orr gave a talk in commemoration of the anniversary of Luther's translation of the Bible, after which the following new members were formally received into the club: Eugene Thompson, David Henderson, Thomas Hogg, Wayne Christy, and Kenneth Weber.

Regular Meeting Of YPCU

Y. P. C. U. will meet on Sabbath evening at 6:30 in the United Presbyterian church. "Why I Believe in Jesus Christ," will be the theme for discussion.

Many Alumni Have Gone On To Higher Education

According to a recent study of the classes graduated in the last ten years, 1924-1933, 300 of the total 813 graduated have pursued courses in higher education.

By far the greatest number of these alumni have enrolled at the University of Pittsburgh, 105 having done graduate work at this school.

Pittsburgh Theological Seminary has claimed the next greatest number of these students, 30 having represented Westminster at this institution.

Columbia university with 20 of the 300, Penn State with 15, Harvard university with 14, Princeton Theological seminary with 12, and the University of Pennsylvania with 11, are next in popularity with the group studied.

Other colleges and universities which have attracted a great number of alumni are Carnegie Tech, University of Michigan, Cornell, Jefferson Medical, Ohio State, Babson Institute and University of Iowa.

In a survey of occupations followed by these same classes, 66 different callings are represented.

Of the total 813 graduated, 267 have become teachers, 150 are now homemakers, 27 have become ministers, 19 are engaged in law, 2 are filling various business positions, ten are practicing medicine, and five are government employees.

In addition to these, 13 are still enrolled in theological seminaries, five in law schools, and seven in medical schools.

Artist Course Is To Open With Famous Singer

Robert Crawford, outstanding American baritone, composer, and conductor, will present the first recital on the Westminster artist course on Friday, November 9 at 8 o'clock in the college chapel. Professor Alan B. Davis announces.

Born in Alaska, educated at Princeton University, the Conservatoire Americain at Fountenbleau, and at the Juilliard Graduate Music School in New York, Mr. Crawford has an interesting career. At Princeton he organized the Princeton Conservatory of Music, became the leader of the Princeton Community chorus, started the Princeton University orchestra, and for seven years orchestrated and directed the music for the annual Triangle show.

He is now the conductor of the Newark symphony orchestra, musical director of the Newark Music Foundation, leader of the New York Bach singer's club, soloist at St. Thomas church in New York. Mr. Crawford has been a soloist with the New York Oratorio society, the Chautauqua Opera Association, and at various important festivals including the Bach choir at Bethlehem. He has had equal success over the radio, both as soloist and conductor.

Mr. Crawford owns his own plane and thinks nothing of commuting in it to his various engagements. He has been referred to as the "Flying Baritone" by newspaper critics. At the age of 32 he is considered one of America's outstanding baritone singers, despite the fact that much of his time is devoted to composing, directing, and organizing.

Professor Alan B. Davis, director of the Westminster Conservatory, in announcing Mr. Crawford's recital, stated that a continuance of the custom of a "dress circle" will find faculty members, students, and others in a special section on November 9. A reception will be held for Mr. Crawford following the recital.

Professors Speak At Industrial Conference

Professor William McKee, Dr. Homer E. Cooper, Mr. Ross Ellis and Mr. Edward Miller attended the Regional Industrial Conference of Foremen and Executives sponsored by the Western Reserve Association of Foremen's Clubs.

Two of the four conference divisions were conducted by the Westminster delegates. Professors McKee and Ellis discussed "What's Happening to Our Money," and Mr. Miller "Social Insurance, Why and How."

Discuss Predestination

Members of Y. M. C. A. met Wednesday evening, October 31 in the basement of the United Presbyterian church, and discussed the topic, Predestination. Hall Todd was the leader.

Women's Glee Club Will Sell Tickets

Members of the Women's Glee Club of Westminster College will sell tickets for the concert of John Charles Thomas, Metropolitan Opera Star, which will be held in New Castle at the Cathedral, November 22, 1934, 8:15 p. m. Further announcement will follow.

Freshman Class Includes Many Honor Students

Among the 212 freshmen at Westminster this year, 60 per cent of whom were in the upper two-fifths of their graduating classes, are 25 highest honor students.

Valedictorians in the frosh class include: George Anderson, Jean Heinrich, Florence Herbol, Grace Kildare, Irene Sabo, Mary Louise Schonhofen, George H. Stoner, Lowenne Swindler, and Olive Whitehead.

Salutatorians are: Kenneth Andrew, Heber Baldwin, Elizabeth Barrett, Grayce Bell, David Henderson, Burdean John, Vera McMichael, and Milford Stablein.

Third honor students include: Ardith Bitner, Noreen Bontrager, Pauline Brown, Jane Carson, Maybelle Jennings, Mildred Kerr, Isabel Meloy, and Jeannette Powers.

Elect New Officers

New officers of the House of Representatives were elected at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in chapel. They are as follows: Virginia Booth, president; Ruth Johnson, vice president; Betty Greenough, secretary; and Ailene Pleister, treasurer.

Origin Of Westminster Hymn Revealed; Written In 1900

Enthusiasm of a former Westminster professor for a book written by a Westminster graduate has uncovered an interesting story of the origin of our college hymn.

Morgan Barnes, professor of Greek and Latin here from 1899-1908, having recently read "The Lure of the Old Homestead" by C. G. Jordan, Westminster '91, stopped one day this summer at the old Jordan home to visit the original setting of the story. This home is now occupied by the family of Pearl McConnell, a junior in the college.

Mr. Barnes spoke of the Westminster hymn, telling Miss McConnell the story of its composition, and later wrote her full details. His letter said:

"It might not be without interest to you and possibly to your fellow

Elected President

VIRGINIA BOOTH

Virginia Booth, member of the Junior class, has been elected president of the House of Representatives, the women's governing organization.

Debate Tourney Will Be Opened On December 8

Men's debate tournament, sponsored by Professor A. J. Tener, will be held at Westminster college, Saturday, December 8. The question will be Resolved: That the nations should agree to prohibit the international shipment of arms and munitions.

Each school is to bring two teams of two men each, one affirmative and one negative. Eight debates will be scheduled for each college, and they will be judged by the debate coaches from the various schools.

The program will be as follows: 2:00, first round of debates; 3:15, second round; 4:30, third round; 6:00, informal dinner at the Tavern; and 7:15, last round of debates.

No winners will be determined, since the purpose of the tournament is to compare notes and start the season off with the proper spirit of friendliness and good fellowship.

Of the 12 teams invited, four, Pitt, Allegheny, Waynesburg, and Grove City, have already accepted.

Speaks At Lowellville

Dean Alex C. Burr spoke on the subject of "Leadership in Christian Education" at the Presbyterian church in Lowellville, Ohio, Sunday October 28. Monday, October 29 he addressed the local Rotary club regarding "What Is Science?"

Miss Jackson Will Be Guest Of College

Miss Florence Jackson, well-known authority on vocation, will be the guest of Westminster college Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, November 4, 5, and 6. For a number of years she has been associated with the personnel department of Wellesley college and has talked to women of 150 schools, colleges, and universities all over the country.

Miss Jackson is a member of the National Educational Association, the National Association of Dean of Women, the National Vocational Guidance association, the American College Personnel Association, the Personnel Research Federation, and the American Association of University Women.

Target members distributed mimeographed "aid sheets" in chapel last week, which included an outline of an occupation analysis and a list of library books bearing on the vocations open to women.

Although her headquarters will be at Hillside, Miss Jackson will take her meals at the different girls' dormitories on the campus. This arrangement will afford a better opportunity for becoming acquainted.

On Sunday, November 4, Miss Jackson will hold a special meeting with the Y.W.C.A. in the Hillside parlor. She will speak at the regular chapel service Sunday evening at 7:45 on the subject, "Factors that Make for Success."

YWCA Entertains Two Hundred Women With Gay Hallowe'en Party

Bobbing for apples and other games befitting the season entertained about 200 girls who were present at the Y. W. C. A. Hallowe'en party held Wednesday evening, October 31, in the Hillside parlors.

Orange and black crepe paper and pumpkins were used effectively to secure the typical Hallowe'en atmosphere. Fitting in with the seasonal scheme of things, pumpkin pie, cider, and apples were served.

Dean Mary E. Turner, Miss Mildred Ailman, and all the house mothers were invited as special guests.

The party was planned by the members of the freshman commission which consists of the following girls: Martha Yofon, Jane Catson, Mary Boyd, Izora Mangus, Margaret Sloan, Alice McCrory, Isabel Maloy, Eunice Dickson, Betty Greenough, Noreen Bontrager, and Agnes Donaldson.

Block W Plans Dance To Follow Geneva Game

Block "W" club will sponsor a dance, to be held Saturday evening, November 24, following the Geneva game.

Further plans are in progress and will be announced next week, according to Swede Hunneke, chairman of the dance committee. Other members of the committee include: Harvey Snyder, Robert Grier, Perry Klumph, Jack Willits, and Ray Elliott.

Quadrangle Meets

There will be an important meeting of Quadrangle next Monday evening at 7:00 in the commuter's room, Main Building. Officers for the coming year will be elected and important reorganization plans will be made.

All upperclass girls who are not members of social sororities are eligible to attend. The meeting will be over in time to avoid any conflict with Miss Jackson's vocational talk.

Football Spirit

Students Can Encourage Team By Cheering At Football Games

Westminster has a good band this year—a band that will outclass musical organizations of other schools the size of Westminster. From uniforms to marching and playing ability there is a new spirit. However, this alone cannot carry all the spirit needed to encourage the players in winning. Cheering plays an important part also.

Although both the Westminster and the Pitt bands braved the elements in attempting to put some life in the game by their playing there was little if any organized cheering. The team had very little backing from the stands.

Of course weather conditions before the game were not much to cheer about, but even the weather can not shoulder all the blame for not hearing a blue-white cheer once throughout the game.

Let it never be said that the Titans lost a home football game through lack of support by the Student Body.

Winter Sports

Hockey Should Be Added To Westminster's Sport Schedule

Now that the time of year has come when snow will cover the campus, many Westminster students will turn their attention to winter sports. Toboggans, and sleds will be brought from the cellar. Skates will be taken out of trunks and sharpened. Skis will make their appearance.

There is no organized outdoor winter sport at Westminster. At very little expense the College could add hockey to its list of sports. By freezing the football field, an excellent hockey field could be laid out. Hockey sticks could be procured at a small cost and of course players would furnish their own skates.

Many students are anxious to have hockey added to the sport schedule. Although intramural basketball helps to pass the long hours away during the winter, the large number of students competing in this sport takes away the chances of any one student's playing more than once a week.

More than 300 students representing 32 foreign countries are enrolled at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles).

Giovanni Martinelli, dramatic tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will appear at Duke University (Durham, N.C.) this year as part of its university artists series.

More students are registered for the commerce degree at the University of Georgia (Athens) than for any other undergraduate honor, a recent survey reveals.

Schools were established by law for the first time in the colony of Massachusetts.

Reviews of The Week

The book review in this column, was written by Professor J. G. Moorhead of the Physics department.

The Anatomy of Science

By Gilbert Newton Lewis, Professor of Physical Chemistry, University of California. Published by the Yale University Press.

This publication of one series of the Silliman lectures given at Yale University holds material of more than popular appeal. The author, in giving what he calls "a kind of cross section showing the inner structure of science", delights the reader with simple illustrations of the manner in which the concepts of science develop. In his presentation of these concepts he is constantly emphasizing the importance of the abstracting processes in scientific growth, "this process of abstracting or idealizing or refining the raw material of experience."

Professor Lewis begins with the oldest of the mathematical sciences, that of numbers. As he continues with such subjects as Space and Geometry, Time and Motion, Light and the Quantum, there is ever present a human, even a humorous style, which makes the discussions decidedly enjoyable. This does not detract from the technical accuracy. His allegory of the South Sea Islanders, finding the shortest distance between two points, illustrates this. He includes many such charming stories and parables.

Since the book was published in 1926, it is not surprising that science has advanced beyond some of the ideas which the author expresses. For example, the conflict between the wave and quantum theories discussed in the chapter entitled Light and Quantum, has been largely reconciled by the more recent wave mechanics.

The latter part of the book is an interesting treatment of non-mathematical sciences.

Intercollegiate Notes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Machine Makes Quick Collection And Tabulation of Votes Possible

New York City—The quick collection and tabulation of votes will be made possible in the future by the use of the "televotes," and apparatus for electrical voting, its inventor, Dr. Nevil M. Hopkins, former lecturer at New York University, claimed here in demonstrating his new device.

The apparatus devised by Dr. Hopkins is so arranged as to make voting entirely secret, as well as permitting of voting by large audiences simultaneously. He even envisions large audiences, in theaters and other gathering places, voting at one time on some national question. The results would be tabulated by some central agency set up for that purpose.

Each person in the audience would be equipped with a small push button with which he would record his vote. This button will be connected to a resistance circuit, and the total resistance offered would give the percentage of votes registered for or against the question.

U. of Wisconsin Will 'Weed Out' Courses in Revising Curriculum

Madison, Wisconsin—Courses offered by the University of Wisconsin will be given a thorough "going over" by a faculty committee recently appointed to weed out those parts of the curriculum that are unworthy of being offered to university students.

The purpose of the committee is "to discover and then to discontinue thin, over-specialized, and unessential courses." The committee is not acting upon the suggestions of the student petition presented to the faculty last spring, but upon the findings of the university committee of 1933. At their suggestion, the committee on courses was formed.

The members will be elected annually at the beginning of the academic year by their representative faculties. There will be eight members of the committee, two from the College of Letters and Sciences, and one from each of the remaining six colleges and schools of the university.

The University of Michigan (Ann Arbor) and the University of California (Berkeley) will meet in an inter-sectional track meet next spring. This will be the first time in seven years that the latter institution has gone outside of its own league for track contests.

Holcadabra

Attention, Ye Publicity Hounds!

A golden opportunity to gain some free publicity of a lasting nature, will offer itself the first of next week.

Perry Klumph, one of the Press Shop proprietors, will furnish paint and brushes to students or faculty members who wish to paint their names on Klumph's Model T Ford.

The cowl will be reserved for faculty member's names; the hood for senior's, the doors, (two of them) for junior's, the back and sides for sophomore's and the fenders for the freshmen's.

STOCK MARKET REPORT

Six Weeks Report

The market opened with all stocks at par (100) September 14, 1934. Since then some shares have shown excessive fluctuations. The six weeks report shows a steady gain on the part of the more popular shares.

Name	Value
National Nightwork	62
Titanic Term Paper, Inc.	21
Colossal Chapel Cuts Corp.	00
Delightful Dates; class AA	256
Class Cuts and Company	45c

There are five rumors we have heard about as to why the girls moved out of the Elliott house.

1. They had too many dates, being so centrally located.

2. They didn't get enough exercise walking to and from classes.

3. The big rats in the house drove all the nice little mice away.

4. They are going to build the library where the Elliott house is now. Work will start tomorrow.

5. They are going to build the library in the swimming pool. Work will start in 1976.

They have vocational guidance talks for women, do they not? Then why not have vocational guidance talks for men? Then maybe we'd know what to do while in college.

If a tree falls and on one hears the crash there is no sound. If a person is in a woods and cannot find his home it is he that is lost, not his home. If sixty people walking around in a snow storm cannot find what they are hunting for, they are lost, not the person they are seeking. Therefore the chicken came before the egg and straw shows which way the nose blows and maybe we're all lost.

Other people make guesses, so why can't we? We guess that the score tomorrow will be 13-7 in favor of Westminster.

Anyone can make such a guess. It's easy. Merely find the number of stamps used in the News bureau for one day and multiply that number by the number of girls who ask for two glasses of milk on Wednesdays. Strain the result off through a long distance telephone and subtract from it the total number of moles on the left arms of the first eleven men on the football team. The answer will be 13-7 in favor of Westminster.

Chafing under the dictates of NRA tyranny, the Phi Pi's have cast the code of fair competition to the winds and are now proceeding to form a dog monopoly.

Buckshot
Some of the boys wandered over to Grove City the other night and finished a little paint job that they started last year. . . Naturally we can expect a visit on their part. . . Last year our patrols were of no avail. . . A Westminster deed dated a Grove City college man to the pep meeting where the patrol assignments were handed out. . . He tipped off his friends and they came into town when our last patrol had gone home to bed. . . Let's have no bungling this year.

Men are guests of the college women tonight. . . The woman pays. . . No Dates! That's nice, and of course no one will think of going near their "steady-half." We detect Miss Beam's hand in this delightful innovation.

The honorary sorority that had charge of the chapel program the other day failed to take credit for the founding of Westminster college, the signing of the Versailles treaty, the building of the Brooklyn bridge, the sinking of the Titanic, and the defeat of Pitt's football team by Westminster in 1945. Really, young ladies, such modesty does not become you.

Closing Thought:
Beat Grove City!

Editors Mail Bag

To the editor of the Holcad:

Well Mr. Writer to the editor of the Holcad of last week, I don't blame you for complaining about the noise in the junior section of the chapel on the night of Dr. Will Durant's lecture. I heartily agree with you the noise was very annoying, uncourteous, and childish, but why blame all of us? I was in the junior section that evening and knowing full well what happened I can't stand by and take a slap in the face like yours turned out to be.

Although the junior section was full on the before stated evening all of those present were not responsible for the conglomeration of noises which were heard all over the chapel. In fact the real instigators of most of the noise happened to be limited in number to about five rather irresponsible individuals. The rest of we unfortunates in the junior section were the real sufferers, because we not only had to put up with the shameful funmakers, but also had to miss the best parts of the lecture.

After all Dr. Will Durant doesn't come to Westminster every week to talk and I am sure that my fellow sufferers in the much talked of section join me in the statement that a very keen disappointment was felt by all of us at the misfortune of not being able to hear Dr. Durant because of the conduct of an impolite few.

Sincerely,

A STUDENT

Westminster Tackles Grove City Tomorrow In Grid Season Classic

Titans Out To Avenge Setback Of Last Season

WESTMINSTER SQUAD IN GOOD SHAPE

Verne Smith, Brilliant Fullback Of The Crimson Recovered From Injuries; Locals Plan To Use Hard Running Attack

With freshmen patrolling the campus against a probable Grove City raid and enthusiasm rising high at Westminster the Titans are awaiting the whistle which will throw them at the throats of the Crimson footballers tomorrow in a battle of tradition before a large Grove City homecoming crowd.

For years this game has been the highlight on the schedules of both Grove City and Westminster. It makes no difference whether the teams are weak or strong, for when this day rolls around both are keyed up to a point when anything can happen—and does.

No one can possibly predict the outcome of tomorrow's game with any degree of safety for Grove City is still stinging under the surprise defeat which Allegheny handed them last week and the Titans can't forget that the Grovers whipped them at New Castle 12 to 0 last year. It's quite liable to be a knock-em-down drag-em-out affair.

Game Has Effect On District Rating

District fans have their eyes glued on this tilt for it has a great bearing on district rating. Gilbane and Amos have produced strong teams and as far as the once flourishing but now mythical Tri-state conference is concerned both teams are on a par. Grove City, however, must be considered as a greater scoring threat because they defeated Slippery Rock 18 to 0 while Westminster was only able to nose them out 7 to 0. The Rockets also trimmed Bethany 30 to 0 while the Titans were eking out a 7 to 6 victory over Thiel.

The thing which tends to give the Gilbanemen an edge over the neighboring school is the fact that Allegheny, considered the weakest team in the district, took them over last week.

During the past five years the Crimson have won three of the tilts, amassing a total score of 51 points to 26 for the Titans. In 1929 Westminster took over the Grovers 19 to 6; in 1930 the tables were turned and the Grovers whipped Westminster 19-0. They repeated '31 by taking the game 14 to 0. A 7 to 0 Titan victory was the result of the 1932 game and last year, at New Castle, the Grove City lads retaliated by licking the Titans 12 to 0.

Titans In Good Shape

Despite the three tough games that the Titans have been through in the past three weeks most of the men are in good shape. The coaches kept Sweeney out of the Pitt game so that he might be able to play against the Grovers. Mintz, Laraway, and Arrowsmith have rounded up into good shape. Krulatz injured his shoulder in practice this week but will be ready for action if necessary.

From all reports from Grove City Coach Bill Amos has his men in good condition and ready for the fray. The Gilbanites will have to watch Verne Smith who is one of the highest scorers in the entire district.

Fall Season Ends In Intra-Mural League; Champs Are Crowned

With the fall intra-mural season ended, new champions appear in the three inter-fraternity sports. The Delts, last year's champs in Volleyball and Horseshoes, have been dethroned by the Kaps and Phi Pi's respectively. Kappa Phi Lambda won the Volleyball race with a perfect record, while Phi Pi Phi won all their horseshoe contests to capture the crown in that sport. The former champs ran second in both of these leagues.

The Phi Pi's finished third in Volleyball with the T. U. O's, Eps, and Non-frats in fourth, fifth, and sixth places respectively. In the Horseshoe league, the Kaps also finished in the first division, while the Eps, Non-frats, and T. U. O's filled the last three places in the above order.

In the Volleyball finale, the All-

Frosh And Sophs To Renew Grid Hostilities November 26

Last week Jack Hulme announced that training would begin for the Annual Frosh-Soph gridiron frolic. Jack appointed "Swede" Hunneke and Don Kellett as mentor of the upperclass aggregation. John Wilhelm and Clem Lausberg will tutor the Freshmen.

Sophs To Be Strong

Answering their mentors call practically the same team which defeated the Sophs of last year, reported for practice. Hunneke and Kellett, advocates of the Pitt system of single and double wing back formation found such men as "Chuck" Jones, George Peters, "Red" Carter and "Chuck" Schmidt out for their team. These men will team with Brownell, Bill and Walt Whiteside, Bob Rose, Don Walters and Bob Morris.

The coaches will probably use Schmidt at quarterback, Peters and

Basketball Players Please Copy!

It has been learned that the 1936 Olympic Games will be enlarged to include competition in basketball. These games which will be held in Berlin will offer an opportunity for some high class American college team to go into action against the court stars of all nations. With such an inventive in view, there should be increased activity on the part of the

Pretty Tough!

BERRY

Laboring against great odds Don Helmick and Harold Berry, center and left guard, of the Titan grid machine played consistent and hard football against Pitt last Saturday. Helmick backed up the line and proved to be one of the defensive aces of the hard-fought tilt. Berry's fire and spirit came to the fore as time and again he refused to allow Pitt to run through him.

stars defeated the Kaps, league winners, 2-0.

In the new Touch Football league, the Delts finished in first place. The Kaps and T. U. O's split second honors with the Phi Pi's trailing. This sport was introduced this fall for the first time, and therefore was without a former winner.

The Soccer league did not arouse much interest among the campus groups and no winner is announced for that sport.

The Sophomores made a clean sweep of inter-class contests, defeating the Freshmen teams in each of the sports. The second year men took two games in each of the three leagues, Volleyball, Horseshoes, and Tagball.

Brownell or Whiteside at the halves and Rose at full. The line will be built around Jones at the snapper-back position.

Frosh Small

Judging from the men which reported to Wilhelm and Lausberg the yearlings will be greatly outweighed by their predecessors. The Frosh mentors will construct their team around Krivosh, a probable powerhouse at fullback and Rudisch a tall and lanky end. Probable running mates to these key men will be picked from men such as Harris, Ham-mell, Reniers and Smith.

Dope Favors Sophs

Judging from the material answering the calls of both sets of coaches the pre-season dope sheet favors the upperclass team. The game will be played on the Monday before Thanksgiving vacation, giving the coaches ample time to develop teams of suitable quality.

Westminster Titans, who should rank among the leaders of the country after this season is completed. The Basis of selection will probably be on the performance of the teams for three seasons and here lies the chance for Westminster fame to go abroad. With the same high powered squad of last season and more capable reserves, the Blue and White courtmen should make a determined bid for a national championship this year.

Turn Back Pitt Varsity On Six Yard Stripe

Braving the sleet and rain at Taggart Field in New Castle Saturday, Westminster's Titans failed to stop Pitt's clawing Panther but held them to a 3 to 0 count, a comparatively low score. This game proved to be just one of those games in which a smaller outfit is overpowered by a larger machine like outfit.

Titan Pass Clicks

On the very first play after the Titans had received "Izzy" Weinstein's kickoff, Bob Arrowsmith faded back and shot a 50 yard pass to Jack Laraway which was good for 23 yards and a first down. The Pitt defense immediately stiffened and Arrowsmith was forced to punt. Then on the second play "Izzy" Weinstein, an All-American prospect, raced 62 yards through the middle of the Blue and White line for the first touchdown.

Weinstock was not satisfied with one score as he took advantage of a break and soon had another six points added to his scoring record for the year. The break came as a result of a partially blocked kick which gave the Pitt lads possession of the ball in Titan territory.

Blue and White Show Scrap

Time and time again the Westminster gridders stopped sure touchdowns by spectacular defensive work. In the second quarter Randour tried for three successive times to make amends for a wild pass which Helmick intercepted by slashing off tackle, but always found a man in Blue in his way. But on the fourth try the Pitt offense clicked and he crossed the last white line for another six points.

Then at the end of the third quarter Coach Jock Sutherland beckoned to his first eleven to see what they could do. They came in with the ball fairly deep in Westminster's territory but failed to click for two or three plays. Then Mike Nicksick carried the ball to the Titan six yard stripe where the stage was set for another Panther touchdown. After the smoke had cleared Pitt was still two yards away from that coveted touchdown even though Weisenbaugh and Larue had been running the ball. This one instance in the game gave the Westminster fans a great thrill as the Titans had stopped one of the greatest assemblages of grid stars ever to face the Westminster team.

Panthers Score Again

After most of the first stringers had retired to the showers, Mike Nicksick took the pigskin on a 35 yard cutback for the last and final touchdown. As was the case all afternoon the try for placement was not good. The game ended with both teams exchanging points on the second and third downs.

With the Panthers scoring five touchdowns and the Titans garnering only one first down it was evident that the Titans were held on the defense most of the afternoon. Time and time again the Blue and White showed that they were not weak defensively.

Titans Escape Injury

The Westminster team escaped serious injury all through this game even though the varsity eleven played a great part of the time. The game was hard fought but clean in all stages, and as a result the Titans are in great shape for their next game. Several lads in Royal Blue jerseys showed that they were not greatly outclassed by their heavier opponents. "Bunny" Austen, who has developed into an "Iron Man" stayed

Frosh Perform Well In Hockey League As Winds Threaten Play

After a month of practice in favorable weather, real wintry winds threatened during the playing of the initial soccer and hockey games. Tuesday of this week the senior hockey team got off to its usual start when it defeated the junior team 6-5. The same afternoon the freshman squad came into its own by defeating a patched up sophomore No. 1 group 3-0.

Thursday, the sophomore no. 2 team defeated the juniors 4-1. The freshman were again victorious scoring a 5-2 win over the seniors. This is the first defeat to be chalked up for the seniors, but only four seniors were in the loser's lineup.

Games next week will be as follows: Monday, soccer—sophomores will play the junior-senior team, and Wednesday the freshmen will meet the sophomores again. Tuesday, hockey—at three the seniors will play the sophomore no. 1 team and at four-thirty the juniors will meet the freshmen. Thursday, hockey—the sophomore no. 2 team will play the freshman in the first game and at four-thirty the juniors will play the sophomore no. 1 group.

W.A.A. Continues Ambitious Work; Donates Fountain

Along with its athletic program, the Woman's Athletic Association sponsors some constructive projects each year. Last year a pair of scales were donated by W.A.A. and placed in the girl's locker room. In addition to this, the Library Fund was made richer by twenty-five dollars.

As their first project for this year, the W.A.A. has presented the college with a much needed drinking fountain, to be installed in the woman's locker room this week.

Theta Upsilon Omega

Last Saturday, October 27, members of Theta Upsilon Omega observed Father's Day by having them as their guests at lunch and at the game in New Castle.

Don Macleod was recently pledged to the fraternity.

A house party will be held at the fraternity house, Saturday evening, November 2. The committee in charge of plans are Bud Bowen, chairman; Edgar Allhouse, and Paul Carson.

Science Club Shows Film 'From Mine To Consumer'

"From Mine to Consumer", a two reel film, was shown to the students last Tuesday, at 4:30 p. m. in the chemistry lecture room, under the auspices of Science club.

The picture visualized the mining, smelting, and refining of copper, and the manufacture of copper, brass, and bronze into all forms of sheets, wire, rods, and tubes—giving students a first hand idea of the entire procedure.

Eight Students Enrolled For Post-Graduate Work

Eight post graduates are taking courses at Westminster this year.

Eugene Douglass, Helen McCormick, Geoffrey Sowash, Bill White and Sadie Weissberger, graduates of Westminster are taking secretarial courses.

James Campbell of Geneva college and Dorothy Ellis of Thiel college are also taking secretarial courses. Margaretta Barr who was graduated from the University of New Mexico and has taken library work at Emory, Georgia is taking educational courses.

Vocational Guidance Expert Will Advise College Senior Women

The program for Monday, November 5, includes individual conferences with senior women from 9:30 to 10:45. Senior women who desire to confer with Miss Jackson are registering in the office of Dean Mary E. Turner. At the Monday morning chapel service, Miss Jackson will speak on "How to Apply for an Occupation."

Round table discussions, to be led by Miss Jackson on Monday afternoon include: journalism and advertising, 1:30; commercial art, architecture, and interior decoration, work with books—library and literary work, 2:30; music, 3; general business work, buying and selling, 3:30; dramatics, 5; and science, technical research, 4:30.

A special chapel service for women students will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, with Miss Jackson speaking on the subject, "The Modern Woman and the Modern World."

On Tuesday morning from 9:30 to 10:45 Miss Jackson will continue individual conferences with senior women. At the Tuesday morning chapel service she will speak on the subject, "How to Keep a Position."

Round table discussions on Tuesday afternoon will include: social and personnel work, 1:30; law and medicine, 2; store service, 2:30; and dietetics, 3. At 3:30 Tuesday afternoon, Miss Jackson will be the guest of Target at a tea in the Hillside Parlors. All senior and junior women have been invited to the tea.

Dr. Taylor Reads Paper Before World Literature Class

Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor, professor of ancient languages, read and illustrated a paper on "Plato" before Professor Baker's class in World Literature Wednesday morning. Clothing Plato's ideas in modern language, Dr. Taylor discussed him from the viewpoint of what sort of man he was and what sort he would be if he were living in the present day.

Dr. Taylor brought out the point that the age into which Plato was born, directly after the Peloponnesian wars, was similar to this very generation, when we are wondering if the world can survive the difficulties into which the World War has plunged us.

If he were alive today, Plato would be a strong advocate for governmental control even to a community nursery, believing as he did that the leaders of the country should be extremely well educated and trained, and that the people should be made to conform, by the propaganda method, if no other availed. As an illustration of his point, Dr. Taylor cited Russia, where the state is determined to manufacture a certain type of character and none other.

Plato's whole system, according to Dr. Taylor, was founded on the dual idea—good and bad, the body and the soul, length and brevity. With a few illustrations it was easily seen that this underlying fact could be made the foundation for everything in life, even in our modern living.

"By reading Plato for 4 or 5 years, a person will become educated in a way which he has not been educated before," said Dr. Taylor, revealing the ancient philosopher as the discoverer of the amenities to live, the satisfactory way of living. That Plato believed that the world was moving toward the good, in the natural order of things, was the last point in the paper, and Dr. Taylor closed his lecture with this hopeful aspect of the old writer who, as was pointed out, was ancient among the ancients and yet would be modern in our day.

Westminster Band To Be Fully Outfitted

Special arrangement have been made by the conservatory of music to purchase coats for the members of the college band.

The coats, which will complete the uniforms, are special military style being blue trimmed in white with military buttons. A small white "W" will be on the left sleeve with service stripes on the right sleeve.

A special directors uniform will be worn by Professor Donald Cameron, and an official drum major's uniform will be worn by drum major Ed Shaffer.

In all probability the coats will be ready for the Geneva football game on November 24.

Masquers Elect

At a meeting of Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity, on Wednesday, October 31, underclassmen who have been active in dramatics were voted upon.

Bids will be extended to the following: Avalon LeMonte, McCrea Hazlett, Helen McLaughry, Helen Townner, Olive Pope, Virginia McCown, Dorothy Bieber, McClees Murray, and Isabel Mackey.

Pledging will be held within the next week.

Leather Display

Second in a series of displays being sponsored by Professor Harold J. Brennan and students in the art department, is the exhibit on leather craft work which is now being shown in the Commuter's room.

Mary Ellen Morrow and Elizabeth McCrory arranged the display.

Chinese Princess Will Lecture Thursday

Princess Der Ling Will Speak On Manchu Court

Princess Der Ling, distinguished Chinese princess, will tell of her experiences at the Manchu court, when she comes here to speak in the college chapel, Thursday evening, November 15.

The princess, who will appear in Chinese court costume, was first lady-in-waiting to the late empress-dowager, Tzu Hai, last of the imperial rulers of China.

In this capacity she was able to observe many interesting characteristics of the empress, and on Thursday she will tell of her unique and colorful experiences while a member of this famous Chinese court.

Princess Der Ling is the daughter of Lord Yu Keng, who served as Chinese Ambassador to Japan, Germany, Italy, Spain, and France and also as the Minister of foreign affairs in Tzu Hai's cabinet.

Although she was born in Tientsin, China, the Princess accompanying her father received her education in Japan, France, England, and America. While in Paris she studied dancing and dramatic art with Isadora Duncan and Sarah Bernhardt.

Princess Der Ling is the Author of the well-known "Two Years in the Forbidden City". She has also written several other books dealing with her experiences and China; among them, "Old Buddha", "Kow-Tow", which is autobiographical, "Lotus Petals", "Jades and Dragons", "Golden Phoenix", and her latest, "Imperial Incense".

She is a constant contributor to many of our leading magazines, such as McCall's, Good Housekeeping, Mentor, Cosmopolitan, and Saturday Evening Post.

Spent Twelve Years In Memorizing The Bible And Preaching Daily

A hushed and attentive chapel audience listened to Henry Hampton Halley while he delivered a short, but inspiring sermon, during chapel period today. The highlight of Mr. Halley's talk was the recitation of an abbreviated version of the book of Ecclesiastes, which he has memorized, together with the other books of the Bible, in an abbreviated form.

For 12 years Mr. Halley has been speaking before audiences nightly, delivering the message of the Bible and striving to arouse an interest in the book, which he claims is sadly lacking among Christian people.

Mr. Halley, an active minister in Chicago, until his health gave way, commenced his task of memorizing the Bible when he was 40 years old. Since then he has spent two to three hours a day, for twelve years, reading and memorizing. He can recite from memory every book in the Bible, in a condensed version, a task which would require about 25 hours steady speaking.

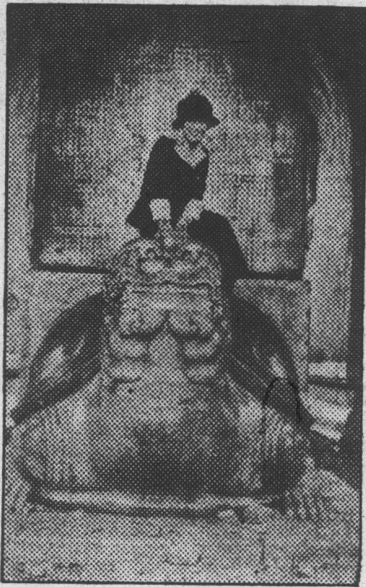

He estimates that he has spent over 10,000 hours at his colossal task. He is prepared to deliver forty sermons based on the books of the Bible, all of them at least an hour in length.

Committee Appointed For Pan-hellenic Dance

Plans for the annual Pan-Hellenic dance, scheduled for Saturday, December 15, were discussed at a meeting of the council held last Wednesday.

The following committees in charge of the dance have been appointed: Decorations, Jane Holland, chairman, Dorothy Isaho, Virginia Rumbaugh, Helen Drier; advertising, Rita Hite, chairman, Nancy Litman; orchestra, Isabel Reed, chairman, McClees Murray, Lillian Baird, Gladys Blaine; and tickets, Lola Sewall.

Lecture Course Speaker

PRINCESS DER LING

Princess Der Ling, formerly first lady-in-waiting to the late empress dowager, Tzu Hai, will speak in the college chapel next Thursday night.

Physics Teachers Will Convene Here Tomorrow Morning

Tomorrow, at an eleven o'clock session, the American Association of Physics Teachers of Western Pennsylvania and district will meet at Westminster.

"Modern Physics in the Elementary Course" led by Professor O. Blackwood from Pitt, and "A Non-Mathematical Course in Physics" led by Professor C. O. Riggs of Waynesburg College will be the topics discussed.

Luncheon will be served to the members at noon in Browne hall, followed by a business meeting. The afternoon will be spent in demonstrating apparatus and inspecting laboratories. Members of the association will bring apparatus of special interest for demonstration.

The executive committee consists of Professor J. A. Swindler of Westminster, Professor C. O. Riggs of Waynesburg, and Professor W. H. Michener of Carnegie Tech.

Nevin Will Present First Organ Recital

Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will give his first organ recital of the year in the College Chapel Tuesday, November 20 at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Nevin will present the following program: March Pontifical—Widor; Prelude and Fugue—Bach; Scherzo-Pastorale—Friedrich; Schliebe dich—Grieg; Toccata-Finale (manuscript)—Gordon Balch Nevin; Three Dances (from Nutcracker Suite)—Tchaikowsky; and Military March (Pomp and Circumstance)—Elgar.

Cooperative Plan Proves Economical and Practical

Sixty-two Westminster women students residing in six cooperative houses run by the college get room and board for $5 a week. By cooking, washing dishes, keeping the houses clean and running the houses themselves, these women students save about $105 a year on their expenses in addition to getting valuable home experience.

The girls do all the work in the houses, the work being divided so that each group is assigned different duties each succeeding week. Duties include: cooking, waiting table, dishwashing, sweeping, scrubbing, washing windows, dusting.

Of the $5 per week which each girl pays, $2 is for room rent, light,

Robert Crawford Famous Baritone To Open Artist Course Program Tonight

Sorority Rushing Rules and Party Dates Announced

Pan-Hellenic council announces that sorority rushing will begin Monday, November 12 and will close at noon Wednesday, November 21, when silent period begins.

Silent period will end at noon Friday, November 23, and all freshman preferential cards must be submitted before 8 o'clock Friday evening.

The following rules will prevail during the rushing season:

1. No dates may be broken.
2. Expenditures for rushing parties may not exceed $25.
3. Upperclassmen may on no occasion pay for a freshman girl's food.
4. Study hours must be observed.
5. Each sorority is limited to four dates with one rushee.
6. Only freshman commuters may be rushed before 1 p. m.
7. Upperclassmen may extract no promises from freshman women.
8. Such promises if given are void.
9. No rushing parties may be held out of town.
10. Upperclassmen may date freshman women on Sabbath night, only on condition of attendance at Sabbath evening chapel.
11. During silent period, freshman may ask questions of only the senior members of Pan-Hellenic council.

Four rushing parties have been scheduled for next week. Those sororities who will entertain are Beta Phi Alpha, Tuesday; Sigma Kappa, Wednesday; Theta Upsilon, Thursday; and Kappa Delta, Friday.

Alpha Gamma Delta will hold its party Monday, November 19 and Chi Omega will entertain Tuesday, November 20.

Committee Announced At Campus Club Tea

The Campus club, organization of wives of Westminster College professors, held its second tea of the fall season this afternoon at the Hillside. Mrs. Alan B. Davis, president of the club, announces.

Mrs. Davis also announces the appointment of the following to the committee on planning events for the year: Mrs. J. A. Swindler, Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, and Mrs. C. W. McKee. Meetings will be held on the second Friday of each month.

Y M C A Meeting

Members of the Y.M.C.A. met last Wednesday evening in the basement of the United Presbyterian church and discussed the topic "Jesus and Politics," under the leadership of George Herchenroether.

'Flying Baritone'

Robert Crawford, the "Flying baritone", will feature the Westminster College artists' course this evening in the college chapel. Crawford, one of America's outstanding radio and concert singers, flies from New York to out-of-town engagements in his own airplane.

Cast Selected For Second Production Of Little Theatre

Little theatre players will present "The Enemy" by Channing Pollock, in a series of three and possibly four performances, scheduled to be held in the Little Theatre November 21, 22, 23, and 24, at 8:15 p. m.

The plot of the play concerns the fortunes of an Austrian family through the period of the World War. Opening in June 1914 and concluding in June 1919, the story shows the gradual change from rabid enthusiasm for war to bitter sorrow over war's results, and as the passions of conflict wreck the lives of one after another of the characters, one learns that hate is the real enemy of mankind.

Members of the cast and the roles which they will play are as follows: McCrea Hazlett, Carl Behrend; Jane Holland, Paul Aindt; Comfort Spellman, Baruska; George Mitchell, Bruce Gordon; Thomas Kirby, August Behrend; James Goodchild, Jan; Professor Walter Biberich, Dr. Arnit; Virginia McCown, Mizzi Winkelman; Master Gilbert Swindler, Kurt Winkelman; and Avalon Le Monte, Fritz Winkelman.

The setting is being prepared by the stagecraft class, who will assist in presenting the play and Jean Heinrich has been chosen to act as prompter.

Advance reservation will begin Thursday, November 15 at 3:00 p. m. and all student patrons are urged to reserve seats early. In case all calls for reservations cannot be met with three performances, a fourth will be given Saturday, November 24.

Dramatics Class Will Present Play In Mercer

Members of the class in dramatic production will present the play "Wistful Waiting" before the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church in Mercer, this evening.

The cast includes: Grace Kildare, Maxine Jacobs, Helen Towner, Eunice Dickson, Jane McMillan, Jean Ritter, and Bruce Bower. Robert Dean George will be in charge of the presentation.

Reception By Students And Faculty Will Follow Recital

Robert Crawford, outstanding American baritone, composer, and conductor, opens the artist course tonight with his recital in the college chapel at 8:15.

At present, he is conductor of the Newark symphony orchestra, musical director of the Newark Music Foundation, leader of the New York Bach singers' club; soloist at St. Thomas church in New York.

He has been a soloist with the New York Oratorio society, the Chautauqua Opera Association, and at various important festivals including the Bach choir at Bethlehem. He has also done solo and conducting work over the radio.

Mr. Crawford, accompanied by Harrison Potter, will present the following program:

Song of Momus to Mars, (from Dryden's Secular Mass) Dr. Boice; There is a Ladye, Burry; Song of Steel, Willson; Lord God of Abraham, from Elijah, Mendelssohn.

A la Claire Fontaine, arrangement by Gr. Shaffer, French-Canadian; Lettie Bateese, O'Hara; Wreck of the Julie Plante, O'Hara.

Spirit Flower, Campbell-Tipton; Two Ways, Crawford; The Green Eyed Dragon, Charles; Dark Lullaby, Wolfe.

My Song Is of the Sturdy North, Edward German; Pagan Prayer, Crawford; Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes (1. Lary Bug, 2. Baby is Sleeping, 3. What the Old Cow Said, 4. The Mouse, 5. Of What Use Is A Girl? 6. Pat-a-Cake); Captain Stratton's Fancy, Taylor.

Students and faculty members will have an opportunity to meet Mr. Crawford at a short reception in the commuters room after the program.

Petitions For Cadet Teaching Subject To Faculty Committee

Petitions to practice teach, in the future, will be considered by a faculty committee composed of the dean of the college, the head of the Department of Education, the director of practice teaching, the head of the department in which the student is majoring, and the head of an additional department in which the student is taking an 18-hour minor.

This system will decrease the number of students certified for teaching by eliminating the ones not really suited to the teaching profession.

Students thus eliminated will be directed into other field. In connection with this Dr. Homer E. Cooper is gathering material on the accessibility of, and requirements for, government jobs. Dean Burr is investigating graduate work scholarships which might be available to Westminster students.

Treymour Orchestra To Play For Dance

Music will be furnished by the Treymour club orchestra for the all-college dance which will be held in the gymnasium tomorrow evening.

This is another of the series of dances planned by the social committee. Admission will be 25 cents a couple, and proceeds from the dance will be used to defray the expenses of another free dance in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johns and Professor and Mrs. Alan E. Davis will act as chaperons.

Educational Methods

Is Westminster Falling Behind Other Schools In Its Educational System?

With the disclosure of grades for the six weeks examination period, students are presented a criterion upon which to judge the success of their study methods. The orthodox procedure, according to faculty members, is to study two hours for each lecture period. There is little chance for failure if this plan is followed. However, this plan does have its difficulties. There just is not that much time available to some students. Others have attained success with study plans suited to themselves individually.

To study only for hour and final exams is a favorite procedure, which brings more or less success. Two types of students attempt this. First there are the lazy students whose aim is to get through the course. The odds are against these students, however, because there are too many facts to be memorized and relationships to be understood. Only superior students can manage this. The other type of student who uses this plan uses it to a purpose. He has found that he is successful most often by listening to lecture and discussions to get half of the facts and relationships and then do the reading and studying all in one piece. The education system at Westminster is against the student who wants to work out his courses in his own way. For instance, frequent ten-minute quizzes demand that a student do his work in installments.

Everything is based on a schedule made out to force students to spend so much time on a course (class hours) that could in some cases be utilized to better advantage by study. Sitting still in class tends to make students sleepy and unresponsive. After being talked at for half an hour, one tends to let whatever else is said go in one ear and out the other.

Educational methods have been revolutionized at other schools. At Rollins College in Florida, the procedure of recitations and lectures has been abolished and a two hour session of study in the professor's "studio" has been substituted. The "studio" is a large many-windowed room with easy chairs, rugs, and pictures. Study is carried on here by the individual and if he meets with a difficulty he can consult the professor.

At Cornell University much of the formal course work has been abandoned, and reports take the place of recitations. Swarthmore College has the "honors" system. Those students, whose work has been of high caliber the first two years, can work out their own educational salvation their junior and senior years. They need not go to classes, but at the end of their Senior year they must face the ordeal of being examined, both orally and in writing, by a committee of experts imported from other universities.

Perhaps none of these systems would work at Westminster. Perhaps a combination of all of them would be better. But without a doubt within the next ten years Westminster's system of education will change radically just as the systems of other schools have.

Reviews of The Week

The book review in this column, was written by Dr. John Orr, head of the Bible department.

Adventures Of Ideas

By Dr. Alfred North Whitehead, professor of Philosophy at Harvard university. Published by the MacMillan Company, New York, 1933.

Whitehead's position as an outstanding philosopher of the present day assures any book that he writes a large circle of readers. Whether the readers agree or disagree with the author's general philosophy or with particular details of his teaching, he is sure to be richly repaid for reading this very keen study of the history of thought by having his own thought processes stimulated. Not philosophers only but also philosophically minded students of mathematics, science, history, sociology and Aesthetics will find much in this volume to interest them. It is not a book for such as have no knowledge of philosophy or such as only enjoy reading fiction.

Whitehead sits like some God enthroned on high Olympus scanning, weighing and evaluating the influences that have molded history and the ideas that have determined the trends of human thought. He boldly challenges the popular present day "Bread and Butter" or economic interpretation of history. He insists that philosophy and religion have also been potent factors in human story. He magnifies the role and influence of the philosophers. He also shows how unsound is the position of those scientists who despise and sneer at philosophy and who think they have discarded it. He makes it plain that every system of science is based upon a system of philosophy.

Especially good and illuminating is the author's discussion of the four main prevalent doctrines of the Laws of Nature: "The doctrine of Law as immanent, the doctrine of Law as imposed, and the doctrine of Law as observed order of succession, in other words, Law as mere description, and lastly the later doctrine of Law as conventional interpretation." Indeed the best parts of this new book by Whitehead are those parts that deal with science, mathematics, and philosophy, the three great departments of human intellectual achievement with which he is most familiar. The poorest and most faulty parts of his work are those parts that deal with the Bible, Christianity and theology. Although at one point he admits some unfamiliarity with these fields, he quickly forgets the concession and is soon speaking on these as on other subjects with all the authority of an Olympian Zeus.

Like Plato and the other Greek philosophers of whom he is a great admirer and whose influence in history he is inclined to magnify, he passes from the consideration of other ideas to the consideration of "Truth" and "Beauty" and "Peace". The "Peace" that he presents at the end of the book is very like the "Ataraxy" of the Greek ideal.

This book, as the title suggests, lacks any close unity. The author browses around in many fields. Yet through it all and uniting all is the characteristic "Whiteheadian" idea of the "Togetherness", the interrelatedness, the interdependence of all things.

The literary style of the author is in places lucid, forceful and brilliant. In other parts of the work, it is difficult and foggy. The reader is likely to feel himself like a man watching an airplane sailing far above across the sky. Now he sees it sailing along clearly etched against the azure depths of space. Then, gradually or suddenly, it is lost for a time behind some floating cloud and the gazer wonders whether the plane and its pilot are themselves in the fog or whether they are far above the clouds piercing the dark blue stratosphere.

LATEST FROM BROWNE HALL

It is estimated that during this last week more girls, living at Browne Hall, have broken or quarreled with their steady halves than during any other week in the history of the dorm. However, several girls are said to possess diamonds. Peggy Forest has joined the "Spill a Bowl of Gravy at the Supper Table Club". Three young men bummed up from the home town to see Marjorie Dunn the other day.

Doris Pimley and Nancy Lybarger have organized an inter-dorm date bureau. Melva Kepper leads the field in the Browne Hall letter contest. She has already received more than seventy letters. Billy Lorimer walks in her sleep. Sunny Porter was practicing swan dives the other day and fell over the stair railing.

We still hope to see some intrepid and death defying college band march out on a football field at the half and spell out, not the initials of their college, but "Nertz!" in beautiful big letters.

FLASH! RUFFALO STILL TURNS THEM UP!

Defying the efforts of our private persuaders, and the pointing fingers of public opinion, John Ruffalo, sophomore, still wears his trouser's cuffs turned up.

Why? That is the question that is being asked on the campus. Everybody is guessing. Here are our guesses:

- 1—The trousers belong to someone else and are too long.
- 2—He lost a bet.
- 3—His girl friend gave him some beautiful sox and he is showing them off.
- 4—He likes to go wading in his spare moments.

These are our guesses. What are yours? Send them in to Holcadabra and maybe you'll win a prize—and maybe you won't.

POEMLET

I would like to win some fame
Playing in a football game.
But I lack a sturdy frame,
Name a sport a bit more tame.

"Oh, look! They're putting up a new fire escape," remarked one of two girls as they walked past the science hall. "Why?" blankly asked the mental question mark who accompanied her, thus earning the prize for the dumbest remark of the year. The new escape doesn't improve the looks of the building any, but it will be handy for daters. The only way to keep them off will be to keep the contrivance covered with fresh paint. It will be useful for escaping some of the smells from the chemistry labs. A fire escape for every class room would be handy when you decide to cut, while seated in the classroom before the bell rings, only to discover that the doorway is blocked by the entering professor.

We have noticed that no matter how loudly a young man is complaining of the cold he ceases talking and invariably loosens his coat when passing the girls hockey field if the young ladies, dressed in their none too warm gym suits, are playing there.

We were wrong about last week's football score. It wasn't entirely our fault, though. If you remember, our calculations involved multiplying a number by the total number of moles on the left arms of the first eleven men on the football team. Where we made our error was in mistaking a freckle for a mole—that threw us off in our figuring.

A sophomore of our acquaintance attends Sabbath evening chapel by proxy—he lends his topcoat to someone who is going.

Next week we will print the latest news from Hillside, and as an added feature we will try and give you the names of the newest members of the "I'll Grow A Mustache Or Die In The Attempt Club."

Closing Thought:
Let's have a "No Pun Week."

Yellow Jackets Promise Stiff Battle

Pressbox Panorama

It is to be regretted that the Grove City-Westminster battle should have ended so unsatisfactorily in a tie. Both teams showed remarkable spirit but it did not require an expert to see which team was superior. The Titans, although showing only a majority of four first downs, broke loose frequently on long runs with good blocking. The Titan line proved Saturday that it is undoubtedly the best forward wall developed in this school in quite some time. A former Grove City halfback remarked at the conclusion of the contest that Westminster was lucky not to have been beaten eight to two and Grove City was lucky that they were not beaten twenty-one to nothing.

It has been quite some time since the football fans have been witnesses to such vicious play as was seen last Saturday. Both sides were out for blood, and both were too tough to be hurt badly. Only three men were forced to leave the field due to injuries.

Much as any Westminster supporter will hate to admit such a thing possible, Grove City has a great ball player in Verne Smith. His punting last week was probably as good as any witnessed this fall in any district game and no doubt compared favorably with plenty of big league efforts. Smith was a shining star on the defense as well, but we are sorry to state that we admired his ability much more than his tactics of securing results. If Smith had chosen to run the ball a few more times, it is very probable that he would have found the going fairly tough... for him particularly!

Saturday's contest at the Crimson home grounds marks the end of athletic relations for the end of the year since the Grovers have dropped the Titans from their court schedule. This brings the amusing story to mind of the last basketball game between the two schools. It seems that Tomko, an end on the Crimson grid team and also a hoopster, came up to Swede Hunneke and confided during a time out period. "Tell Wilhelm to take it easier on me, Hunneke, each time he hits into me he almost kills me," entranced the somewhat mistreated Mr. Tomko. "O.K., I'll fix it up," returned the ever-obliging Hunneke, and sought out Long John, who had been thoroughly enjoying the evening's sport. "John," whispered Swede, with a sinister glance in the direction of the crestfallen Tomko, "that guy over there is mad at you and he says that he is going to get you." "Oh yeah," retorted the offended Wilhelm. We leave the rest of the game to your imagination.

When Westminster opens its basketball season with the McKeesport Willigs late in November, the students of the sophomore and freshman classes will be able to get a glimpse of the former court stars of the Blue and White in the persons of Phil Rice, Jerry Newton and Sil-jander. Rice, probably the greatest guard ever turned out by Westminster, acts as captain of the formidable Willigs and the enjoyment derived from an evening spent in just observing Phil is worth as much as three ordinary games.

"Bunny" Austen has been classified as the finest end in Tri-State conference according to remarks from opposing coaches and officials, states R. X. Graham, publicity secretary of that organization.

Pete Leyshock and Swede Hunneke will return to the Blue and White Grid squad next year. Both former ends, Leyshock will return as a halfback and Hunneke as a tackle. Duke Helmick, after an indifferent season two years ago, has returned to develop into a mighty good center. Duke used to be an end.

Westminster should feel very fortunate in possessing two such fine fellows as the Gilbane brothers. Not only have they turned out a corking good football team so far but they have infused a good deal more school spirit into this school than has been evident for some time. We hope that they will be on the campus for a good many more seasons.

Wolfmen Slightly Favored Grovers Tie Titans 2-2 In Tomorrow's Tilt

Coaches Bill and Tom Gilbane and their Westminster Titans left at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon by bus headed for Waynesburg where they will meet the Waynesburg college Yellow Jackets in an important sectional football game Saturday.

Much interest is manifested in this tilt between the Titans and Coach Frank Wolf's proteges, the first since 1932. The game that year ended in a near riot when Waynesburg was credited with a touchdown in the last minute of play. This score was protested by Westminster who claimed that the man was forced out of bounds before he crossed the goal line. Nevertheless the score went down in the books as a 6 to 0 win for the Jackets. The Titans will naturally be out to avenge this defeat.

Jackets Alternate

So far this season the Yellow Jackets have won three games and dropped the same number. They lost to Duquesne, St. Vincent, and Washington and Jefferson; they have taken games from Slippery Rock, Bethany, and last week they swamped Geneva Covenanter 19 to 0. Losses and wins have come alternately and if they keep up this system Westminster should come home with another game in the win column.

However, Coach Wolf has a strong team and the Gilbanemen will have to open their bag of tricks and put on all the team they can muster in order to take this fray.

Currie-Sweeney

According to publicity from the Waynesburg school most of the interest is fastened upon "Rab" Currie, Jacket ball carrying ace, and Ray Sweeney, diminutive backfield man from Westminster. Both of these men are playing their last year of college football.

Sweeney has been unable to do much this year due to injuries and the fact that opposing teams have laid for him.

Both Teams Outstanding

This encounter will have a great deal to do with sectional ratings of these two outfits. At the present time both are outstanding teams of the district. Waynesburg has defeated three colleges of their own class while Westminster has won three games from small-college rivals and has tied one.

The Titans have survived the last three tough games without serious injury and the entire squad will be ready to see action at Waynesburg tomorrow in the hardest small-college battle of the year.

Mermaid Club To Be Reorganized

Women swimmers will again be organized under the Mermaid Club, which was successfully inaugurated on the campus last year. Under the sponsorship of W. A. A. and the leadership of Betty McCrory, the local dolphins met weekly last year and completed an interesting program which included "swimming to New Castle" and, as a climax of the year's work, the presentation of the exhibition "A Night In Arabia."

Mermaids of last year may become members this year without repeating the entrance requirement test. For all others who wish to join, the test will be given November 12, 14, 19, and 21 from 2:30 to 3:30, as well as Friday, November 16 and 23 from 1:30 to 3 o'clock. When tests are being run Friday afternoons, the usual open period in the pool will be limited to those persons making up swimming class cuts.

A Talented Lineman

Walt "Yapper" Young, former halfback, who has been converted into a star-charging guard. Young is probably the most improved lineman on the squad following a season marred by a leg infection. "Yap" has turned in several bang-up games thus far this season.

Miss Love Sets Tennis To Music

The latest thing in forehand drives and American Twish Services is the fact that they are now being driven and twisted in a new way—to music. To the classic strains of "Brahm's Waltz" Miss Love's class in tennis fundamentals meets twice weekly and practices the various strokes in this way. As tennis is essentially a game of timing, music plays an important part in the development of strokes. Some girls who have a sense of rhythm lack the muscular coordination that tennis requires. The combination of these two qualities produces rhythmic movement and perfected stroking.

For the service, which is perfectly adapted to six beat rhythm, two measures of waltz music is necessary for each stroke. The first three counts include the backswing, with the ball being thrown into the air. On the accented count, or the first beat of the second measure, the server hits the ball, following through to the left side of the body on counts five and six. The graceful swing of the racquet and shift of body weight can be simply effected. Actual improvement in individual strokes would indicate that this is one of the better methods of teaching tennis principles.

Towering Titans Begin Practice For Willig Game

Basketball players are already practicing and Coach John D. Lawther is holding three drills each week until the latter part of this month when the squad will drill each night. Included in the squad of 16 men now out are five lettermen from last year.

The first contest in the pre-season campaign will be a game with the strong Willig Club of McKeesport which will be played in the Sharon high school gymnasium on Friday evening, Nov. 30. This game will be for the benefit of the Mercer County Boy Scout council. The Willigs, victors over the best independent teams in the country, should give the Titans plenty of competition for the opener.

The first regular game is scheduled on the home floor on Monday, December 17, when Wittenberg college of Ohio journeys here to oppose the Titans. An eastern trip, with three games carded in the New York city district, will be taken Dec. 28, 29, and 31.

Among the veterans of last season who have reported are Wesley Bennett, center; Henry Hunneke, guard; Peter Leyshock, forward; and John Willits, forward. Ray Sweeney, another forward, will report to the squad when football season is over. Only Captain Bill Douglass of last year's team was lost by graduation.

Last year the Titans won 22 games and lost four. In Tri-State Conference competition, the Lawthermen won 10 straight games to win the sixth championship in eight seasons. This year's schedule will probably include about 23 contests. Among these will be games with such strong teams as Geneva, Waynesburg, Pitt, Tech, City College of New York, and St. Johns of Brooklyn.

In the pre-season benefit game at Sharon, Westminster will face such former college stars as Janesik and Currie of Waynesburg; Rice and Sil-jander of Westminster; Smith and Lawry of Pitt; Minnick of Duquesne; and Burke of Grove City. Other Willig stars are Crum and Kostolansky.

Two Safeties Deadlock Viciously Fought Contest

Holding desperately against the determined power of the hard driving Titans, the scrappy crimson warriors of Grove City held the Blue and White to a disappointing 2-2 tie before the Grove City Homecoming crowd last Saturday. The Titans, superior in rushing, defense, and passing were held in check by the marvelous punting of Verne Smith, who punted only once less than seventy yards with strong breezes blowing over the gridiron.

Sweeney Returns Kickoff

On the opening kickoff Sweeney took the ball and broke into the open in pursuit of touchdown, but after traveling about 60 yards a Grove City player managed to stop the Titan back momentarily. This slight jar caused Sweeney to stumble. A rumble on the next play gave Grove City's Verne Smith a chance to place the Westminster boys deep in their own territory by one of his long spiral punts.

Titan Forward Wall Clicks

The fine play of Westminster's forward wall was outstanding both on offense and defense. Time and time again the Blue and White line opened holes which enabled the Titan backs to register four more first downs than the Crimson did. The Titans in spite of this power could not pierce the twenty yard stripe of the Grove City eleven. Defensively the line proved a headache to Grove City's pony backs all afternoon but again Smith's toe would get the Grove Cityites out of trouble.

Teams Exchange Safeties

In the second period a Titan punt placed the Crimson in the shadow of their own goal post and on the very first play Bill Amos' center passed clear over the head of Smith as he stood in punt formation. Covering the ball he was tackled behind his goal line for a safety for Westminster. As both teams seemed to lack scoring power this small margin loomed large until fortune alternated its favor.

Then, through a break one of Smith's punts stopped within the Titan five yard line and on the attempted punt which was blocked a safety was chalked up for the troops of Bill Amos. This 2-2 tie illustrates one of the hardest fought games in local college circles.

Orris Turns In Long Run

Fortune again favored the Crimson as Orris took a Westminster forward pass on his own 25 yard line and ran 71 yards through the whole Titan team to the five yard stripe. Staples hauled the pony back down as he came up fast and nailed him before he could score the coveted touchdown. In three successive line plays the Crimson failed to gain but on the next play a Grove City back took the ball on a sweeping run and crossed the goal line. The play was called back though because one of Home Team had been guilty of holding and were penalized 15 yards. This penalty stopped Grove City's only threat of crossing the Titan goal.

Titans Fight Hard

In the dying moments of the game the Titans again carried the ball deep into Crimson territory but on an at-

Titans Outrush Grove City But Game Is Draw

(Continued from Page 3) tempted forward. Arrowsmith was thrown for a fifteen yard loss and another scoring threat had been halted. The first half was dominated by the Westminster offense but as the game progressed Grove City tended to get stronger and in the second half the two teams battled on even terms. It was Verne Smith's punting which really held the Titans in check as time after time he forced the Titans deep into their own territory by his long kicks. Smith gave evidence that he was a real triple threat man. He was the key man on the Crimson offense and a real stalwart backing up the line.

For the Titans Jack Laraway and Dutch Sweeney thrilled the crowd with their long runs. Laraway also blocked well despite injuries which forced him out of action for a part of the game. In the line Helmick and Watt stood out through their defensive strength. The game was played before an overflow crowd of Homecoming alumni and students of the two schools.

Survey Gives Statistics On Age, Religion

Marked and interesting difference in such things as age, religious denomination, and parental occupations exist among members of the freshmen class, according to statistics collected by the college news bureau.

Freshmen ages range from 16 to 43, the greatest number of students being in the 18 year old group. Thirteen freshmen are 16 years of age, 56 are 17, 97 are 18, 39 are 19, 15 are 20, eight are 21, one is 22, two are 23, one is 26, one 29, one 32 and one 43.

Despite the fact that Westminster is a United Presbyterian school, students of that denomination are not in the majority. Sixty-five freshmen are members of the United Presbyterian church, 64 of the Presbyterian, and 31 of the Methodist. Other denominations include: Methodist Episcopal—16, Roman Catholic—12, Lutheran and Baptist—seven each, Jewish—6, Episcopal—4, Reformed Christian Science, and Brethren—two each, and Greek Catholic, Covenant, and Christian—one each.

Occupations of the parents of freshmen student are even more widely diversified. The largest class in this grouping is merchants, of whom there are 21. Sixteen parents are engineers, 13 are farmers, 13 ministers, and 10 clerks. Salesmen number nine; laborers, insurance agents, and department managers each eight; foremen, seven; millworkers and attorneys each six; manufacturers, garagemen, railroad employees and physicians each five; mechanics, four.

Parents of four of the freshmen are retired; three are in each of the following: vice-presidencies, newspaper work, mining, traffic departments, teaching, and construction and contracting. Pharmacy, accounting, undertaking, college teaching, machinists, inspection, pattern-making, and banking claim three each. One parent is listed as being employed in each of these occupations: principal of high school, advertising, dentistry, personnel work, philatelist, coal operator, school superintendent, dry cleaning, judge, collector, police, street car conductor, missionary, transfer, jeweler, architect, and interior decorating.

French Department Teaches With Aid Of Victrola Records

One of the newer ideas of teaching is being put to use this year by the French department. The department is using victrola records, which are put out by the Aural Educators, Lakewood, New Jersey.

The Spanish department has recently received several records from the Linguaphone Institute. These records are used as supplements to the illustrating and teaching of pronunciation in the classroom.

The purpose behind the use of these records is that of usefulness to the individual student, and to the classroom as a whole, as it will provide the teacher with a convenient and time-saving implement to present to the students the essential principles of French and Spanish pronunciation. Its object is to aid in training the student's ear, speech and memory simultaneously.

Dramatics Class Visits Cleveland Play House

Twenty-seven members of the class in dramatic production will leave at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning for Cleveland, where they will attend the matinee of "The Great Fombombo" which will be presented by the Cleveland repertoire players at the Cleveland playhouse.

The Cleveland players are well-known for their productions and have played successful seasons at Chautauqua. After the performance the students will be taken on a special tour of the playhouse.

Will Present Recital

GORDON BALCH NEVIN

Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will give his first organ recital of the year in the college chapel Tuesday, November 20, at 8:15 p. m.

Committee On Senior Activities Appointed

At a meeting of the senior class yesterday morning, six seniors were appointed by president, David Harris to act as the standing committee of senior activities.

It is the duty of this committee to cooperate with the college authorities in planning a tentative schedule of senior activities for the remainder of the school year, and also to try to eliminate any crowding of class functions that might occur at the end of the second semester.

Those appointed are Helen McLaughry, Virgil Wettich, Betty McCrory, John Kelso, John Hine, and Arthur Deichmiller.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting

The Y. M. C. A. held its meeting in the basement of the United Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 14. James Ewalt led devotionals and the discussion was led by John Gerstner, the subject being "Christ Non-Existent."

Y P C U Meeting

"What is Prayer" will be the subject of discussion at the Y. P. C. U. meeting next Sabbath evening at 6:30.

The meeting will be in charge of group III, with Peggy Eversole and Graham Carter as leaders.

Princess Der Ling Explains Details of Chinese Dress and Expresses Preference In Hobbies

Princess Der Ling, who brought to Westminster a vivid picture of the glamorous court life of her native China, last night, has some very interesting observations which she has made in her wide travels.

Of particular interest to students, and especially the co-eds are the details of her court costume which she wore at the lecture.

The headdress which the princess wore last evening weighs thirteen pounds and is an exact replica of the one which she wore in the Manchu court. The triangular shape is achieved, however, "because they are more recluses of fabric flowers are fastened with long pins which cross in the back. The whole is heavily inlaid with precious stones.

The princess does not wear the original headdress on her tours, for fear of losing it while traveling. The reproduction is exactly the same as the original, with the exception that the pearls used in the copy are not genuine. The other precious stones, however, match the original.

The gown, which she was wearing is her finest summer palace gown. It is a light silk, hand-embroidered in

Little Theatre Players Give Four Presentations Of 'The Enemy'

Library Workers Protected With New Fire Escape

Although the Science building passed the State Safety inspection, college authorities felt that the present library would be used much more by students with the addition of the new fire escape now under construction.

The new escape, which is being installed on the south side of Science hall by the Ellwood City Iron and Wire company, will cost approximately $400. Construction of the fire escape has been entirely voluntary on the part of the college authorities.

The third floor window will be reconstructed into a safety door and there will be a method of exit from the second floor also. In this way the fire escape is readily available to both the second and third floors. The primary purpose of the fire escape is to protect students working in the library.

Franz Scott Will Play For Block W Dance, November 24

Plans are being completed for the Block W dance which will be held in the gymnasium, Saturday evening, November 24.

Franz Scott's orchestra, with whom Clarence Brallier is a vocalist, has been engaged for the dance.

Block W. insignias will be used by the committee in carrying out the decorations. A false ceiling and blue lighting will also aid in the decorative scheme.

Tickets, which will be one dollar, may be secured from any letterman. Those in charge of the affair are: Bob Grier, chairman, Harvey Snyder, Jack Willis, Ray Elliott, and Perry Klumph.

Elected To State Senate

Glenner Ramsey Law, '18, was elected to the Pennsylvania State Senate in the recent election. Mr. Law received his S. B. here at Westminster and his LL. B. at the University of Pennsylvania. He is an attorney-at-law in Sharpsville.

Unusual Stage Effects Are Required For Production

Unusual stage effects are required for the production of Channing Pollock's "The Enemy", to be presented by the Little Theatre November 21, 22, 23, and 24.

The dull tramp of marching feet, heard throughout every act and scene of the play, will be achieved backstage by students marching in pans of gravel. A special imported record will be used for the music of the band.

Some difficulty is being experienced in this first attempt at setting the stage to include two rooms. Professor Arndt's apartment in Austria.

The stage crew includes: Russell Sewall, stage manager; Richard Nelson, Russell Leiby, Robert McCaslin, Lorin Randall, David Ammon, George Anderson, Lewis Yost, David Campsey, and Ernest Smyser.

Members of the stage craft class will be in charge of the properties, and Isabel Scheetz will manage the sale of tickets.

The cast includes: McCrea Hazlett, Jane Holland, Comfort Spelman, George Mitchell, Thomas Kirby, James Goodchild, Professor Walter Biberich, Virginia McCaslin, Master Gilbert Swindler, and Valon Le Monte.

Tickets will be on reservation Friday, Monday and Tuesday, November 16, 19, and 20, from 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. There will be no Saturday performance unless it is absolutely necessary.

Movies Shown In Community House

"A thrill a minute; heart-breaking tragedy and hair-raising mystery! Movies (talking ones at that) have come to town!"

Under the auspices of the Better Pictures Exhibitors of Youngstown, motion pictures are being presented every Tuesday evening in the community house. A feature picture, comedy and two short reels are shown each week; admission charges are twenty cents per person.

Designs And Makes Costumes For Little Theater Productions

Costumes which will be worn in the play, "The Enemy", which will be produced by the Little Theatre next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday were designed and made under the direction of Isabel Scheetz, a member of the Junior class.

Miss Scheetz was Little Theatre costumes, and cashier last year when 105 students took part in acting, staging, and directing 20 presentations of 18 different plays. Because of her ability she was reappointed for the current year by Professor A. T. Cordray, director of the course in dramatic arts.

In addition to her duties in the Little Theatre, Miss Scheetz is associate editor of the Holcad.

Educational Film Shown For Science Students, Wednesday

"Modern Coal Mining" and "The Story of Goodyear" were the subjects of the two reel films which were shown in the physics lecture room, Wednesday afternoon, November 14.

This was the second in a series of educational films which are being exhibited this year. Both films were furnished by the Goodyear tire company. The first dealt with modern electric methods used in the mining of coal, and showed how electricity is used effectively in the lighting and ventilating of the mines, as well as in the mining, hauling and loading of the coal.

"The Story of Goodyear" traced the methods and systems used in processing rubber and cotton from the time they are planted until they become finished products.

Two Juniors Undergo Appendicitis Operations

Two members of the junior class underwent appendicitis operations during the past week.

Evelyn Wilson was operated on November 11 at the Jameson Memorial Hospital in New Castle, and Ellwood Rushworth was taken to his home in Swissvale, Tuesday, November 12.

Father And Daughter Enrolled As Freshmen

Attending English and Economics classes at Westminster is a family affair for the Jennings of Pulaski. The Reverend Mr. Earl J. Jennings and his daughter Maybelle, are both enrolled here as fulltime students, the only father-and-daughter combination in class attendance on the campus.

Miss Jennings, a graduate of West Penn Hospital of Pittsburgh, is a freshman in the science department, while her father is taking special work toward his Methodist conference degree.

Special Speaker At Y. W.

The Y. W. C. A. held its meeting in the parlor at Hillside at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 14. The special guest speaker was the Reverend Guthrie, an alumnus of Westminster. His subject was "Whose Ideals Are You Using." The Freshmen Commission will have charge of the next meeting.

Football vs. Snow

FERA Workers, Who Need Jobs, Are Being Deprived Of Them

Soliciting aid from the entire student body for the purpose of cleaning snow off the football field for practice sessions seems to be the wrong method of attacking the problem, when the government offers funds to every college for helping deserving students work for their education.

Students who need this help are being deprived of it when the entire student body is invited to contribute free of charge their time which has recently been estimated to be worth forty-six cents per classroom hour. Without a doubt if on the morning of a home game the football field was covered with snow and the college did not have sufficient help to clean it off, all of the men students would be willing to donate their services as they did at the time of the Muskingum game last year.

Saar Plebescite

Germans Living In Saar Are An Example Of Real Patriotism

Citizens of the Saar, the much-fought-over little strip of land between France and Germany, hold a plebescite, January 15 to determine whether they will go back to the government of Germany, France, or stay under the League of Nations protectorate.

The majority of the people living here are German and German industries employ most of them. Although the people in the Saar have better living conditions now than they have ever had before, and are much more prosperous than they will be if they elect to put themselves under German control, according to reports from this section, the people will probably go back to the German government.

These people are an example of what patriotism means. The ties of a language must mean much more than we think. The fact that the man on the corner speaks German and you also speak German brings an almost brotherly relation between you. Even in America if a Russian meets a Russian it is a time for them to rejoice. The two are natives of the same beloved country, having the same history, art, and customs.

Patriotism is something like love for members of your family. You would not stand by and see harm come to any one of them. You have the same feeling toward the people of your country, although perhaps you don't realize it. But if you were in a foreign nation and a countryman of yours was in trouble it would be your instinct to help him to the best of your ability.

Sometimes patriotism goes past this stage of love of your countrymen and becomes love to the nation. The nation is placed on a higher level than the people who live in it. This condition exists in some of the European countries today. Germany and Italy have nationalistic governments.

Whatever our concept of patriotism may be we should not let it get control over us. At the time of the World War, people were so overloaded with patriotism that they were willing to fight for the cause whatever the cause might be. The cause is generally the "brainchild" of the munitions manufacturers, we are learning today.

Intercollegiate Notes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

John Hopkins Students Vote In Big Majority For College Football

Baltimore, Md.—An overwhelming vote of 639 for, and 49 against, intercollegiate football was cast by the undergraduate body of Johns Hopkins University in a poll conducted here recently.

The returns of the balloting were reported to President Ames during an interview in which the President did not, however, commit himself to any definite decision with regard to football. He indicated that the outcome left no doubts in his mind as to where the student body stood, and that he expected the stand of the administration to be taken on the basis of it.

There has been a movement on foot to abolish football at the Baltimore institution for almost a year.

Colgate Betas Lose $100 to Ted Husing Through Rhyming Telegrams

Hamilton, N. Y.—About a week previous to the Colgate-Ohio State Game, Ted Husing, sports announcer, in his radio talk picked Ohio State to win.

An hour later a rhymed telegram appeared from Colgate reading this way: "My Dear Ted Husing: As to Your Choosing that Colgate will be Losing We Have One Hundred Dollars We are Not Using, and if You Surmise Your Prediction is Wise, Fork Up Your Hundred and We'll Take Your Guys. (Signed) The Beta House, Colgate University."

Husing wired back this jingle: "As To Your Pleading That Colgate Will Be Leading, I Have A Hundred I'm Not Needing. I fear That the Betas will Soon Lose Their Status as Prognostic cats. Please Let Me Know, And I will Forward the Dough. (Signed) Ted Husing."

"Hundred Coming, Keep Wires Humming With Disastrous News Ohio's Succumbing," taunted Colgate. Husing, wiring the money, advised:

"I Tell You This to Bring You Pain, The Beta's Bet will be Husing's Gain. I'm sorry My Football Erudition Will Cost You Most of Next Term's Tuition."

The game was played. Colgate lost 10 to 7. A few minutes later Husing received this gay surrender:

"Congratulations. You Broke The Bank. As Prognostic cats We Are Rank". (Signed) The Betas.

Pathologist Finds That Potatoes Are Not Irish, Come From Chili

State College, Pa.—Potatoes are not Irish after all, according to L. T. Denniston, plant pathologist of the Pennsylvania State College, who is collecting material for a history of this vegetable crop. They were first found in the highlands of Chili and Peru.

When they were introduced in Europe by the Spanish conquerors, potatoes were grown as flowering plants only. The Irish were the first to establish them as an important source of food and a means of stopping the many famines from which the island suffered. When the crop failed in 1847, however, there followed the great famine which caused the death of thousands and contributed to the large Irish immigration to our country.

After the value of the potato as a food was established, English law required every farmer to plant potatoes. In Germany the laws were severe, failure to plant potatoes calling for the penalty of a nose or an ear cut off. France was the last of the countries to adopt it as a food, the teaching in those days being that potatoes were poisonous, developed many diseases, and impoverished the soil.

Potatoes were introduced in this country in 1719, in New England. Now they are grown in every county of each state. Pennsylvania is one of the leading states, ranging from third to fifth in recent years.

Holcadabra

Jean Ritter's extensive repertoire of impersonations jokes and "faces" are fast earning her the title of "The Browne Hall Sunshine Girl". Although she was going to Pittsburgh, Helen Swartz heard the girl who was ahead of her at the ticket office ask for a ticket to Cleveland and absently bought one to the same place. Mary Donson wanted to know if "the week of prayer" was the week before final exams, and Izora Mangus thought that that was what they meant by "hell week". Sugar Gearhart is reported to have an affinity for white rats with pink eyes. Doc Dawson sat up all night studying for a test and then fell asleep and slept through the class.

ENEMY WEEK

The "Enemy" will be presented in the Little Theatre next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and the "enemy" will be met on the football field on Saturday.

Winter time is slush time in New Wilmington. We are not referring to melted snow, but to a delightful and innocuous concoction that can be bought at the village's several soda fountains. It is composed of ice cream, marshmallow syrup, and chocolate syrup. Served in a glass and accompanied by such equipment as spoons, raincoats and hip boots, it is a combination guaranteed to deter the hardest experimenter.

The principle involved in eating slush is to beat it vigorously with a spoon until all the fight is taken out of it and then turn out the lights and sneak up on it in the dark. One may use any number of popular strokes during the process of eating. The back-hand fling, the double-dribble, and the overhand-slug are all recommended. Try one sometime when you're feeling tough.

"Why didn't you reply to the professor in class today, you knew the answer to the question?" "Oh, I'm mad at him."

NEW FRATERNITY OFFICERS

As the result of election in all five fraternities on the campus the following officers have been elected:

The Phi Pi's have elected Chester Miller to the post of Master of the Hounds. (We would like to make a pun as to how the Phi Pi's are always doggin' it, but we won't.)

Robert Greer is the TU's new census taker. Larry Kauffman is their horse checker-inner and checker-outer. This latter job, however is a mare nothing.

The Kaps have appointed Donald Walters to the position of Head Ping-Pong Ball Patcher.

Glen Momeyer has been selected by the Eps as The Board of Arbitration. He has to patch up all the quarrels between his fraternity brothers and their girlfriends.

The Deltas have created the new post of Most Holy Guardian of the Varsity Letters. Joe Straw will occupy this honored position and it will be his duty to polish the varsity letters daily. (No, we were thinking about it, but we won't say that he'll shine at this occupation.)

TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE

If the gym was de-lighted during the college dances the dancers would be too.

Contrary to what you may have heard or suspected, the scaffold recently erected in the chapel was not intended for a high diving act to be put on during chapel period. Neither was it supposed to be the new senior section. No, they didn't put it up there by mistake—they were only trying to clean the organ screens. And, although the story is common, the screens were not blackened by rubbing them with the charred remains of the old "Old Main."

Very neat holes can be made in papers, for inserting them in a loose leaf notebook, by burning the holes in with a lighted cigarette.

Freshmen, if you think that the weather is chilly now, wait until winter comes. Wait until the snow gets so deep that the Hillside residents ski to school. Wait until you find the doors of your houses frozen shut so tightly that you can't open them for weeks at a time. Just wait until it gets so cold that the sound of the siren on the science hall freezes up and its accumulated blowings all thaw out the first day of spring—just wait.

You are either allowed to cut chapel or you're not allowed to cut, except on those days that you do cut. We're not sure which, but we'll report later.

A kind stranger picked up Bill Offutt and Walt Whiteside who were bumming into New Castle, and immediately struck up a conversation on football. "I went to Notre Dame," the stranger said, after the boys had discussed the merits of our team. As they were getting out of the car Offutt asked him what his name was. "Schwartz", was the reply, "Not Marchy Schwartz the all-American!" Yep that's right," he replied, and drove on, leaving the boys a trifle flabbergasted.

A movement is on foot among the faculty to provide two seats in chapel for each student. One will be occupied regularly during chapel periods and the other will be used exclusively for dating.

Up or down? That is the question. Of course it is rather rude to make a gentleman's habits of dressing a matter of public discussion, but one must think of the public welfare. Students are neglecting their studies to discuss why Buffalo turns his pants cuffs up. As yet we haven't discovered what NRA code is being violated, but some legal recourse must be possible. Will all pre-law students discuss the matter among themselves and submit a report to this column at their earliest convenience?

Editors Mail Bag

Groups Of Students Talking Together Mysterious

My Dear Mister Editor,

I'm writing to you on account of the fact that I think you should know what's going on around here. Have you seen in the past week a bunch of groups of students talking together kind of mysterious like? Have you noticed the fair and dismay smeared all over with question marks on their face?? Here's the dope—the scoop to you, Mr. Editor—y're all getting peeved and sulky and rebellious like a bunch of Reds, cause they heard they couldn't miss chapels on Fridays anymore unless they paid 1/2 of a credit. That seems a little high priced when you remember the Depression and everything being so bad right now. They don't like that, Mr. Editor, cause the few minutes when chapel's going on is mighty sweet if you ain't there. I sorta recollect that last year we could have a little recess one A.M. per week. Well naturally everyone figures that goes for this year, to. They don't aim on giving up no cherished liberties like that, especially with forefathers we got who died and bled for them. You know, Mr. Editor, wouldn't surprise me if we had one of them student uprisings like other schools has. Can't say as how I blame 'em much either—they got pride in their school and want to keep it up to the other colleges and it would help break the terrible monotony and give you some news Mr. Editor. I was mad enough this morning to walk out. After everyone's been fussing about this here thing the committee up and asks the high official point-blank the answer. Was you there, Mr. Editor? Well, he gets diplomatically—just talks and talks & don't say nothing. The student body don't hanker much for evasions in anything. Kinda makes you feel uneasy like as if you're going get somethin sprung on you. Mr. Editor, I don't think its very unmoralizing and bad and criminal to want one vacation per week. It kinda seems to me that as a whole we got a pretty large sense of humor to take it 4 times a week. And we even clap when the speaker quits and laugh at his old stories. Of course, I ain't forgetting that we get some pretty tolerable stuff sometimes. Course it ain't no picnic to plan chapel programs for a bunch of collegers cause we're not exactly what you'd call easy to please. But you shouldn't be druve to announcement assemblies anyway. It spoils your mood, no matter how hard you try it will spoil your mood. If you try real hard to feel good about the whole business, soon as opening exercises are over something's gonna happen and—bloody your mood has left you. You jist can't do anything about it.

These chapels this year has got it all over previous years. You never can be sure what to expect and this helps a lot to make it better. Now Mr. Editor, there's a lot of good reason why guys like you and me should go to chapel and I think we had ought to tell the rest of the students. Even the announcements are funny sometimes when they're read. Then

Muskingum Wins Over Westminster

Gilbanes Prime Titans For Muskingum

Locals Seek First Victory Over Ohio U.P. Sister College

After the miserable showing against the Waynesburg Yellow Jackets at Waynesburg last Saturday the Westminster Titans left yesterday morning for New Concord, O., where they will meet Muskingum in the latter's Homecoming day feature this afternoon in an attempt to fight their way once more into the win column.

The team traveled as far as Cambridge, O., yesterday. Here they put in a short practice session and spent the night. They proceeded to New Concord today shortly before game time.

The rivalry between Westminster and Muskingum is not of long standing for the series started in 1932. The interest lies in the fact that the two schools are sister colleges.

In the two years of rivalry the Muskies have taken both games. In 1932, at New Concord, they won 7 to 6; last year before the Westminster Homecoming crowd they defeated the Titans 6 to 0. Coach Gilbane's men are out to attempt to start evening up the series.

Westminster's extremely poor showing against Frank Wolf's Jackets last week was a source of disappointment to Titan fans. From all available reports the Titans were sadly off their game and displayed none of their usual pep and enthusiasm. This may have been the result of the discouraging tie with Grove City the preceding week.

Muskingum Has Veteran Team
Coach Pop Lang of Muskingum has rounded up a good team over in New Concord and the Gilbanemen will have to open up if they expect to take this tilt. Of Muskingum's first eleven men six of them are seniors and have played against Westminster in the two previous games. These men are: Birch Bell, quarter; Albert Baisler, tackle; Ray Heavely, halfback; John Wyper, end; Robert Patton, end; and Russell Smith, halfback.

The Muskies have had a successful year having won five, tied one, and lost only two games. Last week they lost a tough game to Toledo University 9 to 0.

Titans In Bad Shape
Due to the many injuries received at the hands of the Yellow Jackets last week Coach Gilbane will be forced to send a patched lineup into the game today. The line is nearly intact with the exception of Dick Watt, slashing end, but the backfield will have to be manned by a bunch of near-cripples.

Bill Staples, Jack Laraway, Ray Sweeney, Dave Mintz, and Jim Bailey all received injuries in the Waynesburg battle. Gilbane will have to alternate these men in the ball carrying positions. Ralph Clark is out of play for the season because of a badly injured ankle.

This game is the concluding one on the Muskingum schedule.

W.A.A. Chooses New Members As Season Closes

Summaries of the sport seasons which ended with the arrival of snow were given at W. A. A. meeting Tuesday afternoon. Virginia Booth reported that a total of forty-eight girls had taken part in intra-mural competition this year. Hockey, led by Virgil Wettich, claimed sixty-seven adherents, which marked a favorable increase over last year's number.

For outstanding performance in these sports eight new members have been chosen to W. A. A., the names of whom will be announced next week. Revised editions of the Constitution have been printed and copies will be given to new members.

Lucille Nevin, swimming chairman, announced that Mermaid try-outs will continue through next week. The pool will be open for these try-outs Monday and Wednesday from 2:15 to 3 o'clock, and on Friday afternoon from one o'clock to three. Assisting in Mermaid work are Fern Fox, Kay Wagner, and Elizabeth Cone.

FINAL SCORE

West. 0000-0

Musk. 0020-2

(Special to the Holcad)

New Concord, Ohio, Nov. 16

A fighting band of Blue and White Gridders were defeated by a 2-0 score, in a thrilling battle between Westminster and Muskingum at the College Stadium today. Muskingum scored in the third period as a result of a safety. Ray Sweeney, diminutive halfback was thrown over his own goal line as he attempted an end run from his twenty yard line. The momentum of the Muskingum end carried him over the goal line, but the two point marker was allowed by the referee. Both teams played great ball, each team making eleven first downs.

Muskingum Linemen

MAWHINNEY

SABATINO

Standouts in line play on the Muskingum gridiron outfit are Paul Mawhinney and Al Sabatino. Mawhinney, a 170 lb. sophomore guard, is recognized as one of the best guards in the Ohio conference. Sabatino, also a sophomore, plays a bang-up game at tackle. Sabatino weighing 190 lbs. is the stalwart of the Muskie's powerful defense, this pair of talented linemen are expected to hold their own against Westminster's forward wall.

Block W To Make Wrestling Part Of Intra-Mural Card

At a meeting of the Westminster Varsity Club last Tuesday night it was decided that letter men will be entitled to wear the new "crew hats" so successfully introduced on the college campus by Tom Gilbane. They will be similar to those flashy head-gears now being sported by the Sphinx, Senior Men's Honorary Society. They will be surmounted by a block "W".

With the proceeds of the Varsity Dance, to be held a week from tomorrow in the college gymnasium, the members of the Varsity Club plan to purchase wrestling mats in order to introduce this sport as a new intramural innovation.

Clark Injured

Ralph Clark, freshman fullback, will be missing from the Titan grid squad for the remainder of the season due to injuries sustained in the Waynesburg game.

Frosh, Sophomore Teams Set For Final Workouts

With only a week remaining before the annual tilt between the freshmen and the sophomores, practices will be resumed on Monday afternoon for a week of hard drill. Jack Hulme announces that all men who intend to participate in the contest must be adjudged in good physical condition to avoid injuries. Coach Lausberg has been building a dark horse machine of freshmen which features plenty of power and speed along with some clever punters. Coach Kellett has been experimenting with the Warner single and double wing formations at the offense of the sophomores. This game, which is one of the high spots of the intramural season will be played on the college field a week from Monday.

Titan Harriers Bow To Tech On Schenley Course

The Westminster Harrier received their second straight setback of the current season when they were outclassed by the Carnegie Tech runners by a 15-40 score. The run was over the Schenley Park course and although no Westminster runner finished among the first five, the time of the run was exceptionally good.

Jim Smalley, captain of the 1932 cross country team was in New Wilmington during the past week with a hunting party from his home town. Smalley was probably the greatest cross country runner ever to wear a W. During one meet, Smalley, fearing that his team mate would miss the last flag, retraced his steps and put his mates on the right track. He then sprinted ahead and passed all of the opposing harriers and finished first.

Yellow Jacket Pony Backfield Runs Wild

In a game which proved very disappointing to Westminster fans the Titans fell before a light but shifty Waynesburg eleven 20-0 last Saturday. This game gave Waynesburg the upper hand in the Tri-State Conference race and eliminated the Blue and White Titans altogether. Waynesburg gained the upper hand early and held it throughout the contest.

Waynesburg Offense Clicks

The Titans received the opening and, after several attempts at line, punted. On the very first play Currie carried the pigskin on a reverse for twenty yards. Then McComb picked up about three through the line and Worden took the ball on a reverse and crossed the last stripe for the first Yellow Jacket score. A substitute was injected and he promptly converted via the placement route. Later in the first period Waynesburg again gained possession of the ball in Westminster territory by virtue of a fumble. The Yellow Jackets again came through with their running attack and scored another touchdown. Worden again carried the ball over, and the touchdown was again converted by a placement by McComb.

Titans Fight Back

After the disastrous first quarter the Blue and White defense settled down and held the dangerous rabbit backs of Westminster. The second period was merely a nip and tuck affair with Waynesburg guarding their lead by putting on second and third down. Titan strategy clicked in this period when Bob Arrowsmith pulled a quick kick which went for seventy yards. The first period odds were too great for the much heavy Titans to overcome and their highly touted offense failed to click at all during the course of the first half.

Jackets Block Punt

In the third period the Titan's offense clicked to the extent of three first downs but as the game grew on it was evident that it just wasn't Westminster's day. In the final quarter one of Waynesburg's linemen slashed through and blocked a Titan punt. The Jacket offense then went into action and scored another touchdown. The score came as McComb, a 165 pound fullback dove over the line for about four yards. The try for placement was wide. In the final moment of the game Westminster threatened to score but the gun ended this promptly. Coach Wolf remarked that the day was made to order for his light speedy backfield. Rain threatened early Saturday but it held off until the little backs had galloped to victory over a much heavier opponent.

Native Of Armenia Speaks In Chapel

Mr. James Dyer, a native of Armenia, spoke in chapel November 13 on the customs and habits of the Armenian race. According to Mr. Dyer, the school system in his country is a very strict and effective one, although literature and science are not stressed as much as the languages. The Armenian language is very easy to learn, having a definitely limited vocabulary.

Mr. Dyer made his final appearance in New Wilmington, Thursday evening, November 15, at the Methodist church when he gave the Mohammedan prayer, that he was forced to pray three times daily, while living in Armenia. He exhibited many beautiful costumes and talked in detail about the different phases of Armenian life.

Speaks In Ellwood City

Editor's Mail Bag

you learn to tolerate people and that don't do you no harm when you get out in the world. It ought to help you be a better public talker because you find out what NOT to say to a bunch of kids in school. And no one so as they won't rebel without giving it a thunk or two. First, it develops a wonderful sense of humor, who hasn't been in our chapels this year knows the real reason for the Depression, but we do cause we've been told over and over again and it doesn't have anything to do with economics and stuff like that—its something spiritual. Everyone wants to learn life's little practical philosophies and if you go regularly to chapel you know that you rarely get something for nothing. But I ain't so strong for being abstract about things I like to be practical. Here's some more excuse for chapel. It is a convenient time to see your boy friends but more specially your girl friends (maybe I shouldn't put that in the plural). It gives you a recess when you can smoke a cigarret. It allows you to mobilize football field sweeper-uppers. And besides all this it reminds you weakly that you better go to church day after to-morrow.

Mr. Editor, if me and you want to do something for old Westminster maybe we can let the students know what all chapel will do to them and then maybe they won't want to cut

—LEM

Dear Sirs:

Gentlemen of Westminster college, wise up! A young lady usually has several dates with a man before going "steady" with him. A practice has persisted among the men of the college of neglecting a girl as soon as she has more than one date with the same person. And, according to most reports, it "burns 'em up."

They are absolutely helpless in the matter. Most of our coeds would like some variety, but do they get it? Certainly not. As soon as they date a man more than once they are credited with being practically engaged to him. No one else will ask for dates, and the result is that they must date the same person again and again, which further strengthens the illusion of their "going steady."

Three cheers for the freshman girls in Browne Hall. They rebelled against our policy of "no trespassing" and most of them threw over their too easily acquired "boy friends." Naturally there are many instances on the campus where more than one man is rushing the same girl, but in the great majority of cases our co-eds are railroaded into steady dating with someone whom they would prefer to look upon as only an occasional companion.

What is the solution to this problem? Frankly, we don't know. The only expedient we can offer is, don't ignore a girl, merely because she has dated someone else more than once. Possibly she didn't know of your existence. Ask her for a date. If she is seeking variety she will probably accept, if she isn't you can soon tell. Forget our policy of "no trespassing." It is honorable up to a certain degree, but it doesn't give the ladies a break. —Stentor II

Theatre Reviews

If a thirteen-year-old girl had not attended a skating rink in Vienna, "The Merry Widow," glamorous Franz Lehar musical romance, might never have been born.

This interesting story, told by Lehar himself, is repeated by Jeanette MacDonald, co-starred with Maurice Chevalier in Ernst Lubitsch's spectacular production of the operetta, which comes Saturday to the Penn Theatre, New Castle.

Needed Librettist

Lehar, she relates, was a military bandmaster, with aspiration to write opera. He had completed "Kukuschka" and needed a librettist. He sought Paul Stein, greatest of Viennese librettists, but failed to interest him.

Lehar was playing at a great open-air skating rink, and Lizzy Stein, the librettist's daughter, skated there, there, loved Lehar's music and especially his march, "Yet'st Gehts Los." She told her father about it, and insisted that he'd never had any music as good in any of his shows.

Stein became interested, listened to Lehar's band at the famous Prater, and wrote him a letter asking if he were still opera-minded.

Thus formed the combination of Lehar, Stein, and Victor Leon, and they created "The Merry Widow" with Lehar's music, Stein's libretto and Leon's lyrics.

Nine Colleges Participate In Debate Tourney

Nine college debate teams will take part in an intercollegiate forensic tournament at Westminster on December 8. Professor Albert J. Tener announces. Last year Westminster inaugurated such a tournament, and the Westminster team won the event.

Colleges who will compete, in addition to Westminster are: Grove City, Waynesburg, Allegheny, Baldwin-Wallace, Pitt, Geneva, Slippery Rock, and St. Francis. Each college will be represented by two teams, with every college meeting every other institution during the four rounds of the tournament.

Contrary to last year's plan of having a two day tournament, determining the winners, and presenting a cup to the final winner, this year no decisions will be given. This is in order to have more schools competing and to give each team a chance to meet every other team entered in the tournament.

According to present plans, the 36 debaters on the 18 teams representing nine institutions will start the first round of debates on December 8 at 2 o'clock, and the final round will be held in the chapel at 8:30 in the evening.

The question is Resolved: That the nations should agree to prohibit the international shipment of arms and munition. Melvin Moorhouse and Bernard Kaplan will take the affirmative side of the question for Westminster college while Robert Ralston and John Gerstner will take the negative side.

Professor A. J. Tener announces the opening of the women's debate season on December 10 with Allegheny college. He states that there are between fifty and sixty debates scheduled for Westminster teams this year.

Dedicate Argo To Dean Turner

Dean Mary E. Turner has been designated by the staff of the 1934 Argo as recipient of the dedication of the volume.

The book, which will appear next May will be printed in shades of brown, and will follow a Gothic theme, consistent with the architectural plan of Old Main Memorial.

An illuminated manuscript printing of the large window at the rear of the chapel is planned for the frontispiece.

Virginia Rumbaugh is editor of the book; Harvey Snyder is business manager.

Edgar Allshouse and Mildred Ralston have been appointed to the Senior class invitation committee, David Harris, president, announces.

Members of the class may submit their orders for invitations to either member of the committee.

William Shira Recieves Delta Nabla Math Award

William Shira, who has the honor of having maintained the highest average in mathematics in last year's freshman class, was awarded a chemistry handbook by Delta Nabla, honorary mathematics fraternity, in chapel Tuesday, November 20.

In addition to his high standing in mathematics, Shira held an almost perfect scholastic record with an average of 2.875 for his freshman year.

Delta Nabla began the custom of making this yearly award in 1932.

Trustees Make Plans For New Library Building

Members of the Board of Trustees met Monday, November 22 in the Keystone club, Pittsburgh to make plans for the new library.

A committee was appointed and given the power to choose an architect who will draw up plans for the new building. It will also be the duty of this committee to arrange a program for raising the necessary money for the project.

Those serving on the committee are: Dr. H. H. Donaldson, Mrs. R. C. McKelvey, Mr. R. E. English, Mr. Thomas Jones, Mr. Ray Neville, Mr. W. A. Johns, Mr. William M. Duff, and Mr. W. C. George.

Rhythmic Music And Clever Art Effects Attract W Dancers

Unusual effects will be achieved by clever decorations devised by members of the Block W Club, for the dance to be held in the gymnasium tomorrow evening, from eight to 11 p. m. Following a color scheme of blue and white, the gymnasium will be transformed into a temporary ballroom lighted by blue floodlights focused above a false ceiling. Block W insignias will decorate the corners and ferns around the orchestra stand will complete the decorations.

Franz Scott and his fifteen piece band, featuring Clarence Brallier, vocalist, has been engaged to furnish rhythm for the dancers.

Professor and Mrs. J. D. Lawther, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Euwema, and Mr. Jack Hulme have been invited to attend the dance as special guests of the club.

Bill Staples, president of the club, announces that tickets are still available at the price of one dollar per couple, and may be secured from any letterman.

Members of the committee in charge of the dance are: Bob Grier, chairman; Harvey Snyder, Ray Elliott, Jack Willis, and Perry Klumph.

Thanksgiving Service

Architect Consults With Administration On Library

Plans for Westminster's new library are rapidly taking a more tangible form, with the appointment of a committee by the Board of Trustees and definite plans for the building being considered by the college administration.

Last week, Mr. T. H. Lindberg of the Sneed Stack Co., Jersey City, consulted with college authorities on stack problems for the new building.

He brought with him prints of an ideal library, which were drawn up for his company by an experienced New York library architect.

The trend in library design, according to these sketches, is that of greater flexibility than has ever been attempted, in the uses to which various parts of the building can be put. This flexibility is gained by building on a unit plan, which would be nine feet long, nine feet wide, and eight feet high. This unit would allow any area to be used interchangeably for book storage, reading, or work space.

The ceiling height, in all but the main reading rooms, would be eight feet, which is the usual height of

College Allots Work To More People Than FERA Quota Allows

All seventy-three of the FERA jobs which have been allotted to Westminster have been filled and the college is employing additional students and paying them from the college budget, according to H. R. Patton, business manager.

Several campus projects are being carried out by the workers. They include: landscaping of the campus, construction of playground facilities, and tennis courts, and clearing the college woods of underbrush.

In communities other than New Wilmington, 23 students are being employed in the schools and public libraries where they are filling stenographical, clerical, playground, and tutoring positions.

Nine of the student workers have aided the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction in making an inventory of on-coming youth in the State.

Student Council Announces Rule For Chapel Cuts

Despite the fact that rumors have been circulating the campus to the effect that one-fifth of an hour credit is being deducted from the student's record for every chapel cut taken during the year, the statement is not true according to Student council.

An announcement drawn up by the Council reads: "After conference with the administration offices of the college, Student council is able to make the following report to the students on the question of chapel cuts which have caused much confusion and uncertainty during the last few weeks.

"Chapel attendance is required five days each week, but there will be no penalty for a single absence each week. This absence is provided to take care of unavoidable absence during the week. For each absence over one, however, there will be one-fifth of an hour deducted from the general credit of the student.

"A student may present a written petition for the excuse of any chapel overcut. This does not imply that the petition will necessarily be granted or refused."

In other words if a student cuts chapel at the beginning of the week and is forced to be absent at the end of the week by illness, he loses one-fifth of an hour credit.

Music Students Present Recital Program Today

Student performers, from the conservatory of music, were featured in a varied program presented in the recital hall this afternoon at four p. m.

Miss Dorothy Kirkbride was in charge of the program which was given by the following students: Irene Soltes, Gracie Bell, Janet Bailey, Jane Gilmore, Lowenne Swindler, Lois McGill, Doris Munson, and Ruth Sewall.

Lois McGill and Sadie Mae Foltz accompanied the vocal and violin selections.

One-half Of Frosh Girls Join Greek Organizations

Fifty-one members of the Freshman class were pledged to the seven sororities on the campus at the conclusion of the annual rushing season today.

Professor Ben Euwema, head of the English department, acted as referee of the sorority rushing.

Eleven girls were pledged to Alpha Gamma Delta. They are: Mary Boyd, Lucille Giles, Betty Heintz, Izora Mangus, Isabel Meloy, Jean Riddell, Jean Rifter, Jean Shrader, Anne Stephens, Dorothy Veazey, and Marian L. Khardt.

Beta Pi Alpha sorority pledged: Grace Elliott, Betty Anderson, Ardyth Bittner, and Virginia Eckles.

Chi Omega sorority pledged 10 girls. They are: Betty Barrett, Noreen Bontrager, Esther Crooks, Agnes Donaldson, Jean Drummond, Marjorie Dunn, Muriel Gearhart, Betty Greenough, Sally Hamilton, and Betty Spahman.

Eight girls were pledged to Kappa Delta sorority. They are: Ruth Butten, Eunice Dickson, Margaret Forrest, Joy Huston, Edith Irvin, Melva Keeper, Alice McCrory, and Margaret Martin.

Omicron Mu Gamma sorority pledged: Janet Bailey, Betty Campbell, Doris Munson, and Irene Soltes.

Seven girls accepted bids to Sigma Kappa sorority. They are: Pauline Brown, Miriam Cassidy, Catherine Galmish, Dorothy Good, Lois Knapp, Margaret Sloan and Mary Jane Stevenson.

Theta Upsilon sorority pledged seven girls. They are: Claire Alexander, Ruth Black, Jane Byers, Katherine Freeman, Evelyn Hoagland, Helen Walther, and Florence Patterson.

Band Will Parade In Full Uniform At Tomorrow's Game

The college band will be seen for the first time in their complete uniforms tomorrow afternoon when they will parade at the half of the Geneva game.

Blue military coats trimmed and lettered in white have arrived to complete the uniforms. Until this time the band wore regulation caps and trousers but had a wide variety of coats and sweaters.

One of the outstanding dress parades of the season was held last week at the Muskingum game when the bands from both schools presented a "double attraction" performance at the half.

Westminster's blue and white players, seemingly tired of playing marches, presented their own arrangement of "Tiger Rag," "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," and others which met with much favor with the Muskingum fans who were forced to shun popular dance music until this year.

Under the direction of Paul Slater, instructor of music at the Beaver Falls high school and director of the Geneva college band, the buff and gray uniformed Geneva band, composed of 25 members, will also be on hand to take part in the dress parade. Both bands will probably unite at the half and play a number together.

Honor Gibanes

Students and faculty members paid tribute to coaches Tom and Bill Gibane and our football team this morning during chapel period.

Professor R. K. Graham, William Staples, and the coaches Gibane spoke briefly to the students, and the college band played several selections.

Father's Day

Why Not Make Father's Day A Regular Day On The College Calendar

Father's Day has been celebrated at various times this year by the fraternities on the campus, despite the fact that the Freshman Handbook says that, "each spring a day is set aside by the fraternities, on which they invite all the fathers to the college for a day."

Although Father's day has not been officially celebrated by the college as a whole for the last few years it should occupy a position in the college calendar just as Mother's day does. Although it is probably difficult for many of the fathers to attend such a function, most of them should be able to come to a Saturday afternoon football game and stay for a Saturday evening program.

The Holcad suggests to the Student council that they make it a part of their program of activities to put Father's day on the college calendar of next year on the Saturday of some home football game.

Radio And Education

Increasing Demand For Radio Education Should Be Met By Colleges

In recent years there has been an over-increasing demand for education by radio. Though education is the primary purpose of college and university stations, the commercial broadcasters devote most of their attention to entertainment, which in all business enterprises has always been a better paying proposition than education.

The National Committee on Education by Radio advocates a plan of allotting a fixed percentage of radio facilities to educational, religious, and other nonprofit agencies.

While this is a forward step toward worthwhile radio programs, it is readily apparent that the institutions of higher learning are best equipped to anticipate and supply what is needed in radio education. The college broadcasting stations throughout the country deserve our whole-hearted support, and the erection of new ones should be encouraged.

Radio broadcasting can do no finer thing than to make education free and accessible to all who desire it.

Prof. A. M. Webb, Duke University (Durham, N. C.) professor of Romance languages, has recently received the distinction of being named "Officier d'Academic," an honorary degree conferred by the minister of public instruction of France.

Freshmen at Lehigh University (Bethlehem, Pa) have a higher intelligence than last year's freshman class, according to results obtained from a recent psychological test.

FERA Provides Part Time Employment For College And University Students

Washington, D. C.—Financial aid for 94,331 students in 1,466 colleges and universities in the United States and possessions will be provided by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration during the present school year, Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has announced. These students will receive a monthly allotment of $1,414, 940.

Each college president is held responsible for the program in his administration, and students will be employed in socially-desirable work on and off the campus. On the campus they will be engaged in research, clerical, office, library, museum, and laboratory work, while off the campus activities include community education, health, and welfare projects.

The selection of students to receive aid is to be from among those who without this help would be unable to attend or remain in college.
The quota for each college is 12 per cent of the enrollment as of Oct. 15, 1933. A student is permitted to earn as much as $20 a month, but the allotment of funds to each college will be on the basis of $15 a month for each of 12 per cent of its enrollment of full-time students.

Holcadabra

The scouts fell down on the job this week so we made a nuisance of ourselves calling on the phone. News was scarce
... In the Holcad office, however, we found this delightful contribution taken from a book written by somebody or other:

TO THE FACULTY
You tell us in philosophy
That time does not exist
That tis but a film of fancy,
A little mental mist.

And space—why, space is nothing More than a mere mode of thought,
A sort of mental telescope
Our feeble minds have wrought.

Well, if that's true, respected sirs,
I'll breakfast at my ease,
And think myself in chapel
Just as often as you please.
—P.P.S.

—O—
During a walk around town
we saw: Douglas Smiley laboriously trying to convince Spook and Ginger, the two Phi Pi pups, (no, not pledges) that they should behave themselves while walking up Market street with him. Numerous bits of silk and lace hanging from the fire escape on Thompson house
... Somebody's washing. ... Students peering from Doctor Russell's class room windows to see if his car was in evidence so that they would know whether to cut or not. ... The Varsity house being painted a bright creamish-yellow so that the boys can find it on dark nights.

—O—
For once we were very quiet and we heard:

A professor relating how rainfall had washed a vast part of the Allegheny mountains into the Ohio river From there the soil was carried into the Mississippi and was finally washed out the mouth of the St.
Lawrence river. ... Some rain! ... A poor innocent asking if the Block
"W" letters meant that the wearer was a waiter in one of the dorms
... Girls sobbing at Browne hall because they didn't know which sorority to join.

—O—
By careful questioning it was learned that: Peace treaties are being formulated and most of the rival sororities will be speaking to each other by the end of the week. ... Rudisch wears size 14½ shoes. ... A new sorority has been founded at the Robertson house. If you can guess the meaning of the name you are invited to join. ... The sound of tramping feet so often heard in the chapel of late was made by students trying out for positions on the sound effects crew of the play, "The Enemy".

—O—
It was a stunning blow to realize:
That in spite of all our efforts to bring Ruffalo's trouser's cuffs down to terra-firma we seem to be slipping ... Yesterday he was seen with them rolled up twice as high. ... If it keeps up at this rate they'll be positively immodest by Christmas time.

—O—
We discovered that: Gurlous studies in female reactions could be made in the Browne Hall and Hillside dining rooms when they serve onions, in one form or another on Friday or Saturday night. ... The huge limb that fell from the tree in front of Browne Hall was not broken off by the wind, but was torn off by a Block "W" member who used it to good advantage in promoting a ticket sale for the dance.

—O—
Closing thought:
"Girls, my clock says eight-thirty."

Titans Finish Season With Geneva

Westminster To Battle Covenanters On Even Footing Tomorrow

Fans should see plenty of mud and action when Coach Bill Gilbane's Westminster Titans meet Dike Beede's Geneva Covenanters in the last game of the 1934 season here tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock. With a slippery field as the prospect this tilt has all possibilities of developing into a loosely played but none the less spectacular game.

The Gilbane brothers have their men pointed for this game, for the Titans have not defeated the Beaver Falls boys since 1929 when they snowed them under by a 21 to 0 score. This year, however, for the first time in a number of years, the Titans are given a chance to make a comeback and they will let no such opportunity slip from their clutches.

Geneva Unsuccessful

Geneva has had a very unsuccessful season, having dropped tilts to Carnegie Tech, Thiel, Salem, Washington and Jefferson, and Waynesburg; they tied West Virginia Wesleyan and defeated Bethany 26 to 6 for their single win of the year. They seem to play best against major opposition for they held Tech and W. and J. to 7-0 and 6-0 scores respectively.

The only comparison between Westminster and Geneva that can be gleaned from the score sheet are the Thiel and Waynesburg game. The Covenanters were beaten by the Lutherans 12 to 7 while the Titans took them into camp by a 7 to 6 final. This would seem to indicate that the Titans are one touchdown better than the Beavers. Both teams were defeated by Waynesburg, Geneva taking it on the chin 19 to 0 and Westminster took a well deserved 20-0 trouncing from the Jackets. From these statistics it would seem that the teams are on a par. But statistics mean little in a Geneva-Westminster game and the outcome can not possibly be predicted.

Titans-Covenanters Old Rivals

Football rivalry between these two schools is ancient. It started back in '91 when Geneva ran up a 42 to 0 score on the New Wilmington lads. Since that time 41 games have been played and the wins and losses have been about evenly divided, with the Covenanters slightly on the long side of the column. During the last three years the Beavers have taken all the games. In 1930 they eked out a 7 to 0 victory; the 1931 contest ended in a 18-0 win; and the 1932 and '33 frays resulted in 19-0 and 20-0 upsets.

Arrowsmith out of Lineup

Bill Staples, Walt Young, and Dick Watt, unable to play in the Muskingum game last week, because of injuries, will be back in the lineup tomorrow. However, Bob Arrowsmith, veteran quarterback, is definitely out of the game with a crippled knee. His position will be filled by Davey Mintz, who heretofore has seen comparatively little action this season. The rest of the squad is in good condition.

Johnson Dangerous

Coach Beede, former Titan mentor, will probably start Garda, Jones, Johnson, and Pericelli in the Geneva backfield. All of these men are good but Johnson is by far the most dangerous. Johnson is a big, plunging back and seems to be the spark plug of the Covenanter eleven. The Titans will have gone a long way

Titan Courtmen Invade Madison Square Garden

Coach John Lawther's Westminster College basketball team will perform in Madison Square Garden, New York City, on Saturday evening, December 29. The Titans will play Buck Freeman's St. John College team of Brooklyn.

Word from New York City indicates that Westminster and St. Johns and Notre Dame and New York University will be the four teams in the basketball exhibit in the Garden on Dec. 29. St. Johns will play its four leading games in Madison Square, and the Titans, who defeated the Brooklyn team 25-15 two years ago, are considered one of the outstanding teams on Buck Freeman's schedule.

In addition to appearing on the Garden basketball exhibit card, the Titans will also feature the New Year's eve game for City College of New York. Nat Holman's team carded Westminster for this contest after last year's game drew a capacity crowd in New York.

The Titans open the regular season on Monday, December 17, playing Wittenberg on the home floor. Christmas recess starts December 20, but the Titan players will probably stay at the college until December 22. They will return December 27 to leave for New York.

While Westminster is playing John Marshall at Jersey City on December 28, and St. Johns at Madison Square Garden on December 29, City College of New York will be in this section playing Duquesne and Geneva.

Schruers are expected to carry on the yearling punting duties. If these men perform up to pre-game standards their respective teams are likely to have a decided edge.

Teams Use Warner Style

Lausberg has his team lining up in single and double wing formations. The Kellett coached team will also use the Warner system, running all plays from a single and double wing-back formation. The Sophs have a considerable edge in that they have nearly all played High School ball and have played in a game of this sort last year. The Sophs of this year are out to break a record which has prevailed at Westminster for at least five years. The Freshman of past years have won although not having the best team and have yet to repeat their victory of their first year. From this standpoint the sophomore team will be laboring against odds.

Freshman Squad Large

The yearlings have a larger squad for the tilt than their upperclass rivals. The Frosh will have two full teams in uniforms while the Sophs will likely have about eighteen. There will probably not be any iron men playing for either team and the reserves may play an important part in the victory for either side.

The game will be played on the College Field at 2:30 on Tuesday afternoon. The officials will probably consist of Bill Staples, referee; Lou Franklin, umpire; and Dave Mintz, head linesman.

Lineup

W.A.A. To Award Letters On Point Basis This Season

New members will be initiated and welcomed into W. A. A. Monday night at 8:15 in the W. A. A. room at Hillside. Following the formal initiation for Betty Oster, Noreen Bontrager, Betty Barrett, Sally Hamilton, Mildred Kerr and Martha Byers, who were elected for outstanding performing during the hockey and soccer season, there will be the social hour and sport spread that follows every sport season.

Committees that have charge of the "spread" are under the general chairmanship of Jane Smiley, social chairman.

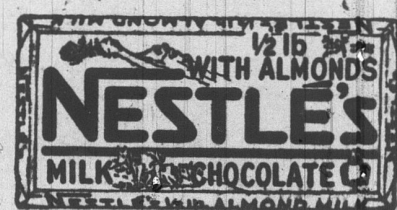

To each new member will be given one hundred points in that sport for which she was elected. For each sport during the year fifty points are awarded for team membership and faithful participation. One hundred points are voted girls who show outstanding ability in a sport. After a girl has spent at least two years at Westminster college, and has earned one thousand points in the various sports, she will be awarded a large Westminster "W". Last year, for the first time, five girls were presented with these letters by Miss Love.

The next sport to be sponsored by W. A. A. will be volley ball. After Thanksgiving games and practices will be scheduled Monday and Thursday afternoons beginning at three o'clock.

Titan Courtmen Tackle Willigs In Charity Game

The date for the first pre-season game, the encounter with the McKeesport Willigs, has been set for November 30. The Westminster courtmen will tackle the imposing array of pro-talent in a charity game to be held at the Sharon High Gym. The proceeds of the game will be used by the Boy Scouts of Mercer county.

Locals Drop The Third Successive Tilt

Last Friday afternoon Muskingum continued to jinx the Westminster grid team by winning by a 2-0 score. The Muskies and Titans battled on even terms through four hard periods of football but the Ohio lads came to the fore in the third quarter and scored a safety. The victory gave Muskingum a decided edge in the series between the sister colleges as they have taken the Titan measure three times.

Penalty Halts Muskies

After an exchange of punts the Muskie backfield started on a sustained march which placed the pigskin on the Westminster one yard stripe. The march was made by long gains through the middle of the Titan forward wall. On the very first play a Muskingum lineman was detected holding and the scoring threat was halted. During the entire first quarter the Titans were kept on the defense.

Titans Take Offense

In the second quarter the Titans took the offense but their play was unsteady and they lost the ball several times by fumbles. Penalties mostly for off-sides also held the offense in check. Even with these breaks against them the Blue and White made four first downs in this period. From the Muskingum thirty yard line an Arrowsmith to Laraway forward pass was good for twenty yards but the officials ruled it incomplete. The officials ruled that Laraway had knocked the defensive man down before he took the pass. This costly break checked Westminster's only serious threat of a score during the entire game.

Muskies Score Safety

With the ball resting on their own twenty yard line Westminster attempted an end run from punt formation but a combination, bad pass and fumble resulted in Sweeney's being tackled behind his own goal line for a safety. Here another question arose because the momentum of the Muskingum end, who tackled Sweeney, carried the diminutive back over the goal line. The officials ruled it a safety and the 2 points were as good as a million.

Battle On Even Terms

The game was hard fought throughout the entire 60 minutes with each team collecting 11 first downs. The Titans played good ball but every time they threatened to score a fumble or a penalty halted them. Bob Scarbrough came up at a different position, this time being in the backfield. "Scar" ripped off gains of five yards every time he carried the ball but his ball handling was rusty as this marked his first backfield attempt in two years. The game was played before a Friday afternoon Homecoming crowd of 2500.

Madam Carof Tells Of Peace Situations On European Frontiers

"Peace Situations on the European Frontiers" was the subject for a very interesting talk given by Madame Carof of Paris in chapel November 22. Madame Carof has studied the conditions in the various European countries with a view toward lecturing. For the last six years she has studied especially conditions in Germany and Austria Hungary and has visited these countries every year.

In 1920 she organized the Versailles suffrage group and spoke to women's organizations on suffrage. However, since 1927 she has specialized in International Relations. She has spoken in Paris, Versailles, Bordeaux, Marseilles and other famous cities on "Problems of South Eastern Europe."

Madame Carof stated in her brief talk that she believed that through strengthening the league, the countries of South Eastern Europe might form a federation and thus remedy the economic stress.

At the present time Madame Carof is studying the economic conditions in America with the view of lecturing in France on her return in January.

Dr. Galbreath Speaks At Dedication Services

Dr. R. F. Galbreath was the principal speaker at the dedication of the new Sabbath school of the Presbyterian church at Turtle Creek, Sunday, November 18.

Dr. Galbreath also spoke at the administration conference of the Mercer county Sabbath School Association held at the United Presbyterian church, Farrell, Tuesday, November 20.

Professors Discuss Economics At Sharon

Professors C. W. McKee, Ross Ellis, and E. T. Miller, of the economics department, led a group discussion on economics at a meeting of the University club at Sharon, Wednesday evening, November 21.

Mr. McKee spoke on "Present Trends of Production", Mr. Miller on "Present Trends of Consumption", and Mr. Ellis led a discussion on "Present Trends of Finance".

Faculty Adopts New Policy For Grading Classes

In an effort to make the grading system more consistent throughout all departments of the college, the faculty of Westminster has adopted the following recommendations:

1. That attainment in subject matter of the particular course be the sole basis for grading. This means:

That no activity, whether curricular or not, outside of the immediate course shall be considered in determining the grade; in other words, additional work should be indicated in the statement of the course.

That such consideration as interest and enthusiasm, exemplary class attendance, faithfulness and promptness in meeting the obligations of the course, and hard work though the pupil be dull, shall not be considered as entitling the pupil to any increase in the grade given, but, as stated, actual attainment in the subject matter of the course shall be the sole basis for grading.

2. That the load to be put on the pupil shall be such as will on the average require two hours of preparation outside of class for every hour spent in class in order for the average pupil to make an average grade, 70-80 per cent.

Dr. Gilbert Taylor was chairman of the committee which submitted the above recommendations. Dean Alex C. Burr, Dr. James A. Swindler, Miss Pearl Hoagland, and Miss Ruth E. McConnell assisted him.

Dr. Galbreath And Male Quartet Will Broadcast at KDKA

Full schedules in Pittsburgh are planned by both Dr. R. F. Galbreath and the college male quartet for Saturday and Sunday, December 8 and 9.

Sunday night, Dr. Galbreath, the quartet, and the Reverend Don McClure will participate in the weekly missionary broadcast from KDKA and W8XX.

The quartet will give a concert Saturday evening in the Mount Washington United Presbyterian church, and will sing for the Sunday morning service at the same church.

In addition to the radio broadcast Sunday night, the quartet will appear earlier in the evening at the Wilkesburg United Presbyterian church; Dr. Galbreath will preach.

Members of the quartet are Clarence Brallier, first tenor; Charles Schmitt, second tenor; Richard Davis, baritone; Robert Maxwell, bass; and Paul McKnight, accompanist.

Last Wednesday afternoon, December 5, the quartet sang at the meeting of the Lawrence County Grange in New Wilmington; two plays, "Wistful Waiting" and "The White Elephant" were also presented by college students, under the direction of Professor A. T. Cordray.

Thursday evening, the quartet furnished music for the annual banquet of the Pittsburgh district tri-county football officials, at Tarentum.

Attend Educational Meeting at Indiana

President R. F. Galbreath, Dean Alex C. Burr, Dr. Charles Freeman, and Dr. James A. Swindler attended an educational conference at the University of Indiana, Bloomington, Indiana, last week on Monday and Tuesday.

Dean Burr represented Westminster college at a meeting of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Eastern Association of Deans held in Atlantic City, Friday and Saturday, November 30 and December 1. The reorganization of the college curriculum was discussed. Dr. Conant, president of Harvard university, was the principal guest speaker.

Debate Tournament Plans Complete, Opens Saturday

Heads Committee

GILBERT H. TAYLOR, professor of ancient languages, heads the committee recommending the new grading policy which was adopted by the faculty last week.

Plans for the intercollegiate debate tournament scheduled for Saturday, December 8, have been completed, Professor Albert J. Tener announces. Ten Colleges will be represented. They are: Westminster, Grove City, Waynesburg, Allegheny, Penn State, Baldwin-Wallace, Pitt, Geneva, Slippery Rock, and St. Francis. Each college will send two teams, one negative, the other affirmative, of two members each. Each team will have four debates, the schedule being so arranged that no two schools debate twice.

All are to be decision debates, but no one school will be declared winner at the end of the tournament as was the case last year. The debates will be judged by professors from the various competing schools but no professor will judge his own school in any debate. The conventional style of debate will be used, each debater having ten minute constructive speech and a five minute rebuttal.

Saturday at six o'clock there will be an informal dinner held at the Tavern with Professor Cordray presiding as toastmaster. Dr. Galbreath will give a speech welcoming the debaters and Professor Burrows of Grove City will respond in behalf of the guests. Members of the debate squad will act as hosts.

The question to be debated is, "Resolved: That the nations should agree to prohibit the international shipment of arms and munitions." Westminster will be represented on the affirmative side by Melvin Moorhouse and Bernard Kaplan. Robert Ralston and John Gerstner will take the negative side. The student body is cordially invited to attend.

At two o'clock the following debates will take place: Westminster, affirmative vs. Waynesburg, room 307; Allegheny, affirmative vs. Westminster; Baldwin-Wallace, affirmative vs. Allegheny; Geneva, affirmative vs. Baldwin-Wallace; Grove City, affirmative vs. Geneva; Penn State, affirmative vs. Grove City; Pitt, affirmative vs. Penn State; St. Francis, affirmative vs. Pitt; Slippery Rock.

The second round of debates will begin at 3:15 and will proceed as follows: Grove City, affirmative vs. Baldwin-Wallace; Penn State, affirmative vs. Geneva; Pitt, affirmative vs. Grove City; St. Francis, affirmative vs. Penn State; Slippery, affirmative vs. Pitt; Waynesburg, affirmative vs. St. Francis; Westminster, affirmative vs. Slippery Rock; Allegheny, affirmative vs. Waynesburg; Baldwin-Wallace, affirmative vs. Westminster; and Geneva, affirmative vs. Allegheny.

Scheduled to begin at 4:30 the third round includes: Slippery Rock, affirmative vs. Penn State; Waynesburg, affirmative vs. Pitt; Westminster, affirmative vs. St. Francis; Allegheny, affirmative vs. Slippery Rock; Baldwin-Wallace, affirmative vs. Waynesburg; Geneva, affirmative vs. Westminster; Grove City, affirmative vs. Allegheny; Penn State.

One-Act Plays Postponed To January 10, 11

Three one act plays, "Winsome Winnie," "Farewell, Cruel World," and "Stars and Groceries," will be presented January 10-11 instead of the previously announced dates December 13-14 by members of the dramatic classes under the direction of Professor A. T. Cordray.

Richard Morris, Katherine Goeddel, and Jean Jaxthelmer have roles in "Farewell, Cruel World," melodrama in miniature, while Bruce Bowers, Izora Mangus and Dale Galbreath are working on "Stars and Groceries."

Stephen Leacock's play, "Winsome Winnie" will be portrayed by Melvin Moorhouse, Mary Carlton Wright, William Miller, Dean George, Clem Lausberg, Arthur Deichmiller, Martha Byers, and Eunice Dickson. The entire act, entertainers will be Dorothy Patch, Russell Leiby, Olive Pope, and Comfort Spelman.

"The World We Live In" will be given March 6-9 by the speech classes. On April 11-12 several one act plays will be staged and the last dramatic production of the school year will be May 8-11.

Two plays, "Wistful Waiting" and "White Elephants" were presented by the dramatic production class before the county grange meeting which was held December 5 at the Methodist church.

Miss Stewart's Class Guests at French Tea

Miss Elizabeth Stewart entertained her class in French conversation at a tea at her home, Wednesday afternoon, December 5. At this social function, which took the place of a class session, French was spoken exclusively.

Mary Carlton Wright, Virginia Booth, and Mary Louise Jenkins presented a short play entitled "Le Medecin Mystique."

Y. P. C. U. Meeting

"Why and How I Believe in God" will be the topic discussed at the college Y. P. C. U. meeting Sabbath evening. Robert Ralston and Mary Jane Eversole will have charge of the meeting.

Will Speak Tonight

DR. EMIL LENGYEL
Dr. Emil Lengyel, prominent lawyer and journalist will speak on the lecture course program tonight on the "New Deal in Europe."

Lengyel Speaks On Europe's New Deal Tonight In Chapel

Dr. Emil Lengyel, journalist, lawyer, author, publicist and lecturer, will appear on the lecture course program this evening in the college chapel, speaking on the "New Deal in Europe."

Dr. Lengyel is well acquainted with the Austrian-German situation, knew Chancellor Dollfuss, and has interviewed the leading men of Europe today.

When the war broke out Dr. Lengyel was studying law at the Royal Hungarian university, and at the age of twenty joined the army. During his army life he experienced a number of remarkable adventures. After his escape from imprisonment in Siberia, he returned to Hungary and there witnessed both the Red and White terrors. He became a newspaper correspondent in Vienna where his reputation became such that he was sent to America in 1921, where he has lived for the past thirteen years, interpreting Europe to America and America to Europe in newspapers of both countries.

Dr. Lengyel replenishes his vast fund of informative material concerning European affairs by spending several months each year in Europe, observing developments in politics and economics and maintaining his contacts with some of the greatest men in the Old World.

In this country the New York Times publishes an average of three articles a month written by him. Other of his articles have been published in magazines. Dr. Lengyel is also the author of several well known books, the latest of which is titled, "The New Deal in Europe" which gives the story in simple and understandable language and which critics hailed as an excellent and highly important book, the best on the subject in the English language.

Dr. Lengyel's lectures contain a world of profound information and his every lecture is of great value. Although a Hungarian by birth, he views all questions from the vantage point of a naturalized American citizen. His news is informative, concise and his topic is one of particular interest to those interested in Europe's vital issues.

Christmas Bazaar Will Attract Many College Students

Westminster students and faculty are cordially invited to attend the Christmas bazaar which the American Association of University Women is conducting this evening and tomorrow in the basement of the United Presbyterian church.

There will be booths laden with gifts for all ages. The Y. W. C. A. will have charge of the refreshment booth, which will attract many students on Friday evening after Dr. Lengyel's lecture, and on Saturday evening as well. Girl Scouts will have charge of the Book Shower, where second-hand books will be sold. Candy will be sold on Friday at the Food booth. The White Elephant booth will be one of the most interesting of all.

The bazaar will be open at 4:00 on Friday and will be continued throughout the evening. On Saturday, the opening hour will be 2:00. Two special programs will be given on Saturday for those attending the bazaar at 3:00 in the afternoon and at 8:00 in the evening. One of the benefits is the Library Fund.

Anthony Camp Plays For Freshman Dance

Anthony Camp's orchestra will furnish the music for the Freshman class dance which will be held in the gymnasium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Camp's orchestra is from Pittsburgh and has played for many college dances in this district.

Robert Reniers is the head of the committee in charge and he announces that tickets are on sale at 75 cents each.

Special guests for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Biberich and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johns.

Plans Complete For Pan-Hellenic Dance

Plans have been completed for the annual Pan-Hellenic dance, to be held Saturday evening, December 15, in the gymnasium.

Frank Scott's well-known orchestra has been secured to furnish the music, and appropriate holiday colors will be emphasized in decorating the gym.

The social order, will be reversed, as is the custom at the Pan-Hellenic dances and the women will take the men and will pay the admission fee. The women are working hard to make this dance successful.

Committees are as follows: orchestra, Isabell Reed, Tony Baird, McClees Murray, and Nancy Litman; decorations, Jane Holland, Helen Dreier, Virginia Rumbaugh, and Gladys Blaine; advertising, Rita Hite; tickets, Lola Sewall.

College Petitions For Lower Power Rates

As a result of a letter written by H. R. Patton, business manager of the college, to the New Wilmington council, a committee was appointed by that body to make plans for reduced electric power rates to consumers of the borough.

In his letter Mr. Patton pointed out that the college could not afford to pay the present electric rates, since they were competing with colleges whose electric overhead is figured at only one and a half to one and seven-eighths cents per kilowatt hour.

Prexy Speaks

Dr. Galbreath spoke this afternoon, December 7, before the Freeport Current Events Club.

Students Become Art Conscious as Japanese Prints Are Exhibited

By Helen Taylor

Twenty-four of the fifty-eight Japanese prints, which are being displayed by the art department in the computer's room, have already been sold according to latest statistics.

Included in the group are works of contemporary artists and reproductions of the works of some of the great masters of the print, whose works were produced in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

Professor H. J. Brennan pointed out the fact that each work is the result of a very involved and intricate process of printing. They are printed on rice paper from blocks carved from cherrywood—a separate block being required for each color in the print. From 12 to 26 blocks were needed to print the works in the exhibit.

Another interesting feature, according to Professor Brennan, is the fact that the Japanese are interested only in portraying beauty, disregarding realism, the main theme of American art.

Several of the prints by Kosen are especially distinctive, for instance the work entitled "The Monkey" is an example of perfect balance, while in the print "The Fox Dance" the coloring is very unusual. Professor Brennan, in commenting on this particular print, said, "the coloring is so rare that it may never be found again in any other work."

The prints range in price from 35 cents to four dollars and fifty cents, and the commission realized from the sale of these will be donated to the library fund by the art department.

Honor System

Westminster Accused Of Having Honor Plan; Error In Information

A story in the November issue of the American Campus, a college newspaper, dated from North Wilmington, Pa., which was probably meant to be New Wilmington read as follows:

"Students and authorities of Westminster College here boast an honor system 'that works.'
Just a year ago the faculty voted to turn over the problem of maintaining honesty in examinations over to the students. Since that time a different attitude has been noticed on the campus.

"Authorities of the institution report that as must be expected there are a few offenders. To take care of them a student council has been formed. It is said that the cheater at Westminster College is virtually ostracized."

This paper seems to have made an error in information. There is no honor system at Westminster; there is no different attitude on the campus; the student council was not formed to enforce an honor system; and the cheater at Westminster College is not virtually ostracized. Members of the faculty still keep their deadly eye on students at test and examination time.

An honor system does not seem to be a feasible thing. Many other schools have tried them and several have found it necessary to abolish them. In this same issue of the American Campus a story states that three more schools have dropped honor systems. The three schools referred to were North Carolina State, Tulane, and Cornell. It was not because of the lack of efficiency of the system that brought its downfall in all cases. At Cornell University it was because the students did not want the responsibility imposed by the plan, and therefore voted its discontinuance.

At Tulane the system was abolished following an investigation by a special faculty committee appointed to make a study of the system's efficiency.

The recommendation of the committee was unanimously approved by the academic board of the student body of the college for the 1933-34 term. The newly elected academic board, is however, campaigning for the reinstatement of the honor plan.

In its report the faculty committee stated that students had failed to report violations of the system and that there were such violations, some attested to by students who refused to reveal the names of the violators.

The honor system at North Carolina State was officially abolished October 29 after the faculty had upheld the action of the student council and voted almost unanimously against the retention of the plan.

given Princeton University (N. J.) more than 500 volumes which originally formed part of the library of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Psychiatrist Makes Research Into Effect of 'Truth Serum'

Madison, Wis.—Extensive research in the effects of the "truth serum" on human beings is being conducted here by Dr. William F. Lorenz, University of Wisconsin psychiatrist.

Employing suspects in a recent criminal case here, Dr. Lorenz injected the serum intravenously and attended the examination extending over three hours. He said the potion produces a semiconscious state in which the patient makes direct answers to questions without first considering what his replies will be.

Immediately upon inoculation, the patient becomes unconscious. He then has to be aroused by talking, touching and the application of cold cloths. Dr. Lorenz asserts that the patients may be given another serum which will aid in bringing him to a state in which he will carry on free conversation.

New Band Organization Ideas Presented By The Glen Gray Casa Loma Orchestra

New York City—Glen Gray and the Casa Loma Orchestra, which holds the record for appearances at college and university functions, present new ideas in band organization as well as popular dance rhythms.

Glen Gray is president of the Casa Loma Corporation in which members of the band are stockholders, drawing quarterly dividends as well as regular salaries.

New members are added to the band only after they have been passed on by a board of directors on the basis not only of musical ability but congeniality and personality as well.

This has led to the saying in musical circles that Casa Loma is organized like a business firm and run like a college fraternity.

Originality may be the keynote in their popularity. Casa Loma set a record by playing for more than 70 collegiate affairs in 40 states in three seasons.

The band is now on the air with the Camel Caravan, co-featured with Walter O'Keefe and Annette Hanshaw and broadcast over the Columbia Network every Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Greek Organizations at Southern Cal. Substitute Merit System For Paddling

Los Angeles, Calif.—"Necessity is the mother of invention" runs an old adage, and when Greek letter fraternities at the University of Southern California recently were banned from paddling their pledges by an edict made by Pres. Rufus B.
von Klein Smid they were forced to uncover an alternative method to keep the neophytes in hand—and find it they did.

Discarding their guiding motto "spare the rod and spoil the child"—another good old adage
—the U.S.C. fraternities through concerted action taken by the interfraternity council have adopted a "fool-proof" merit system that bids fair to instill respect and decorum in the hearts of the lowly freshmen pledges.

Under the new system now in operation on the Trojan campus, a pledge starts out his fraternity career with a clean slate. For performing his assigned duties in the proper manner he may earn merits, but if he should stray from the straight and narrow path he is the recipient of demerits which can only be removed by doing additional work.

If penalties of work fail to remedy a pledge's conduct, he is placed on probation, and if this fails he is expelled from the group and is denied the right to pledge another U.S.C. fraternity during his college days.

Survey Reveals Cause of Students Failing at University of Georgia

Athens, Ga.—A study of student failures at the University of Georgia has revealed that those who failed their courses, in comparison with the remainder of the student body, had more absences from class work, spent less hours in study, had more disorderly conduct, and that their parents had less education and a large number of broken homes.

Student explanations of their failures were:
Having to take courses they did not like; difficulty in studying; inability to make proper use of time; postponing school work, wasting time; being too self-conscious; foreign languages; lack of definite objective; sciences, lack of ability to concentrate, and nervousness.

DEBATE NOTES

The forensic season is with us now, what with the tournament and everything. Let's hope the whoop-and-holler boys have a good year.

—O—

Last year they did very well with their whoops, but their hollers weren't quite up to snuff. A little more pep there, (use pep bran) team.

—O—

The question this year for debate is connected with the international shipment of armaments. Our team has everyone excited about it. Already Rumania is threatening war, and Japan, with thumb to schnozzle, yammers for a few more warships.

—O—

Forensic, you know, comes from Greek words, Ro, Ren, and Sic.

RO is derived from the old saying, "To heaven's sake, what'll I say now?" REN, translated literally, means,
"He ren out of words, so he had to sit down." SIC completes the saying that Ren is derived from, and means,
"There was nothing to do but sic his partner onto them."

Isn't Greek quaint?

—O—

They've postponed the Little Theatre plays, "Winsome Winnie," "Farewell Cruel World," and "Stars and Groceries" until January. Winsome Winnie will be hard-hearted Winnie until then, unless we winsome ball games. As one of our profs claimed, the Muskingum victory over Westminster this year was a very winsome winnie.

"Farewell Cruel World" is an old favorite here. They give it twice a year at the end of each semester.
Some people know it better by the title, "The Final Exam."

—O—

Everyone took books home the last vacation. They do make a good impression on the folks at home, don't they?
Vacations are nice, but isn't it disgusting to wake up in the morning and not have any clothes to go to, no studies, no cuts, and no exams?

—O—

Our college gals had a great time when they got back, showing off the new clothes they had bought. Better stock up with finery, ladies, the dance season is at hand.

—O—

WE IGNORE RUFFALO

Ruffalo has been seen lately with his pants cuffs turned down. Henceforth we will ignore Ruffalo. If he isn't going to co-operate with us we won't play.

—O—

Some of the T.U.O.'s, entering their third floor sleeping quarters the other night, thought that one of the horses from the barn in back of their house had wandered upstairs and crawled into bed, but it was only Big Bill Turner.

—O—

Sphinxers, why not wear your hats more often? They are the emblems of your society. We're all proud of the organization, aren't you?

—O—

The Titans could have beaten the Willis, if they had wanted to, but they are trying to fool Pitt into thinking we're easy.

—O—

If they expect to have any one attend classes this winter, what with our "no-yes cut system" they had better arrange for very little snow during the season. Otherwise most students will hibernate until spring.

BUCKSHOTS

Oil up your paddles, lads, intramural ping-pong is the latest thing
... There's many a slip twixt the dorm and the class room these wintry days. According to Bob Harder the math students latest song is,
"Throw Another Log-Book on the Fire" ... We noticed that several gentlemen have lost their budding mustaches ... the cold weather probably killed them ... Paper airplanes will be sold in the bookstore next week for would-be chapel aeronauts
... Speaking of glasses, (We weren't, but it's a good idea) more men at the T. U. O. house wear glasses than at any other fraternity.

—O—

Closing thought:
Thirteen more days before Christmas vacation begins. Do your chapel cutting early.

Editors Mail Bag

My Dear Mister Editor:

I can be sinical but not when I see something great like that play called The Emeny which was put on in The Little Theater. Everybody oughta be made see it and I ain't so strong for compulsion. I don't only mean the people here at Westminster but all the students in all the schools everywhere. And older folks to should see it—particularly the ones that are so smart they get us a-tangled up in foreign intrigs etc.
and then we got to save our honor so they can sell guns & bombs & submarines. And also the people who we pay to wear uniforms and practice for war all the time we are apploding speeches for peace. A standing army is bound to get tired standing after so long a time. It's jist like practicing a football team day after day and then tell them that they can't play no games cause they're gonna hurt somebody. Of course you cant blame the regular army men for wanting a fight now and then so's instead of being just a leutenant they will be promoted to a higher officer with more strips of colored cloth on their sleeves and be able to stay a safer distance from the front lines. Seems like we're gettin jist far enough away from the last massicr not to know much about it cept what we learned in grade school history class. We know that nobody can deny that US won the war and made the world safe for democracy. I guess democracy wasn't too tickled about our concern for her cause she made herself so scarce since then. Besides we all seen a lot of movie pitchers about heroes who drove airplanes in the war and shot down those ||-|| Germans what had cut off childrens arms and other terrible wicked and inhuman things. But we cant all drive airplanes and be heroes so maybe it would be better if we showed people what war is like. And let'em see what folks thought who called Americans foreigins. That's hard to figger ain't it?? There's a bunch of things I can't figger out about this war business anyhow. The guys that don't want it have to put the show on and the big guns that caused it don't ever have to worry about getting blowed to smithereens.
What would happen if loyal citizen didn't turn into a flock of sheep?
I was reading the other day that it cost $25,000 bucks a piece to kill each guy that got killed in the World War. That's not very effisient, do you think Mr. Editor? Our gangsters get a man for as low as ten smackers. We should take a lot of pride in there American biznesslike methods which represents a big saying. Maybe we could get them to fight the next war at a reduced cost—if the N R A didn't object to the cutthroat competition. And if a lot of them got bumped off (which is what any dead gangster got done to him) why then we have got a start toward solving the crime problem which takes up all the room on the front pages of our papers.

But I'm wondering away from my main point. The thing I started out to say is that the play was great stuff. Somehow it kinda stuck with you after the curtain closed. It sorta disturbs you like truth always does. Debates and speeches may perswade real smart people but that play makes it plane to even ordinary people like me. Maybe I am a sentimental cuss but honest, I had a lump in my throat as big as a grape fruit. I couldn't swallow it or coff it up—I jist set there enjoying the whole play which was put on so swell. Lem

Sophomores Overpower Freshmen Gridders

Tally Three Touchdowns With Scores by Peters, Rose and Ruffalo; Schmidt Outstanding

On Tuesday Nov. 27 the light sophomore grid team completely outclassed the favored underclass eleven by a score of 18-0. By their overwhelming victory the sophomores have been the first class to present a perfect record in the past five years. The Sophs opened up in the first quarter and scored on a pass. The second score came late in the third period and the final six-pointer came in the middle of the final quarter.

Schmidt to Peters Clicks

In the first period after an exchange of punts Schmidt opened up and flung the pigskin to "Frosty" Peters and after a clever reversal of his field the New Kensington lad crossed the last stripe to put the game on ice. "Yap" Brownell failed to convert from a placement. The Frosh, with Cummings, their big fullback, bearing the brunt of the attack used power plays but could not click. Time and time again Cummings cracked the opposing line but four yards was the most he ever garnered at one time. The first half ended with most of the Upper-class stock troops in action.

Speed and Deception vs. Power

In the second half the Frosh again received the kickoff but were forced to punt as Cummings as usual required more than three downs to pick up ten yards. This again was a signal for the Sophs to take advantage of their big, slow opponents. Rose grabbed Gilliland's punt and ran it back to the fifty-yard line. Then on a varied attack they carried the ball to the Frosh ten yard stripe. Here two successive end runs by Peters failed but on the very next play Schmidt threw a lateral to Bob Rose and he scampered over the goal line untouched. Brownell again failed to convert from placement. The Sophs were inclined to pass when in a tight spot and the green underclass team's backs were incapable of covering their territory when the sophomores did take to the air. An indication of this came in the fourth quarter when Brownell flipped a southpaw toss to John Ruffalo, who grabbed the pill and ran unscathed twenty yards for another touchdown.

Brownell Turns In Long Run

In the last quarter the Sophs intercepted a freshman pass when Rose did a "Trapeze Act" but held the ball. On the first play "Yap" Brownell skirted his left end for twenty-five yards. This run was one of the most spectacular in the game as Brownell pulled some classy open field tactics. The game ended as the Sophs again threatened to score. The Sophs were far superior in every branch of the sport as their backs had somewhat of a field day. In lineplay Buck Jones, Dave Kennedy, and Eddie Brown were outstanding on both offense and defense. In the backfield Peters in all probabilities was the most outstanding. "Pete" played a bangup defensive game, backing up the line for three plays and then going back to the safety man. Schmidt and Brownell also played well. For the freshmen Cummings and "Dick" Thompson were most outstanding.

The game had an added feature this year as the college band was present to add to the spirit of the classic. An overflow crowd of students witnessed the game.

Games With Pitt CCNY, St. John's, And Tech Listed

Probably the most ambitious of all Westminster basketball schedules, the 1934-35 card lists twenty-two contests and includes some of the major powers in the country on the hardwood floor: Doc Carlson's Pitt Panthers, Nat Holman's C. C. N. Y. Beavers, and Buck Freeman's always sensational St. John's aggregation hold the spotlight as three of the outstanding court clashes of the country's winter sport schedule. Max Hannum's Tartans and Kenny Loeffler's Geneva quintet will also be outstanding, colorful contests. Waynesburg, a dark horse in this year's conference prospects will probably present another of its flashy, hardfought squads. Salem, Wittenberg, Rider and West Virginia Wesleyan are four new quintets to face the Titans, and will doubtless contribute to an exceptionally entertaining and colorful court season. The complete schedule of the regular season is as follows:

Dec. 17—Wittenberg at Home
Dec. 23—John Marshall at Jersey City, N. J.
Dec. 29—St. Johns at Madison Square Garden, N. Y.
Dec. 31—City College of New York at N. Y.
Jan. 3—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh
Jan. 5—Glenville at Home
Jan. 7—Slippery Rock at Home
Jan. 12—Waynesburg at Home
Jan. 16—Salem at Home
Jan. 23—U of Pitt at Pittsburgh
Feb. 4—Bethany at Home
Feb. 6—Geneva at Home
Feb. 13—Edinboro at Erie
Feb. 15—Rider at Home
Feb. 20—Waynesburg at Waynesburg
Feb. 21—Salem at Salem, W. Va.
Feb. 22—Glenville at Glenville, W. Va.
Feb. 23—West Va. Wesleyan at Buckhannon, W. Va.
Feb. 27—Edinboro at Home
Feb. 28—Bethany at Beth'ny, W. Va.
March 2—Slippery Rock at Slippery Rock
March 4—Geneva at Beaver Falls
22 Games, 9 at home, 13 abroad.
Record, 1933-34 Season: Won 22
Lost 4—Tri-State Conference champions with 10 league victories, and no defeats. Second in Pittsburgh district standing.

Nevin To Head Swimming Club

Lucille Nevin is the W. A. A. sport chairman in charge of the swimming clubs. Meetings in the future will be held Thursday nights from eight-thirty to nine-thirty.

Seventeen Men Awarded Letters For Football

Seventeen members of the Westminster College football squad won varsity letters for participation in games during the season closed Saturday, the Athletic Council announces. Of this number, six are seniors.

Those who won letters are: Ray Sweeney, William Staples, Harold Burry, Walter Young, Robert Scarbrough, Irving Franklin, Richard Watt, Merrill Straw, Edwin Austen, Jack Laraway, Ralph Clark, Abraham Strasberg, Anthony Krulatz, Donald Helmick, James Bailey, Robert Arrowsmith, and David Mintz. Student Manager Nelson Greer, also was awarded a letter.

The six seniors: Sweeney, Staples, Burry, Young, Franklin, and Scarbrough, have all been first team players for three and four seasons. Their loss next year will be keenly felt, but there will be 11 lettermen left as a nucleus for the 1935 outfit. The schedule will be shorter and much easier, for few if any new men will be added to the roster. If present plans work out, next year's card will have seven or eight contests, will start Sept. 21, and will end by Nov. 9.

Harriers Awarded Seven Letters

Seven letters have been awarded in varsity cross country at Westminster this fall. Those who won letters include: Spencer Davis, Willard George, Joseph Wallace, Donald Garrett, Donald Schumaker, Hans Holm, and Richard Joho. Student manager, Richard Nelson, was also awarded a letter.

Titan Gridders Average .385 During Last Decade

Over-emphasis has never been charged to Westminster College athletic teams, but the Titans, with a modest athletic program, have maintained a percentage of .385 in football during the past 10 years, a survey shows. During this time Titan grid teams have won 28 games, tied four, and lost 51.

The two best seasons since 1925 have been the 1930 and the 1932 cards. In 1930, with Dike Beede as head coach, Westminster won four games and lost five. In 1932, with Lawther as head coach, the Titans won four and lost six. This year, with Bill Gilbane as mentor, the Titans won three, tied one, and lost six.

Scoring of Titan grid teams in 10 seasons has showed 82 touchdowns, 32 points after touchdown, three safeties, and one field goal for a total of 533 points, or an average of 53 points each season. This year's team scored 50 points to 151 by opponents, but 121 of these points were tallied against the Titans by Fordham, Pitt, and John Carroll, three teams away out of class.

Since 1925, Westminster grid teams have held opponents scoreless on 23 occasions, while the Titans have been held scoreless on 36 occasions. The largest scores which the Titans have made have been: 43-0 over Buffalo, 1927; 38-0 over Buffalo, 1926; 25-0 over Slippery Rock, 1930; 21-0 over Geneva, 1929; and 20-0 over Edinboro, 1934.

Largest scores which opponents have scored against Westminster are: 88-0, Pitt, 1926; 57-0, Fordham, 1934; 43-0, Allegheny, 1925; 43-0, Fordham, 1929; 39-0, Allegheny, 1931; and 35-0, Wash-Jeff, 1930.

The season just closed, showing three victories, a tie, and six defeats is somewhat better than the 10-year average which is: 2.8 victories, 5.1 defeats, and 0.04 ties.

Powerful Willig Outfit Defeats Blue and White

The Westminster basketball team met the McKeesport Willigs at the Sharon High gym last Friday night and were repulsed by a 44-28 score. This defeat means nothing to the standing of the college squad, due to the fact that many experts consider the Willigs as the topnotch professional outfit of the country.

A pre-season encounter with such opposition is of necessity fine training for the Titans and Johnny Lawther has scheduled six more tough pre-season games to round his sharpshooters into shape before the Wittenberg clash on December the seventeenth.

The remaining pre-season schedule is as follows: Friday, Dec. 7—Akron at Akron, Ohio. Saturday, Dec. 8—Willigs at McKeesport, Wednesday, Dec. 12—Buhl Club at Sharon, Friday, Dec. 14—Youngstown College at Youngstown, Dec. 21—Pendling, Pennzips at Oil City.

'Water Babies' Initiated By Mermaid Club

A fitting initiation was handed the "water babies" last night, when their sisters, securely launched in Mermaid Club, dealt the newcomers a 4-3 set back in a game of water polo. Playing well in the hotly contested water fray, the initiates proved they could "take it", but incidentally, weren't forced to "take it" any too often.

New members for this year include: Doris Hill, Mary Morrow, Pat Jones, Betty Barrett, Peggy Forrest, Marjorie Dunn, Kathryn Galmish, Izora Mangus, Alice McCrory, Anna Jane Hjtrner, Virginia Neale, Noreen Bontrager, Margaret Sloan.

Women Organize Volleyball League

Volleyball practices got off to a good start Wednesday of last week when sixty girls reported for practice games the first day. Games are under the direction of Clara Brown, who announces that practices will continue Monday and Wednesday afternoons at three and four o'clock.

Crippled Westminster Team Loses 6-0

Clearly showing the effects of the long, strenuous football schedule, the Blue and White warriors of the gridiron bogged down badly in the last game of the season as the scarlet-clad Geneva machine took a hardfought decision by a six to nothing score.

Geneva Score Lucky "Break"

With a badly crippled backfield and a line that showed the effects of a tough campaign, the Titans had nothing on the ball as the Covenanters, after a disappointing season put a fourth straight mark in the win column as a result of a freak pass in the third quarter. Finding the Westminster line much tougher at the beginning of the second half than it had been in the first, the Beede coached men forsook their spinners and delayed bucks for a brief aerial flurry. Fullback Johnson faded back and flipped a long pass which would have been out of range had not Ray Sweeney, coming up fast from safety position attempted an interception. But the football gods frowned on the game little Ohioan, playing his last game for the Blue and White. The pass was too hot to snare and rebounded from Sweeney's arms into the hands of quarterback Garda of Geneva who continued at top speed for twenty yards and a score.

Injuries Stop Titans

Westminster put on its best power march from that time on but the makeshift backfield failed to reach the payoff zone. With fullbacks Staples and Clark on the bench with injuries, Bob Scarbrough turned in a nice line-bulking exhibition for his final game. "Chick" Mintz, sadly hampered by a bad knee called the signals in place of the crippled Bob Arrowsmith. Ray Sweeney, clearly showing the effects of a ten game bruising, was not able to get into the clear due to a crippled leg and the brunt of the running attack was carried by Jackie Laraway.

Nether Team Outstanding

The Titans and Geneva both totaled nine first downs, but the inspired Genevians put up a stubborn battle and effectually muffled the tower bell, which has gathered many cobwebs, having been silent since the Lutherans of Thiel bowed to the Blue and White on Homecoming Day. The loss of Westminster's six seniors, who answered the whistle for the last time against Geneva, will be keenly felt when Bill and Tom Gilbane marshal their grid array next fall. Sweeney, Staples, Young, Franklin, Scarbrough and Burry have hung up their moleskins after four tough seasons, in each of which they were forced to retire on the short end of the score whenever the Covenanters were encountered.

A Silver Lining For Beede's Cloud

For Dyke Beede, former Titan mentor, there was sweet satisfaction in the triumph of the Beaver Falls aggregation, coming as it did as the sole bright spot in an extremely dismal season. Jones, halfback, Johnson, fullback, and Begolly, end, turned in good games for Geneva. For the Titans, Scarbrough, Austen and Laraway were outstanding.

Intra-mural Fives Practice; Games Start in January

Between now and Christmas, the intra-mural basketball teams will have an opportunity to practice on the college floor according to a schedule to be announced each week. Jack Hulme announces that the intra-mural contests will begin immediately after the holiday recess.

The same system will prevail as last year. There will be three leagues in the sport, each group on the campus having the privilege of entering one team in each league. The "A" league is reserved for the more experienced players, the "B" league for less experienced players, while the neophytes will be combined into a "C". A "D" league will be formed later on if the need for it arises.

Handell's Messiah Will Be Presented By Oratorio Group

Westminster's Oratorio club of sixty voices will present a program which will include selections from Handell's "Messiah", in the chapel, Sabbath evening, December 16, at seven forty-five o'clock.

The following choral and solo numbers will be presented: Chorus, "And the Glory of God", Mr. Richard Patterson, "Thus Saith the Lord," "But Who May Abide"; Ruth Stewart, "Behold a Virgin Shall Conceive," "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings"; Chorus, "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings," "For Unto Us a Child is Born"; Laura Ramsey, "And the Angel Said Unto Them," "And Suddenly There Was With the Angel"; Chorus, "Glory to God"; Bernice Turner, Rejoice Greatly O Daughter of Zion"; McClees Murray, "He Shall Feed his Flock"; Mrs. Rankin Johnson, "Come Unto Him"; Chorus, "Behold the Lamb of God"; Ruth Stewart, "He Was Displeased"; Chorus, "Surely He Hath Born Our Griefs"; Mrs. John Orr, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth"; and Chorus, "Worthy Is the Lamb," "Hallelujah."

Professor Alan B. Davis will direct the concert, which will be free to the public, and Mrs. Alan B. Davis will act as accompanist.

Hillside And Browne Hall Will Hold Formal Dinners Next Week

By the soft light of candles, amid the fragrant beauty of Christmas decorations, a five course turkey dinner will be served at Browne Hall and Hillside, Monday and Tuesday evenings, respectively.

Formal dress will be the order of the evening. Guests will be present, and the candles will flicker in time to singing between and during courses.

Hillside will have Dean and Mrs. Alex C. Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Brennan, Dean Mary E. Turner, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, and Miss Dorothy Kirkbride as guests Tuesday evening. The annual Target dinner will be held the same evening, with members of the honorary occupying a special guest table in the dining room. Following the dinner inexpensive gifts will be exchanged around the Christmas tree.

Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dean and Mrs. Alex C. Burr, and Mrs. A. J. Tener will be Browne Hall guests Monday evening.

Campus Lodge girls will entertain Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Tuesday. A short program will follow the dinner.

Beechwood Lodge Christmas dinner will be Sabbath.

Nevin's Recital Will Feature Christmas Twilight Service

Y.W.C.A. will hold its annual Christmas twilight service in the chapel, Tuesday afternoon, December 18, at 4:45.

Professor Gordon Balch Nevin will present his second organ recital of the year at this time. He will be assisted by the college choir.

Selections to be offered on the program are: "Variations on an Ancient Christmas Carol," Gaston M. Dethier; "Christmas Evening," M. Mauri-Cottone; "March of the Magi Kings," Theodore Dubois.

"When Christ the Lord was born," William Wentzell; "Upon the Snow Clad Earth," Gordon Balch Nevin; and "Christmas in Sicily," Pietro A. Yon.

Holcad Offers As May Queen Candidates---

Westminster Graduates Do High Quality Work At Graduate Schools

Reports on the high quality of work done by Westminster graduates in graduate and professional schools throughout the country are being prepared by the administration.

Eight hundred thirteen students have graduated from Westminster within the past ten years, 260, or 32 per cent, having gone on to graduate or professional schools. On 208 of these students, final reports have been received from 26 institutions; among them, Columbia University, Yale, Harvard, Penn State, Universities of Pennsylvania, Michigan, Pittsburgh, and Illinois.

Thirty one per cent, or 64, of the students in graduate schools, have done above average work; 58 per cent, satisfactory work; and only 11%, below average. The latter, it is to be understood, are not necessarily failing to earn their honorary degrees. Only six per cent of the entire number in graduate schools were failed out.

One hundred one advanced degrees have been won within the past ten years; 34 masters', 32 theology, 18 law, ten medicine, two philosophy, and five miscellaneous.

The apparently small number of degrees won is largely accounted for by the fact that 50 students are still in graduate schools; and a large percentage is composed of young women who married before completing their studies.

Carol Program To Be Presented Wednesday

Christmas carol singing by the Women's Glee Club and the assembly in attendance will be featured on the annual Conservatory of Music carol program, scheduled for December 19.

Members of the bands and orchestra will offer instrumental selections, and Dr. R. F. Galbreath will extend a seasonal greeting.

Working with Professor Alan B. Davis, who is in charge of the sing, are Miss Ada Peabody and Professor Donald Cameron. The program will be held at 7:15 o'clock on the South Terrace if the weather is at all favorable.

May Queen Election Up In Air; YW Undecided on Date

With the official May queen election up in the air as a result of recapitulation on the part of the Student Council, the exact status of this event was not known at press time by the Holcad.

The old method of electing the May queen unsatisfactory, the Student Council took moves early this week to institute a new method of election. According to a number of officers and members of the Council, the plan was to nominate from among the junior class girls a number of candidates, these to be voted upon by the entire student body.

Hillside Girls Plan Party For January 4

Plans for another Hillside party, to be held Friday evening, January 4, are being completed under the direction of Virginia McCown.

Although exact details are not being revealed, decorations will be wintry, and an unusual program is promised. Admission will be 25 cents per person; tickets can be secured from any Hillside resident.

Virginia McCown is general chairman of the affair. The refreshment committee includes Helen Dreier, chairman; and Betty Watson. Virginia Rumbaugh is in charge of publicity, assisted by McClees Murray, and Dorothy Johnstone. Jane Holland will engage the orchestra. Decorations will be supervised by Mary Louise Jenkins; her assistants are Evelyn Wilson, Isabel Mackey, and Katherine Achert. Alta Russell is chairman of the entertainment committee; other members of her committee are Jane Veazey, Catherine Hittner, and Isabel Reed.

FERA Workers Clear Furnace Hill Woods

Cleaning up the college woodland beyond Furnace Hill, has been the job of the student work-squad during the past few months. Mr. Tom Wherry has been in charge of the work. It is now almost completed.

What was a jungle of weeds and briars a year ago is now a cleared woodland with the best of the old beeches and other trees still standing. It would make a fine picnic-ground for our community with the little additional work of building benches, shelter-house and out-door-fire places.

Debaters Meet Allegheny Twice During Past Week

The first co-ed debates of the season were with Allegheny college, Monday and Tuesday, December 10 and 11.

Anni Kandlehart, Doris Hill, and Olive Whitehead upheld the affirmative here at Westminster. Ruth But-ton, Eunice Dickson, and Virginia Booth upheld the negative at Allegheny. Both were non-decision debates.

Pan-hellenic Dance Will Be Outstanding Event Of Holidays

According to reports of the several committees in charge, the annual Pan-hellenic dance, to be held in the gymnasium Saturday evening, will be an outstanding event of the holiday season.

While final decorations cannot be arranged until Saturday, detailed plans for transforming the gym into the scene of a true Christmas party have been completed.

An immense sphere of red cellophane suspended from the center of the ceiling will be the nucleus from which streamers of red and green crepe paper will extend to various points on the balcony. On either side of the orchestra Christmas trees will sparkle with myriads of icicles and blue lights. Opposite the entrance the committee plans to erect a huge candle in a brass Colonial holder.

The success of the advance ticket sale has insured a large audience for Fran Scott's orchestra. Dancing will be from 8:45 until 11:45.

Guests of honor are: President and Mrs. R. F. Galbreath, Dean and Mrs. Alex C. Burr, Dean Mary E. Turner, and Miss Ada Peabody. Sorority patronesses and their husbands will serve as chaperones. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Alan B. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. R. X. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. William McKee, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Euwema, Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Russell, and Dr. and Mrs. James A. Swindler.

Sorority A Fraternity? Campus Co-eds Agree With Council's Decision

EDITOR'S NOTE

As Women's Greek letter organizations all over the country are discussing the problem of whether they should be called sororities or fraternities, presidents of sororities at Westminster were interviewed by a Holcad reporter and their ideas are given in the following story.

The national Pan-hellenic council has decided that women's organizations should be called fraternities.

By Mary Donson

"What? Oh, sure sororities are fraternities." Helen Snyder, clad in gym clothes, crossed her knees as she sat on her dresser in the Theta Upsilon suite.

"It happens on this campus that the name sorority is used for all the women's organizations."

"Careful, 'Synd,' you are going to get 'writ up'. Remember all you say will be held against you," another Theta U yelled from the adjoining room.

"Synd" laughed, pushed up a stray lock of blond hair, and continued, "Sororities are high school stuff."

Tony Baird lay reclining on one of the K.D. beds and eating pretzels. On one side of her was a red and white checkered dog and on the other side was an elephant with grey ears. "Of course, sororities should be known as fraternities," she assented. "It's a more grown-up title and really suitable for college girls."

"Sororities are properly fraternities," Dotty Isaho, president of the Alpha Gams, looked up from her pressing of a blue satin dress. "All Greek organizations were founded as fraternities. Isn't that right, Tinker?" Dot Tinker raised a wet face from the wash bowl and gurgled, "Sure, sororities are those little high school clubs."

"I can't see that it makes much difference but we were talking about it the other night after Beta meeting." Gladys Blaine shifted her books from one arm to the other. "Sororities should be known as sororities, since frater means brother. After all a sorority is no brotherhood!"

The president of the Chi Omega sorority, Vergil Wettich, maintains that all women's Greek letter organizations do not have the right to call themselves fraternities. Only those which men helped to found can be (Continued on Page 4)

College Dances

Pan-hellenic Dance Will Be Big Social Event; Social Functions Better Attended

The Pan-hellenic dance tomorrow evening will probably be one of the big social events of the year. Dances this year are more elaborate, and better attended than at any previous time. Such a decided improvement reveals many heartening features: a greater amount of money, improvement in general business, finer student support, and principally the realization that well regulated, refined social affairs are a decided asset to the school.

Undoubtedly academic excellence will always remain the true aim of every educational institution. However, the fact remains that a college ceases to exist without students. And proper advertising is the finest way to attract the prospective scholar. A well publicized athletic machine is a splendid banner for a school; so, too, are consistently well-conducted social events.

A dance may either stamp the representative student body as a group of ill-bred rowdies or a society of intelligent, well-mannered men and women. This year in particular Westminster students have raised the standard of social events even higher than in former years.

The general public soon learns of a school's social reputation. The opinion, if favorable, acts as a tremendous boost for the respective institution. Naturally, the converse is true.

Academic perfection and scholarly pursuit are the primary functions of an institution of learning. The fact should never be forgotten, however, that one of the greatest contributing elements to a school of high standard is its social season.

'Kingfish' Long

Louisiana State Reveille Added To Power Of College Press In Attacking Huey

In the general rush either to commend or condemn Louisiana's prize package and product, the celebrated "Kingfish", for his somewhat befated but admittedly dramatic entrance on the academic scene, one approach to the problem has been commonly neglected which we feel will prove of vital and lasting significance. Essentially, it is this: The Louisiana State Reveille testified to the growing power of the college press by sticking to its guns and, more important, reducing the pompous Huey to ludicrous, despicable measures so that he still might be able to thumb his nose at the civilized world.

Just get the picture. Here was Long, riding on the crest of a dictatorial tidal wave, monarch of all he surveyed and secretly aspiring to a certain building in the city of Washington. Of course, he was opposed in some quarters of his own bailiwick, but this opposition was not stamped by sincerity and appeared doomed to ignominious failure from the date of its inception. It was cheap political resistance, having nothing behind it except a desire to supplant the "Kingfish" as the beau of New Orleans.

In glorious and refreshing contrast, we see this group of young college students, having nothing to gain but everything to lose, boldly walk into the "Kingfish's" lair at spawning time and proceed to tread on his toes to such an extent that he was moved to yell "Uncle" in self-defense. His suspension of four of them only serves to magnify their heroism in our eyes; the "Kingfish", on the other hand, has hit a new low.

Mills Urges Shortening of College Courses to Lower Cost of Education

Rochester, N. Y.—Urging a shortening of college courses so that a saving in the cost of education may be effected, Dr. Henry C. Mills, assistant professor of education at the University of Rochester, in a speech here recently asserted that colleges have seriously underestimated the intellectual capacities of their students.

Dr. Mills suggested that anticipatory examinations could eliminate overlapping in the subject matter of courses.

"Superior high school students who appear capable of independent study are supplied with outlines covering the freshman courses which have been shown to duplicate to a greater or less extent the work done in high school," Mr. Mills continued.

"The students are then urged to prepare themselves on these aspects of the subject which are not encountered until college. Special examinations are offered by the university covering these subjects. If the high school student is able to pass the examination he is given credit for the subject on the college level and is free to go on to more advanced work in the field or begin a new subject. In this way much of the overlapping is eliminated, considerable time is saved for the student and in general, better articulation between high school and college is achieved. Supporting these calculations is the actual success of some thirty-five students who have been able to obtain their bachelor degree in less than the normal four years." All felt that they had lost nothing by shortening their college courses.

College and University Presidents Are Supporting President Roosevelt

Madison, Wis.—That college and university presidents and student newspaper editors are in the majority supporters of President Roosevelt and the New Deal was proven by the overwhelming vote of confidence given Democratic leaders and policies in a poll of 200 editors and presidents made here by the Associated Collegiate Press and Collegiate Digest.

Despite the fact that college editors and presidents are thought by the layman to be either communistic or socialistic, only four of the editors professed to be socialists, while not one of the presidents polled was either a socialist or a communist. No editors were listed as communists.

The division between the two major parties was as follows: Editors 60 per cent Democrats, 40 per cent Republicans; president, 51 per cent Democrats, 49 per cent Republicans.

In the debate which has been raging for many months over the constitutionality of the new deal, the great majority of the college editors and presidents believe that the New Deal acts of the President and Congress are upheld by the Constitution.

A larger percentage of the editors, believe in their constitutionality, with 83 per cent voting "No" on the question, "Do you believe that the New Deal policies are unconstitutional and un-American?" Only 30 per cent of the presidents voted "Yes" on this question.

On the other hand, a larger majority of the presidents believe that the New Deal measures have generally bettered the condition of the people of the United States. Seventy-four per cent of the presidents voted "Yes" on the question, "Do you believe that the Roosevelt administration's policies have generally bettered the condition of the people of the U. S.?" Sixty-nine per cent of the editors voted affirmatively on this query.

Contrary to the general trend of the editors and the presidents, more voted for a limitation of New Deal activities than voted for an extension of them or for their continuation on their present scale.

The vote on the continuation, limitation, or extension of New Deal activities was as follows: Editors, continuation 36 per cent, limitation 46 per cent, extension 18 per cent; Presidents, continuation 30 per cent, limitation 63 per cent, extension seven per cent.

Holcadabra

Santa Claus is coming to town, according to the college calendar and it won't be long before we traipse home to our families, girl friends, boy friends, and et caetera (the Latin for Etc).

This et caetera business, (etc., to you) comes in handy when grinding out the old column. Ask Santa Claus for a box of them for Christmas. They are indispensable when outlining for a notebook, or writing an English theme.

The basketball team wrote, plaintively pleading for new sweat-suits, and a bottle of "Upsy-Dupsy," the magic fluid that makes people grow to the height of six feet eight inches.

Miss Ailman would like some unlosable books, and the language department is asking for a couple dozen perfect accents. Although we're not positive, we have heard that Professor Cordray is expecting to find some student—George Arliss in his Christmas stocking. If Santa Claus should make a mistake, however, and leave him one or two future Barrymores he wouldn't complain.

Place your order early, however, as Santa's stock is rather depleted. How about a gross of ditto marks instead? They might be usable.

Many of us would like to receive a pre-Christmas gift of a ride home.

A Westminster Pamphlet lists the education course as being a Teacher's Training course. Doubtlessly a lot of teachers need training. We'd like to train some of our old grade-school teachers to jump through hoops and bark like a bull moose.

Interesting and unusual things can be found in some of the dusty and seldom used drawers at the Globe Printing Company, where this paper is produced.

While hunting for a picture the other day, we found three cribs for psychology tests, probably written around 1901, an old editorial, dated 1910, heralding the attainment of world peace, a former editor of the Holcad who had been missing for years, and a practically brand new bustle. The latter has been turned over to the college lost-and-found department, and the owner may have it upon request.

A fascinating hobby is the translating of newspaper headlines literally, and the seeking for errors in headlines.

A misprint in a headline for an LWD project read: "LEWD Projects Await Approval." They'll wait a long time.

Another headline ran: "Meet Tonight To Map Campaign For Local Chest." What's the matter with the old one, does it have a cold in it?

Westminster sororities want to be known as fraternities, in the future, we hear. Is nothing sacred to our modern women? In retaliation we suggest that the men's non-fraternity group petition to be known as "Quad-rangle."

The rumor that funds will be raised to augment the library fund by charging admission to the faculty meetings is untrue.

Icy weather like we have been having brings to mind the old saying, "There's many a slip twixt the dorm and the class-room."

One of our pet hobbies is the collecting of rare coins. Yesterday we obtained two ten year old quarters. If we can find five rare dimes, (they're quite rare) we'll go out and spend the collection.

There are four leading brands of cigarettes in the United States. According to reliable information, a total of more than 101,000,000,000 (101 billion) cigarettes will be sold by the four leaders this year. Many of the boys living at fraternity houses claim that they've had nearly that many borrowed from them.

They have "Book of the Month Clubs," and all other kinds of clubs, so why not start a "Girl of the Week club?"

A last minute fashions note from New York, the style center of America, says that ear-muffs, in bright colors to match hat or scarf, are the latest thing for co-ed wear.

It's a good idea, but wouldn't they be more practicable if worn over the mouth?

Closing thought:
Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and study hard during your vacation.

Titans Open Season With Wittenberg

Strong Buckeye Team Here Monday

Coach John Lawther will send his "Towering Titans" into the first regularly scheduled game of the season next Monday night when the equally towering men from Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., will be met on the home court. This game opens the 1934-35 basketball season for the Titans and is the first game for the Ohio team, on a road trip which includes Juniata, Davis and Elkins, and George Washington.

Ohioans Also "Towering"

According to publicity received from the Springfield school Coach Stobb, a former Washington and Jefferson courtstar, is developing a big, fast outfit. Eight of the men who will make the trip here stand six feet or over. Out of the probable starting line-up three of the men are of this height. The center, Wade Michael, stands six feet, two inches; Spencer Maurer, forward and Ellwood Pitzer, guard, are both six feet. These men, together with plenty of tall substitutes, nearly compare with the Westminster men who are not quite as "towering" as they have been in previous years.

Pitzer Wittenberg Ace

The outstanding man on the Wittenberg squad is Ellwood Pitzer who was last year chosen as all-Ohio guard. He garnered 127 points for the Ohioans during the 1933-34 season while the rest of the team was amassing 503. He is the only scoring letterman of the outfit, and his average is only five points per game against the 20 point average of Wes Bennett, Titan forward, who received all-American mention last year.

Wittenberg Record

During the past four seasons the Stobb-coached men have won 51 games and lost 24. Their best season was in 1930-31 when they won 18 games and only dropped two. Since that time, however, the teams produced have been somewhat weaker and last season they lost 12 against eight wins. They were fourth in the Buckeye conference.

Titans Promising

Lawther has had his men through several pre-season games. They dropped two tilts to the McKeesport Willigs and defeated the Akron Goodyears and the Sharon Buhl Club. Tonight they are in Youngstown playing the Youngstown Y college quintet.

From all indications the Westminster five promises to be one of the best in years. Besides the six veterans, Wes Bennett, John Wilhelm, "Swede" Hunneke, Pete Leyshock, Ray Sweeney, and Jack Willits, Lawther has several freshmen who have earned a place on the squad. These men are Krivosh, Sharon high star, Backus, Youngstown South high ace, and Rudich, West Middlesex's contribution. With this string of material the Westminster mentor should have little trouble in producing one of the best teams in the country.

The probable line-ups:

Westminster	Wittenberg
Bennet, F.	Maurer
Leyshock, F.	Snyder
Backus, C.	Michael
Wilhelm, G.	Florence
Hunneke, G.	Pitzer

Athletic Council Reduces Basketball Admission Prices

Prices from home games on the Westminster College basketball schedule have been cut for this season, the Athletic Council announces. Season books, good for the nine home games on the card, will sell at $4.40, tax included, the council has decided; while all home games but the Geneva and Waynesburg contests will be 55 cents. These two games will cost 75 cents.

The nine home contests on the Titan card are: Dec. 17, Wittenberg; Jan. 5, Glenville; Jan. 7, Slippery Rock; Jan. 12, Waynesburg; Jan. 16, Salem; Feb. 4, Bethany; Feb. 6, Geneva; Feb. 15, Rider; Feb. 27, Edinboro.

Veteran Blue And White Lettermen

Here are the six veterans with whom the Westminster college basketball team opens the home season at New Wilmington Monday, meeting the strong Wittenberg college five of Ohio. The Titans face a 22-game schedule with leading college teams in Ohio, West Virginia, New York, and Pennsylvania. Six veterans on the Westminster team, shown above, are: John Wilhelm, guard; Wesley Bennett, center; Peter Leyshock, forward; Henry Hunneke, guard; Jack Willits, forward; and Ray Sweeney, forward.

Titans Present Small Team But Nickname Sticks

"The Towering Titans" of Westminster college will probably remain a nickname for Coach John Lawther's basketball team this year but in reality the Titans will be dwarfs as compared with the players on the three Pittsburgh college teams.

Boasting two men who stand six foot four inches, the Titans will look like short men when they stack up against Carnegie Tech at the Tech gym on January 3 and Pitt at the Stadium on January 23. Hugh James, Tech's new center, stands six foot seven inches, or three inches taller than the tallest Titan. Worse than this, Max Hannum has a forward, Fitzwilson, who stands six foot five inches, to top all the Westminster players.

Dr. Carlson's Pitt Panthers, when met in the Stadium, will present Pete Noon, a little better than six foot five, at center; with Claire Cribbs, six four at a forward.

Ray Sweeney, Titan forward, is five foot seven and a half inches; while the other players range from five foot eleven to six foot four. As a result, Coach John Lawther has changed both his offense and defense for this season, and district fans are due to see the Titan system adapted to smaller men.

Volleyball Attains Spotlight In W.A.A.

Turn-outs for volleyball practices hit a new high this week with an already large attendance of over fifty the number has increased until volleyball now claims the most followers of any sport offered to date.

Led by Clara Brown, W.A.A. sport chairman, practices will be held Monday and Wednesday of next week at three and four o'clock. Immediately following the Christmas vacation the intramural tournament will get under way, with each class presenting two or more color teams.

The schedule beginning the first week after vacation follows:

January 7, Monday—Freshmen versus Juniors; January 9, Wednesday—sophomores versus seniors; January 14, Monday—freshman versus sophomores; January 16, Wednesday—juniors versus seniors; January 21, Monday—juniors versus sophomores; January 23, Wednesday—freshman versus seniors.

Of the total of 75 women participating, 31 are freshmen, 22 are sophomores, 11 are juniors and 11 are seniors.

Locals Appear Strong In Pre-Season Games

Coach Johnny Lawther's Towering Titans have participated in one of the hardest pre-season tests, to ever confront a Westminster court team and have thus far acquitted themselves more than well having won two out of four starts.

Last Friday night, led by Wes Bennett, the Blue and White threw a scare into the Akron Goodyears, whom they defeated decisively by a 40 to 30 score. Last season, the same industrial outfit proved too strong for the Titans, but this year, in an exciting encounter in which the lead changed several times during the game, the Westminster team spurted strongly at the finish to reverse last year's decision.

Wednesday night, the Buhl club of Sharon was met in what proved to be a mere practice game with Westminster winning by a 35 to 16 score. Westminster was never headed and the reserves played the greater part of the second half.

In the second game against the McKeesport Willigs, the Titans were beaten by a 35 to 24 score but showed greater coordination and defensive power than they exhibited in the Sharon meeting. The Willigs were hard pressed to hold the Titans in check and only a fast finish made the pros look so much better in the record book.

Tech Looks Promising

After dropping the first game of their series with the Willigs, the Tech Tartans came back Wednesday night to win a 41 to 37 decision over the veteran McKeesport outfit. This was heralded as somewhat of an upset but cannot be discounted entirely, indicating that Max Hannum must have plenty on the ball this year. Fans were disappointed when Duquesne severed basketball relations with Westminster, but this promising Tech outfit will probably offer a better evening entertainment this year than the depleted ranks of the Bluffman of Chick Davies.

YOUNGSTOWN GAME POSTPONED

The game with the Youngstown Y.M.C.A. college originally scheduled for tonight was declared indefinitely postponed. The Youngstown quintet was unable to secure proper accommodations. The "Y" team recently defeated W. & J. decisively.

Speaks Before Rotary

Ray Sweeney addressed the Rotary Club of Youngstown last week and the guests of the club, the football squads of the Youngstown High Schools. Superintendent Roubenbush wrote a letter of high appreciation of Ray's talk.

Many Events On Pre-Christmas Social Program

Four house parties, six sorority parties, and a stag party are listed on the pre-Christmas social calendar.

The first of these is a dinner and house party given by the members of Kappa Phi Lambda this evening. William Offutt, Don McCammon, and Spencer Davis are in charge of arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. R. X. Graham, Miss Pearl Hoagland, and Mr. Edward Miller will be special guests. A stag party will be held at the chapter house Tuesday evening. Faculty members who have been invited are: Dr. E. B. Russell, Professor L. S. Marshall, Professor R. X. Graham, Dr. Ben Euwema, Dr. H. L. Black, Dr. Gilbert H. Taylor, Dr. Charles Freeman, Dr. H. S. Osgood, and Professor A. T. Cordray. Plans are being made by James Regester, Orville Dawson and Richard Nelson.

Robert Harder is in charge of arrangements and will play Santa Claus at the Delt Party Wednesday evening.

Plans for the Phi Pi Phi house party to be held the same evening are being made by Harold Griffith, Al Smith, Chester Miller and George Herchenroether.

Ted Marland's orchestra will furnish music for dancing at the T.U.O. house party which will also be given December 19. Bruce Bower is chairman of the committee in charge.

Six sorority parties will be held Tuesday evening, December 18.

Doris Hill and Jane Carlisle are in charge of the Sigma Kappa Christmas party which will be held Tuesday evening in the Browne Hall lounge.

Members of Chi Omega will be entertained at the home of Lois Sewall.

Members and pledges of Beta Phi Alpha will be entertained by Mrs. Ben Euwema and Mrs. John D. Lawther at the home of Mrs. Euwema. Bridge and bunco will form the entertainment of the evening.

Alpha Gamma Delta will hold a Christmas party in the Hillside lounge.

Dorothy Johnstone, Kay Goedell, and Martha Byers are in charge of arrangements for the Theta Upsilon party to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Freeman.

Kappa Delta sorority will hold a Christmas party for members and pledges at the home of Mrs. R. F. Galbreath. Special guests include Dean Mary E. Turner, Mrs. Beam, and Miss Pearl Hoagland. Virginia Rumbaugh, Jane Smiley, and Elizabeth Cone are on the committee in charge.

Sigma Kappa

Pledges of Sigma Kappa sorority will be hostesses to active members at tea this afternoon, December 14, in Hillside.

Wilanna Lorimer has been selected as sorority historian.

Kappa Delta

Officers have been elected by the pledges of Kappa Delta sorority. Eunice Dickson was chosen president; Margaret Martin, vice-president; Allene Pleister, secretary; and Mary Ann Fitzpatrick, treasurer. Lowenne Swindler and Gwen Owen have accepted social privileges from Kappa Delta.

Delta Nabla

Delta Nabla held formal initiation for Martha Hazlett and Robert Lake at the Jones cabin on the New Castle road, Wednesday evening, December 12.

Henry Lawton was in charge of the program.

Geneva, Pitt, And Penn State Lead In Debate Tourney

Teams from Geneva college, University of Pittsburgh, and Pennsylvania State college made the best records in the debate tournament held here, Saturday, December 8. Each of these schools won six of its eight debates.

Other schools represented are: St. Francis, Waynesburg, Grove City, Allegheny, Baldwin-Wallace, Slippery Rock, and Westminster.

Each school brought a negative and affirmative team, composed of two men, and each team debated four times.

There were 63 gentlemen at the banquet at the Tavern, Saturday night. Professor A. T. Cordray was master of ceremonies, and President R. F. Galbreath welcomed delegates from other schools. Professor Burrows of Grove City made the reply.

properly known as fraternities.

Charlotte Kuerner, president of Pan-hell and a member of the Omicron Mu Gamma, dozed away in her chair at Glee Club. "I'm pretty sleepy but I think sororities should be known as sororities for soror means sister. That's what we sorority girls try to be—sisterly."

"Fraternity is the name that should be applied to all sororities," Rita Hite, president of the Sigma Kaps, glanced up from her file in the college office. "Sorority is high schoolish and all sorority women try to evade that."

So the matter seems to be fairly settled—sororities are fraternities—at least that's what most of our 'eds' say. By the way what soror—pardon—fraternity did you join?

Men's Quartette Makes Three Appearances In Pittsburgh Last Week

Last Sabbath our men's quartette sang in the Mt. Washington United Presbyterian church in the morning, in the Y. P. C. U. of the Second Wilkinsburg Church in the evening and following that in the regular evening service of the church. At 11:15 they sang over KDKA radio broadcast. Good reception of the radio program has been reported by listeners.

The quartette along with Professor Davis and Dr. Galbreath were entertained for Sabbath evening tea at the home of Robert Maxwell in Wilkinsburg.

YPCU Takes Charge Of Candle Light Service

Y.P.C.U. will be in charge of the special candlelight service to be held in the chapel Sabbath evening.

Dr. R. F. Galbreath will deliver a Christmas message and members of Y. P. C. U. will lead the devotionals. Several choral numbers will be offered by the womens glee club and octette, accompanied by Lois McGill.

Contribution For Fund

Mr. Thomas, Porter, Campinas Brazil, contributed eight dollars to be added to the library fund, according to official reports of the treasurer of the library fund, Dr. H. L. Black. Mr. Porter is a member of the class of '81.
